ATHLETIC COMMUNICATIONS

Andrew Wagner is in his third season as UCLA's Baseball Athletic Communications Director. He also serves as the media contact for UCLA's men's soccer and women's swim & dive programs. He was most recently at UC Santa Barbara, where he was an SID for baseball, men's soccer, women's volleyball, and men's volleyball. He was the main contact for UCSB's 2016 College World Series team.

MEDIA GUIDELINES

CREDENTIALS: All media credential requests should be made, preferably via e-mail, to awagner@athletics.ucla.edu, or by phone as far in advance as possible (no later than 24 hours before game time). Credentials for games and access to coaches and student-athletes are granted to major news-gathering papers, magazines or web sites.

PHOTO CREDENTIALS: Credentials will be issued on a per-game basis and must be worn in plain sight at all times. Only credentialed photographers will be granted access to take photos on the field level from the bullpen.

TELEPHONES: The press box phone number (for media scoring updates only) is 310-794-8213. Additional phone lines are available on a shared basis in the main press box. Radio positions and additional media seating will be allocated in the press box or adjacent to the broadcast booths, if necessary.

RADIO LINES: One telephone line can be made available to the designated radio station of the visiting team. Please make arrangements through the Athletic Communications Office by e-mailing Andrew Wagner (awagner@athletics.ucla.edu) well in advance.

UCLA BASEBALL RADIO NETWORK

Radio veteran Tim Wilhelm will call the action at all UCLA home games and select road contests in 2021. Live audio of ballgames is available at uclabruins.com, the official web site of the UCLA Athletics Department. For updated broadcast schedules, visit the Bruins online at uclabruins.com.

HIGH-SPEED INTERNET: The press box is equipped with high-speed, wireless Internet for working media only. Additional high-speed data jacks are not available.

INTERVIEWS: Coaches and players are available for postgame interviews outside the clubhouse (third-base side) after a brief cooling down period. Midweek interviews can be conducted before or after practice. All interview requests must be facilitated through the Sports Information Office.

UCLABRUINS.COM: The official web site of the UCLA Athletics Department, uclabruins.com provides up-to-date results, news, schedules, player biographical information, statistics, in-game scoring and links to audio webcasts.

TWITTER/FACEBOOK/INSTAGRAM: Follow UCLA baseball on Twitter (twitter.com/uclabaseball), Facebook (facebook.com/uclabaseball) and Instagram (@uclabruinsbaseball) for the latest in-game updates and news.

ABOUT UCLA'S BASEBALL RADIO CREW

Tim Wilhelm returns for his 14th season as the radio voice of UCLA Baseball.

Wilhelm began his tenure with the Bruins from 2007-09, then returned to the booth in 2011, since which time he has called nearly every Bruin game home or away. He began calling college baseball in 1982, serving as Pepperdine's play-by-play announcer. He has broadcast 17 NCAA regional tournaments in addition to calling the 1992, 2012 and 2013 College World Series. He has called more than 1,000 games either broadcast on the radio or streamed online. His previous work includes serving as a broadcaster for Big Ten Football Game of the Week (ABC radio) and as a halftime reporter for Pac-10 Basketball Game of the Week (NBC television).

2013 NCAA CHAMPIONS

BANNER SEASON

UCLA won its first national championship in program history in 2013, defeating Mississippi State in the College World Series Finals by scores of 3-1 and 8-0. The Bruins went a perfect 10-0 in the postseason, becoming the third team in NCAA history to accomplish the feat. UCLA also made history by posting the lowest team ERA in the College World Series' aluminum bat era (0.80 ERA) and becoming the first team to complete the College World Series without allowing more than one run in each game. En route to their first championship, the Bruins defeated four national seeds, eliminating two of them (No. 5 Cal State Fullerton, No. 1 North Carolina). The Bruins won 49 games in 2013, marking the second-highest single-season win total in school history. UCLA totaled at least 40 wins for the third time in four seasons and for the ninth time in program history.

MOST OUTSTANDING PLAYER ►

Junior Adam Plutko went 2-0 with a 1.38 ERA in two CWS starts, earning him Most Outstanding Player honors at the College World Series. Plutko served as UCLA's Friday starter all season, posting a 10-3 record with a 2.29 ERA and 81 strikeouts. Additionally, he finished his three-year career in sole possession of second place on UCLA's all-time career wins list with 29 victories and seventh on the Bruins' all-time strikeout list, logging 272 strikeouts. In his last 12 starts, Plutko went 11-1 with a 1.58 ERA. In eight career postseason starts, he went 7-0 with a 0.94 ERA.

REGIONAL SWEEP

The Bruins advanced to the NCAA Super Regional round by winning three consecutive games in the NCAA Los Angeles Regional. Adam Plutko pitched seven strong innings and Pat Gallagher posted a three-hit game to lead UCLA past San Diego State, 5-3, in the opening game. The Bruins then overcame a four-run deficit in game two with help from Kevin Williams' three-run game-tying triple in the sixth inning to defeat Cal Poly, 6-4, to advance to the NCAA Los Angeles Regional finals. In the finals, UCLA met San Diego and earned its third postseason shutout in program history, downing the Toreros, 6-0. Grant Watson, Zack Weiss and David Berg combined to throw a one-hitter against San Diego.

BRUINS DEFEAT CAL STATE FULLERTON

UCLA traveled on the road for a Super Regional for the first time in six years and defeated Cal State Fullerton in two games to advance to the College World Series for the fifth time in school history. The Bruins earned a dramatic 5-3 10-inning win over the Titans in the first game to take a 1-0 lead in the best-of-three series. Sophomore Eric Filia led UCLA with a 4-5 night that included the game-winning RBI in the top of the 10th. Junior Adam Plutko was terrific on the mound once again, pitching seven strong innings and allowing just one unearned run. David Berg picked up the win with three innings in relief. Then in Game 2, the Bruins scored three runs in the bottom of the first to propel them to a 3-0 shutout win over Fullerton. Junior Pat Gallagher hit a two-run single in the bottom of the first to give UCLA the lead while junior Nick Vander Tuig held the Titans scoreless on the mound for 6.1 innings. Freshman James Kaprielian, junior Zack Weiss and Berg then combined to hold the lead for 2.2 innings in relief.

ACE NUMBER TWO

Junior right-hander Nick Vander Tuig enjoyed an outstanding season on the mound for the Bruins, serving as the team's Saturday starter all year. The right-hander from Oakdale, Calif. posted a 14-4 record on the season with a 2.16 ERA. He led the Bruins with 93 strikeouts and allowed just 18 walks all season, eighth-fewest in the Pac-12. Vander Tuig's 14 wins were also tied for the most in the conference and are second-most on UCLA's all-time single season wins list. Additionally, he threw at least six innings in 17 of his 19 starts and finished his career tied for third with Alex Sanchez (1985-87) on UCLA's all-time career wins list (27). Vander Tuig appeared in 10 career postseason games, starting seven of them and posting a 6-2 record with a 2.13 ERA. In the 2013 postseason, he went 4-0 with a 1.65 ERA and 19 strikeouts in 27.1 innings pitched.

ALL-TOURNAMENT TEAM

Four Bruins landed on the All-CWS team, with pitcher Adam Plutko earning Most Outstanding Player honors at the tournament. Joining Plutko on the All-CWS team were pitcher Nick Vander Tuig, shortstop Pat Valaika and outfielder Eric Filia. Vander Tuig also went 2-0 at the CWS, posting a 0.60 ERA and 12 strikeouts in 15 innings pitched. Vander Tuig earned the victory in the championship-clinching game against Mississippi State with a dominating performance, tossing eight shutout innings and striking out six. Filia batted .333 with eight RBI in the CWS, including a career-high five RBI in game 2 of the CWS Finals. Finally, Valaika anchored a UCLA defense that posted a .984 fielding percentage in the CWS while knocking in four runs at the plate.

STEELE FIELD at JACKIE ROBINSON STADIUM

Steele Field at Jackie Robinson Stadium celebrated its 40th season as UCLA's home baseball facility in the spring of 2020, after having undergone significant renovations since 2006. Jackie Robinson Stadium hosted the NCAA Los Angeles Regional from 2010-2013, 2015, and 2019 and the NCAA Los Angeles Super Regional in 2010 and 2012, drawing crowds of over 2,000 fans. Prior to 2010, UCLA had not hosted postseason play since 1986.

Most recently, UCLA added a state-of-the-art video scoreboard in the winter of 2013. The new LED video display features a 15HD pixel layout and measures nearly 17 feet tall by more than 49 feet wide, making it one of the largest video scoreboards in the Pac-12.

In 2011, UCLA added 580 chairback seats to the facility, allowing Jackie Robinson Stadium to seat 1,820 fans on a regular basis. The baseball program added 290 chairback seats above each of the dugouts, replacing grass slopes which had existed since the stadium's founding in 1981.

In January 2009, the facility welcomed a 10,500-square foot hitting complex, named the Jack and Rhodine Gifford Hitting Facility. Midway through the 2008 season, UCLA upgraded its stadium lights, making necessary improvements to meet NCAA standards for hosting an NCAA Super Regional. In January 2008, UCLA installed a state-of-the-art playing surface, a major upgrade made possible by the Steele Foundation.

Prior to the 2007 season, the UCLA baseball program installed a major-league quality net behind home plate, improving sightlines for fans and television crews. Other major improvements have included the addition of 945 chairback seats with cupholders in February 2006. The stadium welcomed a new hitter's eye, draped above the center field wall, and the Bruins' scoreboard received a well-deserved face lift.

Located on the site of old Sawtelle Field, Jackie Robinson Stadium provides one of the most comfortable college baseball settings in the West. The stadium was made possible by a private gift from Hoyt Pardee (UCLA '41), a classmate of Jackie Robinson. Without Hoyt, the stadium would not be a reality.

At the end of the 1984 season, the second major phase of the stadium's original construction was completed. A new clubhouse, press box, concessions stand, and permanent restrooms were added. The clubhouse contains training and equipment rooms, a meeting room, offices and the UCLA Baseball Hall of Fame, which displays plaques of all its members.

The main press box is flanked by two broadcast booths and provides ample space for members of the media. Camera positions for television coverage are located atop both dugouts and on the concourse. Controls for the public address system, electronic scoreboard and lighting systems are located in the main press box. The concession is located above the first base seats along with public restrooms. On select weekends, a second concession stand provides food and beverages above the third base seats.

Jackie Robinson Stadium, the program's sixth home field, can be accessed via the San Diego Freeway (405) and Wilshire Blvd. Located on Constitution Avenue (west off Sepulveda Blvd.), the stadium is minutes away from the UCLA campus.

Jackie Robinson Stadium was dedicated on Feb. 7, 1981 with an exhibition game between the Bruins and the Los Angeles Dodgers that drew 2,500 fans. The facility hosted the 1986 West Coast Conference playoff game between Pepperdine and Loyola Marymount. One week later, the stadium hosted the 1986 NCAA West Regional Tournament. Loyola Marymount, UC Santa Barbara, Hawaii, and UCLA participated in the regional, won by Loyola Marymount. The 1986 West Regional was the Los Angeles area's first NCAA postseason tournament since the 1978 District 8 Playoffs were hosted at USC's Dedeaux Field. The 1986 regional championship contest between Loyola Marymount and Hawaii drew a crowd of 1,815.

Jackie Robinson, for whom the stadium is named, was the first African-American baseball player to compete in the major leagues when he joined the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1947. As a student-athlete at UCLA, Robinson became the Bruins' first four-sport letterman, playing football, basketball, track, and baseball. A bronze statue of Robinson is located near the concession stand on the concourse level. The statue was dedicated on April 27, 1985, before the UCLA-Arizona State game.

JACKIE ROBINSON'S LEGACY

Jackie Robinson - Breaking Barriers

Major League Baseball's First African-American Player

Jackie Robinson became the first African-American Major League Baseball player of the modern era in 1947. Born January 31, 1919 in Cairo, Ga., Robinson was the first four-sport letterman in UCLA history – football (1939 and 1940), basketball (1940 and 1941), track and field (1940) and baseball (1940).

As UCLA's shortstop in 1940, statistics indicate that baseball was the sport with which he had the most trouble. Robinson batted .097 in CIBA games the one season he played baseball for the Bruins. He excelled at the three other sports, earning All Pac-10 honors in football, being named the West Coast Conference MVP in basketball, and establishing a long jump record. Nevertheless, due to his slick fielding and keen baserunning, fans found Robinson in the starting lineup the majority of the season.

As a youngster, his mother (Mallie) moved the Robinson family to Pasadena, Calif., after his father abandoned the family. After the move, the Robinson family quickly gained recognition for their fantastic athletic abilities, the climax coming during the 1936 Olympics where older brother Mack Robinson received a silver medal in the 200-meter dash behind the legendary Jesse Owens. In 1942, Robinson put athletics on hiatus to enlist in the U.S. Army. In the face of humiliating discrimination, Robinson took his first major step toward dismantling racial barriers. Serving in Texas, Robinson was court-martialed for refusing to move to the back of a military bus. He was eventually acquitted and given an honorable discharge.

Robinson on the Baseball Diamond

Robinson played one season on the baseball team (1940), batting just .097 in CIBA (California Intercollegiate Baseball Association) play. In his first game (March 10), he had four hits and stole four bases, including home once.

Robinson on the Track and Field Team

Jackie Robinson missed most of the 1940 track and field season while playing on the UCLA baseball team. Robinson won the NCAA title in the broad jump (24-10 1/4) that season after winning the Pacific Coast Conference meet with a leap of 25 feet (photo, above center).

Robinson on the Basketball Court

A two-year letterwinner on UCLA's basketball team, Robinson led the Southern Division of the Pacific Coast Conference in scoring in 1940, averaging 12.4 points per game in 12 league contests. The four-sport letterwinner also led the Pacific Coast Conference in 1941, averaging 11.1 points pre game in 12 league games.

Robinson played both seasons under nine-year head coach Wilbur Johns.

His military career finished, Robinson gave baseball another try. The Kansas City Monarchs of the Negro Baseball League offered him a contract in 1944. Robinson quickly caught the attention of opposing managers, and more importantly, major league scouts. Brooklyn Dodger President Branch Rickey signed him to a minor league contract with a Montreal farm club in 1945. Robinson started the year on a hot streak, quickly earning the respect of the French-Canadian fans in Montreal. He completed the year by winning the International League batting title, hitting .349 in 124 games and leading his team to the championship. His success allowed Rickey to decide that everything was in order for a groundbreaking debut with the Dodgers.

Rickey announced that Brooklyn had purchased Robinson's contract on April 10, 1947. Five days later, Robinson grounded out against Johnny Sain of the Boston Braves, officially recording the first major league at-bat by an African-American. He won the first ever Rookie of the Year Award, an honor the National League renamed in his memory in 1987. During his 10-year career, Robinson compiled a .311 batting average and one National League MVP award, playing in six World Series and six All-Star games. Robinson was the first African-American to win the MVP award and the first to be elected to the Hall of Fame (1962).

In 1957, the Dodgers traded Robinson to the New York Giants for pitcher Dick Littlefield and $30,000. Partially in response to this surprising move, Robinson decided it was time to end his playing days. That same year, Jackie was diagnosed with diabetes, a disease that led to his death in 1972.

Prior to his passing on June 4, 1972, Robinson's No. 42 was retired by the Dodgers along with Roy Campanella's No. 39 and Sandy Koufax's No. 32. On February 2, 1981, the finishing touches were put on Jackie Robinson Stadium, the current home of the Bruins. The U. S. Post Office issued the "Jackie Robinson Black Heritage" stamp on Aug. 2, 1982, featuring the first baseball player ever depicted on a U.S. stamp. In 1984, President Ronald Reagan acknowledged Robinson's accomplishments by awarding him the Medal of Freedom, the nation's highest civilian award. In March 2005, Robinson was awarded the Congressional Gold Medal. The award was presented by President George W. Bush to members of Robinson's family.

Jackie Robinson as a Brooklyn Dodger

Jackie Robinson had a remarkable 10-year major league career, playing each season with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Robinson totaled 137 home runs and 734 RBI for Brooklyn, finishing his career with a .311 batting average, 947 runs and 197 stolen bases.

Robinson on the Football Field

Jackie Robinson led the nation in punt return average in 1939 and 1940. Robinson averaged 16.5 yards per return in 1939 and followed that effort with 21.0 yards per return in 1940. Robinson's career average of 18.8 yards per return ranks fourth in NCAA history. In 1940, he led UCLA in rushing (383 yds), passing (444 yds), total offense (827 yds), scoring (36 pts) and punt returns (21.0 ypr). In his two-year career on the gridiron, Robinson rushed for 954 yards (5.9 avg) and passed for 449 yards.

JACK AND RHODINE GIFFORD HITTING FACILITY

The UCLA baseball program completed construction of the Jack and Rhodine Gifford Hitting Facility in February 2009 and has taken full advantage of the 10,500-square foot practice complex. The facility was generously funded by the late Jack Gifford and his wife, Rhodine. Jack played baseball at UCLA in the early 1960s before graduating in 1963.

UCLA's hitting facility stands behind the right field fence, extending from the right-field foul pole toward the stadium's scoreboard in center field. Construction of the facility began in early December 2008, and the project was fully completed by early February 2009.

UCLA's hitting facility allows natural light and also features interior lighting. The floor consists of high-quality synthetic turf. In all, the complex allows for two 30-x-70-foot cages and three 20-x-60-foot cages, all which feature retractable netting.

KEY FEATURES OF UCLA'S GIFFORD HITTING FACILITY

- Dimensions of the practice complex run 23-feet high, 70-feet wide and 150-feet long
- Practice complex features an adjustable interior design, accomodating up to five hitting cages at once
- Cages include multiple pitching machines, including those capable of throwing breaking balls
- Accomodates room for defensive drills and pitching instruction on the south-facing half of the complex
- Spacious tee area within the facility allows for additional hitting drills
- State-of-the-art synthetic turf allows position players to practice fielding

"We are very thankful to Jack and Rhodine for their vision with this state-of-the-art hitting facility. This facility has brought a new dimension of player development to our program. Our players and coaches are very excited about having this training facility, one that is among the nicest in the country. The Jack and Rhodine Gifford Hitting Facility is a special place for all Bruins."

— UCLA head coach John Savage

The Jack and Rhodine Gifford Hitting Facility was built in less than five weeks, spanning from December 2008 through January 2009. Photos to the right (clockwise from top) show the construction of the hitting facility in December 2008.

GIFFORD SPORTS COMPLEX IMPROVEMENTS

In February 2021, UCLA Athletics announced its plan to make improvements to the Gifford Sports Complex at Jackie Robinson Stadium, including the construction of a state-of-the-art baseball practice infield, to be known as Branca Family Field. The practice infield and improvements are designed both to serve as developmental tools for UCLA's nationally-renowned baseball program and to provide recreational space and opportunities for Veterans and their families on the Veterans Affairs West Los Angeles campus.

The practice infield is to be named after legendary Brooklyn Dodger pitcher and three-time All-Star Ralph Branca, who had a successful 12-year major league career and was famously the first to embrace and welcome Jackie Robinson to Major League Baseball. Robinson, a standout UCLA student-athlete in four sports, U.S. Army Veteran and namesake for the Jackie Robinson Athletics and Recreation Complex at UCLA -- whose number 42 is retired across all UCLA sports -- was the first to break the color barrier that segregated Major League Baseball for more than 50 years. On Opening Day in 1947 -- which was also Jackie Robinson's major league debut -- Branca lined up on the field beside Robinson, while other players refused. Branca became one of Robinson's best friends and biggest supporters.

The Branca Family Field project is being made possible thanks in part to a generous $1 million commitment from prominent entertainment attorney and philanthropist John Branca, a graduate of the UCLA School of Law. John, who is Ralph's nephew, is partner at the entertainment law firm Ziffren Brittenham, where his clients have included over 30 members of the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame. John also serves on the board of directors of the Jackie Robinson Foundation.

"We are extremely grateful for John Branca's exceptional vision and philanthropic support. Branca Family Field being side-by-side with Jackie Robinson Stadium -- that significance should not be lost on anyone who knows the story of Ralph's support and friendship with Jackie," said Martin Jarmond, the Alice and Nahum Lainer Family Director of UCLA Athletics.

GIFFORD SPORTS COMPLEX IMPROVEMENTS

“Jackie Robinson and my uncle, Ralph Branca, were Brooklyn Dodgers teammates and lifelong friends,” said John Branca. “Ralph was in awe of Jackie’s courage and determination that historic day on April 15, 1947 when Jackie shattered Major League Baseball’s color barrier, because he knew what was taking place was so much bigger than the game itself and would resonate for generations. Ralph was honored to stand with Jackie. He was further inspired by Jackie’s commitment to social change and economic equality, and Ralph did his part in giving to others, leading the Baseball Assistance Team to raise money for retired and indigent players. As Jackie once said, a life is insignificant except for the impact it has on others. On behalf of the Branca family, I am honored to welcome the addition of Branca Family Field to UCLA’s Jackie Robinson Stadium.”

With Branca’s lead gift in place, the UCLA Athletic Department launched a comprehensive $3.8 million fundraising campaign to fully fund the new practice infield and facility improvements for UCLA Baseball and veteran recreation. Philanthropist Rhodine Gifford, whose late husband Jack was a Bruin baseball player, stepped up once again to make a $1 million commitment to the campaign. Gifford’s gift further enhances the Gifford Sports Complex at Jackie Robinson Stadium, which also includes the Jack and Rhodine Gifford Hitting Facility.

“We are grateful for all who helped to make Branca Family Field within the Gifford Sports Complex a reality. It will certainly enhance the growth and development of Bruin Baseball student-athletes for years to come,” said head baseball coach John Savage. “We thank John Branca for his longstanding vision and commitment to this project. To name this practice facility, in the shadows of Jackie Robinson Stadium, after Ralph Branca is fitting. We also thank Rhodine Gifford. The Gifford family has meant so much to our university and program and we are forever grateful to their commitment to Bruin Baseball.”

Private donations were raised from fans, alumni and friends of UCLA, as well as an incredible response by UCLA Baseball alumni who helped to make this vision a reality. These Major League Baseball stars, current and past, stepped up to contribute nearly $1.5 million to the practice infield: Gerrit Cole (2009-11), three-time All-Star, is on the mound. At third is four-time All-Star and 2002 World Series MVP Troy Glaus (1995-97). Two-time All-Star and two-time World Series Champion Brandon Crawford (2006-08) is at shortstop, with six-time All-Star and 2008 World Series Champion Chase Utley (1998-2000) at second. Rounding out the infield, at first base is 1992 National League Rookie of the Year and all-time Los Angeles Dodger home run leader Eric Karros (1986-88).

“We are extremely proud that some of the biggest names that have come through UCLA and Major League Baseball have generously contributed to this project. To have former players come back and financially contribute to the program that meant so much to their development and careers shows their love and gratitude towards this university and our baseball program,” said Savage. “We thank Troy and Ann Glaus, Chase and Jennifer Utley, Eric and Trish Karros, Brandon and Jalyne Crawford, and finally Gerrit and Amy Cole for their continued support of UCLA Baseball.”

“We would also like to thank Rhodine Gifford for her and her family’s long-standing commitment and support to UCLA and our athletics program. It’s always special to have former student-athletes give back, as it shows how exceptional and impactful the program has been to so many,” said Jarmond. “We appreciate our MLB players, baseball alumni and supporters who have helped make this project a reality. John Savage deserves much credit for his tireless work and vision for Bruin Baseball. This project would not have happened without his strong relationships and effort to see the project through.”

