Men's Tennis Heads to Texas Friday, Back Home on Sunday

COLLEGE STATION/TEMPE – After a bye week, Sun Devils men's tennis is back in action this weekend with two matches against Texas A&M and No. 41 San Diego.

ASU (3-4) takes on the Aggies tentatively at 5 p.m. MST on Friday, but first serve could change due to impending rain in the forecast in College Station. If rain becomes a factor, the Sun Devils could potentially make the trip up to Waco to play at Baylor's indoor facility with an 8 p.m. MST first serve.

"The weather doesn't affect us all that much, but I'm confident we will adjust because we are a good indoor team," coach Matt Hill said. "If anything, it takes us off of A&M courts where they're comfortable and I like that."

The squad has gone on a solid streak as of late, winning three of their last four matchups. The effort has been due to contributions from the top of the lineup all the way to the bottom.

"We have a lot of guys that are starting to play better tennis which is a great sign for us," Hill said. "We want to feel really good about the six players going out there and competing and we're definitely getting a lot stronger as the weeks go on."

Spearheading the great play has been Justin Roberts and Andrea Bolla, two players Hill has highly praised so far this year.

Bolla has won three of his last five matches dating back to the fall including notching two wins over ranked opponents. The Italian has bounced between courts two and three for the Sun Devils and looks to continue his hot streak heading into this weekend.

"I've been really impressed with the way Andrea has been playing," Hill said. "We're really excited about his progress because he's been playing the best tennis we've ever seen him play."

Roberts made his season debut in the rankings at No. 97, the first time the first-year transfer has earned a spot on the rankings in his career. Tim Ruehl/Andrea Bolla jumped up four spots to No. 22 and Nathan Ponwith/Dominik Kellovsky dropped to No. 51 as doubles pairs. Roberts' ranking comes after defeating the No. 12-ranked player in the nation against Ohio State, a feat Hill didn't take lightly.

"Rankings are a result of the work you put in and Justin's been putting in a ton of work," Hill said. "He's been putting in a lot of work over the past couple months and he's been progressing really well."

This year's A&M squad sits in a completely different spot than the Aggie squad the Sun Devils faced last year, holding a 3-3 record and going unranked in the latest Oracle/ITA rankings. A&M dropped matchups with No. 16 Virginia, No. 13 Notre Dame and Texas Tech while notching wins over Abilene Christian, UTRGV and Western Michigan.

Last season, the Aggies rolled into Tempe at the No. 7 spot by the ITA, ending 2018 with a 26-6 record and an NCAA Tournament berth. A&M reached the semifinals of the team tournament before bowing out against the eventual national champion, No. 1 Wake Forest.

"They graduated a couple guys and one went pro, so they don't have the same kids," Hill said. "But they did a good job of recruiting, so they have a lot of good depth. They just aren't as seasoned as they were last year."

The Sun Devils play their second of just five home matches on Sunday, welcoming the Toreros to the Whiteman Tennis Center at 2 p.m. ASU dropped the doubles point in last year's match, but was able to take three singles victories to pull the score to 3-3. Benjamin Hannestad came through, taking his match on court three in straight sets to secure the win for the Sun Devils.

This season the Toreros sit at 5-2 and also notched their first ranking this season in the Feb. 20 poll at No. 41. San Diego hasn't beat a ranked opponent yet this season but has faced two Pac-12 foes in No. 7 UCLA – a match they dropped 4-1 – and Oregon, a match they dropped 4-3.

"They have a lot of the same team that they had last year, and they're also a really good team with really good coaching," Hill said. "They've got another year under their belt just like we do and it's going to be a really good match for our fans here on Sunday."

Team Notes

Rankings Are Here, Rankings Are Here!

The latest rankings for doubles are out and No. 26 Andrea Bolla and Tim Ruehl supplied their name to the Oracle/ITA top 60 list. The tandem started the 2019 season ranked No. 22 and maintained their names on the list in the first regular season ranking.

