19 Crimes turned convicts into colonists. Upon conviction, British rogues, guilty of at least one of the 19 crimes, were sentenced to live in Australia, rather than death. For the rough-hewn prisoners who made it to shore, a new world awaited. As pioneers in a frontier penal colony, they forged a new country and new lives, brick by brick. Approximately 20% of the prisoners banished to Australia were women.

They served equally hard time and were instrumental in the founding of the nation. 19 Crimes Chardonnay honours their brave contributions.
