LLOYD BRUCE-BURGESS

Head Coach - Second Season

Lloyd Bruce-Burgess was named the 15th head coach in program history on August 8, 2024. Bruce-Burgess brings experience coaching men's tennis at Iowa, South Florida, Wichita State and Fresno Pacific—plus two seasons at UCF as assistant women's tennis coach.

Bruce-Burgess continues his collaboration with newly named UCF director of tennis Bryan Koniecko whose Knight women's tennis team has advanced to the NCAA Championship each of the last two seasons with Bruce-Burgess' assistance.

Bruce-Burgess followed up a promising first year with the program's most successful season to date, reaching the NCAA Sweet 16 for the first time, along with a DI program-best 23 wins. The Knights, picked sixth in the Big 12 preseason poll, placed fourth during the regular season before defeating title-holders No. 2 TCU in the tournament semifinals.

2024-25 Season Notables

- Produced a 23-9 record, most wins in the DI era (since 1984)
- Advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16 for first time in program history
- Hosted an NCAA Regional for the second time, defeating Florida in the program's first second-round victory
- Claimed four top-10 wins in the span of 22 matches, the first of the kind in program history
- Defeated reigning champions No. 4 Ohio State in the round of 16 at the ITA Indoor Championship
- Claimed the program's first ITA Kickoff Weekend title with a win at No. 6 Arizona
- Defeated No. 2 TCU in the Big 12 semifinals after being picked to place sixth in the preseason poll
- Secured second-highest final team ranking in program history (No. 16), the best of southeast region teams
- Climbed as high as No. 11 in the ITA team rankings (third-best placement in program history)

During his debut season at the realm, Bruce-Burgess led the Knights to a historic inaugural campaign in the Big 12. Alongside his former player, Kareem Allaf, the tandem navigated UCF to a 7-0 start, the first in program history, before eventually attaining a 14-1 non-conference record, another school record. After being picked to finish tied for sixth in the coach's preseason poll, the Knights went 4-3 to place fourth, including wins over Baylor, Oklahoma State, Texas Tech and BYU.

The Knights would go on to defeat No. 23 Florida in the first round of the NCAA tournament, securing the program its first over the Gators and second-ever qualification to the second round. Bruce-Burgess became the first coach to attain the latter in his first year, along with the second-best overall record (19-6), the ninth-best in the team's history. UCF was tabbed No. 24 in the ITA Rankings during the regular season, its highest position since 2021. The Knights would eventually finish the season ranked 29th in the nation and third in the southeast region.

2023-24 Season Notables

- Ninth-best record in program history (19-6), the second-best percentage of any first-year coach.
- Best seven-match start (7-0) and non-conference record (14-1).
- Defeated Florida in the NCAA tournament first round, its second NCAA tournament win in program history and first over Florida.
- Second-best performance in the NCAA Tournament from any program in Florida/Georgia.
- Advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the seventh time in program history.
- Lleyton Cronje/Santiago Giamichelle crowned ITA Southeast Regional Doubles Champions.
- Placed five players on the ITA Singles/Doubles rankings.

In Bruce-Burgess' first season with the Knights in 2022, the squad posted a 16-8 record and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Championship. UCF was the top seed in the American Athletic Conference Championship Tournament in his first season and reached the final of that event. His second season with UCF in 2023 also concluded with another NCAA Championship team appearance, as well as two players named to the AAC all-league team and a national ranking of 14th. UCF players in each of his seasons were rated as the highest-ranked singles players in the league.

Under Bruce-Burgess' guidance, Marie Mattel earned two consecutive berths to the NCAA Singles Championship and was ranked as high as No. 30 in the Intercollegiate Tennis Association singles polls. Koniecko and Bruce-Burgess combined in 2023 to sign the second-ranked recruiting class in the country (by tennisrecruiting.net), including two top-five-rated United States players.

"I am thrilled to announce that Lloyd will be the next men's tennis coach at UCF," said Koniecko. "Lloyd has been a valuable member of our staff for the last two years, and his passion for excellence is unparalleled. He has an impressive tennis background, with experience in coaching, playing, and recruiting. Lloyd is someone who genuinely cares for his players and will work tirelessly to build a championship team at UCF for years to come. I look forward to seeing him lead our program to new heights."

