Redshirt Senior (2019)

- 2021 Athlon Sports Preseason All-Pac-12 First Team
- The highest graded corner in the Pac-12 in coverage last season with a grade of 84.7 and the 16th-highest graded corner in the nation
- Allowed just 109 yards in coverage, seventh fewest in the Pac-12 while his 7.8 yards allowed per catch were third in the league
- Only allowed five first downs, fourth fewest in the league
- Forced five incompletions, good for third in the league
- Allowed a first down or touchdown just 31.8 percent of the time, seventh-lowest in the Pac-12
- Allowed just one player over 15 yards, second-lowest in the league
- Enjoyed a nearly flawless season, proving why he was considered one of the top returning corners in the conference heading into the season

RETURNERS

- It is the second time Lucas has earned second team honors, also doing so as a redshirt freshman in 2017
- Lucas shut down the passing game to his side of the field for the Sun Devil defense, finishing the season with 15 tackles (14 solo), five pass breakups, and a forced fumble
- He showed his versatility and physicality chipping-in to provide support in defending the opposing running game
- Among players with at least 250 defensive snaps, Lucas was the fifth-highest graded defensive player in the Pac-12, regardless of position, with a score of 81.4 from Pro Football Focus. He was the highest-rated cornerback in the league
- Lucas recorded a score of 84.8 in pass coverage for the season, the highest for a cornerback in the league and the second-highest of any defensive player
- He was the sixth-highest graded cornerback in the nation in pass coverage and the 12th-highest graded cornerback in the country overall
- Forced an incompleteness on 27.3 percent of the passes thrown his way, the ninth-best tally among corners nationally

COACHES AND STAFF

ASU SUN DEVIL FOOTBALL

HEAD COACH

HERM EDWARDS

Head Coach

Former NFL head coach and ESPN Analyst Herm Edwards was named the 24th head coach of Sun Devil Football, as announced by Arizona State University and Vice President of University Athletics Ray Anderson on December 3, 2017.

Edwards arrived in Tempe with a football legacy that has impacted thousands, whether as a player, coach, analyst, motivational speaker and author, or community advocate and philanthropist.

Edwards was tabbed by Anderson as someone who will be a “central leader with a collaborative staff around him that will elevate the performance of players and coaches on the field, in the classroom and in our community. Equally important, (Edwards) will be a dynamic and tireless recruiter.”

Off the field, Edwards’ trademark positive leadership took on an entirely new degree of importance in 2020 as the entire world was affected by COVID-19, a pandemic the likes of which had not been seen in more than a century. On the field, Edwards and his staff had assembled an incredibly talented squad of student-athletes that by year’s end would leave Sun Devil fans with the ultimate hypothetical of ‘what if/might have been.’

What if after the season opener – a game in which the Sun Devils were edged by a single point at USC – the team had not been forced into a month of inactivity due to issues related to COVID-19?

What kind of snapshot did ASU’s final two games – road wins at Arizona (70-7, the most points ever scored by a team in the Territorial Cup game) and at Oregon State (46-33) – provide in terms of the heights the team was capable of reaching? In those two contests the Sun Devils, who concluded their abbreviated campaign with a 2-2 record – accumulated 17 touchdowns – 13 rushing, three passing, one on a kickoff return – for 116 points while amassing 1,000 yards in total offense: 634 rushing, 366 passing with zero turnovers.

During the pandemic-shortened season, ASU’s offense was among the top 20 teams in the nation in yards per completion (fifth), rushing yards per game (seventh), scoring offense (12th), total offense (20th) and third down conversion percentage (20th). Individually, running back Rachaad White (All-Pac-12 honorable mention) led the nation in yards per carry and was 14th in all-purpose yards; quarterback Jayden Daniels was 14th in yards per completion and running back Chip Trayanum (Pac-12 freshman of the year honorable mention) was 14th in yards per carry. White led the Pac-12 in scoring while Daniels was second in the conference in pass efficiency.

Defensively, ASU was the first nationally in turnover margin, forcing 13 total turnovers compared to just five for the opponent. The Sun Devils finished first in the Pac-12 in scoring defense (23.2), fumble recoveries (8), and yards per completion allowed. Defensive back Evan Fields four forced fumbles led the conference and was tied for first in the country.

Always one to keep things in their proper perspective, Edwards, who remained unbeaten against Arizona (3-0), offered a summation of the season was more focused on the safety and welfare of the student-athletes who entrusted their futures to Edwards and his staff.

Edwards led the Sun Devils to consecutive winning seasons and bowl appearances in his first two seasons. The program’s numerous accomplishments included a win over Florida State in the 2019 Sun Bowl, a 2-0 record vs. Arizona and five wins over ranked foes, including an upset of sixth-ranked Oregon in 2019 and consecutive road triumphs at No. 18 Michigan State and at No. 15 Cal, representing just the second time in history (also accomplished in 1986) that ASU won two straight road games against ranked opponents in back-to-back opportunities.

In 2020, ASU became just the seventh program in NFL Draft history to have a wide receiver selected in the first round of consecutive drafts after Brandon Aiyuk was selected by the San Francisco 49ers with the 25th pick. In 2019, Aiyuk’s former teammate N’Keal Harry was taken off the board by New England with the 32nd pick.

In January 2020, ASU vice president for athletics Ray Anderson announced a contract extension for Edwards running through the 2024 season.

In 2019 Edwards, who was named the Dodd Trophy Coach of the Week a record three times during the season, guided ASU to an 8-5 record, including wins at No. 18 Michigan State, at No. 15 Cal and vs. No. 6 Oregon. Edwards’ steady leadership played a big role in the development of freshman quarterback Jayden Daniels who would go on to be named an ESPN Freshman All-American. After becoming the first true freshman quarterback in program history to start the first game of the season, Daniels went on to throw for 2,943 yards (11th most in school history) and 17 touchdowns with only two interceptions (the fewest in school history by a quarterback throwing 300 or more passes in a season).

Over the course of the season, Edwards oversaw the development of several standout players including Aiyuk (1,192 receiving yards, the fifth-most in ASU single season history), running back Eno Benjamin (ran for 1,083 yards and 10 TDs after breaking ASU’s single-season rushing record as a sophomore with 1,642 yards), punter Michael Turk (Ray Guy Award semifinalist), defensive back Kobe Williams (graded as the eighth-highest defender in the Pac-12, regardless of position), defensive back Jack Jones (tied for ninth nationally with 16 passes defended on the season and his 1.33 passes defended per game were 12th in the country), wide receiver Frank Darby (averaged 21.9 yards per catch and hauled in eight touchdowns) and center Cohl Cabral (earned All-Pac-12 second-team honors).

Joining Aiyuk as Sun Devils selected in the 2020 NFL Draft was running Benjamin (Arizona Cardinals, seventh round). In addition, Cabrahl (Los Angeles Rams) and tight end Tommy Hudson (Tennessee Titans) signed free agent contracts. In 2021, Darby was selected by the Atlanta Falcons in the sixth round of the 2021 NFL Draft

Edwards and his coaching staff exceeded expectations during his first year in charge of the program, garnering national attention for several noteworthy achievements. ASU earned several significant victories under Edwards' watch, including a pair of Top-25 wins in Sun Devil Stadium over No. 15 Michigan State and No. 16 Utah.

Despite being picked last by the media in the Pac-12 South in the preseason, Arizona State had a chance to win the Pac-12 South on the road against Oregon before finishing second in the division with a 5-4 conference record.

Edwards led the Sun Devils to a dramatic comeback victory in his first-ever Territorial Cup game against rival Arizona. Arizona State came back from a 19-point fourth-quarter deficit to earn the Territorial Cup point with a 41-40 win in Tucson. The comeback represented the largest in the history of the Territorial Cup series. Edwards' first season culminated with an appearance against No. 21 Fresno State in the Las Vegas Bowl. Combined with ASU's wins at USC and vs. UCLA, Edwards became the only first-year coach in program history to defeat UA, USC and UCLA and make a bowl game.

Under Edwards and his coaching staff, several players enjoyed breakout seasons. Arizona State was the only Power-5 program to have a 3,000-yard passer (Manny Wilkins), a 1,000-yard receiver (Harry), and a 1,500-yard rusher (Benjamin) in 2018.

On the defensive end, linebacker Merlin Robertson was named the 2018 Pac-12 Defensive Freshman of the Year, becoming the first true freshman to lead the Sun Devils in tackles (77) since 2001. Fellow linebackers Darien Butler and Tyler Johnson came on strong as the season progressed as well as freshman standouts Aashari Crosswell (four interceptions) and Jermaine Lole (three sacks). Defensive tackle Renell Wren rated as the 23rd-best percentage among all defensive interior players in the FBS.

Harry (first round/New England Patriots) and Wren (fourth round/Cincinnati Bengals) were both selected in the 2019 NFL Draft. In addition, Wilkins (Green Bay Packers), offensive linemen Casey Tucker (Philadelphia Eagles) and Quinn Bailey (Denver Broncos), defensive back Jalen Harvey (Seattle Seahawks) and defensive lineman Doug Subtyl (Cleveland Browns) each accepted rookie free agent offers.

At ASU, Edwards has taken a proactive approach to developing coordinators and assistant coaches, drawing on his nearly three decades of NFL experience in a variety of capacities and wide range of leadership positions within both the sport of football and in other endeavors. That experience has also been utilized in an effort to develop players to prepare for the next stage of their careers after college.

Edwards spent eight years as an NFL head coach with the New York Jets (2001-05) and Kansas City Chiefs (2006-08). He led his teams to four playoff appearances, including 2004 when his Jets squad finished with a 10-6 regular season record and advanced to the AFC Divisional Playoffs. Edwards, who also guided the Chiefs to a Wild Card berth in 2006, is one of only four NFL coaches to lead two different teams to the playoffs in his first season as head coach with those teams.

Among the numerous players that Edwards coached in his career include Pro Football Hall of Famers Curtis Martin, Warren Sapp, Derrick Brooks, Kevin Mawae and Tony Gonzalez and numerous All-Pro players including as Larry Johnson, Ronde Barber, John Lynch, Jared Allen, Santana Moss, Tamba Hali, Derrick Johnson in addition to players like Donnie Abraham, Chad Pennington and Brandon Carr.

An undrafted free agent who went on to have a 10-year NFL career, Edwards never missed a game in his nine seasons with the Philadelphia Eagles from 1977 to 1985 and started all 16 games in seven of his nine seasons with the team. Over the course of his nine years in Philadelphia, Edwards totaled 38 interceptions – with seven during his sophomore NFL season – which is just one short of the franchise record. He earned second-team All-NFC honors in 1980 to help lead the Eagles to Super Bowl XV.

It is said the victory formation, which was implemented by the Eagles, came in part to a play made by Edwards late in the 1978 season. Trailing 17-12 to the New York Giants with seconds remaining, Giants' quarterback Joe Pisarcik fumbled the handoff and Edwards picked it up for the scoop and score and the 19-17 victory. The play became known in Philadelphia as "The Miracle at the Meadowlands."

Edwards retired from the NFL following the 1986 season, and as the first graduate of the league's Minority Coaching Fellowship, he immediately went into coaching as a defensive assistant at San Jose State University from 1987 to 1989.

In 1990, Edwards transitioned back into the NFL as a scout and defensive backs coach with the Chiefs from 1990 to 1995 under legendary head coach Marty Schottenheimer. He then served under Tony Dungy with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers from 1996-2000 before being hired as the head coach for the New York Jets in January 2001.

Over the course of five seasons Edwards led the Jets to three playoff berths, five postseason contests and a pair of 10-win seasons. His 35 victories with the team from 2001-04 is tied with Joe Walton (1983-86) for the most regular season wins by a coach in his first four years with the team.

He started his second tour with the Kansas City Chiefs in 2006 and became the first coach in franchise history to lead the team to the playoffs in his initial season.

Edwards joined ESPN in March 2009 as an NFL studio analyst. He appeared primarily on NFL Live and SportsCenter, while also contributing to ESPN Radio and the company's annual Super Bowl coverage. He also worked local broadcasts of Eagles preseason games in 2009.

Among Edwards' other responsibilities, he called weekly SEC prime time college football games alongside Clay Matvick on ESPNU in 2010, and he worked alongside Rece Davis and Chris Spielman in August 2009 to call the Dike-New Hartford at Applington-Parkersburg (Iowa) high school football game on ESPN. The game marked the emotional return to the field for Applington-Parkersburg, which lost its legendary football coach Ed Thomas in a tragic school shooting two months earlier. Edwards also participated in the 2011 SportsCenter series "Back to School," where he returned to his hometown of Monterey, Calif., to coach his former high school team, the Monterey H.S. Toreadors.

