“The Most Florida Free Throw Distraction”

A storm, in multiple senses of the word, created a new tradition for Knight Nation in attendance at UCF men's basketball games. The legend goes that the night prior to the Black and Gold's first home conference game as a member of the Big 12, a massive storm rolled through campus. The wind blew down plenty of palm fronds across campus, and students picked them up and brought them into the game to use as a free throw distraction. It ended up working, as No. 3 Kansas shot just 6-for-11 from the free throw stripe in the second half in front of the student section. The fronds gave UCF that extra edge to top the Jayhawks 65-60, winning by as many points as Kansas had missed second half free throws.

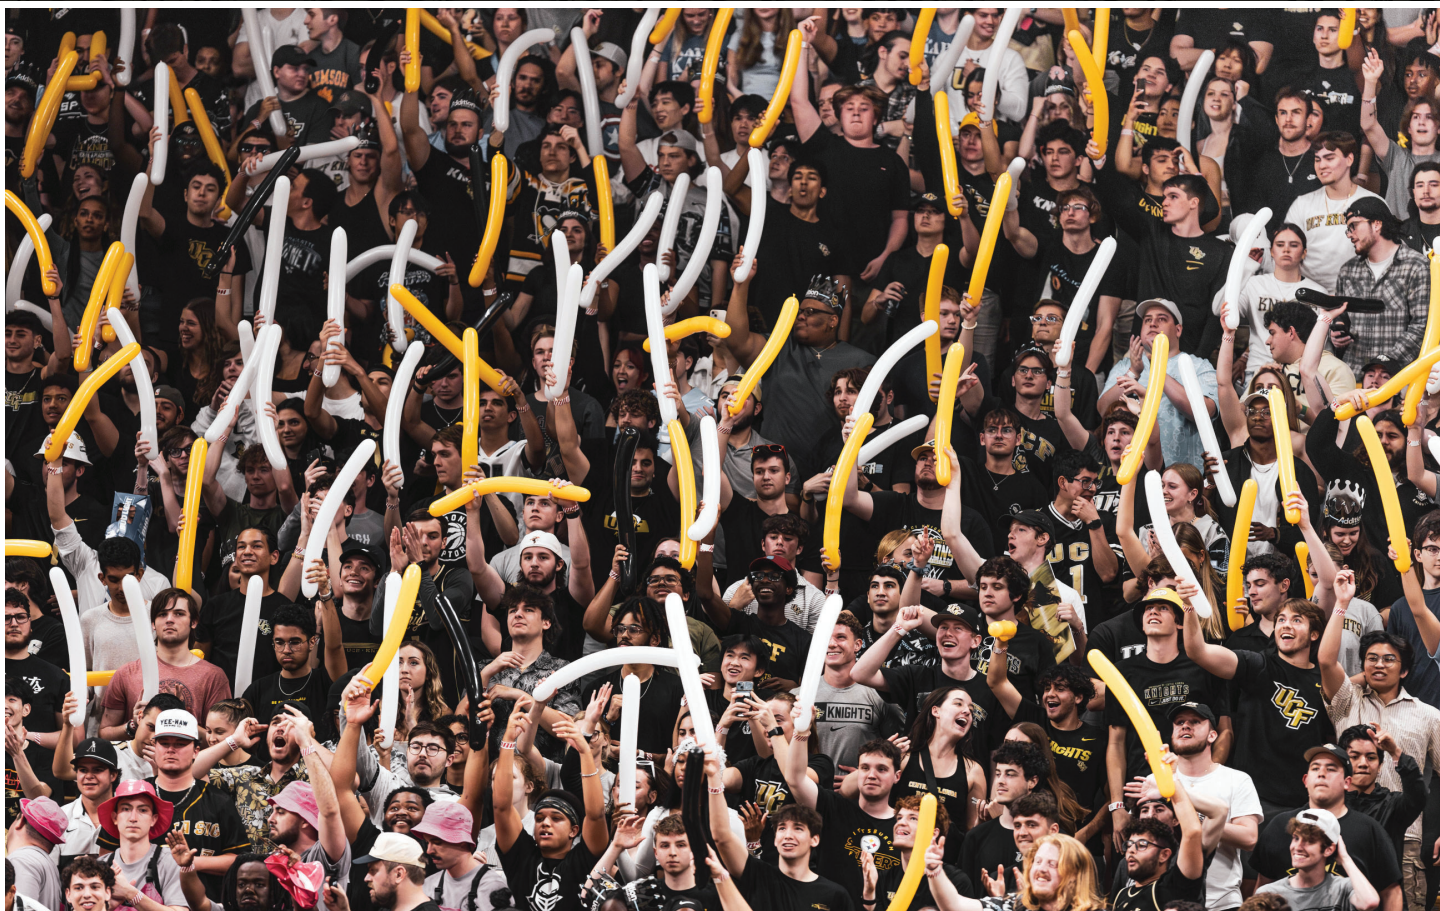

Now, that's not exactly how one of college basketball's newest traditions was born. UCF's Brand Experience team wanted to create a unique experience for the team's first season in the Big 12. Director of brand experience Tim Connor (UCF alumnus 2017) and assistant director of brand experience Lexi Campagna (UCF alumna 2022) created and executed the idea. Knight Nation immediately took to the new tradition and the country took notice. The pair were named as one of nine finalists in NACMA's "Best Of" Awards in the People's Choice - Student Engagement category.

As the flagship Big 12 institution in Florida, there's nothing more Florida than palm trees. Design elements incorporated on social media, uniforms and even the lane on the court, all included palm trees and fronds. Leaning into that element wound up creating the most Florida free throw distraction imaginable.

Not only was the new free throw distraction perfectly on brand, but it actually worked. The palm fronds caused opponents to miss nearly 10% of their second half free throws in Big 12 play and the postseason. Visiting teams made 75% of their first half free throws while making just 66.4% in the second half, accounting for a total of 44 misses.

As the final buzzer sounded on UCF's upset over No. 3 Kansas, the team's first conference win as a Big 12 member, fans stormed the court with palm fronds in hand. The Knights had topped the highest ranked opponent in program history (previously No. 4 UConn, a 68-63 neutral site win on Nov. 25, 2011).

UCF went on to beat a total of three ranked opponents during the 2023-24 Big 12 slate, all at home in front of the frond-waving faithful. The win against No. 3 Kansas was the first, followed by a 74-63 win over No. 23 Oklahoma on Feb. 3 and a 75-61 triumph over No. 23 Texas Tech on Feb. 24.

The Knights' second season in the Big 12 Conference concludes with head coach Johnny Dawkins earning his third 20-win season with the program. This season would be Darius Johnson's last after four years with the program, and his final season with UCF would be nothing short of special.

UCF put the college basketball world on notice the first night of games, upsetting No. 13 Texas A&M. Led by Johnson's 24 points, UCF made a comeback win after going down 56-45 with 6:24 remaining. A JJ Taylor putback dunk and Benny Williams and-one slam late gave the Knights all the momentum needed to win 64-61. UCF received votes in both the AP and Coaches polls in weeks two and three for the first time since Dec. 28, 2020.

The Knights went a perfect 8-0 at home in the season's non-conference slate, their first time going perfect since the 2011-12 season.

The Black and Gold opened Big 12 conference play in Lubbock, Texas, facing the Red Raiders on New Years Eve. UCF would end 2024 off with a bang, snapping Texas Tech's 8-0 home record, winning 87-83 while shooting an impressive 51.8% from the field. UCF held on to the lead and never looked back, leading with 12:31 remaining in the first half and maintaining that lead until the end of the game.

Johnson in his last home game with the Knights had a senior send-off to remember. Johnson recorded 36 points in an 83-70 win, tying Jermaine Taylor for the most points recorded by a senior on senior night.

UCF went on to be invited to the inaugural College Basketball Crown in Las Vegas playing for a share of a pool of NIL prize money. After wins against Oregon State and conference-foe Cincinnati, the Knights would find themselves in a thrilling semifinal game against Villanova. Johnson's late-game heroics shined, scoring a career-high 42 points and hitting a game-tying three pointer with 7.6 remaining in regulation to force overtime. UCF won in overtime 104-98, earning a guaranteed $100,000 of the NIL prize money pool.

UCF head coach Johnny Dawkins has led the Knights to five postseason appearances over his nine seasons in Orlando

New Knights

UCF has added 13 newcomers to the roster ahead of the 2025-26 season, bringing both depth and immediate contributors. The transfer class combined for 2,215 points last year, led by Themus Fulks’ 14.6 points per game, followed by Jamichael Stillwell and George Beale Jr., who each averaged 13.0. Fulks capped the 2024-25 season with career bests in field goal percentage (47.7) and 3-point shooting (25.9%, 14-of-54).

Stillwell, transferring from Milwaukee, recorded a program-best 10.7 rebounds per game and was named Horizon League Newcomer of the Year and First Team All-Horizon League.

Mississippi State transfers Jeremy Fournena and Riley Kugel add veteran presence. Kugel averaged 9.3 points and 3.0 rebounds while shooting 33.3% from 3-point range, while Fournena shot 75% at the free-throw line. Seven-foot guard John Bol appeared in 17 games for the Rebels, averaging 1.1 points, 0.9 rebounds and 4.1 minutes.

Forward Jordan Burks (Georgetown) headlines a trio of junior transfers, as he shot 52.1% from the field and 68.4% from the free-throw line. Carmelo Pacheco averaged 9.5 points, 1.7 rebounds and 1.3 assists per game, totaling 284 points for Mount St. Mary’s. Chris Johnson joins the Knights after spending a season at Stephen F. Austin.

Also joining the roster are Devan Cambridge (Texas Tech) and Kris Parker, who averaged 2.6 points and 1.4 rebounds in 10.0 minutes per game.

Two freshmen round out the class: Tanner Jones, who averaged 12.3 points and 6.3 rebounds as a junior, and Zach Johnson, who posted 30 points, six rebounds and five assists per game.

In July 2023, UCF joined the Big 12 Conference which meant big things for the men's basketball program as the league sent seven of its 10 teams to the 2023 NCAA Tournament and eight to the 2024 version of the tournament. UCF, BYU, Cincinnati and Houston are no longer newcomers after being added to the Big 12 ahead of the 2023-2024 season. A fresh crop of newcomers join the league ahead of the 2024-25 campaign as the league welcomes Arizona, Arizona State, Colorado and Utah.

Upon the Knights' arrival to their new league, Big 12 Conference Commissioner Brett Yormark remarked that "UCF has experienced unprecedented growth and success since becoming a Division I program." To date, the Big 12 is the home to over 80 NCAA team titles and over 740 individual national championships. Since 1985, when UCF was declared a Division I program, the men's basketball team has advanced to the NCAA Tournament five times, most recently the 2018-19 season under current head coach Johnny Dawkins.

UCF men's basketball started at the club level in 1969 under Coach Eugene "Torchy" Clark who single-handedly built the program. The Knights finished their inaugural season with an 11-3 record which built enough credibility for the team to become a Division II program the following season. The Knights worked their way into the Sunshine State Conference, a league they joined ahead of the 1975-76 campaign. From there, the team took off under Clark's guidance. In his 14 years of coaching, Clark never had a losing season in addition to bringing the Knights five Sunshine State Conference regular-season championships, one conference tournament championship and six NCAA Division II Tournament appearances in eight years. During his time, the Knights were ranked in the top 10 nationally for seven seasons. UCF's most notable season during Clark's coaching era was 1977-1978 when Clark led the Knights to a NCAA Division II Final Four appearance. Clark retired in 1983, leaving a legacy behind that still remains to this day, led by his program-leading 274 victories.

The following season, the Knights hired Ohio State's assistant coach, Chuck Machock, to follow in Clark's footsteps. In the 1983-84 season, Machock helped the Knights win their sixth Sunshine State Conference regular-season championship in their final year in the league with a 15-13 record. The 1984-85 season was UCF's first as a Division I member and the last of Machock's tenure, as the team went 10-18.

The Division I journey continued with the next UCF head coach, Phil Carter, who led the Black and Gold for four seasons. Joe Dean followed Carter, leading UCF into its first Division I affiliation, joining the American South Conference beginning in 1990-91. A year later, the league merged with the Sun Belt Conference, retaining the Sun Belt branding for the 1991-92 campaign. That season marked the first of UCF playing its games on campus in The Venue, which now serves as the volleyball arena. The Knights exited the Sun Belt that following season, going independent once again for just one season in Dean's final go-around as head coach.

Kirk Speraw, an assistant coach at University of Florida, was the next head coach of the Knights and was tasked with turning around a program that went 37-73 over the previous four seasons. The Black and Gold joined the Atlantic Sun Conference at the start of Speraw's tenure, beginning in the 1993-94 campaign. In just his first year, Speraw led UCF to its first appearance in the Division I NCAA Tournament. Two seasons later in 1996, Speraw once again led the Knights to a first-round NCAA Tournament appearance, which marked the team's second in his first three years at the helm. In the team's last two years in the Atlantic Sun Conference, the Knights won both the 2004 and 2005 conference tournaments and were the 2005 regular season champions as well, qualifying the Knights for back-to-back NCAA Tournament appearances. Still under Speraw's reign, UCF made its debut in Conference USA in 2005-06, earning a spot in the Conference USA Championship Tournament in its first year. In 2006-07, UCF finished second in the conference with an overall season record of 22-9. The team's efforts earned Speraw the 2007 Conference USA Coach of the Year honor. The Knights played their first game of the 2007-08 season in a new on-campus arena next to their old one and remain there to this day. The Knights were victorious in their arena debut with a 63-60 victory over Nevada on Nov. 11, 2007. Speraw continued to serve as the head coach through 2009-10 season, ending his 17-year tenure with the Black and Gold.

Donnie Jones, Speraw's successor, was announced in March 2010. Nine months later, UCF upset regional foe Florida, beating the 16th ranked Gators 57-54 in the first collegiate game played at the Amway Center in downtown Orlando. The victory, secured in front of 13,909 fans, got UCF off to its first 6-0 start since the 2006-07 season. The 6-0 start snowballed into a 10-0 mark and resulted in UCF's first ranking at the Division I level. The Knights were one of nine unbeaten teams at the time, climbing as high No. 19 in the AP poll and No. 18 in the coaches poll after a 14-0 start. A season later, on Nov. 25, 2011, UCF earned one of the biggest wins in program history, topping defending national champion No. 4 UConn in the Battle 4 Atlantis tournament.

The Knights' time in Conference USA came to an end in 2012-13, with UCF moving to the American Athletic Conference for the 2013-14 campaign. The Jones-led Knights were unable to produce a winning season, which in turn resulted in the keys to the program turning over to Johnny Dawkins, who had won a pair of NIT championships at Stanford. Dawkins brought the team back to a competitive state immediately, reaching the NIT semifinals his first season in 2016-17. The Black and Gold didn't stop there as Dawkins took the team to the NCAA Tournament in 2018-19 for the first time since 2005 after a 24-8 season. That campaign included an upset win over No. 9 Houston, breaking the Cougars' 33-home game winning streak. The Knights advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament after beating VCU 73-58, representing the first NCAA Tournament victory in program history.

Dawkins and the Knights wrapped up their time in The American with an NIT appearance at the conclusion of the 2022-23 season. UCF's season was highlighted by the 67-49 defeat of the Gators in Gainesville in the first round of the postseason tournament, the program's first road victory against Florida. The 2023 season wrapped up with Taylor Hendricks becoming the team's first lottery and first-round pick, as well as Dawkins earning a nod to the National Collegiate Basketball Hall of Fame for his playing days at Duke.

UCF announcement of committing to the Big 12 in the fall of 2021 caused excitement to ripple through Knight Nation. The Black and Gold's first campaign as members of the league saw plenty of excitement, including winning the conference home opener against No. 3 Kansas, resulting in a court storm. A trio of ranked wins was the most in program history and propelled the Knights to a second consecutive NIT berth, the fourth postseason appearance with Dawkins at the helm in his eight seasons.

Director of Broadcasting
31st Season
One of the area's most recognized and respected media personalities, Marc Daniels has been seen and heard in Orlando for well over 30 years. The 2025-26 sports season is Daniels' 31st year calling UCF games as the longtime play-by-play voice for football, basketball, baseball and other sports as well as hosting additional program on multiple platforms and serving as a UCF ambassador and emcee at numerous events throughout the year.

In addition to his roles as Director of Broadcasting and play-by-play voice, Daniels is the host of "The Beat of Sports" radio show on UCF's flagship radio station 96.9FM/740AM The Game/WYGM in Orlando. The show can be heard weekdays from 8:30 a.m. until noon.

2025-26 UCF MEN'S BASKETBALL

Johnny DAWKINS

Head Coach / 10th Season

UCF head men's coach Johnny Dawkins has built a particularly glossy college basketball playing and coaching catalogue—most recently including a 2025 induction to the Washington D.C. Hall of Fame and the 2023 induction into the National Collegiate Basketball Hall of Fame and selection of a UCF player in the first round of the 2023 NBA Draft.

Dawkins' resume showcases:

- ◆ 17 seasons as a major-college head coach (the last nine at UCF), including 10 postseason berths and a pair of National Invitation Tournament titles
- ◆ Extensive player development, highlighted by Taylor Hendricks' selection in the first round of the 2023 NBA Draft after only a single season at UCF
- ◆ 10 additional previous seasons of experience as an assistant coach at Duke, including NCAA Championship appearances every year, an NCAA title in 2001 and seven Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament crowns
- ◆ A nine-year NBA career that included a career double-figure scoring average
- ◆ A collegiate playing career at Duke that featured national player of the year recognition as a senior and ended his career as the Blue Devils' all-time leading scorer, later culminating with his 2023 National Collegiate Basketball Hall of Fame selection and 2025 Washington D.C. Sports Hall of Fame induction

In nine seasons at UCF, Dawkins has led the program to unprecedented heights, in the only eight-year stretch with four or more postseason appearances during the Division I era. He led the Knights to their first NCAA Championship victory in 2019. He's also responsible for producing UCF's first lottery pick after Taylor Hendricks was selected by the Utah Jazz with the ninth overall pick in the 2023 NBA Draft. In the deepest, most challenging league in college basketball, Dawkins led the Knights to seven victories in their inaugural season as members of the Big 12 Conference in 2023-24, earning a program record three ranked wins during the campaign.

