2018-19 SEASON PREVIEW

Following an impressive first season under first year head coach Johnny Dawkins, the expectations were high heading into the 2017-18 campaign. The Knights returned B.J. Taylor, Tacko Fall and brought in a wealth of talented transfers, who sat out in year one under Dawkins.

Fast forward to the preseason. Heralded Michigan transfer, and son of Johnny, Aubrey Dawkins tears his labrum and announces he will miss the entire season. Push forward a couple more weeks. In game one of the season, Taylor breaks his foot and misses the next 15 contests.

As the Knights fought through a difficult non-conference schedule without two of its best players, the team worked its way to a 12-6 record following a home loss to eventual league champion Cincinnati. In that game Taylor finally returned to the court.

Unfortunately, after that game, the third strike was thrown. Fall announced that he was going to have surgery on his shoulder and would miss the rest of the season.

Again, the Knights stepped up, battled, with a number of players stepping into bigger roles. Eventually, UCF finished the season 19-13, only their second best record in the last five years.

Along the way they earned their first road win at Memphis, their first home win over UConn, their first victory over SMU since joining The American, and the program's first true road win over a ranked opponent, topping #24 Alabama in Tuscaloosa.

Time has passed. Bodies have healed. And the Knights enter the third season under Dawkins with maybe even higher expectations than the year before. The only question mark, once again, being health. UCF has been predicted by many national outlets to win The American and reach the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2005.

A healthy Taylor returns. A healthy Fall returns. And after two years off the court, Dawkins is set to don the black and gold for the first time. With plenty of experience last year for Ceasar DeJesus, Terrell Allen, Chad Brown, Dayon Griffin and Chance McSpadden, and the addition of George Washington transfer Collin Smith, the Knights are prepared to make a big run.

It will once again start on the defensive end for a Knights team who has been one of the elite in the entire nation under Dawkins. In 2016-17 UCF led all NCAA Division I teams in field goal percentage defense, holding opponents to just 36.5 percent from the floor.

What did the Knights do for an encore? Last season UCF ranked third in the nation in scoring defense, holding the opposition to just 61.7 points per game.

UCF also held three opponents to less than 40 points. Before the 2017-18 season, the Knights had only held two opponents to less than 40 points in the 33-year Division I history of the program.

In the home win over SMU, the Black and Gold set another record, holding the Mustangs to a mere 37 points.

If the defense continues to excel in year three, and the offense makes the improvements it needs to with the return of Taylor and Fall, and the additions of Dawkins and Smith, the sky is the limit for this year's edition of the UCF Knights.

COACHING STAFF

JOHNNY DAWKINS — head coach | third season

Johnny Dawkins was named UCF's seventh head men's basketball coach on Mar. 23, 2016 and has had immediate success in his first two seasons with the Knights.

Dawkins took over a 12-18 squad that hadn't finished above .500 since 2012-13 and led the Knights to a 24-12 record in his first season at the helm, the sixth best turnaround in the nation. With just seven scholarship players due to transfers and injuries, the Knights earned the fourth seed – their highest ever – in the American Athletic Conference Tournament, eventually falling to league champion SMU in the semifinals.

A season full of firsts, UCF hosted its first NIT game in 2016-17, defeating Colorado for the program's first ever win in an NIT or NCAA Tournament game. The Knights went on to defeat top seeded Illinois State on the road, before coming home to the first ever sell-out crowd at CFE Arena and winning 68-58 over Illinois to earn a spot in the NIT Final Four.

Under Dawkins' leadership, UCF led all of NCAA Division I in defensive field goal percentage in 2016-17, holding opponents to just 36.5 percent from the floor. The Knights were also sixth in the nation, allowing only 61.2 points per game, and gave up 45 or less points in four games over the course of the year.

Dawkins was named a finalist for both the Jim Phelan and Ben Jobe National Coach of the Year awards his first season at UCF, but he also guided a number of his players to accomplishments along the way.

2016-17 Individual Honors

- Tacko Fall was named The American Defensive Player of the Year, Lefty Driesell Defensive All-America, and finalist for Kareem Abdul-Jabbar Award
- B.J. Taylor earned Second Team All-Conference honors from The American after leading UCF with 17.4 points per game
- Matt Williams set new UCF records for three-pointers in a career, in a season and in a game, before signing a professional contract with the Miami Heat

In year two at the helm, Dawkins had to deal with significant injuries to his three best players. His son, Aubrey Dawkins, missed the entire season with a shoulder injury, B.J. Taylor missed the first half of the season, and Tacko Fall missed the second half of the year. Taylor and Fall only played one game together.

Through the injuries, Dawkins led the Knights to a 19-13 record, second only to his first season record in the last five years of UCF Basketball. The team also had a number of firsts in year two under Dawkins.

Firsts in 2017-18

- First win over UConn at home and first since joining The American
- First win over SMU since joining The American
- First win over Memphis on the road
- First win over a ranked opponent in a true road game, defeating No. 24 Alabama

And the defense was as good as ever in Dawkins' second year coaching the Black and Gold.

Defensive Accomplishments in 2017-18

- Held three opponents under 40 points
  - o Before the season, UCF had only held two opponents to less than 40 points in 33-year Division I history
- Set new school record, holding SMU to 37 points
- Ranked third in the nation, holding opponents to 61.7 points per game
- Ranked 10th in the nation, holding opponents to 40.1 percent from the field

In two years, Johnny Dawkins has led UCF to new heights on the basketball court, but he has done an even better job with his players in the classroom. With Dawkins at the helm, the Knights men's basketball program recorded an average semester team GPA over 3.0 for the first time in recorded history. They then did it again, setting a new program record with an average semester GPA of 3.03 this spring.