Before officially joining ESPN, Edwards worked a brief stint in Bristol during the 2008 NFL offseason as a guest analyst.

Edwards' media background also came into play as the Football Writers Association of America (FWAA) presented Edwards with a newly-created Super 11 Coach of the Year award for the outstanding access its membership was granted during the 2018 season. In May 2019, the Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication announced that Edwards will become a professor of practice at the school, serving as a guest lecturer in classes and conduct regular discussions on sports and the media at Cronkite.

Edwards played cornerback for the University of California in 1972 and 1974 before he ended his collegiate career at San Diego State in 1975.

A native of Seaside, Calif., Edwards graduated from Monterey High School, attended the University of California, Berkeley for two years, with a stint at Monterey Peninsula College, before graduating from San Diego State University with a degree in Criminal Justice. Edwards was inducted into the California Community College

Sports Hall of Fame in 2017.

He was appointed a charter member of the Fritz Pollard Alliance, named a member of the Positive Coaching Alliance's National Advisory Committee in 2003 and sits on the Santa Catalina School Board of Trustees. Edwards also remains active in numerous charitable and philanthropic endeavors, including the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation (JDRF) along with his wife, Lia, who lives with Type I diabetes. He also created the Herman L. Edwards Family Youth Foundation in 1985 with the goal of making a direct impact on the lives of children on the Monterey Peninsula.

Edwards has been recognized by multiple organizations for his work in the community. He received the 2012 Walter Camp Foundation Man of the Year Award for his longtime contributions to the game of football; he was honored with Team ESPN's Commentator of the Year Award in 2013; and in 2015 he received the prestigious Shell Legacy Award from the Shell Oil Company. Edwards was the recipient of the inaugural Voices Leadership Award in 2017. Voices is an organization that provides a wide range of support services for 9/11 families, responders and survivors.

Known for his dynamic motivational speaking, Edwards regularly addresses football players of all ages, as well as corporate groups. He spoke to incoming players at the NFL Players Association's Rookie Premier in 2011, and coached teams at both the Under Armour All-America High School Football game (Head Coach 2011-16) and has also coached the NFLPA Collegiate Bowl college all-star game.

During his time at ESPN, Edwards remained connected to coaching as he served as a coach at the Under Armour All-American game, which features the top high school football recruits in the country. Edwards was 5-1 in the Under Armour All-America game, where he worked with such players as Jameis Winston, Amari Cooper, Deshaun Watson, Leonard Fournette and Dalvin Cook.

Edwards co-authored the book You Play to Win the Game – Leadership Lessons for Success On and Off the Field with ESPN's Shelley Smith, and he was involved in longtime NFL referee Jim Tunney's book, It's the Will, Not the Skill – Principles and Philosophies of Success as Seen Through the Eyes, Mind and Heart of Herm Edwards.

A passionate golfer, Edwards appeared in Golf Channel's original series "The Haney Project" with professional instructor Hank Haney in December 2011. Edwards has also played a number of high-profile celebrity tournaments in the past, including the Pebble Beach National Pro-Am and the American Century Celebrity Golf Championship in Lake Tahoe, the latter of which he takes part in every year.

Edwards and his wife Lia are the proud parents of three children: Marcus, Gabrielle and Vivian.

ANTONIO PIERCE

Associate Head Coach | Defensive Coordinator | Recruiting Coord.

One of the rising stars in the coaching ranks, Antonio Pierce assumed the role as defensive coordinator for Sun Devil Football in January 2021 after sharing the responsibilities with current special assistant to the head coach Marvin Lewis in 2020. For Pierce, it represented the second-straight year he had been promoted after being tabbed associate head coach/co-defensive coordinator in February 2020. Pierce, who also serves as the program's recruiting coordinator, originally joined Herm Edwards' ASU coaching staff as linebackers coach in December 2017.

A former Pro Bowl linebacker in the NFL, Pierce has played a pivotal role in the improvement on defense in the last three seasons while helping the program attain to new heights in the recruiting world.

Pierce and Lewis teamed up to coach an aggressive and opportunistic Sun Devil defense last season. Arizona State forced 13 turnovers in only four games, highlighted by a seven-turnover performance ASU's Territorial Cup victory. In that game, the Sun Devils held Arizona to just seven points, its lowest total in the series since 2003.

Despite playing in only four games during the pandemic-shortened season, the Sun Devil defense stacked up statistically with other top defenses. ASU was the first nationally in turnover margin, forcing 13 total turnovers compared to just five for the opponent. The Sun Devils finished first in the Pac-12 in scoring defense (23.2), fumble recoveries (8), and yards per completion allowed. Defensive back Evan Fields four forced fumbles led the conference and was tied for first in the country.

Local products defensive back Chase Lucas and defensive lineman Tyler Johnson each earned second-team All-Pac-12 honors, while three more members of the Sun Devil defense earned conference honorable mention recognition: defensive lineman Jermaine Lole, linebacker Kyle Soelle, and Fields.

The Sun Devil defense finished the 2019 regular season 35th in scoring defense, allowing just 22.4 points per game – notables as the Sun Devils had finished 99th or worse between 2015-17. ASU has held opponents to 30 points or less in 17 of 26 games the previous two seasons after opponents scored at least 30 in 32 of 43 games previously.

The Sun Devils gave up just three plays over 50 yards last season, tied for the fifth-fewest (new ranking after the Sun Bowl) nationally. ASU was also tied for ninth nationally in allowing just three plays of over 50 yards in 2018 after sitting in the bottom 10 nationally in the previous four years. In 2018, ASU was tied for 11th nationally in allowing just eight plays over 40 yards, an area the Devils had struggled in in previous seasons (allowing 20, 16, 30, 21 in the previous four seasons and finishing 103rd, 79th, 128th, 110th, respectively).

Pierce's linebackers were key in the Sun Devils staunch run defense in 2019. At the conclusion of the regular season, ASU ranked 21st nationally in allowing just 116.8 rushing yards per game – the best ranking at the end of the regular season for ASU since the 2009 Sun Devils were 19th (108.58 rushing yards per game). ASU allowed 155 or fewer rushing yards in 11 of 12 regular season games, the first time in program history it accomplished the feat since regular seasons expanded to 12 games in the late 1990s.

Under Pierce's guidance, Darien Butler was named the first true sophomore team captain in program history in 2019. Butler would go on to be the seventh-highest graded linebacker in the Pac-12 on run defense, according to Pro Football Focus, while his 18 total quarterback pressures were tied for eighth among the league's linebacker.

Butler finished with 79 tackles on the season, leading the team in the category and adding five tackles for loss, leading the team with three forced fumbles and a sack and a fumble recovery.

Khaylan Kears-Thomas enjoyed a breakout senior campaign under Pierce and was named the team's most Outstanding Linebacker as a result. Kears-Thomas (2019 All-Pac-12 honorable mention selection) led the team in tackles for loss with 11 – the most among non-edge rushing linebackers in the Pac-12 – and finished with 57 total tackles. The senior was a part of five sacks, tied for first among Pac-12 linebackers. Among all linebackers and edge defenders in the Pac-12, he recorded the 16th-best positive run impact percentage at 13.6%.

Pierce's linebacker unit had a big impact in ASU's defensive success in 2018. Starting true freshmen linebackers Merlin Robertson (77 tackles/first) and Butler (70 tackles/tied for second) were the team's top two leaders in tackles.

Robertson also led the team in tackles for loss (8.5), and sacks (5.0) and intercepted one pass on his way to earning Pac-12 Defensive Freshman of the Year honors. He became the first freshman to lead the team in tackles since Jason Shivers in 2001 and the first freshman to lead the team in tackles for loss and sacks since Junior Onyeali in 2010.

Butler finished tied for second on the team in tackles for loss (8.0) and also added one sack and two forced fumbles. Tying with Butler for second in tackles for loss (8.0) was redshirt freshman linebacker Tyler Johnson, who assumed a starting role over the second half of the season, giving the Sun Devils three first-year starters at linebacker.

Eight members of ASU's 2021 signing class were recognized as four-star prospects by at least one major recruiting service, while 12 of the prospects in the class were among the Top-50 nationally at their position according to at least one major publication. In addition, ASU landed four of the Top-70 overall prospects from the state of California according to 24/7 Sports' Composite rankings.

The Sun Devils' 2020 recruiting class was 23rd in the nation and fourth in the Pac-12 according to 24/7Sports' Composite Rankings. Eleven of the 18 freshmen in the class were regarded as four-star prospects by at least one recruiting service.

Following the 2018 season and with one full year under his belt, Pierce helped put together the nation's No. 28 signing class for 2019, according to 24/7Sports' Composite Rankings – the fifth highest-graded class in the Pac-12. Despite being just weeks on the job in the year prior, Pierce helped rally the 2018 Signing Class to 36th nationally and kept the Sun Devils in the top-half of the Pac-12 recruiting rankings.

During his nine-year NFL career, Pierce played 137 regular season games (and seven playoff games) with the Washington Redskins (2001-04) and New York Giants (2005-09). Pierce captained the Giants' defense for five seasons, including 2007 when he helped anchor the championship team that upset the previously undefeated New England Patriots for a victory in Super Bowl XLII. He was also named to the Pro Bowl that season.

Signed by the Redskins as an undrafted free agent in 2001, Pierce finished his career with 687 tackles, nine sacks and seven interceptions.

Prior to his appointment at ASU, Pierce spent four seasons as the head coach of the Long Beach Poly High School football program following a nine-year career in the NFL. While leading the way at Long Beach Poly, Pierce's student-athletes earned 54 total scholarships to continue their education – 24 of whom did so at the Division I level.

Pierce took over at Long Beach Poly in 2014, where he became the school's first outside hire since 1971 as the program underwent an overhaul. He eventually would lead the Jackrabbits to the 2017 CIF Southern Section quarterfinals where they fell to eventual champion Mater Dei.

Pierce immediately instilled a sense of discipline in his players from the moment he arrived and put an emphasis on academics, raising the minimum GPA required for a student to be eligible for his football team and emphasized preparing his players to be professionals in life beyond high school.

A native of Long Beach, Calif., Pierce played college football at the University of Arizona. As a senior, he had three sacks, 77 tackles (10 for losses), two forced fumbles, one interception, and one blocked kick for the Wildcats. Prior to Arizona, Pierce attended Mt. San Antonio College in Walnut, Calif.

Beyond his on-field accomplishments, Pierce was the spokesperson for the Giants Academy inner city youth program in 2006, and he works with a number of not-for-profit organizations, including YMCA, DARE, Cystic Fibrosis, My Sisters Place, ASC Football Camp, City Meals on Wheels and Make a Wish Foundation. Pierce received the United Way's Man of the Year award in 2007 and was honored by Minority Athletes Networking Inc (M.A.N) as its 2008 'MAN of the Year,' for his excellence in the community. In 2011, Pierce was named to the California Community College Athletics Association's Hall of Fame.

In 2005, Pierce hosted his first annual free football camp for youth in his hometown of Compton, Calif., where it continued for seven years.

In 2006, Pierce started 'Antonio's A-List' at Giants Academy, the Giants charter academic program located in the Louise A. Spencer School in Newark, N.J. 'Antonio's A-List' is a motivational incentive program that rewarded Giants Academy Students that reached certain academic standards each semester and for the entire school year. Pierce visited the school, and accompanied the kids on service trips and preparing meals for the community.

During Antonio's NFL career he played for Marty Schottenheimer, Marvin Lewis, Steve Spurrier, George Edwards, Greg Williams, Joe Gibbs, Steve Spagnuolo and Tom Coughlin.

MARVIN LEWIS

Special Assistant to Sun Devil Football

Bringing decades of NFL coaching experience, former Cincinnati Bengals head coach and defensive mastermind Marvin Lewis will serve as special advisor to head coach Herm Edwards in 2021. Lewis is in his third year with ASU after originally joining Edwards' staff as special advisor to Sun Devil Football on May 28, 2019. Lewis returned to coaching at the end of the 2019 season serving as the program's interim defensive backs coach for the Tony the Tiger Sun Bowl before teaming up with Antonio Pierce as co-defensive coordinator in 2020.