Dawkins boasts nine wins over ranked opponents in his time at the helm of the Knights, accounting for over 80% of the team's wins over Associated Press top-25 teams in the program's history. The Knights led off the 2024-25 season with win over #13/15 Texas A&M, marking the first of three tries in a season opener. UCF made a statement in its inaugural home Big 12 game on Jan. 10, 2024, beating No. 3 Kansas by five after trailing by 16 at one point during the contest. The Knights went on to earn additional ranked wins over No. 23 Oklahoma and No. 23 Texas Tech during the inaugural Big 12 slate, joining the 2018-19 season as the only other campaign with multiple wins over ranked opponents in a single season.

The Knights also earned a host of other impressive wins against top-25 foes, beating 15th-ranked Florida State in Tallahassee in 2020, the program's first victory over the Seminoles. The Knights recorded consecutive victories over No. 6 Houston and No. 19 Cincinnati during the 2018-19 regular-season run to the NCAA Championship, solidifying themselves in the field of 68. UCF defeated No. 24 Alabama in December 2017, after earning the first ranked win under Dawkins on Feb. 26, 2017, beating No. 15 Cincinnati 53-49. UCF cracked the AP poll on Mar. 4, 2019, for the first time since 2011, earning a ranking of 25th late in the regular season. It was the latest into a season that the Knights had been ranked. The home finale against Cincinnati in 2019 marked the first matchup of ranked teams at Addition Financial Arena.

Dawkins was named UCF's seventh head men's basketball coach on Mar. 23, 2016.

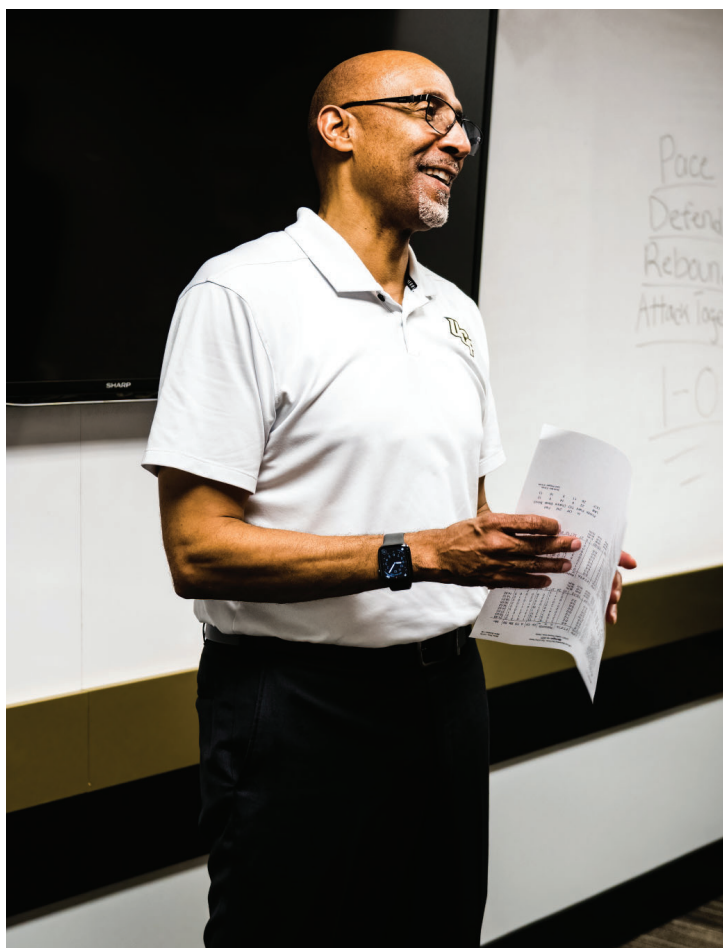

The 2019 NCAA Championship Run

The 2018-19 season was one to remember for Dawkins and the Knights, as he guided UCF to a No. 9 seed in the NCAA Championship, its highest seed in five all-time NCAA Championship appearances, and defeated eighth-seeded VCU 73-58 in first-round action.

UCF then came inches away from upsetting top overall seed Duke in the second round, ultimately falling 77-76 to fellow Hall of Famer and his former college coach Mike Krzyzewski, Zion Williamson and RJ Barrett as BJ Taylor's floater rimmed out and Aubrey Dawkins' tip-in barely missed at the buzzer.

The Knights were stellar down the stretch to secure their at-large NCAA Championship berth, winning on the road at No. 6/8 Houston to snap the Cougars' 33-game home win streak and topping No. 19/20 Cincinnati in Orlando. It marked the first time UCF had earned multiple victories over ranked opponents in the same season, and the Knights did it in back-to-back games.

Dawkins led UCF back to the NCAA Championship for the first time since 2005, and the first time as an at-large selection (with the previous four NCAA Championships as champions of the Atlantic Sun Conference Tournament in 1994, 1996, 2004 and 2005). He helped three individuals earn all-conference accolades from the American Athletic Conference in 2018-19, as UCF led the league with three honorees. BJ Taylor became the first Knight to earn first-team AAC honors, while Aubrey Dawkins was named second team and Tacko Fall added third-team honors. It marked just the second time that the Knights put multiple student-athletes on the AAC all-conference teams and the ninth time in the program's Division I history that multiple Knights earned all-conference honors in the same season (dating back to the 1993-94 season). With two players on the three all-conference teams, only Houston had more players earn all-conference honors.

Following the end of the 2018-19 regular season, Dawkins was named a finalist for the Skip Prosser Man of the Year Award and the Ben Jobe National Coach of the Year Award.

UCF finished the year 24-9, tied for the fourth most wins in a season in program history. The Knights' 23 regular-season wins marked a record in UCF's Division I era. The team went 13-5 in AAC play, the team's most league wins since joining that conference, and earned the No. 4 seed in the conference tournament for the second time in three seasons.

Dominant Defense

Known for their defense under Dawkins, the Knights ranked 11th in the nation in field-goal percentage defense, holding opponents to just 39.4 percent shooting in the 2018-19 NCAA Championship run. UCF was also 27th in scoring defense, allowing 64.5 points per game that season.

Defense always has been a priority with UCF teams, as four of Dawkins' eight seasons with the Knights have seen the team finish inside the top 50 nationally in scoring defense, including two top-10 finishes. UCF ranked third in the nation in scoring defense in 2017-18, holding teams to 61.7 points per game and 40.1% shooting, slotting the team at the No. 10 spot in the country. Dawkins' first season with UCF in 2016-17 saw the team finish No. 1 in field-goal percentage defense, limiting foes to 36.5% from the field, and No. 6 in scoring defense, with opponents averaging 61.2 points per contest.

Despite making the jump to one of the nation's toughest leagues in college hoops, UCF held its own on the defensive side of the ball. The Knights led the Big 12 in blocks per game, averaging 5.0 per game, a top 20 mark nationally throughout the year. UCF also ranked in the top 25 in steals per game at 8.7 per contest. Although they finished just outside of the top 50 national rankings for scoring defense, the Knights often held opponents well below their season averages. UCF also posted its second-highest turnovers forced per game clip during the team's first run through the Big 12, finishing in the top 40 with a mark of 14.21.

Highly-Touted Hendricks

Taylor Hendricks qualified as UCF's top recruit in program history upon his arrival prior to the 2022-23 season. He came into college as a top-100 player in two of the three major recruit rankings, as ESPN pinned him No. 54 and Rivals had him at No. 87. Hendricks lived up to the hype on opening night, dropping a team-best 23 points in his collegiate debut and finishing the season with averages of 15.3 points and 6.9 rebounds.

Through plenty of work and coaching throughout the season, Hendricks quietly began to creep into mock drafts across the country. At season's end, Hendricks had achieved two career-high marks of 25 points and recorded five double-doubles. He was the nation's only player to make 60 or more three-pointers, tally 55 or more blocks and record 35 or more dunks. He was honored with a unanimous selection to the American Athletic Conference All-Rookie Team and was named second-team All-AAC. Hendricks announced his intent to enter the NBA Draft on March 22, 2023, making him UCF's first one-and-done player. The freshman phenom later went on to become the Knights' first lottery pick as well as a first-round selection, going ninth to the Utah Jazz in the 2023 NBA Draft.

Enshrined in the College Basketball Hall of Fame

Dawkins was honored Aug. 30, 2023, as an inductee in the 18th class of the National Collegiate Basketball Hall of Fame. He was joined by former Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski, who was officially honored in the class of 2023 after initially being among the Hall of Fame's Founding Class in 2006.

Dawkins was inducted for his playing days as a Blue Devil and is one of the most decorated players in Duke history. He is regarded as a key early figure in the program's ascent to becoming a national power. From 1982-86, Dawkins piled up 2,556 points – a mark that stood as the school's scoring record until 2006 and remains second all-time. He was a two-time consensus All-American, a four-time All-ACC selection--and was recipient of the 1986 Naismith National Player of the Year award.

As a senior, Dawkins led Duke to the ACC regular-season and tournament titles, and an appearance in the NCAA National Championship game. The 10th overall pick by the Spurs in the 1986 NBA Draft, Dawkins saw action in nine professional seasons with the Spurs, 76ers and Pistons. He averaged 11.1 points and 5.5 assists through 541 career NBA games.

The Washington D.C. native was selected to be a part of the Washington D.C. Sports Hall of Fame Class of 2025. He was inducted for his playing days at Mackin Catholic High School, Duke and the NBA. He is considered one of the greatest players at the District's Mackin Catholic High School, where he earned All-America recognition before joining Duke.

The Washington D.C. Sports Hall of Fame marked the third Hall of Fame induction for Dawkins. His jersey was retired in 1996 as he was inducted into the Duke Athletics Hall of Fame. In 2023, he was an inductee in the 18th class of the National Collegiate Basketball Hall of Fame.

UCF Player Honors

Multiple players have earned conference and national honors under Dawkins' tenure. Tacko Fall earned a spot on the Lefty Driesell Defensive All-America team in 2016-17 and was named the American Athletic Conference Defensive Player of the Year. B.J. Taylor earned first-team All-AAC and NABC first-team All-District honors in 2018-19.

Seven nods to the All-AAC Team were awarded while the Knights were members of that league. An additional three All-Rookie Team honors were earned, all over the last three seasons. Taylor Hendricks earned second-team All-Conference honors as well as a unanimous nod to the All-Rookie Team in 2022-23, as well as tallying a record nine conference rookie-of-the-week accolades. Darius Johnson and Isaiah Adams preceded Hendricks in earning All-Rookie Team nods in 2021-22 and 2020-21, respectively. Aubrey Dawkins (2018-19) and Taylor (2016-17) are the other Knights who received All-AAC second-team honors, while Darin Green Jr. (2021-22), Brandon Mahan (2020-21), Darius Perry (2020-21) and Fall (2018-19) all were members of an AAC third team.

Johnson added to his decorated career as a Knight with an All-Big 12 Honorable Mention honor in UCF's first season in the Big 12 (2023-24). He was joined by fellow junior guard Jaylin Sellers and fifth year forward Ibrahima Diallo on the honorable mention list.

Keyshawn Hall and Johnson were both honored by the Big 12 Conference at the end of the 2024-25 season. Hall was named to the All-Big 12 Second Team and All-Newcomer Team while Johnson was tabbed as All-Big 12 Honorable Mention for the second consecutive season.

Postseason Pushes

On top of the NCAA Championship run in 2018-19, the Knights have punched three tickets to the NIT under Dawkins' direction, as he has led UCF to the postseason in half of his eight seasons at the helm of the Black and Gold. That number of postseason appearances is more than half of the SEC, ACC and Big Ten combined over that stretch.

UCF's most recent NIT bid saw the squad earn a No. 4 seed. In 2023, the Knights traveled to Gainesville, Florida, and handily beat Florida 67-49, UCF's first road victory against the Gators in program history. The Knights were the only team to hold Florida under 50 points all season. It was the sixth time that season UCF limited an opponent to 50 points or fewer. The Knights' run came to an end in their inaugural meeting with top-seeded Oregon in Eugene.

The 2016-17 season took UCF to New York's Madison Square Garden in Dawkins' first year at the helm of the Knights. UCF hosted its first NIT game, defeating Colorado for the program's first postseason win in an NIT or NCAA game. The Knights went on to defeat top-seeded Illinois State on the road, before coming home to the first sellout crowd at Addition Financial Arena and winning 68-58 over Illinois to earn a spot in the NIT semifinals. Under Dawkins' leadership, UCF led all NCAA Division I teams in defensive field-goal percentage, holding opponents to just 36.5 percent from the floor. The Knights were also sixth in the nation, allowing only 61.2 points per game, and gave up 45 or fewer points in four games over the course of the year. Dawkins was a finalist for both the Jim Phelan and Ben Jobe National Coach of the Year awards in his first season at UCF. Matt Williams set UCF records for three-pointers in a career, season and game, before signing a professional contract with the Miami Heat.

Notable Notes

In UCF's Dec. 11, 2021, win over North Carolina A&T, Dawkins picked up his 100th victory with the Knights, becoming the fastest coach in program history and just the third one to do so. He earned his 300th career victory in the Black and Gold's 74-63 win over No. 23 Oklahoma. Following the end of the 2023-24 season, Dawkins stands 148-103 all-time as head coach of the Knights, a winning percentage of .590, currently the second highest in program history and first during the Division I era, trailing only Torchy Clark's .755 mark.

In nine years, Dawkins has done a similarly successful job with his players in the classroom. With Dawkins at the helm, the Knights men's basketball program recorded an average semester team grade-point average over 3.0 for the first time in recorded history in 2018. Then the Knights did it again, setting a program record with an average semester GPA of 3.03 in spring 2019. Under Dawkins' watch, more than 45 nods have been earned by Knights on the AAC All-Academic team.

Coach Dawkins thanks the student section for coming, as he does after every win, after beating No. 23 Oklahoma for career victory number 300.

When Dawkins took over at UCF, the Knights had gone 12-18 the season before and hadn't finished above .500 since 2012-13. He led UCF to a 24-12 record in his first season at the helm, the sixth-best turnaround in the nation. With just seven scholarship players due to transfers and injuries, the Knights earned the fourth seed – their highest ever – in the American Athletic Conference Tournament, eventually falling to league champion SMU in the semifinals.

Stanford Stint

Stanford put together four 20-win seasons in Dawkins' tenure as head coach. He is only the second coach in Stanford history with at least four 20-win seasons. Stanford's success on the court came against some of the toughest schedules in the nation. During the 2015-16 season, the Cardinal faced the sixth-most difficult slate in the country—with a nation-leading 17 of Stanford's 30 games against RPI top-50 squads. Stanford's strength of schedule was rated in the top 50 each of his final four seasons, including two in the top 20, with an average rank of 27.75.

The Cardinal basketball program also excelled in the classroom during Dawkins' tenure, earning at least three Pac-12 All-Academic selections for five consecutive seasons and producing back-to-back Pac-12 Scholar-Athlete of the Year recipients (2014, 2015). Stanford also received annual national academic recognition, with three players earning National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) Honors Court status in 2015. The Cardinal were one of 20 NCAA Division I teams to earn an NABC Team Academic Excellence Award in 2016.

In 2012, Dawkins mentored Chasson Randle to become the consummate student-athlete. Randle finished that season as Stanford's all-time leading scorer and earned the program's initial first-team Academic All-America selection since 2006. Under Dawkins, Stanford recorded back-to-back perfect Academic Progress Rate (APR) scores of 1,000 in both the 2012-13 and 2013-14 reports.

Player development was also markedly improved at Stanford under Dawkins' tutelage. Four Cardinal players were selected in the NBA Draft following their collegiate careers—including 2014 first-round pick Josh Huestis.

The Washington, D.C., native coached for 10 years under the legendary Mike Krzyzewski at Duke. During Dawkins' decade as a coach at Duke, the Blue Devils won a national championship (2001), tallied six ACC regular-season championships, recorded seven ACC Tournament titles and posted a 330-60 (.846) record. In four consecutive seasons from 1999-2002, Duke finished the regular season ranked No. 1 in both national polls, a first in college basketball history. Duke reached a No. 1 national ranking in seven of 10 seasons with Dawkins on the coaching staff.

While at Duke, he also served as the player personnel director for the USA Basketball Senior National Team from 2006-08.

Decorated at Duke

Following a prolific high school career at Mackin Catholic High School in Washington, D.C. (McDonald's All-American and third-team Parade All-American), Dawkins made his way to Duke, where he would become one of the most decorated players to set foot in Durham, North Carolina.

He played for the Blue Devils from 1982-83 through 1985-86, earning consensus All-America honors twice (1985, 1986). Dawkins was also voted the 1986 Naimsmith National Player of the Year and named a Freshman All-American in 1983. During his collegiate career, he helped lead Duke to three NCAA Championship berths, including an NCAA title-game appearance in 1986. He was an All-ACC honoree all four seasons as a Blue Devil. Dawkins helped Duke win the 1986 ACC Tournament title in his senior season, claiming the MVP award in the process.

Dawkins finished his career as the school's all-time leading scorer and held that honor until 2006 when J.J. Redick surpassed his mark of 2,556 points. He recorded double-figure point totals in 129 of 133 collegiate games. Dawkins led the Blue Devils in scoring all four years, recording the fourth-highest season point total in school history with 809 in 1986. Dawkins remains Duke's career record-holder in field goals (1,026) and field goals attempted (2,019) while also setting the school's single-season mark for field goals (331) during the 1986 campaign.

Dawkins was inducted into the Duke Sports Hall of Fame in September 1996. His jersey number 24 was retired by the school.

Professional Experience

A 1986 first-round NBA Draft pick (10th overall) by San Antonio, Dawkins saw action in nine NBA seasons with the Spurs (1986-89), Philadelphia 76ers (1989-94) and Detroit Pistons (1994-95). He averaged 11.1 points, 2.5 rebounds and 5.5 assists over 541 career NBA games.

