Martin Jarmond

Director of Athletics
2nd Year at UCLA
UNC-Wilmington '01

Martin Jarmond, a nationally recognized leader in college athletics, has built an impressive track record of competitive excellence, innovative strategy and student athlete success. A two time recipient of Sports Business Journal's Forty Under 40 Award with more than 18 years in sports administration spanning three conferences, Jarmond is guiding UCLA to new heights through his culture of being ELITE – Energy, Leadership, Integrity, Toughness and Excellence. Martin's results driven strategies combined with a relentless work ethic to elevate UCLA Athletics creates an exceptional experience for student-athletes and fans alike.

Jarmond was hired on May 19, 2020, as UCLA's Alice and Nahum Lainer Family Director of Athletics, becoming the ninth athletic director in school history. Jarmond made an immediate impact on the Bruins, jumpstarting the Voting Matters Initiative, the first of its kind in the country which assisted student-athletes in discovering the tools needed to exact meaningful change through civic duty. Jarmond engineered a partnership between UCLA and Nike/Jordan, becoming only the fifth Jordan brand school in the nation and the first partnership with Nike in UCLA history. The six-year agreement between UCLA and Nike provides for 22 of the 25 UCLA varsity sports with Nike apparel, while football, men's basketball and women's basketball don Jordan. Jarmond exhibits a strong commitment to mental health awareness and his emphasis on diversity and inclusion was recognized in a 2021 SBJ award for being a national leader in diversity and inclusive hiring. In addition, Jarmond has UCLA primed to be one of the leaders in the burgeoning area of Name, Image and Likeness (NIL) which will assist student-athletes in growing brand awareness and determining their earning potential. He was also recently named as the Pac-12 Conference representative to the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee for 2021-22.

Comprehensive work by Jarmond and his staff throughout the pandemic, ensured all Bruin teams could compete safely during their 2020-21 seasons. UCLA teams captured four conference titles and the men's water polo team brought national title No. 119 home to Westwood. The men's basketball team embarked on a remarkable journey which led to an appearance in the 2021 NCAA Final Four and the program's first national semifinal appearance since 2008. UCLA finished 13th nationally in the 2020-21 Learfield IMG College Director's Cup. These athletic achievements were balanced by record numbers of student-athletes earning spots on the conference all-academic squads, with 49 individuals earning a perfect 4.0 GPA for the Winter Quarter, and 131 student-athletes earning their UCLA degrees. For the first time ever, the Bruins produced multiple winners of the NCAA Elite 90 Award. Four student-athletes were recognized by CoSIDA as Academic All-Americans.

Jarmond came to UCLA from Boston College, where he served as the school's Director of Athletics for three years. During his time there, he orchestrated the Eagles' first-ever strategic plan, a comprehensive five-year goal to advance the program by fostering student-athlete formation, strengthening competitive excellence, increasing external engagement and enhancing facilities. The strategic plan was supported by BC's first-ever athletics-only capital campaign, at the time, the largest campaign of any Atlantic Coast Conference institution at $150 million. Jarmond hired high-impact coaches in football, women's basketball, softball, volleyball, swimming & diving, men's soccer, women's soccer and fencing. Jarmond served on the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Oversight Committee and on the John McLendon Minority Scholarship Foundation Board of Directors.

Prior to joining Boston College in 2017 and becoming the youngest athletic director of any Power Five institution at age 37, Jarmond previously served as deputy director of athletics at Ohio State, moving up the ranks after arriving as an associate athletic director for development in 2009. During his time at Ohio State, he was the lead administrator for a variety of sports, including football and men's basketball, and directed external and internal relations and day-today operations. He also had responsibility for football scheduling, served on the NCAA Division I Women's Golf Committee, and was a member of the inaugural College Football Playoff National Championship Advisory Group and the Rose Bowl Advisory Committee. As Ohio State Athletics' chief advancement officer, Jarmond helped raise more than $120 million between 2010-2012.

Jarmond was also an assistant athletic director for development for seven years at Michigan State, where he served on the athletic director's executive leadership team. He was a key member of the $1.2 billion "Campaign for MSU" development team and a liaison between Michigan State's university development and alumni association leadership. Jarmond led the efforts to implement Scholarship Seating in football and Courtside seating in men's basketball.

