Washington heads to Arizona State after Evanni Roberson earned the first perfect 10 on beam in program history and the team earned their fourth-straight conference win against Arizona. Roberson recorded four individual titles, two career-highs in beam and all around, and the first perfect 10 since 2004 for the GymDawgs. Washington secured a season-high beam score of 49.475 thanks to career-high beam scores from Roberson, Hannah Vandenkolk, and Michaela Nelson. The team score of 196.600 marked the third-best score of the season.

Event Previews

Vault – Geneva Thompson took home her second-straight individual title on vault against Arizona, logging a career-high 9.925.

Evanni Roberson finished in second for the GymDawgs during the first rotation with a 9.850. She finished above 9.850 on every other event, helping her to a career-high all around score of 39.650.

Brenna Brooks took the third-best GymDawgs score with a 9.825, a career-high for the sophomore.

Kristyn Hoffa, Amara Cunningham, and Madison Copiak were also in the lineup for the GymDawgs, helping the team to a score of 49.150, Washington's second-highest vault score of the season.

Bars – Roberson grabbed her first individual title of the night on bars with a 9.875, her second-highest bars score of the season.

Michaela Nelson earned a 9.850 on bars, a season-high mark for the senior and the second-highest GymDawg score.

Geneva Thompson took home a 9.775, the third-highest GymDawg score.

Maya Washington, Madison Copiak, and Brenna Brooks were in the lineup for the GymDawgs as well, helping the team earn a 48.575.

Beam – Roberson led the way for the GymDawgs with a historic performance on beam, earning the first perfect 10 on beam in program history while setting a career-high and taking the individual event win. This marked the first perfect 10 under the direction of head coach Elise Ray-Statz and the first perfect 10 since 2004 for UW gymnastics.

Copiak finished second overall on beam with a 9.925, a season-high mark that matched her career-high score.

► COMING UP

#13 WASHINGTON VS. ARIZONA STATE

WHEN: SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 23

WHERE: TEMPE, ARIZONA

TV: PAC-12 NETWORKS

Hannah Vandenkolk earned her fourth career-high of the season with a 9.900, the third-highest GymDawg score and the third-highest score in the meet.

Nelson took home a career-high 9.875 in her first competitive beam routine of the season.

Maya Washington and Brenna Brooks were in the lineup for the GymDawgs as well, helping the team to a season-high of 49.475 and the highest beam score of the last two seasons for Washington.

Floor – Roberson led the GymDawgs on floor as well, taking home her third individual title with a 9.925 and solidifying her fourth title in the all around. This score on floor matched her career and season-high mark.

Hoffa earned a 9.900, the second-highest score for the GymDawgs during the rotation, making it four straight meets where she has finished at or above 9.900 on floor.

Cunningham chipped in a 9.875, the third-highest floor score of the meet.

Brooks and Washington each added a 9.850, a career-high mark for Brooks.

Thompson was also in the lineup for the GymDawgs, helping the team earn a 49.400, the third-highest floor score of the season.

Newcomers – Washington welcomes three newcomers to the team this season: Freshmen Isa Weiss, Morgan Bowles, and transfer Allie Smith. Smith has worked her way into the GymDawgs vault lineup while Weiss and Bowles look forward to making their debuts for Washington.

Head Coach

Elise Ray-Statz Head Coach | 4th Season

Elise Ray-Statz enters her fourth season as head coach looking to make NCAA Nationals for the third time in four seasons. She has already brought the GymDawgs to Nationals in two of her three years as head coach, just the second time in school history that the team has made back-to-back Nationals.

In her first year leading the program, Ray-Statz led Washington to an eighth-place finish at Nationals, just barely missing out on Super Six. Ray-Statz was named the Pac-12 Conference's Coach of the Year for her work with the GymDawgs. Last year, the GymDawgs finished the regular season ranked eighth in the country, its highest regular-season finish ever en route to another Nationals appearance.

"I have loved Washington from the day I first interviewed for the assistant job five years ago. There is something extremely special about the people and culture here on Montlake," said Ray-Statz about the program she now leads.

