Media Information

CREDENTIAL REQUESTS

Requests for single-game credentials should be made as far in advance as possible and no later than five days prior to game day online at sportssystem.com/Kentucky.

CREDENTIAL CRITERIA

The University of Kentucky's decision to issue credentials to a media outlet for the purposes of covering a UK basketball home or away event is determined by a variety of factors. They include the following:

- Amount of coverage given to Kentucky throughout the season
- Intention/ability to cover all 22 sports at Kentucky
- Distribution/size of publication: free, subscription, sale on newsstands, website traffic, etc.
- Radio or TV station program format and size of audience
- Length of existence of the publication, amount of original copy generated, number of full-time employees of the publication and the journalistic experience of the reporter(s)
- Attendance at Kentucky media sessions, including Olympic sport opportunities
- Space availability
- Professionalism, which includes but is not limited to conduct at games, press conferences, practices, on social media, etc.

The University of Kentucky has the right to revoke credentials under its own discretion.

GENERAL INTERVIEW POLICIES

All interviews with University of Kentucky basketball players or staff members must be arranged through the Media Relations office. Media should never contact a player or coach directly.

The Wildcat Coal Lodge, dormitories, team locker rooms and other team quarters are private team areas. Media members are not permitted in these areas unless accompanied by appropriate university personnel.

PRACTICE/PRESS CONFERENCES

Other than announced exceptions, UK basketball practices are closed to the media. UK will accept requests to attend practice. All requests must be made by 10 a.m. on the day of the practice. In cases in which practices are open to the media, no cell phones are allowed in the practice facility.

Player interviews are conducted prior to practices the day before a game and will be available to all UK media in the Memorial Coliseum media room. UK will accept requests for player interviews, but they must be submitted 24 hours prior to the scheduled availability.

Coach John Calipari or an assistant coach will meet with members of the media immediately following player interviews in the Memorial Coliseum media room.

Gameday shoot-arounds are closed to the media.

TELEPHONE PLAYER INTERVIEWS

Telephone interviews are available to the media on a call-back basis. Individual player and coach telephone numbers will not be given to members of the media.

Players are instructed not to conduct interviews when contacted directly by telephone. The UK Media Relations office will arrange for telephone interviews at a time most convenient for the student-athlete.

Other special requests are handled on a case-by-case basis.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Following each game, there is a 20-minute cooling-off period, during which time the players shower and dress. Approximately 10 minutes after the game ends, Coach Calipari conducts his postgame press conference while a player is taken to the UK Sports Network.

Following Coach Calipari's press conference and the cooling-off period, selected UK players are brought to the media interview room.

Kentucky Downs Georgia in SEC Tournament Quarterfinals

John Calipari never had any doubt Kentucky fans would make their annual pilgrimage to this year's Southeastern Conference Tournament, even if it was west of the Mississippi River in St. Louis' Scottrade Center.

Big Blue Nation was on hand, and in full force, as the Wildcats made their tournament debut with a 62-49 win over Georgia in the quarterfinals on Friday.

PJ Washington scored 18 points to lead Kentucky, which entered as the No. 4 seed, the first time the school hasn't been a top-two seed since Calipari was hired in 2009. Even the up-and-down regular season, however, couldn't keep away a Wildcats' fan base that has celebrated 30 SEC Tournament titles in its history, including the last three.

Of the 16,364 in attendance for the afternoon tipoff, the sea of blue left little doubt about whether Kentucky's usual crop of heralded freshmen would feel right at home against the surprising No. 12 seed Bulldogs (18-15).

"I think there was more blue than any other team in the whole tournament," Wildcats freshman Kevin Knox said. "... They travel pretty much anywhere else in the world to watch us play. It's good to know you've got your fans in there when you play any game, and they're there to support you."

Knox and Shai Gilgeous-Alexander each added 15 points in the win, which was Kentucky's fifth in its last six games following a four-game losing streak.

