Dear Aaron & Ty

We did it. We kept our promise.

When we lost you, the pain was real - and unthinkable. Had we not known what you wanted for us, to fight and play with a smile along the way - we may not have been able to carry on.

But we did.
We fought, we played, and we smiled.

We played for the guys next to us, and we lived each day with a new found passion.
We love harder, we dig deeper, and we give 22% more - and we got 22% better.
We kept your spirits in our hearts and together, we reigned supreme.

We felt you there when we went to Vegas and took what was ours. We gave every last piece of ourselves on the field in Pasadena. And we honored you there too. We came up short, but we left proud.

We fought, we played, and we smiled .
At the end of the day, with 22 in our hearts, we made history.

We did it, we kept our promise - and we aren't stopping now.
We will carry you with us forever.

Thank you 22.

Love,
Your Brothers

IN THE TRENCHES

The offensive line room returned six student-athletes who started at least three games last season, including Braeden Daniels and Sataoa Laumea, who started all 14 games.

- Utah is experienced up front with offensive linemen playing in 136 games and having 85 starts between the returners.
- Opening and paving the way for one of the best rushing attacks in the Pac-12 is the O-Line. Utah is averaging 203.4 rushing yards per game the third most in the conference. The O-Line are opening holes for the backs that are averaging 5.2 yards per carry and have scored 12 rushing touchdowns.

DEFENSIVE NOTEBOOK

R.S.N.B.

The 2022 season is Utah alum Morgan Scalley's 15th year overall on the coaching staff and his seventh year as defensive coordinator. Called one of the brightest minds in the business, Scalley has developed the defensive identity that is known as R.S.N.B. – standing for relentless, smart, nasty, ballhawks – which gives the Utes the reputation as one of the grittiest groups in the nation.

- To date this season, Utah is allowing 278.6 total yards per game—it leads the Pac-12 and sits 10th of all Power Five teams. It includes holding opponents under 270 yards in three of the last four games.
- In particular, Utah has enforced a no-fly zone of sorts with the Power Five's fourth-best passing defense (155.4 yards allowed per game). The Utes have surrendered just two passing touchdowns this season; the first did not come until the fourth quarter of Week 3 against San Diego State—elapsing the first 80 minutes, one second of opponent time of possession this season.
- In five of Scalley's previous six years as defensive coordinator, the Utes have finished in the top-three in the Pac-12 in both total defense and scoring defense. It's a trend that has continued so far this season, with the team atop the conference both in total defense (278.6 yards per game) and scoring defense (14.4 points per game).

- Of the first five games of the season, there have been three contests in which the Utes have not allowed a passing touchdown, which leads the Pac-12. In that "first five games" timeline, it ties with the 2016 and 2004 squads for the most by a Utah squad since 2000. Coincidentally, Scalley was part of that '04 team that went on to win the Fiesta Bowl.
- Utah has allowed 73 first downs this season—tied with Iowa State for ninth-fewest in the Power Five and eight ahead of Stanford for fewest in the Pac-12. It correlates with an opponent third-down conversion rate of 28%, lowest in the Pac-12 and No. 18 in FBS.
- In six games in 2021, Utah opponents were held under 315 total yards, including three matchups against teams in the final CFP rankings (San Diego State and both games vs. Oregon). The marks were even better in Pac-12 play, as the Utes' nine-game league slate saw teams put up just 332 yards on average—the fewest in the league.
- Opponents averaged 20.2 points per game against the Utes in 2021, which ranked as the second-lowest in the Pac-12.

LOCKING DOWN ON THE GROUND

One of the hallmarks of Scalley's defense has been a stalwart effort against the run game. Since taking on the defensive coordinator role in 2016, the Utes have allowed 112.6 rushing yards per game and 74 touchdowns. Both are the best marks in the Pac-12 during that seven-year span, ranking fifth and seventh, respectively, among all Power 5 programs.