Additionally, a substantial donation towards the improvements was received in honor of Anne Marie and Dan Guerrero. The donation was made in order to provide recognition at Jackie Robinson Stadium for Guerrero, the UCLA Director of Athletics from 2002-20, UCLA alumnus and UCLA Baseball Hall of Famer.

The planned Jackie Robinson Stadium improvements will include construction of a new synthetic turf practice infield and bullpen, installation of new sports lighting, and modifications to the existing parking lot and site utilities. After meeting fundraising goals and receiving proper approvals from the VA and UCLA Capital Programs, construction will begin during the summer of 2021. No state or government funds are being used for the project. The planned improvements support the VA’s work to transform the VA West Los Angeles Campus into a vibrant community where Veterans can receive healthcare, benefits, employment, recreation and other supportive services, which Veterans have earned and deserve. The practice field may be used by Veterans for a variety of sports and recreational activities, including but not limited to baseball, soccer, jogging, yoga, softball and other activities.

UCLA and VA have partnered to serve Veterans for more than 70 years, starting with the formation of a medical affiliation between UCLA’s School of Medicine and the VA healthcare center after World War II. This growing partnership now includes the UCLA/VA Veteran Family Wellness Center, the VA/UCLA Center of Excellence on Veteran Resilience and Recovery, the UCLA School of Law Veterans Legal Clinic and numerous other programs and initiatives involving students, faculty and staff associated with many UCLA professional schools and departments.

Jackie Robinson Stadium is located on a 10.1-acre site off-campus just west of Interstate 405, on the Veterans Affairs West Los Angeles campus, and serves as the home venue for UCLA Baseball, which has appeared in five College World Series and won the 2013 National Championship. As the VA West LA campus is transformed into a place where more Veterans are housed, it will be increasingly utilized as a space for Veterans and their family members to enjoy various recreational activities, including attending UCLA baseball games.

Once complete, the upgrades will cement Jackie Robinson Stadium’s standing as one of the premier facilities in all of college baseball while deepening its role as part of a unique partnership between a nationally-renowned university and VA.

TEAM USA AND UCLA

Jim Parque is the first UCLA ballplayer to have pitched for the USA National Team and at the College World Series.

UCLA has sent 18 players to play for the USA Baseball National Team a total of 22 times, beginning with the selection of Eric Broersma in 1980. Most recently, Garrett Mitchell made four appearances for Team USA.

James Kaprielian led team USA in 2014 and was awarded with the Performance of the Year Award for his 6.0 inning shutout of Chinese Taipei.

Trevor Bauer and Gerrit Cole's selection in 2009 marked the first time a Bruin had been named to the USA Baseball National Team since 2006, when three-year UCLA starting shortstop Brandon Crawford helped lead Team USA to the 2006 FISU World Championship that summer.

UCLA's student-athletes have not been the only individuals affiliated with Team USA's National Team. Current UCLA head coach John Savage was named the head coach of the collegiate national team in 2017 and led Team USA to series victories over Japan, Cuba and Chinese Taipei. While working as an assistant coach at USC in the summer of 2000, Savage served as an assistant to Mike Gillespie for the USA National Team of collegiate all-stars.

COACHING STAFF

John Savage

Head Coach
17th Season at UCLA
20th Season overall
Nevada '91

Through 16 seasons as UCLA's head coach, John Savage has established the Bruins as a consistent national championship contender. Savage helped UCLA reach college baseball's pinnacle in 2013, as the Bruins won their first-ever NCAA baseball title. Excluding 2020 (the COVID-19 pandemic ended the season early), UCLA has advanced to the postseason in 11 of the last 15 seasons, hosting an NCAA Regional in six of the last 10, including four-straight from 2010 through 2013.

Savage completed his 16th season as UCLA's head coach in 2020. He is currently the third longest-tenured head coach in UCLA baseball program history and has gone 552-362-1 during his time in Westwood.

In 11 trips to the postseason at UCLA, Savage has compiled a 42-23 record (.646), recording the most postseason victories of any head coach in program history.

With Savage at the program's helm, UCLA advanced to the College World Series in 2010, 2012, and 2013, and reached the best-of-three championship series in 2010 and 2013. UCLA defeated Mississippi State, two games to none, at the 2013 College World Series. In 2010, the Bruins advanced to the championship series for the first time in school history, falling two games to none to South Carolina.

Savage's strong work with UCLA's program has been equally evident in player development and the MLB Draft. Over his 16 seasons in Westwood, UCLA has produced 107 draft selections. In addition, he has coached 21 players at UCLA that have competed in the major leagues.

Savage is one of just two head coaches in college baseball history – alongside Vanderbilt's Tim Corbin – to have guided his team to a College World Series title, produced the first overall pick in the MLB Draft, coached a Golden Spikes Award winner, and had a former player win a Cy Young Award in Major League Baseball. Savage is one of just six coaches all-time with a CWS title, No. 1 pick, and Golden Spikes winner, joining an illustrious group of current and former head coaches in Corbin, Skip Bertman (LSU), Jim Brock (Arizona St.), Augie Garrido (Cal State Fullerton, Texas), and Jim Morris (Miami).

A tenacious recruiter with a keen eye for developing talent, Savage and his coaching staff has found success on the recruiting trail. Fourteen of his 16 recruiting classes have been nationally ranked in the top-25 by Baseball America. UCLA's incoming class in the fall of 2012 was rated No. 2, nationally, by Baseball America, the highest-such ranking of any of Savage's recruiting classes. UCLA's incoming group in the fall of 2006 was ranked No. 5, followed by No. 13 (fall 2007), No. 7 (fall 2008), No. 7 (fall 2009), No. 19 (fall 2010), No. 3 (fall 2011), No. 2 (fall 2012), No. 7 (fall 2014), No. 3 (fall 2015), No. 16 (fall 2016), No. 16 (fall 2017), No. 4 (fall 2018), No. 5 (fall 2019), and No. 3 (fall 2020).

UCLA was off to a hot start in 2020 before the abrupt cancellation of the season due to COVID-19, winning 11 straight games out of the gate en route to a 13-2 final record. The Bruins finished the abbreviated season with the top RPI in the country while placing top-five nationally in a number of pitching statistics including ERA (1.88, third), WHIP (0.87, first), and hits allowed per nine innings (4.97, first). A pair of Bruins were selected in MLB Draft – which was shortened to five rounds – as outfielder Garrett Mitchell went No. 20 overall to Milwaukee while closer Holden Powell was the third round choice of Washington. Mitchell's selection by the Brewers – paired with Michael Toglia in 2019 – meant that UCLA had a position player selected in the first round in back-to-back years for the first time ever.

Savage earned Pac-12 Coach of the Year and ABCA West Region Coach of the Year honors after leading the Bruins to one of the most successful seasons in program history in 2019. UCLA posted a 52-11 overall record (school record for wins), claimed the Pac-12 title, spent a program-record 12 consecutive weeks atop the national rankings, and earned the No. 1 overall seed in the NCAA Tournament for the second time ever. UCLA won all 14 of its regular season series, a first in program history. Savage picked up a pair of milestone wins during the 2019 season, earning his 500 career victory at UCLA after a Friday night victory over Oregon State on Mar. 15 and his 600th career win overall after topping East Carolina on Apr. 12. Savage managed a pitching staff that led the NCAA in team ERA (2.60); no other team finished below 3.00 and only one team logged an ERA within a half-run of UCLA. The Bruins also paced the nation in shutouts (program-record 11), hits allowed per nine innings (6.18), and WHIP (1.05) while ranking in the top-10 in strikeout-to-walk ratio (3.13, fourth) and strikeouts per nine innings (10.2, seventh). Under his tutelage, junior righty Ryan Garcia (10-1, 1.44 ERA) was named the Pac-12 Pitcher of the Year and a consensus First Team All-American while sophomore closer Holden Powell (17 saves, 1.84 ERA) was dubbed the NCBWA Stopper of the Year. A program-record 13 Bruins were selected in the 2019 MLB First-Year Player Draft, including Michael Toglia (23rd overall, Colorado) who became UCLA's first position player to be picked in the first round since Chase Utley in 2000. UCLA had the most day one picks of any NCAA team, and finished tied with Vanderbilt for the most selections overall.

2018 saw the Bruins consistently ranked inside the top-25 and make its 10th postseason appearance with Savage at the helm earning the No. 2 seed at the Minneapolis Regional. UCLA finished the season with a 38-21 record including going 19-11 in Pac-12 play for this second-straight season. Savage surpassed two milestones as he reached his 800th career game at UCLA and also is 1,000th game overall as a head coach. Once again UCLA had one of the best pitching staffs in the country as they ranked sixth in the NCAA in ERA at 3.08, seventh in WHIP and top-20 in hits allowed per nine inning and walks allowed per nine innings. UCLA was one of just two teams in the country to rank top-10 in both ERA and fielding percentage as the Bruins were third in the nation at .982. UCLA's starting pitching was dominant as they combined to record a sub-3.00 ERA and a 2.7 strikeout-to-walk ratio led by All-Pac-12 selection Jake Bird who was the Pac-12 ERA leader at 2.18 in 16 starts. Zach Pettway earned first and second team All-American honors, while Holden Powell also earned freshman All-American honors. Offensively, UCLA was led by a trio of Sophomore All-Pac-12 selections in All-American honoree Chase Strumpf, Michael Toglia and Jeremy Ydens. Additionally, four Bruins were selected in the MLB Draft, highlighted by Jake Bird (156th pick, fifth round) as Savage now has 33 players selected in the first 10 rounds.

In the summer of 2017, Savage was the manager of the USA Baseball Collegiate National Team after being an assistant coach in 2000. He led the U.S. to a 15-5 record over the summer, including 11-4 during international play. The United States won all three international series it competed in, including going 4-0 against Chinese Taipei and 3-2 versus both Cuba and Japan. The win over Cuba marked the third-straight series win, while also improving to 23-18 in 41 all-time series against Japan.

COACHING STAFF

In 2017, UCLA made its ninth postseason appearance under Savage earning a berth into the Long Beach Regional and finished with an overall record of 30-27. The Bruins finished third in the Pac-12 with a record of 19-11. UCLA continued its success on the mound as the team was ranked in the top-30 in the country in ERA, shutouts, hits allowed per nine innings and WHIP. The pitching staff was led by All-American and All-Pac-12 selection Griffin Canning and also All-Pac-12 team honoree Jon Olsen. Offensively, UCLA was led by All-Pac-12 selection Sean Bouchard and Freshman All-Americans Kyle Cuellar and Michael Toggia. The Bruins were one of only four teams in 2017 to defeat No. 1 Oregon State in the regular season, earning a 7-1 victory on ESPN. Additionally, six Bruins were selected in the MLB Draft, highlighted by Griffin Canning (47th pick, second round) and Sean Bouchard (266th pick, ninth round) as Savage now has 32 players selected in the first 10 rounds. Canning also became the sixth UCLA pitcher since 2005 to be drafted in the first two rounds.

In 2016, the Bruins missed the postseason for just the third time in the past 11 seasons, finishing with an overall mark of 25-31. However, it was a year full of milestones for Savage who recorded both his 400th career win at UCLA and 500th career win as a Division I head coach. Savage's 400th win in Westwood came in dramatic fashion as UCLA topped crosstown rival USC in Dodger Stadium in a 14 inning thriller. Individually, first-year pitcher Kyle Molnar was named a Louisville Slugger Freshman All-American, after finishing second in the Pac-12 among freshman in strikeouts, and senior outfielder Eric Filia earned All-Pac-12 honors. Additionally, five Bruins were selected in the MLB Draft, highlighted by Grant Dyer (227th pick, eighth round) who became the 30th player under Savage to be selected in the first 10 rounds.

In 2015, Savage led the Bruins to a 45-16 overall record, including a school record 22 conference wins. The team's success resulted in the program's 11th Pac-12 Conference Championship and the number one overall seed in the NCAA Tournament. The Bruins lost just one weekend series all season and won as many as eight games in-a-row. For the first time in his career, Savage was named Pac-12 Coach of the Year as he led his pitching staff to the lowest earned run average in the nation (2.17). The team ERA also set a new UCLA record for lowest team ERA in a single season.

Known for his ability to coach pitching, the 2015 staff was one of the best in school history. For the second time in his career, David Berg earned both the Pac-12 Pitcher of the Year and NCBWA Stopper of the Year awards. Berg broke the NCAA record for most career appearances, finishing his four-year run with 175 appearances. Senior left-hander Grant Watson also had a record-breaking year, making the most career starts (63) in school history and moving into second in UCLA history in career wins (30). Serving as the staff 'ace', James Kaprielian led the conference in strikeouts (114) for the second-straight year and threw nine no-hit innings to combine with Berg for the program's first ever no-hitter on May 15. Eight Bruins were selected in the 2015 MLB Draft, including Kaprielian (16th overall), who went in the first round, and Kevin Kramer (62nd overall), who went in the second round.

Coach Savage with sons Jack and Ryan, daughter Gabrielle and wife Lisa

UCLA's 2014 ballclub fought through an injury-plagued season and missed postseason action after going 25-30-1. Relief pitcher David Berg secured All-Pac-12 honors for the third time in as many seasons, earning all-conference acclaim with right-hander James Kaprielian and catcher Shane Zeile. Kaprielian became the third pitcher under Savage to lead the conference in strikeouts (108), joining Trevor Bauer and Tim Murphy in that category. UCLA finished the season with four selections in the MLB Draft, including two top-10 round picks (Shane Zeile, fifth round and Max Schuh, seventh round).

Savage helped UCLA post a perfect 10-0 mark during its 2013 run to the NCAA title, going 4-0 against national seeds in the tournament while eliminating two of them – No. 5 Cal State Fullerton in Super Regional action and No. 1 North Carolina at the College World Series. The Bruins' pitching staff limited the opposition to four runs in five College World Series games. In the 68-year history of the CWS, only one national champion has surrendered fewer runs than UCLA's 2013 ballclub (California allowed three runs in 1957).

UCLA went 49-17 in 2013, marking the program's second-highest single-season victories, and matched the school record with 21 conference wins. For the eighth consecutive year, UCLA finished with no lower than a third-place finish among Pac-12 teams. Berg became the conference's first-ever reliever to earn Pac-12 Pitcher of the Year honors. Three-year starting shortstop Pat Valaika became UCLA's first player to secure Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year acclaim.

COACHING STAFF

Savage was named the 2013 National Coach of the Year by Collegiate Baseball, Baseball America, the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA) and Perfect Game USA. His work with UCLA's pitching staff that season was no more evident than with the success of starting pitchers Adam Plutko, Nick Vander Tuig and Grant Watson. Plutko and Vander Tuig capped their UCLA careers in 2013 as the winningest pitching tandem in school history (56 total wins in three seasons).

In 2012, UCLA didn't miss a beat despite losing the No. 1 and No. 3 overall MLB draft selections (Gerrit Cole, Trevor Bauer) from the pitching rotation. The Bruins went 48-16 and returned to the College World Series for the second time in three seasons. In addition, UCLA won the Pac-12 co-championship (tied with Arizona), marking the first time in school history that the Bruins had won back-to-back conference titles. UCLA hosted the NCAA Los Angeles Super Regional for the second time in three years after hosting its third consecutive NCAA Regional. The Bruins entered the 2012 postseason as the NCAA Tournament's No. 2 overall seed and had seven players selected in the first 15 rounds of that season's MLB Draft.

In 2011, the Bruins captured their first outright Pac-10 title since 1986 just days before seeing top pitchers Cole and Bauer selected No. 1 and No. 3, respectively, in the MLB Draft. No college program had seen two of its players selected within the draft's first three selections since 1978 (Arizona State). Bauer was named UCLA's first-ever Golden Spikes Award winner and became the first player in school history to earn National Player of the Year honors from either Baseball America or Collegiate Baseball.

Savage helped UCLA's 2011 pitching staff post the nation's third-lowest ERA (2.44), the lowest mark on record in school history. Likewise, the Bruins' staff finished the year second, nationally, in strikeouts per nine innings (9.8) and hits allowed per nine innings (6.61).

In 2010, UCLA set the school record for single-season victories, compiling a 51-17 overall record after opening the season with a school-record 22 consecutive wins. The Bruins also won a program-best 43 regular-season games and landed their first-ever national seed (No. 6 seed) in the NCAA Tournament. UCLA hosted postseason games at Jackie Robinson Stadium for the first time since 1986 and swept all three NCAA Regional contests. The Bruins overcame a Game 1 loss to Cal State Fullerton with consecutive victories in the next two games of the NCAA Super Regional to advance to Omaha for the first time since 1997.

UCLA finished second in the Pac-10 Conference, a league that sent eight of its 10 teams to the postseason. The Bruins' pitching staff set the school and conference records for most strikeouts in one season (700). Additionally, UCLA logged the country's second-lowest ERA (3.00) and ranked first in the nation in strikeouts per nine innings (10.2) and ranked second in hits allowed per nine innings (7.31). Savage was named the National Coach of the Year in 2010 by CollegeBaseballInsider.com.

The development of Cole and Bauer proved instrumental to UCLA's success in 2010 and 2011. In his career at UCLA, Bauer (2009-2011) established UCLA's all-time records in strikeouts (460), wins (34) and innings (373.1) and set the program's top two marks in single-season strikeouts. Bauer logged a nation-leading and Pac-12 record 203 strikeouts in 2011, after having led the country with 165 strikeouts in 2010. Cole served as UCLA's Friday night pitcher in each of his three seasons (2009-11), logging 376 strikeouts, the second-highest career total in program history and becoming the first pitcher in program history to record at least 100 strikeouts in each of three seasons.

Savage's work at UCLA during his first five seasons (2005-2009) paid major dividends in setting up the program for long-term postseason success. He became UCLA's first-ever head baseball coach to lead the program to at least three consecutive NCAA postseason appearances (2006-2008).

In 2009, Savage led UCLA to a third-place finish in the Pac-10 for the fourth consecutive season. The Bruins went 27-29 with a 15-12 mark in Pac-10 play. That year, UCLA's pitching staff finished ninth in the nation in strikeouts per nine innings (9.3). The team's success on the mound was fueled by the emergence of Cole and Bauer, who finished their freshman campaigns as two of the conference's three freshmen to earn All-Pac-10 team honors. Bauer captured National Freshman Pitcher of the Year honors from Louisville Slugger/Collegiate Baseball. Cody Decker became the only Bruin to hit 20 or more home runs under Savage in one season. He finished his senior season with 21 homers, becoming UCLA's first Pac-10 home run leader since 2002.

In 2008, UCLA went 33-27 with a 13-11 Pac-10 record, culminating in an NCAA Regional Final berth at Cal State Fullerton. Left-handed starter Tim Murphy became UCLA's first pitcher to lead the conference in strikeouts (111) since 1996, when Jim Parque totaled 116 strikeouts. The Bruins' regular-season schedule featured 26 games against teams that advanced to NCAA postseason play. UCLA's 2008 ballclub was led by a strong mainstay of talented infielders, including Jermaine Curtis at third, Brandon Crawford at shortstop and Alden Carrithers at second.

In 2007, Savage helped UCLA overcome an 8-14 start and record a 33-28 overall record, en route to the program's first NCAA Super Regional appearance since 2000. The Bruins went 14-10 with a third-place finish in the Pac-10, winning 19 of 23 games midway through the season. UCLA swept the NCAA Long Beach Regional with a trio of masterful starting performances from Tyson Brummett, Gavin Brooks and Murphy. The Bruins' season ended with consecutive losses to Cal State Fullerton at the NCAA Fullerton Super Regional.

In 2006, the Bruins engineered a remarkably-strong turnaround with a 33-25 overall record and third-place finish in the Pac-10. Guided by the nation's No. 5-ranked incoming class (Baseball America), Savage and the Bruins advanced to the NCAA Malibu Regional after having played the nation's most challenging schedule, as ranked by Boyd's World. The Bruins' 2006 campaign marked the first year in which UCLA won each of its home conference series.

Savage's Former Pitchers what they're saying...

Gerrit Cole – Houston Astros

2011 MLB Draft (1st overall pick)

"Coach Savage taught me how to become a complete pitcher. He not only improved my game on the field, but also made a huge impact for me working with the mental game away from the field. In my eyes, there isn't a pitching coach better than him out there."

Trevor Bauer – Cleveland Indians

2011 MLB Draft (1st round, No. 3 pick)

"Coach Savage was instrumental in my development as a pitcher. He allowed me the freedom to learn through my experiences while providing the proper structure to lead me in the right direction. His knowledge created an environment very conducive to my growth as a player and person."

David Huff – Cleveland Indians

2006 MLB Draft (1st round, supplemental)

"Everyone that comes into UCLA's program has talent and athleticism. Coach Savage takes that talent and shapes it into a quality professional ballplayer. He has been very instrumental in my success at the collegiate and professional levels."

Rob Rasmussen – Florida Marlins

2010 MLB Draft (2nd round)

"Every pitcher Coach Savage recruits has the 'stuff' to be great. He helps young pitchers sharpen their talent, allowing them to improve their game mentally and physically. Baseball is a grind, but he makes sure that you are forming good habits that prepare you to have a successful season."

Hector Ambriz – Cleveland Indians

2006 MLB Draft (5th round)

"After I missed the 2005 season with an arm injury, Coach Savage really helped me regain my confidence on the mound. He makes it a priority that his players not only succeed in college, but that they also have a chance to excel as professional ballplayers."

COACHING STAFF

Much of the college baseball world noticed UCLA's success in 2006 and aimed their praise toward Savage. Following the 2006 campaign, Savage was named a finalist for the National Coach of the Year award by CollegeBaseballInsider.com. In July 2006, Baseball America hailed Savage as one of "10 People to Watch in the Future." The magazine listed the Bruins' head coach with other distinguished baseball personnel such as Mets all-star third baseman David Wright and then- L.A. Dodgers' assistant general manager Kim Ng. Baseball America lauded Savage for his winning ways: "UCLA has always been viewed as a sleeping giant on the West Coast, and it looks like Savage has the giant stirring."

Savage was hired by UCLA Athletic Director Dan Guerrero on July 1, 2004, to replace the retired Gary Adams. Prior to taking over UCLA's program, Savage had made stops as head coach at UC Irvine (2002-2004) and as an assistant coach at USC (1997-2000) and Nevada (1992-1996).

Coincidentally, Guerrero hired Savage at UC Irvine four years prior, giving him the unique opportunity to help launch a dormant college baseball program. Savage showed his ability to not just coach a team, but to resurrect a program in three seasons at UC Irvine. He used the 2000-01 school year to build the program from scratch, before turning on the lights at Anteater Ballpark and getting the season underway in 2002.

In their first season at the Division I level and under Savage's guidance, UC Irvine posted a 33-26 overall record and the pitching staff set a school record with 487 strikeouts. After going 21-35 in 2003, Savage and the Anteaters broke through with an NCAA Tournament appearance in 2004. That season, UC Irvine went 34-23-1 and competed at the NCAA Notre Dame Regional. In his third season as UC Irvine's head coach, Savage saw freshman pitcher Blair Erickson earn national Freshman of the Year accolades from Collegiate Baseball as well as Big West Conference Freshman Pitcher of the Year honors. The Anteaters earned their highest national ranking at the time, climbing to the No. 7 spot in Collegiate Baseball's weekly rankings in April 2004. At season's end, Savage was tabbed a finalist for National Coach of the Year honors by CollegeBaseballInsider.com.