Georgia was playing its third game in as many days after advancing in the tournament with earlier victories over Vanderbilt and Missouri. The emotionally charged Bulldogs took a 23-22 lead late in the first half after a pair of free throws by Associated Press SEC player of the year Yante Maten, but the edge was short-lived.

The Wildcats responded with an 8-0 run to take a 30-23 halftime lead and surged ahead by as many as 17 points in the second half.

Tyree Crump led Georgia with 17 points, while Maten was held to nine points on 2-of-10 shooting. The Bulldogs' 49 points were the lowest Kentucky has limited any opponent to this season.

"It was their third game in three days," Calipari said. "Our whole thing was: 'Let's get into their legs. Let's pressure them. Let's do things to get into their legs.' That was probably the biggest reason."

NOTABLES:

- UK improved to 131-25 all-time in the SEC Tournament and 44-11 in the quarterfinals
- It's the fifth straight season UK has advanced to the semifinals. The Wildcats moved on to the championship game in those previous four seasons
- Kentucky limited Georgia to 28.3 percent from the field, Georgia's season low. It's the first time the Wildcats have held an opponent to less than 30 percent from the floor since limiting Stony Brook to 26.3 percent on March 17, 2016, in the NCAA Tournament. UK is now 165-14 under Calipari when keeping the opponent under 40 percent from the field
- UK is 64-0 under Calipari when keeping opponents to 55 or fewer points
- Kentucky had a season-low five turnovers and is 11-0 this season when committing 11 or fewer miscues

Wildcats Seeking Fourth Straight SEC Tournament Title

Kentucky improved to 131-25 all-time in the Southeastern Conference Tournament and 44-11 in the quarterfinals with a 62-49 victory over Georgia on Friday in the quarterfinals. UK will play ninth-seeded Alabama in the semifinals at 1 p.m. ET on Saturday in the semifinals.

It's the fifth straight season UK has advanced to the semifinals. The Wildcats moved on to the championship game in those previous four seasons, winning the title in the last three. The Wildcats are a remarkable 41-2 in the SEC Tournament semifinals.

Kentucky is played as the No. 4 seed, the first time UK has played lower than a two seed (conference or division) under John Calipari. The last time UK was the No. 4 seed in the SEC Tournament was in 2009.

The Wildcats defeated Alabama 81-71 on Feb. 17 in Rupp Arena. UK is 15-2 vs. the Crimson Tide in the SEC Tournament.

Kentucky leads the league with 30 SEC Tournament titles, including five under Calipari. UK has captured each of the last three titles.

It's the first time in the history of the SEC Tournament that the city of St. Louis will host. Kentucky last played in the Scottrade Center during the memorable 2014 NCAA Tournament run. UK beat Kansas State in the opening round, before knocking off previously undefeated and the tournament's No. 1 overall seed in Wichita State to advance to the Sweet 16.

Crawford Tabbed UK's 2018 SEC Legend

Former Kentucky men's basketball star Joe Crawford will represent the Wildcats as a member of the 2018 Southeastern Conference Legends at the SEC Tournament in St. Louis.

Past greats from all 14 SEC member institutions will be honored at the league tournament March 7-11 at the Scottrade Center. Crawford was honored at halftime of UK's game against Georgia on Friday.

Crawford, a four-year letterwinner from 2005-08, is one of the leading scorers in Kentucky's storied program history. With 1,438 career points, Crawford finish his career at No. 19 on UK's all-time scoring list.

An All-SEC Second Team pick in 2008 by the league's coaches, Crawford averaged double-figure scoring in three of his four seasons, including 17.9 points per game in his senior year. He made 40 or more 3-pointers in his final three seasons, including 63 in both his junior and senior seasons.

In 2005, while Crawford was a freshman, the Wildcats won both the SEC regular-season and tournament crowns. Crawford was considered a fan favorite. He was drafted 58th overall in the second round of the 2008 NBA Draft by the Los Angeles Lakers and played professionally until 2015.

