■ Last year's ace in the circle, Schwartz starts her senior season pitch 14.2 innings in opening weekend including a 2-0 record with one start and 14 strikeouts. Last season, Schwartz pitched a team high 156.2 innings, good for fourth in the Big Ten.

7 - CHRISTAANA ANGELOPULOS

■ Catching for the Badgers, expect to see Angelopulos provide good lefty power for Wisconsin while directing the field from behind the plate. The Arvada, Colorado native is a red-shirt sophomore coming into a starting role for Coach Healy.

10 - FIONA GIRARDOT

■ As 2021's batting average leader (.324), Girardot drew eight walks in opening weekend, batting in the top half of the lineup while playing both corners for Wisconsin. A leader, the junior has started all six games so far this season.

12 - KAYLA KONWENT

■ 2019 Big Ten player of the year Kayla Konwent returns for her senior year of eligibility after taking two years off from collegiate softball in 2020 and 2021. Playing in five of the six games in Leesburg, Konwent finished 5-16 from the plate.

13 - ALLY MIKLESH

■ Senior center fielder and stolen bases leader (19) from last season, Miklesh is a Wisconsin native that has started every game she's ever played for Wisconsin (124-124). A lefty power slapper, Miklesh has the versatility and speed to reach base consistently for Wisconsin with a career OB% of .341.

21 - ELLIE HUBBARD

■ An emerging freshman for UW, Hubbard had five hits last weekend for Wisconsin while rotating between middle infield positions.

24 - LAUREN FOSTER

■ Wisconsin's fifth year shortstop will look to make her season debut in Clearwater after not traveling with the team last weekend due to injury.

25 - AVA JUSTMAN

■ Justman got all three starts against ranked opponents last weekend as an emerging power in the circle for the Badgers entering her sophomore season.

ALWAYS LOOKING 'FORWARD'

- Wisconsin has advanced to the NCAA Tournament five of the last seven full seasons (2019, 2018, 2017, 2014, 2013) showing great success in the postseason, advancing to the Regional Championship in four of their five most recent NCAA tournament appearances – including beating Oklahoma at home to break its home win streak during the 2019 regional round.
- Wisconsin Softball wins big games in the post season, with 10 NCAA wins in its last five NCAA appearances including showing great late-game stamina, posting walk-off wins against Notre Dame in 2019 and Michigan in 2017.

BACK IN THE NORM

- 2022 will serve as Wisconsin's first "normally scheduled season" since the beginning of the COVID-19 pandemic.
- With 2020's season cancelled early and the 2021 season consisting of only Big Ten opponents, the Badgers are ready to get back into the swing of things with some fresh venues and fresh opponents in the 2022 season.

THE KONWENT COMEBACK

- Earlier this spring, 2019 Big Ten Player of the Year and First Team All-American, Kayla Konwent announced her return to the Badgers ahead of the 2022 season.
- In 2020, Konwent finished her undergraduate degree while volunteering on campus, hosting team bible studies for Athletes in Action, coaching youth softball and growing the game throughout the state.
- She returns back for her senior year of eligibility as one of the most decorated Badger softball players in history.

RECAPING LAST SEASON

- In last season's conference-only play, the Badgers finished 18-22 overall in the Big Ten, squaring up with all other 13 teams in the Big Ten in the same season, a feat not usually asked of.
- Starting later than a usual season, Wisconsin spent two weekends in Leesburg, Florida playing conference games.
- Finally in the month of February, the Badger were able to return home to Goodman Diamond for the first time since 2019 to play on their home field.
- Being a young Badger team, only six players on last season roster had played a game at Goodman Diamond before Wisconsin's home opener last season.
- Wisconsin boasted wins over Penn State, Maryland, Ohio State, Illinois, Iowa, Rutgers, Nebraska, Michigan State and Purdue.
- The Big Ten did not host a conference tournament last season as the Badgers finished ninth overall in conference standings.

2022 PREVIEW

- Looking ahead to the new season, Wisconsin prepares for a stacked non-conference lineup and a competitive Big Ten season.
- Non-conference opponents coming up for Wisconsin include opening its season against the No. 19 Kentucky Wildcats. Wisconsin will also see super-regional names like No. 13 Virginia Tech, and No. 11 Missouri in its opening weekend. Then the Badgers will face off against UCF and Notre Dame, who are both currently receiving votes in the rankings, No. 15 Clemson, and No. 3 UCLA in their second weekend of the regular season at the ESPN St. Pete Elite Invitational.