Giving Back to the Game

Dawkins has served as a member of the National Association of Basketball Coaches Board of Directors since 2012. He currently serves on the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Ethics Coalition, an independent committee of current and former coaches, charged with promoting ethical conduct through leadership, education and mentoring opportunities, while identifying key issues challenging the coaching community.

Robbie LAING

Associate Head Coach
10th Season
Troy, 1982

Robbie Laing was named an assistant coach for UCF Men's Basketball in April of 2016 under head coach Johnny Dawkins. He was later promoted to Associate Head Coach in September of 2024.

In nine seasons on staff, Laing has helped the Knights to a 168-120 overall record. With him on staff, the Knights have had success, including the program's first at-large berth to the NCAA Tournament and the school's first NCAA Tournament win, a first round victory over VCU in 2018-19. The Knights were a nine seed in the tourney, their highest seed in five NCAA Tournament appearances, and defeated the eighth seeded Rams, 73-58 in first-round action.

Laing led the charge in the recruitment of Taylor and Tyler Hendricks, both of whom joined the team's roster for the 2022-23 season. He maintained a strong relationship with the twins and their family from high school on. Taylor went on to lead the team in scoring, blocks and a multitude of other categories in a phenomenal freshman campaign, one that led to him becoming the program's first one-and-done, as well as first lottery pick in the NBA draft. Taylor was selected ninth overall in the 2023 NBA Draft to the Utah Jazz, the second of UCF's selections in the modern draft era.

The Knights found success in their first year in the Big 12 Conference. UCF tallied seven victories during the conference slate, with all wins coming against legacy league foes. The Black and Gold earned three ranked wins along the way, the most in a single season in program history, topping No. 3 Kansas, No. 23 Oklahoma and No. 23 Texas Tech and holding each to under 65 points. The Knights earned the No. 12 seed at their inaugural Big 12 Conference Championship, drawing No. 13 Oklahoma State. After erasing a 12-point deficit in a win in Stillwater during the regular season, UCF dominated the Cowboys in the opening game of the league tournament, winning 77-62. The Knights earned their second straight nod to the postseason and fourth in the last eight campaigns by taking part in the NIT, earning a No. 4 seed. Ibrahima Diallo, Darius Johnson and Jaylin Sellers were named All-Big 12 Honorable Mention following the conclusion of the regular season.

The Knights had some remarkable moments during their 2022-23 run to the NIT. UCF won the Baha Mar Hoops Bahamas Championship by beating Oklahoma State 60-56 in overtime, the program's first win over a Big 12 opponent, before earning a 57-50 win over Santa Clara in the title game. The Knights earned a double overtime win over Memphis, topping the Tigers 107-104. UCF set the program record for the most three-pointers in a single game in program history, sinking 17 triples against Tulsa in a 96-52 home victory. The Black and Gold went on to set the program's single-season record for made three-pointers at 295. The Knights matched up with fourth-seeded Florida in the first round of the NIT, travelling up to Gainesville and returning to Orlando with an remarkable 67-49 victory. UCF finished the season with a 19-15 record as its run came to an end in the second round of the NIT against top-seeded Oregon.

In 2021-22, the Knights posted an 18-12 overall record, including a 9-9 mark in The American. UCF accrued a number of impressive victories on the season, taking down Michigan, Miami, Memphis and Wichita State (for the first time) in the regular season, as well as rival South Florida in the first round of the conference tournament to end the Bulls' season. Junior Darin Green Jr. was named third team all-conference and freshman Darius Johnson picked up conference all-freshman team accolades.

The COVID-19 pandemic affected 2020-21 season saw the Knights play one of the most difficult non-conference schedules in the nation, including Oklahoma, Auburn, Michigan and Florida State. UCF defeated Auburn at home and won at 15th-ranked Florida State, the program's first victory over the Seminoles.

COVID-19 halted the 2019-20 season before the AAC Tournament could get underway, and the Knights finished the year with a record of 16-14. UCF earned wins over rival South Florida, Tulsa, SMU and on the road at Cincinnati for the first time in program history.

UCF earned its first at-large bid into the NCAA Tournament in 2018-19, winning 23 regular season games, which matched a program record in the Division I era. The team's 24 wins overall were the fourth most in school history. The season was highlighted by the program's first NCAA Tournament victory, beating VCU 73-58 in first round action. The Knights' season came to an end at the hands of the top overall seed, Duke, falling 77-76 in the final seconds. UCF cracked into the AP Top 25 poll for the first time since 2011 after winning back-to-back games against ranked opponents late in the season. The Knights defeated No. 6/8 Houston to snap the Cougars' 33-game home win streak and then took down No. 19/20 Cincinnati in Orlando. At that point, it was the first time UCF had earned multiple victories over ranked opponents in the same season. Laing helped mentor three Knights to all-league honors, as BJ Taylor (first team), Aubrey Dawkins (second team) and Tacko Fall (third team) earned all-conference honors from The American. Fall was named the league Defensive Player of the Year and Matt Williams set new UCF and American Athletic Conference records for three-pointers made in a game, single season and career.

While the team dealt with major injuries in 2017-18, the Knights still managed to achieve a lot. They earned 19 wins, including the program's first home win over UConn, first road win over Memphis and first win over a ranked opponent in a true road game, defeating No. 24 Alabama.

The Knights had immediate success with Laing on Dawkins' staff, going 24-12 in 2016-17, doubling the team's win total from the year before. UCF earned a bid to the NIT and made it all the way to the NIT Semifinals in New York City. The Knights led the nation in defensive field goal percentage, holding opponents to 36.5 percent from the floor, and ranked sixth in scoring defense, allowing just 61.2 points per game.

From 2003-13 Laing was the head coach at Campbell University in Buies Creek, North Carolina, for 10 seasons. Laing's most successful season came in 2009-10 when he guided the Camels to an Atlantic Sun Conference regular-season title, winning a school-record 19 games. He was tabbed the league's coach of the year that season along with being recognized as the District 3 Coach of the Year by the National Basketball Coaches Association. The following season, Laing and the Camels were ranked in the mid-major college top-25 poll for the first time in school history.

During his career, Laing has been an assistant coach at a number of Division I programs, including Florida Atlantic (2014-16), Kansas State (2000-03), Southern Mississippi (1999-00), Auburn (1994-96), Clemson (1993-94), Georgia Southern (1984-86, 1987-93), Western Kentucky (1986-87) and Troy (1982-84). He got his first collegiate head coaching job in 1996 at Jones County Junior College in Ellisville, Mississippi, where he spent three seasons at the helm.

Laing graduated from Lakeside High School in Eufaula, Alabama, where he was a standout in basketball and football. Following high school, he went to play football at Vanderbilt for one season. He then transferred to Northwest Florida State to play basketball. The squad posted a 22-11 record only to see OWJC drop the program, sending Laing to Seminole State Community College, where he garnered All-America honors. Laing then transferred to Troy where he earned a degree in biology and physical education in 1982. The following year, Laing went to Georgia Southern to earn his master's degree in physical education.

He and his wife, Dana are parents of five children: Ansley, Christian, Earl, Madison and Nathan, who played at UCF from 2016-18.

Tyson WATERMAN

Assistant Coach/Recruiting Coordinator

Third Season

Winthrop, 2000

Tyson Waterman joined the UCF men's basketball staff as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator in July 2023 and enters his third season with the Knights in 2025-26. He previously spent five seasons as an assistant coach at Wichita State.

In his second season at UCF, Waterman helped guide one of the Big 12's most dynamic backcourts. Under his direction, Keyshawn Hall led the conference in scoring and earned All-Big 12 Second Team honors, while Darius Johnson ranked fifth in the league in points per game and collected All-Big 12 Honorable Mention recognition.

Waterman's impact was felt immediately in his first year with the Knights, which also marked UCF's debut in the Big 12. The Black and Gold tallied seven conference victories—all against legacy league opponents—and collected three wins over ranked foes, the most in a single season in program history. The Knights defeated No. 3 Kansas, No. 23 Oklahoma, and No. 23 Texas Tech, holding each to under 65 points. UCF's defense remained a strength, finishing top 22 nationally in blocks and steals per game and top 45 in turnovers forced.

At Wichita State, Waterman was promoted to recruiting coordinator in 2021 after serving as an assistant coach since 2018. He helped recruit Tyson Etienne, the 2019 American Athletic Conference Co-Player of the Year, along with three other players who earned AAC postseason honors. During his tenure, the Shockers captured the 2020-21 AAC regular-season title and advanced to the NCAA Tournament, following an NIT semifinal run the previous year. Waterman worked extensively with point guards and wings in skill development and player growth.

Before making the leap to Division I coaching, Waterman founded Believe Academy in Rock Hill, South Carolina, building the prep school into a national powerhouse from 2010-18 across two stints. He also spent the 2014-15 season as an assistant coach at Southeastern Louisiana under Jay Ladner.

As a player, Waterman starred at Winthrop from 1995-2000. He finished his career as the program's fourth all-time leading scorer (1,461 points) and third in assists (459). A native of Hemingway, South Carolina, Waterman attended the Sanford School in Hockessin, Delaware, a nationally recognized prep program. His formative experience there later inspired him to establish Believe Academy.

Adam Hood

Assistant Coach
Second Season
Air Force, 2008

Adam Hood joined the UCF men's basketball staff as an assistant coach in May 2024 and enters his second season with the Knights in 2025-26.

In Hood's first season on Dawkins staff, he made an immediate impact as UCF's offensive coordinator. The Knights treated fans to a fast and exciting brand of basketball that allowed UCF to score at least 85 points 13 times. UCF earned a berth in the championship game of the inaugural College Basketball Crown with wins over Oregon State, Cincinnati, and Villanova before falling to eventual champion Nebraska. The Knights reached the 20 win mark with Keyshawn Hall earning 2nd Team All Big 12 honors while Darius Johnson landed on the Honorable Mention All Big 12 squad.

Along with Hall, point guard Darius Johnson finished fourth in Big 12 scoring at 17.4 points per game and combo guard Jordan Ivy-Curry checked in at 20th with 13.1 points per game. Johnson also ranked 4th in assists (4.3) in the Big 12.

Hood came to Orlando after eight seasons at UTSA, where he helped guide the Roadrunners' offense and spearheaded recruiting efforts. He was instrumental in signing some of the program's all-time greats, including career scoring leader Jhivvan Jackson and No. 2 scorer Keaton Wallace, both Texas-based recruits. Under his offensive direction, UTSA ranked among the nation's top 40 in pace of play four times.

Before UTSA, Hood spent two seasons as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Columbia (2014-16). He played a key role in the development of two-time First Team All-Ivy League guard Maodo Lo, who graduated as Columbia's third all-time leading scorer. Dwayne ANDERSON II

First Season
Villanova, 2009

Dwayne Anderson joined the UCF men's basketball staff in June of 2025 as an assistant coach.

Anderson comes to UCF after spending the previous seven seasons at Villanova. A former Wildcat himself, Anderson suited up for the squad from 2005 until his graduation in 2009. He returned to the program in May of 2018 as the team's director of basketball operations under his former head coach, Jay Wright, until his promotion to assistant coach in 2021.

His first season in the assistant coach role proved to be a successful one, opening with a trip to the Final Four, the first since the squad's national title win in the 2018 season, eventually falling to national champions Kansas. Anderson's coaching stint at Villanova concluded with a trip to the inaugural College Basketball Crown, where Anderson faced his future program in the semifinal round, as the Knights eventually took down the Wildcats, 104-98, in an overtime victory for a bid to the finals and a chance at the crown.

Before Anderson had a successful coaching career at Villanova, he was a part of one of the winningest teams in Wildcat history, contributing to squads that compiled a 102-37 overall record (.734), including a 9-4 record (.692) in NCAA Tournament play. Upon his graduation in 2009, Anderson, alongside Shane Clark, Dante Cunningham, and Frank Tchuiri, were the winningest class in the school's history. His successful collegiate campaign bore four straight NCAA appearances, including a trip to the NCAA's Elite Eight in his freshman season and a starting spot on the 2007-08 squad who advanced to the Sweet 16.

Anderson's playing career at Villanova was highlighted by his senior season, where he averaged 9.0 points and 6.2 rebounds an outing. As captain for the Wildcats that season, Anderson led the charge in earning the Wildcats' their first NCAA Final Four appearance in 24 years as he averaged 13.2 points and 8.6 rebounds per game in the Big East and NCAA Tournaments, including a career-high 25 points in an NCAA first-round victory over American. The unit fell to North Carolina in the Final Four, but Anderson was able to tally 11 rebounds, six points, and three steals against the eventual national champions.

Prior to Villanova, Anderson coached at Penn State University, starting his career there in 2013. Anderson would remain there for the next five seasons, working with the Nittany Lions' big men to create more effective players on both ends of the court. He tutored Ross Travis, who is third on the program's all-time rebounding list, and Brandon Taylor, who finished his career as one of only nine Nittany Lions to record more than 1,000 points and 600 rebounds. Anderson also worked with Jordan Dickerson and Donovan Jack, both of whom rank in Penn State's top 10 for career blocks and hold spots on the single-season list as well.

Before he began his coaching career, Anderson spent time overseas playing professionally, starting in 2011 with BG Göttingen in Germany, where he earned a spot on the German All-Star team his first season. Anderson competed there for the next two seasons before moving his talents to Italy, where he played for Piacenza for the 2011-2012 campaign. In August 2012, Anderson chose to return to Germany and signed with the S. Oliver Baskets in the German Basketball League. There, he averaged 13.4 points per game and 7.2 rebounds per game, and was named to the German All-Star team for a second time.

In addition to his playing career overseas, Anderson also served as a volunteer coach for BG74, an under-13 and under-18 youth program, in Göttingen, Germany, from 2009-11 and launched his own T-shirt and apparel brand called ROBY - Rock Out Be You in 2012.

Anderson is married to another former Villanova athlete, Lindsay Davis, who competed as a diver for the Wildcats from 2006-09. The couple have two sons, Dash and Nova.

Game 1 • UCF 64, #13/15 Texas A&M 61 November 4, 2024 Orlando, Fla.

In the midst of the euphoric chaos unfolding on the floor around him, senior guard Darius Johnson reflected on the job he and his team accomplished.

"It's a great experience, but we're supposed to get that win. We went into the game expecting to win, and nothing less."

Johnson, in the first game of his fourth season donning the Black and Gold, took up his mantle as their leader, dropping a game-high 24 points to lead the UCF men's basketball team to a statement 64-61 opening night upset victory over the No. 13 Texas A&M Aggies at Addition Financial Arena Monday evening.

The winning effort represented the 11th over a ranked opponent in program history, the fourth in the last two years, and the first in three tries in a season-opener.

In the current calendar year alone, the Knights have now toppled four top 25 opponents on their home floor, also besting then-No. 3 Kansas Jan. 10, then-No. 23 Oklahoma Feb. 3, and then-No. 23 Texas Tech Feb. 24. The contest also marked the ninth of UCF's 11 all-time ranked wins to have been achieved under Dawkins.

A testament to head coach Johnny Dawkins' Monday evening's feat, the first win by UCF in the first meeting between the two programs, was accomplished with just two returning players who played tonight from the 2023-24 campaign, Johnson and sophomore guard Nils Machowski.

"What an opening game, to play against a team with that type of experience and talent. I thought it was great for our team," Dawkins said. "You bring in 11 new guys, you don't know what to expect, and they showed me something today. They can play with composure and the moment wasn't too big for them. They beat a really good, well-coached team."

The Knights gained momentum early with a hot hand from beyond the arc and later iced the game from the free throw line.

Staring up at a 10-point deficit for the fourth time, UCF, having made just five field goals through the first 10:58 of the second half, made the adjustment against a staunch Aggies defense that led the SEC in rebounding and ranked fifth in scoring defense last season.

The Black and Gold forced 17 free throw attempts through the game's final six minutes and 51 seconds, converting 13 to help erase a 54-44 Aggies advantage and end the contest with eight unanswered points. Two key blocks by sophomore JJ Taylor on the defensive end, both coming in the final two minutes, were not lost on Johnson as crucial moments in halting any late Texas A&M momentum.

"JJ, he made a lot of great plays down the stretch, defensively and offensively," Johnson continued. "He had a great offensive rebound to put us up one, which was a huge play down the stretch. As leaders and older guys on the team, we've been pushing JJ to get more out of him, and he's been doing a great job with that. He came out and showcased his abilities tonight."

A shaky start that saw the Knights fail on each of their first eight tries from the field was quickly shoved aside with an emphatic dunk by junior transfer Keyshawn Hall, giving UCF its first two points of the season while trimming the Aggies' lead to 6-2 just under five minutes in.

Taylor opened the floodgates moments later, drilling his team's first 3-point shot of the night to ignite a stretch that saw him score seven on the strength of four consecutive made tries from the line.

Johnson, on the heels of his single-season career best 15.2 points per game a year ago, connected on his first two tries from beyond the arc around a converted Jordan Ivy-Curry 3-point try, slimming Texas A&M's lead to 23-18 with 8:03 on the first-half clock.

Ivy-Curry then followed an Aggies dunk with four more points of his own to keep his team close, then joined Johnson in making consecutive triples to help the Knights to a 29-29 tie at halftime.

"They have a lot of character," Dawkins said. "We worked out this summer and fall, and what I saw are guys who love to compete and love to win. We're playing against each other in practice, it's very competitive, and that's how you get better. They did a good job understanding what they need to do to work their way back in the game."

Johnson added two more 3-point shots in the early stages of the second half before the Aggies built their lead back up to double figures, coming one triple shy of tying his single-game career high of six he set against the BYU Cougars March 13, 2024.

Having entered the season just 58 points shy of 1,000 in his career, the veteran guard also now needs just 34 more to become the 21st Knight in program history to reach the plateau, and join Ivy-Curry and Jaylin Sellers as the third Knight on the active roster with a 1,000-point resume.

