The Bruins return three of their top five scorers from the 2017-18 team – sophomore Kris Wilkes (13.7 ppg), sophomore Jaylen Hands (9.9 ppg) and redshirt junior Prince Ali (9.1 ppg). In fact, UCLA's program returns exactly 50.0 percent of its total scoring production from last season. Two of the team's top four rebounders from last year are back in Wilkes (4.9 rpg) and Hands (4.0 rpg). Overall, the Bruins' squad has returned 48.0 percent of its total rebounding from 2017-18. Wilkes (pictured above), who grew up in Indianapolis, Ind., was one of five players to secure Pac-12 All-Freshman Team honors last year.

STEVE ALFORD

The Michael Price Family UCLA
Men's Head Basketball Coach

Sixth Season at UCLA
28th Season, overall
Indiana '87

Steve Alford has guided UCLA to a 117-57 overall record in five seasons as The Michael Price Family Men's Head Basketball Coach, guiding the Bruins to four NCAA Tournaments and three Sweet 16 appearances (2014, 2015 and 2017). The 2018-19 season will be Alford's sixth year leading the program and his 28th season overall as a college basketball head coach.

Last season, the Bruins went 21-12 and advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the fourth time in Alford's five seasons at UCLA. After finishing in a tie for third place in the Pac-12 standings, the Bruins reached the semifinal round of the Pac-12 Tournament and secured an appearance in the NCAA Tournament's "First Four." Aaron Holiday captured first-team All-Pac-12 honors, while Thomas Welsh was honored as a second-team all-league selection.

In 2016-17, Alford helped lead UCLA to a 31-5 overall record. The Bruins advanced to the NCAA Tournament's Sweet 16 after having tied the program record for most regular-season wins (28, also accomplished in 2007-08). UCLA's team led the nation in assists per game (21.4), field goal percentage (52.2%) and assist-turnover ratio (1.91). The Bruins finished the year second, nationally, in points per game (89.8) and fourth in three-point field goal percentage (40.6%). Led by a trio of first-team All-Pac-12 performers in Lonzo Ball, T.J. Leaf and Bryce Alford, the Bruins set Pac-12 single-season team records for total assists (771) and made three-pointers (354).

Alford engineered one of the nation's most high-octane offenses in recent years in 2016-17, as UCLA ranked No. 2 in the country in adjusted offensive efficiency (per KenPom.com). Six players averaged at least 10 points per game, while five Bruins compiled assist-turnover ratios of 1.6 or better. Ball secured National Freshman of the Year honors from nearly every national publication and was named one of five finalists for the John R. Wooden Award and the Naismith Trophy (college player of the year awards).

Through five seasons at UCLA, Alford has produced 11 NBA Draft selections, including seven first-round picks. In all, the Bruins' head coach has sent 12 players from UCLA to the NBA. Most recently, Aaron Holiday and Thomas Welsh were selected in the 2018 NBA Draft.

UCLA's program had four former players selected in the 2017 NBA Draft, highlighted by Ball being chosen No. 2 by the Los Angeles Lakers and Leaf being selected No. 18 by the Indiana Pacers. Ball was the highest draft pick of any UCLA player since 1979, when David Greenwood was chosen No. 2 by the Chicago Bulls. In addition, the 2017 NBA Draft saw former UCLA big men Jonah Bolden and Ike Anigbogu selected in the second round.

Alford's first two teams at UCLA produced five NBA Draft selections. The Bruins had three first-round draft picks in 2014 (Zach LaVine, Jordan Adams and Kyle Anderson) and one first-round selection in 2015 (Kevon Looney). In addition, Norman Powell was selected in the second round of the 2015 NBA Draft, while non-drafted twin brothers Travis Wear and David Wear each earned playing time in the NBA in 2014-15 as undrafted free agents.

During his first two seasons at UCLA, Alford led the Bruins to back-to-back Sweet 16 appearances and the 2014 Pac-12 Tournament title. In his first year as the head coach (2013-14), he guided the Bruins to the Sweet 16 after UCLA won its first Pac-12 Tournament title since 2008. The Bruins produced three first-round NBA draft selections for the second time in school history (also in 1979).

