UCLA BRUINS - NOV. 17 - 2:30 PM ET, 11:30 AM PT - PAC-12 NETWORK

Princeton Tigers 2-0, 0-0 Ivy	Princeton at UCLA	UCLA Bruins 3-0, 0-0 Pac-12
	These Bruins lead the all-time series, 2-0. These two teams met at UCLA in 2009 and 2012.

It's A Wonderful Life (At 2-0).

•The Princeton Women's Basketball Team rallied from a 14-point deficit to take down the Middle Tennessee State Lady Raiders, 65-60, at the Murphy Center on Sunday afternoon.

Here were the six players that helped finish the final 2:04 of game action for the Tigers: Ellie Mitchell, Skye Belker, Ashley Chea, Amelia Osgood, Katie Thiers and Chet Nweke. Princeton's top two scorers, Madison St. Rose and Kaitlyn Chen had fouled out.

That group, showing the depth of the squad, sank eight free throws to hold off a MTSU late rally and secure the victory.

Osgood, in her home state, knocked down the two from the charity stripe that put the battle away.

Belker scored a team-high 18 points. Chen registered 14 points along with three steals while Chea collected nine points and six rebounds in the victory. Thiers had seven points and four caroms while also being a team-high +11 in 20 minutes off the bench.

The Tigers' 14-point comeback is the second largest of the Carla Berube era, trailing only last year's Rutgers rally. The Tigers also ended the Lady Raiders' 29-game home winning streak which was the second longest in the NCAA.

Life Is Beautiful (When You Win Stuff).

•The Tigers were selected No. 1 in the Ivy League preseason poll.

•The five-time defending Ivy League regular season and four-time defending Ivy League Tournament champions earned all 16 first-place votes to collect 128 voting points.

•Columbia was second with 103 points while Harvard was right behind at 102 points.

•Penn was fourth (77) while Yale was fifth (69) followed by Brown (42), Cornell (39) and Dartmouth (16).

•Carla Berube has been named to the 2024 Kathy Delaney-Smith Mid-Major Coach of the Year Preseason Watch List presented by Her Hoops Stats.

•In the three seasons played under Berube, the Tigers have won three Ivy League championships, posting a 40-2 record against Ivy opponents during the regular season. Overall, the Tigers are 77-12 (.865) during Berube's tenure as head coach at Princeton.

•Kaitlyn Chen has been named to the 2024 Becky Hammon Mid-Major Player of the Year Preseason Watch List, Her Hoops Stats announced.

•Chen was the 2023 Ivy League Player of the Year last season, posting career highs in almost every category. She led the team in scoring (16.2) while also posting 4.1 rebounds and 3.8 assists per game. Her 426 field goal attempts were fourth most all-t fifth most and her 487 points were sixth.

•The senior captain saved her best work for the postseason as she paced the team in scoring vs. Penn and Harvard in the Ivy League Tournament, leading her to be named Ivy Tournament Most Outstanding Player of the second straight season. Chen also snagged 22 points and grabbed seven rebounds vs. NC State in the first round of the NCAA Tournament and a team-best 19 points vs. Utah in the second round.

Up (Near The Top Of The NCAA)

•The Tigers are 47th in the country in blocks per game (5.0).

•Berube's squad is 46th in offensive rebounds per contest (17.0).

•Princeton is 52nd in rebounding margin (+12.5).

•The Tigers are 70th in rebounds per game (44.0).

•The defending Ivy Champions are 51st in fewest turnovers per contest (12.5).

Gladiator

•Ellie Mitchell is fourth in the NCAA in rebounds per game (14.0), ninth in offensive rebounds (6.0) and 21st in total rebounds (28).

•Her 847 career rebounds are fifth in program history, 13 shy of Niveen Rasheed '13 for fourth (860).

•She has the two highest rebounding totals (338 last season and 311 in 2021-22) ever by a Tiger.

•Mitchell has 41 games with at least 10 rebounds or more. She recorded six as a freshman, 16 as a sophomore, 17 as a junior and two this season.