In their respective UCF debuts, Ivy-Curry (16), Taylor (10) and Hall (10) joined Johnson in double-digit scoring, while freshman Moustapha Thiam, made his first five-star recruit and the highest-ranked recruit in program history, made his seven-foot, two-inch frame felt with six blocks, finishing two shy of the program's single-game record.

"This is a statement game," Johnson continued. "Moving forward we want to make people respect us."

Game 2 • UCF 75, Purdue Fort Wayne 68 November 8, 2024 Orlando, Fla.

The UCF men's basketball team eared its second victory in as many contests to tipoff the 2024-25 campaign, posting a 75-68 win over Purdue Fort Wayne on Friday night.

A number of performers jumped off the stat sheet. Jordan Ivy-Curry led the scoring with 18 points while Keyshawn Hall was the first Knight to earn a double-double on the season, scoring 14 points and hauling in 12 rebounds. Rookie Moustapha Thiam was brilliant again, this time on the offensive side of things, earning 13 points and grabbing six boards. While not reaching double-digits, Darius Johnson had seven assists to go with his seven points.

The stat sheet didn't have many tallies to start the contest as there was just one basket made through the first six minutes of play. Purdue Fort Wayne added their second triple with 13:56 left on the clock, making it 6-0 in favor of the visitors, a squad predicted to win the Horizon League this season.

UCF missed its first nine shots on the evening, including four of which were from three. The Knights finally got on the board with a pair of free throws from Keyshawn Hall with 13:37 to play in the first. UCF found its stride after that, hitting its next four shots. Darius Johnson tossed in a layup, followed by a dunk from Rokas Jocius to level the score and a Benny Williams layup for the lead at 8-6. A Jordan Ivy-Curry steal led to a quick pass and a driving dunk by Nils Machowski to really get UCF's momentum rolling.

Machowski contributed a free throw and a triple to give UCF a lead at 16-10 with 8:29 left in the period. A Moustapha Thiam free throw made it 17-10, which was the largest lead of the first half. The advantage was again seven at 23-16 with just over five minutes remaining, but from there Purdue Fort Wayne chipped away, cutting its deficit to just one at halftime.

The Mastodons came out of the break firing, scoring the first six points of the second half to take a five-point lead, forcing UCF to burn a timeout. The Knights quickly erased the brief deficit, as Johnson drove in for a tough layup, followed by a Dallan "Deebo" Coleman triple, his first three-points as a Knight.

The next 10 minutes of game action acted like a metronome, as anytime a Mastodon would score, a Knight swayed the momentum back like clockwork to either tie or cut into the deficit. UCF drew even five times in that 10-minute span but were unable to jump in front.

The Knights finally drew ahead by one with 8:20 after a Hall made free throw with 8:40 to play, but saw Purdue Fort Wayne go back up by four with just under seven minutes remaining. Thiam hit a beautiful hook shot to slice the deficit back to 64-60 before he hit another jumper to tie things up with 5:46 to play.

Ivy-Curry was the one to put the Knights ahead for good, driving in for a layup with 3:45 left. Thiam added another clutch two points 40 seconds later. Purdue Fort Wayne tossed in a layup to cut things back to two, but that was the closest they got the rest of the way. Johnson, Ivy-Curry and Hall were responsible for the final five points of the game in the 75-68 win.

UCF's defense was in lockdown mode in the final moments of action as the Mastodons missed nine of their final 10 shots of the contest. The defensive side of the ball was solid the entirety of the evening, building on Monday night's performance against the Aggies. The Black and Gold forced 13 Purdue Fort Wayne turnovers after luring Texas A&M into a dozen in game one. The Knights snatched eight steals on Friday night after swiping nine in the opener.

The frond waving faithful showed up yet again for the Knights in the second half, helping to force the Mastodons to miss their first three free throws of the second half and finish the final frame going just two-of-five. Purdue Fort Wayne got to the charity stripe just seven times on the evening, going four-for-seven overall. The story was completely different on the flip side for the Black and Gold as they marched to the line 30 times, sinking 23 chances. The seven attempted Mastodon free throws was the lowest since Stetson went three-for-five from the stripe on Dec. 21, 2022 in a 73-58 Knights win.

Johnson's seven assists on the evening gives him an impressive dozen to start the campaign. It's the most in a pair of games to begin the season since Coach Dawkins' first season at UCF when B.J. Taylor tallied 15 assists in to begin the 2016-17 campaign. Hall's double-double was the 10th of his career after he recorded nine last season.

The win was the 150th victory at UCF for Coach Dawkins. Plenty of memorable games come to mind when looking back on the 150 mark, including a handful of court storms and milestone victories that helped shape the program into its current state today. Nine of UCF's 11 wins over ranked opponents have been under the direction of Coach Dawkins. The Knights celebrated his 300th career win last season with a triumphant 74-63 win over No. 23 Oklahoma on Feb. 3 last season.

Game 7 • UCF 84, Milwaukee 76 November 27, 2024 Orlando, Fla.

Though the officially-recognized beginning of Thanksgiving and its accompanying traditions may have still been a day away at the time of tipoff, Knights veteran guard Darius Johnson got a head start on his feast.

"I had an extraordinary night shooting the ball from three," he said with a smile. "I rarely think that would happen again, but it's great. I know my teammates are going to have nights like that as well."

The senior's career-high eight 3-point shots and 28-point performance both marked game highs, as the UCF men's basketball team followed Johnson's lead to an 84-76 Thanksgiving eve victory over the Milwaukee Panthers at Addition Financial Arena Wednesday night.

The winning effort represented a welcome bounce-back for the Black and Gold (5-2), who recently battled through their first two losses of the season to then-No. 19 Wisconsin and LSU at the Greenbrier Tip-off in White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, Nov. 22-24.

Johnson's Wednesday exploits represented the latest in a recent trend of his most prolific offensive games coming within the current calendar year. His 28-point evening on 9-for-14 shooting (8-for-10 3PT) marked the fourth-highest scoring game of his career, all of which have come within his last 16 games.

The guard also produced 29 points (10-for-23, 5-for-15 3PT) against the West Virginia Mountaineers Feb. 20, 2024, 33 points (9-for-13, 5-for-6 3PT) in UCF's 79-77 win at TCU March 9, 2024, and 32 points (12-for-22, 6-for-8 3PT) in the Knights' second-round Big 12 Championship loss to then-No. 20

BYU March 13, 2024.

His Wednesday showing represented the highest-scoring effort on his home floor of his career, and marked the second-most made 3-point shots by a player in a single game in the Dawkins era, trailing only Matt Williams' 11 against South Florida Jan. 17, 2017.

UCF saw balanced production on the offensive end to begin the affairs Wednesday, as the combination of Dallan "Deebo" Coleman, Rokas Jocius, JJ Taylor and Benny Williams each factored into the team's first nine points.

After the Panthers (5-3) hit one of two free throw tries to extend a modest lead to 11-9 with just under 14 minutes to play in the first half, Johnson and fifth year guard Jordan Ivy-Curry both aided in shifting the offensive momentum back to their end.

Johnson notched eight straight points for the Black and Gold, including his first two triples, before Ivy-Curry authored nine consecutive points himself to push UCF out to a 28-20 advantage.

Johnson later drilled his third triple of the first half, helping the Knights cling to a 43-40 halftime lead. He and Ivy-Curry co-lead the squad through the first 20 minutes, with both tallying 11 points just ahead of Tyler Hendricks' six.

Indeed, UCF opened the second period with three straight 3-point shots, one from Coleman and two more from Johnson as the Knights traded field goals with the Panthers.

With the Black and Gold still possessing a 56-54 advantage with just over 12 minutes remaining, newcomers redshirt sophomore guard Dior Johnson, who had entered off the bench moments before, provided complimentary offensive aid for Darius to help widen the margin on the scoreboard once more.

Game 8 • UCF 74, California Baptist 59 December 1, 2025 Orlando, Fla.

As the UCF men's basketball team's 2024-25 non-conference slate inches closer to its conclusion, the squad continues to build the in-game chemistry and consistency it will need for its second go-around against Big 12 Conference foes.

Its efforts culminated in one of the more complete all-around showings of the season thus far against California Baptist Sunday evening.

The Black and Gold held their opposition to fewer than 60 points for the first time this season and saw four Knights eclipse double-digit scoring in their latest victory, a 74-59 win over the Lancers at Addition Financial Arena Sunday.

UCF (6-2) entered play boasting an already-impressive 74-9 record when limiting opponents to fewer than 60 points in the Dawkins era, and was 84-16 when holding its opposition to under 40 percent shooting from the field. The Knights accomplished both in their sixth win of the campaign, improving to 75-9 and 85-16, respectively, in both scenarios while also snatching double-digit steals for the second time in their last three games.

Senior guard Darius Johnson, one game removed from nailing a career-high eight 3-point shots against Milwaukee Nov. 27, was responsible for seven of his team's 11 steals on the night, a total that not only bested California Baptist's (5-4) team total of six but also tied his career high set at Wichita State Feb. 8, 2023. His seven steals ranked tied for seventh most in a single game in program history as well.

Indeed, the Lancers entered the evening averaging just 8.8 turnovers per game, good for the fewest in the WAC and the fourth fewest in the nation behind only Ole Miss (8.1), UC San Diego (8.4) and Mississippi State (8.4).

free throw line accompanied by Ivy-Curry's first 3-pointer of the evening the rest of the way helped ice the Knights' sixth straight home win, their longest such streak since their six consecutive victories in Orlando Dec. 4, 2022-Jan. 11, 2023 against Samford, Tarleton State, Stetson, Wichita State, SMU and Memphis.

Though not one of his more prolific evenings on the offensive end, Johnson (11) also joined Keyshawn Hall (15), Moustapha Thiam (11) and Jordan Ivy-Curry (10) as one of four Knights to score at least 10 points in the winning effort.

Hall paced the squad in scoring through the first 10 minutes of action, scoring seven of UCF's first nine points, including the Knights' first triple, as California Baptist jumped out to an early 13-9 advantage.

On the heels of four points from Thiam and Tyler Hendricks, the Black and Gold were able to find the offensive traction they needed as the game clock ticked down below six minutes to play in the opening half.

Ivy-Curry and Dallan "Deebo" Coleman ignited a 19-9 run to finish the first 20 minutes of play, combining for four points on a layup and a pair of free throws before Coleman and Benny Williams converted back-to-back 3-point tries. Johnson later added his first two triples of the night to help push UCF out to a 32-29 halftime lead.

The Knights in the last 20 minutes continued to build on the lead they took into the second stanza, starting with a key 14-7 half-opening run.

Thiam, Johnson, Hall and JJ Taylor combined for UCF's first 19 points coming out of the break, highlighted by two straight triples by Taylor and Hall that forced the Lancers to call their third timeout of the contest with 13:33 to play and the Black and Gold holding a 46-3

Game 11 • UCF 86, Jacksonville 66
December 21, 2024
Orlando, Fla.

Though his time on the floor was brief, the impact it brings will carry through the remainder of the 2024-25 campaign.

Shortly after taking the floor for the first time this season, marking the completion of his recovery from a preseason injury, senior guard Jaylin Sellers received a lob from junior transfer Keyshawn Hall and elicited a roar from the Addition Financial Arena crowd with an emphatic dunk.

The season debuts of Sellers and redshirt freshman Mikey Williams, coupled with four Knights eclipsing double-digit scoring highlighted UCF's latest win, a convincing 86-66 effort over the visiting Jacksonville Dolphins that punctuated the Black and Gold's 2024-25 non-conference slate Saturday evening.

The Knights' (9-2) victory over their in-state foe, one that featured the team's highest single-game field goal percentage in almost five years (58.7 percent), also put a bow on their first perfect home non-conference showing since the 2011-12 season. When factoring in its Saturday win, UCF went a perfect 8-0 in Orlando against No. 13 Texas A&M, Purdue Fort Wayne, Florida Atlantic, Tennessee Tech, Milwaukee, California Baptist, Tarleton State and Jacksonville.

The early dunk not only represented a positive next step in Sellers' journey back to peak game condition, but also ignited UCF's offense to help complement the team's defensive efforts to start the evening's affairs.

Prior to Jaylin's entry with just under 13 minutes to play in the first half, the Knights clung to an 11-7 advantage, yielding just three Dolphins (6-6) field goals. His dunk kickstarted an offensive flurry for the Black and Gold, beginning with four Dior Johnson points and three straight converted 3-point tries by Jordan Ivy-Curry.

Once the contest reached a media break with 3:35 to play in the first half, UCF had opened its lead to 32-21, an advantage that ballooned to 47-29 at halftime thanks to a fourth Ivy-Curry triple, the first 3-point shot from Hall, and made free throws by Hall, Ivy-Curry and Benny Williams.

Defensively, UCF limited Jacksonville to just a buzzer-beating 3-point field goal in the final 2:46 of the first 20 minutes, while Ivy-Curry paced the squad with 16 first-half points on 5-of-7 shooting including his four triples.

Ivy-Curry opened the final period with his fifth 3-pointer of the evening, matching his season high in 3-point field goals made against LSU Nov. 24 and securing his third consecutive game with at least four triples and his fifth such showing this season.

His 19 points also clinched his 11th consecutive game in double figures to begin his Knights tenure, one shy of matching Sellers' 12 to begin the 2023-24 campaign.

Hall, meanwhile, who totaled a game-high 21 to record his fourth 20-plus-point display of the year, followed Ivy-Curry's second-half triple with four straight points before finishing a layup at the rim that pushed the Knights' lead up to 57-39 with 14:32 to play.

As the Knights retained command of the contest down the stretch, Williams joined Sellers in making his season debut on the heels of Sellers' first 3-point shot of the season.

Though Williams will wait just a bit longer for his first collegiate points, the redshirt freshman produced a well-executed bounce pass to junior Rokas Jocius for his first career assist with two minutes remaining.

The Knights' 58.7 overall field goal percentage marked their best in a single game since their mark of 60.4 against Temple Jan. 2, 2019, and the squad's 58.8 success rate from beyond the arc (10-for-17) marked its highest since it nailed 12 triples (12-for-20, 60 percent) against Michigan Dec. 30, 2021. UCF's Saturday effort also marked its fourth game with at least 10 3-point field goals this season, joining its contests against Florida Atlantic Nov. 12 (13), LSU Nov. 24 (10) and Milwaukee Nov. 27 (11).

Game 12 • UCF 87 , Texas Tech 83
December 31, 2024
Lubbock, Texas

The UCF men's basketball team started celebrating the new year early by launching fireworks of its own before the stroke of midnight in its Big 12 Conference opener, topping Texas Tech 87-83 thanks to a second-consecutive game shooting greater than 50% from the field. Keyshawn Hall was a perfect seven-for-seven from the floor in the first half, dropping 17 points while Darius Johnson had 17 of his in the second to power the Knights to a New Year's Eve victory on the road.

UCF's offense was on display for the entirety of the first half, shooting 57.1% with 47 points, tied for the most in a game this season. The offensive eruption was a continuation of the Knights' last contest 10 days ago, thumping Jacksonville 86-66 while shooting 58.7%, the highest mark since shooting 60.4% against Temple on Jan. 2, 2019. Hall led the charge on Tuesday afternoon, starting the contest a perfect 7-for-7 from the floor including a trio of three pointers, chalking up 17 points in the first half.

Texas Tech opened the scoring with two buckets in its first two trips down the floor. The pair of quick scores wound up being the Red Raiders' largest lead of the game just 68 seconds into the contest. UCF's first points came on a couple of Johnson free throws at the 17:45 mark. Hall got going with a defensive rebound and a jumper and also scored on the Knights next trip down the floor, locking the score at 6-6. Dailan "Deebo" Coleman earned a steal and got his first points of the tilt 4:30 into it, putting UCF in front. Another Hall layup followed by a Coleman three-pointer gave the Knights an early seven-point edge at 13-6 with 14:17 remaining.

The Red Raiders jumped in front briefly with an 8-0 run over the next 90 seconds or so, but proved to be their final lead of the contest at 14-13. Moustapha Thiam banged home a three-pointer to get the Black and Gold back in front, his first of two made triples on three total attempts from deep on the afternoon, doubling his season total of made threes.

The first half lead didn't move north of six points until there were six minutes left in the opening frame as UCF pulled out to a 36-29 lead. Texas Tech continued to make shots in its own offensive end to the tune of a 44.4% clip to keep the game close as the Knights carried a 47-41 lead into the break.

UCF surrendered the first basket of the second half, but from there, it was nearly all Knights for the next five minutes. Thiam fought his way to the rim for a tip-in prior to a Hall three-pointer to put the Black and Gold up nine at 54-45. After a Texas Tech make to draw back within seven, Jordan Ivy-Curry nailed a step back jumper followed by a layup and three pointer from Thiam. Johnson drove the lane for a tough layup and put the Knights in front by 16 at 61-45.

The Knights continued to hold a double-digit lead, eventually reaching a game-best 18-point edge with 10:06 remaining with a trio of Ivy-Curry free with its best run of the game, putting up 11 straight points to whittle the lead to seven by 7:30 to play. The Red Raiders refused to go away, trimming the lead to six at 79-73 heading into the final media timeout.

Johnson was clutch down the stretch, burying a three-pointer from way downtown out of the media timeout to extend the lead back to nine. Texas Tech answered with two makes, but again Johnson had an answer, earning a pair of points in the paint to make it 84-78 with 2:30 on the clock. After missing the front end of a pair of free throws, Tech's JT Toppin, who finished the contest with a game-high 26 points, earned another pair for his team to cut UCF's lead to a single possession at 84-81 with 75 seconds to play.

Toppin again tried to carry his team back to a lead, scoring off a UCF turnover to make it a one-point game with 37 ticks of the clock left. Johnson was fouled bringing the ball up the floor on the ensuing possession with 19 seconds left and cashed in on his two free throws. The Red Raiders came up empty on their next possession as a missed three pointer tie the contest went wide and eventually out of play, giving the Knights possession with eight seconds remaining. Johnson again was fouled and made one-of-two from the charity stripe to give UCF the 67-83 edge. Texas Tech's final heave was off as the Black and Gold secured the road victory and a 1-0 start to league play.