Through 27 seasons as a college head coach, Alford has compiled a 580-292 (.665) overall record. He was named the 13th head coach at UCLA on March 30, 2013, after having excelled the previous six seasons at New Mexico.

Alford's 28 single-season wins in 2013-14 tied the school record for most victories by a coach in his first season at UCLA (Gene Bartow went 28-4 in 1975-76). The Bruins averaged 81.2 points per game, the program's highest scoring average since 1997-98 (83.1 ppg), and finished the season with the nation's 11th-highest scoring average. With consecutive Sweet 16 berths in his first two seasons, Alford became the fourth coach in program history to have led his first two teams to NCAA regional semifinals (also in that group are Gene Bartow, Gary Cunningham and Steve Lavin).

A four-year standout at Indiana (1984-87) and member of the Hoosiers' 1987 NCAA Championship team, Alford competed in the NBA for four seasons before embarking on his career as a collegiate head coach. He has served as a Division I head coach the past 23 years. After a four-year stint at Manchester College (1992-95), Alford coached at Missouri State (1996-99), Iowa (2000-07) and New Mexico (2008-13).

In 27 seasons, Alford's teams have qualified for the postseason 21 times, including 11 NCAA Division I Tournament berths. He has led his teams to the postseason in 16 of the last 18 seasons, reaching the 20-win plateau in 15 of 23 years at the NCAA Division I level. He has coached his teams to at least 28 wins in four of the last seven seasons and to at least 21 victories in 10 of the previous 11 years.

Alford has recorded more NCAA victories (580) as a collegiate head coach, age 53 or younger, than any other head coach in the nation. Alford, who will turn 54 on Nov. 23, 2018, began his collegiate coaching career at the age of 26 at Manchester College.

Alford guided New Mexico to postseason appearances all six years at New Mexico, including three trips to the NCAA Tournament (2010, 2012, 2013). His UNM teams won at least 22 games in each of six seasons, securing more victories (155), a higher winning percentage (.749) and more regular-season conference titles (four) than any previous New Mexico head coach after six seasons.

Alford earned Mountain West Conference Coach of the Year honors in three of the final five seasons at New Mexico (2009, 2010, 2013). Three of his UNM student-athletes secured Mountain West Player of the Year acclaim (J.R. Giddens in 2008, Darrington Hobson in 2010, and Kendall Williams in 2013).

Under Alford's direction, New Mexico won four regular season titles in five years (2009, 2010, 2012, 2013), a streak matched only by Kansas and Gonzaga. New Mexico won the conference regular season and tournament titles in 2012 and 2013, becoming one of five schools in the country to make that claim. New Mexico achieved its two highest single-season win totals with Alford at the helm (30 wins in 2012, 29 wins in 2013). Both the 2010 and 2013 teams secured No. 3-seeds in the NCAA Tournament, tying UNM's record for the highest-seeded team.

Alford's teams at New Mexico had similar success in the classroom. He graduated 12 of his 13 seniors, including all three seniors from his final team in 2012-13. New Mexico had compiled a program record 11 consecutive semesters of a 2.7 grade-point average or better through his final season in Albuquerque.

Alford arrived at New Mexico after eight seasons as the head coach at the University of Iowa (2000-07), where he compiled a 152-106 record. He helped guide the Hawkeyes to a school-record seven consecutive winning seasons in addition to six postseason appearances (three NCAA Tournaments) and two Big Ten Conference Tournament titles (2001 and 2006).

As Iowa's head coach, Alford helped engineer three seasons with 20-plus victories, highlighted by a 25-win season in 2006. Iowa's 25 victories that year are tied as the second-highest single-season win total in program history, five shy of the school-record 30 wins in 1987 under head coach Tom Davis. Alford is responsible for the Hawkeyes' two highest single-season win totals since 1987 (25 wins in 2006, 23 wins in 2001).

Prior to his service at Iowa, Alford helped engineer the most successful postseason run in school history at Missouri State University (then known to as Southwest Missouri State). His four-year tenure with the Bears was highlighted by the program's sixth NCAA Division I Tournament appearance in 1999, Missouri State's first-ever trip to the Sweet 16 in Alford's final season at the helm.

