CONSTRUCTION BEGINNING SPRING OF 2017

- ⦿ The University of Kentucky Athletics Department begins construction this spring on a new, state-of-the-art $49 million baseball stadium that will give the Wildcats one of the nation's top facilities.
- ⦿ The project is expected to be complete in late fall of 2018. The 2019 season will be the Wildcats' inaugural campaign in the new stadium.
- ⦿ The stadium will be located off Alumni Drive between the new Kentucky Football Training Facility and the Wendell and Vickie Bell Soccer Complex, adding to the village of UK Athletics facilities in the area.
- ⦿ The stadium will feature permanent seating for nearly 2,500 fans with additional space on grass berms to accommodate more than 4,000 fans for regular-season games. Beyond the outfield wall, temporary bleachers can be installed for NCAA Tournament games to bring the seating capacity to more than 7,000. Fan amenities also will include suites and a new club area.
- ⦿ The team areas are a priority and will give our players and coaches everything they need to compete at a high level in a single location. The facility will feature a team lounge, locker room, training area, indoor hitting and pitching areas, and coaching offices, as well as a recruiting room. All spaces are either new to UK baseball or significantly larger than ones currently in use.

HEAD COACH NICK MINGIONE

Nick Mingione – who spent the last eight seasons as an assistant to John Cohen at Mississippi State – was named Kentucky’s head coach on June 14, 2016.

“Nick Mingione is exactly the kind of coach we hoped to hire when we began our search,” Kentucky Director of Athletics Mitch Barnhart said. “His passion, tactical mind and tireless recruiting efforts made him an important part of Mississippi State’s staff during some great years for the program. More than that, he is a man of substance who is committed not only to developing young men as baseball players, but as students and people. We are excited to welcome Nick, his wife, Christen, and son, Reeves, to the UK Athletics family.”

Mingione takes over the Kentucky program after serving as assistant coach and recruiting coordinator under Cohen at Mississippi State starting before the 2009 season. Working with the team’s outfielders, first basemen and hitters, Mingione helped lead the Bulldogs to an incredible run of success, including the program’s first Southeastern Conference regular-season championship since 1989 this season, a runner-up finish in the College World Series in 2013 and an SEC Tournament championship in 2012.

“This is an opportunity I’ve dreamed about for more than a decade,” Mingione said. “From the moment I first stepped foot on campus I knew it would be a place I could call home. What an incredible feeling to be back. Kentucky is a special place and this baseball program has had great moments over the years, including some that I have been a part of. I can’t wait to get to work on building toward an even brighter future.

“I want to thank President (Eli) Capilouto and Mitch for entrusting the program to me, John (Cohen) for the mentorship that has prepared me for this moment and the unending support of my family, especially my wife, Christen.”

Prior to his time at Mississippi State, Mingione spent two seasons at UK as an assistant under Cohen in 2006-07. UK won 33 SEC games in those two seasons, including in 2006 when UK claimed its first and only SEC championship. After the historic regular season, the Wildcats hosted an NCAA Regional for the first time. Mingione worked extensively at UK with the likes of All-Americans Sawyer Carroll, Sean Coughlin, Collin Cowgill and Ryan Streiby, as well as second-team All-SEC infielder John Shelby III.

Mingione has a sterling reputation as a recruiter. Over the nine seasons at Kentucky and Mississippi State for which recruiting rankings are final, he has helped land classes with an average ranking of 14th, including top-three classes in 2013-15. He also has an unmatched track record of player development, coaching 64 players selected in the MLB Draft, as well as 36 All-Americans and five conference players of the year.

“Nick Mingione has been preparing for this opportunity for the last 13 years and I absolutely know that he will make the most of it,” Cohen said. “He is one of the nation’s elite recruiters. He is a brilliant tactician of the game. His ability to prepare kids for success in the SEC is of the highest level.

“He will make himself an irreplaceable part of the Kentucky baseball community and his wife is one of the finest people I’ve ever met. You try and surround yourself with people who make you a better coach and a better person. Nick Mingione has been that kind of person for me and like a member of my family.”

Before rejoining Cohen at MSU, Mingione spent a season at Western Carolina as assistant coach and recruiting coordinator. There, Mingione helped lead the Catamounts to top-40 national ranking among in 11 different offensive categories.

Prior to his time at Kentucky, Mingione spent three years as an assistant coach at Embry-Riddle University, his alma mater. The Eagles appeared in the NAIA College World Series in each of those seasons, culminating in a runner-up finish in 2005. Mingione also coached at Florida Gulf Coast in 2002, helping lay the foundation for the program before its inaugural season in 2003. He began his coaching career in 2001 at Mariner High School, his alma mater.

Mingione – born in Tarrytown, N.Y., before growing up in Florida – graduated from Embry-Riddle in 2000 with a degree in aerospace studies, as well as a triple minor in business, psychology and humanities. He was also a four-year letterman on the school’s baseball team.

