VINEYARDS

California is blessed with many historic Zinfandel vineyards. These grapes were first planted by European immigrants in the early 1900's and are still producing today.

The old head-trained vines are unique because they produce a smaller crop of fruit that is unusually rich and concentrated. In selecting grapes from these old vines, we have handcrafted a wine that displays intense blackberry, black cherry, and raspberry flavors, wrapped in a smooth blanket of vanilla and oak.

We at Bogle salute these old vineyards and those pioneers who brought their dreams and visions to California.
