TRINITY TRIPEL SPECIALTY ALE

Trinity Tripel is a hoppy Belgian-style Tripel, technically falling into the Belgian-Style Pale Specialty Ale category. The smooth body and flavor come from select German Pils malts used for the grist, lending a deep golden hue and clean finish. The lack of complexity in the grist is necessary to highlight the stars of the show: three of our most beloved Belgian yeast strains and a new German hop variety called Mandarin Bavaria and also the famed Nelson Sauvin hops from New Zealand. The symphony created by these key players is delightfully harmonious! Fruity and spicy flavors from both yeast and hops unite, with neither dominating, creating a complex character that begs another taste. A medium-high bitterness helps keep the beer dry and drinkable, but drink responsibly, as this beer is 9% Alcohol by Volume!