This marks the 20th year of the SEC Basketball Legends program.

Knox Wins SEC Co-Freshman of the Year; Gilgeous-Alexander Also Honored

Freshmen Kevin Knox and Shai Gilgeous-Alexander, Kentucky's two leading scorers and most consistent performers, were honored by the Southeastern Conference's league coaches on Tuesday. Knox was named, alongside Alabama's Collin Sexton, as the SEC Freshman of the Year, and a first-team selection, while Gilgeous-Alexander was a second-team pick by the 14 head coaches. The duo was among eight players on the All-SEC Freshman Team.

All 14 conference head coaches voted on the eight-man first- and second-team All-SEC squads. Ties were not broken.

Knox was joined on the first team by Jaylen Barford (Arkansas), Chris Chiozza (Florida), Yante Maten (Georgia), Kassi Robertson (Missouri), Chris Silva (South Carolina), Grant Williams (Tennessee) and Tyler Davis (Texas A&M).

Gilgeous-Alexander was a second-team member alongside Sexton, Daryl Macon (Arkansas), Bryce Brown (Auburn), Jared Harper (Auburn), Quindary Weatherspoon (Mississippi State), Admiral Schofield (Tennessee) and Jeff Roberson (Vanderbilt).

Knox is the ninth Wildcat to win SEC Freshman of the Year, as voted on by the league's coaches, in Kentucky's storied history. He is the eighth player in the last nine seasons under John Calipari's direction to claim the distinction. With the freshman duo capturing league honors, Calipari has now coached 23 players who have earned All-SEC accolades. At least one player has been named to the All-SEC Freshman Team, including 24 total, in all nine seasons under Calipari, and in eight of the nine seasons multiple players have been tabbed to the squad.

In addition to UK's two freshmen, Sexton, Daniel Gafford (Arkansas), Tremont Waters (LSU), Nick Weatherspoon (Mississippi State), Jontay Porter (Missouri) and TJ Stars (Texas A&M) made up the All-SEC Freshman Team.

After earning All-Southeastern Conference honors, Gilgeous-Alexander and Knox were also among 10 players selected for the United States Basketball Writers Association's District IV Team. The District IV Team includes players from the states of Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

Joining UK's freshmen on the list are Bryce Brown (Auburn), Chris Chiozza (Florida), Jared Harper (Auburn), Nick King (Middle Tennessee State), Yante Maten (Georgia), Collin Sexton (Alabama), Jonathan Stark (Murray State) and Grant Williams (Tennessee).

The Wildcats have had 19 players named to the USBWA All-District team in the nine seasons under the direction of head coach John Calipari. Fifteen of those players were freshmen, including Devin Booker (2015), DeMarcus Cousins (2010), Anthony Davis (2012), De'Aaron Fox (2017), Terrence Jones (2011), Michael Kidd-Gilchrist (2012), Brandon Knight (2011), Malik Monk (2017), Jamal Murray (2016), Nerlens Noel (2013), Julius Randle (2014), Karl-Anthony Towns (2015) and John Wall (2010).

Knox Among the Best Freshmen in the Nation

Kevin Knox re-asserted himself into the national discussion as one of the nation's best freshmen after a 34-point performance at then-No. 7/7 West Virginia.

The U.S. Basketball Writers of America named him both the Oscar Robertson National Player of the Week and the Wayne Tisdale National Freshman of the Week and the Atlanta Tipoff Club tabbed him its Citizen Naismith National Player of the Week honors on Jan. 31. On Feb. 8, he was one of 10 finalists for the Julius Erving Award, presented annually by the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame to the nation's top small forward, and he's on the Citizen Naismith Trophy late-season list as a national player of the year candidate.

Knox is the second freshman this season to earn both USBWA honors in the same week, joining Oklahoma's Trae Young, who did it in December. It was also his first SEC honor.