Fewest Rushing Yards Allowed Per Game (Power 5, since 2016)

1.	Alabama	100.9
2.	Wisconsin	103.9
3.	Georgia	105.0
4.	Clemson	108.9
5.	Utah	112.6
6.	Michigan State	117.7
7.	Ohio State	120.2

- The Utes are two weeks removed from holding Arizona State to six rushing yards, the third-fewest that a Power Five team has allowed of another Power Five program this season. It also went down as the seventh-fewest for a Utah opponent all-time, aided by minus 24 rushing yards for the Sun Devils in the first quarter.
- Under Scalley, the Utes have led the Pac-12 in rushing defense five times (2016, '18, '19 '20 and '21), also ranking third in the nation in 2019 and fifth in 2018.
- Throughout 2021, teams struggled on the ground against Utah's Pac-12-leading rushing defense, mustering just 119.4 yards per game.
- Dating back to 2016, the Utes have posted 38 performances allowing 100 yards or less on the ground, most in the Pac-12. The Utes are 31-7 in games since 2016 when allowing 100 rushing yards or less, including seven such games in 2021 (half the schedule).

GOOD THINGS COME IN THREES

The Utes enter Week 6 as the only Pac-12 team this season to hold three opponents under 270 yards of total offense (85 vs. Southern Utah; 173 vs. SDSU; 267 at Arizona State). Only eight Power Five teams have accomplished this feat (Illinois – 4; Minnesota – 4; three each for Alabama, Iowa State, Michigan, Utah, Virginia Tech and Wisconsin).
- Utah also held both Southern Utah and San Diego State under 100 yards passing (43 vs. SUU; 60 vs. SDSU). The last time the Utes defense had consecutive sub-100-yard performances in the air was in 2019 (25 vs. Arizona State; 60 vs. Cal).
- In Week 2 vs. Southern Utah, another dominant victory, the Utes limited SUU to 85 yards of total offense and four first downs (one of which came by penalty). It was the fourth-fewest opponent first downs in program history and fewest since 2018. The 85 yards allowed by the Utes were the sixth-fewest in program history and lowest since Cal mustered 83 yards in a 2019 matchup at Rice-Eccles Stadium.
- In games since 2019, three of the five lowest total yards allowed by a Pac-12 defense belong to Utah. Five of the top 10 performances in that timeframe are owned by the Utes, with Arizona, Arizona State, Cal and Washington (2) combining for the other five.

Fewest Total Yards of Offense Allowed (Pac-12 Teams, Since 2019)

1.	Utah vs. Cal (2019)	83
2.	Utah vs. Southern Utah (2022)	85
3.	Cal vs. Colorado (2021)	104
4.	Utah vs. Idaho State (2019)	116
5.	Washington vs. Oregon State (2019)	119

TAKING IT AWAY

With the Utes' four interceptions vs. Oregon State in Week 5, the team now has gained 12 turnovers (nine INT, three fumble recoveries) this season. It ranks second in the Pac-12, No. 9 in FBS, and headlines a streak of seven straight games with a takeaway—dating back to the 2021 Pac-12 Championship vs. Oregon.
- Utah's nine interceptions as a team rank second in the Power Five—short of only USC (12) for both the Power Five and FBS lead. Five different Utes own a pick on the year: Clark Phillips III (4); R.J. Hubert (2); one each for Cole Bishop, Karene Reid and Junior Tafuna.
- For Bishop (at Arizona State), Hubert (vs. Southern Utah) and Tafuna (vs. Southern Utah), it was each player's first career interception. Hubert's pick was returned for a 39-yard touchdown.