Johnson missed just twice in the second half, going five-of-six from the field, a perfect two-of-two from three-point range and five-of-six to compile 17 points. He led UCF on the stat sheet with 24 points, his fifth 20+ point outing this season and 13th of his career. Hall's 22-point performance was his second-straight game with 20 or more points after scoring 21 against Jacksonville. It was his fifth 20+ point showing on the campaign and 15th of his career. Only Ivy-Curry boasts more career 20+ point performances on UCF's roster with 18. Ivy-Curry had his double-digit point streak snapped on Jan. 10.

Tuesday, scoring nine points after earning 10 or more points in his first 11 games as a Knight.

UCF's 87-point performance in its Big 12 opener was more points than it had scored in any Big 12 regular season win during the 2023-24 campaign and one shy of tying the most they had scored in any conference game last season. UCF's 87 points represent the 44th time that UCF has scored 80 points or more under Dawkins, improving to 39-5 in those games. Dating back to last season, the Knights have won their last three Big 12 road games, beating Oklahoma State 77-71 on Feb. 28 and TCU 79-77 on March 9.

The Black and Gold's besting of Texas Tech snapped its perfect 8-0 record and dropped the Red Raiders to 12-17 all-time in Big 12 openers. UCF now leads the all-time series against Texas Tech 2-1 with a pair of consecutive wins, including a Big 12-play best 14 points in Orlando to the tune of a 75-61 win on Feb. 24 last season.

The Knights have won six straight with Tuesday's victory and is UCF's first six-game winning streak since the 2019-20 season. A win in its next contest would be the first seven-game winning streak since the Knights' magical 2018-19 season that ended in an NCAA Tournament berth and first win in March Madness in program history. UCF is out to a 10-2 start for the third time in the last four campaigns and fifth total time under Dawkins.

UCF sunk 10 three-pointers on Tuesday afternoon, its second consecutive game doing so and fifth total occurrence through 12 contests thus far. The Knights accomplished that feat just twice last season. Additionally, UCF already has three games where they've shot 50% or better from the floor after doing that just four times in the previous campaign.

Texas Tech's defense entered the game ranking 26th in the nation in scoring defense, averaging 63.3 points scored by opponents. UCF bested that mark by over 20 points, and also shot 51.8% on Tuesday, 12.3% better than the Red Raiders' 45th-ranked field goal percentage defense. The win was the 55th time a Dawkins-led UCF team has shot 50% or better, improving to 51-4 in those games.

Dawkins continues to have his squad dialed during the month of December, now 43-12 during the month in his tenure, including a perfect 4-0 this season.

Game 13 • Kansas 99, UCF 48

January 5, 2025

Orlando, Fla.

The UCF men's basketball team fell in its 2024-25 Big 12 Conference home opener to the No. 7 Kansas Jayhawks, 99-48, at Addition Financial Arena Sunday evening.

Coleman. Hall's 12 points led the squad as well, marking his fifth such occasion as UCF's leading scorer this season.

With the defeat, UCF dropped to 10-3 on the season and 1-1 in league play, while the Jayhawks (10-3, 1-1 Big 12), earned their first conference victory of the season.

"Kansas played a great game," head coach Johnny Dawkins said. "They came in with a good focus and made a lot of connecting plays. We have to be better. Where we hang our hats, defensively and rebounding, it wasn't who we've been and who we want to be. We have to get back in the gym and work toward what we have to do to be successful in this conference."

A trio of 3-point shots by Jordan Ivy-Curry, Dallan 'Deebo' Coleman and Darius Johnson aided UCF in keeping pace with the seventh-ranked Jayhawks through a low-scoring, defensive first seven minutes, as the Knights entered the under-12 media timeout trailing 16-11.

Ivy-Curry, Keyshawn Hall and Jaylin Sellers each drilled a pair of free throw tries down the stretch, but in spite of two more triples by Hall and Coleman, Kansas brought a 44-25 advantage into the halftime break.

"We got knocked back early. They came out and made some plays at the basket with Hunter (Dickinson), who set the tone for them," Dawkins continued. "They were able to feed off of that. We tried to get it all back fast, and that's not who we've been. That helped snowball what was going on."

Dior Johnson's six points paced the Black and Gold's 25-point second half, aided by makes from beyond the arc by Hall and

Game 14 • UCF 75, Colorado 74

Orlando, Fla.

"Stay confident, stay aggressive."

Amid a cold offensive start, Jordan Ivy-Curry and the UCF men's basketball team clung to their mentality.

The Knights rode their confidence to a 15-5 run that followed an 0-for-10 start from the field. They utilized their aggressive gameplay in erasing a 10-point second-half deficit in the last 15 minutes of action.

They remained collected in the face of a final-possession five-second violation and turnover that gave Colorado the ball with six seconds to play, trailing by a single point.

It all factored into a gritty get-right victory over the visiting Buffaloes in front of a raucous Addition Financial Arena crowd Wednesday evening, 75-74, a showing that proved the squad's previous contest against the seventh-ranked Kansas Jayhawks was an aberration, not the norm.

The Black and Gold's (11-3, 2-1 Big 12) latest win, one that saw three Knights eclipse double figures led by Ivy-Curry's 22 points, was built upon a relentless defensive effort that forced the Buffaloes (9-5, 0-3 Big 12) into a season-high 22 turnovers, their highest single-game total since they committed 25 in a 68-54 loss at UCLA Jan. 14, 2023.

UCF's defensive scheme shut Colorado out for the final 3:01 of gametime as well, an instrumental stretch as the Knights overcame their own offensive struggles with four converted free throw attempts to take their 75-74 lead with 33.5 seconds to play.

After being held off the scoreboard for the first 4:13 of Wednesday's action, it was Ivy-Curry who ignited UCF's offensive efforts, drilling three straight field goals, including the first of his four 3-pointers, to give the Knights their first lead of the game, 7-6.

With four triples Wednesday, Ivy-Curry recorded his sixth showing with at least four makes from beyond the arc en route to posting his third 20-plus-point game this season and his 12th of his first 14 in double digits.

He punctuated UCF's early run with his second 3-point field goal, which was followed soon after by triples from Benny Williams and Keyshawn Hall, whose 18 points closely trailed Ivy-Curry's 22 for second-most on the squad and clinched his 12th game of the year in double figures.

Ivy-Curry aided the Black and Gold in keeping pace with Colorado down the stretch of the first 20 minutes, scoring four more points before a Darius Johnson driving layup with three seconds left shaved the Buffaloes lead to 37-34 at halftime.

"We have to be a better defensive team, and we can be. Tonight was a good example of how well we can play when we need to, especially when we were down by 10. Our guys did a great job of turning up the heat and playing UCF basketball. We started turning up the heat and pressing guys. I thought that was the turning point."

Indeed, Colorado built their lead to double digits for the first time in the contest in the moments following the halftime pause, outdueling 3-point field goals by Johnson and Ivy-Curry to balloon their advantage to 56-46 with 14:14 to play.

The Knights once again responded, halting the Buffaloes' momentum with a 15-4 run that gave UCF a slim 61-60 lead with just under eight minutes to go, spearheaded by eight points by Hall.

The two squads continued to trade offensive blows until they combined for just one field goal in the final 4:32 of gametime, with UCF gaining the edge at the free throw line.

With 10 3-point field goals overall, six of which came in a second half that saw the Knights outscore Colorado 41-37, UCF notched double-digit triples for the sixth time this season, as well as the third time in its past four games.

"They opened the second half hot, and at the under-16 media timeout we had a heart-to-heart," Dawkins recalled. "We had to turn the intensity up and stay locked into the gameplan. We got away from it during that span, and it helped us gain the momentum back."

Game 15 • Arizona 88, UCF 80
January 11, 2025
Tucson, Ariz.

The UCF men's basketball team was tabbed with a tough task on Saturday night, visiting an Arizona team who entered the evening 53-4 in their last 57 games at the McKale Memorial Center. The Knights fought valiantly to the finish, but in the end came up just short of snapping the Wildcats' five-game winning streak, falling 88-80 late Saturday night.

UCF played a well-rounded game, beating Arizona in plenty of stat categories on the night, but couldn't get shots to fall when they were needed most. Despite trailing Arizona by just one made three-pointer, the Black and Gold missed the mark on an additional dozen triples, finishing the night with a 22.9% mark from deep compared to their foe's 39.1% from beyond.

Arizona entered the contest as one of the nation's best rebounding teams, sitting 13th in the country in rebounds per game and second in the Big 12. The Knights, who entered the evening ranking 11th in the Big 12 in the category, outrebounced the Wildcats by seven boards in the first half and finished with a 42-41 edge on the glass. The Black and Gold took care of the ball, turning the ball over just nine times to Arizona's 14. UCF also held advantages in points off turnovers (8-9), points in the paint (36-32), second chance points (23-12) and fast break points (15-8). While the Knights never led and at one point were down by 17 points in Saturday's road test, the Black and Gold were never out of it and fought for the full 40 minutes.

A pair of free throws, followed by a triple, all from Arizona's Caleb Love gave the Wildcats an early 5-0 edge in the game's first two minutes. Moustapha Thiam got UCF on the scoreboard with a dunk off a nice feed from Keyshawn Hall, who then again assisted Thiam after an Arizona jumper to make it 7-4. The Wildcats jumped up six on the Knights thanks to a three-pointer, but Darius

Johnson answered right back with his first triple of the evening to keep it a one-possession game early.

UCF continued to hang with Arizona, down five with 13:16 remaining in the second half, but five straight points forced the Knights to burn a timeout with the deficit now in double digits. The Wildcats extended their 5-0 run into nine consecutive points, pulling out in front of UCF by 14 with the opening frame halfway gone.

The tide of the first half began to turn in favor of the Knights. At 33-19, Mikey Williams etched his name onto the stat sheet with a layup. A minute later and after a pair of missed Wildcat threes, Johnson buried his second three-pointer of the contest to bring the deficit back to single digits at 33-24. It popped back to a dozen point advantage for just a moment before Rokas Jocius converted on an and-one opportunity to draw it back to nine. Hall cashed in on a pair of free throws, making him six-for-six in the first half from the charity stripe. A quick two points for Arizona were matched by a triple from Jocius, providing a spark to get the Black and Gold back with six.

A 7-0 run starting with just over two minutes left in the opening stanza powered UCF back to even, starting with Jordan Ivy-Curry's first two points of the evening, followed with a clutch triple from Benny Williams and another jumper from Thiam to level it at 42-42. A converted Wildcat and-one chance sent the home team into the locker room up three.

Johnson began the second half scoring just 13 seconds in, nailing a triple to tie things at 45-45. However, it yielded to a quick 6-0 Arizona run. UCF cut it back to three at 55-52, but Arizona pieced together another run, this time with eight straight points to make it 63-52 with 12:42 to play.

The deficit continued to hover around a dozen to the under-eight-minute media timeout as UCF trailed 74-62 with 7:52 to go. The Knights continued to make baskets, but Arizona kept coming up with answers, going up 17 at the 6:49 and 5:56 marks. At 84-67, UCF made a late surge of six consecutive points, two each from Dior Johnson, Mikey and Darius.

Down 13 with 3:12 to play, UCF scored six of the game's final seven points to trim the final deficit to eight at 88-80.

Hall led the Knights with 22 points on the evening, his sixth 20+ point night of the season and 16th of his career. Dallan "Deebo" Coleman, entered the contest making eight of his last 11 three-point attempts hit his first attempt from deep on the night but proceeded to miss his next four. Mikey had his best game at the collegiate level, scoring nine points with an assist and a rebound to go with a team high plus-minus of 13.

The loss snaps UCF's three-game Big 12 road winning streak after the Knights beat Oklahoma State and TCU in their final two road games of the 2023-24 campaign before besting Texas Tech 87-83 to open league play this season. Although Arizona was receiving votes in the most recent sets of polls, UCF's seven-game winning streak against unranked opponents also came to an end.

The Knights are still hunting for their first win in the state of Arizona. UCF's contest against the Wildcats was not the first in the state as the Black and Gold played a pair of games in the Fiesta Bowl Classic in December 2005 in Arizona's arena. The Knights fell to Western Kentucky and Sam Houston State in those games.

Game 16 • UCF 95, Arizona State 89
January 14, 2025
Tempe, Ariz.

In one of the best performances of the college basketball season, Keyshawn Hall powered the UCF men's basketball team to a road victory over Arizona State 95-89. Hall posted a career-high 40 points, the third most in UCF's Division-I history in a single game, and added seven rebounds, six assists and a steal. It was the most points scored by a Big 12 Conference player this season. He became the just 12th player to post 40 points against Arizona State, a program founded in 1911. The last Big 12 player to score 40 points in a conference game was now playing in the NBA; Wade Cunningham had 40 in 2020-21.

Against a former Pac-12 program, the term "Pac-12 After Dark" was better suited for the Big 12 contest in Tempe Tuesday night, as an 11 p.m. ET/9 p.m. MT tipoff was the least wild part about UCF's fifth conference game of the campaign which had plenty of story line

It was a special night for Hall from the jump, who appears to enjoy playing road Big 12 games. After starting seven-for-seven in a New Year's Eve win over Texas Tech in Lubbock, the junior transfer started six-for-six from the field with four three-pointers in Tempe.

Hal's magical night saw him with 29 points on the board with just two misses in the first 20 minutes of play, shooting 11-for-13 from the floor, four-of-five from deep and three-for-three from the charity stripe. The last UCF player to score 25 or more points in a half in the Knights' Division-I era was Jermaine Taylor who had 26 points in the 2nd half of a Feb. 25, 1999 contest against Rice. Taylor finished with 45 that night and to this day remains the UCF alum with the most games played in the NBA. Taylor's 45 remains the highest point total in any UCF-D-I game and ranks fourth all-time.

Arizona State's freshman phenom Jayden Courtney opened the scoring of UCF's inaugural meeting with the Sun Devils. The 6-9 Cleveland, Ohio native was expected to match up with UCF's 7-2 center Moustapha Thiam in the ballgame, but Thiam didn't suit up due to an illness.

Hall, also a Cleveland native, started the scoring for UCF immediately following the Quaintance make. Darius Johnson netted the next bucket, a triple, to make it 5-2. From that point on, it was Hall's world, and everyone else was just living in it. Hall made UCF's next three baskets, starting UCF five-five from the floor with a 12-7 lead. Hall's hot stretch continued, making back-to-back triples to put UCF up 18-12. Hall's first miss was amongst a run of three straight errant shots for the Black and Gold. It ended Hall's five-five fire start, including four-for-four from three-point range just over six minutes into the game. He picked up right where he left off though, banging home a triple 12:33 into the first to break an 18-18 tie.

Jordan Ivy-Curry was the first Knight with a last name other than Hall or Johnson to score, earning two points with 7:43 left in the first to put UCF up by five at 51-26. Dallan "Deebo" Coleman piled on a three after grabbing an offensive board the next trip down the floor to put the Black and Gold up eight, forcing Arizona State to burn a timeout.

A handful of Knights were in foul trouble halfway through the game. Benny Williams picked up three fouls in 6:36 on the floor while Hall, Coleman and Rokas Jocius each picked up a pair. Hall sat for just 11 seconds in the first.

Ivy-Curry got the Black and Gold bouncing out of halftime, nailing a three-pointer on the opening possession of the second. A pair of Quaintance free throws brought the deficit back to four for Arizona State.

UCF opted to spend a timeout following the Sun Devils' trip to the line, and it led to UCF's biggest lead of the contest. Hall converted on a pair of freebies before Arizona State answered with a three, making it 54-51. From there, UCF kept connecting. Ivey-Curry buried another triple and then forced a steal. He missed the shot on the ensuing possession as Hall collected the board and found Coleman for his second three-pointer of the game. Arizona State opted for a timeout, but it didn't slow the Knights down one bit. Coleman snatched a steal on the Sun Devils' possession out of the 30-second timeout, which eventually led to a dunk from Jocus to put UCF up 61 at 62-51. Two Arizona State free throws were answered by another Johnson three ball, making it 65-53 for the Black and Gold.

Arizona State was able to make a short 7-0 run to cut the UCF deficit to five at 65-60 with 14:26 left to play. During that run, Hall was whistled for his fourth foul after a review. On a drive to the basket, he was called for a flagrant, sending him to the bench with 15:13 to play. JJ subbed in for him and played some quality minutes off the bench throughout. He went on to score 14 points, a career-high while hauling in nine rebounds tying a career best.

Benny Williams had a pair of slams with assists from Johnson and JJ, pushing the lead back to nine at 69-60. However, Arizona State answered with its largest run of the game, an 11-0 stretch that put them in front 71-69 with 10:05 remaining. JJ answered with a triple to put UCF back in front, only to be answered by a pair of free throws at the other end. UCF never let the Sun Devil lead get any bigger than four during a seesaw battle for the lead which continued all the way until there were just under three minutes to play.

Hall earned a pair of second chance points at the 4:53 mark, drawing a foul in the process and converting the free throw to give him 34 points and UCF an 82-80 edge. Arizona State's Quaintance answered with a pair of second chance points of his own. Johnson drove to the lane for a tough two before Quaintance did the same in what was a 20-point game for him. The 84-84 score was the last time the two teams were even as Johnson earned another gritty pair of points and added one on the and-one call.

Arizona State answered with two the next trip down the floor, only to be answered with another pair from Hall, giving him 36 and UCF a three-point edge with 86 seconds to play. The Sun Devils drew up a miss following a timeout as JJ pulled down the rebound, making way for Johnson to head to the free throw line. Facing the "Curtain of Distraction," Johnson hit the first but missed the second from the charity stripe, putting UCF up 90-86 with 39 ticks remaining.

Johnson stayed clutch in the waning moments of the tilt, hustling for a defensive board off Arizona State's miss and making his way back to the line. He again hit one of two free throws, going up five with 22 seconds left.