As pitching coach and recruiting coordinator at the University of Southern California (USC) from 1997 through 2000, Savage helped the Trojans produce consecutive Pac-10 Pitcher of the Year selections in Seth Etherton, Rik Currier and eventual American League Cy Young Award winner Barry Zito. Etherton was named the 1998 Sporting News National Player of the Year, helping guide the 1998 USC program to the NCAA Championship. Also under Savage's mentorship was former Chicago Cubs right-hander Mark Prior.

As the Trojans' recruiting coordinator, Savage helped facilitate the nation's top-ranked recruiting class in 1999-2000, as ranked by Collegiate Baseball, and served as an assistant coach to then-USC head coach Mike Gillespie for the USA Baseball Collegiate National Team in the summer of 2000. Team USA went 27-3-1 that summer, bringing home a gold medal from the Haarlem Baseball Week Tournament in the Netherlands.

Savage was honored as Collegiate Baseball's Assistant Coach of the Year in 1998, following the Trojans' run to the College World Series title. USC advanced to the NCAA Super Regional in 1999 and back to the College World Series in 2000.

Savage served as an assistant coach at the University of Nevada from 1992-1996, helping the Wolf Pack compile a 177-82 record in five seasons. During his tenure at Nevada, the baseball program won the 1994 Big West Conference title and strung together its first back-to-back 35-win seasons in school history. In five seasons as an assistant coach at Nevada, 24 Wolf Pack players signed professional contracts.

Savage began his coaching career as the pitching coach for Reno High School (Nevada) during the 1988-1989 school year.

Savage was a sixth-round MLB Draft selection by the New York Yankees in 1983 following his senior season at Reno High School and later would be inducted into the Reno High School Hall of Fame in 1997. Savage chose to attend Santa Clara University, where he pitched for three seasons. He was selected by the Cincinnati Reds in the 16th round of the 1986 MLB Draft. Savage played two seasons in the Reds' minor league system before moving on to help the independent league Salt Lake City Trappers set a professional baseball record with 29 consecutive wins in 1987.

Following his professional career, Savage earned his bachelor's degree in secondary education, with an emphasis in physical education and history, from Nevada in 1991.

Savage, and his wife, Lisa, have four children – Julia, Jack, Ryan and Gabrielle.

Rex Peters

Assistant Coach
10th Season at UCLA
Cal State Fullerton '89
Hitting/Outfield Coach

Rex Peters enters his 10th season as an assistant coach for the Bruins in 2020. Peters serves as the Bruins' hitting and outfield coach and plays a central role in the program's recruiting efforts.

During Peters' nine seasons with the Bruins, UCLA has gone 338-173-1, twice advancing to the College World Series (2012, 2013) and winning the program's first-ever NCAA title in 2013. During the Bruins' postseason run in 2013, UCLA's hitters routinely came up with timely hits, lifting UCLA to a perfect 10-0 record en route to the championship. Outfielder Eric Fila enjoyed the greatest success in the 2013 postseason, batting .444 to lead the Bruins.

Over his nine previous years, UCLA has had 30 position players selected in the MLB Draft, including 13 of those players within the draft's first 10 rounds. The Bruins have had position players drafted in the first round in each of the past two seasons (Garrett Mitchell - 2020, Michael Toglia - 2019), a first in program history. In 2019, a quartet of UCLA position players were taken in the first round, including Toglia (23rd overall, Colorado) who became UCLA's first position player to be picked in the first round since Chase Utley in 2000. Chase Strumpf (second round, Chicago Cubs) was also a day one selection, while Ryan Kreidler (fourth round, Detroit) and Jeremy Ydens (eighth round, Washington) went on day two.

UCLA was off to a hot start in 2020 before the abrupt cancellation of the season due to COVID-19, winning 11 straight games out of the gate en route to a 13-2 final record. The offense was a key part of that, as eight Bruin regulars were hitting over .300 at season's end while the team's .308 batting average ranked No. 20 in the country.

The Bruins had an outstanding year with the bats in 2019, a key factor in the team's record-setting year. UCLA ranked inside the top-25 nationwide in triples (program-record 31, third), slugging (.468, 22nd), and hits (611, 25th). UCLA's power numbers saw a big spike, as the team's 67 home runs were the most for the program since 2003 and the team's slugging percentage was the best since 1999. Key contributors included sophomore outfielder Garrett Mitchell (.349/.418/.566, 12 triples), junior first baseman Michael Toglia (.314/.392/.624, 17 home runs), and junior infielder Ryan Kreidler (.300/.370/.502, 45 RBIs). Six of UCLA's nine starting position players earned All-Pac-12 consideration. The Bruins eventually set a program-record in wins with a 52-11 record, spent 12 consecutive weeks atop the national rankings, won all 14 regular season series for the first time in program history, claimed the 2019 Pac-12 title, and earned the No. 1 national seed in the NCAA Tournament.

In 2018, UCLA had one of its best offensive seasons in recent years. UCLA hit .286 as a team, the highest since 2012, while scoring over 400 runs and recording over 370 RBIs for the first time since 2010. The Bruins saw their power numbers go up as they slugged .429 on the season with 129 doubles, the highest numbers in four years. UCLA also raised its on-base percentage as well by drawing almost 300 walks, the most since 2000. Overall, UCLA ranked top-25 in the country in doubles, on-base percentage and runs. The Bruins also scored in bunches as they scored five or more runs in an inning 20 times, the most by a UCLA offense since 2013 when the Bruins recorded 11 in 66 games. UCLA had three position players earn All-Pac-12 honors in Strumpf, Michael Toglia and Jeremy Ydens. Strumpf and Toglia became the first UCLA teammates since 2007 to hit double-digit home runs in a season. They are also just the fourth and fifth UCLA players since 2001 with 50-RBIs and 10 home runs in the same year, while also the first teammate to each drive in 50 runs since 2008. Ydens led the conference during Pac-12 play hitting .406 and also finished second in slugging at .693 and sixth in on-base percentage at .461. The UCLA offense was one of the best in the conference during Pac-12 play. In conference games, the Bruins were top-3 in batting average (.294), on-base percentage (.392), runs scored (210), RBIs (193), doubles (55) and walks (138). In addition, Peters helped Daniel Amaral earn Pac-12 All-Defensive Team honors as one of the best defensive outfielders in the conference.

In 2017, Peters helped the UCLA offense become one of the best in the Pac-12. During conference play, the Bruins were tops in home runs (25) and RBIs (174), while also top-3 in slugging percentage and runs scored. In addition, Peters helped Kyle Cuellar and Michael Toglia earn Freshman All-America honors and Sean Bouchard was named an All-Pac-12 selection.

- Guided Chapman to five trips to the NCAA Div. III West Regional

PLAYER HIGHLIGHTS

- Drafted by the Los Angeles Dodgers in 24th round of 1989 MLB Draft
- Spent four seasons playing minor league baseball for the Los Angeles Dodgers
- Played two seasons under head coach Augie Garrido at Cal State Fullerton (1988-89)

In 2015, Peters led the UCLA offense to an extremely productive season which saw the team hit .284 with a conference-high 130 doubles. The Bruins ranked within the top-three in on-base percentage, runs, hits, RBI, doubles, total bases and walks among Pac-12 teams. Ty Moore and Kevin Kramer led the charge, hitting .342 and .323 respectively. Additionally, UCLA hitters claimed Pac-12 Player of the Week four times last season.

In Peters' first season with the Bruins (2012), UCLA's team batting average jumped 41 points from the previous year. Not only did UCLA earn its second consecutive Pac-12 title, but the Bruins hosted the NCAA Los Angeles Regional for the third straight season and advanced to the College World Series for the second time in three years. UCLA's batters also recorded the fewest strikeouts since 1986. Outfielder Beau Amaral, a seventh-round draft pick by the Cincinnati Reds in 2012, was named to the Division I Rawlings Gold Glove Team.

Prior to coaching at UCLA, Peters spent nine years as the head coach of UC Davis. He guided UC Davis through multiple transitions as the program's head coach from 2003-2011, helping the Aggies ascend from NCAA Division II status to Division I beginning in 2004. In addition, UC Davis joined the Big West Conference in 2008, earning its first-ever berth as a Division I program in the NCAA Tournament that spring. In nine seasons at the helm of the UC Davis baseball program, Peters helped produce 21 MLB draft selections. Most notably, third baseman Daniel Descalso was selected in the third round of the 2007 MLB draft by the St. Louis Cardinals and made his major-league debut with the organization in 2010. In addition, seven UC Davis ballplayers earned ABCA or NCBWA All-Region honors during Peters' nine-year tenure as head coach.

UC Davis compiled a 35-24 record in 2008, winning its first of three games at the NCAA Stanford Regional. A school-record seven players were selected in the June 2008 MLB Draft. In his second season as head coach at UC Davis (2004), Peters helped the Aggies post a 37-15-1 record. While no longer eligible for postseason play as part of its transition to Division I status, UC Davis finished atop the conference standings by better than a seven-game margin. Along the way, the Aggies enjoyed school-record streaks of 16 straight victories and 20 consecutive conference wins. In 2003, Peters guided the Aggies to a 36-24 record and their first NCAA Division II postseason berth since 1995. UC Davis swept through the West Region tournament, highlighted by back-to-back shutout victories, and advanced to the national tournament for only the second time in school history. For his part, Peters was honored as the ABCA/Diamond Sports West Region Coach of the Year.

Peters arrived at UC Davis after spending the previous nine seasons as head coach at Chapman University (Orange, Calif.), where he compiled a 248-131-2 overall record. He led the Panthers to three appearances in the NCAA Division III College World Series, including a third-place finish in 2000.

Peters set program records as a head coach for most wins and highest winning percentage, having led the Panthers to the NCAA West Regional five times. He was named West Region Coach of the Year on three occasions. Additionally, Peters coached six All-America selections, two Academic All-Americans, nine Academic All-District players and 29 All-Region honorees.

Between his nine years at UC Davis and nine seasons at Chapman, Peters collected a 482-396-3 (.549) career record as a head coach. He secured his 400th career victory as a head coach on March 15, 2008, in UC Davis' doubleheader sweep of Santa Clara.

Prior to his 18 years as a head coach, Peters served one season as an assistant coach at Chapman under head coach Gary Henderson. He spent the previous four years playing in the Los Angeles Dodgers' organization after being drafted by the club in the 24th round of the 1989 MLB Draft. In the minors, he advanced as high as double-A San Antonio. In 1989, he was named the MVP for the Salem Dodgers.

Peters graduated from Cal State Fullerton in 1989 with his bachelor's degree in physical education. He was an honorable mention All-America selection for the Titans, helping lead them to a third-place finish at the 1988 College World Series. Peters earned his master's degree in education with an emphasis in physical education from Azusa Pacific in 1994. Peters and his wife, Deborah, have six children and reside in Culver City, Calif., with his son, Jake.

Bryant Ward

Assistant Coach/
Recruiting Coordinator
6th Season at UCLA
East Carolina '02
Hitting/Infield Coach

Bryant Ward enters his sixth season as Assistant Coach/Recruiting Coordinator for the UCLA Baseball program in 2021 after joining the staff in the summer of 2015. In addition to taking the lead on recruiting efforts, Ward is the infield and hitting coach for the Bruins. Prior to his arrival in Westwood, Ward spent five seasons as assistant coach/recruiting coordinator at Loyola Marymount University.

During Ward's five seasons with the Bruins, UCLA has gone 157-84 (.651), advancing to the NCAA Tournament three times. Over the last five years, UCLA has had 18 position players selected in the MLB Draft. Garrett Mitchell was selected No. 20 overall by Milwaukee in the 2020 draft, giving the program first round position player draftees in back-to-back years for the first time ever. The Bruins had a quartet of position players taken in the first 10 rounds in 2019, including Michael Togli (23rd overall, Colorado) who became UCLA's first position player to be picked in the first round since Chase Utley in 2000. Chase Strumpf (second round, Chicago Cubs) was also a day one selection, while Ryan Kreidler (fourth round, Detroit) and Jeremy Ydens (eighth round, Washington) went on day two.

Outfielder Daniel Amaral was taken in the 14th round by the Pittsburgh Pirates in 2018 after having a career season batting .289 with 51 runs and 38 RBIs with 14 stolen bases. In 2017, infielder Sean Bouchard was a ninth round pick to the Colorado Rockies after ranking in the top-10 in the Pac-12 conference in home runs, slugging percentage, doubles, RBIs. In 2016, four UCLA position players were selected on day three led by Luke Persico in the 12th round. Infielder Kevin Kramer was a second round selection of the Pittsburgh Pirates in the 2015 draft after hitting .323 with a team-high 82 hits and 55 runs.

Ward has been among the top recruiters on the west coast and in the nation during his time at UCLA, producing nationally-ranked classes in all six of his years. His first group, in 2015, was ranked No. 3 in the country, followed by the No. 16 class in both 2016 and 2017. He has produced the highest-ranked class in the west in each of the last three seasons, putting together the No. 6-ranked group in 2018, the No. 5-ranked class in 2019, and the No. 3 class in 2020.

UCLA was off to a hot start in 2020 before the abrupt cancellation of the season due to COVID-19, winning 11 straight games out of the gate en route to a 13-2 final record. The offense was a key part of that, as eight Bruin regulars were hitting over .300 at season's end while the team's .308 batting average ranked No. 20 in the country.

The Bruins had an outstanding year with the bats in 2019, a key factor in the team's record-setting year. UCLA ranked inside the top-25 nationwide in triples (program-record 31, third), slugging (.468, 22nd), and hits (611, 25th). UCLA's power numbers saw a big spike, as the team's 67 home runs were the most for the program since 2003 and the team's slugging percentage was the best since 1999. Key contributors included sophomore outfielder Garrett Mitchell (.349/.418/.566, 12 triples), junior first baseman Michael Togli (.314/.392/.624, 17 home runs), and junior infielder Ryan Kreidler (.300/.370/.502, 45 RBIs). Six of UCLA's nine starting position players earned All-Pac-12 consideration. The Bruins eventually set a program-record in wins with a 52-11 record, spent 12 consecutive weeks atop the national rankings, won all 14 regular season series for the first time in program history, claimed the 2019 Pac-12 title, and earned the No. 1 national seed in the NCAA Tournament.

Ward took over as hitting coach for the 2018 season and yielded immediate results. UCLA hit .286 as a team, the highest since 2012, while scoring over 400 runs and recording over 370 RBIs for the first time since 2010. The Bruins saw their power numbers go up as they slugged .429 on the season with 129 doubles, the highest numbers in four years. UCLA also raised its on-base percentage by drawing almost 300 walks, the most since 2000. Overall, UCLA ranked top-25 in the country in doubles, on-base percentage and runs. Chase Strumpf became the first UCLA position player since Kevin Kramer in 2015 to earn All-America honors ranking top-10 in the Pac-12 in 10 offensive categories. UCLA had three position players earn All-Pac-12 honors in Strumpf, Michael Togli and Jeremy Ydens. Strumpf and Togli became the first UCLA teammates since 2007 to hit double-digit home runs in a season. They are also just the fourth and fifth UCLA players since 2001 with 50-RBIs and 10 home runs in the same year, while also the first teammate to each drive in 50 runs since 2008. Ydens led the conference during Pac-12 play hitting .406 and also finished second in slugging at .693 and sixth in on-base percentage at .461. The Bruins' defense was also stellar as it finished third in the NCAA in fielding percentage at .982, a UCLA school record. Strumpf led the Pac-12 during the regular season in assists and was eighth in the conference with 32 double plays. In total, the Bruins turned 42 double plays on the season.

In 2017, Ward helped lead one of the best defenses in the country as UCLA ranked 13th in the NCAA in fielding percentage at .980.

Ward helped lead the LMU Lions to a 146-124-1 overall record during his tenure, including a trip to the West Coast Conference Championship game this past season. Prior to joining LMU, Ward served four seasons as an assistant coach for the University of South Florida (2007-10), two seasons on the Cal State Fullerton staff (2005-06) and one season as an assistant coach at Pitt (N.C.) Community College (2004).

Ward joined the LMU coaching staff in 2011 as the recruiting coordinator, infield coach and third base coach. Known for his defensive coaching prowess, Ward propelled LMU to a school-record .980 fielding percentage in 2015, ranking fourth best in the country. The 2015 mark bested his defense's .973 fielding percentage from a year prior, which at the time was also a school-record. His work with the infield has been highlighted by 2014 WCC Defensive Player of the Year David Fletcher who was recently selected in the sixth round of the 2015 MLB Draft.

In 2014, he also added the title of hitting coach to his duties, leading the Lions to their highest team batting average in the BBCOR era. This past season, Ward led LMU to a .272 team batting average, ranking second in the conference in home runs (32) and doubles (102).

In his first season with LMU, Ward brought in the nation's No. 23 ranked class (as ranked by Baseball America) – the first top-25 class in 15 years for the Lions. The Greenville, N.C. native also brought in a top-25 class in 2013, hauling in the nation's No. 22 ranked class to give LMU two top-25 classes in three seasons. His recruiting and coaching efforts resulted in 13 players being selected in the MLB Draft and 29 players earning All-WCC status during his five seasons with the Lions.

While at USF, Ward served as hitting coach, position player development coach and third base coach. In Ward's four years in Tampa, the Bulls had a 125-110 overall record and a team batting average of .295. His 2009 offense hit .315 – the highest team batting average at USF since 1997. Additionally, Ward led two hitters to consecutive individual BIG EAST batting titles in 2008 and 2009. During his four years with USF, 27 Bulls were selected in the MLB Draft.

As a player, Ward was a four-year standout at East Carolina University where he helped guide the Pirates to a 182-67 overall record with four consecutive NCAA Regional appearances and one NCAA Super Regional appearance. Ward finished his ECU career ranked fifth in games played (194), seventh in at-bats (687), and third in doubles (50), and left in 2002 as the winningest player in school history. In high school, Ward won the class 4A North Carolina High School state championship in 1997 and played under Hall Of Fame Coach Ronald Vincent at J.H. Rose High School.

Ward earned a degree in communications from ECU and currently resides in Hermosa Beach with his wife, Anna, their daughter, Harper Iris Ward, and their sons, Jackson Bryant Ward and William Dylan Ward.

Niko Gallego

Assistant Coach
7th Season at UCLA
UCLA '10
Assistant Infield Coach/First Base Coach

Niko Gallego enters his seventh season with the UCLA Baseball coaching staff in 2021, serving as the team's volunteer assistant coach. Gallego joined the program prior to the 2015 season as an undergraduate assistant coach after spending the previous four years as a minor league player, most recently with the Lake Elsinore Storm.

Gallego primarily serves as an infield coach and assists with the hitters. In addition, he aids assistant coach/recruiting coordinator Bryant Ward and head coach John Savage on the recruiting front.

UCLA was off to a hot start in 2020 before the abrupt cancellation of the season due to COVID-19, winning 11 straight games out of the gate en route to a 13-2 final record. The offense was a key part of that, as eight Bruin regulars were hitting over .300 at season's end while the team's .308 batting average ranked No. 20 in the country.

Gallego helped the Bruins to one of the best seasons in program history in 2019, as the Bruins set a school record for wins at 52-11 while winning the Pac-12 title, spending 12 weeks at the top of the national rankings, and earning the No. 1 national seed in the NCAA Tournament. For the second consecutive season, UCLA finished third in the nation in fielding percentage at .982.

In 2018, the Bruins finished third in the NCAA in fielding percentage at .982. Chase Strumpf led the Pac-12 during the regular season in assists and was eighth in the conference with 32 double plays. In total, the Bruins turned 42 double plays on the season.

Assisting with the defensive effort, Gallego helped UCLA secure a .977 fielding percentage in 2015, good for second in the Pac-12 and 18th in the nation, and helped lead the Bruins to a 45-16 record in 2015 and the program's 11th Pac-12 Championship. The Bruins turned 42 double plays and infielders Chris Keck (5) and Trent Chatterton (8) each had single-digit errors, posting fielding percentage marks of .972 and .968 respectively.

The Yorba Linda, Calif. native played three seasons at UCLA (2008-10), leading the Bruins to NCAA Regionals in 2008 and 2010 and the team's third-ever trip to the College World Series in 2010. In 141 games (133 starts) for the Bruins, Gallego hit .274 with 64 RBI and 81 runs. A two-time honorable mention All-Pac-10 honoree, Gallego was selected in the 27th round of the 2010 MLB Draft by the Arizona Diamondbacks following his junior season in Westwood.

In 2010, Gallego started more games than any other Bruin (67). The starting shortstop batted .267 with three home runs, two triples, 14 doubles, 33 RBI and 51 runs. Gallego led the team and ranked second in the Pac-10 with 27 stolen bases (on 29 attempts). His stolen base total was more than any Bruin since former major leaguer Eric Byrnes had 30 steals as a senior in 1998. Overall, Gallego recorded 14 multiple-hit contests, including one four-hit game and one three-hit effort.

As a sophomore in 2009, Gallego started 55 games, all at shortstop, while batting .273 with eight doubles, one triple, 27 RBI and 26 runs. That season, Gallego collected 12 multi-hit games, including two three-hit efforts. In addition, he had a career-best seven game hit streak from April 14-25.

In 2008 as a freshman, Gallego played in 19 games (11 starts). Gallego batted .317, totaling two doubles, one triple, four RBI and four runs while hitting safely in nine of 11 starts.

Over 255 career minor league games, Gallego racked up 173 hits, 92 runs and 65 RBI between A and AA ball. In his rookie season with the Visalia Rawhide, Gallego hit .238 with 18 runs and 14 RBI in 39 games at shortstop.

David Berg

Director of Baseball Operations
3rd Season at UCLA
2nd as DBO

David Berg, who put together arguably the best collegiate career by a relief pitcher in NCAA history while attending UCLA from 2012-15, returned to Westwood before the 2019 season as an undergrad assistant coach. In October of 2019, Berg was promoted to Director of Baseball Operations.

In his first season on staff with the Bruins, UCLA led the country in ERA at 2.60. No other team in the NCAA finished under 3.00 and only one squad was within a half-run of the Bruins. UCLA would go on to set a program record in wins at 52-11, spend 12 consecutive weeks atop the national rankings, claim the Pac-12 title, and earn the No. 1 national seed in the NCAA Tournament. Under his tutelage, sophomore closer Holden Powell recorded 17 saves and a 1.84 ERA en route to NCBWA Stopper of the Year and consensus All-America honors. As a unit, the UCLA bullpen logged a miniscule 2.12 ERA, going without allowing an earned run in 33 of the team's 63 games.

Berg finished his four-year college career as the NCAA record-holder in career appearances (175) and single-season saves (24, 2013). He holds UCLA school records in career appearances, saves (49), and ERA (1.11). He has four of the top-10 single-season ERAs in school history, including the No. 1 mark of 0.68 set in 2015. The right-hander was twice named Pac-12 Pitcher of the Year and NCBWA Stopper of the Year (2013, 2015), and he is the only Bruin ever to be named All-Pac-12 four times. He was the first reliever ever to earn Pac-12 Pitcher of the Year honors and remains the only pitcher to win Stopper of the Year more than once.

The Covina, Calif. native was the closer on the 2013 National Championship team, appearing in all 10 of UCLA's postseason games, recording six saves and crafting a 1.93 ERA. He was on the mound for the final out of the NCAA Championship Game, finishing off a 3-1 putout to clinch the title against Mississippi State on Jun. 25, 2013. In addition, he combined with James Kaprielian to throw the first no-hitter in UCLA history on May, 15, 2015.

