Home games in BOLD CAPS

Saint Francis begins a brutal stretch with three consecutive games against ranked opponents on Friday at No. 20 UCLA.

WHAT TO WATCH

- Freshman Myles Thompson scored 16 points in his debut, the most by an SFU freshman since Will Felder scored 17 to open the 2009-10 season.
- Junior Keith Braxton became the quickest SFU player to 1,000 points since Darshan Luckey hit the mark as a sophomore in 2003-04.
- SFU led the NEC in scoring offense in 2017-18 at 79.0 ppg.
- Saint Francis has pulled down 17 offensive rebounds in each of its first two games. The Red Flash only had 15 or more offensive boards in one game all of last season.
- SFU returns 93.3% of its scoring from 2017-18.
- SFU's 18 overall wins and 12 NEC wins were the most in each category since the 1990-91 team went 24-8 and 13-3 in the NEC.

BRAXTON HITS 1K

It was just a matter of time before junior Keith Braxton went over 1,000 career points, which he did in SFU's 80-62 win over Morgan State on Friday. Braxton is the quickest SFU player to 1,000 since Darshan Luckey reached the mark after his sophomore season in 2003-04. Braxton has needed just 67 games to reach 1,000, an average of 15.1 ppg. Luckey reached the mark after just 53 games.

HITTING THE OFFENSIVE GLASS

Saint Francis has been relentless on the offensive glass, averaging 17.0 offensive rebounds per game. SFU's season high in 2017-18 was 15 but the Red Flash has eclipsed that in each of its first two games with 17 at Buffalo and 17 vs. Morgan State.

Rob Krimmel enters his seventh season as the Saint Francis head men's basketball coach in 2018-19 after he was named the 21st coach in program history on April 19, 2012. He is in his 18th season on the Red Flash bench following a successful playing career at Saint Francis. Krimmel has amassed 79 wins in his first five seasons, ranking fourth in program history.

Krimmel's teams have shown improvement from year-to-year in five of his six seasons, culminating with the program's first NEC title appearance in the NEC Championship game since 1991 in 2016-17. The 18-win season in 2017-18 was the most by a Saint Francis team since 1990-91.

BLACKMON'S BACK

The return of redshirt junior Isaiah Blackmon on Friday was a welcomed sight for Red Flash fans. Blackmon missed all but three games last season due to an ACL tear after leading SFU in scoring during the 2016-17 season. After a slow start to the game, Blackmon was able to shake off the rust in the second half and play a key part down the stretch in SFU's win. He finished the game with eight points and five rebounds in just 18 minutes of action.

DUNKIN DK

Junior Deivydas Kuzavas shot 59.5% from the field last season, the eighth best mark in single season program history. He is off to a blistering pace through two games in 2018-19, converting all seven of his field goal attempts. For his career, Kuzavas has shot 57.4 from the field.

LOOKING TO END A STREAK

Saint Francis will have three cracks in a row to end a 48-game losing streak against ranked teams in the AP Poll, starting at No. 20 UCLA Friday night. The Red Flash have lost 19 straight by double digits since a 91-85 defeat vs. No. 13 Pittsburgh on Dec. 1, 1990. The Red Flash trailed No. 19 Louisville by six with four minutes remaining before the Cardinals pulled away for an 84-72 win. SFU's last victory over a ranked opponent was on Jan. 25, 1959, a 92-81 win over St. Bonaventure.

MOVING THE NEEDLE

The Saint Francis basketball program continued to move the needle toward claiming its first NEC Championship in 27 years with 18 overall wins, its most since winning the title in 1990-91. The Red Flash finished third in the NEC during the regular season with a 12-6 record and qualified for the CIT Tournament, its third postseason appearance in the last four seasons.

HIGH-SCORING OFFENSE

For the second consecutive season, Saint Francis and its up-tempo offense led the NEC in scoring, averaging 79.0 points per game. The Red Flash boasted the top FT% (76.2%) and the top FG% (46.6%) and ranked second in the league in 3PT FG% (37.3%). Saint Francis scored 80 or more points in 16 of its 31 games.

BRAXTON EYEING ALL-TIME GREATS

Junior Keith Braxton is on pace to dent all the record books as he enters his junior season. The guard is just 24 points shy of 1,000 for his career and has already eclipsed 500 rebounds. If he duplicates his statistics from his first two years, he will finish third in career scoring (1,930), third in rebounding (1,178), fifth in assists (418) and first in steals (206). Braxton has recorded 24 double-doubles through his first two seasons and the first triple-double in school history which came last season in a win over FDU on Feb. 1

KRIMMEL CLIMBING THE RANKS

Saint Francis head coach Rob Krimmel continues to climb the SFU record books, moving up to fourth all-time in career wins with 79 through his first six seasons. He will pass Tom McConnell and Bobby Jones for second all-time with seven wins in 2018-19.

DEFEND DEGOL

More times than not, the Red Flash treated its fans to a show at DeGol Arena last season, posting an 11-3 home record. The 11 wins were the most at home in coach Krimmel's six-year tenure and the most since 1990-91. Unfortunately, Saint Francis's home magic ran out in the NEC Playoffs when it lost to Fairleigh Dickinson in the NEC Quarterfinals.

NEC AWARD WINNERS

For the first time ever, Saint Francis placed two players on the NEC All-Conference First Team. Junior Jamaal King earned one of the five spots after finishing third in the NEC in scoring during conference play at 20.7 points per game. He scored 20 or more points in 11 of 18 conference games and was the first Saint Francis player to score over 500 points in a season since Darshan Luckey in 2004-05.