STANFORD STINT

Stanford put together four 20-win seasons in Dawkins' tenure as head coach. He is only the second coach in Stanford history with at least four 20-win seasons. Stanford's success on the court came against some of the toughest schedules in the nation. During the 2015-16 season, the Cardinal faced the sixth-most difficult slate in the country. A nation-leading 17 of Stanford's 30 games came against RPI Top 50 squads. Stanford's strength of schedule was rated in the top 50 each of the past four seasons, including two in the top 20, with an average rank of 27.75.

The Cardinal basketball program also excelled in the classroom during Dawkins' tenure, earning at least three Pac-12 All-Academic selections for five consecutive seasons and producing back-to-back Pac-12 Scholar-Athlete of the Year recipients (2014, 2015). Stanford also received annual national academic recognition, with three players earning National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) Honors Court status in 2015. The Cardinal was one of 20 NCAA Division I teams to earn an NABC Team Academic Excellence Award last season.

In 2012, Dawkins mentored Chasson Randle to become the consummate student-athlete. Randle finished that season as Stanford's all-time leading scorer and earned the program's first Academic All-America First Team selection since 2006. Under Dawkins, Stanford recorded back-to-back perfect Academic Progress Rate scores of 1000 in both the 2012-13 and 2013-14 reports, the two most recent to be released by the NCAA.

Player development was also markedly improved at Stanford under Dawkins' tutelage. Four Cardinal players were selected in the NBA Draft following their collegiate careers.

LEARNING FROM A LEGEND

The Washington, D.C. native coached for 10 years under the legendary Mike Krzyzewski at Duke. During Dawkins' decade as a coach at Duke, the Blue Devils won a national championship (2001), tallied six ACC regular season championships, recorded seven ACC Tournament titles and posted a 330-60 record. In four consecutive seasons from 1999-2002, Duke finished the regular season ranked No. 1 in both national polls, a first in college basketball history. Duke reached a No. 1 national ranking in seven of the 10 seasons with Dawkins on the coaching staff.

While at Duke, he also served as the Player Personnel Director for the USA Basketball Senior National Team from 2006-08.

DECORATED DUKIE

Following a prolific high school career at Mackin Catholic in Washington, D.C., Dawkins made his way to Duke, where he would become one of the most decorated players to step foot in Durham, North Carolina.

He played for the Blue Devils from 1983-86, earning Consensus All-America honors twice (1985, 1986). Dawkins was also voted as the 1986 Naismith National Player of the Year and named a Freshman All-American in 1983. During his collegiate career, he helped lead Duke to three NCAA Tournament berths, including an NCAA National Championship Game appearance in 1986. He was listed as an All-ACC honoree in all four seasons as a Blue Devil.

Dawkins finished his career as the school's all-time leading scorer and held that honor until 2006 when J.J. Redick surpassed his mark of 2,556 points. He recorded double-figure point totals in 129-of-133 collegiate games. Dawkins led the Blue Devils in scoring all four years, recording the fourth-highest season point total in school history with 809 in 1986. Dawkins remains Duke's career record-holder in field goals (1,026) and field goals attempted (2,019) while also owning the school's best single-season mark for field goals (331) during the 1986 campaign.

Dawkins was inducted into the Duke Sports Hall of Fame in September 1996. His jersey number 24 was retired by the school.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

A 1986 first-round draft pick (10th overall) by San Antonio, Dawkins saw action in nine NBA seasons with the Spurs, Philadelphia 76ers and Detroit Pistons. He averaged 11.1 points and 5.5 assists over 541 career NBA games.

GIVING BACK TO THE GAME

Dawkins has served as a member of the National Association of Basketball Coaches Board of Directors since 2012. He also currently serves on the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Ethics Coalition, an independent committee of current and former coaches, charged with promoting ethical conduct through leadership, education and mentoring opportunities, while identifying key issues challenging the coaching community.

KEVIN NORRIS

assistant coach | third season | miami, 1998

Kevin Norris joined the UCF men's basketball coaching staff in March of 2016 as an assistant coach under head coach Johnny Dawkins.

The Knights went 24-12 in his first season on staff, recording the sixth best turnaround in the nation. With just seven scholarship players due to transfers and injuries, the Knights earned the fourth seed – their highest ever – in the American Athletic Conference Tournament, eventually falling to league champion SMU in the semifinals.

A season full of firsts, UCF hosted its first NIT game in 2016-17, defeating Colorado for the program's first ever win in an NIT or NCAA Tournament game. The Knights went on to defeat top seeded Illinois State on the road, before coming home to the first ever sell-out crowd at CFE Arena and winning 68-58 over Illinois to earn a spot in the NIT Final Four.

UCF led all of NCAA Division I in defensive field goal percentage in 2016-17, holding opponents to just 36.5 percent from the floor. The Knights were also sixth in the nation, allowing only 61.2 points per game, and gave up 45 or less points in four games over the course of the year.

In year two on staff, the Knights had to deal with significant injuries to three of their best players. Aubrey Dawkins missed the entire season with a shoulder injury, B.J. Taylor missed the first half of the season, and Tacko Fall missed the second half of the year. Taylor and Fall only played one game together.

Through the injuries, the Knights finished with a 19-13 record, second only to the previous season record in the last five years of UCF Basketball. The team also had a number of firsts in year two, including their first win on the road at Memphis and their first road win over a ranked opponent.

And the defense was as good as ever, holding three opponents under 40 points, setting a new program record by holding SMU to just 37 points, and ranking third in the nation with a scoring defense of 61.7 points per game.

