PINOT NOIR • LOT 164

Russian River Valley

Sonoma Country, California • 2017

This Point Noir comes from a vineyard in the Sebastopol Hills, the most southerly region in Sonoma's Russian River Valley. A mere 10 miles from the Pacific, cool ocean breezes protect the vines from the intense heat of the warm California sunshine. Each day, early morning fog blankets hillside vines growing in fine sandy loam soils known as "Goldridge". This combination of cool temps, gentle slopes, and loosely textured soil produces Pinot Noir with intense red berry fruit aromas, a lively touch, and an exhilarating finish.

AROMAS:

Red Raspberry • Cherry • Smoke • Earth • Toast
