BILLY MARTIN

Head Coach
30th Season
Redlands '89

The program's all-time leader in head-coaching wins, Billy Martin enters his 30th year directing UCLA men's tennis in 2022-23. It also marks his 40th year on staff, as he assisted friend and mentor Glenn Bassett for 10 years prior to taking the reins in 1994. Owner of a 630-147 (.811) career record, Martin passed Bassett April 25, 2019 with win No. 593. The longest-tenured active head coach at UCLA is only the fourth in the history of the men's tennis program, following legends Bill Ackerman (1921-1950), J.D. Morgan (1951-1966) and Bassett (1967-1993). Martin became just the third active head coach to be inducted into the UCLA Athletic Hall of Fame, joining Al Scates and Valorie Kondos Field, in 2015. Perhaps the most amazing accomplishment in Martin's career is his ability to consistently compete for championships, as his teams have posted top-five finishes at the season-ending NCAA Championships in 23 of 28 completed seasons.

Martin's finest season at the helm came in 2005, when he led UCLA to its first NCAA title since 1984. The 4-3 come-from-behind victory over top-seeded and undefeated Baylor in College Station, Texas marked UCLA's 16th NCAA team championship in men's tennis, and the school's 97th overall. The win snapped Baylor's 57-match winning streak, the second longest in NCAA history. It also avenged the Bruins' 4-0 loss to the Bears in the 2004 NCAA final.

In addition to the dramatic run to the title in 2005, Martin has had several near misses at the NCAA Championships, including 2013, when the top-seeded Bruins were narrowly edged by No. 2 Virginia, 4-3, in the championship match in Champaign, Ill. Under Martin, UCLA has recorded a runner-up finish on four total occasions (1996, 1999, 2004 and 2013). After reaching the final in just his third year as head coach, Martin was named the 1996 ITA National Coach of the Year, as the Bruins finished with a 27-1 overall record.

During the coronavirus-shortened 2020 dual-match campaign, Martin collected the 600th win of his coaching career. He has guided 20 teams to 20 or more wins in his 28 completed seasons. The 2018 group logged a 30-3 record en route to the national semifinals.

Another significant highlight in Martin's career is his outstanding success in the highly-competitive Pac-12 Conference, where he owns a 173-34 (.836) record. Under Martin's watch, UCLA has captured 15 regular-season conference titles, including four in a row from 2004-07 and 2016-19. His teams swept through conference regular-season play from March 25, 2016-March 26, 2021, a stretch that spanned 33 matches. UCLA has finished out of the top three in the Pac-12 standings just twice during Martin's tenure, and has won four conference tournament titles (2013, 2014, 2016, 2018). He has been named Pac-12 Coach of the Year five times (1996, 2012-14, 2018).

In addition to his numerous team accomplishments, Martin takes great pride in helping his players achieve their individual goals, as well. In 2006, Benjamin Kohlhoefel notched a 6-1, 6-4 win over Virginia's Somdev Devvarman to become the 10th NCAA men's singles champion in school history – and first since Martin, himself, in 1975. Kohlhoefel's victory put his coach in an elite category, as Martin joined Georgia's Manny Diaz as the only other active head coach to earn the career "triple crown" by leading their schools to three different titles at the NCAA Championships (team, singles and doubles). Next to nab the NCAA singles title was Marcos Giron, who turned in a 6-4, 6-1 victory against Pepperdine's Alex Sarkissian in 2014. Then, two years later, Mackenzie McDonald dispatched top-ranked Mikael Torpegaard of Ohio State, 6-3, 6-3, for the crown. Kohlhoefel, Giron and McDonald were each named ITA National Player of the Year. McDonald was tabbed Pac-12 Player of the Year in both 2015 and 2016.