A former point guard himself, the UCF backcourt has excelled in Norris's two seasons with the Knights. B.J. Taylor led the Knights with 17.4 points and 3.5 assists per game in 2016-17 and 15.9 points and 3.2 assists per game in 2017-18. He earned Second Team All-Conference honors from The American. Matt Williams finished his career with every single UCF three-point shooting record, converting 126 threes in 2016-17, the second most in the nation.

Norris came to UCF after a three-year stint as an assistant coach at the University of Southern California. During the 2015-16 season, he helped lead the Trojans to the NCAA Tournament and the program's first 20-win season since 2009.

Prior to his tenure in Los Angeles, he served as an assistant at Florida Gulf Coast for two seasons. In 2013, Norris helped guide the program to its first NCAA Tournament berth in school history and one of the most historic tournament runs in NCAA history. The 15th-seeded Eagles shocked the nation upsetting No. 2-seed Georgetown and No. 7-seed San Diego State to become the first 15-seed to reach the Sweet Sixteen. FGCU's "Cinderella Story" ended in the Sweet Sixteen with a loss to No. 3-seed Florida.

COACHING EXPERIENCE

2016-present	UCF	Assistant Coach
2013-16	USC	Assistant Coach
2011-13	Florida Gulf Coast	Assistant Coach
2010-11	UNC Wilmington	Assistant Coach
2008-10	Texas A&M-Corpus Christi	Assistant Coach
2007-08	Tallahassee CC	Assistant Coach

Norris began his coaching career at Tallahassee Community College in 2007-08, then spent two seasons (2009-10) as an assistant coach at Texas A&M-Corpus Christi. He then assisted Buzz Peterson at UNC Wilmington during the 2010-11 season.

Norris was a standout point guard at Miami, where he played for then-Hurricanes' coach Leonard Hamilton. He was a four-year letterwinner (1995-98) and the only player ever to lead Miami in assists for four straight seasons. Norris still holds the UM record for career steals (208), sits second in career assists (493) and ranks fourth in career starts (108). During his senior season in 1998, he helped lead the Hurricanes to their first NCAA Tournament berth since 1960. Norris was also listed on the BIG EAST All-Rookie Team as a freshman.

Following his collegiate career, Norris played professionally overseas in Italy, France and the Czech Republic, as well as in the American Basketball Association (ABA) with the Calgary Drillers.

ROBBIE LAING

assistant coach | third season | troy, 1982

Robbie Laing was named an assistant coach for UCF Men's Basketball in April of 2016 under head coach Johnny Dawkins.

The Knights went 24-12 in his first season on staff, recording the sixth best turnaround in the nation. With just seven scholarship players due to transfers and injuries, the Knights earned the fourth seed – their highest ever – in the American Athletic Conference Tournament, eventually falling to league champion SMU in the semifinals.

And the defense was as good as ever, holding three opponents under 40 points, setting a new program record by holding SMU to just 37 points, and ranking third in the nation with a scoring defense of 61.7 points per game.

From 2003-13 Laing was the head coach at Campbell University in Buies Creek, North Carolina, for 10 seasons. Laing's most successful season came in 2009-10 when he guided the Camels to an Atlantic Sun Conference regular season title, winning a school record 19 games. He was tabbed the league's Coach of the Year that season along with being recognized as the District 3 Coach of the Year by the National Basketball Coaches Association. The following season, Laing and the Camels were ranked in the mid-major college top-25 poll for the first time in school history.

During his career, Laing has been an assistant coach at a number of Division I programs, including Florida Atlantic (2014-16), Kansas State (2000-03), Southern Mississippi (1999-00), Auburn (1994-96), Clemson (1993-94), Georgia Southern (1984-86, 1987-93), Western Kentucky (1986-87) and Troy (1982-84).

He got his first collegiate head coaching job in 1996 at Jones Junior College in Ellisville, Mississippi, where he spent three seasons at the helm.

Laing graduated from Lakeside High School in Eufaula, Alabama, where he was a standout in basketball and football. Following high school, he went to play football at Vanderbilt for one season.

He then transferred to North West Florida State to play basketball. The squad posted a 22-11 record only to see OWJC drop the program, sending Laing to Seminole State Community College, where he garnered All-America honors. Laing then transferred to Troy where he earned a degree in biology and physical education in 1982. The following year, Laing went to Georgia Southern to earn his Master's degree in physical education.

He and his wife, Dana are parents of five children: Ansley, Christian, Earl, Madison and Nathan, who played at UCF from 2016-18.

VINCE TAYLOR

assistant coach | second season | duke, 1982

UCF men's basketball head coach Johnny Dawkins announced the hiring of Vince Taylor as an assistant coach for the Knights in May of 2017. Taylor is a veteran assistant coach, who has worked at both the collegiate ranks and in the NBA. He also played professionally for 13 seasons after a standout career at Duke.

In his first year on the staff, the Knights dealt with significant injuries to three of their best players. Aubrey Dawkins missed the entire season with a shoulder injury, B.J. Taylor missed the first half of the season, and Tacko Fall missed the second half of the year. Taylor and Fall only played one game together.

Through the injuries, the Knights finished with a 19-13 record, second only to the previous season record in the last five years of UCF Basketball. The team also had a number of firsts, including their first win on the road at Memphis and their first road win over a ranked opponent.

And the defense was as good as ever, holding three opponents under 40 points, setting a new program record by holding SMU to just 37 points, and ranking third in the nation with a scoring defense of 61.7 points per game.