Lewis – a veteran coach of over 25 years in the National Football League – and Pierce teamed up to coach an aggressive and opportunistic Sun Devil defense last season. Arizona State forced 13 turnovers in only four games, highlighted by a seven-turnover performance in the Territorial Cup victory. In that game, the Sun Devils held Arizona to just seven points, its lowest total in the series since 2003.

Despite playing in only four games during the pandemic-shortened season, the Sun Devil defense stacked up statistically other top defenses. ASU was the first nationally in turnover margin, forcing 13 total turnovers compared to just five for the opponent. The Sun Devils finished first in the Pac-12 in scoring defense (23.2), fumble recoveries (8), and yards per completion allowed. Defensive back Evan Fields forced four fumbles led the conference and was tied for first in the country.

Local products defensive back Chase Lucas and defensive lineman Tyler Johnson each earned second-team All-Pac-12 honors, while three more members of the Sun Devil defense earned conference honorable mention notice: defensive lineman Jermaine Lole, linebacker Kyle Soelle, and Fields.

In addition to setting the Bengals' franchise record for career wins (131), Lewis also set the club's head coaching standards for longest tenure (16 seasons), playoff appearances (seven), consecutive playoff appearances (five) and division titles (four). The seven playoff berths the Bengals achieved with Lewis equaled the number the club had in the 35 seasons prior to his arrival.

Under Lewis, the Bengals were one of only four NFL teams to reach the playoffs every year from 2011-15. The 2015 squad's 12-4 record tied the best regular season mark in club annals. Lewis was the consensus choice for NFL Coach of the Year in 2009, when the Bengals won the AFC North Division while sweeping all six division games. The Bengals also were AFC North champions under Lewis in 2005, '13 and '15.

Named the ninth head coach in Bengals history on Jan. 14, 2003, Lewis started quickly as his 2003 club finished 8-8, six games better than the 2002 club, which represented the biggest improvement in the NFL.

Lewis coached 21 Pro Bowl players during his time in Cincinnati, with nine of those players earning the honor multiple times. In 2018, defensive tackle Geno Atkins earned his seventh Pro Bowl nod, the most ever by a Bengals defensive player.

Lewis came to the Bengals with credentials as a record-setting NFL defensive coordinator, having played a huge role in a championship season. His six seasons (1996-2001) as Baltimore Ravens coordinator included a Super Bowl victory in 2000, when his defense set the NFL record for fewest points allowed in a 16-game campaign (165). That unit clipped 22 points off the previous mark, an achievement that always has the 2000 Ravens as an entry in discussions regarding the best NFL defensive units of all time.

In 2002, the season before he joined the Bengals, Lewis led the Washington Redskins to a No. 5 NFL defensive ranking, serving as assistant head coach as well as defensive coordinator.

Lewis had his first NFL assignment from 1992-95, as linebackers coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers. He aided the development of four Pro Bowl players

— Kevin Greene, Chad Brown, Levon Kirkland and Greg Lloyd. Greene has since been inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Lewis developed an impressive "coaching tree" during his Bengals tenure. Five of his former assistants have become NFL head coaches. The list includes former Bengals offensive coordinators Jay Gruden (head coach of the Washington Redskins since 2014) and Hue Jackson (Cleveland Browns, 2016-18), former defensive coordinators Leslie Frazier (Minnesota Vikings 2010-13) and Mike Zimmer (head coach of the Minnesota Vikings since 2014), and former defensive backs coach Vance Joseph (Denver Broncos 2017-18).

Lewis began his coaching career as linebackers coach at his alma mater Idaho State from 1981-84. ISU's team finished 12-1 in Lewis' first season there and won the NCAA Division 1-AA championship. Lewis played LB at Idaho State, earning All-Big Sky Conference honors for three consecutive years (1978-80). He also saw action at quarterback and free safety during his college career. He received his bachelor's degree in physical education from Idaho State in 1981, and earned his master's in athletic administration in '82. He was inducted into Idaho State's Hall of Fame in 2001.

Born Sept. 23, 1958, Lewis attended Fort Cherry High School in McDonald, Pa. (near Pittsburgh), where he was an all-conference quarterback and safety. He also earned high school letters in wrestling and baseball. He and his wife, Peggy, have a daughter, Whitney, and a son, Marcus (Sun Devil Football analyst).

SHAWN SLOCUM

Assistant Head Coach | Special Teams Coordinator

Former NFL assistant and long-time college assistant coach Shawn Slocum enters his seventh season as the associate head coach/special teams coordinator at ASU.

Slocum's units made the most of the four games the Sun Devils played last season, distinguishing themselves among the best in the country. Punter Michael Turk was one of only three players to earn All-Pac-12 first-team honors for the second-straight season after he led the conference in every major statistical punting category, including allowing only 28 total yards on punt returns. The Dallas native boomed five punts over 50 yards and had a long of 58 yards. He was sixth in the country in yards per punt attempt (47.2 yards).

ASU's kickoff return team was the best in the nation in 2020, averaging 33.7 yards per return. Kick returner D.J. Taylor was third in the nation and led the Pac-12 with a return average of 34.9 yards. Taylor, who earned second-team All-Pac-12 honors as a return specialist, set the tone in ASU's 70-7 Territorial Cup triumph after the Brandon, Fla., native returned the opening kickoff 100 yards for a touchdown.

ASU also finished among the top third in the Pac-12 in kick return defense (third) and net punting (third) in 2020.

In 2019 the Sun Devil special teams units had another tremendous campaign under Slocum's tutelage.

Senior wide receiver Brandon Aiyuk, who earned All-Pac-12 first-team honors for his contributions on offense received the same recognition as a return specialist as he helped ASU finish seventh in the nation in kickoff returns and 17th in in punt returns. Aiyuk's 2019 highlights included a 97-yard kickoff return against USC and a 63-yard punt return for a touchdown at Oregon State.

Turk earned All-Pac-12 first-team honors and was a semifinalist for the Ray Guy Award after finishing first in the Pac-12 and 11th in the nation in punting (46.0). Turk's high and booming kicks enabled ASU's punt coverage unit to finish 12th in the nation in net punting (41.6). Turk was honored as the Pac-12 Special Teams Player of the Week and the Ray Guy Punter of the Week following a week one performance in which he set the NCAA, Pac-12 and ASU record for highest average yards per punt in a game with a minimum of five attempts (63.0 yards per punt) in ASU's season-opening 30-7 win over Kent State.

Also helping the Sun Devils rank among the top units in punt coverage was true freshman Case Hatch who earned first-team All-Pac-12 recognition as a specialist after recording the majority of his 11 tackles and a forced fumble on special teams.

A late replacement in the season opener due to injury, Cristian Zendejas assumed the team's primary placekicking duties and would go on to finish ninth in the nation in field goals per game (1.8) and 20th in field goal percentage (85.2).

The Sun Devils had the highest-graded special teams unit in the nation in 2016 according to Pro Football Focus and the second-highest graded group in 2015. Despite replacing three NFL players in 2017 (placekicker Zane Gonzalez, punter Matt Haack and kick returned Tim White), ASU still had the 29th-highest graded special teams unit in the nation in 2017.

One of the units biggest highlights of 2018 came in ASU's win at USC in which Sun Devil wide receiver/punt returner N'Keal Harry returned a punt 92 yards for a touchdown. In addition to Harry's outstanding athletic ability, the return was also made possible by a few key blocks executed by the punt return unit. In addition to earning first-team All-Pac-12 honors as a wide receiver, Harry also earned second-team recognition as a return specialist.

The Sun Devils led the Pac-12 and were second nationally in 2017 with six total blocked kicks on the season while the team's five blocked punts were first in the nation.

After posting a number of impressive accomplishments in 2015, Slocum's special teams units performed at an even higher level in 2016. Leading the way was placekicker and 2016 Lou Groza Award winner Gonzalez, who became just the third player in the history of the Sun Devil football program to receive unanimous All-American honors after setting numerous NCAA records during his illustrious career. Gonzalez, who was selected by the Cleveland Browns in the seventh round of the 2017 NFL Draft, was fourth in the nation and first in the Pac-12 in field goals (23) and seventh in the nation and first in the Pac-12 in field goal percentage (920). Gonzalez made an FBS-leading 14 field goals from at least 40 yards and was a remarkable 7-for-9 on attempts from 50 yards or more. That mark, the second-most ever from long distance in an FBS season, includes the longest FG of the year, a 59 yarder that was also the kick to give him the all-time record for career points by a kicker.

Matt Haack turned in a brilliant campaign in 2016 as he finished 18th in the nation and third in the Pac-12 in punting (43.9). As a unit the Sun Devils finished fifth in the nation and second in the Pac-12 in net punting (42.0). Also contributing to ASU's outstanding special teams play in 2016 was Tim White, who finished 10th in the nation in combined kick return yards (963/709 on kickoffs and 254 on punts). In addition, White (punt return) and DJ Calhoun (kickoff) both scored touchdowns on returns.

On the defensive side of the ball, Slocum's outside linebackers were led by Koron Crump, who led the Sun Devils in sacks in 2016 (nine for minus 68 yards) while recording three forced fumbles and three fumble recoveries. Crump, who was named to the Lott IMPACT Trophy Watch List for the 2017 season, also added an interception to go along with his 37 tackles (28 solos stops).

In 2015 Gonzalez continued to be among the best in the country as he finished the season second in the nation in field goals per game (2.0) and 10th in scoring (10.0 ppg). Also turning in a standout season was White, who finished second in the Pac-12 in kick return average (27.0). In addition, White was one of only five Pac-12 players to return a kickoff for a touchdown in 2015 and his 210 combined punt/kickoff return yards vs. West Virginia in the Motel 6 Cactus Bowl were the most in a game by a Pac-12 player last season.

Slocum's coaching also helped Sun Devil linebacker Antonio Longino post an outstanding senior campaign that culminated with Longino earning Pac-12 Honorable Mention recognition. A two-time Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Week in 2015, Longino led the Pac-12 with 22.5 tackles for and 11 sacks, and ranked third in the FBS in tackles for loss and 11th in sacks. His 22.5 tackles for loss ranked as the sixth-highest single-season total in school history.

Slocum started his coaching career as a volunteer assistant at Texas A&M, under his father R.C. Slocum, the winningest coach in Texas A&M football history.

In 1990, he served as a graduate assistant at the University of Pittsburgh, where he coached the defense. He returned to Texas A&M, coaching tight ends, linebackers, and special teams, from 1991 to 1997. From 1991 to 1993, Slocum helped the Aggies win three straight Southwest Conference championships. Between 1994-97, he coached two all-Americans – Shane Lechler and Lombardi Award winner Dat Nguyen – who both went on to play in the NFL.

During his seven-season coaching tenure at A&M, Slocum was part of a staff that led the Aggies to five bowl games, including four Cotton Bowl Classic appearances. Texas A&M's record was 94-28-2 from 1991-97. The 94 wins were the sixth-most in the country and also the most wins by any Texas Division I school in any decade.

From 1998-1999, Slocum coached at the University of Southern California, where he tutored Butkus Award winner and current ASU linebackers coach Chris Claiborne, Zeke Moreno, and Markus Steele. He returned to A&M again and coached the secondary and special teams from 2000-02. In 2005, he became assistant head coach and linebacker coach at Ole Miss, where he coached star linebacker Patrick Willis.

On February 6, 2006, Slocum joined the Green Bay Packers, becoming the assistant special teams coach. He was promoted to special teams coordinator in 2009. During his time in Green Bay the Packers won Super Bowl XLV in 2010, 31-25 over the Pittsburgh Steelers in Arlington, Texas. The Packers also claimed five division championships (2007, 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014), played in three NFC Championship games (winning one, 2010) and appeared in the NFL Playoffs seven times (2007, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014). Slocum also was invited to coach in three Pro Bowl games.

Born in Monticello, Arkansas, on February 21, 1965, Slocum graduated from Bryan High School in Bryan, Texas, in 1983 and attended Texas A&M University, where he played football as a linebacker. Slocum earned one letter with the team in 1984. He graduated with a B.S. in construction management degree in 1987 from the Texas A&M College of Architecture.

Slocum is currently married to the former Michelle Biehler and the couple has four children.

ZAK HILL

Offensive Coordinator | Quarterbacks

Zak Hill was named offensive coordinator for Sun Devil Football in December 2019. Hill, who also works with ASU's quarterbacks, came to Tempe after spending the previous four seasons as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Boise State.