Knox is the first UK freshman to earn Tisdale Freshman of the Week honors since Tyler Ullis and Karl-Anthony Towns claimed the honor during the historic 2014-15 season. Malik Monk was tabbed the Oscar Robertson National Player of the Week following his 47-point performance against North Carolina last season.

Knox averaged 26.5 points and 6.5 rebounds per game in wins over Mississippi State and at No. 7/7 West Virginia that week. He had 19 points, six boards and a pair of steals against the Bulldogs. In the epic come-from-behind win over West Virginia, Knox poured in 34 points and added seven rebounds. The scoring output was the most since De'Aaron Fox had 39 in a win over UCLA in the Sweet 16 in the 2017 NCAA Tournament. The 34 points tied Malik Monk's freshman school scoring record on the road (Monk scored 34 at Ole Miss to open SEC play a season ago). They're also the most by a UK freshman in a nonconference true road game.

Overall, Knox leads the Wildcats in scoring at 15.7 points per game. He's reached double-figure scoring in 26 games this season and has a team-high nine games of 20 or more points, while also leading the team in rebounding on seven occasions. He is first on the team with 174 rebounds on the year for an average of 5.4 per game. Knox has also put together a team-high-tying two double-doubles on the year and has drained a team-high 52 3-pointers.

He's averaging 17.6 points per game over the last 13 games, scoring in double figures in all but one of those games. He also notched 20 or more points in three straight games vs. Arkansas, Missouri and Ole Miss, the first player to do that since Monk did it in November and December of 2016.

The Tampa, Florida, native is shooting 44.1 percent from the field, 34.9 percent from 3-point range and 76.9 percent from the charity stripe. In games in which UK has won this season, he is averaging 16.6 points, 5.7 rebounds and 1.5 assists per game.

Gilgeous-Alexander UK's 'Best Player?'

Originally filling in as the starter at point guard after a back strain sidelined Quade Green for three games, Shai Gilgeous-Alexander has played so well that the super sub couldn't be put back on the bench.

In Gilgeous-Alexander's last 17 games as a starter, he's averaging 14.8 points, 5.6 assists and 4.2 rebounds in 36.2 minutes of action. He was particularly good in both wins vs. Vanderbilt. In the road win at Vanderbilt, he scored a game-high 22 points, while also dishing out six assists. He scored or assisted on 13 of UK's 23 made field goals. And then at home vs. Vanderbilt, Gilgeous-Alexander was even better. He scored a game-high 30 points and was instrumental in the 14-point second-half comeback. The native of Canada scored or assisted on 32 of UK's final 56 points in that come-from-behind win, including scoring eight of UK's final 10 points of the second half when the Wildcats were staring at a loss -- even hitting the two clutch free throws with just over two seconds left and Kentucky down two.

Whether he's serving as the man running the show or the energy guy off the bench that he was for most of the nonconference season, he's changing the game in a multitude of ways. First, there's the defense. Gilgeous-Alexander is averaging 1.6 steals per game. Under Calipari, John Wall's 1.8 steals and 66 for the season are the most of any player. Gilgeous-Alexander currently is third among all Southeastern Conference players with 51 steals (through games on March 3). He's moved into sixth place on UK's single-season freshman steals list and needs two to pass Eric Bledsoe and move into fifth.

But what has really taken Gilgeous-Alexander's game to another level in the last two months is his poise and consistency on the offensive end. He's now second on the team in points per game with a 13.2 average and is averaging 15.1 points over his last 21 games, but more importantly, his play rises when the team needs him the most. He's averaging 9.0 points in the second halves of games (compared to 6.0 in the first) over the last 21 games.

His midseason surge started in games off the bench, including back-to-back games of 20 points or more vs. Louisville and Georgia. Those back-to-back games marked the first time a player has scored 20 or more points off the bench since Deron Feldhaus turned the trick Jan. 21 and 25, 1992. Gilgeous-Alexander nearly made it three in a row with 18 points in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, in the Wildcats' first road victory of the season.