- The Badgers are slated to open up their Big Ten season on the road at Iowa, March 25-27.
- From there, Wisconsin will travel to a successful Minnesota (RV) team for a Border Battle double header on April 20 and then cap off its regular season by hosting the defending Big Ten Regular season Champions in the No. 16 Michigan Wolverines for a May series in Madison from the 4-6th.

NEWEST BADGERS

- Wisconsin welcomes eight new Badgers to the program in 2022 in Grace O'Brien, Kate Linkletter, Brooke Kuffel, Molly Schlosser, Ellie Hubbard, Larissa Ortiz Marytherese nevin and Eden Dempsey.
- This is Wisconsin's biggest freshman class since the 2013 season where the Badgers also boasted eight frosh on their opening weekend roster.

WALK-ON'S WIN AT WISCONSIN

- Built around Wisconsin's recently retired AD, and Hall of Fame football coach, Barry Alvarez's blueprint, find the best athletes in the state of Wisconsin and across the country, bring them in as walk-on's to earn a top 10 nationally ranked academic degree, and build them into scholarship starters, Wisconsin softball holds the same mentality a part of its program.
- Current walk-ons turned scholarship players: Maddie Schwartz, Ally Miklesh, and Megan Donahue.
- Current walk-on's: Ellie, Hubbard, Molly Schlosser, Eden Dempsey

BORN AND RAISED BADGER

- The heart and soul of our program is built on Midwest athletes that love the Badgers, and love the Big Ten.
- Wisconsin has always been a program to recruit hometown talent. When asked "Why Wisconsin?", freshman Eden Dempsey said "it's every Wisconsin kid's dream."
- Current Wisconsin women on the roster: Megan Donahue, Morgan Kummer, Grace O'Brien, Alyssa McClelland, Kayla Konwent, Ally Miklesh, Lauren Foster, Molly Schlosser, Eden Dempsey.

THE CHICAGO CONNECTION

- Both Coach Healy (1999) and Coach Verdun (2014) graduated from DePaul University where they were both Academic and Athletic All-Americans. Coach Healy helped lead the DePaul Blue Demons to their first World Series in 1999 helping the mid-major team to a final four finish.
- Coach Zymkowitz was an All-American second-baseman at the University of Illinois (2011), before playing professionally for the Chicago Bandits for 6 seasons, winning three World Championships with the Bandits (2011, 2015, 2016).
- The Chicago connection on staff runs deep, besides being avid Chicago Cubs and Chicago Bears fans, the Wisconsin softball staff has recruited numerous successful Chicagoland athletes to the Badgers
- Current Chicagoland Wisconsin Softball Badgers: Fiona Girardot-All- Big Ten (Oak Park, IL), Brooke Kuffel (Crystal Lake, IL), Ellie Hubbard (Wheaton, IL), Peyton Bannon Freshmen All-Big Ten (Spring Grove, IL), Gabby Alotobelli (Tinley Park, IL), Larissa Ortiz, (Romeoville, IL), MaryTherese Nevin (Orland Park, IL)

HEAD COACH YVETTE HEALY

Yvette Healy enters her 12th season at the helm of the program with the highest winning percentage of any UW coach in the program's 26-year history with a .605 winning percentage (332-216-1). UW advanced to the NCAA tournament in 2019, marking the program's third-straight appearance and the first time the program advanced to three-straight NCAA appearances. UW finished fifth in the Big Ten Conference. Kayla Konwent became the Badger to earn Big Ten Player of the Year honors and was also the program's first first-team All-American.

For the second year in a row, Wisconsin earned a bid to the NCAA Tournament in 2018. The Badgers finished seventh in the Big Ten with an 11-9 conference record, highlighted by the program's first-ever series sweep of Nebraska. Healy collected her 250th-career win at Wisconsin on April 22, 2018. With a 35-17 record in 2017, Wisconsin reached the NCAA Tournament and playing for the regional championship for the third time in five years. The Badgers started the season with seven-straight wins, the best start in program history, and went on to record a program-best 13-game road win streak from Feb. 25 to March 25, 2017. Healy secured her fifth season with 30-or-more wins with the Badgers, the most of any UW softball coach. The team topped the record books in RBI (250) and walks (212) while ranking in the top-10 for several categories.