•She is 94th in the country in assists/turnover ratio (3.0).

The Dark Knight (Because Kaitlyn Is A Super Hero Like Batman)

•Kaitlyn Chen is second on the team in scoring at 14.5 points per game.

•Chen is 22nd in the nation in minutes per game (37.5).

•She is also 81st in assists per contest (5.0).

•The 2023 Ivy League Player of the Year has 831 points in her career in just 62 games, 169 shy of 1,000. Her 13.8 points per game are the eighth most in Princeton history.

The Incredibles

•Madison St. Rose leads the team in scoring at 17.0 points per contest. She scored a career-high 26 points on 9-of-18 shooting including five treys in the comeback victory over Duquesne.

•After being held scoreless vs. Duquesne, Skye Belker dropped in a team-best 18 points on 6-of-10 from the floor as Princeton rallied from a 14-point deficit over Middle Tennessee St.

A Beautiful Mind (Reading These Stats)

•Berube's unit is No. 2 in Her Hoop Stats' Simple RPI (69.1) which treats all games equally (25% Team Win %, 50% Average Opponent Win %, 50% Average Opponent's Average Opponent Win %).

•It is different from the NCAA RPI because the NCAA RPI values

- Princeton took down No. 15 Kentucky in the first round of the 2022 NCAA Tournament. In December of 2021, the Tigers defeated No. 22 Florida Gulf Coast, 58-55.

- The Tigers' decision over Florida Gulf Coast was the program's first top-25 victory in 43 years.

- Princeton's previous top-25 win was vs. No. 18 Rutgers on Jan. 5, 1978 (70-57). Princeton head coach Carla Berube was two years old.

- The Tigers did not face another top-25 opponent for 24 years until battling No. 7 Stanford on Nov. 29, 2002. Princeton went on to face 24 more top-25 squads and went 0-25.

- Some top teams that the Tigers have faced are No. 1 Tennessee (Dec. 20, 2005), No. 2 Rutgers (Nov. 18, 2008) and No. 4 Stanford (Dec. 18, 2011).

American Beauty (Of A Year)

- Princeton won 24 games last season and reached the second round of the NCAA Tournament for the second consecutive season in 2023.

- Kaitlyn Chen led the team in scoring at 16.2 points-per-game and field goal percentage (46.2). She scored in double figures in every game except for four, leading to her being named Ivy League Player of the Year.

- It was the ninth time that a Princeton Tiger has earned Ivy Player of the Year and the fifth straight playing season that Princeton has taken home the top honor.

- Ellie Mitchell was named the Ivy League's Defensive Player of the Year for the second straight season. She ranked third in the country in defensive win shares (2.9) and eighth in in defensive rating (68.9). The Tigers were sixth overall in the NCAA in scoring defense (53.6).

- Mitchell was 9th in the country in offensive rebounds per game (4.4), 9th in rebounds per contest (11.3) and 15th in total rebounds (338). Her 11.3 rebounds-per-game were the fifth best in program history and were the highest mark since 1978.

- Madison St. Rose earned the Ivy League Rookie of the Year. After scoring 70 points in the first 13 games, St. Rose averaged 11.3 points in the final 17 games she played in, finishing with 263 overall (8.8 per contest).

- The Class of 2023 (Julia Cunningham, Maggie Connolly, Lexi Weger, Kira Emsbo, and Grace Stone) earned their fourth Ivy regular season title last season.

- Only 20 players in Ivy history have won four Ivy crowns.

- More than half have come from Princeton (Jackie Jackson '78, Maggie Meier '78, Meg Bowen '13, Kate Miller '13, Lauren Polansky '13, Niveen Rasheed '13 are the others.)

at Middle Tenn. St.	Chen	Belker	St. Rose	Morton	Mitchell

- After winning 20 games just three times prior to the 2009-10 season, the Tigers have won at least 20 games in all but one campaign since.

- The Tigers ranked in the top 100 nationally last year in the following ...

