RANKED FOES AWAIT DEVILS OUT EAST

TEMPE – After scoring win No. 500 this past weekend, Sheila McInerney and No. 22 Arizona State (5-1, 0-0 Pac-12) travel to Lexington, Kentucky, and Columbus, Ohio, to put their four-match win-streak on the line against two ranked opponents this weekend.

While the Devils and Buckeyes are familiar with one another, having met three times in the past three seasons, the matchup with the Wildcats will be a first for ASU.

ASU comes into the weekend having won four straight and five of its last six with its only loss on the season coming on the road against No. 13 Oklahoma State, 4-3.

Although the loss to the Cowgirls is the Devils' lone blemish this season, perfection is common on McInerney's squad as two doubles tandems and Sasa Klanecek are still undefeated in dual-match play this season.

Playing on court six in every match this season, Klanecek has racked up a 6-0 record and hasn't dropped a set in a win since the fall. She opened her spring campaign with two straight defeats, but has since been on a tear.

In doubles play, McInerney switched things up a bit in the Devils' last outing, but the results were still the same as they took the doubles point for the sixth-straight match.

Iize Hattingh and Lauryn John Baptiste are 6-0, and Nicole Fossa Huergo/Klanecek are 5-0. Klanecek was paired with Savannah Slaysman against Santa Clara and the new duo still came away with the win on court three, bringing Klanecek's doubles record in match play to 6-0.

No. 107 Slaysman has righted the ship after a slow start to her sophomore campaign and now has the second-best record on the team at 5-1.

Both opponents will be tough matchups for the six-woman Devils, but wins this weekend would put them at 7-1 with three ranked victories heading into the last weekend before conference play opens.

The Devils and Wildcats take to the court Friday at 10 a.m. MST, ASU's matchup with Ohio State gets started Sunday at 10 a.m.

The last time the Buckeyes and Devils met, ASU fell 4-0 at the Whiteman Tennis Center. It was the second of two-straight losses for ASU and the first two-match slide since 2016.

TEAM NOTES

RANKINGS UPDATE

This weekend's rankings marked the first computerized update of the season, brushing aside the previous coaches rankings and causing a huge shift in the top-25.

While the ITA/Oracle rankings now include 50 teams, the Sun Devils were barely affected by the switch to a points-based system as they debuted at No. 22, just two spots below where they were in last week's coaches poll.

With the spring season kicking into gear and team schedules evening out, the singles and doubles rankings also saw some changes, including a rise in rank for Savannah Slaysman.

Slaysman jumped to 107 in the latest update with the help of her three-match win-streak and 5-1 record overall.

The new court one occupant, Lauryn John-Baptiste came in at No. 84 on the list. She has three wins over ranked opponents in 2018 and will likely face two more this weekend in Lexington and Columbus.

The Sun Devils' highest-achieving doubles duo fell out of the rankings, but the team of John-Baptiste/Hattingh is still undefeated on court two this season.

Slaysman/Kolarova comes in at No. 27, but with McInerney switching up the lineups last weekend, it's been more than two weeks since the pairing has hit the court together.

Among the Pac-12, ASU is the third-highest ranked team behind No. 9 UCLA and 17 Oregon. Defending conference champion Stanford sits at No. 36, in part because of their lack of matches played, and Washington (32) and Cal (48) are the other Pac-12 representatives in the top-50.

DOUBLES DOMINANCE

Arizona State's fall campaign saw the Devils put on a show in doubles, upending some of the best tandems in the nation en route to a 17-6 record.

So far this spring, the Sun Devils have continued the trend and have been dominant in doubles play, winning the point in all six of their dual matches in 2018 and compiling a team doubles record of 13-4, with one team sitting at 6-0 and another at 5-0.

Ilze Hattingh and Lauryn John-Baptiste have been on a tear on court two, racking up seven-straight wins, and all six in each of their dual match appearances as a duo.

Ahead of them on court one, Kolarova/Slaysman had a tough start to the season but are still the 27th-ranked tandem in the nation, and on court three, Sasa Klanecek and senior Nicole Fossa Huergo have been just as good as Hattingh/John-Baptiste as they have also gone 5-0 in dual match play this season.

In the match against Santa Clara, Slaysman and Klanecek played together and won on court three, and Fossa Huergo/Kolarova had their match suspended because the Devils had already clinched the doubles point with wins on courts three and two.

GET TO KNOW THE WILDCATS

Quarterfinalists a year ago in the SEC Championships, the Kentucky Wildcats came into 2018 with high expectations and have lived up to them so far, boasting a 6-2 record and sitting at No. 20 in the nation.

Coach Carlos Drada led the 2017 squad to the second round of the NCAA tournament and wrapped up the campaign with the team's highest ranking since 2006.

The Wildcats have two ranked players in singles in No. 50 Akvile Parazinskaite and No. 117 Justina Mikulskyte, both juniors from Lithuania.

Mami Adachi and Emily Fanning are UK's highest ranked doubles duo, coming in at No. 42.

GET TO KNOW THE BUCKEYES

Coach Melissa Schaub's Buckeyes have become powerhouses in collegiate tennis in recent years, making runs to the quarterfinals and semifinals of the NCAA Tournament, and winning back-to-back Big Ten Tournament titles in the past two seasons.

Their 3-1 record has wins over two ranked opponents, including No. 15 Kansas and ASU's first opponent of the weekend Kentucky. The Buckeyes' lone loss this season came at the hands of No. 10 Wake Forest.

The 64th and 72nd ranked women in the NCAA play for the Buckeyes in Shiori Fukuda and Olivia Sneed. Sneed defeated Sun Devil sophomore Savannah Slaysman back in the fall.