Arizona State turned the ball over on a bad pass with 19 seconds left before fouling Hall with 14 ticks remaining. He buried his 37th and 38th points of the night to put UCF up seven. The Sun Devils tried to make it interesting, burying a three-pointer with 8.7 seconds on the clock. The ball was inbounded and eventually found the hands of Hall who was fouled with 1.6 ticks on the board. He cashed in on both from the stripe, finishing the night 10-for-10 at the free throw line, cementing himself in the record books while closing the book on Arizona

Hall's perfect 10 free throws were joined by a 13-for-18 mark from the field and four-of-six from beyond the arc with seven rebounds, six assists, a steal and seven fouls drawn. Hall now boasts back-to-back 20+ point games for the third time this season and has seven total game with 20 or more. It was his second 30+ point game of his career which was his previous career-best of 36 points against Bridgewater (Va.) on Dec. 19, 2023 while with George Mason. Hall's total on the night was three points from being the most scored by an opposing player in Desert Financial Arena's history and was seven away from topping Eddie House's 46 against San Diego State on Dec. 18, 1999 as the host in the building's history.

The Knights were able to navigate their way around foul trouble as six members of the Black and Gold finished the game with three or more fouls, but none picked up the dreaded fifth.

Along with Hall and JJ, Johnson also finished in double digits, earning 17 points with seven assists and two steals.

Both sides finished shooting better than 50% on the evening as UCF shot 50.8%, its fourth time shooting north of 50% from the field this season and second in Big 12 play. UCF also buried 12 threes, shooting 46.2% from deep. That was the seventh time this season the Knights have buried 10 or more threes and the fourth time in the last six contests. The Black and Gold hit 10 or more triples just twice last season.

The victory was the first in UCF's history in the state of Arizona after coming up empty on its previous three contests, two of them at the Fiesta Bowl Classic in Dec. 2005 and the other earlier this week at Arizona. All three contests were at the McKale Center in Tucson, Ariz.

UCF is a quarter of the way through its conference slate and just over halfway through the regular season as a whole with 15 conference games remaining. Taking the first-half performance and comparing it to some end of season numbers from years past, at 17.6 points per game, Hall would be the highest scorer UCF has had since Jermaine Taylor's 26.2 in 2008-09. Johnson's 41.7% from deep would be the highest since Brandon Mahan shot 43.8% from beyond.

Game 17 • #10/8 Houston 69, UCF 68

January 18, 2025

Orlando, Fla.

The UCF men's basketball team brought a lead into the game's final possession, but the No. 10 Houston Cougars survived the Knights' bid for their second ranked win of the season by a 69-68 final score at Addition Financial Arena Saturday afternoon.

Despite the loss, UCF rose to the occasion against the tenth-ranked Cougars, snapping Houston's nine-game streak limiting its opposition to fewer than 60 points behind a career day by Moustapha Thiam.

The freshman center scored a team-best and personal career-high 18 points accompanied by three blocks and five rebounds, leading a UCF offense that featured two other players in double figures in Jordan Ivy-Curry (14) and Darius Johnson (13).

On the strength of a stingy defensive start, UCF sent Houston to its first halftime deficit of the season when the Knights outscored the Cougars 38-30 in the first 20 minutes and never trailed during the period.

The contest marked the first time UCF held a top 10-ranked team to 30 or fewer points in a half since March 6, 2024, also against Houston. The Black and Gold outscored the then-No. 1 Cougars 31-28 in the first half of the Knights' eventual 67-59 home loss.

The Knights, debuting their white and Canaveral blue SpaceJ uniforms in honor of the team's annual space game, held the Cougars to just a single field goal and a pair of free throws through the first media timeout 4:17 into the contest.

After Thiam scored five of UCF's first nine points, Ivy-Curry drained the Knights' first 3-point shot of the afternoon, followed immediately by two of his own makes from the free throw line.

The Cougars would trim the Black and Gold's advantage 18-16 just over halfway into the initial frame, but triples by Thiam and Johnson, as well as four JJ Taylor points, spearheaded a 12-3 run that ballooned UCF's edge to 30-19 with 6:11 to play before halftime.

Dallan 'Deebo' Coleman later drilled the Knights' fourth 3-pointer of the half to help give his team its eight-point lead entering the break.

Houston clawed its way back to a one-point lead with a second half-opening 9-0 stretch, but UCF continued to demonstrate its resolve, authoring a 14-8 response led by two triples and eight points by Johnson.

After the Cougars again surged to a 61-56 lead with just under six minutes to play, Ivy-Curry and Thiam combined for seven points before Keyshawn Hall, fresh off his 40-point display against the Arizona State Sun Devils, added a free throw to push the Black and Gold ahead, 66-65.

Hall would later cash in on a layup attempt with nine seconds on the clock, but Houston escaped with its one-point victory on a last-second lay-in by J'Wan Roberts.

Game 18 • #3/4 Iowa State 108, UCF 83

January 21, 2025

Ames, Iowa

The UCF men's basketball team was unable to snap No. 3/4 Iowa State's impressive winning streak at Hilton Coliseum Tuesday night, as the Cyclones registered their 29th consecutive victory at their place, topping the Knights 108-83.

The Knights started the night going stride for stride with Iowa State, but in the end, one of the nation's elite teams proved why they belong near the top, scoring 54 points in both the first and second halves.

Iowa State held UCF without a rebound through the first media timeout just past the four minute mark, holding a 7-0 edge on the glass, including four offensive boards. Down 9-6, a Jordan Ivy-Curry three-pointer rattled in and out, but Keyshawn Hall collected the offensive board and put it back for two.

A 7-0 UCF run gave the Knights an 18-15 lead, starting with a layup from Hall, followed with a Darius Johnson kiss off the glass to level things at 15-15. Dallan 'Deebo' Coleman earned a pair of fastbreak points with a quick layup and was fouled, converting on the and-one chance to give UCF the three-point lead.

Iowa State clanked in a pair of triples, going up 21-18. Johnson answered with a three-pointer of his own for the tie, but the Cyclones pieced together a 7-0 run of their own, going up 28-21.

After a timeout, the Knights scored the next five thanks to a JJ Taylor layup on the fastbreak plus Johnson's second triple of the contest to make it 28-26. At this point, the Black and Gold had forced the Cyclones into seven turnovers in the ballgame. UCF forced just three more turnovers the rest of the way.

Iowa State began to separate themselves from there, going on an 11-3 run over the next two and a half minutes to go up 10 at 39-29. A Taylor bucket plus an and-one stopped the run, only to see Iowa State rip off 11 straight to take an 18-point lead. The Knights went to the locker room down by that margin at 54-36. The Cyclones came into the contest averaging just 7.1 three-point makes per game, a mark that was 244th in the nation. They almost made that many in the first half alone, burying six triples. Two of the long range makes came from Joshua Jefferson, who had only hit five all season before finishing the night three-of-four from distance with a game-high 30 points.

After missing the first shot of the half, the Knights got their next five to go down, chopping the deficit to 11 at 61-50, forcing Iowa State to spend a timeout with 16:48 to play. A dunk from Moustapha Thiam got the 14-7 run started, followed by a make from Hall and three triples, one from Coleman and two from Ivy-Curry, who went on to tie a career-high with six made triples in the game.

The next three possessions saw UCF lose the ball, resulting in four more points for the Cyclones.

Iowa State built the lead back up to 18 before a dozen minutes to play before growing it to 24 with just under eight left. UCF got it back as close as 16 points with 4:40 to play but saw Iowa State go up 27 in the final minute before all was said and done.

The Cyclones hit 100 points with 2:50 to play, surrendering a Benjamin on the scoreboard in regulation for the first time under head coach Johnny Dawkins and the first time since Florida hung 100 on UCF in Gainesville on Nov. 18, 1997. The 108 points Iowa State finished the contest with was the most in regulation since Southern scored 127 on Feb. 24, 1993.

Iowa State finished the contest shooting 56.3%, making more than 54% of their shots in each half. The Knights shot 42.9% on the night but coughed the ball up a season-high 19 times. The Cyclones outrebounded UCF 43-29, including a 15-11 edge on the offensive glass. Iowa State tallied 41 points with their advantages in those categories, scoring 25 points off turnovers and 16 on second chance opportunities.

The Knights are in arguably their toughest stretch of the season, having wrapped up playing six quad games opponents in their first seven games. Tuesday's contest in Ames was the second straight game against a top 10 opponent after falling to No. 10/8 Houston 69-68 on Saturday. UCF will host TCU on Saturday before returning to the road to face another top 15 foe, taking the program's inaugural trip to Allen Fieldhouse to face No. 12/11 Kansas.

Game 21 • BYU 81, UCF 75

February 1, 2025

Orlando, Fla.

The UCF men's basketball team fell in a tight contest Saturday afternoon as BYU edged the Knights 81-75 in a game that came down to the final few minutes.

BYU opened the game by making three of the game's first four baskets, two of them triples to take an 8-2 lead 3:18 into the game. Keyshawn Hall earned a tough lay in, followed by a fastbreak triple from Darius Johnson, making it just a one-point deficit. BYU answered with a triple, only to be followed by one from UCF as well as Jordan Ivy-Curry got it going.

A dicey tangle in the paint led to Hall being whistled for his second foul of the half. Hall was whistled for a technical foul for arguing the call, leading him to sitting for the remainder of the half with three fouls with 13:26 left.

The Black and Gold used the adversity to pull in front for the first time at 19-16 with 11:26 left in the first, using a 7-0 run to jump ahead. Rokas Jocius earned two tough points before Johnson earned a pair from the charity stripe. Ivy-Curry cashed in with another triple to give UCF the edge.

After a quick 25-24 edge by BYU, UCF pieced together another 6-0 run to jump in front by five with two free throws from Moustapha Thiam and Ivy-Curry, plus a Johnson layup. Another 6-0 run after four BYU points, making it 36-29 with 3:37 to go. UCF was able to hold a six-point edge with 35 seconds left in the half, but fouled a BYU shooter from distance. The ball went in and they converted the and-one chance, slicing the Knights advantage to just two at 40-38 heading into halftime.

The offense was flowing through Johnson and Thiam, who each finished the half with double-digit points. Johnson earned a dozen on the scoreboard, the third time this season scoring double-digit points in the first half. Thiam added 10, as the two combined for 22 of UCF's 40 first half points. Ivy-Curry added eight points of his own. On the flip side, BYU nailed eight three-pointers in the first half, the highest UCF has allowed this season in through the first 20 minutes.

BYU came out on fire to start the second half, scoring the first eight points, three of which came thanks to eight UCF turnovers in the first 3:38 out of the locker room to take the 46-40 edge. After a timeout, the Black and Gold got it going, the first basket coming from a give and go from Johnson to Thiam got UCF on the board in the first half 4:24 into the second stanza. Thiam added his first triple of the game his next trip down the floor, cutting the deficit to one.

Foul trouble continued for the Knights as Johnson picked up his third and fourth fouls before seven minutes had passed in the game, sending him to the bench with 14:07 left to play. BYU only benefited two points out of the fouls going back up three before Thiam retaliated with his signature baseline jumper, making it 48-47 BYU with 13:07 left.

UCF finally knotted the scoring again at 55-55 thanks to a second chance triple from Ivy-Curry, his third of the contest. A minute later, UCF pulled ahead with a Hall three-ball to give the Knights their first lead since they entered the halftime locker room. BYU erased the edge with a three of their own with 7:34 to play, the 11th Cougars triple of the contest.

Hall was a man on a mission out of the under-eight minute timeout. After BYU earned a quick two, Hall took on two defenders, making a deep two late in the shot clock. The Cougars banged home a three pointer on the next trip down the floor, only to be answered by Hall from deep, locking the scoring at 63.

BYU's 13th three pointer of the evening put them up 68-65 with 4:46 to play. Hall tried to will his team back, sinking a pair of free throws to climb back to within one. The next basket, a BYU layup, was answered with a Hall jumper. BYU again tried to pull away with a three, and

After a missed three by BYU with 2:03 to play, the Cougars collected the rebound and earned a pair of second chance points,

Game 22 • Cincinnati 93, UCF 83

February 5, 2025

Orlando, Fla.

The UCF men's basketball team was topped by Cincinnati 93-83 on Wednesday night from Addition Financial Arena, dropping its third straight contest.

The Knights got on the board first with a Moustapha Thiam slam. Cincinnati answered with two of their own but the Black and Gold responded with a Keyshawn Hall three and midrange make for Jordan Ivy-Curry, building a five-point lead early. UCF extended the lead to six at 14-8 after a Darius Johnson triple and Ivy-Curry free throw just over five minutes in.

Cincinnati trimmed its deficit to two with back-to-back buckets before Hall made one-of-two from the line, snapping a 25-straight made free throw streak. The Bearcats answered with a layup before the under 12-minute media timeout, cutting the deficit to one. With 11:45 to play, both teams were shooting north of 50%, with just one made triple from UCF and none from Cincinnati.

Between the under 12 and under eight-minute timeouts, the Bearcats put together a 9-5 run, taking the lead at 16-15 and running it up to a 19-15 edge before UCF scored again. It wound up being the lone time on the night that the lead changed hands. Ivy-Curry brought it back to a one-point game with a three, putting an end to Cincinnati's 11-1 run with UCF still very much in the contest.

The Knights evened the scoring at 36-36 with 58 seconds left in the half thanks to a tough Johnson layup. Cincinnati added two more buckets, including a wild tip in at the buzzer to take a 40-36 advantage into the locker room.

The Bearcats banged home a three-pointer to start the second half. The Knights answered with four points in the paint, but Cincinnati responded and went on a 7-2 run to take a 50-42 lead.

The two sides essentially traded runs the rest of the game, as Cincinnati slowly edged their way to a 10-point lead at 70-60 with 8:16 to go. The Knights cut that deficit in half with 5:26 to go after a trio of free throws and a layup made it 76-71, but that was the closest the Black and Gold got to catching the Bearcats. UCF was unable to make stops when they needed them most, allowing 53 points in the second half.

Cincinnati shot 58.5% on the night, the highest clip from the field allowed during the Dawkins era. The Bearcats shot making ability, along with the 56 points in the paint, told the story. The paint points were the second-most allowed this season. UCF had the edge in offensive rebounding by 10 at a 17-7 edge but only led Cincinnati in second chance points 16-13.

Hall posted his fourth straight game with 20 or more points, posting 23 on 8-for-18 shooting. He now has 11 performances this season with 20+ points and 21 total in his career. The Big 12's leading scorer in league play has accomplished a similar feat before, scoring at least 20 points in four straight games last season with George Mason from Feb. 3-13. Johnson joined Hall in the 20+ category on the evening 21th 21 on 8-for-15 shooting from the floor. Together, the two combined for three of UCF's five triples on the night, with the other two coming from Ivy-Curry, who now sits seven points away from 1,500 in his career.

Game 23 • Baylor 91, UCF 76 February 8, 2025 Waco, Texas

The UCF men's basketball team lost its fourth straight game and sixth over the last seven with a 91-76 loss to Baylor Saturday afternoon.

The Knights started the contest with a trio of turnovers, but only one of them resulted in points for Baylor, a spinning layup for the game's first points two and a half minutes in. UCF answered with its first points of the afternoon, a three-pointer from Jordan Ivy-Curry. Keyshawn Hall opened his tab with a close shot for two, putting UCF up 5-4. A pair of free throws both ways made way for Baylor's first triple of the game, a late-shot clock make. Another three gave Baylor a five-point edge. Hall answered with another tough lay in, followed by a steal and fastbreak layup from Ivy-Curry to trim the deficit to one at 12-11.

Baylor answered the fastbreak points with a triple and a layup of their own, forcing UCF to call a timeout at 17-11. The Knights started to click there, going on a 15-4 run over the next 4:23 of action. Moustapha Thiam got it started hitting a free throw, followed with a gritty layup from Darius Johnson, who was then fouled from three-point range and made the ensuing trio of free throws to tie the contest at 17. Baylor answered with a pair of points, but Ivy-Curry responded with a pretty floater with a kiss off the backboard to make it 19-11. Shortly after, Baylor's VJ Edgcombe picked up his third foul, sending him to the bench for the remainder of the half. Out of the media timeout, Johnson missed a layup, but Thiam was there for the clean-up slam. Thiam kept working, fighting for a tough rebound which led to a trip to the line for Ivy-Curry, where he hit one of two. A pair of Baylor free throws were met with a Thiam triple, giving UCF the 25-21 edge.

Baylor finished the half on a 23-11 run to take a nine-point lead into the break at 45-36. After UCF's four-point edge, the bears pieced together a 7-0 run in 51 seconds to go up 28-25. Three turnovers hampered UCF for a moment, but Benny Williams cleaned up an errant three pointer to put the score at 30-27 to end a 9-0 stretch for the Bears.

Baylor banked a three in out of the under four-minute media timeout, followed by four free throws to make it a 10-point edge with a 16-2 run over nearly three minutes. Hall and Ivy-Curry re-entered the game with two fouls each. Hall drove to the hoop for two but picked up his third foul shortly after. The Bears hit one of the two ensuing free throws to build an 11-point edge. A late shot clock make over Johnson, who was there for the contest, as the half was winding down resulted in a 45-33 advantage for the home team. Johnson responded with a triple to finish the scoring for the half, sending UCF to the locker room down nine. After starting the half shooting 7-for-20, Baylor finished shooting 7-for-10.

Johnson snatched Baylor's opening possession to start the second half, leading to a Thiam lay in with an assist from Johnson. Hall earned an and-one opportunity and converted, followed by another lay-in from Ivy-Curry to draw UCF back within five. A pair of points at each end of the floor made it 50-45 before Ivy-Curry earned his third foul of the contest, triggering the under-16 media timeout. The Knights began the second half with a 9-5 scoring edge and were in position to make a move to grind their way to a comeback.

The game unraveled for the Black and Gold out of the timeout as Baylor began feasting on both ends of the floor, creating a 16-0 run over a 5:12 span. It started with second chance points for Baylor, followed by a UCF turnover that resulted in another pair of points. A UCF miss ended in two free throws the other way while an errant Knights triple the next time down the court led to two more points for the Bears. UCF burned their third timeout of the game, trying to stop the patch the holes in a game that began to have a sinking feeling.

