

Mountain West Women's Basketball Championship – Quarterfinals
Postgame Notes | March 11
#7 San Diego State 67, #2 New Mexico 56

Championship Notes

- The No. 7 seed has qualified for the semifinals of the MW tournament for the first time since 2021 (Wyoming) and seventh time overall.

San Diego State Notes

- The Aztecs earned a spot in the semifinals of the MW tournament for the second-consecutive year and eighth time overall.
- San Diego State improved to 20-22 in MW women's basketball championship history, including a 5-7 record as the No. 7 seed.
- As it did in the first round on Sunday evening, SDSU won wire-to-wire. The Aztecs opened the game with a 15-3 run and did not look back.
- SDSU has now defeated New Mexico in back-to-back tournaments, also winning in the No. 4 vs. No. 5 game last year.
- The Aztecs, who are seeking their first title game appearance since 2013, will take on the winner of No. 3 Wyoming vs. No. 6 Boise State.

New Mexico Notes

- Dating back to the 2022 MW Women's Basketball Championship, the Lobos have dropped three straight tournament games.
- New Mexico's falls to 31-20 in MW women's basketball tournament history. The 30 victories in championship play remain the most all-time.
