Dr. Charles Johnson to Retire; Charles Johnson D.O. & Associates Medical Practice to be Adopted by Peak Vista Community Health Centers

Colorado Springs, Colo. – Charles L. Johnson D.O. & Associates and Peak Vista Community Health Centers (Peak Vista) announce that Peak Vista will adopt Dr. Johnson’s family-medicine practice. The timing coincides with Dr. Johnson’s decision to retire from providing primary care in the Pikes Peak region for 42 years, effective October 31, 2016.

“It is incredibly important to me to ensure my patients have access to quality care after I retire,” shared Dr. Johnson. “I am confident Peak Vista, along with my current team, will provide that access to comprehensive health and will serve my patients well.”

Dr. Johnson’s medical practice is comprised of five providers who care for over 9,700 active patients; a majority of patients are covered by Health First Colorado (Colorado’s Medicaid program).

“We are blessed to have this opportunity to honor Dr. Charles Johnson’s legacy,” shared Pam McManus, Peak Vista president and CEO. “We look forward to welcoming his patients to Peak Vista.”

Peak Vista will assume care for existing patients associated with Dr. Johnson’s practice, located at 155 Printers Parkway, Suite 230. Peak Vista plans to hire a new physician as well as offer employment to Dr. Johnson’s existing providers and staff.

Patients of Dr. Johnson’s practice may continue scheduling appointments by calling the office directly at (719) 635-5657 or Peak Vista’s customer service center at (719) 632-5700.