The duo of Nathan Ponwith and Dominik Kellovsky also found themselves on the list this time around at No. 36. The tandem played a crucial role in securing the doubles point against No. 1 Wake Forest, as the first point came down to their match. They secured the victory, were left unfinished against No. 20 Oklahoma State but returned against Pepperdine to notch another win.

Ponwith was also recognized as No. 65 by the ITA as a singles player. Ponwith put up impressive wins in the Tempe Collegiate Cup including No. 67 Niclas Braun of Mississippi State and a straight-set win over No. 69 Eduardo Roldan of TCU.

Double the Trouble

The Sun Devils have shown major improvement in doubles play in just one season's time, securing the first point in six of the first seven matches so far. The squad did not notch six doubles points until 15 games into last season.

Transfers Justin Roberts and Dominik Kellovsky have played large roles in upping the Sun Devils' game, as Roberts and his doubles partner, Makey Rakotomalala lead ASU in wins with four, while the relatively new pair of Kellovsky and Nathan Ponwith are 2-0 so far this season.

No. 26 Tim Ruehl and Andrea Bolla have also dominated the doubles game dating back to the fall season, going 4-2 overall while also battled to the quarterfinals of the ITA Fall National Championship in Surprise, Ariz.

Pac-12 Player of the Week

Tim Ruehl was recognized for his performance in the Sun Devils' matchups against Duke and No. 1 Wake Forest, a weekend in which he went a perfect 2-0 in singles play and 1-1 in doubles play.

Ruehl takes the first such accolade of the season, marking the first on the year for the Sun Devils and the seventh in program history. Combined with Michaël Geerts' two Player of the Week honors last year, ASU has three PotW awards since reinstatement in 2017, nearly doubling their four they totaled before being discontinued as a sport in 2008.

The German notched his first career win over a ranked opponent, defeated No. 80 Rrezart Cungu of Wake Forest 2-6, 6-2, 6-2 on Saturday. His win in tandem with Andrea Bolla – together they are ranked the No. 22 doubles pair in the nation – was against Duke to the tune of a 6-1 victory.

R&R

Makey Rakotomalala and Justin Roberts are clicking on all cylinders as a doubles pair. The tandem are 3-0 this season in doubles play, taking down pairs from Duke and Wake Forest with relative ease on court two.

Rakotomalala/Roberts easily slid past a tandem from No. 20 Oklahoma State this weekend to put the Sun Devils in prime position to clinch their third straight doubles point.

Bring It On

ASU continues the new year with one of the toughest non-conference schedules in the nation in their second season, and that is something second-year mentor Matt Hill plans on making a tradition.

The Sun Devils open the year against some of the top competition in college tennis, as three ranked opponents came to compete in the Tempe Collegiate Classic with matchups including No. 14 TCU, No. 16 Illinois and No. 3 Mississippi State.

SUN DEVIL MEN'S TENNIS

As the season continues ASU faces four of the current top five opponents, including eight-time Big Ten champion No. 2 Ohio State for the second year in a row. Following matchups line up with powerhouses like No. 9 Texas A&M and No. 11 Baylor, as non-conference action wraps up when the Devils head to Fort Worth to face No. 14 TCU.

Mr. Worldwide(s)

With just one Devil from the United States, the men's tennis team is one of the most diverse teams within ASU Athletics. Every single Devil represents a different nation, as the nine men hail from nine different countries across the world: Italy, Czech Republic, Denmark, Bahamas, the Dominican Republic, France, Germany, the U.S. and Great Britain.

Up Hill Battle

Coach Matt Hill is no stranger to adversity. Upon taking the helm at South Florida in 2012, the Bulls hadn't been to the NCAA Division I Championship since 2009. Hill's team finished 8-14 in his first season, but the tide quickly changed under his mentorship, as they compiled a 12-10 record the following year and then found themselves in the Championship for the first time in five years the next season. The team made it to the second round and were eliminated by Florida, but Hill's team made the tournament the next two years as well, finishing as high as the Sweet 16 in 2015.