During the abbreviated 2020 season, ASU's offense was among the top 20 teams in the nation in yards per completion (fifth), rushing yards per game (seventh), scoring offense (12th), total offense (20th) and third down conversion percentage (20th). Individually, running back Rachaad White (All-Pac-12 honorable mention) led the nation in yards per carry and was 14th in all-purpose yards; quarterback Jayden Daniels was 14th in yards per completion and running back Chip Trayanum (Pac-12 freshman of the year honorable mention) was 14th in yards per carry. White led the Pac-12 in scoring while Daniels was second in the conference in pass efficiency.

Hill joined the Boise State staff in January 2016 as co-offensive coordinator and was named the program's sole offensive coordinator prior to the 2017 season. In his four seasons at BSU, Pro Football Focus graded Hill's offense in the Top-40 each season and 31st or better in three of those. In 2017 and 2018, PFF scored the Boise State passing game in the Top-15 nationally while the receivers earned a Top-25 score in each of his four seasons.

The 2019 Bronco program entered the bowl season ranked 19th nationally after winning its fourth Mountain West title since joining the conference in 2011. Boise State rode its potent and well-rounded offense to a 12-1 record this season, qualifying for its 18th consecutive bowl game and 22nd-straight season with a winning record – the longest active streak in the country.

The 2019 Bronco offense was 38th in total offense (441.5 ypg) and 14th in the country in averaging 36.8 points per game, despite relying heavily on true freshmen playing at quarterback and running back. Boise State improved in scoring offense in each of Hill's three seasons as the sole offensive coordinator.

Like the Sun Devils, Boise State was one of just four FBS programs to start the 2019 campaign with a true freshman at quarterback in Hank Bachmeier, who exploded on the scene with 407 passing yards – a Boise State record for a debut start – and a road victory against Florida State in the season opener. Bachmeier appeared in just seven games – and left the game early in one of those – due to injury, but accounted for 1,760 yards (251.4 ypg) and nine touchdowns in the games he played.

Despite Bachmeier being out for the final four games of the regular season and the Mountain West Championship, the Broncos rallied to five consecutive victories to end the season and averaged 36.0 points per game during that streak. The Broncos rallied behind senior quarterback Jaylon Henderson, who threw for 944 and 10 touchdowns with only two interceptions and added two rushing touchdowns and over 100 yards on the ground in the final four games of the year.

True freshman running back George Holani rushed for 979 yards on the season – fifth among freshmen running backs in the FBS – and is just 21 yards away from giving Boise State its 11th-straight season with a 1,000-yard back, which would be tied for the second-longest streak in college football history. The Broncos rushed for 174.15 yards per game – the 31st-most in the nation.

On the receiving end, the Broncos had a potent 1-2 punch in senior John Hightower (48 catches, 923 yards, eight touchdowns) and sophomore Khalil Shakir (60 catches, 834 yards, six touchdowns). Boise State's 30 touchdowns by air were 18th nationally at the end of the regular season while the passing offense ranked 35th at 267.4 yards per game.

Shakir was the second-highest graded wide receiver in the nation, according to Pro Football Focus, with a grade of 89.5 – Hill's second receiver to be ranked in the Top-10 nationally by PFF in the last three years. Guard Jake Stetz was the third-highest graded offensive guard in the nation (83.7) while tackle Ezra Cleveland was the 23rd-best graded tackles in the FBS. Tight end John Bates was among the top blocking tight ends in the country (ranked in the Top-20 in both run and pass blocking) while receiving the 21st-highest graded among tight ends in the FBS.

In 2018, quarterback Brett Rypien picked up a fourth-straight All-Mountain West accolade while also earning Mountain West Offensive Player of the Year honors, the first such recognition for a Bronco quarterback since Kellen Moore earned the award in 2011. Rypien concluded his career as the Mountain West's all-time leader in career 300-yard passing games (21), completions (1,036) and passing yards (13,581). He also ranked second in league history in both wins by a starting quarterback (37) and career attempts (1,619), and tied for second in career touchdown passes (90).

Running back Alexander Mattison led the Mountain West and ranked eighth nationally in rushing in 2018 (1,415), giving Boise State 10-straight seasons with a 1,000-yard back, the longest active streak in the country and tied for the third-longest streak in college football history, behind only North Carolina (12; 1973-84) and Texas (11; 1995-2005).

Behind the production of Rypien and Mattison, Boise State concluded the season ranked in the top 25 nationally in both total offense (21st/459.5 yards per game) and scoring offense (20th/35.4 points per game).

Rypien was the 13th-highest graded quarterback in the nation in 2018 while Mattison thrived behind Cleveland, who was the fifth-highest graded tackle in the FBS.

In 2017, Hill's first as the lone offensive coordinator, Boise State saw record-setting production in the passing game. Wide receiver Cedrick Wilson set the Boise State single-season record with 1,511 yards receiving, earning first-team all-league honors. He was the sixth-highest graded wide receiver in the nation (87.7).

Rypien also picked up his third-straight All-MW accolade, while Mattison was honored for the first time following a campaign in which he picked up 1,086 yards rushing.

In 2016, Hill's debut campaign with the Broncos, the Boise State offense led the Mountain West and ranked 21st nationally in total offense (472.8). Hill also oversaw the progression of Rypien, then a sophomore, who garnered his second-straight first-team All-MW accolade after leading the league and ranking 12th nationally with 3,646 passing yards. Rypien also ranked 15th nationally in passing efficiency (155.7).

Hill joined Boise State from Hawai'i, where he was named offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach in December 2015. Prior to that, Hill served as passing game coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Eastern Washington for seven seasons (2009-15). In Cheney, Hill coached some of the top quarterbacks in the Football Championship Subdivision (FCS), including Walter Payton Award (given to the nation's top FCS player) finalists Vernon Adams, Jr. (2012-14) and Matt Nichols (2009), and 2014 Grey Cup champion and Calgary Stampeders (CFL) quarterback Bo Levi Mitchell (2010-11).

He helped oversee the offense of an Eastern Washington program that made the FCS playoffs five times over his seven years and captured the 2010 FCS national title. The Eagles also reached the FCS semifinals twice more, in 2012 and 2013, and won or shared the Big Sky Conference crown six times.

Eastern Washington topped the FCS rankings in passing offense (353.3 ypg) in 2015, with quarterback Jordan West finishing the year with 3,002 passing yards (300.2 ypg, second in FCS) and 30 touchdown passes (fourth in FCS). The Eagles also scored 34.6 points per game, 18th-best in FCS.

Hill was a record-breaking quarterback at Central Washington from 1999-2003. He broke more than 20 league records and passed for 8,882 career yards and 76 touchdowns while completing 60.2 percent of his passes. In 2002, Hill led Central Washington to an 11-1 record and was named a third-team All-American. He was inducted into the school's Hall of Fame in 2013.

Following his playing career, Hill became a student assistant at EWU from 2004-05, where he worked with the 2005 Walter Payton Award winner, quarterback Erik Meyer.

Hill then spent three seasons at Hillsboro High School in Oregon, serving as offensive coordinator in 2006-07. He took over as head coach in 2008 and led the school to an appearance in the state Class 5A playoffs.

Hill earned his bachelor's degree in school health education from Central Washington in 2004. He and his wife, Hollie, have one daughter, Valerie Ann, and one son, Brett Thomas.

SHAUN AGUANO

Assistant Coach | Offensive Line

Shaun Aguano, one of the most decorated coaches in Arizona High School football history, joined the Sun Devil football program as running backs coach in January 2019.

Despite ASU's season being reduced to only four games in 2020 due to a worldwide pandemic, Aguano's unit made its presence known and paved the way for even bigger things in 2021. Running back Rachaad White (All-Pac-12 honorable mention) led the nation in yards per carry and was 14th in all-purpose yards while backfield mate Chip Trayanum (Pac-12 freshman of the year honorable mention) was 14th in yards per carry. White also led the Pac-12 in scoring.

In Aguano's first season tutoring the Sun Devil running backs, Eno Benjamin rushed for 1,083 yards and 10 touchdowns in 2019 on his way to earning First Team Pac-12 All-Conference honors for the second consecutive season. In reaching the 1,000-yard rushing mark for the second-straight year, he became the first Sun Devil running back since Freddie Williams (1974-75) to accomplish the feat in consecutive years. Benjamin, who was drafted by the Arizona Cardinals in the seventh round of the 2020 NFL Draft, was more than just a ball carrier as a running back, as he offered versatility that allowed him to contribute as a receiver and in pass protection. His 347 receiving yards in 2019 were sixth among all FBS running backs and his 42 receptions tied for fifth in the nation.

In eight seasons as head coach at Chandler High School, Aguano led the Wolves to an 88-19 record and four state championships. In 2018, Aguano won his third consecutive state championship (fourth in five years) as the Wolves rolled to a record-setting 65-28 win over Perry High School in the 2018 6A title game. Chandler earned the school's first ever state championship when it defeated rival Hamilton in the 2014 Division I AIA State Championship, giving Aguano the first of four titles. Former Sun Devil standout wide receiver and 2019 NFL first round draft choice N'Keal Harry and current Sun Devil defensive back Chase Lucas played for Aguano during his first state championship run.

Under Aguano, Chandler HS achieved unprecedented success and was recognized as one of the nation's top high school programs. He compiled an outstanding 63-8 mark over his last five seasons. During that stretch, Chandler finished in the MaxPreps National Top-25 three times, finding itself ranked as high as 12th in the country (2015 & 2016). The Wolves occupied the top spot in the final Arizona High School rankings in each of Aguano's last three campaigns. Additionally, they earned victories over Valdosta (Ga.) and Miami Northwestern (Fla.) in the Geico Bowl Series, an event that pits state champions against each other at the end of the season.

Running backs thrived under Aguano's guidance as Chandler had a running back accumulate more than 2,000 yards in three consecutive seasons. Three of his former backfield pupils – T.J. Green (Utah/currently Liberty) and Drake Anderson (Northwestern/currently Arizona) and DeCarlos Brooks (Cal) – are currently on active rosters.

Aguano served as an offensive coordinator in the 2019 Under Armour All-American game and has previously coached at both the Army All-American Game and Semper Fidelis Bowl.

In 2013, Aguano helped Chandler snap a 17-game losing streak to arch-rival Hamilton High School. Before departing, he led the Wolves to six consecutive victories over the Huskies.

Aguano took over as head coach of Chandler High School after serving as the offensive coordinator. He spent 10 years as an assistant at Chandler High School after earning his degree in financial management from Linfield College in Oregon, where he was a running back and four-year letter winner.

Aguano is joined in Tempe by his wife, Kristin, and their four children, Nainoa, Taylor, Bryn and Kalina.

ROBERT RODRIGUEZ

Assistant Coach | Defensive Line

Former Minnesota Vikings assistant defensive line coach Robert Rodriguez was named defensive line coach at Arizona State on February 10, 2020.

Rodriguez completed his fifth season with the Vikings in 2019, serving as the team's assistant defensive line coach. Rodriguez worked closely with veteran defensive line coach and co-defensive coordinator Andre Patterson in their fifth season together with the Vikings. Prior to that, Rodriguez served as the linebackers coach for seven seasons at the University of Texas-EI Paso.

Under the guidance of Rodriguez, two Sun Devil defensive linemen – Tyler Johnson (second team) and Jermaine Lole (honorable mention – earned All-Pac-12 recognition 2020. The Sun Devil defensive line also played a big role in helping ASU finish atop the Pac-12 in both turnover margin (No. 1 in the nation) and scoring defense (32nd in the nation). Individually, Johnson was fourth in the nation in sacks per game, sixth in tackles for loss per game and 12th in in fumble recoveries per game, while Michael Matus was 16th in forced fumbles per game.

Prior to accepting his current position at ASU, Rodriguez was coming off a 2019 campaign in which he helped the Vikings defense finish ranked in the top half of the NFL in total defense for the fifth straight season. Minnesota was also tied for fifth in the league in allowing just 18.9 points per game. The Vikings were fifth in the NFL with 48.0 sacks during the regular season and 13th in the league in rushing yards allowed per game (108.0). All-Pro defensive end Danielle Hunter continued to lead the charge, finishing fourth in the league with 14.5 sacks for the second consecutive season, earning his second Pro Bowl selection in the process.