Prior to UCF, Taylor was most recently an assistant coach at Texas Tech under then head coach Tubby Smith. Working with the Red Raider big men, Taylor helped the Texas Tech frontcourt increase its scoring, rebounding and blocked shots from 2013 to 2016. He was instrumental in the recruiting success for the Red Raiders. The Hoop Scoop, a national recruiting service, listed Taylor on their Top 60 Assistant Coaches at No. 35.

From 2007 to 2013, Taylor was an assistant coach at Minnesota, helping the Golden Gophers secure 10 Top 150 recruits over the six-year span. An excellent teacher and on-court coach, he helped with opponent scouting as well as other assigned duties at Minnesota.

Prior to his stint with the Gophers, Taylor spent the 2005-06 and 2006-07 seasons with the Minnesota Timberwolves of the NBA. With the Timberwolves, Taylor was responsible for player development and scouting opponents.

Taylor spent seven seasons as an assistant at the University of Louisville, four under Rick Pitino and three under Denny Crum. While with the Louisville program, Taylor earned the reputation as one of the nation's top recruiters.

He helped the Cardinals land a top-five recruiting class in 2001 under Pitino that included McDonald's All-American Carlos Hurt. Taylor was also heavily responsible for the recruitment of Reece Gaines to Louisville. Gaines was a four-year starter and was named third team All-America as a senior. Gaines was the 15th pick of the 2003 NBA Entry Draft. In 2005, Louisville returned to the Final Four with many of Taylor's recruits, including Francisco Garcia. Garcia was then selected as the 23rd pick in the 2005 Draft by Sacramento.

Before joining the Louisville staff in 1998, Taylor was an assistant coach at the University of Pittsburgh (1997-98) and briefly at the University of Wyoming (1998).

Before Taylor began his coaching career, he spent 13 seasons playing professional basketball in Europe, including the last two as a player/assistant coach in the Belgian professional league. Additionally, he averaged 3.1 points, 1.2 rebounds and 1.3 assists per game with the New York Knicks in 1982-83 after being selected by the team in the second round (33rd overall) of the 1982 NBA Draft. Taylor was traded to the Indiana Pacers in 1983-84 before beginning his European career in 1984, initially in Italy (1984-86), then moving to France (1986-92) and finishing his career in Belgium (1992-97).

A standout guard at Duke University, Taylor earned All-Atlantic Coast Conference and honorable mention All-America honors as a senior (1981-82) by averaging 20.3 points per game, a number that led the ACC. During Taylor's collegiate career, the Blue Devils won the 1979 ACC regular season championship and advanced to the NCAA Tournament twice (1979 and 1980) and National Invitational Tournament once (1981). Taylor, who scored 1,455 career collegiate points, finished his career as one of the top 10 scorers in Duke history. He once held the school record by playing in 120 consecutive games.

A 1982 graduate of Duke with a bachelor's degree in economics, Taylor was named to the President's List at Duke his senior year. That honor is awarded to only five percent of the student body, and is based on contributions to the university and academic achievements.

Taylor prepped at Tates Creek High School, where he was a McDonald's High School All-American as a senior in 1978, while averaging 29.3 points and 11 rebounds per game. A native of Lexington, Ky., Taylor has two children: son, Brendan and daughter, Maya.

Jaycob Ammerman has worked with the UCF men's basketball program since the 2014-15 season. He was named the Knights' Video Coordinator in April of 2016 after spending the previous two years as a graduate assistant.

The New Castle, Ind., native received his undergraduate degree from Flagler in 2013 in sports management, while also serving as a team manager for the men's basketball program for four seasons. Following graduation, he spent one season as an assistant coach at Flagler under UCF's all-time leading scorer Bo Clark.

director of sports performance third season
maryland, 2006

Alex Parr joined the Knights in 2016 as the Director of Sports Performance for Olympic Sports.

Parr spent the last three years at Old Dominion where he was the Associate Director of Sports Performance, working with men's basketball, men's and women's tennis and men's and women's golf. With the Monarchs, he was responsible for designing comprehensive and sport-specific programs, which focused on strength, flexibility, balance, agility and conditioning, as well as nutrition consultation.

Prior to his time at ODU, Parr also made stops at Miami and George Washington. He was an Assistant Director of Strength and Conditioning for the Hurricanes from 2011-2013, working specifically with women's basketball and swimming & diving. From 2008-11, he was GWU's main strength and conditioning coach with oversight over all 22 programs.

The Montgomery Village, Maryland, native is a certified strength and conditioning specialist through the National Strength and Conditioning Association. He is also a Level One Sports Performance Coach through United State Weightlifting, along with a Performance Enhancement Specialist through the National Academy of Sports Medicine. Parr is additionally a specialist in sports nutrition through the International Sports Sciences Association and is an active isolated stretching specialist.

Parr graduated from Maryland in 2006 with a degree in finance. He then went to George Washington to earn his Master's in Exercise Science in 2008.

JARRETTSCHWEIM

sports medicine
fifth season
florida, 2006

Jarrett Schweim joined the Knights as an athletic trainer in April of 2014.

Schweim joins the Knights after one year at an Associate Athletic Trainer at Georgia. While with the Bulldogs, he worked exclusively with the men's basketball program. Prior to that Schweim spent three years as an Assistant Athletic Trainer at Florida, working directly with the Gator football program.

Prior to his most recent time at Florida, Schweim served three years -- the first two as a Graduate Assistant and the latter as a full-time Assistant Trainer in the athletics program at Ohio State. He worked primarily with the Buckeyes' football and men's tennis teams.

