GOLDA BORST

Head Coach | Visby, Sweden | Eighth Season

@UKCoachGolda | @goldaborst

Golda Borst's Kentucky coaching career has been defined by postseason appearances. Having completed her seventh season as the head coach of the women's golf team in 2016-17, she's led the Wildcats to six NCAA Regional appearances and a breakthrough individual showing in the 2015 NCAA Championships.

UK's 2015 NCAA Regional showing set the program's longest NCAA Tournament streak in school history at five while Isabelle Johansson's NCAA Championships appearance marked the first since Heather Kraus qualified in 1998.

After Borst's program record run of five straight postseason appearances came to an end in 2015-16, the Wildcats bounced back in a big way in 2016-17. UK posted four top-five finishes in its 10 stroke-play tournament format events, plus a win at the Battle of the Bluegrass in a dual match vs. Louisville. The Wildcats also shot three rounds under par as a team, including a school-record 277 (11-under par) in the final round of the Ron Moore Women's Intercollegiate. UK's team scoring average of 298.13 is the second best in school history, behind Borst's 2013-14 squad.

Individually, there were a number of milestones in 2016-17. Johansson tied for first at the season-opening Minnesota Invitational in the fall before Sarah Shipley followed by winning the individual bracket at the East & West Match Play Challenge. Jordan Chael went low at the Ron Moore Women's Intercollegiate with a 65 and then Johansson did one better with a 64 at the UCF Challenge, tying the best 18-hole score in school history.

In seven years as the Kentucky coach, Borst has continued on the path of taking the program to new heights. Under Borst, UK has posted seven of the top eight single-season scoring averages in program history while claiming 18 of the 20 lowest 18-hole rounds.

Under the guidance of Borst, 17 of the top 20 single-season player scoring averages in program history played under Borst. Additionally, 14 of the top 15 marks for most single-season par or better rounds played under Borst.

Academically, the program has been just as good as the on-the-course performances. The Wildcats have racked up 15 Women's Golf Coaches Association All-American Scholar Team honors. The program consistently finishes among UK's team grade-point average leaders, including leading all teams during the spring 2016 semester with a 3.713 team GPA.

Borst hit the ground running in her first year in 2010-11 and hasn't looked back.

In just her first season, in 2010-11, the Wildcats recorded what was then the second- and third-lowest rounds in program history, shooting a 287 in the first round of the UCF Challenge and a 288 in the third round of the Cougar Classic. Kentucky's 54-hole scoring average of 306.30 was, at the time, the second-best mark in program history. As a team, the Wildcats finished in the top 10 in half of the tournaments they played in.

The Wildcats improved their scoring average by 1.57 strokes in Borst's second year in the program in 2011-12. Kentucky earned an eight-stroke victory at the Bettie Lou Evans Invitational, the first win for the program since 2009, and three top-five finishes, the most in a season since the 2005-06 team recorded five top-five finishes. The Wildcats' six top-10 finishes was the most since the 2008-09 team recorded seven.

In her third season at the helm, Borst's squad broke the program's 54-hole season scoring average by 3.63 strokes, which was previously set in 2011-12. Kentucky brought home a first-place finish in the very first tournament of the season, the Old Waverly Bulldog Invitational. For the season, UK finished with three top-five finishes, including fifth place at the SEC Championship.

The Wildcats broke the program's 54-hole season scoring average for the third straight season in 2013-14, this time smashing the mark by 4.97 strokes. Kentucky brought home a first-place finish in the very first tournament of the season, the "MO" Morial Invitational. For the season, UK finished with four top-five finishes while firing three of the top five lowest rounds in program history.

Without any seniors on the roster in 2014-15, Borst took a young team and nearly broke the program single-season scoring average for a fourth year in a row. The Wildcats finished with the then-second-best stroke average in school history and posted their best postseason finish under Borst when they finished in seventh place at the NCAA South Bend Regional, just barely missing on the program's first NCAA Championships berth as a team since 1992.

In addition to five top-10 finishes during the season, the highlight of the 2014-15 season came at the NCAA South Bend Regional when Johansson qualified for the NCAA Championships in thrilling fashion. Playing in just her sixth collegiate tournament, Johansson won in a three-hole playoff to qualify for the NCAA Championships, the first Wildcat to do so since 1998.

Borst's program missed the postseason in 2015-16 due in large part to a slew of injuries. Youth was forced into action earlier than it was ready for, but the Wildcats still made strides. Johansson built on her 2015 NCAA Championships appearance by leading the team in stroke average to go along with a team-high six top-50 finishes. Anna Hack came on late in her freshman season with two top-25 finishes in her final three tournaments and qualified that summer for the U.S. Women's Open as an amateur.