Away from coaching, Mingione travels often for both speaking engagements and mission trips. In 2013, he and six current and former members of the MSU program helped build houses and run baseball clinics for youth on the Bahamian island of Eleuthera. When he returned stateside, he was inducted into the “Be The Best You Are” Baseball Clinic Speaker Hall of Fame. Other past inductees include Ted Williams (2002), Ron Polk (2003), Leo Mazzone (2006) and Cohen (2008).

Mingione is married to the former Christen Reeves. The couple has one son, Reeves.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING ABOUT MINGIONE

“Nick Mingione has been preparing for this opportunity for the last 13 years and I absolutely know that he will make the most of it. He is one of the nation’s elite recruiters. He is a brilliant tactician of the game. His ability to prepare kids for success in the SEC is of the highest level.”

– John Cohen, former head coach at Mississippi State and Kentucky

“I think this is a great fit for Coach Mingione. He’s been a part of winning programs for a long time now. I’m pumped that he’s getting this opportunity and I think the program is going in the right direction. He’s going to do really well because he doesn’t know how to fail.”

– Collin Cowgill, Former UK All-American and Major League outfielder

“Nick Mingione is a rising star in the college baseball world. He demonstrated a keen eye for talent during his time at Mississippi State, where his outstanding player evaluation and developmental skills played a big role in returning the program to national power. He knows what it takes to win at Kentucky because he’s been a part of a group that has won at Kentucky before. And he’s ready to be a head coach. This was a strong hire.”

– Aaron Fitt, Editor and National Writer for D1Baseball.com

“It’s an incredible hire, and he has the type of energy and passion that is rare. He’s an intense competitor, and he’ll set a standard for excellence. Baseball aside, he is a great human being and someone that anyone would want leading their program and young men.”

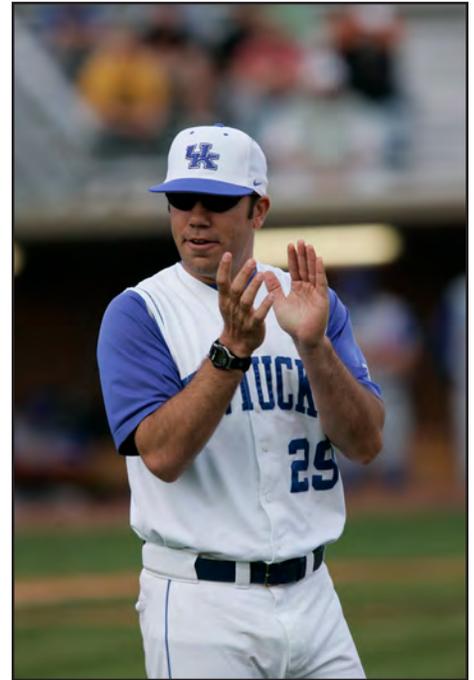

– Ryan Strieby, 2006 SEC Player of the Year and All-American while at Kentucky

“Nick Mingione has built a strong track record over the last decade as an assistant coach in the SEC. His recruiting classes at Mississippi State consistently ranked in the Top 25, and he helped those players continue to get better once they got to campus. Along with his strong coaching credentials, he will bring energy, confidence and kindness to the Wildcats.”

– Teddy Cabill, National Writer for Baseball America

“Nick is one of the more dynamic personalities in the Southeastern Conference, and will bring some serious energy to the Kentucky program. He’s familiar with what UK needs to be successful, and those traits combined with that knowledge should spring success.”

– Kendall Rogers, Editor and National Writer for D1Baseball.com

Mingione, pictured here from Kentucky’s 2006 SEC championship season when he was an assistant coach under John Cohen, helped direct the Wildcats’ explosive offense that season.

IN MINGIONE'S OWN WORDS

On the University of Kentucky ...

"It was (2006), I had never been on the campus of the University of Kentucky. I moved up here from Daytona Beach, Fla. Everything I owned was in my vehicle. I left a great program at Embry-Riddle where I played and coached. I drove up on the campus, saw the most beautiful green grass I've ever seen, so much green grass. Saw the beautiful campus. Went and saw the field. It was at that moment that I thought to myself, I want to call this place home. There was no doubt in my mind that this was a place that you could win at. I'm just so excited to be back, to be the head baseball coach here because it was a dream of mine."

On the importance of family in his program ...

"Family is extremely important to me. We will have a family atmosphere in our baseball program. I need to be able look every parent and every recruit in the eye and they need to know how important family is to me because it is. Relationships are important to me. I want to have great relationships with everybody associated with the program. I do want to build. I will never forget being in Athens, Ga., in 2006, watching our guys dog pile and win the Southeastern Conference championship. I will never forget that. It's our goal, it's my goal, to make sure that happens again."