A native of St. Augustine, Fla., Schweim is a 2006 graduate of the University of Florida, with a degree in Athletic Training. He earned his Master's degree in Allied Health Management from Ohio State in 2009.

Upon graduating from Florida, Schweim served a one-year internship as an Intern Athletic Trainer with the Gators' men's basketball team. During that time, the Gators went on to win the NCAA championship.

- AdvoCare Invitational at ESPN Wide World of Sports

* - American Athletic Conference contest

% - The American Athletic Conference Tournament played at the Amway Center in Orlando, Fla.

2017-18 HIGHLIGHTS

In year two at the helm, Johnny Dawkins had to deal with significant injuries to his three best players. His son, Aubrey Dawkins, missed the entire season with a shoulder injury, B.J. Taylor missed the first half of the season, and Tacko Fall missed the second half of the year. Taylor and Fall only played one game together.

Through the injuries, Dawkins led the Knights to a 19-13 record, second only to his first season record in the last five years of UCF Basketball. The team also had a number of firsts in year two under Dawkins.

- First win over UConn at home and first since joining The American
- First win over SMU since joining The American
- First win over Memphis on the road
- First win over a ranked opponent in a true road game, defeating No. 24 Alabama

And the defense was as good as ever in Dawkins' second year coaching the Black and Gold.

- Held three opponents under 40 points
  - Before the season, UCF had only held two opponents to less than 40 points in 33-year Division I history
- Set new school record, holding SMU to 37 points
- Ranked third in the nation, holding opponents to 61.7 points per game
- Ranked 10th in the nation, holding opponents to 40.1 percent from the field

THIS IS UCF

A BIG UNIVERSITY

With more than 67,000 students, UCF is the biggest university in Florida, and one of the best in the nation. But being big goes beyond our size. Big is diverse and inclusive. Big is promising and powerful. Big attracts the brightest minds and boldest opportunities. And by being big, we make a greater impact on our students and the world.

Big Impact: Our Students
• More than 16,000 graduates earn UCF degrees each year.
• 46 percent of UCF's students are minorities, and 25 percent are the first in their families to attend college.
• The average GPA of incoming freshmen is a school-record 4.06
• A team of UCF students won the computer programming national championship and finished 10th in the world at the 2018 International Collegiate Programming Contest.

Big Value: An Affordable Investment
• UCF's tuition and fees rank among the lowest in the country.
• Nearly half of UCF's undergraduates have no educational debt when they graduate.
• Kiplinger consistently ranks a UCF education among the nation's best values.

Big Plans: Enriching Communities
The UCF Downtown campus, slated to open in 2019, will give 7,700 UCF and Valencia College students unprecedented access to industry experts, internship and educational opportunities, cultural stimulation and the energy of a thriving urban environment.

The UCF Lake Nona Medical Center will be built adjacent to the UCF College of Medicine in partnership with Hospital Corporation of America. The hospital will focus on building a healthier community, training more physicians and powering economic growth through research.

BRIDG, a center for advanced manufacturing research developed in partnership with Osceola County, aims to spark thousands of high-tech jobs in the years ahead.

Big Recognition: Accolades
UCF's Florida Interactive Entertainment Academy is the No. 3-ranked graduate video game-design program in North America, according to The Princeton Review. UCF has been ranked in the top five every year since the rankings began.

CEOWORLD Magazine ranked the Rosen College of Hospitality Management among the top five hospitality schools in the world. UCF ranked 28th in the nation among public universities for the number of U.S. patents secured in 2017, according to the National Academy of Inventors.

In 2018, UCF was recognized as one of the "Most Innovative" colleges, a top 20 Best Online Program and had 25 graduate programs ranked in the top 100 in their field by U.S. News and World Report.

Dale Whittaker became the University of Central Florida's fifth president on July 1, 2018. He was unanimously confirmed by the Florida Board of Governors in March after the UCF Board of Trustees selected him following a nationwide search.

Whittaker came to UCF in August 2014 to serve as its provost and vice president for Academic Affairs, providing leadership to UCF's 13 colleges, multiple campuses and research centers and institutes. He also oversaw academic support services and was responsible for curriculum, academic planning, faculty appointments, faculty development and promotion and tenure decisions. He was promoted to provost and executive vice president in 2015.

Since arriving at UCF, he has helped recruit and hire more than 200 new faculty members, launched an interdisciplinary teaching and research faculty cluster initiative, led the creation of a downtown campus, elevated UCF's digital learning efforts to improve student success and embarked on a 20-year strategic planning process.

Also under Whittaker's tenure, UCF began its path to preeminence, designated an "emerging preeminent" institution by the state in 2016. In addition to being the state's largest university, UCF also is one of its highest performing — landing in the top three in the state for the first four years that performance-based funding was awarded.

As president, Whittaker will focus on developing the best talent and creating deeper and wider partnerships across and beyond the university.

Whittaker also is committed to giving students equal opportunities through education; he and UCF President John C. Hitt previously worked together on the University Innovation Alliance, a coalition of 11 prestigious research universities seeking to expand students' access to higher education. Institutions joining UCF in the coalition include Purdue, Arizona State, Michigan State and Ohio State universities.

"I'm deeply committed to lifting lives and livelihoods through knowledge," Whittaker says. "Our core mission as a university is knowledge, and the impact is advancing people's lives economically and socially for generations."

Whittaker is a professor of agricultural and biological engineering, with an equal passion for the arts, and for providing students with authentic learning experiences that will lead to greater success in their lives while at UCF and after.

Whittaker holds a master's degree and Ph.D. in agricultural engineering from Purdue and a bachelor's degree in the same field from Texas A&M. Before his arrival at UCF, he served more than two decades in faculty and leadership positions at Purdue and Texas A&M universities.