USF were back-to-back-to-back AAC Champions in Hill's final three years in Tampa, compiling a 82-47 record. He was a three-time American Conference Coach of the Year and mentored a three-time American Athletic Conference Player of the Year in Roberto Cid.

New Kids on the Block

Entering the 2019 season, Sun Devil men's tennis welcomes three highly sought after transfers to the new season, as they look to add veteran leadership and depth to the roster. Scottsdale native Nathan Ponwith returns back home after a two-year stint at the University of Georgia. During his time with the Dawgs, Ponwith earned 2017 SEC Freshman of the Year and First-Team All-SEC honors as Georgia's court one. In addition, Ponwith amassed an SEC record for most Freshman of the week honors in a single season with five to round out his sensational freshman campaign.

Another key newcomer that will compete in a major role for the Devils is Dominik Kellovsky from his home country of the Czech Republic. In his time overseas, he completed a large part of his time in the Pro Circuit accumulating a 70-97 record in singles and 110-80 record in doubles.

Graduate Student Justin Roberts returns back under head coach Matt Hill after completing two seasons with him at the University of South Florida. As a junior, Roberts was instrumental in clinching USF's fourth straight conference title when he defeated Danny Kerznerman of UCF. On top of that, Roberts added an American Athletic Conference Player of the Week honors to his resume after an upset win over No. 16 Mississippi State.

#StayTrueToASU

Scottsdale native Nathan Ponwith turned heads in his his weekend competing as a Sun Devil, taking down two ranked opponents en route to an undefeated weekend at the Tempe Collegiate Classic. He started the weekend with a win in straight sets over #69 Eduardo Roldan, and finished with a back-and-forth victory over #67 Niclas Braun.

Heading into the regular season, Ponwith, along with doubles partner Dominik Kellovsky, played a crucial role in securing the doubles point over No. 1 Wake Forest. Ponwith and Kellovsky teamed up to defeat a Demon Deacon tandem, 7-5, to clinch the point for ASU. This huge win was just two weeks after they took down #36 Nuno Borges/Strahinja Rakic of Mississippi State, 7-5. Ponwith notched his first regular-season win in come-from-behind fashion against Pepperdine, taking down Enrique Luque Rico 6-7 (7), 6-1, 7-5 after being down multiple times in the first and last sets.

Before arriving at ASU, Hill spent the previous four seasons as the head coach of the University of South Florida, leading the Bulls to three consecutive AAC team championships and a No. 17 final ranking among Division I programs this past season. USF advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the third straight season in 2016 after qualifying just twice in 10 previous campaigns prior to Hill's arrival.

Prior to his time at South Florida, Hill had two successful stops at a pair of nationally ranked SEC programs in Mississippi State and Alabama. Hill will be the Sun Devil program's first head coach since Lou Belken led the program from 1983 through 2008.

The 2016 Bulls reached a program-best ranking of No. 13 in the nation before finishing in the Top 20 at No. 17. Hill coached two-time All-American Roberto Cid to a ranking of No. 2 in the nation, the best ranking of any tennis player, men's or women's, in program history. USF also played one of the toughest schedules, notching 16 wins over ranked opponents and playing just four matches against unranked foes.

In 2015, Hill guided the Bulls to their best finish as USF advanced to the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA tournament after winning their second-straight conference championship while Oliver Pramming earned Most Outstanding Player honors.

The Bulls won the inaugural American Athletic Conference tournament in 2014 and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. Hill coached Cid to the first-ever All-America honor in USF history as he made an impressive run in the NCAA singles tournament.

Season By Season

2019	3-4
2018	14-11
2017	N/A
2016	21-9
2015	22-7
2014	19-7
2013	12-10
2012	8-14
Career	99-62 (.615)

An accomplished recruiter, Hill took over the USF program and immediately brought in five players in his first recruiting class that were either ranked among the top 100 juniors in the world or had already earned professional ATP points. His 2013 and 2016 recruiting classes were both ranked in the top 10 in the nation.