Out of the 30-second break, UCF's boat began to take on even more water, missing a three and immediately leading to a made layup with an and-one chance tacked on. The free throw went awry, but Baylor collected the offensive board and added another layup. The Bears once again failed to miss, adding two more makes on as many attempts, forcing the Knights to burn their final timeout of the contest with a dozen minutes to play with a 21-point deficit on the board.

The rest of the game was simply a formality as the Baylor lead grew to 24 points with 10:02 remaining at 75-49. One bright spot of the contest came with just over five minutes to play as Hall earned his 1,000th career point on a layup in the paint for his 19th and final points of the game, finishing the game with exactly 1,000 points.

The scoreboard read 91-76 in favor of Baylor, the seventh time this season that UCF has surrendered more than 90 points. Prior to this season, opponents had posted 90 points or better just five times over the past eight campaigns of the Dawkins era. The Bears shot 53.3% from the field, the sixth time this season an opponent has been north of 50% from the floor.

After starting 3-2 in Big 12 play, the Knights have sunk to 4-8 in league games with eight more to play. The Knights were 4-8 through a dozen Big 12 games last season and also lost six of seven to fall to 4-9. Following the slump, UCF won three of the final five regular season contests.

Game 24 • #10/10 Iowa State 77, UCF 65 February 11, 2025 Orlando, Fla.

A difficult matchup Tuesday night at Addition Financial Arena saw the UCF men's basketball team fall to No. 10 Iowa State, with late efforts coming up short en route to the 77-65 defeat.

While defensive displays kept the squad in the game, trailing by just five in the early stage of the season half, the Cyclones (19-3, 9-4) proved to be the better team in important spells of the game. Mike Williams and Keyshawn Hall were consistently keeping UCF (13-11, 4-9) dangerous on the offensive end, while Iowa State produced a balanced effort from a quartet in double-digits.

Apart from an eye-catching Hall stepback three to open the scoring and a pair of Moustapha Thiam free throws, the opening minutes of action had each offense testing the floor. Multiple offensive boards from the Cyclones bridged threes from Milan Momcilovic and Curtis Jones.

While the Knights were finding open looks prior to the second media timeout, Jones found another triple to push the Iowa State lead to nine with just under 12 minutes to play. A Darius Johnson miss from beyond the arc would immediately be rectified out of the break, as Dallan 'Deebo' Coleman found the senior after securing the rebound, with Johnson leaving no doubt on his second attempt.

Johnson dished a nice pass to Tyler Hendricks, whose emphatic dunk cut the Cyclones' lead to four at 18-14 just as the contest passed the 10-minute mark. Johnson emphasized an eight-point swing from UCF with his second three of the game shortly after.

An Iowa State scoring drought that pushed over three minutes resulted in the Black and Gold securing their first lead since the opening minute courtesy of a crisp Jordan Ivy-Curry jumpshot. Newcomers Dior Johnson and Williams highlighted the 16-4 run as the offensive display guided the squad to a three-point lead at 25-22.

A constant in Big 12 basketball is the never-ending fight the opposition provides, as the Cyclones would level the bout at 25-21 prior to the last media timeout. Following a tough finish at the rim from Darius Johnson, Iowa State fired off a 7-0 run to regain the lead at five. The passage would cease after an and-one by Hall, with the junior snatching an offensive board and utilizing his physicality to tally three points for the Knights. The opening 20 culminated with a promising stand on the defensive end as Iowa State led 32-30 after an enticing first half.

Balanced showings from Hall and Darius Johnson with eight points apiece, complemented by an efficient six from Williams underlined the offensive efforts at the break. The Knights' 32 points surrendered in the opening half served as the second game this season UCF held its opponent to under 35 in conference play (TCU, 23).

Striving to find an early rhythm, the Knights couldn't connect on five attempts prior to an early timeout at 17:30, with the Cyclones adding six in that span. Hall, now the fourth member of the 1,000-point club to currently don Black and Gold, once again tallied the first three points for the Knights to open the half with a tough and-one at the rim.

Williams authored a strong sequence as he snatched a defensive board before downing a three from the corner, preceding a Cyclones turnover and another signature finish at the rim from Hall. The spells couldn't move the needle though as Iowa State's lead never dipped below seven before the second media timeout.

The Cyclone lead would grow to 55-41 at the 10-minute point, forcing a timeout from the Knights. Two buckets from each side evened out the next three minutes as Hall secured his 12th 20-point performance of the year on a powerful finish in the paint. As each Knight basket fell, the Cyclones were energized in their response, never wavering the 10-point buffer between them.

One stoppage led to another before UCF was starting down a 13-point deficit exiting the final media timeout. After a Hall layup, Ivy-Curry was quick to the scene with a steal and a layup of his own to force an Iowa State timeout with just over two minutes on the clock. A Williams transition three finally pushed the lead below 10 with 60 seconds to play, however, the clock didn't provide the Knights with a canvas to overturn the tide.

Continuing to see his role expand, Williams displayed his best performance of the campaign, setting a season-high in minutes (27:39) and points (14) on a productive six of 12 from the field. Hall's 22 led the Knights' efforts, the 13th game this season the Cleveland native paced the Black and Gold. The junior matches former Knight Isaiah Sykes' dominant 2012-13 campaign where he produced 12 games of 20-plus points of his own.

Game 31 • West Virginia 72, UCF 65 March 8, 2025 Morgantown, W. Va.

A mountain of a 27-point deficit faced the UCF men's basketball team as the first half wound down. As daunting as the hike seemed, the Knights showed relentless fight in the second half, scaling the proverbial mountain side in the Mountain State, pulling within three in the final moments of Saturday's contest against West Virginia. Despite a mad dash to try and tie Division I's biggest comeback of the season, the Knights fell short with a 72-65 result to round out the regular season.

After missing the first four shots of the contest, the Knights got on the scoreboard with a Moustapha Thiam layup to trail 4-2. West Virginia's Javon Small, who entered the day second in scoring in the Big 12, nailed a three-pointer to put his team up 9-2. A confident Darius Johnson answered back with a triple of his own from deep, making it 9-5 exactly four minutes in.

The Mountaineers built their lead on second chance points and threes, holding a 10-0 edge in second chance tallies and sunk five threes. West Virginia collected a pair of rebounds, leading to a triple on a third opportunity to go up 23-11 at 11:37 left in the first. That was part of an 8-0 run that put the Mountaineers up 25-11. Johnson snapped the run with a tough layup inside.

UCF had coughed up the ball six times by the 8:43 mark while West Virginia continued to build a steep lead. A chaseround block by Nils Machowski led to a quick JJ Taylor triple to cut the deficit to 15 at 29:16.

Another run, this time with nine consecutive points, put West Virginia up by 22 at 18:16 with 4:53 left in the first half.

Johnson led the Knights on the stat sheet through the first 20 minutes of play, posting 15 points on 6-of-12 shooting including three triples. The rest of the team combined for 10 points on 3-for-19 shooting while going 1-of-7 from deep. The deficit was 47-25 at the break, tying the fewest amount of points scored by the Knights in the first half this season. The Mountaineers had seven triples at the break, nearly hitting their season average of 8.6 in the first half.

West Virginia buried a triple to start the second half before the Knights pieced together a 7-0 run thanks to a three from Thiam and layups from Dallan 'Deebo' Coleman and Keyshawn Hall, making it 50-32 just over two minutes into the game. UCF added two more points to the run before West Virginia cashing in on a three with 16:08 to play, putting the Mountaineers back in front 53-34.

The Knights chipped away at the deficit, coming back within 15 at 60-45 with 10:26 to play. UCF had forced six turnovers to that point in the second half after forcing just three in the entire first half.

The Black and Gold used another two points from JJ Taylor to draw back within 15, extending the run to 8-0. Another West Virginia turnover gave the ball back to UCF. As Johnson carried the ball up, he drew a contact technical, going to the charity stripe and cutting into the lead with two more, now just an 11-point deficit with 9:35 to play.

The Mountaineers added a bucket before the under-eight minute media timeout. Johnson swished in a high-arching three, his fourth of the contest, to cut the deficit to 10 with 6:17 remaining. Two free throws for West Virginia were answered with a quick Thiam triple, bringing the game back within single digits. Taylor pried on another three, pulling UCF within six with the score reading 64-58.

The Mountaineers dialed up a long-range strike out of the UCF timeout that followed the Taylor make. Thiam answered with a pair of second-chance points, his final tallies of the night as he finished with 13.

It was UCF ball out of the under-four minute media timeout as Taylor was fouled going up for a dunk prior to the break. He nailed both from the free throw line, pulling UCF within five at 67-62. Trying to weather the UCF storm, West Virginia tried to bleed the clock as much as they could, but wound up missing a three and picking up a shot clock violation with 3:02 to play. The Knights came up empty on the ensuing possession, but turned the Mountaineers over for the 13th time of the second half, getting the ball back with 2:18 to go. Johnson made the most of the mishap, driving to the lane as he has so many times for a one-handed finish at the rim, pulling the Black and Gold within one possession at 67-64.

The peak of what was a mountain of a 27-point deficit was now in sight, as UCF's defense had held West Virginia to just 20 second half points through the first 18 minutes of the final frame, allowing the Knights to march back.

The Black and Gold fouled one of West Virginia's worst free throw shooters on the ensuing possession. It worked, as the Mountaineer clanked the first of his one-and-one chance. The home team was able to gather the rebound though, and West Virginia cashed in on the second-chance opportunity, banging in the 12th three pointer of the contest.

Still, UCF had its chances in the waning moments, as Johnson hit one-of-two free throws with 1:10 to play. West Virginia missed on a long-range attempt with 38 seconds left. Charging down the floor as an errant Johnson three was collected by Thiam, who also pulled and missed from three. A UCF foul sent West Virginia to the charity stripe, where another missed front end of a one-and-one gave the Knights a sliver of hope. A scramble for the rebound wound up in the Mountaineers' mitts, sealing UCF's hopes of tying the largest comeback in Division I this season.

Small, who entered the evening behind Hall for the Big 12's scoring lead, had a chance to overthrow the Knights junior. An entire season of scoring came down to the charity stripe with a dozen ticks on the clock remaining in the regular season. Small hit both his free throws, tying Hall with 572 points on the campaign for a share of the Big 12's regular season scoring title.

The Knights held West Virginia to 25 points in the second half, just as the Mountaineers did to UCF in the first. West Virginia shot just 29.2% from the field in the final frame, the lowest clip surrendered by the Black and Gold in the second half this season. The Mountaineers finished with a slightly better average overall on the evening with a 40.9% to 39% edge.

Johnson finished the contest with 27 points, his fourth straight 20+ point showing to wrap up the regular season. He snatched seven steals on the night, tying a career best. Sunday evening's total got him to 73 steals on the campaign, which ties the UCF record for steals in a Division I season, drawing even with his own 73 swipes last season. The four-year Knight has set personal bests in nearly every stat category possible this season, and if he hasn't yet, he still has a chance to do so in postseason play.

Game 35 • UCF 88, Cincinnati 80

College Basketball Crown Quarterfinals • April 3, 2025

Las Vegas, Nev.

A brilliant display from senior Darius Johnson lifted UCF to an 88-80 victory over longtime foe Cincinnati in the College Basketball Crown quarterfinals. Johnson was lighting up the scoreboard like the slot machines on the Las Vegas strip, scoring 31 points with five made triples to send the Knights to Saturday's semifinal.

Johnson's name was called early and often, a bit of foreshadowing for the home stretch of Thursday night's game, scoring UCF's first eight points and scoring the lone two makes for nearly the first four minutes of the contest. A layup, followed by his signature high-arching three point shot put UCF up 5-0 before Cincinnati hit its first triple with 16:09 showing on the game clock. Johnson swished in another triple, starting the game three-of-four from the field including a perfect two-of-two from deep. The Knights held an 8-3 lead at the first media timeout while limiting Cincinnati to one-for-six from the field.

After Moustapha Thiam bullied his way to the rim for a 10-3 lead. Five straight Cincinnati points closed the gap, one that didn't expand above five the rest of the half. The Bearcats climbed to their first lead of the game with 6:39 left in the first half with a driving dunk, jumping on top 25-24.

Dwon 32-30, UCF posted a 6-0 run to pull back in front for the remainder of the half. Tyler Hendricks got the stretch going with a quick jumper before Dallan "Deebo" Coleman and Johnson added layups for the 36-32 lead. A Cincinnati triple with 77 seconds left in the first was its final points of the first. Jordan Ivy-Curry added a pair of free throws for the Knights before the halftime buzzer sounded, taking a 38-35 lead into the locker room.

Cincinnati set the tone to start the second half, scoring six of the first nine points of the frame, tying things at 41. The Bearcats popped back in front briefly from a triple at 46-44 only to UCF roar out to a 10-0 run.

Machowski buried a triple to get things going, followed by a Johnson fastbreak and Benny Williams layup. A display of perfect passing after collecting an offensive rebound led to an opening for Machowski who drove backdoor on the baseline, collecting a feed from Williams and tossing it in for the 54-46 lead.

The Bearcats didn't go quietly, piecing together a 6-0 run to draw back to within two. Hendricks had an answer though, hitting a step-back, corner triple to extend the lead back to five. Cincinnati continued to scratch back, scoring eight of the next nine points to take a 60-58 lead. Thiam responded with his lone triple of the game, putting UCF back in front.

Tied at 67 all, Williams provided enough electricity on a monster putback dunk to power the entire Vegas strip for a night.

Johnson earned himself a new nickname in his 123rd collegiate contest, as Gus Johnson who was on the call for a national audience on FS1, dubbed him "the moon man" for his skyscraping triples that were beginning to leave craters in Cincinnati's hopes of continuing in the Crown. A layup from Thiam to put UCF in front for good with 4:34 to play yielded to the senior star who began to put the game out of sight. Darius dropped in a high-flying triple to put the Knights up 74-70 before popping in another jumper with 3:11 to play to put UCF up half a dozen. One more star-grazing three-pointer completed the Black and Gold's second 10-0 run of the half and ballooned the lead to nine, the highest mark of the game.

Game 37 • Nebraska 77, UCF 66

College Basketball Crown Finals • April 6, 2025

Las Vegas, Nev.

The UCF men's basketball team saw its quest for the College Basketball Crown title come up just short, falling to Nebraska 77-66 in the championship game.

Moustapha Thiam got the Knights going with a rejection on the defensive end and turned it into a triple on the offensive side, giving UCF the first points of the game. Nebraska scored 10 of the game's next 12 points, giving the Cornhuskers a five-point lead. They later pulled in front by a dozen, leading 23-11 with 10:21 to play in the opening segment after a third Knights turnover. Darius Johnson, who has been phenomenal throughout the Crown, picked up two early fouls, subbing out shortly after the Knights went down 12.

Dior Johnson got things going back in the right direction, cashing in on a jumper followed by a quick spinning shot from high in the paint from Jordan Ivy-Curry, making it 23-15. Nebraska answered with a layup before Ivy-Curry swished one from deep. Nils Machowski missed a layup but collected his own miss, slashing Nebraska's lead to five at 25-20 with 7:54 remaining.

The Knights continued to chip away at the Cornhusker lead. Machowski buried a three with six minutes to play, making it a 29-26 deficit before Nebraska extended the lead back to seven with 4:58 to play.

The three point bucket for the Cornhuskers at the 4:58 mark was their final make from the field of the half, missing their last seven attempts. UCF finished the half scoring nine of the final 11 points to erase the deficit and head to the break tied 35-35. Ivy-Curry hit a triple, followed with two points each from Hendricks and Darius, tying the game at 33 before Nebraska's two free throws and a Dallan "Deebo" Coleman layup finished the scoring in the half.

The bank was open, as it always is in Las Vegas, to start the second half for UCF with Machowski kissing one off the glass and down for the first points of the half. The two points were the first of a 14-0 UCF run as the Knights had everything clicking on both ends of the floor. Coleman slashed through the defense straight to the rim like a freight train before Thiam cashed in on a two-handed slam. The run continued with a triple from Machowski and another spinning layup from Ivy-Curry. Hendricks nailed a three, giving the Knights the 49-35 lead.

Nebraska's cold snap finally ended with 14:36 remaining, which meant the Cornhuskers went over 10 minutes without a field goal. That opened up an 11-0 run for Nebraska though, cutting UCF's lead to just three.

A big shot by Ivy-Curry in the corner put the Knights up by six with 11:58 to play, but again Nebraska went on a hot streak, scoring the next 13 points to go up seven with 7:27 remaining. A trio of threes and two dunks were responsible for the now 59-52 advantage. The Knights trimmed it back to four at 59-55, but that was the closest to comeback the Black and Gold got in the final game of the campaign.

Nebraska again got a streak going, scoring 12 of the next 16 points to retake a 12-point lead for the second time on the afternoon at 71-59 with 2:35 left. A glimmer of hope resurfaced as Ivy-Curry added five points to UCF's total in 33 seconds, trimming the deficit to 71-64 with 1:53 remaining. Nebraska didn't falter down the stretch, adding the finishing touches with free throws for the 77-66 final.

Ivy-Curry finished the contest with a game-high 29 points while Machowski was UCF's second-leading scorer on the afternoon with 13 points. UCF's streak of making 10+ threes in each postseason game was snapped, sinking just seven against Nebraska.

UCF's 2024-25 campaign saw the Knights win 20 games for the third time under Coach Dawkins and for the 10th time in program history. It was the fifth postseason in nine seasons with Dawkins at the helm.

Darius finishes his remarkable UCF career with 1,586 points for an eighth-place all-time finish as a Knight. He also finishes second in steals (239), third in assists (470), third in games played (125) fourth in made three pointers (218) and fifth in free throw percentage (81.4%) among UCF career ranks. His 644 points this season are the sixth most in a campaign by a Knight, and his 83 steals are the most in a season in UCF's Division I tenure.

The Knights trip through the College Basketball Crown included a 76-75 win over Oregon State, an 88-80 victory over conference-foe Cincinnati and a thrilling come-from-behind effort to beat Villanova 104-98.