Scoring Defense (53.2) - 6th
Turnover Margin (+5.67) - 13th
Scoring Margin (+12.0) - 23rd
Fewest Turnovers per game (12.9) - 29th
Three-Point Field Goal Percentage Defense (27.9) - 36th
Turnovers forced per contest (18.6) - 41st
Rebound Margin - (+4.9) - 53rd

Catch Me If You Can (In The Ivy Tournament)

- The Tigers have reached the Ivy League Tournament championship game each year it has been played (2017, 2018, 2019, 2022, 2023), winning four times while losing in 2017 to Penn.

- Bella Alarie and Kaitlyn Chen (twice each) have won the last four Tournament Most Outstanding Player awards.

- Princeton has had 13 All-Tournament selections in Alarie (three), Abby Meyers (twice) Leslie Robinson (twice), Chen (twice), Gabrielle Rush, Carlie Littlefield, Julia Cunningham, and Ellie Mitchell.

How To Train Your Dragon (To Win In The NCAA Tournament)

- 2023 was the fourth straight NCAA Tournament that Princeton has reached in seasons it has participated in.

- During the 2021-22 season, head coach Carla Berube's unit defeated No. 6 seeded Kentucky, the SEC Champion, in the first round, the program's second ever NCAA victory.

- Princeton would then take No. 3 Indiana to the limit in the Second Round, falling to the hosts at Assembly Hall, 56-55.

- Before the 2021-22 campaign, the Tigers last appeared in the NCAA Tournament in 2019, dropping an 82-77 decision to No. 17 Kentucky.

- The program has been seeded as low as No. 12 and as high as No. 8. The Tigers' No. 8 seed in 2015 is the highest seed ever by an Ivy school in the NAAs.

- The Tigers' first NCAA Tournament win was a decision over No. 9 seeded Green Bay, 80-70, in 2015. It was the second Ivy League victory in the NCAA Tournament. Princeton finished that season at 31-1 overall.

- Despite finishing second in the conference, Princeton became the first Ivy school to earn an NCAA at-large bid in 2016.

- The Tigers dropped a 74-65 contest to No. 6 seed West Virginia.

Léon: The Professional (Princeton Players)

- Abby Meyers' 22 signed with the London Lions of the Women's British Basketball League in the summer.

- Meyers got some playing time in the WNBA with the Washington Mystics and Dallas Wings. She was drafted in the first round of the 2023 WNBA Draft by the Wings.

- Meyers was the fifth Ivy League player to be selected in the WNBA Draft, the third Princeton Tiger (Bella Alarie, Leslie Robinson) and the third Ivy athlete to be picked in the first round (Alarie and Allison Feaster '98 Harvard).

- Bella Alarie '20, one of the greatest players in program history, is a graduate assistant at Georgetown.

- During her time with Princeton, Alarie was first in program history in Ivy Player of the Week awards (20), blocks (249), double-doubles (40) and points (1,703). She was also in the top 10 in rebounds, field goal attempts, rebounding average, field goals, scoring averaging, free throws, free-throw attempts and free throw percentage. She was selected in the first round of the WNBA Draft by the Dallas Wings.

- Grace Stone '23 signed with Anagninisi Germasogeias of Cyprus. Stone graduated from Princeton third all-time in games played (118) and fifth in free throw percentage (.802). She recorded 807 points, 405 rebounds, 138 steals and 55 blocks during her time with the Tigers.

- Her senior season was the best of her career as she set personal bests in scoring (10.3), three-pointers (52) and rebounding (3.7), earning second-team All-Ivy honors, her second straight All-Ivy selection.

- In five games for Anagninisi, Stone is averaging 23.0 points, 9.8 rebounds, 5.0 assists and 3.0 steals per game.

- Carlie Littlefield '21 is playing for the Young Angels in Slovakia after spending time with the Liege Panthers in Belgium last season.

- In seven games, Littlefield is averaging 14.4 points, 6.3 rebounds and 4.1 assists per game for the Little Angels.