SACK LAKE CITY

Utah's defensive line has become known for its physicality and production of NFL talent with the motto "next man up" always coming into play, as the line has one of the largest groups of returners on the team in 2022. Headlined by starters Van Fillinger (DE) and Junior Tafuna (DT) and with the addition of veteran Gabe Reid (DE), who transferred to Utah following a four-year career at Stanford, it's shaping up to be another exciting season in Sack Lake City.
- Aided by 14.5 tackles for loss (of 28 total) coming from the defensive line this season, Utah is averaging 5.6 TFL per game; third-highest in the Pac-12. The Utes have finished in the top-three in the Pac-12 in sacks and tackles for loss three times under Morgan Scalley, leading the league in both in 2021 (97 TFL, 42 sacks) and 2016 (101 TFL, 43 sacks).
- Tafuna had a breakout freshman campaign in 2021, culminating with taking home Pac-12 Freshman Defensive Player of the Year and AP Pac-12 All-Conference Second Team. Called upon at left tackle during Week 3 last season, Tafuna has since started 16 consecutive games. Tafuna's 4.5 sacks were third-most among freshmen in the Pac-12 in 2021, complemented by one pass breakup and one fumble recovery.
- Reid, the older brother of Utah linebacker Karene Reid, played in 42 games with 24 starts at Stanford from 2018-21. Gabe Reid led the Cardinal with 10.0 TFLs during his final season, adding an assisted sack, eight QB hurries and his first career interception. He has at least an assisted TFL in all three of four games played in 2022, highlighted by a pair of sacks at Arizona State.
- Another newcomer to the defensive line is converted wide receiver Connor O'Toole, who has seen time in all five games this season. O'Toole is averaging 3.4 tackles in his five games as a defensive end. Of O'Toole's 17 total tackles on the season, five have been third-down stops.
- Fillinger is tied with Reid for the team lead in sacks (2.5), recording a season-best 1.5 sacks vs. San Diego State in Week 3, adding another nine-yard takedown in Week 4 at Arizona State.
- Fillinger made huge strides forward in 2021 after a pandemic-shortened 2020 season, starting 13 of 14 games at defensive end last year. He led all freshmen in the Pac-12 in sacks (5.5) in 2021, bursting on the scene with a three-sack outing in Utah's win over Washington State – becoming the first freshman in program history to have 3.0 sacks in a game.
- Defensive line returners in 2022 accounted for 15 sacks during the 2021 season (DE Van Fillinger 5.5; DT Junior Tafuna 4.5; DT Aliki Vimahi 2.0; three Utes with one each).

NEW KIDS ON THE BLOCK

For the first time in three seasons, the Utes are replacing another set of NFL linebackers with a completely new starting lineup. The group will look to returner Karene Reid—now a full-time starter—and Florida transfer Mohamoud Diabate, along with true freshman Lander Barton to carry on the tradition that linebackers coach Colton Swan has instilled at Utah.
- Reid (6.4 tackles per game) leads the linebacker room and is tied with Cole Bishop for the team lead with 32 tackles. He had a career-high-tying 1.5 TFL in Week 4 at Arizona State, part of a 10-tackle night to lead the Utes. In his career, Reid has four games with nine-plus tackles—coming the last two weeks against Arizona State (10) and Oregon State (9), with two other performances last season.

- Reid jumped onto the scene with a 15-tackle performance vs. Washington State in 2021 – growing his rover linebacker role as the season went on. His tackle count in that WSU game was the most by a true freshman at Utah since at least 2005. He has made 11 starts as a Ute (six in 2021) and finished with 44 tackles (two TFL) last season.
- Diabate returned to the lineup in Week 5 after missing two games due to injury. He went off for a career-high 4.0 TFL in his return vs. Oregon State, highlighting a six-tackle day for the Florida transfer. He debuted in Week 1 against his former squad, having played in 37 games with 17 starts during his Gator career (2019-21). Diabate recorded 176 total tackles (14.0 TFL, 6.0 sacks), three forced fumbles, two pass breakups and an interception during his time at UF. He has appeared in 40 career FBS games with 20 starts. Including his time at Florida, Diabate has recorded six or more tackles in 12 of his last 14 games played.
- While he may be a newcomer to the linebacker room, freshman Lander Barton is familiar with the Utah way. His brothers Cody (Seattle Seahawks) and Jackson (Las Vegas Raiders) are each entering their fourth NFL season in 2022 after standout careers at Utah. His sister, Dani, was a four-time All-American for Utah Volleyball while his mother, Mikki, was a two-sport All-American at Utah in basketball and volleyball as a Crimson Club Hall of Fame inductee. His father, Paul, also played football and baseball at the U.
- Lander Barton was a four-star recruit out of Brighton HS and ranked as the No. 7 linebacker in the nation by 247Sports. He owns a sack in two of the last four games and leads all freshmen on the team in tackles (15), TFL (2.5) and sacks (2.0).