Under her tutelage, Chloe Miller became the program's first-ever NFCA All-American, the first USA Softball Collegiate Player of the Year finalist, and the second-ever NFCA Player of the Week and NPF Draft pick (No. 11, Akron). In her senior year, Miller became the program's all-time leader in career multi-RBI games (53), career RBI (181), career home runs (31), and runs (145), ranking second all-time with 215 career hits and 57 career multi-hit games.

Healy's 2016 squad faced nine top-25 teams, securing a 5-3-1 record against its ranked foes. The Badgers batted in 244 runs in 2016, just three RBI shy of the all-time season record, while tallying the third-most runs (265) and walks (196) all-time. Senior Taylor-Paige Stewart single-handedly achieved four saves on the mound, tying the program's team season record.

Wisconsin has had a total of 12 first-team All-Big Ten selections in program history with 10 of those coming in the Healy era. Kelsey Jenkins, who earned back-to-back first-team All-Big Ten accolades in 2015 and 2016 and again in 2018, was the first freshman in UW history to collect the honor. Healy has helped her players seen just as much success off the field as she has on the field. The Badgers have received a total of 44 combined Academic All-Big Ten recognitions in the last seven seasons. The 2016 senior class recorded 129 wins in four seasons, the third-most wins by any Wisconsin class, while the 2015 senior class went down as the second-winning class in school history with 135 victories. In the last six seasons, Wisconsin has had four 30-plus win seasons after only previously having five 30-plus win campaigns in 15 seasons.

In 2015, the Badgers clinched the highest season on-base percentage (.389) in school history and claimed the Wisconsin single-season walks record (176). The season also the season record for stolen bases shattered (118 stolen bases) along with setting the highest single-season batting average (.296). Healy entered the 2015 season having led the team to its second consecutive NCAA Regional Championship. Healy directed the team to the NCAA tournament in back-to-back seasons, which had only been done once before by UW in 2001 and 2002 and only a total of three times in the history of the program.

At the end of the 2014 season, the Badgers finished in two final national polls for just the fourth time in the program's 19-year history and the second consecutive year. UW came in at No. 24 in the ESPN.com/USA Softball Top 25 and received votes in the USA Today/NFCA Top 25 for the eighth time in the season. Wisconsin finished the 2014 season at No. 32 in the NCAA Softball Ratings Percentage Index (RPI), after facing nine of the 31 teams who posted a higher RPI ranking. The 2014 season boasted the second-highest win total (36) in school history. The Badgers defeated six ranked opponents and tied with the 1997 team for the most top-25 wins in a season. UW won four NCAA tournament games over the last three seasons, having won one in the program's first 19 years of existence. For just the second time in program history, the team achieved a pair of NCAA tournament wins matching their run in 2013.

The conclusion of the 2014 season marked the end of incredible careers for Cassandra Darrah, Mary Massei, Michelle Mueller and Stephanie Peace. Under Healy, the senior class went down in the history books as the most winningest class in UW history at 144-75.

The 2007 Horizon League Coach of the Year, Healy guided the Loyola (Ill.) Ramblers to a top-four conference finish in every season she was at the helm. She has coached four NFCA All-Mideast Region players over the last four seasons, and the team set the single-season school record for batting average (.292) in 2010. Healy's team also set single-season Loyola records for stolen bases (116) and home runs (37) in 2009.

As Healy was winning coach of the year honors in the Horizon League in 2007, the team was capturing the conference title with a 14-5 record. Pitcher Amy Solava was also named the league's pitcher of the year, just the third player in school history to earn the award.

Off the field, Healy was instrumental in the team's community service participation. She was a part of numerous campaigns to give back, including the Strike Out Cancer Fundraiser for the Susan G. Komen Foundation. Healy's teams have also excelled in the classroom. The 2010 team was the recipient of the 2010 NCAA Academic Performance Program APR Award, while nine players in her time were named Academic All-District by ESPN The Magazine and 25 were chosen as Scholar Athletes by the National Fastpitch Coaches Association.