On creating a winning culture ...

"A winning culture is something that's really important to me. I want to create a culture where we will mention Omaha daily. I'm one of these people that needs to know when I show up every day, I need to have a plan. Our players need to understand. We will mention Omaha on a daily basis. We're trying to get to Omaha. If you get to Omaha, you have a chance to win a national championship."

"Another part of a winning culture is we have to create a winning environment. Our players have to show up every single day knowing they'll be challenged. Yes, it will be fun, but it won't be fun sometimes. They have to show up with a coachable spirit, have an attitude of learning, growing and improving every single day. Every single day they show up hoping we'll be able to create this environment, and we will create this environment."

On having accountability and a coachable spirit ...

"I think the greatest leaders recognize effort and reward performance. Our players every single day will have an opportunity to compete in front of our coaching staff and earn their playing time. It doesn't matter to me what you did a year ago. It doesn't matter to me what you did the day before. Every day is a new opportunity. And victory has to be earned every single day. We'll create our practices and we'll create an environment where our guys can do that."

"With that comes accountability. The same way I am accountable, we'll hold our guys to that accountability. We're going to ask our players to play with great, positive energy, to play with passion, and to play with brains and guts. You've got to have both. You've got to have brains and guts to succeed in this league, and we're going to ask our players to do that."

"We're going to ask our players not to have bad days. Going 0-for-4 with three strikeouts may not be a bad day. There's a lot of people around this world that are doing things and sacrificing their lives for our freedom. We're going to grow, learn and improve from it. There will be no bad days tolerated in our program."

2011	No. 20
2012	No. 14
2013	No. 2
2014	No. 2

"If you think about passion, competitiveness, effort, integrity, character, people that are good stewards, people that are learners, that was Nick over and over. It's not irony. It's not coincidence. Ten years ago we enjoyed a relationship getting to know Nick before he went to go to Mississippi State. We knew from the time that Nick was with us that one day he would be in this spot. It's impressive, what Nick has done. Whether that's a couple conference championships, one here and one at Mississippi State, whether it's a tournament championship, whether it's a College World Series appearance, players of the year developed, freshmen of the year developed. It speaks volumes about his desire to pour into young people at a high level."

ASSISTANT COACH ROLAND FANNING

FIRST YEAR AT UK

Roland Fanning, who has coached an All-America outfielder at each of his three previous schools – including the 2016 NCAA batting champion – will serve as assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Kentucky.

“Roland and I first met at an event in Colorado a few years ago,” UK head coach Nick Mingione said. “I was really impressed with his energy and his ability to communicate. He is passionate about baseball, has an infectious personality and really cares about his players. He has had tremendous success in recruiting and developing players throughout his career.

“Everyone we spoke with about Roland could not say enough great things about him as a coach, but more important, about him as a person. He is a perfect fit to our coaching staff and what we are trying to accomplish at the University of Kentucky.”

Fanning comes to UK from the University of Arkansas at Little Rock, where he coached the outfielders, bunting and baserunning and was the recruiting coordinator in the 2015 and '16 seasons.

As recruiting coordinator, Fanning’s work ethic made a startling impact. Inheriting a team that won only 16 games in his first season (2015) at Little Rock, Fanning and the Trojan staff hit the recruiting trail and revamped the roster. With 27 of the 33 players on the 2016 team in their first year at the school, Little Rock improved to 26 victories, including a school-record 17 Sun Belt Conference wins. The team’s third-place finish in the regular-season standings was the highest ever since joining the SBC. Little Rock led the conference with a .302 team batting average and set a school record for fielding percentage at .975.

A prime example of Fanning’s player development is the progress made by outfielder Ryan Scott over the last two years. After batting .103 as a freshman and .191 as a sophomore, Scott jumped to a .328 mark as a junior, his first season with Fanning, before compiling a monster season as a senior.

Scott led the nation in 2016 with a .435 batting average, adding 12 home runs and driving in 66 runs. He set single-season school records for batting average, RBI, hits (94) and total bases (154). He was named first-team All-America by the American Baseball Coaches Association, Louisville Slugger and HERO Sports. He also was chosen third-team All-America by three other organizations.

Scott was a finalist for the 2016 Gregg Olson Award, presented annually to college baseball’s breakout player of the year. He was named a semifinalist for the Dick Howser Trophy as the national player of the year and was placed on USA Baseball’s Golden Spikes Award Midseason Watch List. Scott also was the Sun Belt Conference Player of the Year, leading the league in seven offensive categories, in addition to his national accolades. He was a seventh-round choice by Boston in the Major League Draft, the second-highest selection in school history.

Prior to his time in Little Rock, Fanning spent the 2013-14 seasons at Oklahoma State, where he worked with the outfielders and bunting game while assisting in recruiting. The Cowboys had a pair of 40-win seasons and Top 25 national rankings in his time there.