Ray-Statz, who was elevated to associate head coach prior to the 2015-16 season, has been influential in the growth of the UW Gymnastics program, both on and off the mat. While on staff, the Dawgs advanced to the NCAA Regional meet every year and sent three individuals to the NCAA Championships as well as 2017's team trip to Nationals.

Most recently, Ray-Statz coached Joslyn Goings to an All-American honor on beam, the third All-American Ray-Statz has coached in her three seasons. She helped the GymDawgs earn four All-Pac-12 awards in 2018 to go along with seven All-Academic honors.

"Elise has experienced success at every level of gymnastics competition, and embodies so many of the things we stand for as a University, and an athletic department. It's hard to imagine someone better positioned to inspire our team to achieve greatness in every area of their lives than Elise," said Director of Athletics Jennifer Cohen.

Ray-Statz has also played a key role in landing high-profile recruits for the Huskies including the class of 2016 which features the 2016 Junior Olympics National Bar Champion in Evanni Roberson and Madison Copiak, who is currently competing for a chance to represent Canada at the 2016 Summer Olympics. 2017's recruiting class was just as impressive, featuring Hannah Willmarth, who finished in the top three on bars and floor at the state championships, and Geneva Thompson, who swept the 2017 Region 2 Championships.

As an acclaimed gymnast herself, Ray-Statz was an Olympic bronze medalist for team USA at the 2000 Sydney Olympics and also competed at the 1999 World Championships in Tianjin, China.

In 2000, Ray-Statz won both the U.S. National Championships and the Olympic Trials. She was the only American to qualify for an event final in the Olympics. After the Olympics, Ray-Statz competed under former Washington Head Coach Joanne Bowers at the University of Michigan, majoring in English. She led her team to the NCAA Super Six finals and was a three-time NCAA National Champion on the bars (2004), the beam (2002) and tied for the all-around title in 2001.

Ray-Statz graduated from Michigan with the most All-American honors in program history with 14 and was inducted into Michigan's Hall of Fame in October of 2015.

She was born in Tallahassee, Florida, but grew up in Maryland where she attended high school and last lived. Ray-Statz trained at Hill's Gymnastics in Maryland, under Kelli Hill.

After graduating, she performed in Las Vegas for Cirque de Soleil's O and LOVE. Occasionally she would work as a color commentator for the Big 10 Network during broadcasts of women's gymnastics meets. On Aug. 19, 2012, Ray was inducted into the USA Gymnastics Hall of Fame.

Assistant Coach

Ralph Rosso

Assistant Coach | 3rd Season

Ralph Rosso joined the Washington gymnastics coaching staff in June of 2017. Before UW, Rosso was an assistant at George Washington University. He is in his second stint in the Pac-12 Conference, having spent the previous two seasons at Arizona State, as an assistant coach and interim head coach.

In his first year with the GymDawgs, Rosso helped the team win four bars event titles, including a 9.950 score from Monica Riley that was the highest by a GymDawg all last season. Washington put up a bars team score over 49.000 in each of the last 12 meets and, in March, had a score of 49.375, its highest bars score since 2011.

In 2017 at GW, Rosso helped the Colonials to the East Atlantic Gymnastics League championship and a berth in the NCAA Regionals, where a GW gymnast won the program's first-ever NCAA Regional individual title, on the vault. Two individuals earned individual berths to nationals, the most ever at GW. A total of eight gymnasts earned All-EAGL honors.

At Arizona State, Rosso aided in the development of nine Academic All-Pac-12 gymnasts, three All-Pac-12 selections and five NCAA qualifiers, including an individual regional champion.

He spent the 2013-14 season as an assistant at Western Michigan, after having spent two seasons at Arkansas, serving as team manager while working on a master's degree. In his two seasons with the Razorbacks, the team finished 10th and sixth in the nation.

A standout gymnast at the University of Michigan, Rosso lettered from 2006-09, helping the Wolverines to the Big Ten title as a senior. He competed at NCAA Championships all four years and finished ninth on still rings in 2007. He also made it to the Big Ten finals on pommel horse and rings in 2007, and to two more finals in 2009, on rings and floor.

