RECAPPING THE 2021 SEASON:

The 2021 Mustang volleyball team finished the regular season with a 15-16 overall record and 13-7 in the Big West for a third place finish. It was the sixth straight season the Mustangs have finished in the top three of the Big West standings. Outside hitter Tommi Stockham, who was fourth in the Big West in kills per set at 3.54 was named First Team All-Conference. Middle blocker Meredith Phillips, who led the Mustangs and was fifth in the Big West in blocks and second on the team in kills earned Honorable Mention All-Conference honors.

PRESEASON COACHES' POLL:

Cal Poly was selected to finish third in the Big West Preseason Coaches' Poll. They were picked behind two-time defending champion Hawai'i and last year's second place finisher UC Santa Barbara. The Mustangs last won the Big West title in 2018.

DVORACEK, STOCKHAM NAMED TO PRESEASON ALL-BIG WEST TEAM:

Cal Poly senior right side hitter Maia Dvoracek and redshirt sophomore outside hitter Tommi Stockham were each named to the eight-player Big West Preseason All-Conference Team.

Stockham is back for her second year with the Mustangs after earning First Team All-Conference honors last season. The outside hitter led the team and was fourth in the Big West in kills at 3.54 per set. That included posting at least 20 kills five times, six double-doubles, and double digit kills in 16 of 20 conference matches.

Dvoracek last played in 2019 due to the 2020 season being cancelled due to the pandemic and was forced to miss the 2021 season while recovering from a severe knee injury. She burst on to the scene in 2019 in her first year as a starter. That year, she led the team and was second in the Big West in kills at 4.25 per set in addition to ranking top-five in the nation in service aces. She was named First Team All-Big West and an AVCA Third Team All-American, becoming the seventh Mustang in program history to be named to one of the three All-American teams.

Cal Poly is one of three programs to have two players named to the Pre-season All-Conference along with Hawai'i and Long Beach State. UC Santa Barbara and UC Irvine each have one.

GUESS WHO'S BACK?: After being forced to miss the 2021 season while she recovered from a serious knee injury, senior outside hitter Maia Dvoracek returns to the Cal Poly lineup this season.

In her first year as a starter in 2019, Dvoracek averaged 4.25 kills per set overall and 5.09 kills per set during conference matches. Her 4.25 kills per set ranked second most in the conference that year. She was also top-five in the nation in service aces per set at .58 and 64 total aces.

She recorded double digit kills in the final 20 matches of the 2019 season and had 20 or more kills on seven matches, including a career-high 30 against Utah. She also averaged 2.21 digs per set and had seven double-doubles on the year.

She was named an AVCA Third Team All-American, becoming the seventh player in program history to be named to one of the three All-American teams. She was also named First Team All-Big West and AVCA Pacific North All-Region

Postseason Honors (2021)

All-Big West Conference

Tommi Stockham - First Team
Meredith Phillips - Honorable Mention

In a match against Wichita State that season, she tied the program record for aces in a match with eight.

RETURNING POWER: Although the program lost seven letterwinners from last year's team, eight are back this year for the Mustangs, including five who played in at least 80 sets last season.

In addition to Dvoracek and Stockham, several key pieces return. Senior middle blocker Meredith Phillips, a three-time All-Big West honoree, is back after leading the team last season in blocks (118) and hitting percentage (.310) while also being second in kills (2.40 per set).

Senior setter Avalon DeNecochea, the Mustangs' starting setter the last three seasons, returns for her final season. Coming into the season, she ranks sixth in program history for career assists with 3,187. Last year, she was second in the Big West in assists at 10.31 per set. She was also third on the team in blocks (69), digs (198) and service aces (24) and posted three double-doubles.

Back for her second season after playing in 111 of 112 as a freshman last season is redshirt sophomore middle blocker Kate Slack. Last season, Slack was second on the team in blocks with 90 and was sixth in kills at 1.32 per set.

Redshirt sophomore Amy Hiatt will be another key piece off the bench for the Mustangs this season. In her first season of action last year, she played in 86 sets and was third on the team in kills with 228. She had at least 10 kills in 10 matches. She was also fourth on the team in blocks with 52.

SCOUTING THE OPPONENTS:

This weekend's tournament in Logan, UT is a familiar one for the Mustangs. In 2018, Cal Poly played in a tournament there, going 3-0 beating LMU, UTRGV, and Utah State.