A native of Fayetteville, North Carolina, Jarmond, 41, earned a bachelor's degree in communication studies from the University of North Carolina at Wilmington. A two-year captain of the men's basketball team, he led his team to the program's first-ever NCAA tournament appearance in 2000 and earned Colonial Athletic Association All-Academic honors in 2001. He holds both a M.B.A. and a master's in sports administration from Ohio University. Jarmond is married to Dr. Jessica Jarmond, a dentist. They have three daughters: Scarlett, Savannah and Serena.

Erin Adkins

Asso. Athletic Director
4th Year at UCLA
Arizona '06

Erin Adkins begins her first full-time season as sport administrator for women's soccer.

Adkins, UCLA's associate athletic director of compliance since 2018, is responsible for the oversight of all athletics compliance operations and rules education efforts. She is currently a member of the National Association of Athletics Compliance Coordinators and Women's Leaders in Sports.

From 2015-2018 Adkins worked at Vanderbilt University as the assistant athletic director of compliance. In that role, she was responsible for handling oversight of all compliance related to NCAA and SEC regulations. Adkins also served as sport administrator for the women's swimming and diving team.

Prior to Vanderbilt Adkins began her career at The University of San Diego, serving there from 2009-15. Adkins began at San Diego as a legal intern. Upon graduating law school, Adkins was hired full time as the assistant director of compliance and academic counselor. By 2012, Adkins was promoted to assistant athletic director, where she began overseeing all aspects of NCAA and WCC compliance. Adkins also served as sport administrator for the men's and women's tennis and golf programs.

Adkins graduated from the University of Arizona with a bachelor of arts in 2006 with a major in political science and a minor in business administration. She earned her juris doctorate degree from California Western School of Law and was accepted into the California State Bar in 2010. A native of Los Angeles, Calif., Adkins grew up spending a great amount of time at the Rose Bowl and Pauley Pavilion.

Adkins is the Women's Leader in Sports (formerly NACWAA) 2015 recipient of the Judith M. Sweet Commitment Award, as well as the University of San Diego 2011 Women of Impact Honoree.

Dr. Gene Block

Chancellor
15th Year at UCLA
Stanford '77

Dr. Gene Block became chancellor of UCLA in August 2007. As chief executive officer, he oversees the university's three-part mission of education, research and service.

He has defined academic excellence, civic engagement, diversity and financial security as top priorities for his administration. A champion of public universities, his dedication to access and affordability has enhanced UCLA's position as a national leader in enrolling undergraduates who are Pell Grant recipients, come from underrepresented groups and go on to become first-generation college graduates.

Under Chancellor Block's leadership, UCLA has been named the number one public university in the United States, has grown its profile internationally and receives $1 billion annually in research grants. In one of the largest capital campaigns ever undertaken by a public university, UCLA surpassed its $4.2 billion Centennial fundraising goal more than a year ahead of schedule, raising $5.49 billion total.

An expert in neuroscience, Chancellor Block's current research focuses on the effects of aging in the nervous system and how it impacts biological timing in mammals, including humans. He holds faculty appointments in psychiatry and biobehavioral sciences in the David Geffen School of Medicine at UCLA and in integrative biology and physiology in the UCLA College of Letters and Science.

Chancellor Block holds a bachelor's degree in psychology from Stanford University and a master's and Ph.D. in psychology from the University of Oregon. Before becoming chancellor of UCLA, Block served as vice president and provost of the University of Virginia, where he was also the Alumni Council Thomas Jefferson Professor of Biology. During his 29 years there, he served as vice president for research and public service and as founding director of the National Science Foundation Science and Technology Center in Biological Timing.

Chancellor Block has served on the executive boards of several leading organizations, including the Association of American Universities, National Collegiate Athletic Association, Association of Public and Land-grant Universities and the Association of Pacific Rim Universities. He is the recipient of numerous professional awards and is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Chancellor Block is a native of Monticello, N.Y. He and his wife, Carol, have two adult children.