Missouri State advanced to the NCAA Division I Tournament for the sixth time in school history that year, entering the field as the East Regional's No. 13-seeded team. Missouri State defeated No. 5-seed Wisconsin (43-32) and No. 4-seed Tennessee (81-51) to advance to the Sweet 16 before losing to No. 1-seed Duke, 78-61, in regional semifinal.

Missouri State finished the season 22-11, as Alford guided the Bears to their second 20-plus win season in three years. Prior to Alford's arrival in the fall of 1995, Missouri State had not advanced to the NCAA Tournament since 1992. Alford guided Missouri State to a 24-9 record in 1997, including a second-place finish in the Missouri Valley Conference, as the Bears ended their season in the National Invitation Tournament (NIT). Missouri State's 24 victories that season marked the program's highest single-season win total since finishing 28-6 in 1987.

In 1992, Alford joined the collegiate coaching ranks at Manchester College (NCAA Division III program in North Manchester, Ind., now known as Manchester University). He took over a team that had lost its first eight games and finished with four wins in 20 contests. One year later, he led the Spartans to a 20-8 mark in his first full year (1992-93).

Alford finished his tenure at Manchester by guiding the Spartans to a 23-4 record in 1994 and to a 31-1 mark in 1995. Each of Alford's final three teams at Manchester advanced to the NCAA Division III Tournament. The Spartans went 5-1 in the NCAA Tournament in 1995, losing in the national championship contest.

Prior to his coaching career, Alford enjoyed a four-year career in the NBA. He was selected No. 26 overall in the 1987 NBA Draft by the Dallas Mavericks after his senior season at Indiana. Alford played from 1987-91 with the Dallas Mavericks and the Golden State Warriors.

A native of New Castle, Ind., Alford was a prep standout for his father, Sam Alford, at New Castle Chrysler High School. He earned Indiana's Mr. Basketball Award in 1983 after averaging 37.7 points per game as a senior.

During his collegiate career at Indiana, Alford started 120 of 125 games, helping the Hoosiers compile a 92-35 record over four seasons. Playing under head coach Bob Knight, Alford served as team captain in 1987 when Indiana went 30-4 and won the NCAA Championship. He concluded his college career as Indiana's all-time scoring leader with 2,438 points (that mark was eclipsed by Calbert Cheaney in 1992-93), became the first player to win the Indiana MVP four times and led the Hoosiers in scoring all four years. He finished his career as Indiana's all-time leader in steals (178 steals, now ranks second) and three-point field goal percentage (53.0 percent). Alford was a consensus first-team All-America selection and the Big Ten Conference's MVP as a senior (1987).

Alford earned first-team All-Big Ten honors in each of his final three seasons and also captured All-America acclaim as a junior. He was named to the NIT All-Tournament Team as a sophomore when the Hoosiers finished second to UCLA. His career free throw percentage of .897 (535-596) ranks ninth-best in NCAA history (was fourth-best when he graduated). As a freshman, Alford led the country in free throw percentage (.913, 137-150).

In 1997, Alford was inducted into the Indiana University Athletics Hall of Fame, and in 2001 he was one of 15 players selected to Indiana's All-Century Team. He was one of five players named to ESPN's Big Ten Conference Silver Anniversary Team in 2004. In the Legends of College Basketball by Sporting News, Alford was No. 35 on the list of the 100 greatest NCAA Division I college basketball players.

Following his freshman season at Indiana, Alford was selected to play for the United States basketball team at the 1984 Olympic Games in Los Angeles. He shot 64.4 percent from the field and averaged 10.3 points per game, finishing second on the team in assists as the U.S. men's team won the gold medal. The 1984 USA Olympic Team marked the last U.S. amateur squad to win the gold medal. Alford's teammates included Michael Jordan, Patrick Ewing, Sam Perkins, Chris Mullin and Wayman Tisdale.

Alford earned a bachelor's degree in business from Indiana University. He is married to the former Tanya Frost, whom he has known since the two were schoolmates in grade school in New Castle, Ind. The Alfords have three children – Kory, Bryce and Kayla. Kory graduated from UCLA in 2015 and Bryce, from UCLA in 2017.