A sixth round selection by the Chicago Cubs in the 2015 MLB Draft, Berg recorded a 4.63 career ERA in three minor league seasons. He posted a 1.40 ERA over 18 appearances in his first professional season. He reached Triple-A during the 2017 season, recording a 0.90 ERA over seven games for the Iowa Cubs.

FUTURE BRIUNS

UCLA BASEBALL SIGNS 13 PLAYERS FOR 2021-22 YEAR

John Savage signed 13 top players to NLIs during the early signing period in fall 2019. Aided by recruiting coordinator Bryant Ward, the Bruins' latest class feature five pitchers and eight position players. The group features four players ranked inside the top-50 nationally and seven within the top-100 as judged by Perfect Game. The class received a national ranking of No. 3 from Baseball America in February.

Josh Alger

Roseville, Calif. (Roseville HS) - RHP - 6-3, 175 - R/R

- Awards/Stats: In the state of California, ranked the No. 24 RHP and No. 85 prospect overall ... Was a Preseason Underclass All-American in both 2019 and 2020 ... Named to the All-Tournament Team at the 2018 Perfect Game West MLK Championship ... Competed with NorCal Baseball Club ... Two-time Area Code Games participant ... Also played basketball and football in high school.
- Savage Says: "Josh has big upside that we feel has pitchability to go along with potential power stuff. Josh is a three-sport athlete who will become very good when he concentrates on becoming the pitcher that he wants to be."

Ethan Flanagan

Irvine, Calif. (Santa Margarita HS) - LHP - 6-2, 180 - L/L

- Awards/Stats: In the state of California, ranked the No. 8 left-handed pitcher and No. 75 prospect overall ... Ranked the No. 71 LHP in the country by Perfect Game ... Was a Preseason All-American in both 2019 and 2020 ... Participated in the 2019 Perfect Game Underclass All-American Games ... Also played first base at Santa Margarita ... Won the CIF Southern Section Division 2 title in 2019 with Santa Margarita.
- Savage Says: "Ethan is a projectable left-handed pitcher who has a tremendous future ahead of him. Ethan is only at the beginning of what he can become, and we are excited to have an impact on him and his progression. Ethan has a fastball in the low 90s with a solid above-average curveball. He's a tremendous athlete who we expect to be very good at UCLA."

Bryce Grudzielanek

Cardiff, Calif. (Torrey Pines HS) - INF - 6-2, 170 - R/R

- Awards/Stats: In the state of California, ranked the No. 9 middle infielder and No. 28 overall prospect ... Nationally, is ranked as the No. 56 middle infielder and No. 271 overall ... Played for the Arizona Diamondbacks scout team at the 2020 WWBA World Championship ... His father, Mark Grudzielanek, batted .289 over a 15-year MLB career with six different teams, earning All-Star honors in 1996 and winning an AL Gold Glove at second base in 2006 ... His mother, Danielle Martin, played softball at UCLA, earning two varsity letters from 1997-98 ... Batted over .300 in each of his first two high school seasons.
- Savage Says: "Bryce is a very projectable middle infielder who really knows how to play the game. He's an athletic player who comes from a very athletic family, has very good ball skills, and is a player who is getting stronger and has a chance to be an offensive infielder."

Jack Holman

Wrightwood, Calif. (Etiwanda HS) - C - 6-4, 215 - L/R

- Awards/Stats: In the state of California, ranked the No. 3 catcher and No. 34 prospect overall ... Ranked as the No. 26 catcher in his class nationally and the No. 329 prospect overall ... Bats left and throws right ... Preseason Underclass All-American in 2019 and 2020 ... Played in the Perfect Game Underclass All-American Games in 2018 and 2019 ... Owns a career .387 on-base percentage at Etiwanda, including a .398 rate as a sophomore ... Was a member of the USA Baseball 16U National Team Development Program in 2019 ... Participant in the Boras Classic in 2019 with Etiwanda.
- Savage Says: "Jack is a strong left-handed-hitting catcher who has a chance to have power to all fields. He is a student of the game and we look for him to be a solid defensive catcher as well. Jack is a big, physical presence behind the plate."

Thatcher Hurd (No. 32 national prospect)

Manhattan Beach, Calif. (Mira Costa HS) - RHP - 6-4, 205 - R/R

- Awards/Stats: Top-ranked pitcher in the state of California and the No. 4 prospect overall statewide ... Nationally, ranked as the No. 9 right-handed pitcher and No. 32 overall prospect ... Two-time Preseason All-American ... Named to the Top Prospect Team at the 2020 Perfect Game National Showcase ... Played for the San Francisco Giants scout team in the 2020 WWBA World Championship ... Is a converted catcher ... Participated in the 2020 Area Code Games ... Played in the Under Armour All-American Game this past summer.
- Savage Says: "Thatcher is one of the elite pitchers in the country. His combination of true command and power are tools you rarely see at the high school level. His fastball is in the low 90s with a wipeout curveball and advanced change-up. Thatcher checks all the boxes – we look for him to be an impact-type starting pitcher the day he arrives in Westwood."

Luke Jewett

Ladera Ranch, Calif. (JSerra Catholic HS) - RHP - 6-2, 180 - R/R

- Awards/Stats: In the state of California, is ranked the No. 7 right-handed pitcher and No. 22 prospect overall ... Nationally, is ranked as the No. 69 right-handed pitcher and No. 191 prospect overall ... Two-time Preseason Underclass All-American ... Named to the Top Prospect Team at the 2020 Perfect Game National Showcase ... Had a 2.51 ERA over 30 2/3 innings as a sophomore in 2019 ... Participated in the 2020 Area Code Games ... Won the 2019 Boras Classic with JSerra.
- Savage Says: "Luke is an athletic right-handed pitcher who has a power fastball and a plus change-up. Another pitcher from JSerra who we think will have an immediate impact on our pitching staff at UCLA. His fastball-change mix poses a lot of problems for hitters."

Gage Jump (No. 38 national prospect)

Aliso Viejo, Calif. (JSerra Catholic HS) - LHP - 5-11, 170 - L/L

- Awards/Stats: Awards/Stats: In the state of California, is ranked the No. 1 left-handed pitcher in the state of California and the No. 5 prospect overall ... Nationally, is ranked as the No. 5 left-handed pitcher and the No. 38 prospect overall ... Two-time Preseason Underclass All-American ... Also plays prep basketball; was named the Daily Herald (Everett, Wash.) Boys Basketball Player of the Year for 2019-20 after averaging 26.1 points.
- Savage Says: "Malakhi has all the tools to have a major impact in Westwood as a freshman. He has big upside, is a lockdown defender, and combines the ability to hit with power."

Nate Leibold

Seattle, Wash. (Ballard HS) - RHP - 6-3, 195 - R/R

- Awards/Stats: Ranked as the No. 6 right-handed pitcher and No. 11 overall prospect in the state of Washington ... Preseason All-American First Team West Region in 2020 ... Preseason Underclass All-American honorable mention in 2019 ... Rated the No. 2 pitcher and No. 3 overall prospect in Washington by Prep Baseball Report in 2019; had the same rankings from Baseball Northwest in 2020 ... Struck out 26 batters in 24 2/3 innings as a sophomore at Ballard HS.
- Savage Says: "Nate is one of the best right-handed pitchers in the state of Washington. He's a physical pitcher who has power stuff and who we think will be very good in college. I'm looking forward to being a part of his future and watching his development in our program."

Nick McLain

Tustin, Calif. (Beckman HS) - INF - 6-0, 180 - R/R

- Awards/Stats: In the state of California, is ranked as the No. 3 outfielder and No. 21 prospect overall ... Younger brother of current Bruins shortstop Matt McLain ... Is a switch hitter ... Nationally is ranked as the No. 31 outfielder and No. 186 overall prospect ... Three-time Preseason Underclass All-American, including California Region First Team honors in 2020 ... Participated in the 2019 Perfect Game Underclass All-American Games ... Named to the Top Prospect Team at the 2020 Perfect Game National Showcase ... Played with the Brewers at the 2020 Area Code Games ... Named tourney MVP as Beckman won the Chino Hills Briar Hamilton Tournament in 2020.
- Savage Says: "Nick comes from a baseball family – three boys that are very good players. He is a versatile player who can play all three outfield positions. Nick really came on this past summer, and showed he is one of the best players in Southern California."

Cody Schrier (No. 29 national prospect)

San Clemente, Calif. (JSerra Catholic HS) - INF - 6-1, 190 - R/R

- Awards/Stats: In the state of California, ranked the No. 2 shortstop and No. 3 prospect overall ... Nationally is ranked as the No. 7 shortstop and No. 29 overall ... Three-time High School Preseason All-American ... Played in the 2020 All-American Classic in Oklahoma City ... All-Tournament selection at the 2020 WWBA World Championship ... Named the Tournament Most Valuable Player at the 2020 17U Elite National Championship ... Continues a line of recent JSerra shortstops to commit to UCLA including Chase Strumpf and Michael Curialle ... Has been part of the USA Baseball National Team Development Program since he was 12 years old; was the U15 Baseball World Cup MVP in 2018 ... Participant in the Area Code Games ... Participated in the Baseball Factory All-Star Classic in October.
- Savage Says: "Cody is a strong, athletic shortstop who can change the game on both sides of the ball. He has an outstanding glove and arm, and that will allow him to stay at shortstop at UCLA. Cody is an offensive player who has a chance to have real power in the Pac-12."

Eric Silva

Laguna Beach, Calif. (JSerra Catholic HS) - RHP - 6-0, 180 - R/R

- Awards/Stats: In the state of California, ranked the No. 4 right-handed pitcher and No. 14 prospect overall ... Listed by Perfect Game as the No. 40 right-handed pitcher in the country and No. 122 prospect overall ... Three-time Underclass All-American, including a First Team All-California nod in 2020 ... BIG LEAGUE BRUINS

▲ BEN FRANCISCO

After being traded midseason to Philadelphia, he helped lead the Phillies to their second consecutive World Series in 2009.

◀ JEFF CONINE

Spent 17 seasons in the majors, helping lead the Florida Marlins to World Series titles in 1997 and 2003.

HECTOR AMBRIZ ▶

Pitched for the Indians in 2010 and the Astros in 2012 and 2013, starring at UCLA from 2003-2006.

▲ GARRETT ATKINS

Led the Colorado Rockies to the NL pennant and the World Series in 2007, playing for the ballclub from 2003-2009.

▲ ADAM MELHUSE

After two years excelling as an infielder at UCLA (1992-1993), he spent eight seasons in the major leagues as a catcher.

▲ CASEY JANSSEN

A four-year letterwinner for the Bruins (2001-2004), Janssen broke into the majors in 2006. He was drafted by Toronto in the fourth round of the 2004 MLB Draft and pitched for the Blue Jays until 2015.

▲ DAVE ROBERTS

After four years at UCLA (1991-94), he enjoyed a 10-year major league career. Roberts starred in center field for the Los Angeles Dodgers for three seasons before leading the Boston Red Sox to the 2004 World Series title.

TODD ZEILE ▶

Among the best-ever hitters in UCLA history, Zeile competed for the Bruins from 1984-86. In 16 major-league seasons, he totaled 253 home runs and 1,110 RBI.

▲ CHASE UTLEY

One of the game's top second basemen, Utley led Philadelphia to the World Series title in 2008. In 2009, he guided the Phillies back to the Fall Classic, clubbing five homers in six games in that World Series.

▲ ERIC BYRNES

After four years at UCLA (1995-1998), he spent 11 seasons playing Major League Baseball. Byrnes still holds the UCLA career records for hits (326), at-bats (984), runs (326) and doubles (75).

▲ TROY GLAUS

After winning the 2002 World Series with the Anaheim Angels, Glaus earned World Series MVP honors that October. He enjoyed a 13-year major league career.

▲ SHANE MACK

After batting .361 in three seasons at UCLA, Mack helped lead the Minnesota Twins to the 1991 World Series title.

▲ DAVID HUFF

As a rookie in 2009, he led the Cleveland Indians with 11 victories. Huff starred in UCLA's rotation as a junior in 2006, leading the Bruins to the NCAA Malibu Regional.

▲ ERIC KARROS

One of UCLA's top hitters (1986-1988), he set the Los Angeles Dodgers' career home run record, belting 284 round-trippers in 12 seasons in Los Angeles.

▲ BRANDON CRAWFORD

A three-year standout at UCLA (2006-2008), he clubbed a grand slam in his major league debut with San Francisco (May 27, 2011) and won World Series titles with the club in 2012 and 2014. In 2017, Crawford claimed his third-straight Gold Glove Award.

*UCLA's game-by-game records date back through the 1955 season; asterisk indicates an opponent who UCLA played prior to 1955 (record incomplete).

All-time series records are complete for those schools with the year listed prior to 1955. Year in right column indicates first season in which UCLA played that school.

^UCLA is 29-58-2 against Cal State Fullerton since the Titans became a Division I program in 1975.

^UCLA has played Cal State Los Angeles prior to 1955; until 1964, the school is referred to as Los Angeles State.

& Records versus St. Mary's from 1948-1954 are missing. Both schools have played five games since 1955.

In Memoriam: Arthur E. Reichle (1914-2000)

"A courageous man who taught his players to strive for excellence both on and off the field of play."

The UCLA baseball program lost a great teacher and friend when former head coach Art Reichle passed away on May 23, 2000. Reichle, who was inducted into the UCLA Athletics Hall of Fame in 1998, became head coach of the Bruins in 1941. After one year, he entered the Army and served until 1946, at which time he resumed coaching baseball at UCLA.

In 1969, the Bruins, led by future major leaguer Chris Chambliss, won the Pacific-8 title and earned UCLA's first appearance into the College World Series. Reichle retired as coach after the 1974 season with 733-577-22 record, and was succeeded by Gary Adams, one of his former players.

As an athlete, Reichle played football, rugby and baseball at UCLA from 1934-36. He began his coaching career as an assistant for the Bruin baseball team and one of the players during his tenure was future Hall of Famer Jackie Robinson.

Reichle was an assistant athletic director at UCLA until 1980. He continued to teach at clinics and assist high school coaches in Ventura County until his retirement. Reichle moved to Florida in 1989.

Reichle is survived by his wife Ruth, sons Arthur Jr. and Richard, and daughter Denise Margarite.

AWARDS AND HONORS

Multiple All-Conference Selections

UCLA has produced 28 players since 1967 who have earned all-conference acclaim at least twice, with four standouts having earned all-conference honors three times (Garrett Atkins, Dennis Delany, Trevor Bauer and Adam Plutko) and one player who earned all-conference honors four times (David Berg).

BEAU AMARAL

All-Pac-12 Team in 2011, 2012

A three-year starting outfielder (2010-2012), Amaral helped lead the Bruins to two College World Series appearances in his three years at the school. As a freshman, Amaral batted a team-leading .354 as he helped lead UCLA to the finals of the 2010 College World Series. He followed that up with a solid sophomore campaign, batting .299 with a team-best 16 doubles and 37 runs, earning All-Pac-10 honors for the first time in his career. In 2012, Amaral batted .313 with a team-best 63 runs as he again earned All-Pac-12 honors and helped the Bruins return to the College World Series.

GARRETT ATKINS

All-Pac-10 Team in 1998, 1999, 2000

Atkins captured All-Pac-10 acclaim each of his three seasons at UCLA. He set the school's single-season freshman batting average record in 1998, hitting at a .383 clip with nine homers and 54 RBI. As a sophomore, Atkins batted .275 with 14 home runs, 18 doubles and 41 RBI. He helped lead UCLA to the NCAA Super Regional at LSU during his junior season, batting .352 with 17 home runs, 72 RBI and 73 runs.

TREVOR BAUER

All-Pac-10 Team in 2009, 2010, 2011

Among the most dominant pitchers in conference history, Bauer secured All-Pac-10 acclaim each of his three seasons (2009-2011). As a junior, he became the first UCLA player to ever win the Golden Spikes Award. That season, Bauer went 13-2 with a 1.25 ERA and a nation-leading 203 strikeouts. He went 12-3 with a 3.02 ERA and a nation-best 165 strikeouts as a sophomore and secured Pac-10 Freshman of the Year honors in 2009, going 9-3 with a 2.99 ERA. Bauer helped lead UCLA to the finals of the 2010 College World Series and back to the postseason in 2011.

DAVID BERG

All-Pac-12 Team in 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015

Berg finished his four-year career at UCLA as arguably the best relief pitcher in NCAA history. He holds the NCAA records for career appearances (175) and single season saves (24), while tying for the NCAA record for single season appearances (51). Berg won the Pac-12 Pitcher of the Year award and the NCBWA Stopper of the Year award twice, taking each honor in 2013 and 2015. He became the first ever reliever to claim the Pac-12 Pitcher of the Year award and is the only two-time winner of the NCBWA Stopper of the Year award. Berg led the conference in ERA three times and is the only pitcher in school history to lead the conference in ERA in back-to-back seasons. He holds a career record of 22-6 with a 1.11 ERA in 266.2 innings and holds the school records for lowest career ERA (1.11), lowest single season ERA (0.68), lowest single season conference ERA (0.22), most career saves (49), most single season saves (24), most postseason appearances (17) and most postseason saves (8). Berg is one of just three players in Pac-12 history to earn all-conference honors four times.

ERIC BYRNES

All-Pac-10 Team in 1995, 1997

A talented four-year starter (1995-1998), Byrnes guided the Bruins to postseason appearances in 1996 and 1997, including to the College World Series in 1997. He batted .324 with nine home runs, 35 RBI and 18 stolen bases as a freshman. Two years later, he posted career numbers with 17 home runs, 60 RBI and 95 runs. Byrnes finished his career as UCLA's all-time leader in runs (235), hits (326) and at-bats (984).

GERRIT COLE

All-Pac-10 Team in 2009, 2010

A three-year starting pitcher (2009-2011), Cole twice earned All-Pac-10 acclaim. As a freshman, he moved into the team's Friday night starter role, going 4-8 with a 3.49 ERA, 104 strikeouts and 38 walks in 95.0 innings. As a sophomore, Cole went 11-4 with a 3.37 ERA, 153 strikeouts and 52 walks in 123.0 innings. Cole led UCLA to the finals of the College World Series in 2010 and back to the postseason as a junior in 2011.

ED COWAN

All-Pac-8 Team in 1975, 1976

A three-year letterwinner for the Bruins (1974-1976), Cowan posted a 10-2 record with a 3.50 ERA as a starting pitcher for the Bruins during his senior campaign. He led the Bruins in strikeouts and wins during his junior and senior years. The two-time all-conference selection finished his UCLA career with a 22-11 record and 4.10 ERA.

TIM DECINCES

All-Pac-10 Team in 1995, 1996

Among the best hitting catchers in program history, DeCinces helped lead the Bruins to the 1996 NCAA Central I Regional at the University of Texas. He posted a career .321 batting average in three seasons (1994-1996), belting 37 home runs and collecting 166 RBI. He led all Pac-10 hitters with 23 doubles in 1995 and 18 home runs in 1996. DeCinces ranks fourth on UCLA's career doubles list (54).

CODY DECKER

All-Pac-10 Team in 2007, 2009

Among the conference's premier power hitters during his four years (2006-2009), Decker led all Pac-10 hitters with 21 home runs in 2009. He earned All-Pac-10 honors in 2007, batting .307 with 14 homers and 57 RBI. As a senior, he batted .322 with 21 homers and 53 RBI. He finished his career sporting a .288 batting average, 47 home runs and 153 RBI.

DENNIS DELANY

All-Pac-8 Team in 1976, 1977, 1978

A four-year standout (1975-1978), Delany led UCLA to the 1976 CIBA title, in addition to second-place finishes in the Pac-8 in 1977 and 1978. As a junior in 1977, Delany posted a team-best .339 batting average, totaling 11 home runs and 37 RBI. The following season, he batted .339 with six homers, 14 doubles and 37 RBI. Delany finished his collegiate career having compiled a .302 batting average.

VENOY GARRISON

All-Pac-8 Team in 1974, 1975

Garrison finished his three-year career (1973-1975) having batted .331 with nine home runs, 17 doubles and 68 RBI. He starred behind the plate for UCLA, blossoming during his junior and senior campaigns. In 1974, Garrison batted .345 with 12 doubles. The following year, he batted .344 with seven home runs and 37 RBI.

TROY GLAUS

All-Pac-10 Team in 1996, 1997

Among the most talented power hitters in school history, Glaus capped his three-year career (1995-1997) with a sensational junior season. In 1997, Glaus led the Pac-10 with 34 home runs (single-season school record), batted .409 and drove in 91 runs. As a sophomore in 1996, Glaus batted .352 with 16 home runs, 17 doubles and 50 RBI. He posted career totals of 62 home runs, 180 RBI, 211 runs scored and a .344 batting average.

JOHN JOSLYN

All-Pac-10 Team in 1985, 1986

A two-year standout for the Bruins (1985-1986), Joslyn was a key player on UCLA's 1986 Pac-10 Championship squad. That season, he batted .347 with 18 home runs and 53 RBI as the Bruins hosted an NCAA Regional. In 1985, Joslyn earned the first of his two All-Pac-10 team honors, batting .370 with six home runs and 42 RBI.

ERIC KARROS

All-Pac-10 Team in 1987, 1988

After playing in just 12 games as a freshman in 1986, Karros made a tremendous impact for the Bruins in 1987 and 1988. In 66 games as a sophomore (1987), Karros batted .312 with eight home runs, 23 doubles and 57 RBI. The following season, he batted .415 with 17 homers, 14 doubles and 54 RBI. Karros finished his three-year career batting .365 with 26 home runs and 123 RBI.

JAMES KAPRIELIAN

All-Pac-12 Team in 2014, 2015

Serving as UCLA's 'ace', Kaprielian led the Pac-12 in strikeouts in back-to-back seasons in 2014 and 2015 to earn All-Pac-12 acclaim. He finished his career ranked fifth in UCLA history in career ERA (2.06) and sixth in career strikeouts (275). In three seasons, Kaprielian went 17-10 over 66 appearances (31 starts) and was selected 16th overall in the 2015 MLB Draft by the Yankees.

SHANE MACK

All-Pac-10 Team in 1983, 1984

A three-year starter for the Bruins (1982-1984), Mack batted over the .300 plateau each season. He posted his best numbers as a sophomore and junior. In 1983, Mack batted .419 with 11 home runs, 60 RBI and 54 runs in 49 games. The following season, he batted .352 with 16 home runs and 53 RBI. Mack was the No. 11 overall selection in the 1984 MLB Draft by the San Diego Padres.

JIM PARQUE

All-Pac-10 Team in 1996, 1997

Serving as the ace of UCLA's 1997-bound College World Series team, Parque had a very strong three-year career (1995-1997). He posted a 28-8 career record on the mound, logging 319 strikeouts in 334.2 innings while recording a 3.55 ERA. As a junior in 1997, Parque went 13-2 with a 3.08 ERA. He led the Pac-10 with 116 strikeouts in 1996 and with 12 wins in 1997.

ADAM PLUTKO

All-Pac-12 Team in 2011, 2012, 2013

After leading the Bruins to two College World Series appearances in three years, including the program's first NCAA title in 2013, Plutko finished his career with the second-most wins in school history (29) while making the second-most starts (52). He also logged the second-most innings pitched (351.1) in UCLA history, and his career ERA of 2.25 and 272 career strikeouts both rank seventh on UCLA's all-time lists. Plutko finished his career with the most postseason wins (7), games started (8), innings pitched (57.2) and lowest ERA (0.94) in school history and was one of just four players in UCLA history to earn All-Pac-12 honors three years in a row. Additionally, Plutko combined with teammate Nick Vander Tuig to compile the most pitching wins by two teammates in program history (56).