- Littlefield '21 and Blake Dietrick '15 led the U.S. 3x3 team to a series victory in Pristina, Kosovo in July. The tournament win is the third-ever in the Women's Series for the United States (2022 - Quebec City, 2021 - Klaipeda).

- Dietrick helped the United States 3x3 women's team earn gold at the 2023 Pan American Games in October.

- The United States dropped Columbia, 21-14, in the Gold Medal game to secure its second straight gold at the Pan American Games. The former Tiger led the U.S. to a 21-6 win over Venezuela in the quarterfinals and a 21-14 victory over Chile in Semifinals.

- Dietrick scored three points in the gold medal matchup against Columbia.

- For the tournament, Dietrick was second on the team in scoring (28 points) while leading the unit in assists (14) and shooting 67.7 percent.

Shooting Stars ...

- Princeton finishes each shootaround on the day of a game with a half-court shot. Maggie Connolly led the team with eight half court makes last year. Margo Mattes (Duquesne) and Kaitlyn Chen (Middle Tenn.) have done it this season.

The Breakfast Club ...

The team led by captain Maggie Connolly and Katie Thiers ranked each road trip's breakfast last year. This season, Thiers will continue the tradition. Here are the top five from last season.

Harvard - 9.0 (omelette bar, lots of variety), Texas - 8.5 (Great variety, mini waffles a hit) , UConn - 8.5 (less variety by high quality), Utah - 8.0 (excellent sausage, bacon, good pancakes), Columbia - 7.8 (great bacon and eggs, but the room was freezing)

Here is Thiers' ranking for the Tennessee road trip ...

Nashville - Doubletree:

Meats, which included bacon and sausage, were pretty good

Wide variety of fruits, which were all pretty ripe.

Biscuits were great, gravy was mid.

Rest of the breakfast fell pretty flat.

Overall ranking: 5.5/10

Goodfella (s)

- Since Athletic Communications contact Warren Croxton had his first child, Teresa, in March of 2022, the Tigers are 27-7 with two NCAA Tournament victories. The program produced only a .571 winning percentage and only one NCAA victory prior to the birth of Teresa.

- Princeton has not lost since his second child, Michael, was born (Oct. 13, 2023).

CARLA BERUBE HEAD COACH • 5TH YEAR • CONNECTICUT '97

In the three seasons played under Berube, the Tigers have won a pair of Ivy League championships, posting two undefeated regular seasons while currently sitting at 40-2 in the Ivy action. Overall, the Tigers are 77-12 (.865) during Berube's tenure as head coach at Princeton.

The 2022-23 season had Women's Basketball go 24-6, advancing to the Second Round of the NCAA Tournament for the second straight year becoming the first Ivy team to do that since Harvard men's team in 2013 and 2014. After starting the Ivy campaign 0-2, the Tigers ripped off 12 straight before sweeping both games at home in the Ivy Tournament for their second straight crown and earning a bid to the NAAs. With the team's victory over NC State in the first round of the NCAA Tournament, it marked the first time an Ivy League school has had its men's and women's teams both win in the NCAA in the same year.

The 2021-22 season saw Princeton finish with a 25-5 record, advancing to the Second Round of the NCAA Tournament for just the second time in program history. After a second consecutive undefeated regular season championship in the Ivy League, the Tigers swept both games of the Ivy League Tournament to claim Berube's first Ivy Tournament title and earn an automatic bid to NAAs.

Seeded No. 11, the Tigers knocked off No. 6 Kentucky -- the SEC Tournament champion -- in the First Round, 69-62. Princeton would then take No. 3 Indiana to the limit in the Second Round, falling to the hosts at Assembly Hall, 56-55.

Berube was named Ivy League Coach of the Year for the second season in a row, and again coached the Ivy League Player of the Year in unanimous selection Abby Meyers who was also named unanimous first-team All-Ivy. Ellie Mitchell was named Ivy League Defensive Player of the Year, while Julia Cunningham (first team) and Grace Stone (honorable mention) also garnered All-Ivy honors.