Steve Alford led UCLA to the Pac-12 Tournament title in 2014.

DUANE BROUSSARD

Associate Head Coach
Sixth Season
Bradley '93

Duane Broussard enters his sixth season as an assistant coach at UCLA in 2018-19. He was elevated to the role of associate head coach in Oct. 2017.

Since arriving at UCLA in the spring of 2013, Broussard has helped the Bruins compile an overall record of 117-57. He has guided the Bruins to four NCAA Tournaments (2014, 2015, 2017, 2018) through five seasons, including three Sweet 16 appearances (2014, 2015, 2017). His work on the recruiting trail has seen the Bruins secure four incoming classes that have been ranked in the top five, nationally, over the past five years.

Last season, UCLA went 21-12 overall and advanced to the NCAA Tournament's "First Four" after playing in the semifinals of the Pac-12 Tournament. Aaron Holiday earned first-team All-Pac-12 honors after becoming the first Bruin to lead the league in scoring since Reggie Miller in 1985-86 and was a first-round NBA Draft selection by the Indiana Pacers.

Broussard has spent the last 10 seasons working alongside head coach Steve Alford, helping those teams advance to the NCAA Tournament seven times and secure three consecutive conference tournament crowns. During his first five seasons in Westwood, Broussard has helped UCLA send 13 players to the NBA — Jordan Adams, Kyle Anderson, Ike Anigbogu, Lonzo Ball, Jonah Bolden, Aaron Holiday, Zach LaVine, TJ Leaf, Kevon Looney, Norman Powell, David Wear, Travis Wear and Thomas Welsh.

In 2016-17, Broussard helped UCLA to a 31-5 overall record and their third Sweet 16 berth in four years. That year, UCLA tied the school record for most regular-season victories (28, also accomplished in 2007-08). The Bruins' 2016-17 team led the country in assists per game (21.4), field goal percentage (52.5%) and assist-turnover ratio (1.91). UCLA also finished the year second in the nation in points per game (89.8) and fourth in three-point field goal percentage (40.6%). Led by a trio of first-team All-Pac-12 performers in Lonzo Ball, TJ Leaf and Bryce Alford, the Bruins set Pac-12 single-season team records for total assists (771) and made three-pointers (354). In addition, the Bruins ranked No. 2, nationally, in adjusted offensive efficiency (per KenPom.com).

UCLA went 22-14 in 2014-15, advancing to the Sweet 16 for the second straight season. Powell earned first-team All-Pac-12 honors before being selected in the second round of the NBA Draft. In 2013-14, Broussard helped steer the Bruins to a 28-9 record, including the Pac-12 Tournament Championship and the program's first appearance in the Sweet 16 since 2008. The Bruins concluded that year ranking No. 11 in the nation in scoring (81.2 points per game), No. 3 in assist turnover ratio (1.7), No. 4 in steals (9.2 spg) and No. 5 in assists (17.2 apg).

Broussard arrived in Westwood in April 2013 after having spent the previous 10 seasons on the men's basketball staff at the University of New Mexico. He worked on Alford's staff the final five seasons — the last two years as an assistant coach after having served as Director of Operations for three seasons.

Through 24 seasons serving on college basketball staffs, both as an assistant coach and as the director of operations, Broussard has helped his teams to a combined .649 winning percentage (499-270). In 10 seasons on staff at New Mexico, Broussard helped the Lobos register a .655 winning percentage.

During his final two seasons coaching at New Mexico, Broussard guided the Lobos to a 57-13 record and back-to-back Mountain West Conference regular season and tournament titles. New Mexico advanced to the NCAA Tournament both years. In his five years on Alford's staff at New Mexico, the Lobos played in the postseason each year, advancing to the NCAA Tournament three times.

New Mexico became the first school in Mountain West history to secure back-to-back regular season and tournament titles. Over Alford's six seasons at UNM, the Lobos produced six players who scored at least 1,000 points and won a school-record 155 games during that stretch.