The Cowboys went 41-19 in Fanning’s first season, the most wins for OSU since 2008. The Cowboys’ second-place finish in the Big 12 was its best in five seasons. OSU finished with a No. 21 national ranking.

The 2014 season was even better, as Oklahoma State went 48-18 and won the Big 12 regular-season championship for the first time in school history. The Cowboys won an NCAA Regional and hosted a super regional for the first time in school history before finishing with a final ranking OSU had two All-Americans and totaled 13 first- or second-team All-Big 12 selections during Fanning’s two years with the team. In 2014, outfielder Zach Fish was a third-team All-America choice by the ABCA, Baseball America and Collegiate Baseball. He also was the Big 12 Player of the Year and was a first-team All-Big 12 pick in both of Fanning’s years at OSU.

Fanning coached at his alma mater, Southeastern Oklahoma State University, from 2008-12. Assisting with all facets of the program, Fanning helped SE Oklahoma deliver a 163-105 record and five straight winning seasons. Fanning’s term was highlighted by a 35-19 record in 2011, including a Lone Star Conference championship with a 23-10 league mark, and advanced to the Division II NCAA Tournament.

During his term at Southeastern, Fanning helped coach four first- and second-team All-America choices, 25 first- and second-team all-conference selections, a conference pitcher of the year and two major-league draft picks. Among the honorees was outfielder Justin Miller, who earned second-team All-America accolades in 2011 after hitting .433 with 11 home runs, 47 RBI and 26 stolen bases.

“It’s exciting to come to the University of Kentucky and the Southeastern Conference, a great opportunity,” Fanning said of his decision to come to Lexington. “When I met Coach Mingione, I was attracted to his work ethic and his infectious energy. He was locked into all the details. When I got the chance to work with him (at Kentucky), it was something our family couldn’t turn down.”

Originally from Coalgate, Okla., Fanning played at Carl Albert State College and Northern Oklahoma-Enid before finishing his career at Southeastern Oklahoma.

Fanning and his wife, the former Beverly Hemphill, have a daughter, Emery Jo.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT FANNING

“Roland, first and foremost, is a ‘people person.’ He has amazing energy for his players and team and a tremendous passion for the college game. You will enjoy his infectious personality and work ethic. He’s a very special guy with a great motor. He’s high-energy, a relationship-driven person. He’s very team-oriented and will commit himself to the vision of Kentucky baseball. He’s a great piece for what Kentucky is building.”

-- Oklahoma State head coach Josh Holliday

“Coach Fanning worked with us on the mental side of hitting, getting our mind right before a game and getting focused on baseball. He was really good at getting us focused on the larger aspect of the team rather than our individual success. The more you look at the team, the better you do individually.” -- Ryan Scott, former Arkansas at Little Rock outfielder, now in the Boston Red Sox organization

“I first met Coach Fanning when I visited Oklahoma State. He has charisma and a magnetic personality. He’s a rising star, you can tell how much he wants to be great. He has enthusiasm and the ability to connect with people. He has a great personality and is a good baseball man who has learned from some of the best coaches in college baseball. He helped turn around Little Rock, almost got them to a regional (in 2016), by overhauling their roster. He can identify talent and is a go-getter.” -- Aaron Fitt, Editor and National Writer for D1Baseball.com

“I met Roland at Oklahoma State. Number one, he’s a great person and family man. What I see is his passion for the game, his energy. He’s always working his tail off and eager to learn everything. He genuinely cares about each of the players he brings in. He really relates to kids well and gets the most out of his players.” -- Jon Adkins, Regional Cross-Checker Scout, Los Angeles Dodgers

ASSISTANT COACH JIM BELANGER

FIRST SEASON AT UK

Jim Belanger, who has developed record-setting pitchers and 10 major-league draft picks over the last four years at Maryland, will guide the Kentucky pitching staff this season.

“I wanted Coach Belanger at Kentucky for numerous reasons,” Kentucky head coach Nick Mingione said. “What stood out to me was how much family means to him, the fact he’s won everywhere he’s been and his track record of player development.

“He did a great job at Maryland, going to two super regionals the past three years, and he truly understands what it takes to win at a very high level. His player development has been second to none. What he’s been able to do with players who went undrafted out of high school and how he’s turned them into legitimate prospects and top draft picks is impressive. He is an outstanding communicator, with the perfect demeanor for a pitching coach.

“During this search process, his name was the one that kept surfacing, whether it was other college coaches or the people I spoke with in professional baseball.”

Belanger (pronounced BELL-in-ger) developed one of the nation’s best starting rotations in 2016, with Mike Shawarzyn, Taylor Bloom and Brian Shaffer combining for 20 wins, 11 complete games and 232 strikeouts with only 48 walks. The starting trio led a Terrapin staff that finished ninth in the country in fewest walks allowed per nine innings (2.59) and 17th in WHIP ratio (1.22).

