

Mountain West Women's Basketball Championship – Finals

Postgame Notes | March 13

#1 UNLV 66, #7 San Diego State 49

Championship Notes

- The No. 1 seed has improved to 11-5 in the MW women's basketball championship game, while the No. 7 seed drops to 1-4.

UNLV Notes

- UNLV has now won three consecutive Mountain West women's basketball championships, becoming just the third program to accomplish this feat, joining Boise State (2017-20) and New Mexico (2003-05).
- The Lady Rebels have a nine-game win streak in MW tournament play, tied for the second-longest win streak all-time with New Mexico (2003-05) and trailing just Boise State (13; 2017-21).
- UNLV finished the 2024 Mountain West Women's Basketball Championship with a combined margin of victory of +75, a tournament record. The previous record was held by Wyoming (+62; 2021).
- Senior Desi-Rae Young recorded six steals, setting a MW Women's Basketball Championship Game record.
- Junior Alyssa Brown was named tournament MVP after averaging 11.7 points, 9.3 rebounds, 3.0 assists and 1.7 blocks per game.
- The Lady Rebels improved to 21-22 all-time in the MW tournament.

San Diego State Notes

- San Diego State falls to 2-4 all-time in MW championship games.
- Overall, the Aztecs are now 21-23 in MW tournament games.