U-M WRAPS HOME SLATE WITH FIRST-EVER SERIES VS UCLA IN ANN ARBOR

MICHIGAN WOLVERINES

vs (7) UCLA Bruins

Ann Arbor, Mich. | April 26-28

Wilpon Complex / Carol Hutchins

TOUCH 'EM ALL - THE TOP STORYLINES THIS WEEK

> Michigan will welcome UCLA to Ann Arbor for the first time in program history. The programs have faced each other five times in Los Angeles and six times at the Women's College World Series, most notably in the 2005 championship series, which Michigan won in three games.

> Michigan associate head coach Jennifer Brundage was a four-year standout at UCLA (1992-95), where she was a two-time NFCA All-America first team honoree at third base and was named the recipient of the Honda Award (softball) in 1995. Brundage led all NCAA Division I players in batting average (.518) as a senior and broke the Bruins' career records for home runs, RBI and doubles. On November 11, 2007, she was inducted into UCLA's Athletics Hall of Fame.

> Indiana Langford leads the Wolverines with a career-high .422 batting average, a 93-point jump from her 2023 average (.329). She has batted leadoff over the last 33 games and has reached base more than half the time when leading off an inning (.525, 31-for-59).

> Jenissa Conway has boasted a .569 batting average, 1.275 slugging percentage -- on seven doubles, a triple and nine homers -- and a .600 on-base percentage over the last 15 games. With the surge, she has improved her season batting average to .390, a 154-point improvement over her rookie-season average (.236).

> Lauren Putz ranks second on the team with a .404 batting average and leads with a .490 on-base percentage. After a brief lull in her offensive numbers, Putz has posted multiple hits in three of the last four games.

> Erin Hoehn ranks fourth in the Big Ten and 26th nationally with a career-high 16 wins, surpassing her 2024 total of 15.

> Lauren Derkowski earned 13 strikeouts at Ohio State to up her total to 611 over four seasons. She recently surpassed Sara Griffin (602, 1995-98) to move into the ninth spot among U-M's all-time leaders in the category and is 90 shy of the eighth spot, currently held by Lorilyn Wilson (714, 2004-07).

WOLVERINE BITES

• Michigan welcome UCLA to Ann Arbor for the first time in program history. The Bruins hold a slight edge, 14-10-1, in the all-time series dating back to 1984 and have won each of the last three meetings. The programs have faced each other five times in Los Angeles and six times at the Women's College World Series, most notably in the 2005 championship series, which Michigan won in three games.

• Michigan associate head coach Jennifer Brundage was a four-year standout at UCLA (1992-95), where she helped the Bruins to four NCAA Women's College World Series appearances, including the 1992 national championship and runner-up finish in 1993. She earned a pair of NFCA All-America first team accolades at third base and was named the recipient of the Honda Award (softball) in 1995. Brundage led all NCAA Division I players in batting average (.518) as a senior and broke the Bruins' career records for home runs, RBI and doubles, as well as ranking second on the career list in batting average. On November 11, 2007, she was inducted into UCLA's Athletics Hall of Fame -- the ninth Bruin softball player to earn the distinction.

• Michigan owns an 8-1 record at home this season and have won each of its last seven. U-M boasts an all-time record of 636-154-1 at Carol Hutchins Stadium and Alumni Field.

• The Wolverines will honor their six seniors -- fifth-years Ryleigh Carricaburu and Kaylee Rodriguez and seniors Emerson Aiken, Lauren Derkowski, Ella McVey and Ellie Sieler -- prior to Sunday's game. Over the last four seasons, this group has contributed to a 138-76 record and a Big Ten Tournament title.

• Junior second baseman Indiana Langford and sophomore centerfielder Jenissa Conway both hit over .600 at the top of the lineup over Michigan's three-game weekend series at Ohio State. Conway batted .667 (8-for-12) with six doubles, a home run and three RBI, while Langford hit .636 (7-for-11) from the leadoff spot. They both posted three hits in second and third series games and combined for seven of U-M's 14 runs over the weekend.

• Langford leads the Wolverines with a career-high .422 batting average, a 93-point jump from her 2023 average (.329) when she earned All-Big Ten second team honors. She batted .283 last season. She has batted leadoff over the last 33 games and has reached base more than half the time when leading off an inning (.525, 31-for-59).

• Conway has been lights out of late for Michigan, boasting a .569 batting average, 1.275 slugging percentage -- on seven doubles, a triple and nine homers -- and a .600 on-base percentage over the last 15 games. With the surge, she has improved her season batting average to .390, a 154-point improvement over her rookie-season average (.236). She leads the team in home runs (16) and RBI (43).

• Freshman designated player Lauren Putz ranks second on the team with a .404 batting average and leads with a .490 on-base percentage. After a brief lull in her offensive numbers, Putz has posted multiple hits in three of the last four games and totaled two doubles and two RBI in the OSU series.

• Four Wolverine freshmen have led the team in hitting since 1995 -- Sara Griffin (.432, 1995), Amanda Chidester (.350, 2009), Sierra Romero (.379, 2013) and Lexie Blair (.406, 2019).

• Sophomore RHP Erin Hoehn (16-2) ranks fourth in the Big Ten and 26th nationally with a career-high 16 wins, surpassing her 2024 total of 15. She earned her 16th win in U-M's 11-3 (6 inn.) run-rule decision over Rutgers (April 14), allowing three runs on three hits and two walks with three strikeouts over 5.1 innings.

• Michigan ranks fourth in the Big Ten and 22nd nationally with 11 shutout wins on the season. Senior RHP Lauren Derkowski owns four complete-game shutouts, ranking second in the conference and 21st in the country, and has combined for three more. Derkowski also boasts a career-high five saves this season to share the conference lead.

• Derkowski earned 13 strikeouts over two outings at Ohio State to up her total to 611 over four seasons. She recently surpassed Sara Griffin (602, 1995-98) to move into the ninth spot among U-M's all-time leaders in the category and is 90 shy of the eighth spot, currently held by Lorilyn Wilson (714, 2004-07). Jordan Taylor (2008-11) holds Michigan's program record with 1,220 strikeouts.

• Head coach Bonnie Tholl earned the 100th win as Michigan's head coach with the Wolverines' 8-4 decision against Rutgers (April 14) and the weekend series sweep of the Scarlet Knights. Tholl contributed to 1,366 wins as Carol Hutchins' top assistant and is now 101-58 in her third season at the helm of the program.

• Freshman RHP Kat Meyers retired 15 straight batters against North Carolina Central to earn the ninth perfect game in Michigan program history -- in her first collegiate start. She posted six strikeouts over five innings, including two apiece in the second, third, and fifth innings, with back-to-back swinging strikeouts to close out the game.