In 2012-13, New Mexico logged its second-highest win total in program history, posting a 29-6 record. Kendall Williams secured Mountain West Conference Player of the Year honors, as he finished in the top 10 in scoring in the Mountain West. As a team, New Mexico ranked No. 26 nationally in field goal percentage defense and No. 38 in scoring defense.

During his tenure as assistant coach at New Mexico, Broussard was responsible for four NBA Draft selections, all chosen in the first round — Danny Granger (2005), J.R. Giddens (2008), Darington Hobson (2010) and Tony Snell (2013). Additionally, Broussard helped the New Mexico program stay in the top-25 rankings in 16 of 18 weeks. The Lobos secured five selections on the All-Mountain West Team and produced a school record-tying 14 wins away from home.

Broussard's work with Granger was evident at Bradley and New Mexico. The 6-foot-8 forward was chosen No. 17 in the 2005 NBA Draft out of New Mexico. Granger became the first player in UNM basketball history to log at least 60 assists, 60 blocks and 60 steals in one season (2004-05) before securing Mountain West Conference Tournament MVP honors and leading the Lobos to the NCAA Tournament.

Broussard spent five seasons (2003-07) on head coach Ritchie McKay's staff at UNM. Prior to those years, he served on the coaching staff at his alma mater, Bradley University in Peoria, Ill., working as an assistant coach the final six seasons (1997-2002) under head coach Jim Molinari. In nine seasons on the staff at Bradley (1994-2002), he helped the Braves average 18 wins per year. Bradley advanced to the postseason in six of nine years, as the program graduated 19 of its 22 seniors in that span.

A four-year basketball letterwinner at Bradley (1990-93), Broussard served as the program's co-captain as a junior and senior. McKay served as an assistant coach during his final two seasons with the Braves. He capped his collegiate career in 1993 by earning the inaugural Downtown Peoria Kiwanis Club Leadership Award in recognition of his positive role-model approach to academics and community service. A native of Sugar Land, Texas, Broussard graduated from Bradley in 1993, earning degrees in criminal justice and sociology, in addition to a minor in history. He continued his education by earning a master's degree in public service administration from Bradley in 1997.

Broussard, 47, is married to the former Holly Marshall. The couple has one daughter, McKenzie, and one son, McKel.

TYUS EDNEY

Assistant Coach
Second Season
UCLA '97

Tyus Edney has spent the past eight seasons on the UCLA men's basketball staff. He served as an assistant coach with the Bruins in 2017-18 after having spent the previous seven seasons as the program's Director of Operations.

Named an assistant coach at UCLA in April 2017, Edney helped the Bruins' 2017-18 team compile a 21-12 overall record. UCLA finished the year advancing to the Pac-12 Tournament's semifinal round before playing in the NCAA Tournament's "First Four." Aaron Holiday earned first-team All-Pac-12 honors after becoming the first Bruin to lead the league in scoring since Reggie Miller in 1985-86.

Edney returned to his alma mater as the Director of Operations in August of 2010. In that role, he was primarily responsible for multiple day-to-day operations of the program and served as a liaison to the athletic administration and other university officials.

As the program's Director of Operations, UCLA made five trips to the NCAA Tournament in seven seasons, including three Sweet 16 appearances under the direction of head coach Steve Alford (2014, 2015 and 2017). The Bruins won the Pac-12 Conference regular-season title in 2013 and secured the Pac-12 Tournament crown in 2014.

Edney was a four-year basketball letterwinner at UCLA, serving as a three-year starter on the Bruins' 1992-93, 1993-94 and 1994-95 teams. He helped lead UCLA to its 11th NCAA basketball national championship in 1995. The former standout at Long Beach Poly High School was named the Most Outstanding Player in the West Regional (1995). He earned a spot in NCAA Tournament lore after his full-court dash with 4.8 seconds left to score the game-winning layup in a second-round showdown against Missouri. Edney's basket propelled No. 1-seed UCLA to a 75-74 victory and into the Sweet 16.

Edney is still ranked on numerous top-10 career record lists at UCLA. The former point guard ranks second in assists (652, 5.2 assists per game), third in steals (224, 1.8 steals per game), third in free throws made (450), seventh in free throws attempted (559) and 21st in scoring with 1,515 points (12.1 ppg).