And Gilgeous-Alexander is far from a score-first point guard. He's proven to be an adept passer, leading the team in assists with a 5.0 average, ranked fourth in the SEC (through games on March 3). He's led the team in assists in a team-best 24 games. He is the 13th freshman in program history to amass more than 100 assists during his freshman season. He currently sits in fourth on the all-time freshman assists list with 160. He needs six to pass De'Aaron Fox. John Wall owns the record with 241 assists in 2009-10.

Said Calipari after the back-to-back 20-point performances vs. Louisville and Georgia: "He's our best player."

Cats Now Playing for Seeding in NCAA Tournament

If there was any question about Kentucky's NCAA Tournament credentials a couple of weeks ago during the four-game skid -- and really, résumé wise there shouldn't have been -- there isn't any now. UK is a lock for the NCAA Tournament. At this point, it's about playing for an NCAA Tournament seed.

Many national analysts have UK in play for a top-five seed. According to the RPI, that's spot on. The RPI (ratings percentage index) is a quantity used to rank a team based upon a team's wins and losses and its strength of schedule. Although it's one of several measures the NCAA selection committee will use on Selection Sunday, it's an important metric -- and one the Wildcats stack up favorably in this season.

Through games on March 8, Kentucky was ranked No. 17 in the NCAA's official RPI. The Wildcats have played the fourth-toughest schedule in the country, according to the RPI, and stack up favorably with a combined 13-10 record vs. teams in quadrants one and two, key indicators of how the selection committee values wins (UK's win vs. Georgia has not been factored in yet). All 10 of UK's losses are quadrant one or two losses. UK is a perfect 8-0 vs. quadrants three and four.

Wildcats' Schedule Ranks No. 4 in Country

Kentucky's young team was put to the test early and often with another formidable nonconference schedule and it has led up to an even harder league slate.

As of games played through March 8, UK's nonconference schedule ranks No. 6 overall in the country. Throw in the much-improved Southeastern Conference, which is considered by some this year to be the best league in the country from top to bottom, and UK's strength of schedule is the fourth toughest in the nation.

Twelve of UK's 13 nonconference opponents made a postseason tournament in 2017, including eight who made the NCAA Tournament. Three of those advanced to the Sweet 16 or better.

Five nonconference teams finished the 2016-17 season with an RPI in the top 50 and four ended the season in both the Associated Press Top 25 and USA Today Coaches Poll. All told, Kentucky's 2017-18 nonconference opponents combined for a record of 314-134 in 2016-17, a .701 winning percentage.

Kentucky's nonconference schedule saw the Wildcats play in premier venues such as the United Center in Chicago (vs. Kansas) and Madison Square Garden in New York (vs. Monmouth), took them to a Big Blue Nation favorite in New Orleans (vs. UCLA), and featured a difficult trip to Morgantown, West Virginia, to play the West Virginia Mountaineers in January.

The league, which is being projected to have as many as nine NCAA Tournament teams, has been even tougher.

A quarter of ESPN's top-100 recruits in the 2017 class signed to play in the SEC. The league is coming off a season in which its teams combined to go 11-5 in the NCAA Tournament and had three teams advance to the Elite Eight.

Seven UK opponents entered the 2017-18 season ranked in one or both of the major polls, including three top-10 opponents. Twelve of the league's 14 teams are in the top 100 of the RPI.

Bounce Back

The Wildcats don't lose very often during the John Calipari era, but when they do, they almost always bounce back. UK is 44-12 under Calipari following a loss.

The Wildcats have only lost back-to-back games 12 times during the Calipari era with three of those losses having come during a four-game losing streak from Feb. 3-14, 2018. That was the first four-game losing streak under Calipari.

Previously, the last time UK lost four games in a row was in February 2009, when the Wildcats dropped four straight games to end the regular season. It's the first time Calipari had lost four straight since the end of the 2004-05 season at Memphis.