Additionally, Hill oversaw the start of a capital fundraising campaign geared toward a $3 million renovation of the tennis facility and personally helped secure over half a million dollars toward that goal.

During Hill's five years as an assistant coach at Mississippi State, he helped the Bulldogs improve from a No. 58 ranking in 2008 and a No. 72 ranking in 2009 to top 20 finishes in his final two seasons, including a No. 11 final ranking in 2012 – the program's best finish since 1998. The Bulldogs posted the program's best record (20-7) since that same 1998 squad went 21-5.

MSU earned a No. 20 final ranking in 2011 after producing a 14-9 record, while winning the SEC Western Division title with an 8-3 mark. Hill was instrumental in helping five Bulldogs to All-SEC honors, while supporting Per Nilsson to SEC Coach of the Year honors. He was recognized for his efforts by being named ITA Southern Region Assistant Coach of the Year and SEC Assistant Coach of the Year.

Hill's recruiting prowess shined with the Bulldogs as he served as the team's recruiting coordinator, bringing in seven players that were either ranked in the top 100 among the world's juniors or became ranked in the top 125 players in the country upon arriving at Mississippi State. His 2009 recruiting class was ranked 13th in the nation.

While at MSU, Hill and the Bulldog staff had one of just three programs with five singles players ranked in the Top-75 nationally while his efforts in promoting the team helped grow the fan base by over 600 percent with the Bulldogs ranked in the top 5 nationally in average attendance during the 2009 and 2011 seasons.

Prior to joining the Bulldogs' staff, Hill served as a volunteer assistant coach at Alabama for two seasons. He helped the Crimson Tide improve from a No. 56 final ranking the season before he joined the staff to a No. 14 ranking in 2007, his second year with the program. Hill helped coach five nationally ranked players and helped Alabama reach two NCAA Tournaments during his stint, including a trip to the round of 16 in 2007.

A native of Holt, Mich., Hill earned a degree in business marketing with a specialization in professional tennis management from Ferris State University in 2005 and a master's degree in human performance from Alabama in 2007. Also a member of the tennis team while at Ferris State, Hill helped lead the Bulldogs to the NCAA Division II quarterfinals for the first time in school history.

SUN DEVIL MEN'S TENNIS

STAFF

MICHAL KOKTA // ASSISTANT COACH

Kokta joined Matt Hill's staff after a two-year stint at Purdue where he was instrumental in helping the Boilermakers improve their record from 4-20 to 17-10 in the span of a year.

Prior to his appointment at Purdue Kokta was at Baylor where he served as volunteer coach at his alma mater for three seasons. During his three seasons, Baylor captured a pair of Big 12 Conference regular season titles and won the Big 12 Championship in 2014. The Bears advanced to the Round of 16 at the NCAA Championships in 2012 and 2013, followed by a quarterfinal appearance in 2014.

Prior to his collegiate career Kokta was ranked as high as No. 8 in singles and #3 in doubles in the ITF's juniors rankings. He reached the semifinals of the Australian Open juniors in singles, the semifinals of Wimbledon juniors in doubles, and was the European junior doubles champion. After juniors, Kokta was ranked as high as #356 ATP in singles and #480 in doubles.

DOM COTRONE // VOLUNTEER ASSISTANT

Cotrone is a volunteer assistant for the Sun Devil men's tennis program and a former USF tennis standout.

The Bradenton, Fla. native played under Coach Hill during the 2016 season. Cotrone became the second All-American in USF history, advancing to the round of 16 at the NCAA singles tournament during his senior season while posting a 13-7 singles record.

Cotrone played in tandem with current Sun Devil Justin Roberts, with the two recording a 16-5 record in tandem during his final season at South Florida

Cotrone amassed a 10-19 singles record and 30-15 doubles record on the pro circuit, notching four professional doubles wins. Two wins came in 2015 at the USA F18 Futures and USA F22 Futures, while Cotrone recorded the other two in 2016 at the Italy F30 Futures and USA F37 Futures.