Sophomore Keith Braxton also nabbed first team honors after claiming second team honors as a freshman in 2016-17. The top rebounder in the conference at 9.7 per game, Braxton also averaged 17.0 ppg, leading the league with 14 double-doubles. He averaged a double-double in conference games with 17.2 ppg and 10.0 rpg and ranked t-24th in all of NCAA Division I in rebounding and second among all guards. He was 8th in all of Division I in defensive rebounds per game at 8.0.

The accolades didn't stop there as junior Andre Wolford was named the conference's Most Improved Player. The top three-point shooter in the league, Wolford was the first SFU player to win the award since Earl Brown in 2012-13.

He made a team-high 97 three-pointers, the second most in a single season in school history, and ranked first in the NEC and second in the nation in 3PT FG% (49.5%).

Wolford upped his scoring average from 4.7 ppg as a sophomore to 14.1 ppg as a junior, recording six 20-point games. In addition to their First Team All-Conference nods, King and Braxton also landed on the NABC All-District 2 First Team.

KING HITS 1,000

Senior Jamaal King became the 40th player in program history and the first since Earl Brown to reach the 1,000 career point milestone with 15 points at Illinois-Chicago on Mar. 15. The feat is particularly impressive considering he had a shortened freshman season that saw him score a total of 35 points. Since then, he has averaged 14.9 ppg over 65 games.

500-CLUB

Both Jamaal King and Keith Braxton eclipsed 500 total points last season to become the first duo to do so since Mike Iuzzolino and Joe Anderson in 1990-91. They were also the first Saint Francis players to score over 500 points in one season since Darshan Luckey in 2004-05.

PRESEASON ALL-CONFERENCE TEAM

King and Braxton, First Team All-NEC selections from a year ago, were two of the five players selected to the NEC Preseason All-Conference Team. Joining the SFU duo was Fairleigh Dickinson's Mike Holloway Jr., Central Connecticut State's Tyler Kohl and LIU Brooklyn's Raiquan Clark. It is the second straight season that two SFU players were pegged Preseason All-Conference. Braxton and Isaiah Blackmon made the team at the start of the 2017-18 season.

DEALING WITH HIGH EXPECTATIONS

For the second straight season, Saint Francis was picked first in the NEC Preseason Coaches' Poll. The Red Flash received eight of the nine available first-place votes and was followed in the poll by Fairleigh Dickinson (1), LIU Brooklyn (1) and Wagner. Saint Francis was in familiar territory last season. Despite losing the 2016-17 leading scorer Isaiah

Blackmon to injury in just the third game of the season, SFU still managed to go 12-6 in NEC play and earn the No. 3 seed in the conference tournament

DON'T SLEEP ON BLACKMON

The return of redshirt junior Isaiah Blackmon will go a long way in SFU's bid to win its first NEC Championship since 1990-91. Blackmon led Saint Francis in scoring at 13.7 ppg in 2016-17 and was tabbed as an NEC Preseason All-Conference selection entering last year before injuring himself in the third game of the season and missing the remainder of the year. With Blackmon on the floor, SFU has another dynamic shooter to space the floor. Blackmon ranked 6th in all of NCAA DI in 3PT FG% in 2016-17 at 50.0%. He has scored in double figures 35 times for his career and has seven games with 20 or more points.

WOLFORD PROVES HIMSELF AS ELITE SHOOTER

Senior Andre Wolford, the NEC Most Improved Player in 2017-18, established himself as one of the premier shooters in the NCAA last season. Wolford knocked down 97 three-point field goals, the second highest mark in SFU single-season history, and shot 49.6% from beyond the arc, which ranked second in all of NCAA Division I. A team captain in 2018-19, Wolford started his career as a walk-on. An opportunity presented itself early last season after the injury to Blackmon and Wolford seized full advantage, upping his scoring average from 4.7 ppg as a sophomore to 14.2 ppg as a junior.

EXPERIENCED GROUP

The Red Flash will unveil a veteran group when it hits the floor for its season-opener on Nov. 6. Saint Francis returns all five starters and 12 letterwinners from last season's group, including 93.3% of its scoring. Eight of those returners have scored in double figures in at least two games for their careers and six have recorded at least one game of 20 or more points.

LEARNING HOW TO GRIND OUT WINS

A key statistic for the Red Flash last year was an 0-9 overall record when being held under 70 points. The 2017-18 Saint Francis team relied on outscoring its opponents and was successful most of the time. On the nights when the shots weren't falling, SFU was unable to rely on its defense to grind out wins. The return of Blackmon along with defensive-minded newcomers Luidgy Laporal, transfer Ramiir Dixon-Conover and freshmen Myles Thompson and Precious Ikediashi should help alleviate the problem.

On the Air

Saint Francis basketball has enjoyed a loyal fan following for decades. Red Flash fans have not only turned out at the Stokes Center and at away venues, but have also listened to the team's games over the airwaves.

The Voice of the Red Flash, Pat Farabaugh, will call all the home action on www.NECFrontRow.com. Farabaugh, a former SID at the University and a current professor in the Communications Department, enters his second season calling the action for Saint Francis basketball.

He will be joined by Bernie Jubeck, who enters his 15th season as the color commentator.

PAT FARABAUGH (LEFT) AND BERNIE JUBECK (RIGHT) WILL SERVE AS THE BROADCASTING TEAM ONCE AGAIN IN 2018-19. CATCH ALL THE ACTION ON NEC FRONTROW.

The Red Flash will play in two nationally-televised games in a span of two weeks when it hosts conference play. SFU's home game vs. Central Connecticut State on Feb. 7 will air on ESPNU, the second year the Red Flash have hosted an ESPNU contest. The game at Fairleigh Dickinson on Feb. 14 will air on CBS Sports Network.