A three-time first team All-Pac-10 selection (1993-95), Edney still owns the UCLA single-game record for steals with 11 against George Mason on Dec. 22, 1994. He secured the 1995 Frances Pomeroy Naismith Award, bestowed annual upon the nation's premier player at 6-feet and under.

Tyus Edney's Playing Career

BC Azovmash, Ukraine (2007-08)
Cajasol Sevilla, Spain (2008-09)
Turów Zgorzelec, Poland (2009)

Edney was selected by the Sacramento Kings in the second round of the 1995 NBA Draft (No. 47 overall selection). He played two seasons with the Kings (1995-97) and spent two more seasons in the NBA with the Boston Celtics (1997-98) and Indiana Pacers (2000-01). Between those seasons, Edney played for Euroleague winner BC Zalgiris, earning the Euroleague Final Four MVP title. He also played in Italy for Benetton Treviso in 1999-2000, losing in the Italian League finals and winning the Italian Cup.

Following his departure from the NBA in 2001, Edney played for several more European teams, including another stint with Benetton Treviso from 2001-04. His team won the Italian League in 2002 and 2003, the Italian Cup in 2003 and 2004, and the Italian Supercup in 2002 and 2003. Benetton Treviso played in the Euroleague final in 2003. In addition, Edney played for Lottomatica Virtus Roma in Italy in 2004-05 and then moved to Greece to play for Olympiacos in 2005-06.

During the 2006-07 season, Edney returned to Italy and compete for Fortitudo Bologna. He started the 2008-09 season with Cajasol Sevilla in Spain before moving to Turów Zgorzelec (Jan. 2009), where he ended his playing career.

Edney, 45, helped lead Long Beach Poly to the 1990 CIF Southern Section Championship during his junior season in high school. He was raised in Long Beach, Calif., and was a three-year varsity letterwinner at Long Beach Poly under former Long Beach State head coach Ron Palmer.

First Season
UAB '85

Murry Bartow joined the UCLA men's basketball coaching staff in April 2018. Bartow came to Westwood after having served on the coaching staff at the University of South Florida (USF) during the 2016-17 season. Bartow took over as USF's interim head coach midway through the year (Jan. 2017).

Previously, Bartow had served as head coach at East Tennessee State (2004-15) and UAB (1997-02). Through 18 seasons as a collegiate head coach, Bartow guided his teams to nine postseason appearances and four NCAA Tournament berths. During those 18 seasons as head coach, Bartow amassed 327 career wins.

Bartow was the head coach at East Tennessee State for 12 years (2003-04 through 2014-15). He finished with a 224-165 overall record at ETSU, becoming the second winningest head coach in program history. As head coach at East Tennessee State, Bartow led the Buccaneers to a Southern Conference title in 2004, the Atlantic Sun Conference regular-season title in 2007 and back-to-back Atlantic Sun Tournament titles in 2009 and 2010.

East Tennessee State advanced to the NCAA Tournament in 2004, 2009 and 2010 under Bartow's leadership. The Buccaneers earned their sixth postseason appearance in 11 seasons during the 2013-14 campaign, Bartow's 11th season as the program's head coach.

ETSU's 2010-11 season included a 24-win campaign, as the Buccaneers recorded their highest RPI since 2004 and won key road contests against Mississippi State and Dayton. Bartow helped the Bucs overcome the tragic preseason death of rising sophomore Seth Coy and the loss of injured senior captain Mike Smith to win the Atlantic Sun's regular-season title and advance to the NCAA Tournament. ETSU had three players who earned Atlantic Sun All-Tournament Team acclaim prior to an NCAA Tournament contest against Kentucky.

Bartow led East Tennessee State to another 20-win season in 2008-09, as the Buccaneers went 23-11 and captured the Atlantic Sun Tournament title to earn the program's eighth all-time appearance in the NCAA Tournament. In 2006-07, Bartow helped guide ETSU to one of the program's most successful seasons. The Buccaneers went 24-10 and compiled a 16-2 record in Atlantic Sun play to win the regular-season conference title. ETSU advanced to the National Invitation Tournament (NIT). For the second time in four seasons, Bartow was honored as the Atlantic Sun Coach of the Year.