Borst joined the Wildcats from LSU where she served as assistant women's golf coach from 2007-10.

During her stay in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, LSU advanced to the NCAA regionals each of Borst's three seasons, highlighted by a 12th-place finish at the 2009 NCAA Championships.

With Borst, the Tigers recorded a 295.40 team-stroke average during 2009, improving upon the 300.40 posted in 2008. The 2009 season also saw LSU victories at the Bryan Park National Collegiate and Mercedes-Benz Championship, as well as two individual titles. During 2010, LSU earned an individual title while registering a 54-hole 298.00 stroke average.

A four-year letterwinner for the women's golf team, Borst graduated from Tennessee in 2006 with a degree in communication studies. At Tennessee, Borst served as team captain in 2005 and finished with an 18-hole 76.19 stroke average.

Additionally, Borst earned Second Team All-SEC honors in 2006 and was named a three-time SEC Academic Honor Roll member. Borst's top collegiate finishes came when she placed second in both the 2005 Bryan Park National Collegiate and 2006 Dr. Donnis Thompson Invitational.

Borst and the Lady Volunteers advanced to the NCAA Women's Golf Championship during the 2004-06 seasons.

A native of Visby, Sweden, Borst competed for the Swedish National Golf Team from 1999-2003. With Borst, the team claimed medalist honors at the Girls Team European Championship in 2000, second at the Lady's Team European Championship in 2001 and third in the Lady's Team European Championship in 2002.

Prior to coaching at LSU, Borst worked at the Ritz Carlton Golf Club in Sarasota, Florida, assisting in course and tournament operations.

Borst, formerly Golda Johansson, is married to Steve Borst. They have a daughter, Lillian.

BRIAN MAY

Assistant Coach | Frankfort, Ky. | Fourth Season

🐦 @UKcoachBmay | 📷 @ukcoachbmay

Brian May enters his fourth season as an assistant coach with the University of Kentucky women's golf team in 2017-18 after serving as the head golf professional at the Frankfort Country Club for two and a half years.

In May's first season as an assistant coach at Kentucky, UK made a fifth straight appearance in NCAA Regionals, a school record. The Wildcats returned to the NCAA postseason in 2017 after a banner bounce-back season.

At the 2015 NCAA South Bend Regional, the Wildcats finished in seventh place with a furious last-day comeback, just narrowly missing out on the program's first NCAA Championships berth since 1992. The seventh-place finish is the best of the Golda Johansson Borst era.

Although the Wildcats were unable to find similar success at the 2017 NCAA Columbus Regional, they bounced back in a big way in 2016-17 thanks to May's on-course coaching after an injury-plagued 2015-16. UK improved its scoring average by eight strokes from the season before. The 2016-17 team average of 296.13 is the second best in school history.

The Wildcats posted nine individual top-10 finishes, carded 38 rounds of par or better and recorded four top-five finishes in stroke-play tournaments in 2016-17.

In May's first season as an assistant, in 2014-15, Isabelle Johansson qualified for the NCAA Championships as an individual in her 2015 freshman season, becoming the first Wildcat to do so since Heather Kraus in 1998.

In 2015-16, without key veterans like Ale Walker and Sarah Harris, who missed the entire season because of injuries, UK's young nucleus was forced into action and made promising strides with the tutelage of May.

May helped in the recruitment of highly touted freshmen Josephine Chang and Sarah Shipley, who appeared in nearly every tournament for Kentucky during the 2016-17 season.

A native of Frankfort, Kentucky, May graduated from the Golf Academy of the South in Orlando, Florida. In December of 2007, May returned to Lexington to take additional classes in exercise science at UK.

A PGA Level 3 Apprentice, May continued his golf career at the Frankfort Country Club where he served as the assistant golf professional for two years before being promoted to head golf professional in January of 2013.

A 2003 graduate of Franklin County High School, May is married to the former Corie Broering.

BETTIE LOU EVANS

Director of Operations | Lexington, Ky. | 17th Season as Director of Operations | 40th Season at UK

Bettie Lou Evans completed her 16th year as director of golf operations in 2016-17 after serving 23 years as head coach of the UK women's golf team. The success of Evans' teams for more than two decades earned the coach Hall of Fame recognition before she moved into her current administrative position.

Evans is instrumental in fund raising activities for the golf programs, directing operations and serving on the advisory board of the University Club.