Bruce-Burgess was named the UCF women's tennis assistant coach in July 2021. He came to UCF after two seasons as an assistant men's tennis coach at the University of Iowa, where in 2021 he helped the doubles team of Oliver Okonkwo and Will Davies to a No. 2 national ranking, the highest an Iowa doubles team has been ranked in program history. Okonkwo and Davies qualified for the NCAA Championship as the seventh doubles duo to do so in program history.

Under Bruce-Burgess' leadership, Kareem Allaf earned first-team All-Big Ten accolades for the second straight season in 2021 and became Iowa's all-time leader in wins, and Davies tied the program record for most doubles victories. In his first season at Iowa, Bruce-Burgess helped coach the Hawkeyes to a 12-2 start in 2020 and a program-best national ranking of No. 20--and the Hawkeyes were on pace to qualify for the program's first NCAA Championship before the season was canceled due to Covid-19.

Prior to Iowa, Bruce-Burgess served a short stint as an assistant at the University of South Florida for the 2019 fall campaign after serving as director of tennis for Genesis Health Clubs from 2013-19. He received director of the year honors within the health club system in 2015 and 2016.

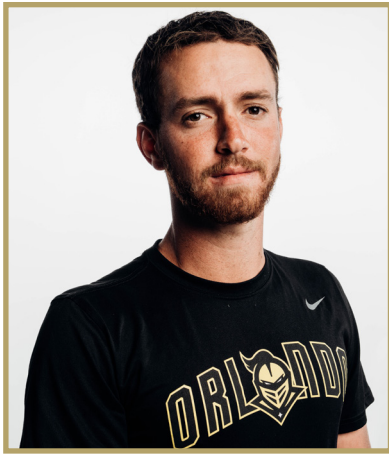

Bruce-Burgess previously coached professional tennis, working with Johnanna Konta and Renata Zarazua on the Women's Tennis Association tour. He served as a practice partner for Konta, who was ranked as high as No. 3 on the WTA tour and was a finalist in an Australian Open.

Bruce-Burgess spent one year in 2014 as a part-time volunteer assistant men's tennis coach at Wichita State (18-9 record) after a year in 2013 as assistant men's and women's coach at Fresno Pacific. The Fresno Pacific men that year ranked No. 1 in the NAIA and the women third, as the program transitioned to NCAA Division II.

A native of Brockenhurst, England, Bruce-Burgess earned his communication studies degree in 2012 from Fresno Pacific where he was a part of the 2012 NAIA national runner-up squad (25-2 team mark). He was a two-time JUCO All-American at Cowley College (Arkansas City, Kansas) where he was ranked No. 3 and No. 2 by the NJCCA in singles and doubles, respectively, on a team ranked sixth nationally. He was also tabbed the ITA Region VI Player of the Year in 2010 thanks to records of 21-2 in singles and 14-8 in doubles.

As a junior player in the United Kingdom, Bruce-Burgess was ranked among the top 50 men's players. In 2007, he qualified for the men's British Tour Masters (the top 32 players in the country).

KAREEM ALLAF

Assistant Coach - Second Season

The UCF men's tennis program announced the addition of Kareem Allaf as an assistant coach ahead of the 2023-2024 season.

Allaf played five seasons at the University of Iowa from 2016-21 and owns the program record in singles and doubles victories with 164 combined triumphs. Additionally, Allaf represented the Syrian National Team at the Davis Cup, and he will reunite with his former coach in Orlando following a year stint as a volunteer assistant at Mississippi State.

A campaign of historic moments saw UCF claim its first ITA Kickoff Weekend crown to advance to the ITA Indoor Championships, where the Knights took down the reigning champions No. 4 Ohio State in the round of 16. The Knights hosted an NCAA regional for the second time after being tabbed the nation's 15th-seed. After taking down Miami in the first round, UCF eliminated Florida for the second consecutive year to secure a spot in the Super Regionals.

Allaf and Bruce-Burgess spent time together with the Hawkeyes from 2020-21. At Iowa, Allaf consistently grew into one of the nation's top players, earning three All-Big Ten honors, with his second consecutive first-team selection garnered while Bruce-Burgess was serving as an assistant coach. His 2021 dual-match season engraved Allaf into the record books, as the Syrian native recorded 10 singles wins on court one including three triumphs over ranked opponents. A remarkable 95 career singles and 69 career doubles wins, which rank second and third in school history in each category, respectively. During his collegiate career, Allaf tallied 12 career singles victories over ranked opponents. His 22 doubles victories as a sophomore in 2018 remain third on Iowa's single-season wins list, while 23 singles victories during his freshman campaign in 2017 tie for the 11th most in a single season in the program's history.