DAVE ROBERTS

All-Pac-10 Team in 1992, 1994

Among the best basestealers in UCLA history, Roberts batted over .295 with at least 28 stolen bases in each of his final three seasons. A four-year letterwinner (1991-1994), he led the conference in stolen bases in 1992, 1993 and 1994. He set the school's single-season record with 45 swipes in 1994. Roberts finished his UCLA career with a .325 batting average, 82 RBI, 177 runs and 109 stolen bases.

GARY SANSERINO

All-Pac-8 Team in 1968, 1969

A three-year letterwinner who excelled as a shortstop (1967-1969), Sanserino posted a career .319 batting average, totaling 12 home runs and 98 RBI. He batted .302 with 10 home runs and set a then-school record with 19 stolen bases in 1969, leading UCLA to its first-ever appearance in the College World Series that season.

BILL SCOTT

All-Pac-10 Team in 1999, 2000

Scott established himself in three seasons (1998-2000) as one of UCLA's most successful hitters. He posted career totals of 53 home runs and 173 RBI while batting .392 and leading UCLA to NCAA Regionals in 1999 and 2000. Scott led all Pac-10 hitters with a .421 batting average as a junior in 2000 and led the conference with 28 home runs and 86 RBI in 1999.

CHASE STRUMPF

All-Pac-12 Team in 2018, 2019

Chase slashed .297/.409/.507 as a three-year starter at second base. The power-hitting middle infielder was an All-American in 2018 after batting .363 with 12 home runs and 53 RBIs. He followed that up with a nine-homer, 44 RBI campaign as a junior, serving as one of leaders on the 2019 team that set a program record for wins.

MICHAEL TOGLIA

All-Pac-12 Team in 2018, 2019

Toglia proved himself one of the top power hitters on the west coast over a three-year career at UCLA, posting a .307/.410/.573 slash line with 36 home runs. He ultimately became the first Bruin in nearly 20 years to go in the first round after Colorado selected him No. 23 overall in the 2019 Draft. He had double-digit home runs in both 2018-19, becoming the first Bruin since 2000 to hit 10+ dingers in consecutive seasons.

DON SLAUGHT

All-Pac-10 Team in 1979, 1980

A three-year letterwinner at UCLA (1977, 1979-1980), Slaughter was among the Bruins' most talented hitters during his final two seasons. He batted at a conference-leading .428 clip in 1979, totaling seven home runs, 41 RBI and 38 runs in 45 games as the Bruins' catcher. In 1980, Slaughter batted .292 with four home runs and 34 RBI.

CHASE UTLEY

All-Pac-10 Team in 1999, 2000

Starring as a middle infielder for UCLA from 1998-2000, Utley batted over the .300 plateau with at least 15 home runs in each of his three seasons. He belted 16 home runs as a sophomore (1999) and 22 as a junior (2000). Utley batted .382 with 69 RBI and 81 runs in 2000, helping lead UCLA to an NCAA Super Regional at LSU. He finished his career having batted .342 with 53 home runs, 174 RBI and 182 runs in 179 games.

ERIC VALENT

All-Pac-10 Team in 1997, 1998

UCLA's all-time leader in career home runs (69) and RBI (219), Valent had a sensational three-year career (1996-1998). He batted .339 with 27 home runs and 91 RBI as a sophomore (1997) and followed that season with a .336 average, 30 homers and 73 RBI as a junior (1998). Valent helped lead UCLA to postseason appearances in 1996 and 1997, including the Bruins' second-ever trip to the College World Series in 1997.

WES WHISLER

All-Pac-10 Team in 2002, 2003

One of UCLA's best two-way players during the 2000s, Whisler batted .328 with 18 home runs and 46 RBI as a freshman (2002). That season, he went 5-2 with a 4.06 ERA in 84.1 innings. The following year, Whisler batted .310 with nine home runs and 39 RBI. On the mound, he totaled 53 strikeouts in 82.2 innings. Whisler and teammate Adam Berry tied for the Pac-10 lead in home runs (18) during the 2002 season.

JOEL WOLFE

All-Pac-10 Team in 1990, 1991

A career .348 hitter in three seasons (1989-1991), Wolfe batted at least .320 each year with the Bruins. He batted .320 with two homers and 28 RBI as a freshman. Wolfe batted .376 with 10 home runs and 44 RBI as a sophomore. As a junior, he hit at a .345 clip with six home runs and 47 RBI.

PETE ZAMORA

All-Pac-10 Team in 1995, 1997

A standout for UCLA both on the mound and at the plate, Zamora went 15-6 with a 4.66 ERA in 48 games (31 starts) while batting .310 with 28 home runs and 152 RBI in three seasons (1995-1997). He batted .379 with 16 home runs and 74 RBI as a junior in 1997, helping lead UCLA to the College World Series as a junior that year.

BRUIN TRADITION

Jackie Robinson spent the 1940 season playing baseball at UCLA. Robinson (far left, top row) played his first game on March 10, 1940. He finished his career at UCLA as the school's first four-sport letterwinner (baseball, football, basketball, track and field).

▼ Gary Adams

UCLA's all-time winningest head coach (below, center), Gary Adams led the Bruins to the 1997 College World Series. That season, UCLA overcame an early loss in NCAA Regional action by winning its next five games in dominating fashion. Adams played at UCLA from 1959-62.

▲ Paul Ellis

Shown here being congratulated by his teammates, Paul Ellis (#19) served as the Bruins' starting catcher in 1989 and 1990. He was a consensus first-team All-America selection and Division I ABCA Player of the Year honoree in 1990.

Bob Andrews ▶

Playing under head coach Art Reichle, Bob Andrews pitched for UCLA from 1948-50 when the Bruins were members of the CIBA.

▲ 2010 UCLA Baseball

The Bruins posted a 51-17 record in 2010, closing the season with UCLA's first-ever trip to the finals of the College World Series in Omaha, Neb. Anchored by starting pitchers Gerrit Cole, Trevor Bauer and Rob Rasmussen, the Bruins took down Cal State Fullerton in the Super Regionals to advance to the College World Series.

2012 UCLA Baseball ▲

Led by the winningest junior class in school history, the 2012 UCLA Baseball team advanced to their second College World Series in three years. The Bruins swept all three games in the Los Angeles Regional before knocking off TCU in the Los Angeles Super Regional.

▲ Jim Parque

Among the top pitchers in the nation in 1997, Parque posted a career 25-11 record with a 3.55 ERA in 334.2 innings (1995-97). He was an integral member of UCLA's 1997 College World Series team.

Dan Guerrero ►

An infielder on UCLA's baseball team from 1971-73, Guerrero served as UCLA's Athletic Director from 2002-2020.

▼ Chris Chambliss

Chambliss led UCLA to its first-ever College World Series in 1969, posting a team-high .340 batting average with 15 home runs.

2000 UCLA Baseball ►

UCLA's 2000 team advanced to the NCAA Super Regional in Baton Rouge with the help of (left to right) Chase Utley, Chad Cislak and Bill Scott. The Bruins won the 2000 Oklahoma City Regional that spring.

◀ Garrett Atkins

Among the best hitters to ever play at UCLA, Garrett Atkins posted a school freshman season record .383 batting average in 1998. Two years later, Atkins teamed with Chase Utley to lead UCLA to the 2000 NCAA Super Regional at LSU. The Bruins swept three games at the NCAA Oklahoma City Regional.

▼ 2007 UCLA Baseball

Backed by three standout starting pitching efforts, the 2007 UCLA team swept the NCAA Long Beach Regional, earning its first Super Regional appearance since 2000.

▲ Todd Zeile

One of the premier major leaguers of the 1990s, Zeile batted .331 with 26 homers and 94 RBI for UCLA from 1984-86. Zeile captured All-Pac-10 team honors in 1986, as UCLA advanced to NCAA Regional action at Jackie Robinson Stadium.

UCLA BASEBALL HISTORY

1944 – CIBA CHAMPIONS

16-12 overall, 5-3 CIBA (1st Place)

Led by head coach A.J. Sturzenegger, the 1944 Bruins claimed both the Southern California Interscholastic Baseball Association and the California Interscholastic Association titles. No UCLA team had finished with a first-place league standing since 1924. In the words of Sturzenegger, his 1944 squad was “one of the best fielding and hitting teams of Bruin history.”

Team captain and shortstop Bob Brown led UCLA with the bat and anchored the infield before later becoming the president of Major League Baseball's American League. Pitcher Burt Avedon and catcher Dave Fainer provided the Bruins with a veteran battery combination, while pitcher Nick Russin, outfielders Lyle Palmer and Mike Knauff, and first baseman Jack Myers added some pop to a hard-hitting lineup. Rounding out the infield were third baseman Don Reaume and second baseman Ken Proctor. Warren Hayes was the third member of the outfield. UCLA's pitching staff revolved around starters Frank Freericks and “Doc Mason,” in addition to Avedon. The bullpen included Sid Gilmore, Baker Garrison, Jack Porter and John Derdivanis. The Bruins ended the season with a four-game win streak, including two over California and two against USC.

1969 – FIRST COLLEGE WORLD SERIES TRIP

42-12-1, 17-4 Pac-8 (1st Place)

Led by future major league star Chris Chambliss, the 1969 UCLA baseball team became the first Bruin squad to reach the College World Series. UCLA finished the season with a 42-12-1 record, losing two heartbreakers at the College World Series in extra innings. Chambliss, who played first base, batted .340 and set a then-school record with 15 home runs, including 10 in conference play. Shortstop Gary Sanserino batted .302 with 10 home runs, establishing a then-school record 19 stolen bases. UCLA's pitching staff was led by sophomore right-hander Rick Pope, who compiled an 8-0 record and a 1.60 ERA in a team-leading 95.1 innings. Senior right-hander Jim York pitched in a team-high 27 games, collecting 70 strikeouts and 24 walks in 60.2 innings. UCLA's march to Omaha, Neb., in 1969 began with consecutive shutout victories as the Bruins won 16 of their first 17 games. After opening Pac-8 play with back-to-back losses, UCLA won 17 of its final 19 conference games to secure a 17-4 Pac-8 mark. UCLA entered a best-of-three NCAA Regional having won its previous 11 contests, all in Pac-8 play. The Bruins dispatched of Santa Clara in the NCAA Regional, winning by scores of 7-5 and 2-1. In the College World Series, UCLA fell to Tulsa, 6-5, in 10 innings. The Bruins were eliminated the following day, dropping a 2-1 decision in 12 innings to Arizona State.

THE 1970s – 330-248-2 (.571)

1970 – 26-24-1, 8-7 Pac-8 (3rd Place)

Despite winning just one of their first seven games, the 1970 UCLA ballclub posted a winning record and finished second in the Pac-8. Following the opening 1-6 skid, UCLA rebounded to win seven of its next eight games. Early non-conference wins against Cal Poly, San Diego State and Long Beach State boosted the Bruins' record as UCLA hovered around the .500 plateau most of the spring. Junior shortstop Ralph Punaro led the Bruins in Pac-8 play, posting a .356 average. Sophomore Earl Altshuler registered a .390 batting average in limited action (32-for-82 at the plate).

1971 – 38-17, 11-6 Pac-8 (3rd Place)

The 1971 season marked the fourth season in UCLA's last five in which the Bruins won 35 games or more. UCLA won 10 of its first 15 games that spring, posting a 13-0 shutout victory against Cal Poly Pomona in the season opener. Two days later, UCLA routed the College of Sequoias, 30-0. The Bruins opened Pac-8 play winning three of the first four contests, including a win at home against Stanford followed by two victories against California. UCLA continued rolling through their conference late in May, posting two-game series sweeps at Washington and Washington State.

1972 – 32-33-1, 4-14 Pac-8 (4th Place)

UCLA's 1972 ballclub featured a mid-season nine-game win streak quickly followed by a nine-game losing skid. After hovering near .500 through the first 14 games, the Bruins won 14 of their next 15 to boast a 20-8-1 ledger by March 23. UCLA hit an April swoon, dropping 19 of its next 23 games and sending its record to a pedestrian 24-26-1. Senior outfielder Earl Altshuler led the Bruins at the plate with a .379 batting average along with six home runs, 33 RBI and 45 runs. UCLA's pitching staff posted a 3.79 team ERA as Steve Smith (1.69 ERA, 63.2 IP), Gary Robson (2.84 ERA, 107.2 IP) and Bruce Baranick (3.05 ERA, 62.0 IP) led the club on the bump.

1973 – 29-24, 7-11 Pac-8 (3rd Place)

The Bruins opened 1973 with wins in 11 of their first 16 games, boasting a 26-13 mark midway through conference play. UCLA took two of three games from Stanford at Sawtelle Field and picked up a series victory at California later that month.

The Bruins improved their resume, notching non-conference wins over Pepperdine, Cal State L.A., UC Santa Barbara and Cal Poly Pomona. However, the Bruins good fortune ran out in May, as UCLA dropped 11 of its final 14 contests. Bill Hobbs and Tim Doerr led the Bruins offensively – Hobbs batted .356 and Doerr hit at a .348 clip. Bob Adams led the club with 13 home runs, 48 RBI and 10 stolen bases.

1974 – 26-35, 7-11 Pac-8 (4th Place)

In the final year of his 30-year tenure at UCLA, head coach Arthur Reichle led the 1974 Bruins to a fourth-place Pac-8 finish. After opening the season 0-11, the Bruins rebounded to win 11 games in a 14-game window through February and March. Midway through April, UCLA crawled to within three games of the .500 mark (21-24) with series sweeps of Gonzaga and Stanford. In Pac-8 play, the Bruins rolled to series victories against California and Stanford. Second baseman Mike Edwards led UCLA with 14 home runs, 42 RBI and 12 stolen bases. Steve Bianchi posted a 9-4 record, totaling 52 strikeouts in a team-high 96.2 innings.

1975 – 31-22, 7-11 Pac-8 (3rd Place)

A new era of UCLA baseball began as former Bruin captain Gary Adams took over the reins in 1975. Adams, who inherited a squad that finished 26-35 in 1974, guided the 1975 Bruins to a 31-22 mark. UCLA began its season with a first start, winning 11 of the first 13 games and compiling a 28-14 record before hitting a late-season slump. A trio of UCLA outfielders – senior Steve Connors and juniors Venoy Garrison and Dave Penniall – led the Bruins at the plate. Garrison posted a team-high .344 batting average, collecting seven home runs and 37 RBI in 50 games. Connors had the second-highest average (.306) among UCLA's everyday players and contributed 12 doubles and 30 RBI in 44 games. Penniall, who transferred from Glendale Junior College that season, batted .301 with nine doubles, three home runs and 35 runs. Junior right-hander Ed Cowan anchored UCLA's rotation, totaling 109 strikeouts and a 9-3 record in a team-high 121.1 innings.

1976 – 35-25, 16-8 CIBA (1st Place)

The 1976 UCLA baseball team captured the program's first conference title since 1969, defeating crosstown rival USC on the final day of the season to secure the CIBA crown. In a game dubbed “The Miracle of Sawtelle Field”, UCLA defeated the Trojans by scoring three runs in the bottom of the ninth inning. Unfortunately for the 1976 Bruins, the CIBA champion did not earn an automatic berth to the NCAA Tournament, and UCLA was not invited to play in Region 8 postseason play as an at-large selection (Northern Colorado earned an at-large berth). A school-record six Bruins earned All-CIBA Team honors after the season. Junior Robbie Henderson led all Bruin regulars with a .302 average, swatted nine home runs, and finished in a three-way tie for the team lead with 37 RBI. UCLA's starting rotation featured seniors Steve Bianchi (5-3, 3.86) and Ed Cowan (10-2, 3.50) and sophomore Tim O'Neill (7-4, 3.21). Speed on the basepaths emerged as a pivotal weapon for the Bruins that spring, as UCLA swiped a then-school record 125 bases (later broken in 1992).

1977 – 31-30, 10-8 Pac-8 (2nd Place)

After losing 12 lettermen from the 1976 team, UCLA surprised many by finishing with a respectable 31-30 mark. The Bruins recorded three-game series sweeps in Pac-8 play against California and Stanford before finishing their conference slate at 10-8. Catcher Dennis Delany and outfielder Dave Baker helped provide the most power in UCLA's lineup that spring. Delany registered 11 homers and 37 RBI, while sporting a team-best .339 average, and Baker belted 10 homers and compiled a team-leading 43 RBI. UCLA's pitching staff registered a combined 4.14 ERA, as junior right-handers Tim O'Neill and Floyd Chiffer led the way. O'Neill went 6-7 with a 4.00 ERA, posting team-highs of 62 strikeouts and 117.0 innings. Chiffer compiled a 5-2 mark, totaling 61 strikeouts in 86.2 innings.

1978 – 39-20, 9-9 Pac-8 (2nd Place)

The “Baby Bruins” showed signs of maturity, as UCLA finished with 39 wins, the fifth-highest win total in school history (second-highest at the time). The Bruins returned 16 letterwinners and finished second in the conference for the second straight season. UCLA narrowly missed earning a berth in the NCAA Tournament. In a one-game Pac-8 Conference playoff game at Stanford's Sunken Diamond, Washington State clubbed a three-run walkoff homer with two outs in the bottom of the ninth to end

UCLA BASEBALL HISTORY

UCLA's season. The Bruins were able to force the one-game playoff by salvaging the final game of a three-game series against USC in the final contest of the regular season. After dropping the series opener, 1-0, and losing the second game, 7-6, UCLA responded by edging the Trojans, 9-8. Individual highlights that season included right-hander Floyd Chiffer's dominant senior campaign. Chiffer, who posted the lowest ERA in Pac-8 competition (1.60), finished the year with an 11-3 record and 84 strikeouts in a team-best 120.0 innings. Sophomore right-hander Tim Leary went 5-5 in 17 games (13 starts), recording a team-best 88 strikeouts and a 3.42 ERA in 94.2 innings. Offensively, UCLA stole 101 bases, the fifth-highest total in school history. Junior outfielder Mike Carpenter catalyzed UCLA at the plate with a team-leading .343 batting average and 36 stolen bases.

1979 – 43-18, 21-9 Pac-10 (1st Place)

With the addition of Arizona and Arizona State to the conference, the Pac-10 Southern Division (6-Pac) became the toughest league in college baseball. The frustrations of 1977 and 1978 were erased, as UCLA cruised through the conference and earned the automatic playoff berth as Pac-10 Champions. UCLA recorded its best record since 1969 and competed in the West Regional at Fresno State, finishing second to eventual NCAA Champion Cal State Fullerton. The Bruins won their first three games to earn a berth in the finals before losing a doubleheader to Cal State Fullerton. Highlights of the season included UCLA's first-ever three game sweep of USC and being ranked No. 1 in the nation by Collegiate Baseball.

The Bruins rewrote the school record book, led by Sporting News All-America selections Tim Leary and Jim Auten. Leary set then-school records with 145.2 innings, 12 wins, and eight conference wins (since tied). He was the second player picked in the 1979 MLB Draft, the highest pick in school history. Auten set a then-NCAA record with 29 home runs and established a then-school record with 78 RBI. Catcher Don Slaught, who was selected an Academic All-American along with Leary, broke the UCLA batting average record and won the Pac-10 batting title with a .428 overall mark. The Bruins set a school record with a .320 overall batting average (that record was broken in 1997). UCLA had eight players taken in the MLB draft, the highest total in the nation that season. Six of those eight later saw action in the big leagues.

1980 – 31-22-3, 15-15 Pac-10 (3rd Place)

Despite having to replace two All-Americans (Tim Leary, Jim Auten) from their 1979 team, the 1980 Bruins managed to compete for the Pac-10 title until the season's final weekend. Due to unfinished construction at Jackie Robinson Stadium, the Bruins practiced on the school's intramural field and played their "home" games at Pepperdine in 1980. UCLA compiled a winning record for the sixth straight season, finishing two games behind conference co-champions California and Arizona. The pitching staff posted a 3.55 ERA, as UCLA won eight of its final 10 games, including wins in the season's final three games against USC. Junior right-hander Eric Broersma hurled two complete games, going 10-2 with a team-low 2.24 ERA in 17 games (14 starts). Senior left-hander Herb Fauland tallied a team-best 10 saves, recording 40 strikeouts and a 2.91 ERA in 58.2 innings. Six Bruins were selected in the MLB Draft that year, including second-rounder Matt Young (Seattle).

1981 – 21-35, 7-23 Pac-10 (6th Place)

The good news was that UCLA opened up newly built Jackie Robinson Stadium in 1981, but the bad news was that the Bruins suffered through their first losing season since 1974. UCLA's 21-man traveling roster featured seven freshmen that season. Outfielder Vince Beringhele had a strong freshman campaign, finishing second on the team with a .337 average. He totaled three homers, 22 RBI and 39 runs and drew a team-high 45 walks. First baseman Greg Norman provided the power, registering team-highs with nine home runs, 47 RBI and 42 runs. Senior outfielder David Montanari led the Bruins with a .374 average, starting all but two contests. UCLA won 11 of its final 21 games, including a conference series victory at Stanford.

1982 – 38-27, 11-19 Pac-10 (4th Place)

In 1982, UCLA rebounded with its seventh winning season in eight years, finishing 11 games over the .500 plateau. UCLA jumped out to a 13-1 start, rising as high as No. 3 in national polls. The Bruins won 17 of their first 21 games before finishing the season with 21 wins in their final 44 contests. The team's early-season success was fueled by a 10-game win streak in February. Midway through the spring, UCLA dropped out of the polls before finishing fourth in the Pac-10. Outfielder Brian Graham earned All-Pac-10 Southern Division Team accolades, having logged team highs in batting average (.337), hits (85), stolen bases (22) and at-bats (251). Outfielder Vince Beringhele followed his successful freshman campaign with an equally strong sophomore season, batting .338 with three home runs, 13 doubles and 61 RBI. Senior left-hander Colin Ward led the starting pitchers with a 4.51 ERA in a team-high 121.2 innings.

Eric Karros, a three-year Bruin letterwinner (1986-88), set the Los Angeles Dodgers' career home run record with 270 round-trippers.

1983 – 28-24-1, 12-18 Pac-10 (5th Place)

UCLA finished fifth in the Pac-10's Southern Division after having improved its conference win total by one game. The Bruins batted at a combined .320, tying the then-school record. Outfielder Shane Mack had a strong sophomore campaign, leading UCLA with a .419 batting average, the second highest single-season mark in program history at the time (currently, fourth). Mack, a future major league ballplayer, earned first-team All-America honors from Baseball America and the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA), after leading the Bruins in home runs (11), RBI (60), hits (88), runs (54) and total bases (138). UCLA sustained a winning record throughout the season, reaching as high as nine wins over .500 twice (17-8-1). The Bruins won two of three Pac-10 games at Arizona State in March and captured four wins in five games against California. Sophomore right-hander Jeff Pries tossed two complete game shutouts, a feat that would not be duplicated by a UCLA pitcher until 2008 (Tim Murphy). Pries finished the season with a 7-6 record and 4.46 ERA in 19 games (18 starts).

