ALGODON
WINE ESTATES
SAN RAFAEL • MENDOZA

Algodon Wine Estates is located in the foothills of the Sierra Pinadas, in the southernmost region of Mendoza, Argentina's wine capital. Fed by the purest glacial melt from the Andes, our 525 acres of vines date back to 1916 and produce exceptional fruit on sandy and clay loam. Algodon's winemakers bring decades of international experience, craftsmanship and tradition. Our wines are handcrafted by the brilliant young winemaker, Martin Navarro, alongside the renowned Carlos Altamirano. They have been aided by Master of Wine, Anthony Bonser, as well as Lee Lutz, a first wine expert. We have recently been joined by the acclaimed Franco and Argentinian oenologist Marcelo Bellerin. Our goal is to produce premium wines using the best modern winemaking technology with confidently inspired approaches. We invite you to visit our estate along Argentina's wine route to discover the Algodon lifestyle for yourself.

This wine was made from 2009 Chardonnay harvested in February and macerated and fermented in stainless steel, and then transferred to new French oak, in which it aged for 6 months. It was bottled in December 2009. 5,600 bottles in all.