Bloom and Shaffer were third-team All-Big Ten selections. Bloom won six games, posted a 2.46 earned-run average, and had 60 strikeouts with only nine walks. His strikeout/walk ratio of 6.67 and his walks per nine innings (0.79) led the league in both categories. Shaffer’s eight wins and 103.2 innings pitched are third-best in a single season in Maryland history.

Despite being only a junior, Shawarzyn set the Maryland career records for wins (30), innings pitched (307.1) and strikeouts (307). He was selected by the Boston Red Sox in the fifth round of the 2016 Major League Baseball Draft, extending Belanger’s string of five straight years with a pitcher taken in the sixth round or higher.

In 2015, Shawarzyn had the best season by a pitcher in Maryland history. He went 13-2 with a 1.71 ERA and was named first-team All-America by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association, Perfect Game and Louisville Slugger. He set single-season school records for victories and strikeouts (138), leading the Big Ten in both categories. Nationally, he finished second in the country in wins, fifth in strikeouts and 17th in ERA. He went on to pitch for the 2015 USA Baseball Collegiate National Team.

Led by Shawarzyn, Belanger’s staff had a great year in strikeouts in the 2015 campaign. Maryland led the Big Ten with a school-record 549 whiffs and ranked 15th nationally in strikeouts per nine innings (8.5). UM had a team ERA of 3.32, helping lead the Terrapins to a school-record 42 wins and second-straight NCAA Regional championship.

In addition to grooming accomplished starters, Belanger also had remarkable relievers in the 2015 season. Kevin Mooney became the best closer in school history with a Maryland career-record 33 saves. Redshirt freshman Ryan Selmer tied a school record for appearances with 31 en route to a 2.18 ERA. Eight of Maryland’s nine returning pitchers lowered their ERAs from the 2014 season.

In 2014, Belanger guided a staff that ranked 12th nationally in strikeouts per game (8.1) and totaled a then-school record 500 strikeouts to help lead Maryland to its first 40-win season in school history and an NCAA Regional championship. The UM staff was led by Jake Stinnett, whose 132 strikeouts led the Atlantic Coast Conference and landed fifth nationally. He received All-ACC and All-Region honors.

Stinnett’s big season helped him make a big jump in the major-league draft, improving 27 rounds from the previous year to the second round in 2014.

As a freshman, Shawarzyn was an immediate performer with 11 wins, a Maryland record which he broke a season later with 13 Ws. He was tabbed Freshman All-America by Baseball America, Louisville Slugger, Perfect Game and the NCBWA.

Meanwhile, Mooney continued the second year of his impressive three-year stint with a school record 13 saves.

In 2013, his first season at Maryland, Belanger’s pitching staff had two of the top-15 pitchers in the ACC in Stinnett and Jimmy Reed. Stinnett had a 2.83 ERA and held opponents to a .204 batting average. Reed posted a 2.33 ERA and was a sixth-round draft selection by St. Louis. Mooney emerged as the team’s closer and his nine saves were most ever by a Terp freshman.

Belanger, who also served as UM’s associate head coach in 2015 and 2016, has been very active in recruiting. As a team, he helped Maryland to a top-20 recruiting class in 2015.

Belanger went to Maryland after three seasons at Monmouth University. He helped develop Pat Light, who made his major-league debut with the Boston Red Sox this season. Light was the 2012 New Jersey Collegiate Baseball Association Pitcher of the Year and was a first-round pick by the Red Sox.

In 2011, Belanger’s pitchers led the Hawks to 36 regular-season wins and the Northeast Conference regular-season title. Monmouth’s 3.34 ERA led the NEC and ranked 37th nationally. Nick Meyers was the 2011 NEC Pitcher of the Year. Andrew McGee was the NEC Relief Pitcher of the Year and picked Louisville Slugger Freshman All-America.

“What sold me was Coach Mingione,” Belanger said when asked of his motivation to come to Kentucky. “I had a great situation at Maryland, and for me to leave, it had to be something special. Coach Mingione is ultra-positive and his attitude and energy are qualities that are going to make him a really good head coach. I also knew about Kentucky and the (SEC) speaks for itself.”

A native of North Babylon, N.Y., Belanger pitched two years at Cecil Community College in North East, Md. He compiled a 17-4 record and Belanger returned to Louisville as a student coach in 2009 while completing his degree in sociology. He helped Louisville win the Big East regular season and tournament championships before heading to Monmouth.