1984 – 28-32, 8-22 Pac-10 (6th Place)

For the second straight spring, junior Shane Mack's phenomenal play highlighted UCLA's season. Mack captured first-team All-America honors for the second consecutive year before leading the USA Olympic Baseball Team to a silver-medal finish at the 1984 Olympic Games in Los Angeles. Mack finished UCLA's 1984 campaign with a team-leading 16 home runs and 36 RBI, hitting at a .352 clip. Despite the team's vaunted "Mack Attack," UCLA finished 28-32 with a sixth-place finish in the Pac-10's Southern Division, marking just the second losing season in head coach Gary Adams' 15 years at the helm. Right-hander Jeff Pries followed his strong sophomore season with a valiant effort as a junior, hurling three complete games (including one shutout) while logging a 5-5 record and 4.01 ERA in 15 games (14 starts).

1985 – 34-30-1, 13-17 Pac-10 (5th Place)

UCLA finished the season with a winning record, as the Bruins were bolstered by the strong play of sophomore catcher Todd Zeile, junior designated hitter John Joslyn and junior first baseman Gary Berman. Zeile assumed starting catching duties and finished the season with a .333 average in 54 games, totaling a team-high 12 home runs. Joslyn led UCLA with a .370 average in 57 games, and Berman batted .301 in a team-high 232 at-bats. Season highlights included winning four of six games from College World Series participant Arizona, capturing five of six games from USC, defeating Arizona State for the first time in 15 tries (winning a three-game series in Los Angeles), and knocking then-No. 1 Stanford out of the top spot by winning one and losing two close games at Sunken Diamond in Palo Alto, Calif. UCLA concluded its regular season with seven wins in its final 10 contests.

UCLA BASEBALL HISTORY

1986 – 39-23, 21-9 Pac-10 (1st Place)

The Pac-10 title returned to UCLA for the first time since 1979, as the Bruins captured the 1986 conference crown with a 21-9 Pac-10 mark. UCLA's 1984 freshman class that had been rated as the nation's No. 2 recruiting class by Collegiate Baseball (Torey Lovullo, Todd Zeile, Steve Hisey, Bill Wenrick, and Dana Ridenour) matured to help produce a conference champion. Jackie Robinson Stadium served as host for the NCAA West Regional, where the Bruins dropped their first two postseason games. Loyola Marymount emerged as the Regional Champion, defeating Hawaii to secure a berth in the College World Series.

After 35 games, UCLA owned a 7-4 Pac-10 record and a 22-13 overall mark. The Bruins won 11 of their final 13 regular-season games, including their last seven. Lovullo captured Pac-10 Co-Player of the Year honors with Sanchez after totaling 16 home runs and 65 RBI while posting a .317 batting average. Sanchez led all Pac-10 pitchers with a 16-3 overall record, including an 8-1 mark against Pac-10 foes. He struck out 142 batters in 139.1 innings, the top mark in the conference that spring. In Pac-10 play, Sanchez won his last seven decisions, throwing a complete game victory against each conference team. For the first time in seven seasons, UCLA led the Pac-10 in home runs (103). The Bruins' "Bomb Squad" (pictured below) featured five players who belted 10 or more home runs – Nos. 2 through 6 in the lineup consisted of Torey Lovullo (16), Billy Haselman (11), John Joslyn (18), Steve Hisey (14) and catcher Todd Zeile (13).

1987 – 40-25-1, 16-14 Pac-10 (2nd Place)

UCLA finished second in the Pac-10's Southern Division, going 40-25-1 with an appearance in the the NCAA West II Regional Final at Arizona State. The Bruins soared as high as 19 games over .500 at several points in the spring before playing five games in NCAA Regional play. UCLA advanced to the Regional Final against host Arizona State with a series-opening victory against Hawaii, 12-11. Following a 9-3 loss to the Sun Devils one day later, UCLA registered two wins in one day – versus Hawaii (16-7) and Pepperdine (21-5) – to force a winner-take-all contest against Arizona State. The Sun Devils ended the Bruins' season before over 8,000 fans with a 14-4 win on May 25.

Senior Torey Lovullo became the first player in conference history to repeat as Pac-10 Player of the Year. The Bruins' veteran second baseman also became the program's first-ever consensus All-America selection (ABCA, Baseball America, Sporting News). Lovullo broke the then-school career records in at-bats (856), hits (266), runs (211), home runs (51), RBI (188) and walks (180, still stands as UCLA record). That spring, UCLA led the Pac-10 in home runs, breaking the previous league record with 116 round-trippers. The Bruins also tied a then-NCAA record with 10 grand slams. By season's end, Billy Haselman (Texas) and Alex Sanchez (Toronto) were both selected in the first round of the MLB Draft.

1988 – 31-28, 12-18 Pac-10 (5th Place)

Limited pitching depth hindered UCLA from making its third straight appearance in the NCAA Tournament in 1988. The Bruins finished with a 5.30 team ERA and narrowly missed a third-consecutive postseason berth, as fourth-place USC advanced to NCAA Regional play with a 13-17 conference mark. UCLA won eight of its first 10 games, pushing its ledger to 28-20 late in the season. Senior left-hander Mike Magnante compiled a 14-4 overall record and 3.93 ERA in a team-high 137.1 innings, earning All-Pac-10 team honors and Academic All-America accolades. Junior first baseman Eric Karros Karros used a terrific second half to establish a then-single-season record of 100 hits. The future major leaguer posted team-highs with a .415 average, 17 home runs and 54 RBI. Karros won the Pac-10 batting crown and earned All-Pac-10 honors before being selected in the sixth round of the 1988 MLB Draft by the Los Angeles Dodgers.

1989 – 27-32, 10-20 Pac-10 (5th Place)

UCLA dropped its first eight Pac-10 games and never recovered in the spring of 1989. In just the third losing season in the Adams' era, injuries and illnesses took a toll on the Bruins, as 14 of 27 players missed at least one week of action due to illness or injury. One of the most devastating losses was Charlie Fiocco, the team's home run and RBI leader. Fiocco missed the final 18 games with torn ligaments in his right knee. The pitching staff's 4.54 ERA marked the ballclub's lowest since 1980, when the Bruins compiled a 3.55 mark. UCLA's 113 steals were the most by a Bruin ballclub since 1976, when UCLA recorded 120 steals. Six Bruins finished the season with at least 10 stolen bases, as Robbie Katarzoff led the way on the basepaths for UCLA, swiping 33 bases.

THE 1990s – 331-282-1 (.540)

1990 – 41-26, 14-16 Pac-10 (4th Place)

A season full of surprises, UCLA's 1990 campaign marked just the fourth 40-win season in program history at the time (two since). Ranked in just one preseason poll (No. 20 by The Sporting News), UCLA compiled 41 wins, its most in one season since 1979. The Bruins finished third in the six-team Midwest Regional at Wichita State, losing to eventual regional champion Georgia Southern, 5-4, on the final day of the tournament. A starting rotation that featured Dave Zancanaro, Tim Lindsay and Pete Janicki developed into one of the top Pac-10 staffs. Zancanaro led the club with 11 wins and eliminated defending NCAA Champion Wichita State on its home field in the Midwest Regional. Lindsay led the club in starts (20), complete games (7) and innings pitched (149.0). His innings total led the Pac-10 and set a new UCLA record that would be eclipsed two years later by Janicki. One of the team's hottest pitchers down the stretch, Janicki won his final eight decisions and earned Freshman All-America honors from Baseball America.

Paul Ellis, Chris Pritchett, and Joel Wolfe formed the "Awesome Threesome." Ellis, the 1990 Pac-10 Co-Player of the Year, enjoyed a dream season by leading the nation with 29 home runs and tying the school record set by Jim Auten in 1979. He set a school record with 83 RBI, only to have that record broken one year later by Ryan McGuire. Ellis became only the second player in league history to hit at least one home run in every Pac-10 ballpark (Mike Sodders of Arizona State had done so in 1981). After the season, Ellis became the second player in school history to earn consensus All-America honors (first-team All-America from Baseball America, The Sporting News and the American Baseball Coaches Association). The ABCA named Ellis the Division I College Baseball Player of the Year.

1991 – 29-30, 13-17 Pac-10 (4th Place)

UCLA had terrific performances at the Olive Garden Classic (Kissimmee, Fla.) and the Oscar Mayer Classic (Minneapolis, Minn.). UCLA won the tournament in Florida the second week of February and finished in a three-way tie at the Oscar Mayer Classic during the final weekend in March. For the first time in program history, the Bruins swept Stanford at Sunken Diamond. Joel Wolfe helped key UCLA's offense, leading the team with a .345 batting average and 35 stolen bases, a single-season total that ranked second at the time. Chris Pritchett led UCLA with 18 home runs and 57 RBI before earning first-team All-Pac-10 accolades at the end of the season.

1992 – 37-26, 14-16 Pac-10 (3rd Place)

In a season filled with surprises, UCLA finished in a tie for third place in the Pac-10's Southern Division after having been selected to finish last (sixth) in the conference's preseason poll. Ranked in the top 25 through much of the season, UCLA closed the year with an NCAA Mid-east Regional berth at Mississippi State. In Starkville, Miss., the Bruins came within one game of reaching the College World Series. After a dropping their first game to Oklahoma, the Bruins rebounded with wins over Clemson (6-5) and Yale (8-0). The Bruins defeated host Mississippi State, 3-2, to advance to the championship game, where they were shut down by Oklahoma, 10-0. UCLA's regular-season schedule featured 34 games came against teams which advanced to the postseason. Five of six Pac-10 Southern Division teams advanced to NCAA Regionals. UCLA's offense was led by freshman All-American Mike Mitchell (.351, 12 HR, 36 RBI) and All Pac-10 selection David Roberts (.331, 85 hits, 36 SB). Veterans Ryan McGuire (.316, 14 HR, 61 RBI) and Michael Moore (.338, 8 HR, 14 SB) impressed throughout the 1992 campaign. Pete Janicki led UCLA on the mound, earning Pac-10 Pitcher of the Year accolades with a 9-4 record, 3.53 ERA and 150 strikeouts. Gabe Sollecito made an impact as a sophomore (transfer), setting a school single-season record with 12 saves.

1993 – 37-23, 17-13 Pac-10 (2nd Place)

UCLA made its third postseason trip in four years, advancing to the NCAA Central I Regional at Texas A&M. After victories over Lamar and North Carolina, the Bruins were eliminated with losses to Texas A&M and North Carolina. Consensus All-America selection and Pac-10 Player of the Year Ryan McGuire recorded a .376 batting average, totaling 26 home runs, 91 RBI, 71 runs and 14 stolen bases. On the mound, McGuire posted a 3-0 record, two saves, 29 strikeouts and a team-best 1.73 ERA in 26.0 innings. Third baseman Adam Melhuse and second baseman David Ravitz both gained All-Pac-10 honors after having banner seasons. Melhuse batted .344 with 10 home runs and 50 RBI. Ravitz hit .324 with six home runs and a team-leading 19 doubles, establishing a school single-season record with 15 doubles in Pac-10 play. Outfielder David Roberts was one of four position players to play in all 60 games, batting .296 with 28 stolen bases in 36 attempts. Staff ace Tim Kubinski led UCLA with an 11-3 record, posting a 4.03 ERA and totaling 86 strikeouts and four complete games. Jon Van Zandt served as UCLA's second starter on the weekend, leading the Bruins with five complete games, going 7-7 with a 5.70 ERA in 17 games. Gabe Sollecito split time between the bullpen and the starting rotation, finishing the season with a 4-3 record, nine saves and a 3.94 ERA.

1994 – 22-36, 11-19 Pac-10 (5th Place)

The Bruins opened the 1994 season by losing seven of their first 11 games. UCLA inched closer to respectability, going 15-14 down the stretch, including six wins in their final eight games. Senior David

Dave Roberts (1991-94) owns the single-season and career stolen bases records with 45 steals in 1994 and 109 overall.

UCLA BASEBALL HISTORY

Roberts became UCLA's career stolen bases leader (109), collecting a school single-season record with 45. Roberts led all Bruins that spring with a .353 batting average and secured All-Pac-10 Team honors for the third consecutive season. The future major league outfielder led the conference in stolen bases for a third straight year. Catcher Tim DeCinces earned Freshman All-America honors, batting .305 with six home runs, a team-best 48 RBI and 15 doubles. Junior first baseman Mike Mitchell hit at a .339 clip with a team-leading 12 home runs, 19 doubles and 46 RBI. Brian Stephenson headed the weekend rotation, going 5-5 with a 4.97 ERA in 105.0 innings.

1995 – 29-28, 12-18 Pac-10 (5th Place)

UCLA's 1995 ballclub managed just six wins in its final 17 games, eliminating the team from postseason contention. A sweep over UNLV in the season's final weekend helped push UCLA's mark above .500. Sophomore catcher Tim DeCinces led UCLA with a .315 average, 13 home runs and 51 RBI. He secured All-Pac-10 Team honors and earned second-team Smith Super Team accolades. Freshman right fielder Eric Byrnes, an All-Pac-10 Team selection and freshman All-America honoree (Baseball America, Collegiate Baseball) batted .324 with nine home runs and 18 stolen bases. Freshman first baseman and pitcher Peter Zamora was named an All-Pac-10 Team selection, hitting .295 with six home runs and 48 RBI. The top freshman two-way player belted game-winning home runs on consecutive days against Arizona (April 14, 15). Additionally, he logged a 2.76 ERA on the mound, going 3-3 with five saves. Junior third baseman Zak Ammirato finished the season riding a 19-game hitting streak. The pitching staff was led by freshman left-hander Jim Parque, who struck out 84 batters in 90 innings, placing him second in the Pac-10 in strikeouts per nine innings.

1996 – 36-28, 16-14 Pac-10 (3rd Place)

UCLA advanced farther than any West Coast ballclub in 1996, falling one game short of a trip to the College World Series. The Bruins opened the year with a preseason No. 1 ranking before rising to as high as No. 4 after a 14-6 start. UCLA opened Pac-10 play with consecutive home series wins over Stanford and California and had won four of five conference series by the end March. The Bruins opened their April slate with a sweep at California, dropped two of three games at home to Arizona and salvaged two games in a three-game set against Arizona State. A win at Nevada on the final day of the regular season snapped a five-game losing streak, and the Bruins opened the NCAA Central I Regional at the University of Texas as a No. 4 seed.

At Texas, UCLA upset the host Longhorns in both teams' regional opener with southpaw Jim Parque on the hill. The Bruins received key at-bats from third baseman Zak Ammirato and junior catcher Tim DeCinces. After dropping game two to Southwest Missouri State, UCLA rallied twice the next day with wins over Sam Houston State (10-8) and Southwest Missouri State (9-4, 10 inn.).

In the latter contest, the Bruins rallied with two runs in the eighth inning on an Ammirato homer, handing UCLA a 4-3 advantage, before Southwest Missouri State tied the contest in the ninth and loaded the bases with two outs. Junior Kevin Sheredy escaped the ninth-inning jam, and in extra innings junior outfielder Jon Heinrichs tripled home one run before DeCinces belted a grand slam. Miami upended the Bruins the following night in the Regional Final, 8-4. DeCinces caught fire in his final month as a Bruin, batting .500 (30-for-60) with nine home runs. Infielder Troy Glaus capped a memorable sophomore season with a .352 average, 16 home runs and 50 RBI before heading to the 1996 Summer Olympics in Atlanta. Parque finished the season 9-3 with a 3.72 ERA and 116 strikeouts.

1997 – 45-21-1, 19-11 Pac-10 (2nd Place) – CWS APPEARANCE

The players from UCLA's highly-regarded 1995 recruiting class all had experience under their belts, as the Bruins opened their 1997 campaign ranked No. 2 in Collegiate Baseball's preseason poll. By season's end, UCLA had advanced to the College World Series for the second time in school history (first time since 1969), setting single-season program records in wins (45, since broken), home runs (142) and runs scored (631).

UCLA's march to Omaha began with a bang – the Bruins won 20 of their first 23 games, amassing a 20-2-1 record entering the month of March. With a powerful batting lineup bolstered by juniors Troy Glaus, Eric Byrnes, Peter Zamora and Nick Theodorou and sophomore Eric Valent, UCLA slugged its way to a 19-11 Pac-10 mark, good enough for a second-place finish. After opening conference play by winning two of three games against Arizona State, UCLA swept the Hormel Foods Classic at the Metrodome (Minneapolis, Minn.), posting double-digit run total in each of three games.

The top-seeded team in the NCAA Midwest Regional, UCLA entered postseason play with a 40-18-1 record. After dropping their first game to Harvard, 7-2, the Bruins responded in grand fashion. UCLA won five elimination games by several lopsided margins. After crushing Ohio, 15-1, the Bruins edged Tennessee, 5-3. In a rematch against Harvard, UCLA won 14-9 before making a statement against host Oklahoma State on May 25. Playing at OSU's Reynolds Stadium, the Bruins punched their ticket to Omaha with a 14-2 victory in the afternoon before winning, 22-2, that evening. Valent earned NCAA Regional MVP honors after blasting six homers in six games. Theodorou was electric at the plate, going 16-for-24 with eight runs, five RBI and five walks in six games (.714 on-base percentage).

UCLA came up short in Omaha, dropping its two contests in the College World Series. In the team's opener, the Bruins overcame a late 3-1 deficit, tying the contest with two runs in the bottom of the ninth to force extra innings. Playing as the visiting team, Miami broke the tie with a four-run 12th inning to advance in the winner's bracket. Two days later, UCLA lost an elimination game to Mississippi State, 7-5. Byrnes and Theodorou each had two hits in both College World Series games.

Five Bruins earned All-America honors and seven players captured All-Pac-10 Team accolades. Glaus was named Pac-10 Player of the Year, compiling a team-best .409 average with a conference-leading 34 home runs. Glaus also established the Pac-10 single-season total bases record (227). Senior Jon Heinrichs was the top leadoff hitter in the nation, totaling 28 homers and 79 RBI. On the mound, Parque (13-2, 3.08 ERA) and sophomore Tom Jacquez (10-4, 3.06 ERA) provided one of the nation's most powerful 1-2 punches. The left-handed Zamora performed best down the stretch, finishing with a 6-2 overall mark. Junior Jake Meyer tallied eight saves, and freshman Rob Henkel recorded 49 strikeouts in 41.2 innings as UCLA's primary setup reliever. UCLA earned its first No. 1 ranking by Collegiate Baseball since 1979 and captured its first-ever No. 1 ranking by Baseball America after winning all three contests at the Hormel Foods Classic on March 2.

1998 – 24-33, 11-19 Pac-10 (5th Place)

The 1998 Bruins welcomed the top-ranked incoming class, as rated by Collegiate Baseball. Freshman pitchers accounted for 67 percent (328.2 IP) of the team's total innings, as the Bruins' weekend rotation (Ryan Carter, Chad Cislak and Paul Diaz) and the team's closer (Bobby Roe) consisted exclusively of freshmen. While the Bruins welcomed back seniors Eric Byrnes and Nick Theodorou, both key contributors to UCLA's run to the 1997 College World Series, the team managed to win just 11 of its first 33 games. Among the season's highlights included junior Eric Valent capturing Pac-10 Player of the Year honors. Valent also secured first-team All-America acclaim from four publications, totaling a team-leading 30 home runs and batting .336. Freshmen Garrett Atkins and Chase Utley each had sensation rookie campaigns in Westwood. Atkins set a school record with a 33-game hitting streak, and his .383 batting average was the highest-ever by a freshman at UCLA. Utley set the school's freshman season record with 15 home runs, and left-hander Bobby Roe set a UCLA freshman season record with seven saves.

1999 – 31-31, 13-11 Pac-10 (Tie – 3rd Place)

The Bruins' 1999 campaign began with several milestones, as head coach Gary Adams recorded his 800th career victory on Feb. 6 and his 1,000th career win on March 13. Other highlights included sophomore right-hander Jon Brandt striking out 17 batters in a loss to McNeese State (Feb. 12) and sophomore left fielder Bill Scott setting school records with four homers, 11 RBI and 17 total bases at Washington (March 30). UCLA's tide turned after the team suffered its eight straight loss at California (April 2). The next day, the Bruins won 13-10, scoring nine runs in the top of the ninth. Consecutive wins at No. 10 Arkansas (April 6, 7) and sweeps of Arizona State (April 16-18), for the first time since 1986, and Washington State (April 23-25), helped propel UCLA within striking distance of an NCAA Tournament berth.

UCLA finished the regular season tied for third place in the Pac-10, earning a berth in the NCAA Wichita Regional (first year of Super Regional format). Freshman right-hander Josh Karp pitched brilliantly in his playoff debut, and Scott homered for the seventh consecutive game (school record and tie for Pac-10 record) as UCLA beat Oklahoma State, 12-6. The next day, injured ace Jon Brandt went the distance in a 4-2 loss to host Wichita State. Forced to rematch Oklahoma State later that day, the Bruins fell to the eventual regional champs, 17-10, despite Scott's two home runs. Scott finished the season leading UCLA with a .380 batting average, 28 home runs, 86 RBI and a staggering .806 slugging percentage. Karp went 8-3 on the season with a 4.26 ERA, collecting 109 strikeouts in 107.1 innings.

THE 2000s – 298-298 (.500)

2000 – 38-26, 17-7 Pac-10 (Three-way tie – 1st Place)

In the spring of 2000, UCLA captured its first Pac-10 title since 1986 and advanced to the NCAA Super Regionals in the second year of college baseball's new postseason format. Led by Chase Utley, a three-year star at UCLA (1998-2000), totaled 53 home runs and 174 RBI for the Bruins.

UCLA BASEBALL HISTORY

All-America selections Garrett Atkins, Bill Scott, Chase Utley and Forrest Johnson, the Bruins began their 2000 campaign in grand style, as first baseman Eric Reece became the first UCLA ballplayer to hit for the cycle on Opening Day. UCLA won six of its first seven games and was ranked as high as No. 2 in the national polls.

After a slump that saw UCLA lose nine of 10 contests, the Bruins fought back to win 20 of their next 25 games. In that 25-game span, left-hander Rob Henkel set a UCLA record by striking out 16 batters in consecutive appearances (against Bradley and Harvard) to earn National Player of the Week honors. Henkel fanned a school-record 18 batters in the team's Pac-10 opener against Washington, capturing National Player of the Week honors again. The Huskies snapped UCLA's eight-game win streak, but the Bruins continued to cruise with wins in nine of their next 11 games.

UCLA continued its Pac-10 slate with a three-game series victory against USC, salvaging the second and third contests at home. In game two, UCLA routed the Trojans, 15-5, on national television (April 8). Karp pitched a three-hitter, notching a career-high 12 strikeouts. Against Arizona State (April 22), he limited the heavy-hitting Sun Devils to two hits through 7.1 innings. Utley hit two home runs to lead the Bruins, 13-3, in their only win over Arizona State. Scott drove in a team-high eight RBI against Washington State (April 30), going 4-for-6 with two homers and one triple in a 14-1 rout. UCLA belted six round-trippers against California (May 6).

After sweeping Arizona (May 13-15), UCLA secured a share of the Pac-10 title on May 19, defeating Stanford, 10-9 before a record crowd at Sunken Diamond. The Bruins scored four runs in the bottom of the seventh, tying the game (9-9) on home runs by Utley and Jim Hemming. Scott scored the game-winning run on a bases loaded wild pitch in the ninth. UCLA registered a 17-7 Pac-10 record and a share of the conference title with Stanford and Arizona State.