In 2018, Allaf became the third player in program history to win the ITA Central Regional Singles Championship following victories over No. 39 and No. 45 ranked opposition. A year later, Allaf won four straight singles matches at the ITA Central Regionals to qualify for the national event, going on to defeat two nationally-ranked opponents to qualify for the ITA Main Draw, becoming just the second Hawkeye to accomplish the feat.

During the 2019 Davis Cup, Allaf led the Syrian National Team through a strong group stage performance. With victories on court two over opponents from Qatar, Malaysia and Iran, Allaf was vital in one of the most successful competitions in the nation's history.

Allaf graduated from the University of Iowa with a degree in Enterprise Leadership and a minor in communications before securing his masters in sports and recreational management.

USTA National Campus

The UCF Knights play their home matches at the UCF Collegiate Tennis Center at the USTA National Campus in Lake Nona, Florida. Both the UCF men's and women's tennis teams have played here since the campus opened in 2017.

The complex's UCF Collegiate Tennis Center features 12 plexicushion courts with seating for 1,200 fans and room for additional seating areas. It is large enough to allow two collegiate matches to be played simultaneously. The area also features a two-story pavilion including concessions and locker rooms.

Looked upon as one of the greatest facilities in the country, the NCAA agreed to host the NCAA team, singles and doubles championships at the UCF Collegiate Tennis Center in 2019, 2021 and 2021. The 2019 & 2021 championships were a hit to tennis fans throughout central Florida, as was the College MatchDay series. Televised on the Tennis Channel, elite tennis programs from across the country would compete in a highly-attended rivalry match at the USTA National Campus. The series plans to continue on making its home in Orlando. The American Athletic Conference championship tournament was also held at the collegiate tennis center in 2019.

In addition to the UCF Collegiate Tennis Center, the USTA National campus is home to over 100 tennis courts. The venue not only provides student-athletes the best of playing surfaces, but other hands on experiences to complement what they learn in the classroom.

The United States Tennis Association (USTA) established this tennis center to welcome all levels of players. This includes youth that are just beginning to learn the game all the way to professional players. Construction was finished on the tennis center in late 2016.

The USTA Player Development division moved its national headquarters from Boca Raton to Orlando, aiming to provide the best opportunities to succeed for the next generation of American tennis champions.

"This new home for American tennis will truly be a game-changer for our sport," said USTA chairman of the board and president Dave Haggerty, "This world-class facility will be an inclusive gathering place for American tennis and will allow us to impact our sport at every level, from the grassroots to the professional ranks." Along with many partners, the university will help raise private funds to contribute to the development of the center. UCF also is exploring opportunities to connect its academic programs and students with the center's operations.

Former UCF President John C. Hitt joined Haggerty, Gov. Rick Scott, Orange County Mayor Teresa Jacobs and Orlando Mayor Buddy Dyer were all a part of this process. Officials from Tavistock Group, the developer of Lake

Nona, also participated.

"UCF has embraced this project because it impacts academics, community partnerships, economic development and athletics," Hitt said. "Our students, our tennis players and our entire community will benefit from having the finest tennis facilities in the country at Lake Nona."

This new home for American tennis hosts every type of tennis event from 10-and-under team tennis events to national championships for those aged 90 and older. Additionally, the facility is conveniently located near the Orlando International Airport to accommodate visiting tennis players.

"More than a decade ago we undertook a strategic plan for the development of the southeast sector of our city," Dyer said. "The selection of Orlando for the United States Tennis Association's new divisional headquarters further enhances this area and speaks to the value of our community's assets—a talented labor force, business-friendly environment and global access via a world-class airport."

"Lake Nona is founded on the principles of innovative collaboration and inspiring human potential," said Rasesh Thakkar, senior managing director of Tavistock Group. "This campus at Lake Nona has all of the ingredients for the beginnings of a world-class sports and human performance cluster with the USTA setting the bar."