Belanger's wife, Tiffany, is originally from Louisville. They have one son, Sutton.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT BELANGER

"Jim was with me all three years in college and was huge for me. He's high energy, a young coach, and that helped our player-coach relationship. The best part was that he was always on top of the pitchers, looking out for them. He knows what it takes to be a successful college pitcher and a successful professional pitcher. He was instrumental in helping me get to the major leagues. We still talk about pitching." -- Pat Light, first-round draft pick from Monmouth who made MLB debut with Boston Red Sox in 2016

"Jim is very good in adjusting his system, player by player. He doesn't cookie-cut players. He has a strong personality and, obviously, a great track record of player development. He'll be a hard guy for us to replace but I'm happy for him to get this opportunity." -- Maryland head coach John Szefc

"Jim is an up-and-coming coach. I first met him at Monmouth. You could see Jim's impact on Pat Light and that enabled him to move to Maryland. His strength (as a coach) is reinforcing a pitcher's ability to command his fastball and throw strikes. He's always stressed that and that makes our job easy as scouts." -- Keith Connolly, Regional Cross-Checker Scout, Kansas City Royals

"What stood out to me was how much family means to him, the fact he's won everywhere he's been and his track record of player development...He is an outstanding communicator, with the perfect demeanor for a pitching coach."

ASSISTANT COACH TODD GUILLIAMS

FIRST SEASON AT UK

Todd Williams, who has an extensive history of coaching outstanding hitters during his career, has returned to the Commonwealth and will help mold Kentucky's offense with his long history of producing top-flight hitters.

"Coach Williams has coached at the collegiate level for 28 seasons and has been a part of every facet of baseball – coaching catchers, infielders, outfielders, hitters and calling pitches," Kentucky head coach Nick Mingione said. "His overall wealth of knowledge will be invaluable.

"I've known Coach Williams since he began recruiting me in 1995. He's a faithful man, a family man. He's been a winner everywhere he's been, he's a developer of players and, even more important, a developer of men.

"When I began the process of putting together our staff, I was looking for someone who could make our players better in every aspect of life, on and off the field. Coach Williams has an unmatched track record of developing people as well as players. We could not be more excited to welcome his wife, Julie, and Casey, Grace and Wyatt to the Wildcat family."

Williams and Mingione first became associated at Embry-Riddle University, where Williams (pronounced "GWILL-iams," rhymes with Williams) coached during Mingione's playing days.

Williams comes to Kentucky after one season at Western Carolina, where he was the hitting coach and ran the offense, in addition to coaching the catchers. In 2016, the WCU offense ranked in the nation's top 25 teams in batting average (.304, 24th in the nation), runs scored (453 runs, 18th) and home runs (72 HR, 9th).

Individually, first baseman Matt Smith hit .388 with 10 home runs and 55 RBI while being named second-team All-Atlantic Region by the American Baseball Coaches Association. Outfielder Bryson Bowman hit .326 with 19 homers and 60 RBI and was selected third-team All-America by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association and second-team All-Atlantic Region.

The Catamounts' potent attack led the team to the Southern Conference Tournament championship and a berth in the NCAA Tournament. Smith, Bowman, catcher Danny Bermudez and outfielder Kramer Ferrell earned All-SoCon honors. Bowman and outfielder Garrett Brown were selected in the 2016 major-league draft by the New York Yankees and Pittsburgh, respectively.

Williams went to WCU from Valdosta State, where he was part of more than 250 wins, three NCAA regional appearances and two Gulf South Conference championships during his eight seasons there (2008-15).

During his time at Valdosta State, Williams was the team's hitting coach, worked with the catchers and was VSU's Coordinator of Academic Services. He also shared recruiting duties with his brother, head coach Greg Williams.

Valdosta State posted a pair of 43-win seasons during Williams' time on staff, doing so in 2009 and 2010. In addition to those two seasons, the Blazers also made the NCAA Tournament in 2013 after their second GSC title.

One of the banner seasons for Williams came in 2009 as the team led the nation with a school-record 113 home runs -- the fourth-most in NCAA Division II history. The Blazers finished eighth nationally with 578 runs scored and were 11th with a .561 slugging percentage. As a squad, Williams guided the Valdosta State batters to a .332 batting average, the highest mark by the Blazers since 1986. Williams' approach of plate discipline was also manifested as VSU drew 276 walks on the year, ninth-best in the nation. Overall, the 2009 Valdosta State squad ranked in the top 50, out of 228 schools, in 14 of the 15 offensive categories tracked by the NCAA.

Williams' ability to teach the offensive side of the ball also was evident in the personal performance of a pair of Blazers, Brandon Decker and Chase Blackwood, who hit 22 home runs on the year, falling just one short of the school record. Four additional Blazers hit double-digit home runs, giving the 2009 squad a school-record six to accomplish the feat in a single season, while Decker and Matt Costello both hit over .400 on the year.

Williams' attack followed up with one of the best offenses in the nation in 2010. The VSU hitters ranked among the top 10 teams in the nation in three different categories -- finishing eighth in runs with 555, seventh in hits with 717 and second in hit by pitch with 119. The Blazers batted a school-record .351 while scoring 9.3 runs per game, the 14th highest total in the nation.