The Mustangs are 14-7 all-time against Utah State and have won the last two meetings with the last being a 3-0 win at Utah State in 2018. In 2021, the Aggies were 22-9, including a 12-1 home record. They made it to the semifinals of the Mountain West Tournament, losing to Boise State.

UCLA leads the all-time series against Cal Poly 11-3. However, the Mustangs have won the last two meetings, beating the Bruins back-to-back nights at home in 2018. In 2021, UCLA finished with a 25-6 record and made it to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament before falling to eventual champion Wisconsin.

Caroline Walters

Head Coach
3rd Season
Santa Clara, 2008

Caroline Walters has led the Mustangs to top-three Big West standing finishes in each of her first two seasons as head coach.

One of the top defensive players in West Coast Conference history, Caroline Walters enters her third season as head coach of the Cal Poly volleyball program after being hired in December of 2018. Prior to being named head coach, she spent two seasons as the team's associate head coach and eight seasons as an assistant coach. Overall, Walters is in her 13th year with the program.

After having the 2020 season cancelled due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Walters returned for her second season in 2021 where she directed the team to a 15-16 overall record, 13-7 conference mark. The Mustangs finished third in the Big West standings to mark the sixth consecutive year the program has finished in the top three of the standings. She saw three players - Tommi Stockham, Meredith Phillips, and Peyton Dueck earn All-Big West honors. As a team, the Mustangs were second in the Big West in opponent hitting percentage after holding teams to a .195 hitting percentage and was third in the Big West in service aces.

In her first season as head coach in 2019, Walters guided the program to a 21-9 overall record, a 13-3 conference record; good for a second place finish, its third consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance (first at-large berth since 2002) and a five-set comeback win over Georgia in the first round of the tournament. In addition, she also directed the team to an 11-0 home record to become the nation's active leader in consecutive matches won at home at 32 dating back to 2016. During the season, the team collected wins over No. 16 Utah, Pepperdine, UCSB, and Cal Poly's first-ever 3-0 sweep of No. 19 Hawai'i on Oct. 11. She also landed six players who earned All-Big West honors, including junior Maia Dvoracek who was also named an AVCA Third Team All-American. Her team finished the season tops in the conference and seventh in the nation in aces per set, as well as third in the conference in both blocks per set and opponent hitting percentage

Walters has been part of the Cal Poly volleyball program since 2009 and been on the staff of four NCAA Tournament teams.

Prior to becoming head coach, Walters' primary on-court responsibilities as associate head coach and assistant coach with the Mustangs include working with Cal Poly's serve receivers and down defenders while her off-court focus is geared toward the coordination of recruiting efforts. During the summer of 2014 alone, Walters helped compile PrepVolleyball.com's 23rd-ranked recruiting class.

During her time with the program, Walters has coached 36 All-Big West Conference selections as well as 2011 Big West Player of the Year Jennifer Keddy, 2015 Freshman of the Year Adlee Van Winden, 2017 Big West Player of the Year Taylor Nelson, 2018 Big West Player of the Year Torrey Van Winden, and 2019 AVCA Third Team All-American Maia Dvoracek.

Cal Poly has also finished among the Big West's top five leaders in digs during four of the past five seasons and compiled a Big West-best 16.27 digs per set in 2015. In 2018, Cal Poly led the Big West in kills, assists and hitting percentage.

Walters also served as Cal Poly's interim head coach for a majority of the 2011 season.

A four-year letterwinner and three-time All-West Coast Conference honorable mention selection at Santa Clara (2003-07), Walters remains second in league history with 1,932 career digs and ranks first in Bronco program history with a 4.59 career dig-per-set average.

A four-time team Defensive Most Valuable Player recipient, Walters owns four of the top five single season per-set dig marks in Santa Clara history. Walters enjoyed her top collegiate campaign as a sophomore in 2005 as her conference-leading 516 digs - the third highest single season total in Santa Clara history - helped propel the Broncos to a program-record 27 victories, a West Coast championship, a berth into the NCAA Tournament national semifinals and a final No. 4 ranking in the AVCA Coaches Top 25 Poll.

With Walters in the lineup, Santa Clara posted an 84-34 overall record, a 41-15 combined West Coast mark and failed to finish lower than third in the conference standings during any of her four seasons. Walters appeared in 421 of a possible 428 sets during her career. A native of Los Gatos, Calif., Walters earned an accounting degree from Santa Clara.

Walters arrived on the Central Coast in 2009 following a year stint as an assistant coach with the 18-Blue squad of the Los Gatos-based Vision Volleyball Club where she helped with practice planning and on-court techniques and strategies.