YEAR 3 FOR CPIII

Established as one of the top cornerbacks in the Pac-12 and nationally, Clark Phillips III has become a mainstay at the position, starting all 24 games since he came to campus in 2020. Phillips, whom Pro Football Network ranked the No. 25 collegiate player and No. 3 cornerback for the 2022 season, was named Walter Camp National Defensive Player of the Week on Oct. 2.

- Phillips is one of six Utes since 2004 to earn Walter Camp National Player of the Week honors, and the first since 2016 (Hunter Dimick). It's the latest honor for Phillips, who landed on three preseason watch lists for 2022 and six preseason All-America squads.
- He owns seven career interceptions (four in 2022; two in 2021; one in 2020). It ranks third of all active players in the Pac-12.
- Three of Phillips' interceptions have come back for touchdowns. His career pick-six line (3) makes Phillips one of just seven players in Utah history to accomplish that feat and the only active player in the Pac-12.
- He again proved his standing as one of the country's elite corners during Week 5 vs. Oregon State, coming up with three of Utah's four interceptions--including a 38-yard pick-six—along with three tackles. His three picks are the most in a game by an FBS player this season, also tying for second all-time at Utah in single-game interceptions.
- His three interceptions were the most in a game by a Ute since 2009 (Robert Johnson at Colorado State), bringing his season total to four, which is tied for first nationally. No Utah player had recorded a three-pick game in a home game since 1970, when Norm Thompson etched his name in the record book vs. UTEP at what was then called Ute Stadium.
- Phillips tallied 63 tackles during the 2021 season—second-most in Utah's secondary—to go with a Pac-12-leading 15 passes defended. It included 13 breakups, tied for fifth-most at Utah in a single season. Phillips notched another Pac-12 best, tallying 11 passes defended during conference play between 10 pass breakups and a pick-six.
- For his efforts during the 2021 season, Phillips was named All-Conference Second Team by both the Associated Press and the Pac-12.
- He sealed the 2021 victory over Washington State with a 54-yard interception return for a touchdown. Two of Phillips' seven interceptions as a Ute have come against WSU, both pick-sixes, and both in the last three minutes of regulation.

THREE'S COMPANY

Clark Phillips III, along with safety Cole Bishop, emerged as two leaders of the secondary down the stretch of 2021, headlining a group whose depth was tested, but has proved instrumental last season and into 2022. Both Bishop and Phillips earned spots on the 2022 Jim Thorpe Award preseason watch list.

- Bishop has picked up 2022 right where he left off last season, sharing the team in tackles (32) with linebacker Karene Reid. His 12 stops in the season opener at Florida was a career-high, including one third-down stop. It was the most by a Utah player in a season opener since Gionni Paul's 14-tackle performance vs. Michigan on Sept. 3, 2015.
- Bishop's 6.4 tackles per game in 2022 ranks fifth of secondary players in the Pac-12. He led all true freshmen at Utah in 2021 with 54 tackles (9.0 TFL, 3.0 sacks), adding five pass breakups. He's had seven-plus tackles in seven of his last 10 games, a span including eight stops in both the 2021 Pac-12 Championship and the Rose Bowl Game.
- In Bishop's career (15 games) he is averaging 5.7 stops—leading all active Utes, second-most of active secondary players in the Pac-12 and seventh in the league overall. Linebacker Karene Reid (5.1 career tackles per game) is not far behind at No. 9 in the league, making Utah and Arizona State the only teams in the Pac-12 with multiple players in the active top-10 list.
- Returning from injury to a starting role and joining Bishop at safety is R.J. Hubert—whose impact has been immediate through five games. Hubert notched his first career fumble recovery at Florida in the season opener, with a subsequent 47-yard return setting up Utah's first touchdown of the game. It was the longest fumble return by a Ute since 2019, highlighting Hubert's eight-tackle evening which also included a forced fumble.
- Hubert's first career interception was a 39-yard pick-six in Week 2 vs. Southern Utah. He added another pick vs. Oregon State in Week 5, running it back 70 yards and resetting the Rice-Eccles Stadium record for single-game interception return yards. Hubert also has forced fumbles in the games at Florida and Arizona State.
- The duo of Bishop and Hubert own 60 of the secondary's 109 tackles (55%) this season, along with 2.5 TFL and 13 passes defended (seven INT, six PBU).
- Bishop's three TFL at Arizona last season were the most by a true freshman at Utah since 2007. He also earned his first career blocked field goal in the regular season tilt with Oregon in 2021.