Cats Rebound from Four-Game Skid with Win Streak

After enduring one of the toughest stretches in recent memory, the Wildcats found a groove behind strong offensive rebounding, a shooting uptick and an impressive assist-to-turnover ratio to win four straight from Feb. 17-28.

Over those four games -- three against teams at least receiving votes in the Associated Press Top 25 at the time of the game -- the Wildcats averaged 87.8 points per game and scored at least 81 in all four outings. It was the first time UK scored 80 or more points in four straight games since last season's high-scoring team did it eight straight times.

Kentucky had four players average double figures during the stretch with Kevin Knox leading the way at 19.8 points per game. UK's offensive uptick was highlighted by a 48.4 percent field-goal clip and an average of 15.5 assists per game. UK generated at least 10 assists in all four games but had 16 or more in each of the last three wins.

Kentucky's surge was also boasted by a sizzling 45.5 percent from behind the arc and an average of 7.5 made 3-pointers a game. The Wildcats also got to the free-throw line and knocked down their attempts. Kentucky shot 76.6 percent from the line with an average of 21.3 makes a game.

The biggest difference over the four games, however, was the rate at which the Wildcats hit the boards. UK outrebounded its opponents 42.2-30.8, a plus-11.5 rate. The Cats hauled in an average of 14.8 offensive rebounds a game and turned that into 16.5 second-chance points per game.

UK also curtailed the turnovers. Plagued by silly mistakes for much of the season, the young Cats averaged just 11.3 a game over the four games compared to an average of 13.3 during the four-game skid.

Four-Game Skid an Anomaly for UK, Calipari

Despite Kentucky's four-game losing streak from Feb. 3-14, the Wildcats' NCAA Tournament prospects are still in very good shape with a strong résumé and more opportunities ahead in arguably the nation's best conference. But if there was a sense of uneasiness in and around Big Blue Nation, there's a reason why: The skid rarely happens at UK or under John Calipari.

UK's four-game losing streak was entering waters Kentucky and Calipari generally don't swim in, but they're worth pointing out for perspective of the success UK and Calipari have had:

4. Shai Gilgeous-Alexander - 3.29
5. Wenyen Gabriel - 3.32

- The four-game losing streak was the longest in Calipari's nine seasons at UK. As a matter of fact, prior to the four-game skid, UK had never lost more than two in a row under Calipari
- Calipari hadn't lost four in a row since dropping four straight games at Memphis to end the 2004-05 regular season. As a matter of fact, Calipari -- owner of the most single-season wins at UK, Memphis and UMass -- has only lost four or more games four times during his career (once at UK, once at Memphis and twice at UMass). His longest career losing streak is just five games, done twice at UMass. On the flipside, he's had 18 streaks in his career where his teams have won 10 or more consecutive games during the season, including winning 15 or more straight games nine times, 20 or more six times, 25 or more five times, and 30 or more one time
- Another example of UK's long and storied success, it was just the seventh streak of four or more losses for Kentucky since the 1927-28 season

Getting Back on Track, Plus a Little Perspective

One can point to a number of reasons for UK's four-game losing streak from Feb. 3-14. Areas the Wildcats were sound in for much of the season had fallen off during the stretch.

The good news is the body of work proves those things should return to the median -- and they did during the four-game-long winning streak from Feb. 17-28. From a big-picture perspective, several numbers appear to be outliers in that stretch.

For one, after shooting the ball well for most of the season, UK made just 40.9 percent of its shots over the four-game stretch down from 47.6 percent in the previous 22 games. The Wildcats were also making only 22.2 percent of their shots from behind the 3-point line. The first 22 games that mark was a respectable 35.0 percent.

Missed shots lead to scoring droughts, and the Wildcats battled through one prolonged one in each of the four losses. In all four games, UK had to battle through five or more consecutive minutes in the game without a field goal. Generally speaking, that's a deep hole to dig out of.

