BEHAVIORAL HEALTH SIGNAGE

Behavioral health facilities face unique sign challenges. Resident and staff safety is the priority, but research reveals design's role in improving emotional well-being.

It's a complete system. Empath redefines the behavioral health signage category. It meets both safety and aesthetic objectives for progressive facilities focused on providing a holistic approach to care.

It starts with understanding.

Safety First. We engineered every aspect with resident/patient and staff well-being in mind. Shatterproof polycarbonate construction makes signs virtually unbreakable. But that's just the beginning. We scrutinized every detail to provide a flexible system that adapts to the specific safety requirements of each facility.

Different by Design. Empath supports emotional wellness through the stress-reducing effects of custom graphics. Biophilic imagery to brand elements, Empath extends your graphics program while it complements your space. Plus, with its refined form factor, Empath's look is far from institutional.