During her tenure as UK's women's golf coach, the longest run of any Kentucky women's golf coach, Evans was able to develop the program into a consistent competitor in the Southeastern Conference, Mid-Atlantic East Region and the NCAA Tournament.

Under Evans, the Wildcats finished in the top half of the SEC four of her last seven seasons as coach. Their best conference finish was second place in 1986. Evans was named the SEC Coach of the Year in 1992 and Mid-Atlantic East Coach of the Year in 1986 and 1990. In January 1997, Evans was inducted into the National Golf Coaches Association Hall of Fame.

On the national scene, the Wildcats advanced to NCAA Regionals 14 times under Evans, appearing in the NCAA Championships five times. Kentucky's best finish came in 1986, when UK finished fifth in the NCAA Tournament. The Wildcats finished in 10th place in 1988, 13th in 1990, 10th in 1991 and 17th in 1992. Former assistant coach Heather Kraus appeared in the 1998 NCAA Championships as an individual.

During Evans' reign at UK, the Wildcats earned 53 Academic All-SEC honors with five golfers named to the Women's Golf Coaches Association All-American Scholars. Under Evans, nine UK golfers received All-SEC honors 11 times, while two golfers were awarded All-America status.

Evans has been instrumental in women's collegiate golf off the links as well. She served on the Mid-Atlantic advisory board and was chairperson in 1982 and 1983. She sat on the USGA Women's Regional advisory committee and served as an SEC representative in 1982.

Evans has also been president of the Women's Kentucky State Golf Association and a member of the Kentucky Golf Hall of Fame.

Evans is a former member of Lexington's Spring Lake Country Club board of directors and the Griffin Gate Community Association. She is currently serving on the advisory board at the University Club of Kentucky. She's a member of Spring Valley Country Club and Idle Hour Country Club.

She has won numerous club championships over the years and was runner-up in the Women's Central Kentucky Championship three times. With years of golf experience,

A graduate of Transylvania University in Lexington, Evans was president of Chi Omega sorority. In 1993, Evans was named to the Sports Hall of Fame of Transylvania University.

Evans is married to Stanley D. Rullman, a senior partner with the Millikin-Fitton Law Firm, and has one son, Vance Evans, who works at Longwood Antique Woods.

BETTIE LOU EVANS INVITATIONAL

TOURNAMENT REVIVAL

The 2017 Bettie Lou Evans Invitational, co-hosted by Kentucky and Indiana, will make a return after a six-year hiatus.

Now in its 28th season, the 2017 Bettie Lou Evans Invitational will feature 16 teams at the University Club, Oct. 6-8.

The Wildcats have won the tournament 11 times, including the last time in 2011.

The tournament, formerly known as the Wildcat Fall Invitational, began in 1979 (there were actually two tournaments in 1976 and 1977 before women's golf became a varsity sport at UK) and was played every year until a four-year break from 1998 to 2001. The Kentucky tournament also took one-year breaks in 2008 and 2010 before its current six-year gap.

FACILITIES

The University Club

Opened in 1992, the University Club is a semi-private club licensed by UK. The U-Club is the official home of the men's and women's golf teams and is the host site for all of UK's tournaments.

Internationally renowned golf course architect Arthur Hills designed the renovations to the 36-hole championship course. The University Club features the Big Blue Course (par 72, 7,013 yards) and the Wildcat Course (par 71, 6,680 yards). The courses are complemented by a dozen lakes and ponds, providing players with a beautiful and challenging round of golf.

The clubhouse is filled with UK memorabilia and contains private meeting rooms that serve to host a variety of University-related conferences, events and meetings.

UK Golf House

The University Club of Kentucky Golf House, opened in January 2014, is an 11,627-square foot facility located within the heart of the 36-hole University Club of Kentucky complex

Amenities include a 5,100-square foot indoor putting and chipping area, three separate hitting bays that are 22 feet wide by 20 feet deep, a club repair area, locker rooms for both teams, a team lounge, and a conference room.

The facility is the first of its kind, dedicated solely to the UK golf programs.

UNIVERSITY CLUB LAYOUT (BIG BLUE COURSE)

Hole 1

Par 4 361 Yards

A good drive to this generous fairway will set up a short iron approach to a large, rather flat green. This hole offers a good scoring opportunity!

Hole 2

Par 4 383 Yards

An accurate drive is required to hit this narrow fairway. Second shots play slightly downhill.