He lives in Orlando with his wife, Mary, and he enjoys playing the harmonica, painting and rowing.

vice president & director of athletics

Danny White was named Vice President and Director of Athletics at UCF on Nov. 18, 2015. He began his tenure at UCF Dec. 14, 2015.

Under his leadership, the Knights have seen great success in competition, in the classroom and in the community.

UCF's football program went from winless in 2015 to six victories and a bowl game appearance in 2016. The Knights improved even more in 2017, finishing the season as the only undefeated team in the nation and claiming a national championship. The Knights finished 13-0 in the 2017 season, capping the incredible year with a 34-27 victory over Auburn in the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl.

Both the UCF men's and women's basketball teams completed stunning turnarounds under head coaches White hired shortly after his arrival at UCF. Johnny Dawkins and Katie Abrahamson-Henderson both led their teams to 20-win seasons and the best American Athletic Conference finish in both programs' history. Abrahamson-Henderson followed that with another improvement in conference finish and the first-ever back-to-back postseason berths in program history. The UCF Baseball program also turned in a stellar 2017 season, winning the American Athletic Conference regular season title and advancing to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2012 under another White hire – Greg Lovelady.

White was named one of Sports Business Journal's 40 Under 40 award winners in both 2017 and 2018. White was also recognized by the Orlando Business Journal on its 40 Under 40 list for the Central Florida area's top professionals under the age of 40 who have made significant achievements in their careers. He was also named to the 2017 50 Most Powerful People in Orlando by Orlando Magazine. In the Spring of 2018, White was named a finalist for the Sports Business Journal's Athletics Director of the Year honor.

White oversees an athletics department that has boasted a semester grade-point average of 3.0 or better since 2008. The Knights also boast the top NCAA Graduation Success Rate of any public university playing at the Football Bowl Subdivision.

In his first 15 months on the job, White saw numerous game-changing gift commitments made to UCF Athletics. In February of 2017, Ken Dixon committed more than $5 million to UCF Athletics. It was the largest cash pledge ever to UCF by an alumnus. In recognition of his gift, UCF has named the 95-acre area that houses most of UCF's Athletics Facilities the Kenneth G. Dixon Athletics Village. White was also instrumental in a $1.5 million gift commitment from John Euliano that will help fund a renovation of the UCF Baseball Complex, which will be known as John Euliano Park after its completion. Bob Garvy also committed $1 million toward the development of the Garvy Center for Student-Athlete Nutrition. The Knights also recently broke ground of the Roth Athletics Center, which will house the UCF administration and will include an expansion for football operations.

In addition, White established the UCF Football Excellence Fund in 2017. That initiative has raised more than $5 million in commitments pledged over five years in an effort to sustain and continue to improve upon the success of the Knights' program.

Other highlights in White's first year at UCF also include the athletic department bringing its multimedia rights and corporate partnerships in house and an extended and improved apparel and shoe agreement with Nike.

White was regarded as one of the nation's most talented young athletic directors when he came to UCF from the State University of New York at Buffalo, where he served as Director of Athletics from May 2012 through December 2015. He brought a strong record of success in competition and in the classroom to UCF.

White, a former college basketball player and New Orleans native, has quickly ascended in the ranks of college athletics leadership. Prior to his role as AD at Buffalo, White was senior associate athletics director at the University of Mississippi from 2009-12. He previously served as associate athletics director for development at California State University – Fresno and assistant athletics director for development at Northern Illinois University from 2006-07.

He played college basketball at Towson University and the University of Notre Dame and was director of operations and assistant coach for one season each with Ohio University's men's basketball team.

During his tenure in Buffalo, White worked with athletics administrators, coaches, and staff to transform the Bulls' program and culture, shattering previous school records for student-athlete GPAs, NCAA tournament berths, fundraising, and football ticket sales.

During White's three years at Buffalo, he, his colleagues and the Bulls' student-athletes raised the program's profile in the community and nationally. Their achievements include:
Buffalo teams, including men's basketball, earned three NCAA tournament bids in 2014-15, compared with just one in the prior 15 years.
UB student-athletes have recorded an average GPA of at least 3.0 for seven consecutive semesters. Prior to White's arrival, the average GPA had never exceed 3.0 in any semester.
Financial support for UB athletics has reached an all-time high, with the number of donors increasing by 137 percent since the start of a membership campaign in 2013.
UB shattered its football attendance records in 2013 after adding interactive opportunities for fans, including a tailgate concert series with nationally known artists.
The state's largest public university and the flagship of the SUNY system, UB for the first time adopted a radio network that spanned the entire state.
White is a 2002 graduate of Notre Dame with a bachelor's degree in business administration. He earned master's degrees in both business administration and sports administration from Ohio University. He completed a doctorate degree in higher education from the University of Mississippi in 2016.

White comes from a family deeply involved in intercollegiate athletics. His father, Kevin, is director of athletics at Duke University. His brother, Michael, is the head men's basketball coach at the University of Florida. His brother, Brian, is the senior associate athletics director for development at the University of Missouri.

Danny and his wife, Shawn, have four children: Aidan, Molly, Caitlin and James.

AMERICAN ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

The American Athletic Conference consists of 13 prestigious institutions: the University of Central Florida, the University of Cincinnati, East Carolina University, the University of Connecticut, the University of Houston, the University of Memphis, the U.S. Naval Academy (in football only), the University of South Florida Southern Methodist University, Temple University, Tulane University, the University of Tulsa, and Wichita State University (in basketball and Olympic sports).

