2007 CONFERENCE USA CHAMPS
AND 19 POSTSEASON AWARDS

2007 YEAR-IN-REVIEW

WHAT A SEASON

The 2007 UCF women's soccer campaign featured scoring outbursts, late-match drama, plenty of awards, big crowds and an end-of-the-season national ranking. However, two events stood out the most: a Conference USA regular-season title and a trip to the NCAA Tournament.

UCF finished with No. 30 ranking and a 15-4-4 overall mark while playing an extremely difficult non-conference schedule. The Knights went on to go 7-1-1 on C-USA play to earn a share of the regular-season crown, their 11th league title in school history.

With an outstanding overall record and impressive performances against some of the top teams in the nation, UCF picked up an at-large selection into the NCAA Tournament. The trip to the postseason was the Black and Gold's 12th all-time, and it did not record a loss in two matches. The Knights defeated Auburn in the first round, 3-1, before tying No. 6 Florida, 0-0, in round two. Although the Gators won on penalty kicks, UCF demonstrated that it remains one of the top programs at the Division I level.

UNBEATABLE AT HOME

Opponents discovered just how tough it can be to play in Orlando, as UCF went 7-0-3 at home in 2007. Two of those victories, UNLV and UC Davis, enabled the Knights to claim the UCF

Invitational early in the season, and a 2-0 win over Southern Miss Nov. 2 guaranteed the Black and Gold the No. 1 seed in the C-USA Championship.

BATTLING THE SUNSHINE STATE

The state of Florida proved again to be a monster in college soccer last year, and the Knights were right in the middle. UCF played Florida, Florida State and Miami during 2007, and walked away with an 0-0-3 record.

UCF first went up against Miami and earned a 2-2 tie thanks to a last-second goal by Courtney Whidden. Three days later, 956 fans, the largest UCF home crowd since 1982, witnessed Hanna Wilde score the game-tying goal with 3:10 remaining in a 3-3 draw vs. No. 11 Florida State (the Seminoles went on to become national runner-up in the College Cup). And in the second round of the NCAA Tournament, the Knights battled No. 6 Florida to a 0-0 tie.

DRAMA AWAITS

UCF was stellar in the final minutes of a match last season, scoring the game-winner or game-tying goal in the 86th minute or beyond six times. The Knights also went 2-0-4 when a match reached overtime, highlighted by Yvonne George scoring in double OT against East Carolina Oct. 7 and Courtney Whidden duplicating that feat at Memphis Oct. 28.