But perhaps the inconsistent shooting can be attributed to the types of looks the Wildcats were getting. UK's assists per game dipped off to just 10.0 per game over the four losses -- and that's really inflated by 15 assists at Texas A&M. The other three games featured nine, seven and nine assists, respectively.

Or maybe it's the fact that Kentucky wasn't getting nearly as many easy transition baskets as it was earlier in the season. UK is averaging just 5.5 fastbreak points per game over the four-game stretch. Over the previous 22 games the Wildcats were averaging 9.5.

Whether it's one factor or the other or a combination of both, all appear to be outliers -- perhaps magnified by the quality of competition Kentucky faced in a difficult league that's expected to get as many as nine teams into the NCAA Tournament.

Consider the four opponents UK faced during the streak -- all of them forecasted to be in the Big Dance and all of them with top-25 RPI rankings during the stretch. Missouri had won five straight games, Tennessee was ranked No. 15 in the country in the Associated Press Top 25 at the time, Texas A&M has victories over four top-25 ranked teams this season and Auburn shared the regular-season crown with Tennessee. As Alabama head coach Avery Johnson so eloquently put it after UK defeated the Crimson Tide to get back in the winning column: "They weren't against a YMCA team. They played Missouri, Tennessee, A&M, Auburn. Pretty good teams, right?" Right.

On top of all that, Kentucky and Calipari have been here before; maybe not to the degree of the consecutive losses, but they've endured February growing pains before and gone on to great endings. Consider the following teams:

- 2010-11 - Lost six games in the league and dropped four games in February. That team won the SEC Tournament title and ended up in the Final Four
- 2013-14 - Lost six games in the league, including four of the last seven regular-season games. That team put together one of the most memorable runs in the NCAA Tournament in school history and made it to the national championship game
- 2015-16 - Lost four games in a month's span late in the season but went on to win the SEC regular-season and tournament crowns

Freshman Production Better Than Ever

Coach John Calipari's youngest team during his tenure and the youngest among all of college basketball this season is carrying the bulk of the load in 2017-18.

With no other choice than to produce after mass losses from the 2016-17 team, this group of freshmen is being relied upon more than any other freshman class under Calipari. The freshmen are producing 81.7 percent of the minutes, 87.7 percent of the scoring load and 72.5 percent of the rebounding numbers.

The Wildcats' top five scorers are all freshmen and six of the top seven rebounders are first-year players.

Outside of blocks and steals per game, this version of the young Cats leads in every other category in average production from the freshmen.

Here's a look at UK's freshman production vs. other freshman classes under Calipari:

Year	PPG	RPG	APG	SPG	BPG	Year	PPG	RPG	APG	SPG	BPG
2017-18	67.1	28.4	12.4	4.6	3.3	2012-13	40.3	22.9	5.3	3.6	5.9
2016-17	54.5	20.0	8.2	3.3	3.4	2011-12	41.3	22.2	8.3	3.4	6.3
2015-16	38.6	16.5	5.9	2.7	2.7	2010-11	45.6	15.1	7.4	2.4	2.3
2014-15	33.4	15.2	6.6	2.3	2.8	2009-10	46.3	20.7	10.7	4.7	3.9
2013-14	61.5	26.4	9.6	3.2	2.5

The success of the freshmen has been a collective effort, but each player has enjoyed a prolific game as well, showcasing Coach Calipari's sentiment that as the team succeeds, so do the individuals.

- Hamidou Diallo - SEC Freshman of the Week after scoring 23 points vs. Virginia Tech
- Shai Gilgeous-Alexander - Bluegrass Sports Commission MVP after pouring in 24 points in a win over Louisville
- Quade Green - Game-winning layup in overtime vs. Vanderbilt, had 12 points in the game
- Kevin Knox - National Player of the Week after scoring 37 points at No. 7 West Virginia
- Nick Richards - Had 25 points and 15 rebounds in win over Fort Wayne
- Jarred Vanderbilt - SEC Freshman of the Week after logging first double-double vs. Missouri with 11 points and 15 boards

Historically Young

It seems like with every John Calipari team youth is the story, but this year's team is on a whole new level.