Prior to making the move to Valdosta, Williams and his brother built a powerhouse at Embry-Riddle University, an NAIA institution in Daytona Beach, Fla. Together they won 622 games, against just 228 losses, in 15 years at the school and made six NAIA World Series appearances. Todd served as the hitting, catching and outfield instructor for the program, which produced 44 NAIA All-America selections. He was also responsible for calling pitches and serving as the program's strength and conditioning coach while filling the role as Embry-Riddle's athletic fields manager for the school's baseball, track and field and soccer complex. Additionally, he spent time as the school's sports information director as well as the academic enhancement coordinator.

One of Williams' players at Embry-Riddle was Mingione, who played at ERU from 1997-2000. In 2014, the Williams brothers were both inducted into the Embry-Riddle Hall of Fame, the first coaches to enter the school's honorary hall.

Todd's run at Embry-Riddle was interrupted as he spent the 2000 season as an assistant with Dallas Baptist. During his year with the Patriots, the team registered a 43-23 record and advanced to the NAIA World Series, finishing second.

#6 • Tristan Pompey

6-4 • 200 • So. • S/R • OF

Toronto, Ontario, Canada

(Jean Vanier Catholic)

- SEC No. 21 2018 draft prospect (D1 Baseball)
- SEC First-Year Academic Honor Roll (2016)
- 2016 SEC Co-Freshman of the Week (2/22/16)
- 31st round draft pick in 2015 (Twins)

Outlook

Comes from a tremendous baseball pedigree with his brother, Dalton, having reached the major leagues with the Toronto Blue Jays as a centerfielder...Coaches believe he may be the most physically gifted athlete on the team...Teammates voted him the second-best player on the roster behind All-American Evan White, with some giving him first-place votes...Flashed some power as a freshman that coaches expect will continue to become more consistent as he matures and gains experience...Showed willingness and aptitude for two-strike adjustments at the plate in the fall, impressing coaches...Considered a very smart player...Can play all three outfield positions, although he's expected to be the starting centerfielder...Very good defender who makes it look easy...Ranked as the SEC's No. 21 2018 draft prospect by D1Baseball.com.

Appeared in 49 games with 43 starts...Batted .233 in 150 at bats with 25 runs scored, 8 doubles, one triple, seven home runs, 29 runs batted in and two stolen bases...Walked 20 times and struck out 48...Had seven multi-hit games...Knocked in at least two runs eight times...Had three game-winning RBI...Started the season hot, hitting three home runs on opening weekend, including two vs. Dayton on 2/21...In that Dayton game finished 4-of-5 with three runs, four RBI, two home runs, a double and a triple, falling just a single short of hitting for the cycle...Earned SEC co-Freshman of the Week honors for Week 1...Started 19 of the Wildcats' final 20 games...Had a six-game hitting streak from 3/15 to 3/25...Homered in a critical victory over South Carolina on 5/7...Homered twice and tripled in three-game series at Ole Miss...Hit .239 with seven extra base hits and a .423 slugging percentage in 23 SEC games...Played each of the outfield positions, starting 22 games in left field, 15 in centerfield and five in right field...Made just one error on the season and owned a .988 fielding percentage.

Pre-College

Led the Canadian Junior National Team to the World Championships in 2015 ... Played basketball and volleyball for two seasons at Jean Vanier ... Played for the Toronto Baseball Club ... Mother Val helped him develop as a switch hitter ... Ranked as the fifth-best Canadian prospect by Baseball America entering the 2015 MLB Draft ... Canadian Baseball Network says, "The younger brother of Blue Jays outfielder Dalton Pompey, Tristan shows more tools than Dalton did at the same age. He is a long way from reaching his ceiling, but the younger Pompey has an intriguing skill set. Pompey has a physically imposing 6-foot-4, 200-pound frame, with broad shoulders and wide hips. He has plus speed and has the potential to stick in center field. Pompey shows above-average bat speed and some feel for the barrel."

Personal

Full name is Tristan Gabriel Pompey ... Born in New Westminister, British Columbia ... Son of Ken and Valerie Pompey ... Major is Communications...Has an older brother, Dalton (23), who was the opening-day centerfielder for the Toronto Blue Jays in 2015... Favorite MLB team is the Toronto Blue Jays...Wears No. 6 as a tribute to the nickname for his hometown of Toronto, 'The 6'.

KEITH MADISON

Keith Madison, the winningest coach in the history of Kentucky baseball, walked away from Kentucky in 2003 after 25 seasons and 735 career victories. He had coached 85 players who were drafted or signed professional baseball contract, including fifty-one of his players were selected in the top 25 rounds and 14 who eventually reached the major league level. He also spearheaded the grand opening of a new 3,000-seat $4.2 million Cliff Hagan Stadium.