In postseason play, UCLA swept the Oklahoma City Regional, defeating Delaware, 13-12, in the opening game, before routing Oklahoma on back-to-back days. LSU awaited the Bruins at the NCAA Super Regionals in Baton Rouge, La., and the Tigers silenced UCLA's offense. In game one, LSU blanked the Bruins, 10-0. In the elimination game, the Bruins rallied from a 10-0 deficit, clawing to within four runs (12-8). LSU advanced to Omaha with an eventual 14-8 victory. Scott and Utley both secured first-team All-America honors, and five Bruins were named to the All-Pac-10 Team.

2001 – 30-27, 9-15 Pac-10 (7th Place)

UCLA shook off an 0-2 start in 2001 to reel off eight consecutive wins, highlighted by a 4-3 victory over No. 1 USC (Feb. 16). Before a regional television audience, junior Adam Berry smashed a game-winning, three-run home run to left with UCLA down to its final strike. The Bruins rolled through their non-conference schedule, then knocked off top-ranked Stanford at Sunken Diamond in the first game of a Pac-10 series to improve to 21-9 overall. A series win at home against Washington (April 12-14) brought UCLA back to .500 in Pac-10 play and pushed the team's overall record to 25-12. The season's turning point came in the opening game of a road trip at No. 1 Cal State Fullerton (April 18). UCLA let an eight-run lead slip away, before Cal State Fullerton claimed an 11-10 win in 14 innings. The Bruins went 0-8 on the road trip, having been swept by Kansas State and USC. UCLA broke its mid-season skid by winning the rematch with Cal State Fullerton (May 9), by a 9-3 margin for the team's third victory over a No. 1-ranked team that year. Senior Brian Baron registered a school-record .443 batting average and collected 105 hits, earning first-team All-America honors from Baseball Weekly, Collegiate Baseball and the National Collegiate Baseball Writers' Association. Junior Josh Karp led the pitching staff in victories (5), innings (80.0) and strikeouts (92), before being selected sixth overall in the first round of the 2001 MLB Draft. Sophomore Kevin Jerkens topped the Pac-10 with 31 relief appearances.

2002 – 26-35, 9-15 Pac-10 (Tie – 7th Place)

UCLA opened its 2002 season with a loss to UC Irvine's reinstated baseball program before winning two of three contests each against Gonzaga and Florida Atlantic. The series with Florida Atlantic began a five-game winning streak, including a three-game sweep at Hawaii-Hilo. UCLA won six of nine games through the first two weeks of March, including two wins at 2001 College World Series participant Tulane. Having hovered near the .500 plateau through the first 25 games, the Bruins entered a six-game skid from which they never recovered. UCLA pulled its record to 25-29 with two weeks to go in the season before closing the year 26-35. Outfielder Adam Berry and first baseman Wes Whisler led the Pac-10 with 18 home runs. In fact, Whisler set the school record for home runs in a season by a freshman. Berry was named a semifinalist for the Dick Howser Award, an honor awarded to the nation's top collegiate baseball player. A standout at the plate and on the mound in 2002, Whisler earned Pac-10 Freshman of the Year accolades and was named to Baseball America and Collegiate Baseball's All-Freshman teams. Ben Francisco (.368, 6 HR, 37 RBI) and Rashad Parker (.286, 4 HR, 14 RBI) were both selected in the 2002 MLB Draft.

Third baseman Jermaine Curtis (2006-08) helped lead UCLA to three straight postseasons for the first time in school history.

2003 – 28-31, 11-13 Pac-10 (Tie – 5th Place)

Similar to 2002, the Bruins had trouble putting together wins on a consistent basis, reaching a three-game win streak just once. After opening the year with a 17-16 mark through, UCLA never again kept its record over the .500 plateau. At the Dominos Pizza Aggie Baseball Classic, UCLA went 3-3 with a second-place finish behind host institution Texas A&M. Playing at the Kia Baseball Bash at Cal State Fullerton one week later, UCLA defeated defending national champion Texas, 13-2, before routing Tulane, 12-2, the following day. A seven-game losing streak dropped UCLA out of reach of the Pac-10 title during the first two weeks in April. The Bruins ended their skid at No. 4 Arizona State, rattling off consecutive extra-inning wins to hand the Sun Devils a Pac-10 series loss on their turf. UCLA concluded the season on a high note, as Brandon Averill hit for the cycle in the final game of the season at Washington State (May 25). Sophomore two-way player Wes Whisler earned first-team All-Pac-10 honors for the second consecutive season and was named a third-team All-America by CollegeBaseballInsider.com. Brett McMillan was honored as a Freshman All-American by Collegiate Baseball.

2004 – 35-29, 14-10 Pac-10 (Tied – 3rd Place)

UCLA earned a trip to the NCAA Tournament in 2004, the final year of head coach Gary Adams' 30-year tenure as the Bruins' skipper. The road to the postseason began with a 4-1 season-opening victory against UC Riverside before the Bruins took the first two of three games against Fresno State. The Bruins motored to an 11-3 record before opening a stretch of six straight games against ranked opponents on March 5. A series-opening win against No. 14 Texas A&M handed UCLA its seventh consecutive win before the Bruins dropped two games to the Aggies and one game each to UC Irvine and Long Beach State. In the Pac-10 season-opening series against Stanford (April 2-4), the Cardinal overpowered UCLA in the first two games, before the Bruins answered with a walk-off home run from Preston Griffin in the series finale to win, 6-5. UCLA notched non-conference victories against Pepperdine and Long Beach State and a series win at Arizona. After outscoring Washington State, 26-11, in a three-game home series and winning two of three on the road at Washington, UCLA concluded its conference slate with two road wins at Oregon State. UCLA won its final two of three games against Oregon State to close the regular season. The late-season surge pushed UCLA into the NCAA Regionals at Oklahoma City. The No. 3-seed Bruins won their first regional game, 9-1, backed by Casey Janssen's eight shutout innings (two hits, seven strikeouts) against Oklahoma on June 4. After a heartbreaking 4-3 loss to Florida, the Bruins pounded Oklahoma, 17-7, in a critical rematch on June 5. The following day, Florida ended UCLA's season with an 11-0 shutout.

2005 – 15-41, 4-20 Pac-10 (8th Place)

The 2005 season marked the start of a new era for UCLA baseball, as John Savage took over as the Bruins' head coach after spending the previous three seasons as head coach at UC Irvine. Savage replaced the retired Gary Adams, who completed his 30-year career as the Bruins' head coach with an NCAA Regional berth in 2004. Savage began to build the foundation of his program by signing the nation's fifth-best recruiting class (Nov. 2004), as ranked by Baseball America. The Bruins struggled in 2005, opening the season with a 7-4 record before losing 19 consecutive games. UCLA managed just eight wins the rest of the way. Junior Brett McMillan earned team MVP honors, batting .257 with seven home runs and 33 RBI in 56 games. Sophomore Hector Ambriz had a strong season, returning from an injury that had severely limited his opportunities in 2004. At the plate, he batted .338 with 14 doubles, 19 runs and 18 RBI in 51 games. On the mound, Ambriz led UCLA with a 3.94 ERA in 18 games (team-high 16 starts), striking out 84 batters in 105.0 innings. Sophomore Brian Schroeder led the Bruins' pitching staff with 31 appearances, totaling 48 strikeouts in 71.2 innings.

2006 – 33-25, 13-10 Pac-10 (3rd Place)

Led by junior pitchers David Huff and Hector Ambriz and aided by an influx of standout freshmen, UCLA made its second NCAA Regional appearance in three seasons. In his second year as head coach, John Savage engineered a strong turnaround as UCLA posted a 27-12 record in its final 39 regular-season contests. For the first time since 1987, UCLA won each of its home series against Pac-10 opponents. In addition, the Bruins tied a program record as 12 players were selected in the MLB Draft. After opening the year 6-9, UCLA sparked its season with a road sweep at N.C. State (March 3-5), outscoring the Wolfpack by a 22-6 margin in three games. UCLA posted one of its most dramatic victories of the season with an 11-10, extra-inning home victory against Arizona State (April 23). Trailing 8-7 in the bottom of the ninth, the Bruins tied the contest, 8-8, to force extra innings. Facing a two-run deficit in the bottom of the 10th, freshman Cody Decker slugged a two-run double and freshman Ryan Babineau clubbed the game-winning single. After dropping the series opener to USC, 8-3, at Jackie Robinson Stadium (May 12), UCLA rebounded to win the next two games and capture the season series. In the team's final home game, UCLA secured a series victory against Stanford when junior Tim Stewart belted a ninth-inning, two-out walk-off solo home run, snapping a 7-7 tie.

UCLA BASEBALL HISTORY

UCLA advanced to the NCAA Regional at Pepperdine as the No. 2 seed after having been pegged to finish eighth in the Pac-10 preseason coaches' poll. UCLA won its first game, downing UC Irvine, 3-2, before losing consecutive games to Pepperdine and Missouri on back-to-back days. In UCLA's elimination loss to Missouri, junior Tyson Brummett struck out six batters in 6.2 innings, limiting the Tigers to just two runs and five hits. Huff was selected 39th overall by the Cleveland Indians in the MLB Draft (supplemental first round selection), finishing the year 7-4 with a 2.98 ERA and 100 strikeouts in 129.2 innings. Also atop the draft boards, two-way player Josh Roenicke was selected in the 10th round of the MLB Draft by the Cincinnati Reds.

2007 – 33-28, 14-10 Pac-10 (3rd Place)

UCLA's 2007 ballclub reached the NCAA Super Regionals for the first time since 2000 after having opened Pac-10 play with its best conference start since 1924. The Bruins won just eight of their first 22 games before catching fire midway through the season. A school-record 14-run eighth inning against Pacific on March 25 not only helped UCLA overcome an 8-0 deficit, but also saw the Bruins jump start their season. Jermaine Curtis returned to the Bruins' lineup at third base the following weekend at Stanford, helping spark UCLA to an 8-1 victory in the team's Pac-10 opener. Including that win, UCLA won 17 of its first 21 games with Curtis patrolling the hot corner, including the team's first series sweep of Stanford at Sunken Diamond since 1991 – snapping a streak of 71 consecutive three-game series in which Stanford had not been swept at home (since 1997, versus Arizona State). After a home series win against Washington, UCLA recorded its first-ever three-game series sweep at USC (April 13-15). The Bruins rolled to an 8-1 Pac-10 mark by mid-April, the program's best conference start since finishing the 1924 season with a 10-0 conference record.

UCLA rolled into the postseason as the No. 2 seed at the NCAA Long Beach Regional, sweeping three games in as many days against Pepperdine, Illinois-Chicago and host Long Beach State. The pitching rotation featuring senior Tyson Brummett, sophomore Tim Murphy and freshman Gavin Brooks was electric at the Long Beach Regional, with Brummett pitching into the ninth inning on Friday and Murphy and Brooks throwing back-to-back complete games. Playing in the NCAA Super Regionals for the first time since 2000, UCLA dropped both games at Cal State Fullerton. The Bruins lost the first game, 12-2, but stepped up behind a herculean performance from Brooks in the elimination game the next night. The left-handed freshman totaled a career-high 12 strikeouts against the Titans, surrendering two runs and seven hits in eight innings. The Bruins' offense in 2007 was keyed by talented infielders Brandon Crawford, Alden Carrithers and Curtis, along with Pac-10 Freshman of the Year Gabe Cohen and the versatile Cody Decker.

UCLA earned its third consecutive postseason berth in 2008, becoming the first baseball team in school history to advance to three straight postseasons. The Bruins overcame a slow Pac-10 start to secure the No. 2 seed at the NCAA Fullerton Regional. Senior Alden Carrithers emerged as one of the Pac-10's best hitters, leading the Bruins with a .377 batting average and .484 on-base percentage. Junior Tim Murphy capped a strong three-year career as a left-handed pitcher and outfielder, leading UCLA's pitching staff with a 3.34 ERA and 111 strikeouts in 102.1 innings. The Bruins began the year ranked No. 1 in Baseball America's preseason poll. Among the season's most exciting weekends came during the first series of Pac-10 play, a three-game set at Arizona (March 27-29). The Bruins snapped a four-game skid with a 4-3 win in 10 innings in the series opener. The following night, sophomore Casey Haerther ignited his season and helped UCLA rout Arizona, 20-8, with a 7-for-7 effort. Haerther's seven hits established new Pac-10 and UCLA single-game records. After consecutive series losses to USC and Stanford, the Bruins won the final two of three games at Washington (April 25-27) to even its Pac-10 mark at 6-6. UCLA's conference record slipped to 8-10, its overall record to 25-23, after winning one game against Arizona State at home and one at Oregon State (May 9-11), leaving many pundits to question whether the Bruins' postseason chances had all but evaporated.

The Bruins responded by winning a non-conference game at UC Irvine before sweeping Washington State (May 16-18) in three games at Jackie Robinson Stadium, putting the Bruins at 29-23 with four games to play. After dropping a midweek contest at Cal State Fullerton, UCLA entered the season's final weekend at California needing to win at least two games to secure a postseason berth. Murphy hurled a complete game on Friday afternoon, striking out 10 batters in an 8-0 victory. The following day, sophomore Charles Brewer and freshman Rob Rasmussen combined to shut out California, 7-0. UCLA lost the series opener, 7-6, in heartbreaking fashion in 10 innings. Yet the series victory at California helped seal UCLA's postseason berth, as the Bruins earned a No. 2 seed at the NCAA Fullerton Regional. Murphy pitched well in the Bruins' opening regional contest, allowing two runs in 7.2 innings, as the Bruins earned a 3-2 victory in walk-off fashion in the bottom of the ninth inning over No. 3-seed Virginia. Brewer stepped up the next night, earning his team-leading ninth win as UCLA downed No. 1-seed Cal State Fullerton, 11-4. The host Titans responded with an 11-8 victory Sunday, forcing a winner-take-all contest Monday evening. In a closely-contested game, Cal State Fullerton edged the Bruins, 5-4, as UCLA stranded Murphy aboard third base in the ninth inning. Five players were selected in June's Major League Draft, highlighted by three draft selections in the first five rounds (Murphy, Crawford and Jermaine Curtis).

2009 – 27-29, 15-12 Pac-10 (Tie – 3rd Place)

UCLA finished third in the Pac-10 for the fourth straight year, but could not win enough games late in the spring to overcome a 10-game losing streak in early March. The 2009 team featured the emergence of freshman right-handers Trevor Bauer and Gerrit Cole and the resurgence of power-hitting first baseman Cody Decker. Bauer went 9-3 with a 2.99 ERA before earning National Freshman Pitcher of the Year honors from Collegiate Baseball. On a team fueled largely by its pitching, Decker provided a major spark in UCLA's lineup. He led the Pac-10 with 21 home runs, finishing his senior season as UCLA's leader in RBI (53), runs (55), slugging percentage (.683), walks (36) and total bases (136). After opening the season with a 2-10 record, UCLA was able to climb back to the .500 plateau by May 3, evening its record at 22-22. UCLA entered the final week of the season with a 26-26 record, looking to finish above the .500 plateau to stand a chance at postseason eligibility. The Bruins went 1-4 that week, finished their campaign 26-29, and missed the postseason for the first time since 2005. Decker became UCLA's first two-time all-conference team selection since Wes Whisler (2002, 2003). Meanwhile, Bauer and Cole were two of the conference's three freshmen to earn All-Pac-10 Team acclaim. UCLA had eight players selected in the 2009 MLB Draft, led by fifth-round selection Casey Haerther.

A three-year starter in center field for UCLA (2010-12), Beau Amaral batted .333 in 24 career postseason games, scoring 20 runs while going 33-for-99 at the plate.

THE 2010s – 398-210-1 (.655)

2010 – 51-17, 18-9 Pac-10 (2nd Place) – CWS RUNNER-UP

UCLA set the school record for wins in 2010 (going 51-17) advancing to the finals of the College World Series for the first time in program history. Making their third trip to the College World Series, UCLA established a program record with 43 regular-season wins and hosted postseason action for the first time since 1986. UCLA opened the 2010 season with a school-record 22-game winning streak, anchored by talented sophomore right-handers Gerrit Cole and Trevor Bauer. UCLA was firing on all cylinders throughout the first half of the season, losing their first weekend series to Oregon the weekend of April 16-18. Two weeks later in a critical three-game home series against Arizona State, the Bruins were swept. UCLA responded over the following three weeks by sweeping their next three Pac-10 series, winning 13 of their final 16 regular-season games.

Among the most memorable highlights came in the series finale against USC. With two outs in the ninth inning, Brett Krill drew a two-out walk before Cody Keefer belted a walk-off home run to right field, helping UCLA secure its second series sweep of USC since 2007. UCLA advanced to the postseason as the host of the NCAA Los Angeles Regional and the No. 6-overall national seed. The Bruins swept their NCAA Regional field with consecutive wins against Kent State, defending national champion LSU and UC Irvine, advancing to the NCAA Super Regionals for the first time since 2007. UCLA dropped Game 1 at home to Cal State Fullerton, 4-3, but responded in thrilling fashion the next night. Trailing 6-5 as the designated visiting team with two outs and nobody on base in the top of the ninth, Blair Dunlap drew a walk before Tyler Rahmatulla drilled a two-run homer to left-center field, giving UCLA a 7-6 lead. The Titans tied the game, 7-7, in the ninth inning before UCLA added four runs in the 10th and held on for the win. Rob Rasmussen threw a complete game the following night, leading UCLA to an 8-1 win and the program's first berth in the College World Series since 1997.

UCLA entered the College World Series as one of just three remaining national seeds to qualify for the final eight-team field. Bauer helped the Bruins defeated No. 4-national seed Florida, 11-3, in UCLA's opening CWS game. The sophomore surrendered three runs and six hits in seven innings, totaling 11 strikeouts, to help UCLA record its first-ever win at the College World Series. Two nights later, Cole registered 13 strikeouts in a 6-3 win over TCU. In that victory, UCLA received home runs from freshmen Cody Regis and Jeff Gelalich in the third inning to open a 5-0 cushion. TCU inched closer with a two-out, bases-clearing triple by Taylor Featherston, but Cole kept the Horned Frogs at bay, striking out Aaron Schultz to end the seventh inning and adding two more strikeouts in the eighth. UCLA's 2-0 start at the College World Series gave the team three days off before their next game. TCU left-hander Matt Purke stifled UCLA on June 25, leading the Horned Frogs past the Bruins, 6-2. Bauer stepped up for UCLA on an extremely hot afternoon the next day, helping UCLA outlast TCU by a 10-3 margin and advance to the College World Series finals (best of three series). Bauer struck out 13 batters and walked two in eight innings.

The Bruins fell short in the best-of-three championship series against South Carolina. UCLA's offense produced one run and three hits in a 7-1 loss in Game 1 on June 28. Cole allowed six runs (four earned) and 11 hits in seven innings and was tagged with the loss. The next night, UCLA lost to South Carolina, 2-1, in 11 innings. The Bruins led 1-0 through seven frames before the Gamecocks tied the ballgame, 1-1, in the bottom of the eighth. UCLA manufactured baserunners in the ninth and 10th innings, but could not cross the plate. South Carolina's Whit Merrifield lined a game-winning, walk-off single to right field in the bottom of the 11th, as the Gamecocks captured their first-ever baseball national championship. Bauer, Regis and Beau Amaral were named to the All-Tournament Team. Sporting a 51-17 final record, UCLA had finished its season 34 games over .500, the highest total over the .500 plateau in school history. The Bruins had established school and Pac-10 records for single-season strikeouts with 700 in 618.1 innings. UCLA's pitching staff led the nation in strikeouts per nine innings (10.2), as three pitchers ranked in the top 30 in that category.

2011 – 35-24, 18-9 Pac-10 (1st Place)

UCLA secured its first outright conference title in 2011 for the first time since 1986 and witnessed the continued rise of two of its top pitchers in program history. Trevor Bauer became the first UCLA ballplayer to earn the Golden Spikes Award, and Gerrit Cole was the school's first-ever No. 1 selection in the MLB Draft (chosen by the Pittsburgh Pirates). Bauer followed Cole's selection as the No. 3 pick by the Arizona Diamondbacks. In addition, Bauer was named the National Player of the Year by both Baseball America and Louisville Slugger/Collegiate Baseball. He was unanimous first-team All-America selection and the Pac-10 Pitcher of the Year (13-2, 1.25 ERA, 203 strikeouts, 136.2 innings).

The Bruins opened the 2011 season ranked in the top five in virtually every major preseason ranking. UCLA opened its Pac-10 slate at USC the final weekend of March and won its first four conference series (USC, Washington, Washington State and Arizona). After dropping consecutive weekend series against Stanford and Oregon State, UCLA got on a roll and worked toward winning the Pac-10 Championship despite having to gain ground in the standings. During the first weekend of May, the Bruins swept a three-game series at Oregon. The Bruins won two of three games each of the next two Pac-10 weekends against California and Arizona State. In fact, UCLA traveled to Arizona State on the final weekend of the regular season trailing Oregon State by one game in the standings. The Bruins won the first two games of the series, losing on Sunday, and Oregon State was swept on the road at Oregon. UCLA had captured a one-game lead in the conference standings, won the Pac-10 title in outright fashion and was awarded a Regional host the same day.

UCLA hosted the NCAA Los Angeles Regional for the second straight season. The Bruins were upset by San Francisco, 3-0, in their Regional opener on June 3, putting the team in less than familiar territory. The following day, Bauer struck out 14 batters in his ninth consecutive complete game of the season, helping UCLA defeat No. 2-seed Fresno State, 3-1. Adam Plutko led the charge the next afternoon, scattering one hit in 7.2 scoreless innings to pick up the win as UCLA knocked off San Francisco, 4-1. That evening, the Bruins took a 3-0 lead against UC Irvine in the fifth inning before the Anteaters rallied back with two runs in the fifth and two more in the ninth. UC Irvine won the NCAA Los Angeles Regional, ending the Bruins' season at Jackie Robinson Stadium. Feeling mixed emotions, the following day (June 6) produced positive headlines for the Bruins' program, as Cole and Bauer were selected No. 1 and No. 3, respectively, in the first round MLB Draft. Cole was chosen by the Pittsburgh Pirates and Bauer was taken by the Arizona Diamondbacks. In all, UCLA had 11 players chosen in that season's draft.

2012 – 48-16, 20-10 Pac-12 (t-1st Place) – CWS APPEARANCE

For the second time in three seasons, the UCLA baseball team reached the College World Series after securing its second consecutive Pac-12 championship in 2012. UCLA tied with Arizona at 20-10 in conference games and earned back-to-back conference titles for the first time in school history after winning the Pac-12 championship outright in 2011. The Bruins also posted a 48-16 overall record, logging their third-highest single-season win total in program history.

UCLA defeated Cal State Fullerton, 8-1, on June 13, 2010, to advance to the College World Series.

The Bruins came into the season ranked in the top 20 in every major preseason ranking and boasted a plethora of experience, returning all three starting outfielders and three starting infielders. Despite the preseason hype, UCLA started slow out of the gate, dropping three of its first five games. The Bruins won their next seven games though as they headed east to Athens, Ga. to take on the ninth-ranked Georgia Bulldogs. In the first matchup on March 9, sophomore right-hander Adam Plutko threw the second complete game of his career, leading UCLA to a 2-0 shutout win over the Bulldogs. Plutko struck out 11 batters with no walks in a dominating performance. The Bruins took the next two contests and left Georgia riding a wave of momentum.

