HEAD COACH KIM MULKEY

Success = Kim Mulkey. No matter what she's attempted in basketball, whether it be on the court or along the sideline, Mulkey has found success. In her 18th season as a head coach, she has attained 511 career victories and ranks No. 2 among the winningest active Division I head coaches (.842) and is No. 3 all-time by percentage ahead of Hall of Fame coach Pat Summitt. Only one person, her mentor Leon Barmore, attained 400-win and 500-win milestones quicker. It took Barmore 13 seasons and three games to accumulate 400 wins, while Mulkey achieved it in 13 years and 32 games. Barmore reached 500 wins in 576 games, while Mulkey accomplished the milestone in 594 games as a head coach.

When the Women's Basketball Hall of Famer accepted the position as Baylor University's women's basketball head coach on April 4, 2000, few could have predicted the dramatic and prestigious transformation the program was about to undergo. In just 17 years at Baylor, the former Olympic Gold medalist has twice guided the Lady Bear basketball program to the pinnacle of women's basketball, the 2005 and 2012 NCAA national championships, 16 NCAA Tournament appearances, 17, 20-win seasons, 15 , 25-win efforts, eight 30-win campaigns and an NCAA record 40 wins and undefeated record in 2011-12. In addition, over the past 12 seasons, Mulkey has led the Lady Bears to three Final Four appearances (2005, '10, '12) and a Big 12 women's basketball record 16 conference titles.

The 2005 national title was Baylor's first for a women's team sport, and just the second in school history overall. In winning the 2005 title, Mulkey became the first person, man or woman, to win a basketball national championship as a player, assistant coach and head coach.

En route to the 2005 NCAA championship, the Lady Bears won their first Big 12 Conference championship and were the league's tournament champion, too. In 2009, the Lady Bears added to the trophy case with another Big 12 Tournament crown, claimed both the 2011 regular season and tournament crowns and captured the 2012 regular season title by a record seven games over second-place finishers Oklahoma and Texas A&M and again earned the tournament crown. The Lady Bears duplicated the feat in the 2012-13 season, winning both crowns, and became the first team to win three straight conference tournament titles and five all-told. In 2013-14, Baylor claimed its fourth straight Big 12 regular season title becoming the first league school to achieve that feat and claimed its fourth straight and sixth overall tournament crown. The 2014-15 season produced more hardware for the trophy case as BU claimed its unprecedented fifth straight and sixth overall Big 12 regular season title and claimed its fifth straight and seventh overall tournament crown. In 2015-16, BU claimed it sixth straight and seventh overall Big 12 regular season crown and again doubled up with its sixth straight and eighth overall tournament title. The Lady Bears earned their seventh Big 12 regular season title in a row in 2016-17.

Mulkey has produced amazing results since taking over the program's reins on April 4, 2000, averaging 29.6 wins per year. In her 18th year at the program's helm, she has posted an impressive 511-96 (.842).

Since coming into the league in 2000-01, Mulkey, a five-time Big 12 Coach of the Year, owns the top winning percentage and most victories among Big 12 coaches.

Mulkey is the mother of two children, Makenzie Fuller and Kramer Robertson, both of whom are highly successful athletes. Makenzie was a four-year letterwinner on Baylor's women's basketball team and during her career the team posted an impressive 140-10 record, which included eight Big 12 crowns and an NCAA national championship (2012). Makenzie earned both a bachelor and master's degree from Baylor and married former BU football and professional baseball player Clay Fuller. She is currently on the Lady Bear basketball staff as associate director of operations. After leading LSU back to the College World Series in 2017, which resulted in a runner-up finish, Kramer was selected in the fourth round of the MLB Draft by the St. Louis Cardinals. The two-time collegiate All-American plays shortstop for the Peoria Chiefs, the club's Class A affiliate.