A native of Brownsville, Ky., Madison became UK's 22nd head baseball coach on June 7, 1978, at the young age of 26. When he left, he was the third-winningest coach in SEC history behind only legends Ron Polk and Skip Bertman.

In 25 seasons Madison certainly left his mark, not only on the Kentucky baseball program, but also on the national college baseball scene. In Lexington, he oversaw and helped raise money for several of the baseball program facilities, including Kentucky baseball's home site, Cliff Hagan Stadium at Shively Field.

On the national scene, Madison was recognized in 1995 for his knowledge, integrity and concern for college baseball at the American Baseball Coaches Association convention when his peers elected him the organization's fourth vice-president. He eventually served as the president in 2000.

That year, he ran the national convention in Atlanta, drawing the largest turnout in history with over 3,500 in attendance. He continues to serve on the ABCA board and is the director of the South Region which is comprised of 36 institutions.

Madison has also worked with USA Baseball, serving as the national team's pitching coach during the summer of 1999.

Furthermore, two Wildcats under Madison's tenure, Chad Green and John Wilson, competed internationally for the United States. Green was a member of the '96 U.S. Olympic Team, while Wilson traveled throughout the country and to Japan as a national team member.

A philosophy of team unity, character building, sportsmanship and integrity was the cornerstone of Madison's long-standing success in the Bluegrass.

He brought his blueprint for building a successful collegiate baseball program to Kentucky's campus and unveiled a philosophy to run a class program by emphasizing academic success and personal responsibility both on and off the field. The desired results were immediate.

Taking over a program that had just finished last in the SEC Eastern Division and had set the school record for most losses in a season, Madison guided his first team to a 29-18 mark in 1979 and set a school record for most wins in a season.

Over his 25 seasons, UK averaged 29 wins a season and advanced to the NCAA Tournament in 1988 and 1993, with the 1988 berth representing the school's first national tournament appearance in 38 years. After setting the school record for wins in his first season, Madison improved that mark from 39 wins in 1981 to 41 in 1991.

Through all the success, Madison guided nine All-Americans (10 selections), six Honorable Mention All-Americans, 20 first-team All-SEC players and an impressive 89 SEC academic honors selections. He placed 16 players on SEC All-Tournament teams, including the 1981 MVP, Jeff Keener. Keener also led the nation in lowest earned run average that season, posting a 0.51 ERA. Not just a prominent pitching coach, Madison also coached three .400 hitters and his 1994 team led the nation with 110 home runs.

SHIVELY FIELD AT CLIFF HAGAN STADIUM

The Kentucky baseball team calls Shively Field at Cliff Hagan Stadium home since 1979, with renovations done in 2002 and again following the 2006 South-eastern Conference Championship season that saw the first ever NCAA Lexington Regional played at the facility.

A new era began in Kentucky baseball history in 2002 as then head coach Keith Madison and the Wildcats moved into their new lair, the $4.2 million Shively Field at Cliff Hagan Stadium. The state-of-the-art baseball complex replaced the twice-renovated facility that UK baseball had called home since 1969, when it was built as part of the Bernie A Shively Sports Center. In 1990, the facility underwent a $520,000 renovation to refurbish the stadium.

After the 2006 SEC Championship season, the UK athletic administration decided to invest in exterior improvements of Cliff Hagan. Among the improvements which debuted during the 2007 season, was a new state-of-the-art video board, which enhances the viewing experience for fans.

Also added during the 2007 offseason was a 150 capacity deck in the parking lot behind right field. The outfield fence was also lowered and padded to give fans a clear view of the diamond from anywhere in the outfield parking lot.

While Cliff Hagan Stadium is a beautiful place to call home, in Fall 2018 the Wildcats plan on moving into a new $49 million state-of-the-art facility on par with its peers in the Southeastern Conference. The new stadium – which is yet to be named – will be located off Alumni Drive between the new Kentucky Football Training Facility and the Wendell and Vickie Bell Soccer Complex, adding to the cluster of UK Athletics facilities in the area.

UK BASEBALL: 2006 SEC CHAMPS

After a last-place Southeastern Conference finish in 2005 and a preseason expectation to remain in the cellar before the 2006 season, the Kentucky baseball team exploded out of the gates and posted the most successful campaign in the over 100-year history of the Wildcat baseball program.

The 2006 Wildcats ran up a then-school-record 44 wins, claimed the first SEC Championship in school annals, and hosted UK's first NCAA Regional. UK's potent offense set a bevy of school records in the process, including shattering the record for runs scored in a season with 500. UK first baseman Ryan Strieby claimed SEC Player of the Year honors, in addition to earning consensus All-America accolades.

Current head coach Nick Mingione was an assistant coach on the team.