Martin has coached four NCAA doubles champions, including three of the last six. The first came in 1995, when Justin Gimelstob and Srdjan Muskatirovic bested TCU's Ashley Fisher and Jason Weir-Smith, 6-7(3), 6-4, 6-4. The next came in 2016, when McDonald completed the individual championships sweep alongside Martin Redlicki. The pair coasted past Arthur Rinderknech and Jackson Withrow of Texas A&M, 6-4, 6-1, in the final. In 2018, Redlicki and Evan Zhu earned one of the final spots in the field and proved their inclusion was warranted, edging Torpegaard and Martin Joyce of Ohio State in a thriller, 6-7 (8), 7-6 (4), 1-0 (9). Most recently, Maxime Cressy and Keegan Smith completed an undefeated season by beating Patrick Kaukovalta and Mazen Osama of Alabama, 6-3, 6-4, in 2019. Cressy and Smith did not drop a set on the year, beating 15 nationally-ranked opponents along the way.

In all, 33 players have achieved All-America status under Martin's direction. Among them were eventual Grand Slam champions Gimelstob and Jean-Julien Rojer. Gimelstob earned mixed doubles titles at the 1998 Australian and French Opens. Rojer has helped collect men's doubles crowns at the 2015 Wimbledon, 2017 US Open and 2022 French Open events, as well as the mixed doubles top prize at Roland-Garros in 2014. As head coach, Martin has guided five future ATP Top 100 singles players in Cressy, Gimelstob, Giron, McDonald and Kevin Kim, as well as three ATP Top 50 doubles players in Gimelstob, Rojer and Marcin Matkowski.

Inducted into the ITA Men's Collegiate Tennis Hall of Fame in 1996, Martin's playing career is full of highlights. To this very day he is still regarded as one of the best junior players in the history of the sport. He captured the 1973 and 1974 singles titles at Junior Wimbledon, the Junior U.S. Open and Junior Orange Bowl tournaments. Inside Tennis Magazine ran an article that named him "Junior Player of the Century." Due to his tremendous success as a junior player while growing up in Illinois, Martin received a spot in the USTA Midwest Section Hall of Fame in December 2010. He went into the Southern California Tennis Association Hall of Fame in August 2011.

Although Martin played just one season at UCLA before turning pro, the 1975 season was a special one, as he helped the team to a perfect 19-0 dual-match record and the NCAA team championship as a freshman.

After capturing the 1975 NCAA singles championship, Martin turned professional and enjoyed a fine career. He was selected Rookie of the Year by Tennis Magazine in the first professional season went on to reach the Wimbledon singles quarterfinals in 1977.

Martin defeated top pros such as John Newcombe, Ken Rosewall (twice), Stan Smith, Harold Solomon and Roscoe Tanner. In 1975, Martin won the Arkansas International singles title. He also won doubles championships in 1977, 1979 and 1981 in Laguna Niguel, Calif., Brussels, Belgium and Bristol, England, respectively.

Martin attended UCLA for three years, working on his undergraduate studies before completing his bachelor's degree in business management at the University of Redlands in 1989. He earned his master of business administration from USC in 1991.

During the summer, Martin runs the UCLA Billy Martin Tennis Camps on the UCLA campus. He also directed the Bassett-Martin Tennis Camp in Ojai, Calif.

Martin and his wife, Justine, have two children, sons William and Travis. William played college tennis at Saint Mary's from 2012-15 and served as volunteer assistant coach for UCLA in 2019 and 2020, while Travis played for the Bruins from 2014-17.

RIKUS DE VILLIERS

Associate Head Coach
10th Season
Fresno State '11

Rikus de Villiers enters his 10th season on the UCLA men's tennis coaching staff, and third as associate head coach, in 2022-23. He served in the role of volunteer assistant coach for five of the six seasons prior to his promotion by head coach Billy Martin in June 2018.

In the 2019 dual-match season, de Villiers helped the program to its fourth regular-season Pac-12 title in a row. UCLA went 8-0 in conference play, stretching its winning streak in league regular-season matches to 29. The Bruins would go on to reach the third round of the NCAA tournament. There was also individual success, as the duo of Maxime Cressy and Keegan Smith posted a 21-0 record and claimed the 14th NCAA doubles championship in program history.