The UCF men's and women's basketball programs have called the beautiful 10,000-seat Addition Financial Arena their home since the start of the 2007-08 season. Located in the heart of Knights Plaza on the expansive north side of campus, the state-of-the-art facility opened in the fall of 2007 to packed crowds at multiple events.

Addition Financial Arena's unique design provides an intimate atmosphere for all students, alumni, fans and supporters, while creating an intimidating environment for opponents. With a raucous student section, dubbed the "Knightmare," Addition Financial Arena quickly became one of the more formidable basketball facilities in the southeast. The design offers perfect sight lines for all fans, giving every spectator a spectacular view.

Approximately 7,000 seats make up the lower bowl, with an additional 3,000 seats situated in the upper level. Club level seating is on the east side of the Arena, with exclusive access to the regal Black and Gold Club before, during and after each game.

The facility features 16 luxury boxes and suites, a club lounge, open concourse areas and numerous concession options. Fans benefit from a state-of-the-art audio and video system. The scoreboard located at center court features four video screens that show replays and player information with an LED ribbon board stretching around the bottom.

Patrons enter the building through a spacious lobby that has conveniently located concession and apparel stands. Updates to Addition Financial Arena and The Venue have taken place as of the summer of 2023.

Addition Financial Arena sits on the northern side of campus and is nestled in with UCF's other athletics facilities, including FBC Mortgage Stadium, The Venue, John Euliano Park and the UCF Soccer/Track Complex. FBC Mortgage Stadium also opened up during the same September week in 2007.

The arena is the centerpiece of an area that includes apartment-style dormitories with 2,000 total beds and about 100,000-square feet of retail space. Before and after games, fans can dine and shop at establishments like Barnes & Noble Bookstore, Burger U, Gringos Locos, Domino's, The Pop Parlour, Dunkin', Jimmy John's, Subway and Knightro's.

The neighboring retail area has room for 24 shops.

Addition Financial Arena also hosts premiere concerts along with UCF commencement ceremonies. The Central Florida Crusaders, expansion members of the National Indoor Soccer League, began fielding men's and women's teams in the venue for the 2022-23 season.

The arena is located directly in front of UCF's old home, The Venue, which re-opened following a year of massive renovations to create a new home for the women's volleyball program as well as dedicated practice facilities for both the men's and women's basketball programs. The Knights played in the former 5,100-seat building from 1991-2007.

Construction on the new facility began in November of 2005. The arena was designed by HOK Sports and constructed by KUD International.

The arena officially opened on Sept. 8, 2007, with a Reba McEntire concert. The first UCF event at the new arena occurred on Sept. 28, 2007, when the UCF volleyball team hosted East Carolina. The first UCF men's basketball game was a 63-60 victory over Nevada on Nov. 11, 2007 while the first women's contest was on Nov. 9, 2007, in 72-57 loss to Texas Tech.

Taylor Hendricks with NBA Commissioner Adam Silver on stage at the 2023 NBA Draft moments after becoming UCF's first lottery and first round pick with his ninth overall selection to the Utah Jazz

Taylor Hendricks, a four-star recruit out of Calvary Christian Academy in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, became UCF's highest draft pick in men's basketball history by going ninth overall to the Utah Jazz in the 2023 NBA Draft.

The prospect rankings for Hendricks were far from unanimous; ESPN had him pegged as the 54th overall recruit in the nation while 247 Sports had him outside the top-100. Rivals was the only outlet to have Hendricks listed as top-10 in his position.

Hendricks left his mark in his only season at UCF before declaring for the draft on March 22, 2023. He ended his tenure with the Knights as a unanimous selection to the American Athletic Conference's All-Freshman Team and also earned a Second-Team All-Conference nod. The rookie was one of 25 finalists for the Kyle Macy Award, the first Knight to receive the honor. Hendricks was by far one of the more impressive rookies in The American throughout the season, tallying a record nine Rookie-of-the-Week honors, including four straight from the span of Nov. 21, 2022 to Dec. 12, 2022, another conference record.

In his lone season with the Knights, Hendricks started all 34 games, playing 1,179 minutes, the second-most in a single season in program history. The young rookie led the team in many offensive categories, including scoring (15.1 points per game), rebounding (7.0 per game), field goal percentage (47.8%, 184-for-385) and three-point percentage (39.4%, 61-for-155). Hendricks finished the year 10th on UCF's career three-point percentage list.

On the defensive side of the ball, Hendricks led the team and the AAC in blocks with 59, also tying him for seventh most in a single season at UCF. His conference-leading 59 blocks ranked 39th in the nation and 42nd in blocks per game, averaging 1.74 per game. Hendricks went 13 straight games with a block, falling two games shy of Tacko Fall's 15-game streak in a single season.

The impact of Hendricks was felt from game one, as the rookie posted 23 points in his debut in a double-overtime loss to UNC-Asheville. He tallied a double-double his next time out, helping the Knights charge on to a 68-54 victory against Florida State with 15 points and 12 rebounds. Hendricks was named the Baha Mar Hoops Bahamas Championship MVP after recording a 16-point, 12-rebound double-double against Oklahoma State in the semifinals before leading the team in scoring with 19 points against Santa Clara in the championship contest.

Hendricks continued to be a force to be reckoned with, eventually topping his career-high point total of 23 in a single game with 25. He did it twice, scoring 25 points at Tulsa on Feb. 26 on 10-of-16 shooting with eight rebounds and then again on the final day of the regular season, which was just two games later, at home against ECU. It was more of the same in the 2023 NIT First Round as the Knights toppled the Gators 67-49 behind Hendricks' 17 points on 8-of-11 shooting, eight rebounds, two blocks and two steals.

When all was said and done, Hendricks had shattered UCF rookie records. He finished with the most single-season points (515), scoring average (15.1), rebounds (237), offensive rebounds (80), rebound average (7.0) field goal makes and attempts (184-for-385), free throw makes and attempts (86-for-110) and minutes (1,179), all tops of UCF's freshman leaderboards. He was second in blocks (59), fourth in steals (31) and three-point field-goals (61). Hendricks was the only player in the NCAA to hit 60 or more three pointers, record 55 or more blocks and have 35 or more dunks on the year. He also tallied five double-doubles, the first two coming within his first four career games.

Hendricks became the third Knight selected in the NBA Draft and second in the modern era, joining Jermaine Taylor (2009, Round 2, Pick 32) and Bennie Shaw (1976, Round 9, Pick 146). Hendricks was set to become the fifth Knight to ever play in the NBA, joining Jermaine Taylor (Houston, Sacramento), Tacko Fall (Boston, Cleveland), Mark Jones (Orlando) and Matt Williams (Miami).

The 2023 lottery pick made his NBA debut on opening night, Oct. 25, in the final minutes of Utah's home loss to Sacramento. The rookie spent some time between the NBA and G-League before getting his next appearance on Dec. 2. Hendricks earned his first career start on Feb. 22, his 18th career NBA game and 57th of the season for Utah's squad. He posted 12 points and hauled in nine rebounds in the process. Hendricks started and played in the final 17 games of Utah's season, earning 9.3 points and 5.5 rebounds per contest during that span. On the season, Hendricks played in 40 games, starting in 23 while averaging 7.3 points and 4.6 rebounds per game. The 40 games played is the most by a Knight in the NBA in a single season and second all-time, behind only Jermaine Taylor who suited up for 65 contests.

SPACEU

UCF's rich history of space exploration made its way to the hardwood during the 2019-20 season for the first "Space Game" in program history. The Citronauts, or 'Nauts for short, topped Tulsa 83-75 on Feb. 9, 2020, behind Darin Green Jr.'s 26 points. The Space Game made its long-awaited return during the 2022-23 campaign with a fresh set of white uniforms with a new 'Nauts script logo across the chest. The uniforms debuted on Feb. 11, 2023, as the 'Nauts launched a barrage of threes, netting 17 and setting the single-game record for made three-pointers in school history while beating Tulsa 96-52. Itiel Horton was the leading scorer on the evening, sinking 20 points while Darius Johnson recorded a 13-point, 10-assist double-double. The Knights wore the fresh new 'Nauts threads for a second consecutive home game, rocking them against Cincinnati on Feb. 19, 2023. Although they were wearing the 'Nauts uniforms, it was not officially designated as a Space Game. UCF lost to No. 8/6 Iowa State 60-52 in the 2023-24 Space Game.

Taylor Hendricks (2022-23), C.J. Kelly (2022-23) and Darius Johnson (2021-present) pose together at the uniform reveal shoot in the new 'Nauts uniforms. The jerseys featured a new 'Nauts script along with an outline of a rocket launch's trajectory. The numbers featured were a new "SpaceU" font designed for Space Games across all sports. The Citronaut head is featured on the shorts. The uniform is expected to make another appearance during the 2023-24 season.

The script "Nauts" wordmark made its debut on the men's and women's basketball jerseys for the 2022-23 season. The hardwood remains the only place this specific logo has been used.

The jersey had the Citronaut workmark across the chest outlined in "Canaveral Blue" as well as numbers on the front in the same color. The sides featured a constellation pattern inside a sword outline that was found on the team's primary uniforms during that time.

It was designed to combine the two major themes of Central Florida at the time: the space program and Florida citrus industry, one that produces roughly 100 million boxes of oranges annually. The logo was rebranded in 2018 to include a new "Canaveral Blue" color as well as a new wordmark.

Johnson scored 13 points and recorded 10 assists during the 2022-23 Space Game, helping UCF to a massive win over Tulsa.

Spirit Splash

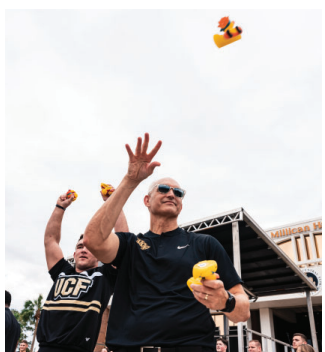

Spirit Splash is one of the most popular events on campus and has been voted one of the best college traditions in the nation. Part of Homecoming Week, this wet and wild pep rally invites Knights to charge into the Reflecting Pond and catch collectible rubber ducks and commemorative T-shirts. Other events during the weeklong celebration include Movie Knight, Comedy Knight, Knights Got Talent, Concert Knight, Culture Knight and so much more.

The event itself is a sight to behold, as thousands of students gather around the edge of the Reflecting Pond and await the countdown that sends them all rushing into the pond. The event began in 1995 and has been popular ever since. Each student's goal at Spirit Splash is to catch a rubber duck. These aren't just any rubber ducks though as each year, a new, unique version is created. The ducks are hurled into the pond by student-athletes from the football, basketball and cheer teams as well as other big names on campus such as director of athletics Terry Mohajir and President Alex Cartwright.

Director of Athletics Terry Mohajir joined the student body in charging into the Reflecting Pond for his first Spirit Splash at UCF in an outfit completed by a pair of duck-covered swim trunks. He went a bit more formal for his second year at the event, joining UCF's student-athletes on stage to throw out ducks.

Alexander N. Cartwright

University of Central Florida President | Fifth Year

Alexander Cartwright was selected as UCF's sixth president by the UCF Board of Trustees on March 20, 2020 following a nationwide search. He was confirmed by the Florida Board of Governors the following week and began his role April 13, 2020.

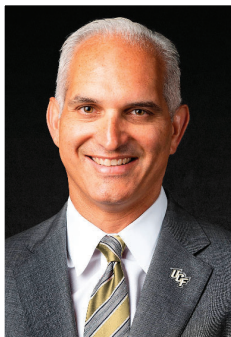

Under Dr. Cartwright's leadership, UCF is working toward becoming the world's leading public metropolitan university, a top 50 public research university, determined to foster success for students of all backgrounds and to produce research and creative works that positively impact lives across our community and across the world. To achieve this vision, the university has been focused on achieving greater operational, academic and inclusive excellence, including building a senior leadership team that will help take the university to new heights.

As a first-generation college student whose journey to higher education was not traditional, Dr. Cartwright understands and prioritizes the need to build successful outcomes for students from all backgrounds, and is dedicated to creating a culture of belonging at UCF.

An internationally recognized researcher and scholar in the area of optical sensors, he is a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, SPIE and the National Academy of Inventors. Dr. Cartwright is a prior winner of both the National Science Foundation CAREER Award and the Office of Naval Research Young Investigator Award. In addition, he earned the 2002 SUNY Chancellor's award for excellence in teaching.

A native of the Bahamas, Dr. Cartwright holds a doctorate in electrical and computer engineering from the University of Iowa. He and his wife Melinda have two children, Alyssa and Andrew, and a rescue dog, Artemis.

Terry Mohajir

Vice President & Director of Athletics | Fourth Year

Terry Mohajir, UCF's vice president and director of athletics, has excelled at hiring coaches who win championships, raising money for first-class athletics facilities and support resources necessary to be nationally competitive--and fulfilling a unique promise to guarantee a job or graduate school admission for every student-athlete who graduates.

Now, he and the Knights parlay all those elements into the most significant step in program history as UCF begins competition in the Big 12 Conference in 2023-24. UCF accepted an invitation to join the Big 12 in September 2021 and officially entered the league July 1, 2023. Mohajir's two and a half years with the Knights began with the February 2021 hiring of Gus Malzahn as the new UCF head football coach and just seven months later featured the new conference announcement.

Mohajir (pronounced mo-HAH-zure) joined the UCF Athletics staff Feb. 9, 2021, following eight years as Arkansas State University's vice chancellor for intercollegiate athletics.

Mohajir wasted no time making an impact at UCF. Just five days after taking over the Knights' program he hired former Auburn coach Malzahn as the new UCF football coach. Malzahn was the head coach at Arkansas State in 2012 when Mohajir was hired there as director of athletics--with the Red Wolves winning the Sun Belt Conference title that year in Malzahn's single season with Arkansas State. Malzahn led Auburn to the Bowl Championship Series title game after the 2013 campaign, one Southeastern Conference Championship and two SEC West Division titles. Malzahn's first Knight team in 2021 sizzled down the stretch with six wins in its final seven games and a final 9-4 mark--capped by a Gasparilla Bowl triumph over Florida--and then UCF in 2022 produced another nine-win campaign, an appearance in the American Athletic Conference Championship Game and a seventh consecutive postseason invitation, this time to the Military Bowl.

Since Mohajir came on board at UCF, Knight teams have produced these on-field achievements:

- Fourteen American Athletic Conference titles in 2021-23, three in volleyball, two each in softball and women's indoor and outdoor track and field--plus one each in men's and women's soccer, men's and women's tennis and women's basketball--and those 14 titles equaled the number produced by UCF teams in the previous five years (beginning 2016-17)
- Fifteen NCAA Championship team appearances, three in volleyball, women's tennis and women's golf, two in softball and one each in men's soccer, men's tennis, women's basketball and men's golf--with multiple individuals qualifying in tennis, golf and track and field
- NCAA Sweet 16 qualifications in men's soccer and women's tennis in spring 2021, plus an NCAA regional runner-up slot in softball
- A 2022 NCAA super regional appearance in softball (after a #16 national seed and a title in the Orlando Regional) and NCAA first-round wins in women's basketball and women's tennis
- NCAA first-round wins in 2022-23 in volleyball and women's soccer and another regional runner-up finish in softball
- First-team All-America honors for Rayniah Jones in the 2021 NCAA 100-meter hurdles outdoors, the 2022 NCAA 60-meter hurdles indoors and the 4x100 relay outdoors (joining Ciara Holback, Beyonce Defreitas and I'Asia Wilson). She won three events at the 2022 AAC Indoor Track and Field Championships and was named the meet's outstanding performer.
- First-team 2022 All-America recognition for Jada Cody in softball and McKenna Melville in volleyball.
- Eight teams in 2022-23 in the top 25 at some point during those seasons

Mohajir's 2021 presentation to the UCF Board of Trustees of a vision and action plan for the future of the Knights' football campus proved to be a noteworthy precursor to the Big 12 announcement. That vision--now known as Mission XII--includes significant proposed new elements that will enhance the Knights' ability to compete for football championships and benefit student-athletes and coaches in areas including injury care and prevention, hydrotherapy, recreation and premium seating. The campus will include creation of Nicholson Plaza, a football "town square" outside the southwest corner of the football stadium, with the highlight of that location to be McNamara Cove with a recovery river. That will be accomplished by movement of one existing football practice field (west field) to the other side of the second (east field), creating additional space for Nicholson Plaza.

All those improvements will further refine a state-of-the-art plan for football facilities and support services within a concentrated locale on the northeast side of the UCF campus. The intent is to create a dedicated football campus that will consolidate the Knights' facilities in the areas of housing, nutrition, sports medicine, sports performance, academics and career services.

Those proposed additions combine with several new elements added in the months after Mohajir and Malzahn came on board: replacement of existing synthetic grass in Nicholson Fieldhouse, outside painting of Nicholson Fieldhouse, all-new theming in the UCF football office areas and hallways and new seating and graphics in the Knights' team meeting room. Additional improvements for other sports included a new video board and audio system for baseball, artificial turf upgrades at John Euliano Park, new player lockers and a new stadium audio system for softball--and renovated locker rooms for the volleyball and men's and women's basketball programs. An additional series of planned facility upgrades and improvements will affect every other UCF sports program.

UCF helped solidify its financial future in a major way with the 2022 announcement that Mohajir had agreed to a 13-year deal with Playfly Sports to leverage the company's multimedia rights expertise and tap into its expansive suite of marketing and media solutions to further grow the UCF brand regionally, nationally and globally.

That followed the announcement that the UCF Athletic Association and FBC Mortgage, LLC, combined on a naming rights agreement for the Knights' home football stadium that took effect beginning with the 2022 season and branded the UCF football venue as FBC Mortgage Stadium.

Mohajir's years at Arkansas State featured delivering on a guarantee that every student-athlete who graduated earned a job opportunity or admission to graduate school. The Red Wolves achieved the 100% guarantee every year for Mohajir's last six years there. He instituted the same program at UCF under the banner of the Knights Leadership Academy, with every graduate since 2021 taking advantage.