The 2018 Vikings ranked fourth in NFL total defense and fourth in scoring defense, the third-straight season finishing in the top-five of both categories. The team led the NFL in third-down defense for the second-straight season, limiting teams to 30.5 percent on conversions attempts. The Vikings talented defensive front played a key part in the performance. The unit was led by Hunter, whose 14.5 sacks were a team-high and he earned his first career Pro Bowl berth while being named a Second-Team Associated Press All-Pro selection. Hunter's breakout season spurred a defense that recorded 50 sacks, the most under head coach Mike Zimmer and tied for the third-most in team history. The defense set a franchise record with 10 sacks vs. Detroit (11/4) and followed up later in the season with nine sacks against Miami (12/16).

In 2017, the defensive line once again provided a lethal pass rush that rattled opposing quarterbacks and stopped the run at an impressive rate. Defensive end Everson Griffen (third honor) and defensive tackle Linval Joseph (second honor) earned trips to the Pro Bowl for the second-straight year while Griffen also received his first All-Pro honor (second-team). The defense finished out the regular season ranked first in total and scoring defense, allowing just 15.8 points per game and 275.9 yards per game. Joseph was crucial in stopping the run as the Minnesota defense surrendered just 20 runs of 10+ yards, tops in the league and tied with the San Francisco 49ers in 1995 for the fewest since 1991. Griffen began the year with a sack in each of the team's first eight games, tied for the longest streak to start a season in NFL history, and helped hold opponents to a 25.2 percent 3rd-down conversion rate, best in the NFL since 1991.

The Vikings defense ascended to No. 3 in the NFL in 2016, powered by strong and consistent play along the line. The Vikings ranked tied for fourth in the NFL with 41 team sacks, 34 of those coming from the defensive line, which was the second-most as a unit in the NFL. The line was represented at the Pro Bowl by Griffen (second honor) and Joseph made his first appearance. Joseph notched 100 tackles on the season and second-year player Hunter led the club with 12.5 sacks, putting him in a tie for 3rd in the NFL. The Vikings defensive line accounted for two touchdowns and a safety with Hunter returning a fumble for a touchdown and notching the safety and Griffen returning a fumble for a score. Griffen was named NFC Defensive Player of the Week for his game at Carolina (9/25) when he had a season-high 3.0 sacks.

In 2015, Everson Griffen led the team with 10.5 sacks (4th in the NFC) on his way to his first career Pro Bowl. Hunter, a third-round selection out of LSU, ranked second in the NFL for sacks by a rookie with 6.0. He posted the second-most sacks on the Vikings and fifth-most by a rookie in team history. Nose tackle Linval Joseph was a dominant force in his second year as a Viking, and he led the line with 71 tackles. Joseph (Week 9 vs. STL) and Griffen (Week 17 at GB) earned NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors. Hunter was named to the All-Rookie team by the PFWA. The DL accounted for 30 of the 43 team sacks during the regular season. Only five RBs reached 100+ rushing yards in 2015. The defense ranked fifth in the NFL only allowing 19.3 points per game.

From 2008-14, Rodriguez coached the linebackers and special teams at his alma mater, Texas-EI Paso.

During the 2013 season, the Miners' special teams unit was sparked by Autrey Golden, who under the direction of Rodriguez averaged 27.6 yards per kickoff return, which ranked 10th nationally, and tied for second nationally in kickoffs returned for TDs (2). In 2011, linebacker Isaiah Carter finished with 54 tackles and was named All-Conference USA honorable mention for the second-consecutive season.

Rodriguez, who started his playing days with the Miners, ranks in the top-five among UTEP's all-time leading tacklers with 443 career tackles, including 33 TFLs. He led the Western Athletic Conference in tackles in three of four seasons with the Miners and was named the WAC Defensive Player of the Year following his senior season in 2004, after being credited with 121 tackles and 16 TFLs and was selected to play in the 2005 East/West All-Star Game.

In his professional playing career, Rodriguez spent time with the Carolina Panthers and Tennessee Titans (2005) before playing for Cologne in the NFL Europa (2006) and the Calgary Stampeders of the CFL (2006-07).

A native of El Paso, Texas, Rodriguez was a standout RB at Montwood High School, earning All-City Offensive MVP as a senior. Rodriguez and wife, Holly, have sons, Caleb and Jesse.

MIKE CAVANAUGH

Assistant Coach | Offensive Line

Herm Edwards added one of the most experienced minds in the game when he tabbed 35-year coaching veteran Mike Cavanaugh as the program's offensive line coach on January 28, 2021.

Cavanaugh, who has spent nearly his entire coaching career mentoring offensive linemen, spent the last three seasons as the offensive line coach at Syracuse. Cavanaugh owns 15 seasons of Power-Five experience and has developed a host of players who have gone on to successful NFL careers.

In addition to his 33 years of collegiate experience, Cavanaugh spent two seasons (1997-98) in the National Football League as an assistant offensive line and quality control coach with the San Diego Chargers.

Cavanaugh arrived at Syracuse in 2018 and his influence was a key factor in the Orange's success. His work with the front five aided an offense that propelled Syracuse to a 10-3 record and a Camping World Bowl victory over West Virginia. The Orange ranked 11th nationally in scoring (40.2 ppg), tallied 50+ points a school-record five times and scored 40+ points in eight out of 13 games. In addition, the Orange scored a school-record 523 points and generated more than 6,000 yards of total offense for the second time in program history.

Cavanaugh's presence paid immediate dividends in the run game. The Orange increased their rushing average by 37.7 yards per game from 2017 to 2018 and tallied a school-record 38 touchdowns on the ground. Two of Cavanaugh's charges – left tackle Cody Conway and right tackle Koda Martin – received 2018 All-ACC honors and signed free-agent contracts with NFL teams after the season. Conway is currently a member of the Denver Broncos, while Martin is with the Arizona Cardinals. A third member of that unit – guard Evan Adams – was a free-agent pickup by the Baltimore Ravens after the 2019 campaign.

In addition to Adams' ascension to an NFL-caliber guard, Cavanaugh oversaw the development of right tackle Matthew Bergeron in 2019. The first true freshman to start a game at tackle for the Orange since 2002, Bergeron made five first-string appearances and earned Pro Football Focus Freshman All-America honors.

Before joining the Orange, Cavanaugh was the offensive line coach from 2015-17 at Nebraska where his units were among the best at protecting the passer. The Cornhuskers ranked in the top 15 in fewest sacks allowed in two of Cavanaugh's three seasons in Lincoln. In 2016, Nebraska surrendered only 15 sacks to rank first in the Big Ten and 14th in the country, as the Huskers went 8-4 record and advanced to the Music City Bowl.

The previous season, the Huskers gave up 14 sacks to rank second in the conference and ninth nationally. Cavanaugh's front five helped Nebraska finish in the top three of the Big Ten in scoring offense, passing offense, total offense and third-down percentage. The Huskers also generated 3,000 passing yards and 2,000 rushing yards in the same season for just the third time in program history.

Prior to his Nebraska appointment, Cavanaugh spent 10 seasons (2005-14) as the offensive line coach at Oregon State where the performance of his unit led to record-setting offensive numbers and six bowl appearances. Behind the play of Cavanaugh's group, quarterback Sean Mannion, who completed his career in 2014, set single-season and career Pac-12 records for passing yards. Oregon State's offensive line also cleared the way for several all-conference runners, including Yvenson Bernard and Jacquizz Rodgers, who each produced three 1,000-yard seasons while Cavanaugh was on staff.

Because of the Beavers' success, Cavanaugh's Oregon State players were regularly rewarded for their performance. Andy Levitre, Jeremy Perry and Isaac Seumalo garnered All-America honors, while 23 of his players earned all-conference recognition. Levitre and Seumalo were among the several Beavers who played for Cavanaugh to be drafted into the NFL.

As the offensive line coach at Hawaii from 1999-2004, Cavanaugh played a key role in directing some of college football's top offenses. The Warriors ranked in the top 10 nationally in total offense three times in Cavanaugh's six seasons. His Hawaii units featured future pros Samson Satele, Adrian Klemm, Kynan Forney and Wayne Hunter, among others.

Before his stint at Hawaii, Cavanaugh made college coaching stops at Ferris State, Sacred Heart, Murray State, Alma College and Wesleyan College (Conn.).

A player at New Haven from 1981-82, Cavanaugh got his coaching start as a graduate assistant at Albany in 1986. That same year, he received his bachelor's degree in physical education from Southern Connecticut State.

Cavanaugh and his wife, Laurie, have two sons – Blair and Shane.

CHRIS CLAIBORNE

Assistant Coach | Linebackers

Herm Edwards announced the hiring of NFL veteran and former All-American and Butkus Award winner Chris Claiborne as the program's linebackers coach on January 25, 2021.

Claiborne spent the 2020 season, serving as an offensive quality control analyst at his alma mater, USC.

Claiborne, a prominent fixture in the SoCal athletic scene throughout his life, was inducted into the USC Athletic Hall of Fame in 2018 and the Riverside Sport Hall of Fame in 2011.

Claiborne was the head coach at Calabasas (Calif.) High School for two seasons prior to rejoining his alma mater (2018-19), going 17-6 overall. Calabasas won the Marmonte League title in 2019 and advanced to the CIF Division 1 playoffs. He was the defensive coordinator at Calabasas in 2014 and 2015. He also served as an assistant at Corona (Calif.) High, Oaks Christian High in Westlake Village (Calif.) and Long Beach (Calif.) Poly High. He was a prep All-American and All-State pick at J.W. North High in Riverside (Calif.).

In 2012, he started a 7-on-7 team, Frat Boyz, a program designed to help student-athletes with skills to become better on and off the field. He also privately trained players in the Southern California area and ran youth football camps. While coaching in high school, he returned to USC to finish his bachelor's degree, which he received in 2019.

Claiborne, a three-year (1996-98) starter and Trojan captain in 1998, was USC's first winner of the Butkus Award as the nation's top linebacker. In 1998, when he won that award, he also was a unanimous All-American and the Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Year as he notched 120 tackles, 16 pass deflections and 6 interceptions (all team highs). That season Claiborne was directed by current ASU associate head coach/special teams coordinator Shawn Slocum who at the time was in his first season as USC's linebackers coach.

Claiborne was a Freshman All-American first team selection in 1996 and was on the All-Pac-10 first team as a 1997 sophomore. In his Trojan career, he had 312 tackles, including 27 for loss.

He was selected by the Detroit Lions as the ninth pick of the 1999 NFL draft (as a junior) and played eight seasons with the Lions (1999-2002), Minnesota Vikings (2003-04), St. Louis Rams (2005) and New York Giants (2006). He had 574 combined tackles, 41 tackles for loss, 15 sacks, 30 pass defenses and 8 interceptions in his pro career. He recorded over 100 tackles in three seasons.

JUSTIN WOOD

Interim Assistant Coach | Tight Ends

Justin Wood enters his second season with the Sun Devils and will serve as the interim assistant coach for tight ends after spending last season as an offensive analyst with Sun Devil Football.

Wood arrived at ASU from Boise State where he was a quality control coach for one season. In that role, Wood worked with current ASU offensive coordinator Zak Hill with game planning and running the scout team defense. Wood was also responsible for all opponent data & analysis, weekly advance scouting report, special projects, and gameday coverage & adjustments. In his lone season with the program, Boise State went 12-2 and won the MWC championship.

Prior to his appointment at Boise State, Wood spent two seasons at Georgia Southern where he coached the wide receivers (2017) and quarterbacks (2018). In 2018, quarterback Shai Werts had one of the most efficient seasons in school history. Werts was the only FBS starting quarterback not to throw an interception and Georgia Southern became the first team in NCAA FBS history not to throw an interception all season as the Eagles won 10 games and the Camellia Bowl.

In his first year on the Georgia Southern staff, he molded a young group of receivers that featured a junior, three sophomores and a freshmen in the main rotation. That group combined to catch 57 passes for 871 and four touchdowns while recording nine plays of 25 yards or longer.

Wood, who played in the Arena Football League for three seasons, had eight successful seasons at Cal Poly. He was first the wide receivers coach at Cal Poly in 2009, then switched to coaching the quarterbacks in 2013 and was promoted to offensive coordinator in July 2016.

In 2016, his first season calling the plays, Cal Poly finished second in the FCS in rushing yards per game with an average of 343.5 yards. Fullback Joe Protheroe, offensive tackle Matt Fisher and center Joey Kuperman were named to the all-conference first team while senior quarterback Dano Graves made the second team.