Hole 3

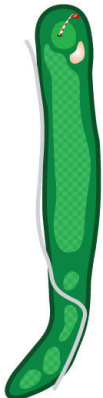

Par 3 148 Yards

This medium length par three plays downhill, but you must hit enough club to carry the deep front bunker. Par is a good score here.

Hole 4

Par 4 353 Yards

A well-struck tee shot short down the left side of the fairway will set up a middle iron approach. Take your time reading the subtle breaks on this green.

Hole 5

Par 5 436 Yards

This hole is a big hitter's dream. Aim down the left side and let it loose! With a well-struck tee shot you can go at the green in two. However, if a lay up is necessary, avoid the cross bunker guarding the front of the green at all costs.

Hole 6

Par 4 352 Yards

Going with a fairway wood or long iron is usually the prudent play off the tee. A good drive sets up a middle to short iron approach to a very undulating green. Do not be short!

Hole 7

Par 5 487 Yards

After safely playing a tee shot to the right of the water hazard, the lay up second shot must avoid the fairway bunkers down the right side, leaving a wedge for your approach shot and a chance for birdie.

Hole 8

Par 3 129 Yards

This tee shot is the scariest one on the course! This short par 3 plays considerably downhill, but gives you no margin for error. Aim for the middle of the green and hope that the wind is not blowing when you get here.

Hole 9

Par 4 326 Yards

Long hitters can cut the corner and get very close to this deep green. However, a tee shot played into one of the bunkers on the left is nearly impossible to put on the green. Instead, go with an iron to the fairway, leaving a wedge approach shot.

UNIVERSITY CLUB LAYOUT (BIG BLUE COURSE)

Hole 10 Par 4 344 Yards

Drives must be played between the fairway bunkers. The blind second shot plays slightly uphill. Stay beneath the hole here!

Hole 11 Par 4 342 Yards

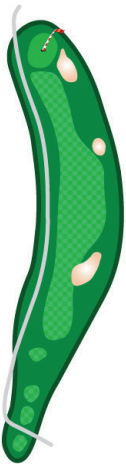

This par four offers one of the few scoring opportunities on the back nine. An accurate tee shot will leave a short iron approach.

Hole 12 Par 3 151 Yards

Club selection is critical here. Take enough club to carry the water on this long par three, but do not be careless. A very tricky pitch shot awaits if you make a mistake long.

Hole 13 Par 5 464 Yards

Another scoring chance! Avoid the fairway bunker off the tee and this hole will offer a good opportunity for birdie.

Hole 14 Par 4 327 Yards

A fairway wood from the tee to an ample landing area will set up a short approach to this sloping green.

Hole 15 Par 4 384 Yards

Two good shots are required here. Keep the ball down the left side off the tee to shorten the second shot. An approach shot towards the front left side of the green is the smart play. Par is a great score.

Hole 16 Par 5 475 Yards

This is a three-shot par five. The tee shot must avoid the fairway bunkers on the right. Lay up your second shot to a good wedge yardage. Shots short or long of this small, undulating green will yield bogey or worse.

Hole 17 Par 3 170 Yards

This is the longest of the par three holes. A well-struck long iron or fairway wood is required to reach the large, flat green.

Hole 18 Par 4 371 Yards

What a finish! A strong accurate tee shot will leave a middle iron to this small, tricky green. The green is extremely fast from back to front. Keep the ball beneath the hole for a good putting opportunity.

WILDCATS IN THE PROS

Nancy Scranton, who competed at UK from 1982-84, made an estimated $3,324,205 on the LPGA Tour.

Part of the college experience is preparing students for the next level. Playing collegiate golf at the University of Kentucky is no different.

UK has a long history of preparing players for the professional ranks. Players like Nancy Scranton, Myra Blackwelder, Amy Read, Kate Rogerson, Tonya Gilla and Noelle Daghe have molded their games at Kentucky and gone on to successful careers at the next level.

Scranton is the most noteworthy of the bunch. She won three times on the LPGA Tour, including a major championship victory at the 1991 du Maurier Classic. A member of the 2000 U.S. Solheim Cup Team, she posted top-10 finishes at three other majors, including third place at the Women's PGA Championship in 1999 and 2000. All told, Scranton made an estimated $3,324,205 on the LPGA Tour alone. She was also inducted into the LPGA Legends Tour Hall of Fame in 2017 for her success on the women's senior tour.

Blackwelder earned approximately $634,522 on the LPGA Tour during her career before transitioning to the LPGA Legends Tour and eventually a college coach, including at Kentucky from 2008-10. She was the LPGA Rookie of the Year in 1980.