She took over as head coach at Loyola in July of 2004 after spending two seasons as an assistant at her alma mater, DePaul. While with the Blue Demons, Healy coached five All-Americans as the team won the Conference USA title in 2003 and 2004 to make the NCAA tournament.

A two-time All-American and three-time Academic All-American as a player, Healy ranks second on the DePaul single-season chart with a .424 batting average and is the school's all-time leader with 102 stolen bases. In her senior campaign in 1999, Healy led the Blue Demons to a school-record 54 victories, an NCAA Regional Championship and the College World Series as the team wrapped up the year ranked third in the nation. She earned All-Mideast Region honors on three occasions as well. Prior to her collegiate coaching career, Healy worked for the Chicago Bulls and Chicago White Sox Academy as Director of Marketing. She also served as head softball coach at her alma mater Providence Catholic High School, where she was the salutatorian at her graduation in 1995. Healy graduated cum laude and earned her bachelor's degree in marketing and communications from DePaul in 1999 and her master's in secondary education and English from DePaul in 2007. She and her husband Shawn have been married since 2006. They currently reside in Madison with their two daughters, Grace and Maeve.

GOODMAN SOFTBALL COMPLEX

Located on beautiful Lake Mendota, the Irwin A. and Robert D. Goodman Softball Complex offers the University of Wisconsin softball program state-of-the-art amenities. From the indoor practice facility to the newly resurfaced playing field, the Badgers are happy to call Goodman Softball Complex home.

- The complex, located at 2415 University Bay Dr., is an extensive redesign of the previous softball field. Groundbreaking took place on June 25, 1998, and the Badgers opened the facility with a 9-1 victory over Loyola on March 30, 1999. The field and grandstands -- with a capacity of approximately 1,600 -- are positioned just north of Nielsen Tennis Stadium and share the parking areas in that proximity. Spectators have the view overlooking University Bay and Picnic Point. The facility meets the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act.
- The Goodman brothers, longtime area softball players, businessmen and UW donors, provided the lead gift of $500,000. Named for the Madison jewelers, the original renovation project cost more than $1.2 million and has been affectionately dubbed, "Goodman Diamond."
- 2002 marked the first year under the lights for the Badgers. The lighting system was made possible by Bob Goodman, one of the original donors who made the field possible.
- In 2011, the Irwin A. and Robert D. Goodman family foundation pledged $1.8 million to initiate the Goodman Softball Training Center project, which was a positive start toward the total project cost of $3 million.
- The diamond received a complete resurfacing during the summer of 2012 with a new infield and outfield surface being installed. The infield was resurfaced with Hilltopper Infield Mix, natural soil enhanced with polymer that provides excellent drainage and coverage, while the outfield was leveled and tiled.
- In 2013 the Goodman Softball Training Center was completed. In the 16,500 square foot indoor facility the Badgers have access to a regulation sized infield, batting cages, team conference room and lounge. In addition, the team locker room and athletic training areas underwent extensive renovations.
- Enhancements were made to Goodman Diamond for the 2017 season thanks to a $600,000 gift from the Goodman family foundation, highlighted by the addition of a high-definition video board to elevate the game day atmosphere for the Wisconsin Softball team by providing fans with highlight videos. Fans are further immersed in the game with the addition of player headshots and various stat displays.
- The Dave McClain Athletic Facility serves as the year-round home for a number of University of Wisconsin teams, including softball. The facility, renovated in 2013, offers a climate-controlled indoor training space, locker rooms, sports medicine center and strength and conditioning facilities. Opened in 1988 at a cost of $9.5 million, the McClain Center has undergone an extensive renovation as part of the $86 million Student-Athlete Performance Center project undertaken by UW Athletics to provide first-class facilities for the Badgers.
- The centerpiece of the McClain Center is a 76,000-square foot main floor that features a 90-yard practice field utilized by a variety of UW athletic programs. The practice area was re-surfaced in 2013 with the installation of the most advanced playing surface offered by FieldTurf.
- The new strength and conditioning center is a 6,000-square foot space that offers a full range of strength training equipment, in addition to a dedicated cardio area and a performance station featuring fresh fruit and nutritional drinks for use in recovery after workouts.