Protheroe became Cal Poly's 20th 1,000-yard rusher for a single season, accumulating 1,334 yards and scoring 13 touchdowns. He also caught seven passes for 139 yards and two more scores. Graves completed 63 percent of his passes (97 of 153) for 1,485 yards and 17 touchdowns. He was intercepted just four times and finished the regular season No. 1 in the Big Sky in passing efficiency. Graves also rushed for 686 yards and nine touchdowns, averaging 4.4 yards per carry with three games of 100 or more yards.

Wood coached Dominique Johnson, who caught 90 passes in the 2009 and 2010 seasons combined and signed an undrafted free agent contract with the Minnesota Vikings in July 2010.

In 2014 and 2015, Wood coached quarterback Chris Brown, who set a school record for rushing yards in a season by a quarterback (1,265) and finished with over 3,000 career yards both rushing and passing.

Wood was a quarterback for the New York Dragons in 2006, Philadelphia Soul in 2007 and back with the Dragons in 2008 before the Arena Football League suspended operations prior to the 2009 campaign. In those three years, he completed 140 of 230 passes (61 percent) for 1,531 yards and 25 touchdowns.

He played for the Central Valley Coyotes of af2 in 2005, earned second-team All-National Conference honors, led af2 in total offense averaging 282.4 yards per game and passed for 4,361 yards and 89 touchdowns. He also played for the Coyotes in 2004, completing 60 of 105 passes for 651 yards and 15 scores. Wood signed as a free agent with the Minnesota Vikings on April 28, 2003.

Wood has had some experience in Hollywood as well, serving as a stunt double on "The Longest Yard" movie remake starring Adam Sandler and also shot a commercial for the "Madden NFL 2005" video game.

Wood was a standout student-athlete under the tutelage of Tim Walsh at Portland State, twice earning ADA Academic All-American honors. He was a first-team All-Big Sky Conference selection at quarterback in 2001 and honorable mention in 2002, serving as team captain both seasons.

He ended his collegiate career ranked sixth in school history with 5,681 yards of total offense and finished his career with 5,653 passing yards, 37 touchdown passes, 414 completions and six 300-yard passing games. He led the Big Sky in passing as a junior.

Wood was a three-year varsity letter winner in football at David Douglas High School in Portland and served as an assistant coach at David Douglas High School for three seasons. Twice he earned all-conference honors in basketball. As a senior in high school, he played in the Oregon State All-Star Games in football, basketball and baseball.

Wood earned his bachelor's degree in public health education at Portland State in April 2003 and married his wife Lindsay in 2014. The couple has a daughter, Avila, and a son, Cash.

SUPPORT STAFF

DONNIE HENDERSON

Interim Assistant Coach |
Defensive Backs

Donnie Henderson, a coaching veteran with more than 30 years of experience with major college programs and the NFL, is in his second season with Sun Devil Football as he will serve as the interim defensive backs coach after spending last season as a consultant/special advisor to Sun Devil Football. Henderson is in his second stint with the program after serving as an assistant coach at ASU in the 90s.

Henderson has coached and succeeded at the highest level of the game, guiding the Baltimore Ravens secondary that contributed to the team's World Championship in 2000. The unit helped the Ravens defense set NFL records for fewest points and rushing yards allowed in a season.

During his decorated career, Henderson has coached eight NFL Pro Bowlers, including Professional Football Hall of Fame inductee Rod Woodson. He has also coached two AP Defensive Rookie of the Year honorees in Jonathan Vilma (2004) and Ron Darby (2015).

Henderson's NFL experience includes coaching assignments with the Baltimore Ravens (1999-2003/assistant DBs coach and DBs coach, Super Bowl winner in 2000 and AFC North champions in 2003), New York Jets (2004-05/defensive coordinator), Detroit Lions (2006/defensive coordinator), Cincinnati Bengals (2007/consultant), Jacksonville Jaguars (2008/secondary coach), Arizona Cardinals (2010/secondary coach) and Buffalo Bills (2013-15/secondary coach).

During Henderson's tenure with the Ravens from 1999-2003, Baltimore ranked second in the NFL with 88 interceptions and he tutored a secondary that included Pro Bowlers in safeties Woodson, and Ed Reed, and cornerback Chris McAlister.

In 2004, Henderson was the coordinator for the Jets defense that improved to seventh, from 21st, in the NFL in total defense and Vilma was named the 2004 AP Defensive Rookie of the Season. In 2005, the Jets finished second in the NFL in total passing yards allowed (172.2 avg.) and finished fifth with 21 interceptions.

Henderson started his coaching career at the college level. After his initial stop at Utah State (1983-88/graduate assistant and outside linebackers coach), Henderson moved on to Idaho (1989/recruiting coordinator and defensive backs coach) before earning successive positions in the Pac-10 with Cal (1990-91/outside linebackers coach) and his first stop at ASU (1992-97/safeties coach and defensive backs coach). Henderson also coached one season at the University of Houston (1998/assistant head coach and defensive backs coach) before moving to the pro ranks with Baltimore in 1999. In 1996, Henderson's Sun Devil defensive backs contributed to the squad's 11-0 regular season and near national title after being edged by Ohio State 20-17 in the 1997 Rose Bowl.

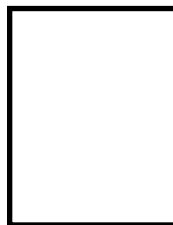

Henderson returned to the college ranks for two seasons as an assistant coach at Southern (2011/secondary coach) and Syracuse (2012/secondary coach) before returning to the NFL to accept the position in Buffalo. At Southern, Henderson guided the Jaguars defensive backfield that ranked 29th nationally in pass defense.

Henderson was on teams that went 4-1 in bowl games as he was on the winning side in the 1990 Copper Bowl (Cal), 1991 Citrus Bowl (Cal), 1997 Sun Bowl (ASU) and 2012 Pinstripe Bowl (Syracuse).

In addition to his NCAA and NFL coaching positions, Henderson has also coached in the UFL (volunteer assistant coach for the California Redwoods in 2009), The Spring League (defensive coordinator in 2017-18), NFL Pathway (secondary coach in 2018) and the AAF (defensive coordinator for the Salt Lake City Stallions in 2019).

A native of Baltimore, Md., Henderson attended Locke High School (Los Angeles, Calif.). He played two seasons at Santa Monica Junior College before transferring to Utah State where he earned first-team Big West Conference honors as a senior cornerback in 1979. He was selected by the Detroit Lions in the 10th round (251st overall) of the 1980 NFL Draft.

BOBBY WADE

Interim Assistant Coach |
Wide Receivers

Bobby Wade is entering his third season with the Sun Devil football program, charged with being the interim assistant coach for wide receivers.

Wade previously spent two years with the Sun Devils as both an offensive analyst and a recruiting assistant, tasked with evaluating Division I college football prospects and assessing player skill and talent.

Prior to joining the ASU staff in February 2019, Wade was immersed in the local high school scene as a member of Phoenix's Cesar Chavez High School coaching staff. As the team's wide receivers coach for two-and-a-half-years, Wade specialized in developing strategies and game plan approaches through studying game tape and evaluating player talent.

Wade was also the head coach and co-president of the Arizona Saints Sports for four-plus years, a youth football organization where he evaluated player talent and developed team training programs.

Wade was drafted by the Chicago Bears in the fifth round of the 2003 NFL Draft. Wade played in 102 career games between 2003-08, playing for the Bears, Tennessee Titans, Minnesota Vikings and Kansas City Chiefs.

Wade is a graduate of Phoenix's Desert Vista High School and a University of Arizona alumnus, where he was inducted into the school's Ring of Honor in 2015.

TREY ANDERSON

Interim Coach

Trey Anderson will serve as an interim coach for the 2021 season. In his role, Anderson assists offensive coordinator Zak Hill and helps with the quarterbacks.

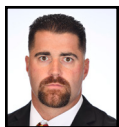

Anderson spent the last two seasons as an analyst for the team.

Anderson transitioned to the coaching staff as a graduate assistant in 2017 after spending the 2016 season as a management intern. He worked with the Sun Devil defense for one season (2017) and with the quarterbacks (2018) for one season.

Anderson played quarterback at Pitt for three seasons before closing out his career at Florida International.

Before moving to the collegiate ranks, Anderson helped lead his Pearland High School team (Pearland, Texas) to a 16-0 record and the Texas Class 5A Division I state championship as a senior.

Anderson earned his undergraduate degree in Media and Communication Studies from the University of Pittsburgh in 2015 and his master's degree in Liberal Arts and Sciences/Liberal Studies from ASU in 2019.

JOE CONNOLLY

Head Coach - Sports Performance

Joe Connolly - formerly the assistant athletics director for sports performance at UMass - enters his fourth season as the head coach for sports performance for Sun Devil Football.

In his first season with the Sun Devil football program, Connolly worked with 2019 NFL draft choices WR N'Keal Harry (first round) and Renell Wren (fourth round). Prior to the draft Wren was singled out as a player who had raised his draft profile at the NFL combine where the former Sun Devil defensive lineman had a breakout performance. Also working in Connolly's program in 2018 were 2019 NFL rookie free agent signees OL Quinn Bailey, DB Jalen Harvey, OL Casey Tucker and QB Manny Wilkins.

Connolly's system also played a big role in helping Sun Devil wide receiver Brandon Aiyuk become a 2020 first round draft making it consecutive years that ASU had a receiver taken in the first round. In 2021 wide receiver Frank Darby, was the most recent Sun Devil draftee (sixth round by the Atlanta Falcons) to benefit from Connolly's program.

Connolly joined ASU from UMass where he worked primarily with the football team. In his first year with the program, Connolly helped develop Elijah Wilkinson - a 6-6, 329-pound offensive lineman who signed with the Denver Broncos as an undrafted free agent and concluded the 2018 season as a starter on the Denver offensive line.

Connolly also oversaw the strength and conditioning development of tight end Adam Breneman. In 2017 Breneman was named to the USA TODAY College Football All-American Team as one of the two best tight ends in the country. He finished the 2017 campaign as the top-ranked tight end in the nation for receptions per game (5.8) and second for most receiving yards per game (69.5). Breneman, who was named tight ends coach for Sun Devil Football in January 2021, became just the third Minuteman selected to a major, national All-America team.

A native of Barnstable, Mass., Connolly arrived in Amherst after seven seasons working with the football program at the University of South Carolina with Hall of Fame coach Steve Spurrier. During his time with the Gamecocks, he coached 45 NFL Draft picks, including the 2014 No. 1 selection Jadeveon Clowney. The Gamecocks went on to six straight bowl games, winning the SEC East in 2010, and went 5-2 against in-state rival Clemson during Connolly's tenure. South Carolina was also one of three Power 5 teams that won 11 games for three consecutive years.

Prior to his arrival in Columbia, S.C., Connolly served as an assistant strength and conditioning coach at the University of Louisville. He worked with the Cardinal football program, primarily focusing on the skill position players. Connolly began his professional career at Harvard in 2007, assisting with all 41 sports, including the league's championship football team. He was hired as a full-time assistant strength and conditioning coach with the Crimson in 2008 and served as the head strength and conditioning coach for men's volleyball while continuing to assist with the other programs.

Connolly holds a Master of Science in physical education with a concentration in strength and conditioning from Bridgewater State, graduating magna cum laude in 2007. He is a 2004 graduate of the University of Hartford, where he earned degrees in criminal justice and sociology. He was a four-year letterwinner in baseball and was given the Senior Award for great sportsmanship and perseverance. Connolly is Strength and Conditioning Coach Certified (SCCC) by the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches' Association (CSCCA) and Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist by the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA).

Connolly is a current competitor in Olympic weightlifting, drug-free powerlifting, Highland games and strongman competitions. He is joined in Tempe by his wife, Shalona.

STEVEN BEARD

Graduate Assistant - Defense

The 2021 season will be Steven Beard's fourth season working with Sun Devil Football, his second as a graduate assistant on the defensive coaching staff.

Beard, who assisted with the Sun Devil linebackers last season, started at ASU as a recruiting assistant (2018) before transitioning to a manager's position for the 2019 season.

Beard initially joined the coaching ranks as offensive coordinator for Canyon State Academy (AZ) in 2013. After serving as running backs coach/assistant offensive coordinator at Omaha Northwest High School (NE) in 2015, Beard returned to Canyon State Academy where he was offensive coordinator for two seasons (2016-17).

