2020 BLANC DE NOIR
SONOMA COUNTY ROSÉ OF PINOT NOIR

Oeil-de-perdrix — French for “eye of the partridge” — is a traditional term for this wine’s seductive, jewel-like color. To capture this shade along with the wine’s crisp acidity and bold berry flavors, we lightly press the fresh Pinot Noir juice from the whole clusters, then allow it a brief love affair with spicy French oak barrels during and after fermentation. Enjoy it well chilled (45-52°F) with raw or grilled seafood, or on its own on a beautiful day.

We dedicate this Rosé to our family, friends and colleagues who have battled cancer. A portion from the sale of this bottle will go towards ongoing research in the cure for cancer.
