CEILO VINEYARD

The advancement of quality in any wine region involves identifying those vineyard sites which are consistently superior in character. We believe this vineyard designated wine to be such an example. Celilo Vineyard is located in the Columbia River Gorge near White Salmon, Washington, on the south face of Underwood Mountain. The porous ash soil of this sleeping volcano provides excellent drainage and deep rooting of the vines. It lies at an elevation of 1,000 feet and was planted in 1983. The vineyard is owned by the McAndrew family and is managed by Rick Enramings.

Ken Wright Cellars is devoted to protecting the inherent qualities of the fruit we receive. Hand sorting of the fruit, barrel fermentation and racking with inert gas pressure are examples of the effort we expend to present you with a wine of character, subtlety and purity.