After defeating crosstown rivals USC, 7-2, in the 2012 Dodgertown Classic, the Bruins entered conference play riding an 11-game winning streak. The Pac-12 opener would prove to be a tough one for the Bruins as 11th-ranked Arizona State came to Jackie Robinson Stadium for a three-game series. In the series opener on March 16, UCLA overcame a five-run deficit to the Sun Devils and in the bottom of the ninth, got a two-out walk-off home run from Kevin Williams to defeat the Sun Devils, 6-5. Despite dropping the next game, UCLA bounced back and took home a crucial series victory over Arizona State with a 4-2 win in the second game of a doubleheader on March 18. Freshman Grant Watson limited the Sun Devils to two runs and four hits in six-plus innings of work to earn the win.

As April turned to May, UCLA continued its stellar play, taking series victories over No. 13 Purdue, Washington and California. Heading into the final series of the regular season against USC on May 25, the Bruins found themselves trailing Oregon by two games for the Pac-12 lead and Arizona by one game for second place. After defeating the Trojans 3-1 in the opener, the Bruins came back on Saturday and won again by a score of 6-5 after junior Cody Regis drew a walk-off walk in the ninth inning. Entering the final day of the season, UCLA, Oregon and Arizona all found themselves tied atop the Pac-12 standings. With Oregon losing to Oregon State and Arizona defeating Arizona State in the regular season finales, the Bruins needed a win to clinch a share of the Pac-12 Championship. UCLA would indeed find that win, defeating the Trojans, 7-6, to earn their second consecutive conference championship. Junior closer Scott Griggs picked up the victory after throwing 1.1 innings in relief.

2013 – 49-17, 21-9 Pac-12 (3rd Place) – NCAA CHAMPIONS

The Bruins won their first-ever NCAA baseball title in 2013, going a perfect 10-0 in the postseason. In his ninth season as UCLA's head coach, John Savage directed the Bruins to the College World Series for the third time in four seasons. Along the way, the Bruins set numerous individual and team records en route to the program's most historic finish in school history. UCLA posted a 49-17 overall record, marking the Bruins' second-highest single-season win total. Guided by a dynamic one-two punch on the mound with junior right-handers Adam Plutko and Nick Vander Tuig, the Bruins used a methodic, disciplined offense to advance to the finals of the College World Series, where they won two consecutive games in a best-of-three series against Mississippi State.

UCLA entered the 2013 season with preseason rankings as high as No. 2, nationally. Keyed by veteran pitchers Adam Plutko, Nick Vander Tuig, Zack Weiss and David Berg, the Bruins won 15 of their first 18 games. Heading into conference play, the Bruins won two of three games in each of their first two Pac-12 weekends. After dropping consecutive series to Arizona State and Oregon State, the Bruins went on a tear in Pac-12 action, winning their next five conference series. UCLA lost two of its final three regular-season games to Stanford, entering postseason play with a 39-17 record. For the fourth consecutive season, UCLA hosted NCAA Regional action at Jackie Robinson Stadium. Berg, a sophomore right-handed reliever, became the first ever relief pitcher to win Pac-12 Pitcher of the Year honors. In addition, shortstop Pat Valaika was chosen as the conference's Defensive Player of the Year, while Plutko and Vander Tuig also captured All-Pac-12 Team acclaim.

The Bruins won three games in as many days at the NCAA Los Angeles Regional, advancing to a best-of-three NCAA Super Regional at Cal State Fullerton. Following NCAA Regional action, the Bruins had seven players selected in the MLB Draft, with Vander Tuig, Weiss and Valaika each being selected in the top 10 rounds. Playing at Cal State Fullerton in the NCAA Super Regional round, UCLA earned a dramatic 5-3 victory in 10 innings in Game 1, with Plutko throwing seven strong innings and allowing one unearned run. Berg secured the victory in relief, pitching three innings. The following evening, UCLA used a three-run first inning to secure a 3-0 cushion and never looked back. Vander Tuig held Cal State Fullerton scoreless for 6.1 innings and UCLA won Game 2, 3-0, advancing to the College World Series for the second consecutive year and for the third time in four seasons.

Eight days after shutting out Cal State Fullerton at Goodwin Field, UCLA was back in action at the College World Series against No. 4-national seed LSU and faced one of the nation's premier pitchers in right-hander Aaron Nola. With strong pitching and timely hitting, UCLA edged LSU by a 2-1 margin, advancing to a winner's bracket game against N.C. State. Against the Tigers, UCLA capitalized on two LSU errors, while Plutko limited the opposition to one run in seven innings. In the Bruins' game against N.C. State, Vander Tuig struck out six batters in seven innings, and Berg followed with two scoreless innings to lead UCLA to a 2-1 win. Needing just one victory to advance to the CWS finals, the Bruins turned to sophomore left-hander Grant Watson, who pitched six scoreless innings as UCLA cruised to a 4-1 victory.

UCLA entered the finals of the College World Series for the second time in four seasons, facing Mississippi State. Plutko Bruins to the national championship with very strong efforts.

UCLA BASEBALL HISTORY

The talented duo combined for 14 innings, allowing one run against the Bulldogs. In Game 1, Plutko scattered one run and four hits through six innings. James Kaprielian, Weiss and Berg combined for three shutout innings in a 3-1 win. Valaika and Eric Filia each totaled two hits for the victorious Bruins, who moved one game away from winning the national title. In Game 2, Vander Tuig limited Mississippi State to five hits through eight scoreless innings, recording six strikeouts and one walk. Filia went 2-for-3 with a season-high five RBI, Berg pitched a scoreless ninth inning, and the Bruins claimed the NCAA Championship with an 8-0 shutout.

2014 – 25-30-1, 12-18 Pac-12 (9th Place)

The Bruins fought through a challenging 2014 campaign, unable to overcome several season-long injuries after having won the NCAA Championship the previous summer. Backed by staff ace James Kaprielian, an All-Pac-12 Team selection, UCLA opened its season with 16 wins in its first 24 games. After opening Pac-12 action with consecutive weekend series victories against California and Washington State, the Bruins won two Pac-12 weekend series the rest of the way (at Utah and at Washington). Kaprielian was among the bright spots for UCLA in 2014, going 7-6 with a Pac-12-leading 108 strikeouts in a team-leading 106 innings. Kaprielian, along with catcher Shane Zeile and veteran relief pitcher David Berg captured All-Pac-12 Team honors at the end of the regular season. UCLA had four players, including Zeile and Berg, who were selected in the 2014 MLB Draft. Left-handed reliever Max Schuh, a seventh-round draft selection by the Baltimore Orioles, led UCLA with 37 pitching appearances. UCLA's 2014 campaign featured the nation's fourth-most difficult strength of schedule (as rated by Baseball Reference), marking the ninth consecutive year in which UCLA faced a "top five" strength of schedule. Zeile led UCLA's offense with a .324 batting average and 28 RBI.

2015 – 45-16, 22-8 Pac-12 (1st Place)

After missing the postseason in 2014, the UCLA Baseball team came storming back in 2015 to win the Pac-12 Conference crown and earn the school's first ever number one overall seed in the NCAA Tournament. The Bruins went 45-16 and set a new school-record for conference wins, going 22-8 in Pac-12 play. Despite being eliminated from the postseason in the Los Angeles Regional, it was a successful campaign for John Savage who earned his first ever Pac-12 Coach of the Year award. Senior closer David Berg had another record setting season, capturing his second NCBWA Stopper of the Year award and second Pac-12 Pitcher of the Year award. Berg's 0.68 ERA was a single-season school record and his 43 appearances pushed his career total to 175, an NCAA career record.

UCLA began the season ranked as high as four in the national rankings and proved it belonged by going 11-1 over its first 12 contests, including two road victories over North Carolina. After the 2-1 series victory over the top-15 ranked Tar Heels, the Bruins returned home and took care of business on their home field, reeling off five-straight victories leading in to the annual Dodger Stadium College Baseball Classic.

The Bruins would get a rude awakening in the Dodger Stadium College Baseball Classic in March, dropping all three contests to Vanderbilt, TCU and cross-town rival USC. After starting the season hot, the team confidence was seemingly in doubt after a tough weekend on the national stage. UCLA bounced back to win two of its next three and a crucial Trent Chatterton sacrifice-fly in the 13th inning sparked a run. The sac-fly earned the Bruins a 5-4 win in the series finale with Washington and began a season-high eight game win streak heading into April.

Once April arrived, UCLA continued to play consistent baseball, taking two of three from California, Oregon State, Stanford and USC, further solidifying its hold on first place in the conference. The Bruins would sprinkle in a few midweek wins and found themselves with a strong 31-10 record heading into the final month of the season.

UCLA won three of its next four and headed to Arizona State for an exciting three-game set. After taking game one, the Bruins and Sun Devils played a marathon 17-inning contest which saw UCLA come out on top, 11-5. The Bruins continued to play strong baseball from there, but dropped two of three to Oregon on the road in the final series of the regular season.

The Bruins earned the number one overall seed in the NCAA Tournament and hosted the Los Angeles Regional which also featured (2) Ole Miss, (3) Maryland and (4) Cal State Bakersfield. Despite a spectacular regular season, the Bruins quest to reach Omaha ended early after they fell to the Maryland Terrapins in the fifth and final game of the Regional. UCLA moved a runner to third base with two outs in the ninth down by just one run, but a strikeout closed the door on the 2015 season.

2016 – 25-31, 12-18 Pac-12 (10th Place)

The Bruins missed the postseason for just the third time in the past 11 seasons in 2016, finishing with an overall mark of 25-31. However, it was a year full of milestones for Savage who recorded both his 400th career win at UCLA and 500th career win as a Division I head coach. Savage's 400th win in Westwood came in dramatic fashion as UCLA topped crosstown rival USC in Dodger Stadium in a 14 inning thriller. Individually, first-year pitcher Kyle Molnar was named a Louisville Slugger Freshman All-American, after finishing second in the Pac-12 among freshman in strikeouts, and senior outfielder Eric Filia earned All-Pac-12 honors. Additionally, five Bruins were selected in the MLB Draft, highlighted by Grant Dyer (227th pick, eighth round) who became the 30th player under Savage to be selected in the first 10 rounds.

2017 – 30-27, 19-11 Pac-12 (3rd Place)

In 2017, UCLA made its ninth postseason in the last 12 seasons and second in the last three years after earning a berth into the Long Beach Regional and finished with an overall record of 30-27. The Bruins finished third in the Pac-12 with a record of 19-11 after earning a road sweep at crosstown rival USC and also taking two out of three at both Stanford and Oregon. The season came to a heartbreaking end in the regional after dropping a tough opening game to Texas, 3-2, and then being eliminated in a thrilling 13-inning affair, 3-2, to San Diego State.

UCLA continued its success on the mound as the team was ranked in the top-30 in the country in ERA, shutouts, hits allowed per nine innings and WHIP. The pitching staff was led by All-American and All-Pac-12 selection Griffin Canning and also All-Pac-12 team honoree Jon Olsen. Offensively, UCLA was led by All-Pac-12 selection Sean Bouchard and Freshman All-Americans Kyle Cuellar and Michael Toglia. The Bruins were one of only four teams in 2017 to defeat No. 1 Oregon State in the regular season, earning a 7-1 victory on ESPNU. Additionally, six Bruins were selected in the MLB Draft, highlighted by Griffin Canning (47th pick, second round) and Sean Bouchard (266th pick, ninth round) as Savage now has 32 players selected in the first 10 rounds. Canning also became the sixth UCLA pitcher since 2005 to be drafted in the first two rounds.

2018 – 38-21, 19-11 Pac-12 (4th Place)

The 2018 campaign was another successful one for UCLA, which went 38-21 and returned to the postseason as a No. 2 seed in the Minnesota Regional. The Bruins' 38 wins were the most since 2015, and it marked the fifth time since 2010 that UCLA reached the 38-win threshold.

The Bruins won their opening game of regionals, taking down Gonzaga 6-5. UCLA's next contest was a heartbreaker, falling to host Minnesota 3-2 in 10 innings. The Bruins bounced back to eliminate Gonzaga and advance to the regional final before falling again to Minnesota.

UCLA's offense was led by a trio of sophomore breakout seasons. Chase Strumpf hit a team-high .363 and flashed elite power with 12 home runs en route to All-America honors. Michael Toglia batted .336 and successfully converted to full-time first base duties. Corner outfielder Jeremy Ydens batted .350 for the year including a team-best .406 in league play. Jake Bird (7-4, 2.18) and Ryan Garcia (8-1, 2.23 ERA) finished 1-2 in the Pac-12 in ERA while Zach Pettway (8-4, 3.35) and Holden Powell (29 apps, 3.35) garnered Freshman All-America acclaim.

A quartet of Bruins were drafted, led by Bird in the fifth round to Colorado. RHP Jon Olsen (12th rd - MIN), outfielder Daniel Amaral (14th rd - PIT) and Ydens (33rd rd - ARI) were also picked, though the latter returned to school.

UCLA's 2019 was among the most successful in program history. With a 52-11 record, UCLA posted a new school standard for both overall and regular season (47) wins. In addition, the Bruins won the Pac-12 Championship en route to school records for conference wins (24) and Pac-12 winning percentage (.828). UCLA's overall winning percentage of .825 was its highest since 1924, when there were just 18 games on the schedule. The Bruins were ranked No. 1 in the country for 12 consecutive weeks, by far the longest stretch in program history.

Over the course of the season, UCLA won all 14 of its regular season series and posted an 11-0 mark in midweeks. Due to that success, the Bruins were named the No. 1 National Seed in the NCAA Tournament for the second time ever. After winning the Los Angeles Regional (featuring Baylor, LMU, and Omaha), UCLA's postseason came to a premature end after suffering a Super Regional loss to Michigan, which won the three-game set at Jackie Robinson Stadium en route to an appearance in the College World Series Championship Series. The Bruins finished the season as the national leaders in team ERA (2.60) and WHIP (1.05).

The Bruins were extremely balanced on both sides of the ball. The pitching staff was led by the two-headed monster of Ryan Garcia and Jack Ralston. Garcia posted a 10-1 record and 1.44 ERA en route to Pac-12 Pitcher of the Year and consensus First Team All-America honors, and Ralston broke out with an 11-1, 2.66 junior campaign. Closer Holden Powell (1.84 ERA, 17 saves) nailed down NCBWA Stopper of the Year honors as the lynchpin of a standout bullpen that also featured Kyle Mora (2.09 ERA, NCAA-high 47 appearances) and Nate Hadley (8-1, 2.33 ERA). The lineup featured five regulars who hit .300 or higher, and the team slashed .287/.375/.468 overall. Some of the biggest contributors included Garrett Mitchell (.349/.418/.566, school-record 12 triples), Michael Toglia (.317/.382/.624, 17 home runs),

James Kaprielian had a 2.06 career ERA over a superlative three-year career at UCLA and Ryan Kreidler (.300/.370/.502, nine home runs).

After the season, 13 Bruins were selected in the 2019 MLB Draft, tied for the most of any school nationwide (Vanderbilt) and a new UCLA record. The Bruins were the only school with a trio of players picked in the first two rounds, and tied with Arkansas for the most top-10 round picks at six. Michael Toglia (1st rd., No. 23 overall, COL) was the first Bruin off the board, followed by second round selections Ryan Garcia (TEX) and Chase Strumpf (CHC). Ryan Kreidler (4th rd., DET), Jack Ralston (7th rd., STL), and Jeremy Ydens (8th, WSH) were all day two picks.

The Bruins were off to an extremely strong start to 2020 before the season was abruptly cancelled due to the COVID-19 pandemic. UCLA won 11 straight games to open the year, ending the season with a 13-2 overall record and the No. 1 ranking in the RPI. The Bruins played their final game of the year on Mar. 8, taking down USC on the road by a score of 15-3.

Other highlight results from the season included a 3-2 victory over defending national champion Vanderbilt on Mar. 6, and a dominant performance at the Frisco College Classic tournament. In Frisco, the Bruins captured the de facto tourney title while defeating a strong field of Oklahoma State, Texas A&M, and Illinois by an aggregate score of 32-4.

As has become common during the John Savage era, UCLA had one of the strongest pitching performances in the country in 2020. The Bruins finished third in the country with a 1.88 team ERA, and led the nation in hits allowed per nine innings (4.97) and WHIP (0.87).

UCLA had a trio of players named All-Americans by Collegiate Baseball, the lone college baseball publication to release postseason honors in 2020. Friday night starter Zach Pettway (3-0, 1.05 ERA, 29 K, 1 BB) was a First Team honoree while shortstop Matt McLain (.397/.422/.621, team-high 19 RBIs) and closer Holden Powell (20 K, 0 R in 9.1 IP) were both tabbed to the Second Team.

In a shortened MLB Draft, UCLA had a pair of players selected. Outfielder Garrett Mitchell was the first off the board, going No. 20 overall to Milwaukee. His selection gave UCLA first round position player draftees in back-to-back years for the first time in program history (Michael Toglia, 2019 - Colorado). Powell was the third round selection of the Washington Nationals.

NCAA TOURNAMENT HISTORY

UCLA has made 23 NCAA Tournament appearances, including 12 in the last 16 seasons. The Bruins advanced to the College World Series three times in a four-year span (2010, 2012 and 2013), capturing the NCAA Championship in 2013. That season's trip to Omaha, Neb., marked UCLA's fifth appearance at the College World Series. UCLA's other CWS appearances came in 1969, 1997, 2010 and 2012.

As head coach, John Savage has led UCLA to the postseason in 11 of 15 seasons. He is the program's only head coach to have led UCLA to postseason appearances in four consecutive seasons (2010-13) and to the NCAA Championship (2013). He coached the Bruins to the Super Regionals in 2007, 2010, 2012, 2013, and 2019. UCLA also hosted the NCAA Los Angeles Regional (at Jackie Robinson Stadium) six times in his tenure (2010-2013, 2015, 2019). In addition, the Bruins hosted the NCAA Super Regional round in 2010, 2012, and 2019. Prior to 2010, UCLA had not hosted postseason games since 1986.

Former head coach Gary Adams made 11 trips to the NCAA Tournament, including the Bruins' 1997 appearance at the College World Series. In six games at the 1997 NCAA Midwest Regional (at Oklahoma State), the Bruins outscored their opposition, 72-24. UCLA closed the six-game stretch with five victories, routing host Oklahoma State 14-2 and 22-2 on the same day. Eric Valent earned Tournament MVP honors after blasting six home runs, while Nick Theodorou batted .667, collecting 16 hits in 24 at-bats.

UCLA ADMINISTRATORS

GENE BLOCK

CHANCELLOR • 14th Year
Alma Mater: Stanford '70

Dr. Gene Block became chancellor of UCLA in August 2007. As chief executive officer, he oversees the university's three-part mission of education, research and service.

He has defined academic excellence, civic engagement, diversity and financial security as top priorities for his administration. A champion of public universities, his dedication to access and affordability has enhanced UCLA's position as a national leader in enrolling undergraduates who are Pell Grant recipients, come from underrepresented groups and go on to become first-generation college graduates.

Under Chancellor Block's leadership, UCLA has been named the number one public university in the United States, has grown its profile internationally and receives $1 billion annually in research grants. In one of the largest capital campaigns ever undertaken by a public university, UCLA surpassed its $4.2 billion Centennial fundraising goal more than a year ahead of schedule, raising $5.49 billion total.

An expert in neuroscience, Chancellor Block's current research focuses on the effects of aging in the nervous system and how it impacts biological timing in mammals, including humans. He holds faculty appointments in psychiatry and biobehavioral sciences in the David Geffen School of Medicine at UCLA and in integrative biology and physiology in the UCLA College of Letters and Science.

Chancellor Block holds a bachelor's degree in psychology from Stanford University and a master's and Ph.D. in psychology from the University of Oregon. Before becoming chancellor of UCLA, Block served as vice president and provost of the University of Virginia, where he was also the Alumni Council Thomas Jefferson Professor of Biology. During his 29 years there, he served as vice president for research and public service and as founding director of the National Science Foundation Science and Technology Center in Biological Timing.

Chancellor Block has served on the executive boards of several leading organizations, including the Association of American Universities, National Collegiate Athletic Association, Association of Public and Land-grant Universities and the Association of Pacific Rim Universities. He is the recipient of numerous professional awards and is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Chancellor Block is a native of Monticello, N.Y. He and his wife, Carol, have two adult children.

MARTIN JARMOND

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR • 1st Year
Alma Mater: UNC-Wilmington '01

Martin Jarmond was hired on May 19, 2020 as UCLA's Alice and Nahum Lainer Family Director of Athletics, becoming the ninth athletic director in school history.

Jarmond came to UCLA from Boston College, where he served as the school's Director of Athletics for three years. During his time there, he orchestrated the Eagles' first-ever strategic plan, a comprehensive five-year goal to advance the program by fostering student-athlete formation, strengthening competitive excellence, increasing external engagement and enhancing facilities. The strategic plan was supported by BC's first-ever athletics-only capital campaign, at the time, the largest campaign of any Atlantic Coast Conference institution at $150 million. The campaign has raised $121 million to date. Among the new ventures he brought to Boston College were a student-athlete fueling station, a program for first-generation student-athletes, and a fan council focused on improving the atmosphere and fan experience.

Boston College teams enjoyed on-the-field success during his tenure, with the football team playing in a bowl game each season, the women's lacrosse team reaching the national championship game in 2018, the 2019 women's field hockey team advancing to its first Final Four, and the men's and women's hockey teams combining for three conference championships in the last two years.

Academically, Boston College continued to thrive under Jarmond's leadership. The school ranks eighth in the nation with an overall Graduation Success Rate (GSR) of 94% in all sports among Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) schools, with 12 teams scoring a perfect 100 GSR. Boston College also ranks among the highest in the nation in Academic Progress Rate (APR). Six Eagles teams recently received the NCAA APR Public Recognition Award, which is bestowed upon teams finishing in the top 10% of their respective sport, based on the multi-year APR. Included in those six was football, one of only 13 football programs at the FBS level to earn a Public Recognition Award, and one of only five to earn an award for the last three years.

Prior to joining Boston College in 2017 and becoming the youngest athletic director of any Power Five institution at age 37, Jarmond previously served as deputy director of athletics at Ohio State, moving up the ranks after arriving as an associate athletic director for development in 2009. During his time at Ohio State, he was the lead administrator for a variety of sports, including football and men's basketball, and directed external and internal relations and day-to-day operations. He also had responsibility for football scheduling, served on the NCAA Division I Women's Golf Committee, and was a member of the inaugural College Football Playoff National Championship Advisory Group and the Rose Bowl Advisory Committee. As Ohio State Athletics' chief advancement officer, Jarmond helped raise more than $120 million between 2010-2012.

Jarmond was also an assistant athletic director for development for seven years at Michigan State, where he served on the athletic director's executive leadership team. He was a key member of the $1.2 billion "Campaign for MSU" development team and a liaison between Michigan State's university development and alumni association leadership.

Jarmond recently served on the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Oversight Committee and is on the John McLendon Minority Scholarship Foundation Board of Directors. In 2017 and 2019, he was named to Sports Business Journal's Forty Under 40.

A native of Fayetteville, North Carolina, Jarmond, 40, earned a bachelor's degree in communication studies from the University of North Carolina at Wilmington. A two-year captain of the men's basketball team, he led his team to the program's first-ever NCAA tournament appearance in 2000 and earned Colonial Athletic Association All-Academic honors in 2001. He holds both a M.B.A. and a master's in sports administration from Ohio University.

Jarmond is married to Dr. Jessica Jarmond, a dentist. They have three daughters: Scarlett, Savannah and Serena.
