Team Notes

- ♦ The Knights haven't won an October game since 2022, when the squad won 3-of-4 of their October matchups
- ♦ Frost is now 19-3 when leading at half at the helm on the Knights
- ♦ With the Knights outgaining Kansas in the loss (375-356) UCF now falls to 15-3 when outgaining the opponent in the Scott Frost era.

Offensive Notes

- ♦ Montgomery's opening drive touchdown marks UCF's third of the season
- ♦ Montgomery's second rushing touchdown of the night brought his career total to 10
- ♦ Duane Thomas Jr., tied his career high in catches, grabbing five on the evening
- ♦ The offense scored on every drive of the first half, starting the game off with two touchdowns and ending the half with two field goals
- ♦ With 110 yards on the night, Montgomery recorded back-to-back 100+ yard games for the first time in his collegiate career

Defensive Notes

- ♦ UCF still stands as one of the top defenses in the first quarter in the FBS, having allowed zero points in the first quarter once again, despite Kansas being one of the top first-quarter scorers with 63 points in the first this season
- ♦ Cole Kozlowski snagged his first sack of the season, taking down Jalon Daniels on the opening drive of the game
- ♦ No opponent has scored against the Knights on the opening drive all season
- ♦ The Knights grabbed the first fourth-down stop of the Jayhawks in the first quarter this season, as they were three-for-three on fourth downs in the first quarter coming into the game.
- ♦ For the first time this season, Kansas was not able to record a passing touchdown on the night

Special Teams Notes

- ♦ Anthony Venneri had a booming punt, pinning the Jayhawks at the one-yard line in the fourth quarter
