High Wheat & High Malt

This flavorful bourbon whiskey has the complexity you'd expect from a marriage of bourbons distilled using two entirely different methods. During our formative years, we developed a taste for whiskey from all across this fine land. When we opened ASW Distillery, we aimed not only to distill some of the country's finest spirits, but also to showcase some of America's best tipplers. So was born Fiddler, allowing our Head Distiller, J. Manglitz - himself an accomplished old-time fiddler - to select fine bourbon whiskeys from across the US, and "fiddle" with them at ASW Distillery. To fine-tune this expression, we've married a foraged high-wheat bourbon with stocks of our own bourbon, distilled on our Scottish-style copper pot stills in the heart of Atlanta, using corn from Georgia's Riverview Farms, plus an especially high malt content. We proudly present this duet of two unique bourbons performing in unison.

Non chill filtered & No color added.
Distilled in Georgia and Indiana.