De Villiers joined the UCLA staff in the fall of 2012 and immediately aided the Bruins in their run to the final round of the NCAA Championships the following spring. Over the course of his first five seasons on staff, UCLA registered an overall record of 124-25 (.832) and dropped just three regular-season Pac-12 matches (32-3). The 2014, 2016 and 2018 Bruins also secured Pac-12 tournament titles during de Villiers' time as a volunteer. He coached American Ryan Harrison on the ATP World Tour during his time away from the program in 2015-16.

In addition to Cressy and Smith, Marcos Giron (2014) and the combination of Martin Redlicki and Evan Zhu (2018) collected NCAA individual championships with de Villiers on staff. Three future ATP Top 100 singles players – Cressy, Giron and Mackenzie McDonald – have matriculated through UCLA during de Villiers' time in Westwood.

Prior to joining UCLA, de Villiers played collegiate tennis from 2008-2011, spending one season at Pepperdine before transferring to Fresno State. The Durban, South Africa native came into his own with the Bulldogs, earning All-Western Athletic Conference (WAC) recognition each year. It was a breakout 2011 for de Villiers and the Bulldogs, who advanced to the NCAA Championships second round after claiming the WAC's automatic bid to the tournament. Individually, de Villiers was named to the All-WAC Singles and Doubles First Teams. De Villiers and partner Remi Boutillier earned a second trip to the NCAA Championships doubles tournament and finished the season ranked No. 18 in the Campbell/ITA doubles rankings. De Villiers reached a career-best No. 83 on the singles list.

A multiple-time winner at the African Championships as a junior player, de Villiers picked up his first ATP point at just 14 years old.

BEN GOLDBERG

Volunteer Assistant Coach
Second Season
UCLA '21

Ben Goldberg enters his second season as volunteer assistant coach for UCLA men's tennis in 2022-23. He was hired by head coach Billy Martin to the role Sept. 24, 2021, after five seasons in the program as a student-athlete.

Goldberg, whose parents and sister are also Bruins, ascended up the singles lineup during his time on the roster. He registered career records of 48-43 in singles play and 33-36 on the doubles courts from fall 2016 through spring 2021. Goldberg helped UCLA to three Pac-12 regular-season championships and one conference tournament title over that time.

The 2020-21 season saw Goldberg utilize the additional year of eligibility granted by the NCAA due to the COVID-19 pandemic. He made the most of his extra year, posting a 9-8 singles mark. Among those wins was a 7-6(5), 6-2 triumph over No. 26 Mor Bulis of USC – a career-best showing for Goldberg in terms of opponent ranking. He also logged a 3-0 doubles record.

The shortened 2019-20 season did not lack for dramatic moments involving Goldberg, who was the last man standing in a pair of 4-3 team victories. The first winner-take-all performance came in the ITA Kick-Off Weekend championship match, as Goldberg outlasted No. 104 Bogdan Pavel of UCF, 6-3, 5-7, 6-4. Goldberg went on to overcome a 5-7, 1-5 deficit against Oregon's Riki Oshima, climbing all the way back to a 5-7, 7-6(5), 7-6(1) result. Goldberg hit doubles-digit singles wins for the third time in as many seasons, going 11-8.

In 2018-19, the Pacific Palisades, Calif. native got the better of No. 60 William Howells of Notre Dame, No. 74 Logan Smith of USC and No. 80 Rrezart Cungu of Wake Forest for his initial decisions over nationally-ranked counterparts.

Goldberg won the first nine completed singles matches of his dual-match career. As a freshman, He became a consistent piece in the doubles lineup after teaming with Austin Rapp for a 6-4 victory across from Rob Bellamy and Jack Jaede of USC at the ITA National Team Indoor Championships. Goldberg and Maxime Cressy would go on to pick up five doubles-point-clinching wins, including a 6-4 result over Walker Duncan and Wayne Montgomery of Georgia in the NCAA Championships quarterfinal round.

In the classroom, Goldberg was a six-time member of the UCLA Athletic Director's Honor Roll after earning a grade-point average of at least 3.0 while passing 12 or more units in each of those corresponding quarters. He majored in political science.
