DEVILS RETURN HOME TO HOST LOYOLA MARYMOUNT

TEMPE – Coming off their first road sweep of the season, the Sun Devils look to keep the momentum going at home Saturday as they host the Loyola Marymount Lions for the first time in two decades.

"They're a good team," coach Sheila McNerney said. "I know Agustin quite well, he's a very good coach and I think they've only lost twice this year, so they're kind of on a roll. We expect a really good match."

The No. 37 Sun Devils enter Saturday's home dual with the Lions on a four-match win-streak, their joint-highest spell this season. Arizona State has also kept a goose egg in the loss column at the Whiteman Tennis Center, where they've only allowed an opponent to score a crooked number once this season.

Of ASU's six home victories this season, five have been sweeps. But home-cooking is nothing new to the Devils as they have won 43 matches at the Whiteman Tennis Center against non-conference opponents, and lost only three since 2013.

To improve that record to 44, ASU will have to get through a Lions team that comes to Tempe riding a seven-match unbeaten run that includes a smothering win at Long Beach State and a road win against ASU's last home opponent UC Santa Barbara.

ASU had to get it done in singles play the last two outings as they dropped two-straight doubles points for the first time this season, despite opening the year by taking the point in six-straight.

"We might switch things up in doubles again," McNerney said. "We were kind of living doubles by the skin of our teeth even early on against UNLV and Gonzaga. I knew even though we were winning the points, it wasn't always pretty. We'll probably keep Ilze and Lauryn together, but we might switch somebody else up and go from there."

Lauryn John-Baptiste and Ilze Hattingh are still on a roll and have yet to drop a doubles match this season. Even in their suspended matches, the two newcomers have yet to walk off the court trailing.

No. 83 John-Baptiste kept her unbeaten streak on court one alive this weekend and recorded a crucial win against Colorado's No.1 after the Devils dropped the doubles point to the Buffaloes.

On court four, No. 115 Savannah Slaysman will look to keep her hot streak going, and behind her on court five, Sasa Klanecek will try to rebound after suffering just her first loss of the season and third of 2018.

The match with the Lions is scheduled for Saturday at 11 a.m. PT at the Whiteman Tennis Center in Tempe.

TEAM NOTES

RANKINGS UPDATE

There was no movement in the singles and doubles rankings this weekend, but as a team, the Sun Devils fell three spots despite recording a sweep of Utah and a win over Colorado on the road to open Pac-12 play.

In the conference, ASU sits at the top, boasting an undefeated conference record and 9-3 overall record. Only Washington State (1-0) and Stanford (2-0) take unblemished Pac-12 records into this weekend.

UCLA is still the highest-ranked Pac-12 squad, coming in at No. 15. Oregon jumped a spot to 20, and the ITA's computer has finally recognized the surging Cardinal of Stanford and put the defending conference champions at No. 25, up 21 spots from a week ago.

Washington State checks in two places above ASU, and the other school in Evergreen State, UW, wraps up the conference at 41.

"W"HITEMAN TENNIS CENTER

This weekend, the Sun Devils return home to a place where they have only dropped three contests to non-conference opponents since 2013.

Coach Sheila McInerney's Devils are 6-0 at the Whiteman Tennis Center this season, and this weekend marks the final non-conference opponent for the Devils, but ASU still has four more home matches.

Although the Devils lost to No. 9 Pepperdine and second-ranked Ohio State last season, they went undefeated in 2016, 2014 and 2013, amassing a lopsided home record outside the Pac-12 of 43-3 in the past five seasons.

The Devils' only other loss in that time frame came in 2015 when they fell to Ohio State the first time.

In 2018, ASU hasn't given up a single point to an opponent at home since UNLV took two from the Devils back on Feb. 2.

FEARSOME SIXSOME

Coming into the season, coach Sheila McInerney had a roster of eight, but after a couple of key injuries, the Sun Devils have been down to six for the spring season.

Of the six women taking the court for ASU, four of them are newcomers to the squad and only one is a senior in Nicole Fossa Huerfano.

True freshmen Sasa Klanecek and Lauryn John-Baptiste have been the most successful of the six this season, compiling a combined dual-match record of 16-3, with Klanecek recording a perfect record through her 10 matches, until this past weekend's loss to Colorado.

John-Baptiste has been playing on courts one and two in 2018 and has won all four of her matchups this year against ranked opponents.

Sophomore newcomer Ilze Hattingh is a part of a doubles tandem with John-Baptiste that hasn't dropped a match this season, and has helped the Sun Devils win nine doubles points in their 12 matches.

One of the two active returners, Savannah Slaysman, got off to a slow start, but has since won six of her last 10 and losing only twice in that span.

Despite having a thin squad, the Devils have won 9 of 12 and sit atop the Pac-12 standings after the first week of conference play. They took Nos. 11 and 19 Ohio State and Oklahoma State to the wire on the road, and remain unbeaten at the Whiteman Tennis Center in 2018.

GET TO KNOW THE LIONS

Hailing from the City of Angels, Loyola Marymount is led by third-year head coach Agustin Moreno, the Lions' second coach in program history.

After a sub-.500 start to his LMU career, Moreno's Lions recorded a 13-9 (5-4) record in a tough West Coast Conference in 2017, and have put together a respectable 8-2 record in 2018, with wins over UC Santa Barbara, Penn and Cal Poly among others.

His team is led by Veronica Miroshnichenko, the No. 30 singles player in the NCAA on court one.

Miroshnichenko is also one half of the No. 33 doubles tandem in the nation. She and Eva Marie Voracek have run court one for the Lions all season and have posted an 8-2 record in doubles play.