In doubles play, three Ohio State duos earn rankings, however, all of them contain two of the same women in Anna Sanford and Fukuda.

Fukuda/Sanford are the No. 15 tandem, Fukuda/Tyrina are No. 44 and Sneed/Sanford come in at No. 50.

In the past 33 years, Sheila McInerney has seen a vast amount of change at Arizona State, from new athletic directors, new head coaches, schools added to the conference, and numerous renovations to athletic facilities. Through the countless changes across Arizona State, McInerney has continued to lead the women's tennis program in a successful direction heading into her 33rd season.

In Arizona State's history, no coach has the number of accolades that Sheila McInerney has accumulated during her 33-year tenure as a Sun Devil. Since her first season as head coach in 1985, Sun Devil women's tennis has won 495 matches, advanced to 31 of 32 NCAA Tournaments, including 29 straight, and has finished each season in the top 38 nationally. That's the second most wins by any Arizona State coach in school history. In the 2016 season, McInerney was named the Southwest Region Coach of the Year by the ITA, as well as the Pac-12 Coach of the Year. She also was awarded the 2016 ITA Meritorious Service Award, which is given to an ITA coach who has gone "above and beyond" in their commitment and contributions to the ITA and college tennis in general.

In recent years, Arizona State's tennis program has continued to thrive on and off the court. On the court, the Sun Devils have 86 wins against ranked opponents since 2008. Leading the way for the tennis program have been 45 All-Americans and 41 All-Pac-12 student-athletes. Of these integral players in Arizona State's history, there have been 40 players ranked in the Top 50 of the singles season-end ranking and 21 in the Top 25 of the doubles season-end ranking.

In the classroom, McInerney has recruited bright student-athletes. She has had four Academic All-Americans, 45 ITA Scholar-Athletes (since 2002), and 80 Academic All-Pac 12 student-athletes (since 1991). Of those 45 ITA Scholar-Athletes, four were named in 2015 – Alexandra Osborne, Aubria Solares, Gussie O'Sullivan and Kassidy Jump. Her players have had majors such as Bioscience, Business Management, Criminal Justice and Criminology, English, Journalism, Kinesiology, Marketing, Political Science, and Sociology.

McInerney has also been fundamental in helping players' development to reach high achievements in the NCAA. Among the achievements include Jacqueline Cako named Arizona State Female Athlete of the Year (2013), Michelle Brycki awarded Cissie Leary ITA National Sportsmanship Award (2012), Kelcy McKenna selected as the Pac-12 Post-Graduate Scholar (2011), four singles and four doubles All-Americans since 2009, 14 players ranked in the singles season-end ranking and seven doubles teams ranked in the doubles season-end ranking since 2009.

Prior to coming to Arizona State, McInerney served as assistant women's tennis coach at the University of Southern California during the 1983-84 season, in which the Trojans were NCAA finalists. In addition to her success as a collegiate coach, McInerney has traveled with various USTA junior and national teams. At the 1986 Goodwill Games, McInerney coached the team to gold and silver medals. In 1987, she led the U.S. Pan American Games doubles squad to a gold medal.

McInerney attended USC, where she captained the Trojans during her senior season. The four-time All-American also was a four-time Trojan Spirit Award winner, as voted by her teammates. The Trojans won three national championships during McInerney's collegiate career, and she was the national collegiate doubles runner-up three times and a singles semifinalist in 1977. McInerney collected a half-dozen USTA national titles and was a member of the 1977-80 USTA Junior Federation Cup team. As a professional, she played on the major international tour, earning a world ranking in the top 75. McInerney competed at three grand slam venues -- Wimbledon, French Open and the U.S. Open where she reached the round of 32. She also served a short term as assistant pro at the highly acclaimed L.A. Tennis Club.

McInerney earned a bachelor's degree in public relations from the University of Southern California in 1980. A member of the Dean's List at USC, she won the USC Postgraduate Scholarship Award, the USC Junior Student-Athlete and Senior Student-Athlete awards.

Matt Langley

Head coach Sheila McInerney announced in 2015 that Matt Langley would join the program as an assistant coach and in 2017, Langley was named associate head coach.

Langley joined the Sun Devils from Middle Tennessee State University, his alma mater, where he most recently served as assistant coach for its women's tennis program. At MTSU, Langley helped coach the Blue Raiders to one of their best seasons in program history, recording a 19-5 overall record, 7-1 in Conference USA competition.

A member of the MTSU men's tennis team from 2009-12, Langley was a two-year co-captain and three-time Sun Belt Conference Champion, earning two Most Outstanding Player honors at the Sun Belt Conference Championships. Langley also recorded three career appearances at the NCAA Championships.

Langley graduated from MTSU with a degree in exercise science, and was a two-time Academic All-American and ITA Scholar-Athlete.

Ebony Panoho is a graduate student assistant for the Sun Devil women's tennis program and former Sun Devil tennis standout. The Brisbane, Australia native won the Pac-12 doubles championship in her senior season with teammate Alexandra Osborne to give ASU its first conference doubles title. She once partnered with 2003 U.S. Open champion Andy Roddick for a mixed doubles exhibition match.

Alexandra Osborne recently graduated from Arizona State after an illustrious career on the court for the Sun Devils. Along with claiming ASU's first ever conference doubles title, Osborne earned the Bill Kajikawa Female Athlete of the Year Award during her senior season, and earned the honor of ITA scholar athlete in 2016 as a junior. She is a native of Sydney, Australia.

Lindy Kyger is the Sun Devils' athletic trainer. She joined ASU this past fall after graduating from the University of South Carolina with a degree in athletic training in 2017. Kryger was born in Pennsylvania, grew up in Massachusetts. She will graduate in 2019 with a master's in higher and post secondary education.