Beard, who earned his BS in Criminology and Criminal Justice from ASU, played for both Solano College (CA) and Mesa College (AZ) before playing professionally for the Wenatchee Venom, a professional arena team in Wenatchee, Wash.

SHAUN PRATER

Graduate Assistant - Defense

Shaun Prater is in his second season as a graduate assistant for Sun Devil football.

In his role, Prater works with the defense with a focus on ASU's defensive backs. Prater's other responsibilities include data entry, preparing practice cards, scripts and plans, coaching the 'Look' team and reviewing formations and tendencies.

Prater was drafted by the Cincinnati Bengals in the fifth round of the 2012 NFL Draft. In addition to the Bengals, Prater also played for the Philadelphia Eagles, Minnesota Vikings, Indianapolis Colts, Denver Broncos, and Arizona Cardinals. In 2013, Prater earned NFC North Player of the Week honors. That same year, Prater was ranked the 13th best cornerback in the NFL by Pro Football Focus.

Prior to joining ASU's staff, Prater was a program assistant for EXOS Pro Elite Fellowship in Phoenix. Prater assisted the EXOS staff with daily operations, scheduling and planning for all NFL Trust Programs. He was also responsible for helping prepare defensive backs for the 2020 NFL Combine and active NFL players for their upcoming season.

Prater was a four-year starter at the University of Iowa, where he earned First-Team All-Big Ten honors in 2010 and 2011.

Prater earned his undergraduate degree in Global Health Studies from the University of Iowa in 2017 and his graduate degree in Sports Law and Business from ASU's Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law in 2019.

NATE WAINWRIGHT

Associate Athletic Director - Chief of Staff

Nate Wainwright enters his fourth season with the Sun Devil Football program, his third as chief of staff/associate athletic director.

From 2013 through 2017, Wainwright worked with Mason Dixon Energy, Precision Oil and Gas, and LCS - Clarity Pointe Little Rock where he was the Executive Director of a 100% Alzheimer's and Dementia Memory Care Community.

Prior to his current appointment, Wainwright last worked in athletics as the associate director of athletics at Lehman College from 2010 to 2012. He supervised and coordinated day-to-day operations for 17 NCAA Division III varsity sports.

Before assuming the position at Lehman, Wainwright worked for three years from 2006 to 2009 as the manager of football operations and player development for the Kansas City Chiefs where he oversaw all day to day, game day and travel operations for the team. Wainwright served as Herm Edwards' assistant in addition to assisting with the scouting of free agents and draft-eligible players. He also assisted in the coaching and management of the defense.

Wainwright was the executive administrator to the head coach for the New York Jets from 2001 to 2006. His duties included assisting the head coach and defensive coordinator, organizing and coaching the scout team, producing the defensive playbook for the team, aiding in the coaching of defensive backs during practice and games and assisting with all operations associated with the team.

Wainwright started his career in 1998 as a tickets sales associate for the New Orleans Saints.

Wainwright graduated from the University of Iowa in 1998 with a bachelor's degree in communications studies.

MARKUS ALLEYNE

Assistant Athletic Director - Operations

Markus Alleyne is in his sixth season with Sun Devil Football, his second as assistant athletic director for football operations after serving as director of player development.

Prior to his appointment at ASU Alleyne was at Iowa State where he had two separate stints working in football operations over a six-year period. Alleyne initially joined the Cyclone football program as assistant director of operations in 2009. In 2013 he came to the Valley to work for the Fiesta Bowl before returning to Iowa State later in the year as Assistant Athletics Director of Football Operations.

In his most recent position at Iowa State, Alleyne coordinated the daily, weekly and monthly schedules of the Iowa State coaching staff, players and support staff. He also oversaw the football budget and the Gridiron Club and arranged trade-out for a variety of different team functions.

Alleyne, a native of Montreal, served as director of player relations at Akron for two seasons prior to his arrival at Iowa State. He spent his initial two UA campaigns as a football operations assistant. Alleyne also coordinated the Zips' community service projects.

In his position at Akron, he helped with administrative duties, including coordination of team travel, summer camps and recruiting visits. Alleyne also served as the Akron football program's liaison with the NFL. In addition, he was the school's academic support services contact.

Prior to joining the Akron staff Alleyne was an intern under the assistant general manager for the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League. He also served an internship at the McGill University Sports Complex and worked extensively with the YMCA Montreal.

Alleyne has a degree in recreation administration from Concordia University (Montreal), and a business administration degree from Vanier College (Montreal). In December of 2007, Alleyne received his master's degree in sport management from Akron.

KYLE
GRAY

Asst. Director of Operations

The 2020 season will be Kyle Gray's fifth season assisting with the daily operations of Sun Devil Football.

In his current role, Gray serves as the liaison to communicate scheduling to the Sr. Associate AD, operations & facilities, media relations, sports performance management, equipment management and sports medicine; coordinates all scheduling with officials, grounds crew and tram drivers; assists with the planning and coordinating of team summer camps, team schedule, team meals, special events and clinics; and assists with the coordination of the team's annual stay at Camp Tontozona.

Gray came to ASU from Arizona Christian University where he spent a year and a half as the director of football operations and defensive quality control coach.

Gray spent two seasons as an offensive assistant coach at North Canyon High School where he developed and implemented game plans and handled offensive play calling duties during freshmen football games.

A 2014 graduate of Northern Arizona (B.S. degree in business administration), Gray was a seasonal assistant in the operations and distribution management areas of the Fiesta and Insight Bowls for two years.

KYLE
JACOBO

Offensive Analyst

Kyle Jacobo joined Sun Devil Football in February of 2019 and currently serves as an offensive analyst.

Jacobo, who came to ASU after one season as an assistant coach at Northern Arizona – worked with inside wide receivers and was assistant recruiting coordinator – assists the Sun Devils offensive coaches with practice plans, video study, scouting reports and recruiting.

Jacobo was the wide receivers coach for one season at Marietta College. That season Marietta had the second-best rushing offense in the Ohio Athletic Conference and its 6-4 record was the best in the previous 10 seasons.

Jacobo started his third stint coaching in the state of Arizona in 2016, serving as the running backs coach for one season at Arizona Christian University. In addition to coaching two all-conference running backs, Jacobo also assisted with the Firestorm special teams.

Prior to his time at Arizona Christian, Jacobo spent two years at the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater helping the Warhawks to a pair of Amos Alonzo Stagg Bowl appearances and the 2014 National Championship. Jacobo coached the Whitewater tight ends and wide receivers and also served as the assistant recruiting coordinator. Three of his position players earned all-conference honors and one was named all-region.

Jacobo began his coaching career as an assistant coach at Red Mountain High School in Mesa, Arizona. After a year of prep coaching he took an assistant coaching position at the University of Mary, an NCAA Division II member of the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference in Bismarck, North Dakota.

Following a year at Mary, Jacobo spent two seasons as a graduate assistant coach at Northern Arizona University. He coached the Lumberjack tight ends, assisted with special teams and served as the scout defense coordinator. Northern Arizona earned a FCS Playoff bid in 2013.

Jacobo graduated from the University of Wyoming in 2009 with a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Social Science and a minor in Chicano Studies. He earned a master of Education Degree in Educational Leadership from Northern Arizona University in 2013.

ANTHONY GARNETT

Defensive Analyst

Former college quarterback and coaching veteran Anthony Garnett enters his fourth season as a defensive analyst for Sun Devil Football.

Garnett joined the staff after serving as the special teams coordinator and the strength & conditioning coach at De Anza College in Cupertino, Calif. He was responsible for all special teams calls on gameday for the Dons, helping the team double its win total in his first season on staff.

Garnett played his collegiate ball at Cal Poly, earning a full scholarship after transferring from junior college. During his time as a Mustang, Garnett led the school to its highest national ranking since transitioning to the Division I-AA (FCS) level. He served as the Mustangs team captain and led the 2005 team to its first DI-AA playoff berth. Cal Poly also captured the 2004 Great West conference title in Garnett's second season in San Luis Obispo.

Garnett compiled accolades at Cal Poly that include a First-Team All Great West selection in 2005. Garnett finished top-10 in the nation in passing efficiency (158.1), totaling 21 passing TDs while adding 12 rushing TDs in 13 games leading the Mustangs to a 10-3 record in 2005. Garnett graduated from Cal Poly in 2006 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Kinesiology.

Garnett has made several stops during his coaching career, including the 2016-17 season serving as the assistant head coach with offensive coordinator duties as well as the defensive backs coach for the Seaside High School Varsity Football Program. In his only season coaching, Garnett led the Spartans to an undefeated season and a Monterey Bay League Title and sectional semifinals appearance as a number two seed in California Interscholastic Federation Central Coast Section Playoffs.

Garnett has extensive experience at the junior college level, with connections to several prominent CCCAA schools. From 2014-16, he served as the tight ends and wide receivers coach at Monterey Peninsula College in Monterey, Calif. He was responsible for developing the weekly schematic framework of passing plays as the passing game coordinator and assisted in the offensive coordinator's game planning. While coaching at MPC, Garnett earned his Master of Science in Recreation and Sport Pedagogy Concentration in Coaching Education from Ohio University at the Patton College of Education Earned in 2015.

Before entering the junior college coaching ranks, Garnett was the quarterbacks coach at Missouri University S&T at the NCAA Division II level. While a member of the Knights coaching staff from 2010-12, he assisted the offensive coordinator with weekly game planning by creating detailed scouting reports on opposing defenses. The offense scored 14 more touchdowns in his second year compared to his first year on campus.

MARCUS LEWIS

Defensive Analyst

Marcus Lewis is in his second season as a defensive analyst for Sun Devil Football.

Lewis arrived in Tempe after serving as running backs coach at Hampton during the 2019 season. Under Lewis' guidance, running back Shai McKenzie (1,263 yards) earned first-team All-Big South honors after becoming the first Hampton running back to run for 1,000 yards since 2012. In addition to his duties with the running backs, Lewis also assisted with Hampton's special teams.

Prior to Hampton, Lewis spent five seasons with the Cincinnati Bengals where he was the team's assistant defensive line/defensive quality control coach (2014-17) and assistant linebackers/defensive quality control coach (2018). During his time with the Bengals, Lewis worked with Pro Bowl players DT Geno Atkins (went to Pro Bowl all four of Lewis' seasons working with defensive line) and DE Carlos Dunlap (2015 Pro Bowl).

Lewis, who has coached the defensive line in three all-star games (2018 and 2019 East-West Shrine Game, 2020 NFL PA All-Star Game), served as an assistant coach at the University of Cincinnati in 2013 working with the defensive line, scout teams film breakdown and practice organization.

Lewis earned his degree in Recreation Sports Management from Indiana State where he was a member of the football team from 2008-12.

MICHAEL FLETCHER

Defensive Analyst

Michael Fletcher is in his second season as a defensive analyst for Sun Devil Football.

Prior to joining the ASU staff, Fletcher was a lead evaluator and member of the coaching staff for Student Sports, a premier event and grassroots marketing organization dedicated to student-athletes. In his role with Student Sports, Fletcher served as a lead evaluator for The Opening football event. His duties in that position included instructing coaches on position specific drills, workouts, and evaluation of elite high school football athletes. Fletcher was also a member of The Opening/Elite 11 Staff, serving as a lead staffer for a National Multi-city tour with local high school coaches and trainers for combines, regionals and finals events.

In addition to his duties with Student Sports, Fletcher served as assistant head coach and defensive and special teams coordinator for 10 seasons (2010-19) at Paramount High School in Paramount, Calif. Before joining the staff at Paramount, Fletcher was a speed and conditioning coach at Edison High School in Huntington Beach, Calif.

Fletcher played nine years in the CFL (BC Lions/Toronto Argonauts) where he won two Grey Cup

SUPPORT STAFF

Championships and was voted to the All-Time Toronto Argonaut team as an OLB in 2007. Fletcher, who played in more than 150 games during his pro career, was a team leader in tackles on two occasions and led the CFL in interceptions in 2001.

Fletcher earned his undergraduate degree in journalism from the University of Oregon in 1999. While at Oregon, Fletcher was a two-time All-Pac-10 performer as a defensive back and returner and was team captain in 1998-99.

SHAWN MENNENGA

Consultant/Special Teams

Shawn Mennenga is in first season as a consultant for Sun Devil Football's special teams units after serving as special teams coordinator for the Green Bay Packers for two seasons.