The Tigers went 26-1 overall in 2019-20 and finished with a 22-game winning streak. The Tigers' streak was the second longest in the country behind No. 1 South Carolina. The unit wrapped up the campaign with a RPI of No. 9, the best mark in Ivy history and went undefeated in conference play before the postseason was cancelled due to the Coronavirus. Berube was named the Ivy League Coach of the Year. Bella Alarie was one of three players to be named All-Ivy as she was honored with her third straight Ivy Player of the Year award. Carlie Littlefield was first-team All-Ivy for the second consecutive season while Julia Cunningham was honored with honorable mention accolades.

Berube was named the head coach of women's basketball at Princeton University in May of 2019 after spending the previous 17 years at Tufts University. Berube has also coached internationally with USA Basketball, leading the U.S. Under-16 national team to a gold medal at the FIBA Americas and the Under-17 national team to a gold medal at the World Championships.

Berube brings a long history of success as both a player and coach to Princeton. She won exactly 80 percent of her games with the Jumbos, going 384-96 in 17 seasons while reaching the NCAA Division III final twice, the Final Four four times and the Sweet 16 nine times, including each of the last eight. In her last seven seasons at Tufts, her record was 197-24, with a winning percentage of .891 during those years.

Berube was the 2015 Pat Summitt Trophy winner as the Division III National Coach of the Year and a three-time regional coach of the year.

Berube is a 1997 UConn grad with a degree in sociology. She scored 1,381 points during her career, and the Huskies were an astonishing 132-8 in her four years, for a winning percentage of .942.

The highlight of her career was the 1995 NCAA championship, which capped a perfect 35-0 season. She played in two Final Fours and also was part of four Big East championships.

After playing professionally in the American Basketball League, Berube began her coaching career as an assistant coach at Providence College before becoming the head coach at Tufts in 2002. During her time there, she coached three NESCAC Players of the Year, three Rookies of the Year, six Defensive Players of the Year and three CoSIDA Academic All-Americans.

She also has coached seven All-Americans in the last seven years.

Under Berube's leadership, Tufts reached the Division III championship game in 2016 and 2017. Her final Tufts team went 28-3, won the NESCAC championship and reached the Elite Eight of the NCAA tournament in 2019.

She is a member of the Connecticut Women's Basketball Hall of Fame and the New England Basketball Hall of Fame. In addition to the 2015 national Coach of the Year honor, Berube is also a three-time regional Coach of the Year, a four-time NESCAC Coach of the Year and a two-time USA Basketball Development Coach of the Year.

Her players have also been active in the community. The Tufts women's basketball team adopted two Team IMPACT teammates -- a 12-year-old with leukemia and a 15-year-old with sickle cell anemia -- partnering with the non-profit organization that works to improve kids' quality of life and help them experience the camaraderie of collegiate sports. Many of her players have also been Big Sisters to local children.

LAUREN BATTISTA - ASSISTANT COACH

Lauren Battista will begin her fifth year with Princeton in 2023-24.

In the three seasons played under Battista, the Tigers have won three Ivy League championships, posting a 40-2 record against Ivy opponents during the regular season. Overall, the Tigers are 77-12 (.865) during Battista's tenure as coach at Princeton.

Battista came to Princeton from Tufts University, where she served as an assistant coach under Carla Berube during the 2018-19 season. During that season, the Jumbos went 28-3 and won their 3rd NESCAC Championship, beating undefeated and top-ranked Bowdoin in the final. Tufts also advanced to the NCAA Division III Elite Eight.

Prior to her time at Tufts, Battista was a graduate assistant at Boston College while securing her master's degree in Leadership and Administration. Before BC, Battista was at the NCAA office in a postgraduate internship program, helping the women's basketball staff with the NCAA Tournament and Final Four.