PICK-SIX STREAK

Safety R.J. Hubert returned his first career interception 39 yards for a touchdown during the Week 2 win over Southern Utah. It extended a running streak for the Utah defense to 19 straight seasons with an interception returned for a touchdown. It dates back to 2004, the senior year of current defensive coordinator Morgan Scalley's playing career as a safety.

- Cornerback Clark Phillips III added a 38-yard runback of his own during the Oregon State win in Week 5. It was Phillips' third career pick-six (2020 and '21 vs. Washington State, 2022 vs. Oregon State).
- This run of annual interceptions returned for a touchdown is the longest active streak in FBS football, and is the second-longest such streak since at least 1996. Only Arizona State (20 seasons; 2000-19) has had a longer run in that time (starting in 2004).

SPECIAL TEAMS NOTEBOOK

Utah historically has a tradition of outstanding special teams, and a mix of veterans and newcomers are working to return the Utes to that standard in '22. Jadon Redding and Jordan Noyes are both back at the placekicker and kickoff positions, JT Greep enters year two at long snapper, and returning punter Michael Williams will be aided by Michigan State transfer Jack Bouwmeester.

- Bouwmeester, an Australia native, won the starting punter job coming out of Fall camp. He has punted 16 times the first five games, including a long of 48 yards at Florida. Rated the No. 6 punting prospect by 247Sports, Bouwmeester was a member of the Michigan State program in 2019 and '20.
- Noyes, who walked on in 2020, had multi-field goal games at Florida and Arizona State, seeing a career-long 43-yard make in The Swamp. He is perfect on five field goal attempts this season as well as 27-of-27 on PATs.
- During the Southern Utah game in Week 2, Noyes contributed 13 points with his leg—in part thanks to a 10-for-10 stat line on PAT attempts. His 10 points via PAT tied Noyes for the single-game program record, first set by Andy Phillips in 2013. On the season, Noyes' 36 points (21 via PAT, 15 via FG) is tied for fourth among Pac-12 kickers.
- The 30-year old Noyes is the oldest known kicker in FBS football in 2022. The year he was born, Utah head coach Kyle Whittingham was the defensive coordinator at Idaho State.
- Redding, a Pac-12 All-Conference first-team pick in 2020, holds career marks of 114-of-116 on PATs and 28-of-35 on field goals, with his PAT percentage (.982) tied for fifth-best in program history. He and Noyes have shared kickoff duties throughout the first five games.
- Redding was 41-of-43 last season on PATs and converted 10 of his 14 field goal attempts. His career-long field goal of 50 yards came during last year's Pac-12 Championship Game.
- Williams, who also serves as Utah's primary holder, shared punt responsibilities down the stretch of 2021. He booted eight punts on the year, twice resetting his career-long during the Pac-12 Championship Game with punts of 53 yards and, later, 54 yards.
- Greep transitioned to the starting snapper role midway through 2021, contributing 119 snaps (32 punt, 15 FG, 72 PAT) during his 14 games played at Utah.

ON THE RETURN GAME

Wide receivers Money Parks and Devaughn Vele have stepped into the kick and punt return roles, respectively, for Utah in 2022. It comes as the duo look to leave their own marks as returners on the heels of Britain Covey's career at Utah.

- Vele's 11.8-yard average on punt returns sits second in the Pac-12 and No. 18 in the FBS. His 98 all-purpose yards (60 PR, 38 receiving) vs. San Diego State were a career-high.
- Parks awaits his first shot at a kick return, currently owning a career-high 78 all-purpose yards vs. Southern Utah during Week 2.