Prior to joining the Packers as special teams coordinator, Mennenga was the special teams coordinator for Vanderbilt. In 2018, he helped punter Parker Thome average 44.9 yards (No. 4 in the Southeastern Conference) on 51 punts with 14 traveling 50-plus yards and 19 landing inside the 20-yard line.

Mennenga spent seven seasons (2011-17) as the special teams assistant for the Cleveland Browns. During his tenure in Cleveland, he teamed with special teams coordinator Chris Tabor and helped numerous players set NFL and franchise records.

Punter Britton Colquitt set the Browns' net punting average record in consecutive seasons with 40.3 in 2016 and 40.6 in 2017. In 2015, kicker Travis Coons set an NFL record by making the first 18 field goals of his career. Cleveland was the only team in the NFL to earn at least one AFC Special Teams Player of the Week award each season from 2011-2016.

In 2009-10, Mennenga was the linebackers coach at South Dakota State. From 2005-08, he served as the defensive coordinator at Fort Hays (Kan.) State University.

Previously, Mennenga worked at Culver-Stockton (Mo.) College, where he was the defensive coordinator (2001) and then head coach (2002-04).

The former defensive back at the University of Missouri also held collegiate assistant positions at Hutchinson (Kan.) Community College (defensive coordinator, 1998-2000), Western Kentucky University (outside linebackers, 1997) and Southwest Baptist (Bolin, Mo.) University (1995-96, secondary; 1994, graduate assistant).

Mennenga earned his undergraduate degree from Missouri-Columbia and master's degree from Southwest Baptist.

AL LUGINBILL

Consultant/Player Personnel

Al Luginbill was joined Sun Devil Football's player personnel department on May 10, 2018. Luginbill brings experience not only as a former Arizona State defensive coordinator and assistant coach with two Fiesta Bowl Championships on his record, but for 12 years prior to rejoining ASU he owned and operated Fastak Enterprises, a company specializing in football player evaluation from the high school to the NFL level.

As part owner of Football Scouts Inc. from 2001 to 2006, Luginbill focused on NFL free agency and NFL draft prospects, developing a user friendly searchable database for both. He then implemented ESPN's high school recruiting website, also providing a user friendly database. ESPN purchased Football Scouts, Inc. in 2006, abbreviating the name to Scouts, Inc., which it continues to use to this day.

From 2006 until 2011, Luginbill was contracted by the Denver Broncos to evaluate NFL players for free agency and college players who had first, second, and third round grades. Also from 2008-2017, he worked with Under Armour and ESPN to implement the Under Armour All-America Football Game for high school seniors. His relationship with Under Armour was expanded to include all football-related events on the high school level, including camps, combines and other special events. Fastak Enterprises was involved in the creation of UC Report, a recruiting database that specializes in the evaluation of high school football prospects at the freshman and sophomore level.

Luginbill began his coaching career at Pasadena City College as a linebacker coach. He became an assistant coach at Arizona State under Frank Kush as the defensive back coach in 1972, helping ASU to a Fiesta Bowl win. After a return to Pasadena CC as head coach and a national championship in the Junior Rose Bowl, and a stint at the University of Wyoming, Luginbill returned to ASU in 1979, eventually becoming defensive coordinator. He helped lead the Sun Devils to another Fiesta Bowl victory. Among his recruiting successes at ASU were future NFL Hall of Fame members Mike Haynes and Randall McDaniel.

San Diego State named Luginbill as its head football coach in 1989, where he spent the next five years. He was named Western Athletic Conference Coach of the Year in 1991 after earning a berth in the Freedom Bowl. Among his standout recruits at SDSU were NFL Hall of Famer Marshall Faulk and six-time Pro Bowler La'Roi Glover. Keith Turley was a first-round draft pick and Darnay Scott and Will Blackwell were both selected in the second-round of the NFL Draft. Assistant coach Sean Payton went on to coach the New Orleans Saints, leading them to their first Super Bowl championship. Other former assistants under Luginbill's tutelage who went on to earn head coaching positions were Curtis Johnson at Tulane and Steve Fairchild at Colorado State.

In 1995, Luginbill was hired by the NFL as director of football operations and coach of the Amsterdam Admirals of the World League, later known as NFL Europe. Being responsible for all aspects of player evaluation, Luginbill had access to all 32 NFL player personnel departments. Draft preparation included evaluating young players that did not make NFL active rosters. Kurt Warner, Jake Delhomme, Jay Fiedler, Darren Bennett, Tom Nutter, Adam Vinatieri and Bobby Hamilton all became successful NFL starters after playing in this organization.

Following his success with the NFL Luginbill was hired by the XFL as director of football operations and head coach of the Los Angeles Xtreme, leading his team to the XFL Championship in 2001. Quarterback Tommy Maddox was MVP of the league and went on to become the NFL Comeback Player of the Year the following season.

Luginbill earned his bachelor's degree (business/history/physical education) from California State Polytechnic University and master's degree (higher education and administration) from USC. He and his wife, Sue, live in Chandler. They have grown twins, Tom and Kerry. Kerry, lives nearby with her family and Tom is a football analyst with ESPN and resides in the Charlotte, North Carolina, area with his wife Tennille and their son Quaid and daughter Keaton.

RYNE REZAC

Director of Player Personnel

Ryne Rezac enters his fourth season with Sun Devil Football, his second as director of player personnel after previously serving as the program's on-campus recruiting coordinator.

Rezac joined ASU from the University of Nevada where he was director of player personnel and recruiting under former Sun Devil Football assistant Jay Norvell beginning in January 2017. In his role, Rezac maintained Nevada's recruiting and operations budgets and coordinated all records and information for incoming recruits and current personnel.

Prior to arriving in Reno, Rezac was a part of the Sun Devil Football staff from 2014-16 in three different roles. He first served as a volunteer for recruiting, operations, defense and offense from 2014-15, assisting with charting games, day-to-day operations, film review, postgame analysis charts and breakdown of opponents' film.

Rezac became a management intern for recruiting and operations in 2016, assisting with social media, organizing summer camps and other aspects of recruiting.

From there, Rezac was promoted to his incoming role of On-Campus Recruiting Coordinator, which he held from 2016-17. He was in charge of planning all recruiting visits, social media, scouting video and reports for Sun Devil Football.

Rezac graduated from North Central College in Naperville, Illinois, with a double major in Sports Business and Management in 2014. As a football student-athlete at NCC, Rezac was a part of the winningest class in program history, earning a 44-7 record.

He is currently working toward a master's degree in Educational Leadership: High Education. While at North Central College, Rezac served on the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) and helped to create the Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) at NCC.

Rezac lives in Gilbert, Ariz. with his wife, Lucia, and her daughter Maile.

SHAY TAYLOR

On-Campus Recruiting Coord.

Shay Taylor enters her second season as the On-Campus Recruiting Coordinator for Sun Devil Football. In her role, Taylor plans and coordinates all football recruiting events and activities.

Most recently, Taylor served as team operations for several Arizona State University Olympic Sports. Before arriving at ASU, she worked in the same capacity at Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Texas.

Taylor spent six seasons with SMU Football. She was responsible for supporting the coaching staff, assisting in recruiting and operations, and maintaining the front office. As an undergrad, she was a student athletic trainer supporting football, basketball, and track. Taylor has also previously worked for the Ashford Rise School of Dallas, the YMCA of Metropolitan Dallas, and Fieldhouse USA in Frisco, Texas.

A St. Rose, La., native, Taylor attended Destrehan High School (Destrehan, La.) and is a two-time SMU graduate (B.A. in Cinema-Television and M.S. in Counseling).

GHALEE WADOOD

Director of Player Development

Ghalee Wadood, former San Jose State University director of player personnel at San Jose State, was appointed director of player development for Sun Devil Football in April 2021.

Prior to accepting the position at San Jose State, Wadood was the head football coach at Adelanto (Calif.) High School during the 2018 and 2019 seasons and the executive director of the M&D Learning Center in Victorville, Calif. In two seasons, his Saints teams compiled a 23-5 win-loss record and won the 2019 Desert Sky League championship.

Wadood has teaching and counseling experiences working for the Hesperia Unified School District of Los Angeles as a special education assistant from 2015 to 2017 and as a teacher and counselor at View Park Preparatory School in Los Angeles from 2004 to 2007.

The San Jose State University graduate majored in administration of justice. He was a defensive back on the 1996, 1997, and 1998 Spartan football teams after transferring to San Jose State from West Los Angeles College.

MATT SEILER

Director of Player Evaluations

Matt Seiler serves as director of player evaluations for Sun Devil Football.

Seiler was promoted to senior player personnel assistant in July 2019 after a two-year stint as a football recruiting graduate assistant in the Sun Devil football office. In his previous role Seiler oversaw all defensive evaluation and worked on a daily basis with the coaching staff to ensure the identification of top prospects in the country. Seiler arranged and coordinated logistical planning for official recruiting visits and developed recruiting trips for coaching staff based on player evaluation.

Seiler initially started working with Sun Devil Football as an operations and recruiting student manager. Seiler's other experiences in athletics include a spring training internship with the Cincinnati Reds and a digital broadcast/game presentation internship with the Green Bay Packers.

Seiler earned his undergraduate degree in Business Sports & Media Studies from ASU's W.P. Carey School of Business in 2017 and his Masters of Sports Law & Business from ASU's Sandra Day O'Connor School of Law in 2019.

ASU IN THE FINAL POLLS

Arizona State has been ranked nationally by at least one poll at season's end 20 times. The Sun Devils' highest ranking came in 1975 when they finished second nationally in both major polls (Associated Press-media, United Press International-coaches) behind national champion Oklahoma.

ASU's 10-1-1 team of 1986, which completed its Pac-10 title season by defeating Michigan 22-15 in the Rose Bowl, was ranked fourth and fifth nationally by AP and UPI, respectively. In 1996, ASU completed an undefeated (11-0) regular season before losing to Ohio State in the Rose Bowl, finishing ranked fourth in both major polls.

Here are ASU's final national rankings:

ASSISTANT COACHES

Mike Martz was an assistant football coach for Arizona State. From 1983 to 1987 he coached the quarterbacks and receivers, then became the offensive coordinator from 1988 to 1991. Martz would become offensive coordinator and the mastermind of the St. Louis Rams' Greatest Show on Turf. After helping St. Louis earn a Super Bowl victory in 1999, he would become head coach for the next five seasons and would again take the team on another Super Bowl trip.

Lovie Smith began coaching linebackers on the college level in 1983. He joined the Sun Devil coaching staff as an assistant coach from 1988 to 1991. Smith would go on to the pros and serve as head coach of the Chicago Bears from 2004 to 2012. In 2006, he would lead the Bears to a Super Bowl appearance against the Indianapolis Colts in Super Bowl XLII. He served as head coach of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers for two seasons before being named the head coach at the University of Illinois on March 7, 2016

Hue Jackson spent four years at Arizona State as an assistant coach. Jackson was ASU's running backs coach from 1992 to 1994, and then handled the Sun Devil quarterbacks in 1995. Jackson has coached on multiple NFL teams that include the Washington Redskins, Atlanta Falcons, Baltimore Ravens, Oakland Raiders and Cincinnati Bengals. He has twice been a head coach in the NFL, leading the Raiders during the 2011-12 season while in charge of the Cleveland Browns from 2016-18.

The current Sun Devil coaching staff under former NFL Head Coach Herm Edwards is littered with NFL connections. Special Advisor to Sun Devil Football Marvin Lewis has coached over 25 years in the NFL, winning Super Bowl XXXV as the defensive coordinator of the Baltimore Ravens. He also enjoyed a 16-season stint as head coach of the Cincinnati Bengals. Associate Head Coach and Special Teams Coordinator Shawn Slocum won Super Bowl XLV as a part of the Green Bay Packers coaching staff. Former New York Giants linebacker and Super Bowl XLII Champion Antonio Pierce is the Sun Devil's Defensive Coordinator, Associate Head Coach and Recruiting Coordinator.

NFL DRAFT AND SIGNINGS

TOP PICKS

Arizona State football student-athletes have enjoyed tremendous success in the first round of the annual NFL draft. In 2019, wide receiver N'Keal Harry became the 27th Sun Devil to be taken in the first round of the AFL or NFL draft. Arizona State was one of just three schools in the nation to have a first-round draft pick from 2000-03 (Miami and Florida). ASU's 27 first-round picks in the NFL draft are tied for third-most among all Pac-12 teams, behind only USC (81) and UCLA (36). Here is a complete listing of Arizona State's first round draft selections in the order by which they were picked:
