Pac-12 Conference

The Conference of Champions

ABOUT THE PAC-12 CONFERENCE

The Pac-12 Conference has entered its eighth season since incorporating 12 teams, prior to the 2011-12 academic year. The league expanded in July 2011 by adding the University of Colorado and the University of Utah. Upholding its tradition as the "Conference of Champions," the Pac-12 has captured 175 NCAA team titles since 1999-2000, including 12 in 2017-18.

Just 27 days after the conference officially changed its name, Commissioner Larry Scott announced the creation of the Pac-12 Networks on July 27, 2011, solidifying a landmark television deal and putting the conference on the forefront of collegiate athletics. The Networks, including one national network, six regional networks, and a robust digital network, marked the first-ever integrated media company owned by a college conference.

The only conference to win at least 500 NCAA Championships, the Pac-12 once again led the nation in 2017-18 with 12 NCAA crowns. Even more impressive has been the breadth of the Pac-12's success, with championships coming in 28 different men's and women's sports. The Pac-12 has led or tied the nation in NCAA Championships in 52 of the last 58 years, the only exceptions being in 1980-81, 1988-89, 1990-91 and 1995-96 when the conference finished second, and only twice finished third in 1998-99 and 2004-05.

For the 13th consecutive year, the Pac-12 had the most, or tied for the most, NCAA titles of any conference in the country, winning at least six every year since 2000-01. No other conference has won double-digit NCAA crowns in a single year, the Pac-12 doing so 10 times, including a record 14 in 1996-97.

Spanning over a century of outstanding athletics achievements, the Pac-12 has become the first conference to reach at least 500 championships. The Pac-12 has claimed 513 NCAA Championships (300 men's, 183 women's, 30 combined), over 200 more than the next league.

Pac-12 members have won 300 NCAA team championships on the men's side, 83 more than the next-closest conference. Men's NCAA crowns have come at a phenomenal rate for the Pac-12, with 16 basketball titles by six schools, 54 tennis titles, 47 outdoor track & field crowns and 29 baseball titles. Pac-12 members have won 25 of 48 NCAA titles in volleyball, 44 of 49 in water polo, 30 in skiing, and 24 in swimming & diving national championships.

The conference's excellence is further proven in the annual Division I Learfield Sports Directors' Cup competition, the prestigious award that honors the best overall collegiate athletics programs in the country. Stanford won its 24th consecutive Directors' Cup in 2017-18 to lead the conference. UCLA finished second, USC finished fourth, California was No. 19 and Oregon was No. 24. At least five member institutions have been ranked in the top 25 each of the Directors' Cup program, with seven appearing in the top 20 on five different occasions (1998, 2001, 2003, 2005 and 2006).

Last season, in addition to the conference's 12 national championships, the Pac-12 also had runners-up in 10 NCAA Championship events. In 11 sports, there were at least two teams among the final four and 39 teams finished in the top four at 23 NCAA Championship events, including all-Pac-12 finals in women's soccer, men's water polo and women's water polo.

Eight Pac-12 men's basketball teams secured postseason bids, including three teams selected to the NCAA Tournament (Arizona, Arizona State and UCLA). Arizona captured the Pac-12 regular-season title as well as the Pac-12 Tournament championship.

THROUGH THE YEARS...

The conference's roots date back to December 2, 1915, when the Pacific Coast Conference (PCC) was founded at a meeting at Portland's Oregon Hotel. Original membership consisted of California, Washington, Oregon and Oregon State College (now Oregon State).

PCC play began in 1916, and one year later, Washington State College (now Washington State) was accepted into the Conference. Stanford University joined in 1918. By 1922, the PCC had expanded to eight teams with the admission of USC and the University of Idaho. Monana joined the conference in 1924, and the PCC grew to 10 members by 1928 with the addition of UCLA. The PCC competed as a 10-team league until 1950, with the exception of 1943-45, when World War II curtailed intercollegiate athletic competition to a minimum. In 1950, Montana resigned from the conference to join the Mountain States Conference.

The PCC dissolved in 1959, as the Athletic Association of Western University formed. Original AAWU membership consisted of California, Stanford, USC, UCLA and Washington. Washington State joined the AAWU in 1962, while Oregon and Oregon State were added in 1964.

The "Pac-8 Conference" was first adopted in 1968. The conference admitted both Arizona and Arizona State on July 1, 1978, to complete the Pac-10 Conference. The league did not expand until July 1, 2011, when the Pac-10 became the Pac-12 with the addition of Colorado and Utah.

GENE BLOCK

CHANCELLOR
12th Year
Stanford '70

Dr. Gene Block became chancellor of UCLA in August 2007 and enters his seventh year as the university's chief executive officer. In his current capacity, Chancellor Block oversees all aspects of the university's three-part mission of education, research and service.

A champion of public universities, Chancellor Block has set four major priorities for UCLA during his administration: academic excellence, diversity, civic engagement and financial security. He has called for UCLA to deepen its engagement with the Los Angeles region and to increase access for students from underrepresented populations.

Chancellor Block holds UCLA faculty appointments in psychiatry and bio-behavioral sciences in the David Geffen School of Medicine and in physiological science in the College of Letters and Science. He also heads a research laboratory on campus that is funded by the National Institutes of Health (NIH).

Previously, he served as vice president and provost of the University of Virginia. He holds a bachelor's degree in psychology from Stanford University and a master's and Ph.D. in psychology from the University of Oregon.

Chancellor Block and his wife, Carol, have two adult children. The Blocks are avid Bruin fans and attend the competitions of various Bruin athletic programs.

While success on the playing field with 30 NCAA Championships in 15 different sports and 29 second-place finishes during his tenure are extraordinary numbers, UCLA's academic success under Guerrero is equally noteworthy. During the Fall 2017 quarter, a record 341 student-athletes made the Director's Honor Roll, a number that was surpassed on Winter 2018, when 351 earned that distinction. UCLA's Graduation Success Rate (GSR) and Academic Progress Rates (APR) continue to remain high nation-wide. The UCLA student-athlete GSR is currently at 86%, and every Bruin team maintained multi-year APR rates of 930 or above, including a school-record seven who achieved perfect scores of 1000.

Nationally, Guerrero has extensive experience in committee work at both the NCAA and conference level. Currently, he serves on the Division I Men's Basketball Oversight Committee, which he chaired the previous two years, and he also chairs an NCAA Working Group on behalf of the Division I Men's Basketball Rice Commission. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the NABC, the Institute for Sport and Social Justice, and the United States International University Sports Federation, where he also serves as Vice President. As the Chair of the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee in 2009-10, he was involved with the negotiation of the new $10.8 billion, 14-year NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament television package, as well as the decision to expand the Tournament to 68 teams.

In addition to the athletic and academic success and the national recognition that accompanies those things, resource development has been a core tenet of Guerrero's tenure. During this recent UCLA Centennial Campaign (2014-18), Guerrero and his external development team have raised in excess of $275 million, to date, in fundraising support to the program. He also secured major long-term apparel and rights-holder contracts with Under Armour and WME-IMG that, at the time of their signing, were the largest collegiate deals nationally in their respective areas. Guerrero also led the negotiations that solidified the relationship between UCLA and the Rose Bowl, resulting in more than $180 million in renovations and restoration. During his tenure, he has spearheaded in excess of $430 million in new and renovated UCLA athletic facilities.

Guerrero came to UCLA from UC Irvine, where he had served as UCI's fifth permanent Director of Athletics for 10 years (1992-2002), helping to elevate that program to unprecedented success. Prior to arriving at UCI, Guerrero worked at Cal State Dominguez Hills, where he led that program to national prominence while serving as Athletic Director for five years (1988-92).

A proud alumnus of UCLA, Guerrero received his Bachelor's degree from the University in 1974 and played second base for the Bruins for four years. Known as "Warrior" during his playing career, he was inducted into the UCLA Baseball Hall of Fame in 1996. The Bruin Athletic Director earned a Master's degree in Public Administration in 1982 from Cal State Dominguez Hills and was named to the Pi Alpha Alpha Honor Society for Public Affairs and Public Policy that same year.

Guerrero was raised in Wilmington, Calif. He is married to the former Anne Marie Aniello, and they have two grown daughters.

DAN GUERRERO

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR
17th Year
UCLA '74

Sixteen years and 30 NCAA Championships later, Dan Guerrero's mantra of 'image and substance' has clearly been established at a level that few others in his profession can approach. At the department's helm when UCLA Athletics became the first to 100 NCAA team championships, the Bruins' current total of 116 NCAA titles ranks second in the nation. UCLA teams have also finished second 29 times and have totaled 123 Top 5 NCAA finishes.

Across all sports, UCLA teams are fixtures in the postseason, with 88% of the Bruin teams in 2017-18 qualifying for NCAA postseason play. The football team has appeared in 13 bowl games, while the men's basketball team advanced to consecutive Final Fours from 2006-08 and has made six trips to the Sweet 16. The program has also won 69 conference championships in 16 different sports, produced over 700 All-Americans and featured 10 Honda Award winners, including two honorees in 2017-18 and the 2003-04 Collegiate Woman Athlete of the Year. In his 16 years at UCLA, the Bruins have finished second five times and third four times in the race for the Learfield Sports Directors' Cup. In 2017-18, UCLA recorded a school-record 1,326 points in a close runner-up finish for the Directors' Cup.

Guerrero was the first athletic director at the NCAA Division I level (FBS, FCS and NCAA Division I-AAA) to earn three NACDA Under Armour Athletic Director of the Year awards (2013-14 and 2006-07 at UCLA, 2001-02 at UC Irvine). In 2017, he was honored by the National Football Foundation with the John L. Toner Award, becoming the first-ever sitting athletics director from the West Coast to receive the honor. He was also selected as a finalist for the Athletic Director of the Year at the 2017 Sports Business Awards.