During Bartow's first season at ETSU (2003-04), the Buccaneers came within one win of matching the program record for single-season victories, going 27-6 overall and finishing 15-1 in league play. The Bucs set a school record with a 16-game winning streak. ETSU finished in first place in the Southern Conference's North Division for the fourth consecutive season and won the league's regular-season title for the second time in four years. In addition, ETSU won the SoCon Tournament title for the second straight season and advanced to the NCAA Tournament.

Bartow was named the SoCon Coach of the Year in 2003-04, an award voted upon by the league's head coaches and members of the media. Three players secured first-team All-SoCon Conference honors, including league MVP Zakee Wadood and Tim Smith, the conference tournament MVP.

Prior to coaching at East Tennessee State, Bartow served as the head coach at UAB (Alabama-Birmingham) from 1996-97 through 2001-02. He helped the Blazers advance to the NCAA Tournament in 1999, before taking three teams at ETSU to the NCAA Tournament.

Overall, Bartow's teams at UAB compiled a record of 103-83, including 48 victories in Conference USA action (second only to Bob Huggins at Cincinnati during that span). The Blazers twice enjoyed 20-win seasons under Bartow and secured NIT berths in 1997 and 1998.

The son of former UCLA head coach Gene Bartow, Murry Bartow grew up around the game of basketball. His father, Gene, served as head coach at six college programs including UCLA for two seasons (1975-76, 1976-77,) before concluding his coaching career as head coach for 18 seasons at UAB (1979-96).

Murry Bartow and his late father, Gene, compiled 974 victories as head coaches (Gene with 647 and Murry with 327), which is the fifth-highest win total among father-son duos.

Murry Bartow began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Indiana (1986-87), working for head coach Bob Knight as the Hoosiers captured the 1987 NCAA Championship. He worked on Indiana's coaching staff during Steve Alford's final two seasons as a student-athlete at IU. Following his time in Bloomington, Ind., Bartow worked for two seasons (1988-89) as assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at William & Mary (Williamsburg, Va.).

Bartow served as an assistant coach under his father at UAB from 1989-96, developing a reputation as an energetic teacher and recruiter.

Bartow earned his B.A. in business administration from UAB in 1985 and his master's degree from Indiana in 1987. He played basketball at UAB from 1980-85 and was part of four NCAA Tournament teams and three Sun Belt Conference championship teams. In addition, he helped the Blazers win the 1984 Great Alaska Shootout. Bartow also competed on the men's golf team at UAB.

Born in Warrensburg, Mo., Bartow was a standout guard at W.A. Berry High School in Birmingham, Ala. He graduated from high school in 1980, having secured All-Jefferson County honors and was named his team's MVP as a senior.

Bartow, 57, is married to the former Tammy Earley. The couple met at UAB, where she was a cheerleader, and has been married for 35 years. They have three sons – Alec, Stephen and Connor – and three daughters-in-law (Kacy, married to Alec; Carrie Mae, married to Stephen; and Brooke, married to Connor). They welcomed their first grandson, Gene, in Sept. 2018 (son of Stephen and Carrie Mae).

DOUG ERICKSON

Director of Administration
27th Season
San Jose State '90

Doug Erickson enters his 27th year with the UCLA men's basketball program.

As the Director of Basketball Administration, Erickson is responsible for all internal operations of the basketball program and serves as a liaison between the coaches and department administrators. He is involved in the day-to-day operations of the team, including finance, travel, meals, ticketing, housing, financial aid and parking.

Erickson organizes and serves as co-director of the UCLA basketball camps each summer. He helps coordinate every aspect of the camp including housing, meals and camp speakers.

During Erickson's tenure at UCLA, the Bruins have made 21 appearances in the NCAA Tournament, including four trips to the NCAA Final Four. He was a member of the staff when UCLA won the 1995 NCAA Championship. In addition, UCLA has captured seven Pac-12 regular-season titles and three Pac-12 Tournament championships.

Erickson joined the Bruins' staff in 1992 after serving as an accountant for two years at Cadence Design Systems, a leading semiconductor company in San Jose, Calif.