Under the leadership of commissioner Mike Aresco, the American Athletic Conference has an impressive list of accomplishments, both in the competitive arena and the classroom. The American has taken its place at the forefront of intercollegiate athletics, with a collection of national team and individual championships and football and men's and women's basketball postseason victories that place The American among the elite Division I FBS conferences.

The league has produced four NCAA championship teams – UConn men's basketball in 2014 and UConn women's basketball in 2014, 2015 and 2016 – in addition to three New Year's Six bowl champions (UCF in 2013 and 2017; Houston in 2015), 11 NCAA individual championships, and a Rhodes Scholar. Additionally, American Athletic Conference teams have advanced to the College World Series, reached the semifinal and final rounds of the NIT, qualified for the match play round of the NCAA Men's Golf Championship and registered top-10 finishes at the NCAA Cross Country and Outdoor Track and Field championships.

The American Athletic Conference was one of six finalists for the 2016 Sports Business Journal Sports League of the Year award, along with Major League Baseball, Major League Soccer, NASCAR, the National Basketball Association and the PGA Tour.

The 2017 football season saw The American enjoy unprecedented success as UCF finished as the only undefeated team in the nation, and the first in the last four college football seasons, capping a 13-0 campaign with a win against Auburn in the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl. UCF ended the year as the No. 1-ranked team in the Colley Matrix and was ranked No. 6 in the final Associated Press poll, marking the best final ranking for a team from The American in the league's brief history. UCF's finish in the AP poll gave teams from The American three top-10 finishes in the last five end-of-the-year polls.

Additionally, seven teams from The American played in bowl games last season as the league went 3-1 against other Power 6 conferences in the postseason. UCF and Memphis finished No. 12 and No. 20, respectively, in the final College Football Playoff rankings, giving The American three straight seasons with multiple teams in the final ranking. UCF, Memphis and USF were all ranked in the final AP top-25 poll of the season. The American is one of only three conferences (along with the Big Ten and the Big 12) that has had at least three 10-win teams in each of the last two seasons.

The American has had a combined 22 teams play in bowl games in the last three seasons, highlighted by UCF's win against Auburn last year and Houston's win against Florida State in the 2015 Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl. Additionally, Navy and Temple have both finished in the top 25 of either the CFP, Associated Press or USA Today polls as members of The American.

Individual teams in The American have enjoyed some of their best seasons in program history as members of the conference. UCF has finished in the national top 10 twice in five seasons as a conference member – in 2013 and 2017. Houston went 13-1 in the 2015 football season, setting a school record for wins, while Navy won a program-record 11 games in its first season in the conference, also in 2015. Memphis, which had not won 10 games in a season since 1938, has registered two 10-win seasons in the last four years (2015, 2017), while Temple enjoyed its first 10-win season in school history in 2015. USF has gone 21-4 in the last two seasons and has finished the year in the top 25 for the first two times in program history.

Beyond the gridiron, The American has sent a combined seven teams to the last two NCAA Men's Basketball Championships. Since the conference's reconstitution in 2013-14, teams from The American have registered top-10 national rankings in football, men's basketball, women's basketball, baseball, men's soccer, men's golf, and men's track and field. Student-athletes from The American won five NCAA individual titles in track and field in 2017-18 as Houston's Elijah Hall won the indoor 60- and 200-meter races, while the Cougars' Cameron Burrell won the outdoor title in the 100-meter dash. Houston also repeated as the national champion in the 4x100-meter relay, while Memphis' Luke Vaughn won NCAA gold in the discus throw.

Under The American's banner, the UConn women's basketball team won its NCAA-record ninth, 10th and 11th national championships and broke its own NCAA record with a 111-game winning streak that spanned three seasons. The American sent four baseball teams to the NCAA Championship in 2018. Houston's men's track and field team took third place at the 2018 NCAA Outdoor Championships. Tulsa placed sixth at the 2016 NCAA Men's Cross Country Championship, while USF finished the 2014-15 season at No. 8 in the final men's golf national ranking.

American Athletic Conference student-athletes have distinguished themselves in all facets of intercollegiate athletics. Temple linebacker Tyler Matakevich won the Bednarik Award and the Nagurski Trophy as the nation's top defensive player in 2015, while Navy quarterback Keenan Reynolds finished fifth in the Heisman Trophy voting. More recently, Houston's Ed Oliver won the 2017 Outland Trophy as the nation's best interior lineman, while UCF quarterback McKenzie Milton was eighth in the 2017 Heisman balloting. UConn basketball standout Breanna Stewart finished her career in 2016 as the most decorated player in college basketball history as she was chosen as the consensus national player of the year for the third time and became the first player be named four times as the Most Outstanding Player at the Final Four. Reynolds and Stewart were selected as the winners of the 2016 AAU James E. Sullivan Award as the nation's top amateur athletes, marking only the second time in the 86-year history of the award that multiple winners were chosen.

Additionally, SMU's Avery Acker was chosen as the Division I women's volleyball Academic All-America of the Year in 2015, while Tulsa cross country standout Kirk Smith was chosen as a Rhodes Scholar in the fall of 2016. The conference has had a record 31 student-athletes earn Google Cloud CoSIDA Academic All-America accolades in the last two seasons.

American Athletic Conference alumni have made their mark in professional sports as well, beginning with the selection of UCF quarterback Blake Bortles by the Jacksonville Jaguars with the No. 3 pick in the 2014 NFL Draft. The American has produced six student-athletes who have won Super Bowl titles, including three members of the 2017 champion Philadelphia Eagles. A number of American Athletic Conference athletes have been selected in the first round of the professional entry drafts in football, basketball, baseball and soccer. The American had a record 18 total selections in the 2018 NFL Draft.