In the past 33 years, Sheila McInerney has seen a vast amount of change at Arizona State, from new athletic directors, new head coaches, schools added to the conference, and numerous renovations to athletic facilities. Through the countless changes across Arizona State, McInerney has continued to lead the women's tennis program in a successful direction heading into her 33rd season.

In Arizona State's history, no coach has the number of accolades that Sheila McInerney has accumulated during her 33-year tenure as a Sun Devil. Since her first season as head coach in 1985, Sun Devil women's tennis has won 495 matches, advanced to 31 of 32 NCAA Tournaments, including 29 straight, and has finished each season in the top 38 nationally. That's the second most wins by any Arizona State coach in school history. In the 2016 season, McInerney was named the Southwest Region Coach of the Year by the ITA, as well as the Pac-12 Coach of the Year. She also was awarded the 2016 ITA Meritorious Service Award, which is given to an ITA coach who has gone "above and beyond" in their commitment and contributions to the ITA and college tennis in general.

In recent years, Arizona State's tennis program has continued to thrive on and off the court. On the court, the Sun Devils have 86 wins against ranked opponents since 2008. Leading the way for the tennis program have been 45 All-Americans and 41 All-Pac-12 student-athletes. Of these integral players in Arizona State's history, there have been 40 players ranked in the Top 50 of the singles season-end ranking and 21 in the Top 25 of the doubles season-end ranking.

In the classroom, McInerney has recruited bright student-athletes. She has had four Academic All-Americans, 45 ITA Scholar-Athletes (since 2002), and 80 Academic All-Pac 12 student-athletes (since 1991). Of those 45 ITA Scholar-Athletes, four were named in 2015 – Alexandra Osborne, Aubria Solares, Gussie O'Sullivan and Kassidy Jump. Her players have had majors such as Bioscience, Business Management, Criminal Justice and Criminology, English, Journalism, Kinesiology, Marketing, Political Science, and Sociology.

McInerney has also been fundamental in helping players' development to reach high achievements in the NCAA. Among the achievements include Jacqueline Cako named Arizona State Female Athlete of the Year (2013), Michelle Brycki awarded Cissie Leary ITA National Sportsmanship Award (2012), Kelcy McKenna selected as the Pac-12 Post-Graduate Scholar (2011), four singles and four doubles All-Americans since 2009, 14 players ranked in the singles season-end ranking and seven doubles teams ranked in the doubles season-end ranking since 2009.

Prior to coming to Arizona State, McInerney served as assistant women's tennis coach at the University of Southern California during the 1983-84 season, in which the Trojans were NCAA finalists. In addition to her success as a collegiate coach, McInerney has traveled with various USTA junior and national teams. At the 1986 Goodwill Games, McInerney coached the team to gold and silver medals. In 1987, she led the U.S. Pan American Games doubles squad to a gold medal.

McInerney attended USC, where she captained the Trojans during her senior season. The four-time All-American also was a four-time Trojan Spirit Award winner, as voted by her teammates. The Trojans won three national championships during McInerney's collegiate career, and she was the national collegiate doubles runner-up three times and a singles semifinalist in 1977. McInerney collected a half-dozen USTA national titles and was a member of the 1977-80 USTA Junior Federation Cup team. As a professional, she played on the major international tour, earning a world ranking in the top 75. McInerney competed at three grand slam venues -- Wimbledon, French Open and the U.S. Open where she reached the round of 32. She also served a short term as assistant pro at the highly acclaimed L.A. Tennis Club.

McInerney earned a bachelor's degree in public relations from the University of Southern California in 1980. A member of the Dean's List at USC, she won the USC Postgraduate Scholarship Award, the USC Junior Student-Athlete and Senior Student-Athlete awards.

STAFF

Matt Langley

Head coach Sheila McInerney announced in 2015 that Matt Langley would join the program as an assistant coach and in 2017, Langley was named associate head coach.

Langley joined the Sun Devils from Middle Tennessee State University, his alma mater, where he most recently served as assistant coach for its women's tennis program. At MTSU, Langley helped coach the Blue Raiders to one of their best seasons in program history, recording a 19-5 overall record, 7-1 in Conference USA competition.

A member of the MTSU men's tennis team from 2009-12, Langley was a two-year co-captain and three-time Sun Belt Conference Champion, earning two Most Outstanding Player honors at the Sun Belt Conference Championships. Langley also recorded three career appearances at the NCAA Championships.

Langley graduated from MTSU with a degree in exercise science, and was a two-time Academic All-American and ITA Scholar-Athlete.

Ebony Panoho is a graduate student assistant for the Sun Devil women's tennis program and former Sun Devil tennis standout. The Brisbane, Australia native won the Pac-12 doubles championship in her senior season with teammate Alexandra Osborne to give ASU its first conference doubles title. She once partnered with 2003 U.S. Open champion Andy Roddick for a mixed doubles exhibition match.

Alexandra Osborne recently graduated from Arizona State after an illustrious career on the court for the Sun Devils. Along with claiming ASU's first ever conference doubles title, Osborne earned the Bill Kajikawa Female Athlete of the Year Award during her senior season, and earned the honor of ITA scholar athlete in 2016 as a junior. She is a native of Sydney, Australia.

Lindy Kyger is the Sun Devils' athletic trainer. She joined ASU this past fall after graduating from the University of South Carolina with a degree in athletic training in 2017. Kryger was born in Pennsylvania, grew up in Massachusetts. She will graduate in 2019 with a master's in higher and post secondary education.
