The harmonious blend of two worlds – the east and the west side of Lake Neusiedl. This exemplary autochthon variety feels just as at home in the marine limestone and gneiss of the Leitha Mountains as in the sandy loam on the south-facing escarpment of the Parndorf Plain. Vintage character is expressed through the cool, floral notes, vibrant character, and subtle mineral nuances. Attentive, natural cultivation of the vineyards culminated in manual harvest October 2013. Spontaneous fermentation was followed by two weeks fermentation in oak fermentation vats and in stainless steel tanks and subsequent 9 months maturation in large French and Austrian oak casks.