The American Athletic Conference holds media rights partnerships with ESPN and CBS Sports, which provide the conference with outstanding national exposure on the two industry leaders in sports television. The football portion of the contract calls for nearly 90 percent of conference-controlled games on national broadcast or national cable platforms. The first three American Athletic Conference Football Championships were televised by ABC as part of Championship Saturday. The American has had a combined 41 regular-season football games with more than one million viewers in the last three seasons. The 2017 game between UCF and USF, cited by numerous outlets as the best game of the regular season, attracted 4.7 million viewers – a record for a game between two American Athletic Conference teams.

In men's basketball, the television contract calls for all conference-controlled games to be televised, with more than 63 percent slotted for national broadcast or national cable – a minimum of 107 games. The entire postseason tournament is televised, including the championship game, which is on ABC or ESPN (except for the 2018 season, when the semifinals and final were on CBS). Sixty percent of the American's women's basketball games are carried on national cable, regional sports networks or ESPN3.

American Athletic Conference teams have access to the pinnacle of college football's postseason structure. An American representative would be chosen for the College Football Playoff semifinals if it is among the top four teams in the CFP selection committee's final ranking. Otherwise, the league would place its champion in a New Year's Bowl if it is ranked higher than the champions of Conference USA, the Mid-American Conference, the Mountain West Conference and the Sun Belt Conference.

Additionally, The American holds primary or secondary partnerships with 12 bowls for the current six-year cycle, ensuring multiple annual matchups against the nation's top conferences and providing desirable postseason destinations to member institutions.

The American Athletic Conference serves its membership from a state-of-the-art office located in Providence, Rhode Island. The location of the conference headquarters – just steps from the city's Amtrak station and 10 minutes from T.F. Green International Airport – gives the conference easy access to its member schools. The conference headquarters also serves as the home of the American Digital Network, which provides live coverage of all 21 conference championships.

CFE ARENA

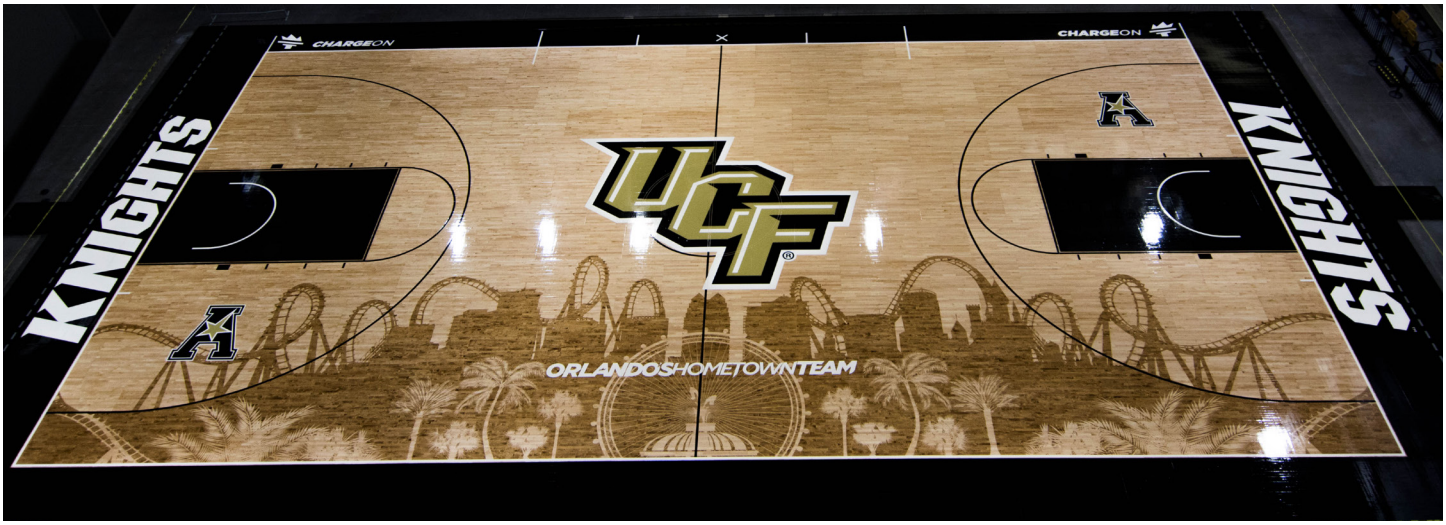

In CFE Arena, the Knights play in one of the finest facilities in the nation. The 10,000-seat venue opened in the fall of 2007 and is located on the north side of campus. The facility has dozens of top amenities, including a state-of-the-art video board, luxury suites and wide concourses.

CFE Arena is the best of both worlds - a first-class facility which also highlights the essence of college basketball. The building is one of only a few in the nation that offers unparalled luxury to student-athletes and fans, and also has a great gameday atmosphere. Similar to National Basketball Association venues, the arena features 16 spacious luxury suites and two party suites. The suites include kitchenettes and bar-style seating and can accommodate up to 20 guests. Additionally, the facility has two loges and the unique Black and Gold Club, which provides exclusive access to the club seating area. The arena helps provide UCF fans with a great entertainment experience during games.

Since the 2017-18 season CFE Arena has been home to a new look, as the court was redesigned to represent the Knights' strategic plan to be Orlando's Hometown Team. The east side of the court is donned with a design filled with palm trees, roller coasters, castles, ferris wheels and fountains, a microcosm of the many of the things that Orlando has to offer.