Battista graduated from Bentley University in 2014. She was a 4-year starter, 3-time All-American, and 2-year team captain for the nationally ranked Falcons. Her senior year was spectacular as she led the team to the Division II national title with an undefeated 35-0 season. She earned national recognition as the WBCA Division II National Player of the Year, the Capital One Academic All-American of the Year, CWSA/Honda Division II Athlete of the Year, and an NCAA Today's Top 10 Award honoree. She graduated as the all-time leading scorer in Bentley history, scoring over 2,100 points. Battista graduated summa cum laude with a degree in marketing and minor in finance.

LAUREN DILLON - ASSISTANT COACH

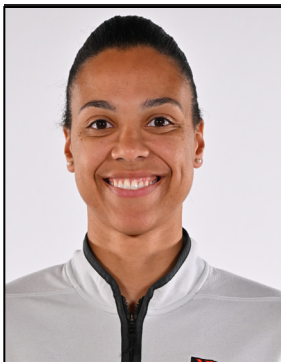

Lauren Dillon will begin her fifth year with Princeton in 2023-24.

In the three seasons played under Dillon, the Tigers have won three Ivy League championships, posting a 40-2 record against Ivy opponents during the regular season. Overall, the Tigers are 77-12 (.865) during Dillon's tenure as coach at Princeton.

Dillon came from Tufts where she spent a season as a coach after graduating from the school in 2018. She helped lead her squad team to a NESCAC championship her freshmen year, and one Elite Eight, one Final Four, and two National Championship game appearances throughout her career.

A two-year captain, Dillon was the NESCAC Defensive Player of the Year as a sophomore, earned a First-Team All-League honor as a senior and graduated as the program's all-time record in career steals and assists.

She earned her masters' degree in Child Study and Human Development at Tufts in 2021.

TIANA-JO CARTER - ASSISTANT COACH

Tiana Carter begins her second season with Princeton Women's Basketball in 2023-24.

The 2022-23 season had Women's Basketball go 24-6, advancing to the Second Round of the NCAA Tournament for the second straight year becoming the first Ivy team to do that since Harvard men's team in 2013 and 2014. After starting the Ivy campaign 0-2, the Tigers ripped off 12 straight before sweeping both games at home in the Ivy Tournament for their second straight crown and earning a bid to the NCAAs. With the team's victory over NC State in the first round of the NCAA Tournament, it marked the first time an Ivy League school has had its men's and women's teams both win in the NCAA in the same year.

Carter came from Bentley where she finished her MBA with a concentration in Law and Taxation. During her two years at Bentley, the Falcons reached the postseason in both seasons, highlighted by a Northeast-10 title and trip to the NCAA Tournament in 2022.

Prior to her time at Bentley, Carter coached at Central Maine Community College, helping the Mustangs go 27-4 and secure a spot in the USCAA Small College Division II National Championship.

Carter graduated from the University of Albany with a Bachelor of Arts degree in communication and rhetoric in 2018.

The Tigers' assistant coach received several honors from the America East Conference during her four years with the Great Danes. The list included All-Rookie Team in 2015, Sixth Player of the Year in 2016 and both All-Conference third team and All-Defensive Team as a senior.

Albany's all-time leader in blocked shots (154), Carter amassed 986 points, 642 rebounds and 116 steals in 125 career games for Albany while helping the team to three consecutive America East titles.

LILLY PARO - DIRECTOR OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

Lily Paro will begin her third season with Princeton in 2023-24.

In the two seasons played under Paro, the Tigers have won two Ivy League championships, posting a 22-2 record against Ivy opponents during the regular season. Overall, the Tigers are 51-11 (.822) during Paro's tenure as coach at Princeton.

Paro graduated from Tufts in 2020 where she was coached by Berube for two of her three seasons. She saw action in 78 games, averaging 2.7 points and adding 63 three-pointers. The Jumbos went to the Division III Sweet 16 all four years she was at Tufts.

After graduating with a degree in Psychology, Paro was a learning specialist at the Connelly School of the Holy Child in Potomac, Md. While there, she coached basketball and lacrosse and was a volunteer assistant at Smith College.