Following his collegiate career, he helped coach the Michigan men's gymnastics team as a volunteer assistant in 2010, when the Wolverines won the NCAA Championship. Rosso is also a two-time member of the U.S. Junior National Team. He graduated from the University of Michigan in 2009.

Assistant Coach

Chad Wiest

Assistant Coach | 4th Season

Wiest enters his third season with the GymDawgs having helped the team to a number of successes, including multiple NCAA Nationals trips. Last season, Wiest helped Washington win seven vault event titles and ten floor titles, including the NCAA Regionals championship on floor.

In his first year with the GymDawgs, Wiest helped Washington reach the NCAA Championships, where they finished eighth. That was the second-highest finish ever by the Huskies as the NCAAs and highest since 1998. The second-place finish at the Regional Championships in 2017 was also the highest finish by the Huskies since 1998. Wiest also helped four Huskies make the All-Pac-12 team, with Joslyn Goings making the First Team and Hailey Burleson, Kaitlyn Duranczyk, and Alexandra Yacalis making the Second Team.

Wiest joined the Huskies following three years as an assistant at the University of Illinois where he was focused on coaching the vault and floor lineups. Most recently, Wiest helped freshman Lizzy LeDuc advance to the NCAA Championships after she claimed the floor title at the Salt Lake City Regional with her career-high score of 9.950, which also ranked third in Illinois history. During his time at Illinois, he helped coach vault and floor lineups that ranked in the top 30 nationally along with posting some of the best marks in program history. The Illini's 49.400 performance at the 2015 Big Ten Championships was the second-best vault score at Illinois.

"I want to thank head coach Elise Ray, Senior Associate Athletic Director, Stephanie Rempe, and Athletic Director, Jennifer Cohen, for the opportunity to join the University of Washington staff," said Wiest. "I am beyond grateful and ecstatic to be entering this program at such an exciting time. As a new era of the program begins, I have full confidence in Elise as a leader and the coaching staff's abilities to take this team to the next level."

Wiest, graduated from Illinois in 2011 with a Recreation, Sport and Tourism degree and then headed to Bowling Green where he spent two seasons as the vault and floor exercise coach at Bowling Green prior to joining Illinois in 2013. At Illinois, Wiest was a two-time All-American on floor (2007, 2010), finishing in third place at the NCAA Championships both times. In 2011, the Butler, Pa. native was First-Team All-Big Ten and the floor Big Ten Champion. In addition, Wiest was Academic All-Big Ten in his final two seasons. Wiest will reside in Seattle with his wife Jaclyn. They have two children.

Madison Copiak

Senior • Calgary, Alberta

ABOUT Madison...

What is your spirit animal? Definitely a sloth: because I'm not the fastest-twitch gymnast and always finished my assignments last in club gymnastics.

If you could play any sport other than gymnastics, what would it be? If I could pick any other sport other than gymnastics, it would be rowing.

Which emoji best describes you? This one's hard, I would say maybe the one with no mouth...just because I'm a pretty quiet and reserved person!

2020 (Senior)

Matched her career-high 9.925 on beam against Arizona...Had a score of 9.875 on bars at Michigan, good for the individual title... Won the individual title on bars against California, setting a season-high of 9.925... Took home the individual title on bars at Stanford with a 9.900.

Freshman • Palmer, Alaska

ABOUT Isa...

Pre-meet routine/superstitions: I meditate and listen to the soundtrack of a motivational video in the morning before any meet.

Hobbies: I love traveling and enjoy spending time outside hiking and backpacking.

Favorite movies: About Time

Favorite song of all-time: My favorite song changes on the daily. I usually end up finding a new one I love and listening to it over and over until I can't bear hearing it one more time. After a while, when I decide to put the song back on, I fall in love with it all over again.

Greatest gymnastics memory: One of my greatest gymnastics memories was catching my first jaeger. We got it on video - I make this crazy, surprised face and my teammates erupt in cheers.

Previous Competition

Had the highest vault score at 2019 Nadia Comaneci Invitational... Took first on vault and bars at the 2018 Alaska State Meet... Won all-around and vault at the 2018 Brestyan's Las Vegas Invitational