A native of Eureka, Calif., Erickson played four years of basketball and graduated from Eureka High School. In 2013, he was inducted into the high school's athletic Hall of Fame.

Erickson earned a bachelor's degree in economics at San Jose State in 1990. His career was shaped by his family, where all six members played basketball at one time or another.

WES LONG

Athletic Performance
10th Year
Texas '03

Wes Long begins his 10th season as the men's basketball program's athletic performance coach. He returned to UCLA in May 2013 after having spent the previous two seasons as Director of Player Development/Strength and Conditioning at the University of Wyoming.

Prior to his stint at Wyoming, Long served as the athletic performance coach for the UCLA men's and women's basketball teams for four seasons (2007-11). In his previous nine seasons at UCLA, the Bruins have advanced to the NCAA Tournament eight times, including five trips to the Sweet 16 and one trip to the NCAA Final Four (2008). In his first season at UCLA (2007-08), the Bruins earned their third straight trip to the Final Four after winning the Pac-10 regular-season and tournament titles. During the past five years, Long has played a major role in helping advance to the Sweet 16 three times.

Prior to his first stint at UCLA, Long spent four seasons at his alma mater, the University of Texas at Austin. During his time from 2004-07, he served as a men's basketball graduate manager assisting with the strength and conditioning program and with the video coordinator.

A Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist from the National Strength and Conditioning Association, Long earned his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Texas. He received his bachelor's degree in advertising in 2003 and his master's degree in kinesiology in 2005.

Long and his wife, Kristin, have three children – one son, Chasen (8), and two daughters, Brinley (6) and Haven (4).

KORY BARNETT

Director of Operations
6th Season
Indiana '12

Kory Barnett enters his sixth year on the UCLA men's basketball staff, currently in his second season as the program's Director of Operations. He arrived in Westwood in May 2013 when he served as the program's video coordinator.

In five seasons at UCLA, Barnett has been a part of four teams that have advanced to the NCAA Tournament (2013, 2014, 2015 and 2017). In addition, three of those teams earned berths in the NCAA Tournament's Sweet 16 (2014, 2015 and 2017).

As the program's Director of Operations, Barnett assists with day-to-day logistics and coordination of student-athlete scheduling. He serves as a liaison between the coaching staff and athletic department staff members, including community relations and special event outreach. Barnett, who joined the staff as the video coordinator in 2013, still plays a role in helping to organize and formulate game plans and scouting reports, in addition to working with film breakdown and player development edits.

Barnett spent the 2012-13 season on the men's basketball staff at his alma mater, Indiana University, serving as a graduate assistant. He earned his degree in sports communication from Indiana in 2012 after playing on the men's basketball team for four seasons (2009-12). A native of Rochester, Ind., Barnett helped lead the Hoosiers to the Sweet 16 as a senior, the first postseason appearance for Indiana since 2008. He played in 48 games over four seasons and was a three-time Academic All-Big Ten Conference honoree. He received the team's Big Ten Sportsmanship nomination following his junior year.

KORY ALFORD

Video & Analytics Coordinator
4th Season
UCLA '15

Kory Alford begins his fourth season on the UCLA men's basketball staff as the program's video and analytics coordinator.

Alford assists with film breakdown, shooting footage at all team practices and compiling player development edits. Over the last four years, he has organized in-depth statistical data to better assess player performance and in-game strategy. In his current role, Alford has taken a strong interest in advanced analytics, crafting that information as a tool to help UCLA's program in its day-to-day preparation.

Prior to joining the men's basketball staff in the fall of 2015, Alford played four years of college basketball, including his final two seasons at UCLA. Over the course of four seasons, he helped his teams advance to four NCAA Tournaments and consecutive Sweet 16 appearances in 2014 and 2015 at UCLA. He spent his first two seasons at the University of New Mexico.

Between his time at UCLA and New Mexico, Alford's teams won three conference tournament titles and two conference regular-season crowns. He played in 34 games during three seasons, including 24 games during his two-year career at UCLA.

Alford graduated from UCLA in June 2015 with a degree in sociology. He and his wife, Haley, reside in Los Angeles.