Zero seniors. Eight freshmen. Nearly 93 percent of last season's scoring and almost 77 percent of the rebounding gone. And the leading returner, Wenyen Gabriel, averaged just 4.6 points and 4.8 rebounds a year ago.

The Wildcats have just 0.17 years of experience in the KenPom.com experience rankings.

Not only is that the least experience of any team this season, it's the most inexperienced team since KenPom.com began tracking its experience rankings in 2006-07.

For another perspective, only Mississippi Valley State (386) and Pittsburgh (648) return fewer minutes from last season than the Wildcats (890), according to a survey sent to all Division I men's basketball schools.

Even for a Calipari-coached team, this team is extremely young. Entering the 2017-18 season, the average age of the Wildcats' roster is just 19.43 years old. In an updated survey, no other team is younger than the Cats after Chattanooga added a player to its roster at the semester.

Although all of Calipari's teams have been young, they've all had some sort of veteran presence. The 2010 team with John Wall and DeMarcus Cousins had Patrick Patterson. The 2012 national title squad featured Darius Miller. The unforgettable 2015 team that flirted with an undefeated season had Willie Cauley-Stein and Alex Poythress.

In another survey, UK's lineup features more underclassmen without a senior on the roster than any school in the country. The Wildcats are one of just a handful of schools without any seniors on the roster and are tied for the fewest amount of upperclassmen (juniors and seniors) with just two. It's worth noting those upperclassmen are walk-ons.

Comeback Cats

Kentucky came back from double-digit deficits in victories at West Virginia and against Vanderbilt. It's the first time that's happened since the Wildcats rallied from three straight double-figure holes vs. Florida, Vanderbilt and Texas A&M to end the 2016-17 regular season.

Both comeback victories were impressive in their own right. The one vs. Vanderbilt, saw the Wildcats rally back, fall behind again, get behind by five points with 40 seconds, and pull off a stunning late charge to force overtime and eventually win it.

The victory vs. West Virginia was impressive considering the circumstances. UK trailed by as many as 17 in the second half in one of the most hostile environments in college basketball. All the Wildcats did after intermission was outscore West Virginia 50-28 in the second half en route to one of the biggest comebacks in program history.

- It was the first 17-point or more deficit UK overcame since trailing by 19 vs. Vanderbilt on Feb. 28, 2017
- It was the largest deficit overcome of a top-10 opponent since trailing No. 3 Duke by 18 points on March 22, 1998, vs. Duke in the NCAA Tournament South Regional finals
- Kentucky's comeback from a 15-point halftime deficit was the third-largest halftime comeback in school history. UK rallied from a 16-point halftime deficit at LSU on Feb. 15, 1994, for a 99-95 victory in what's known as the Mardi Gras Miracle. The Wildcats also rallied from a 16-point halftime deficit at No. 13 Louisville on Dec. 18, 2004
- The five biggest halftime comebacks in school history have all been on the road
- UK also rallied from an 11-point hole to start the game at Arkansas

The Cal-Zone

John Calipari isn't shy in voicing his aversion to zone defenses. The way he explains it, it doesn't hold players personally accountable like man-to-man defense does and it isn't the defense his players will have to play if they are fortunate enough to make it to the NBA.

But, as Calipari has conceded at times this season, he also has a responsibility to win, and the best way to do that with this team given its length may just be to use a zone from time to time.

According to Synergy Sports, UK has played zone defense on 18.6 percent of its defensive possessions this season, by far the most of the Calipari era at Kentucky. The 2013-14 team played zone 5.3 percent of the time, but no other Calipari team featured it more than 3.4 percent of the time.

Calipari is still primarily a man-to-man defensive coach and hasn't played as much zone recently as he did earlier in the season -- the Wildcats were at one point playing zone more than 20 percent of the time -- but the success of the zone has given the Wildcats a change-of-pace defense it can go to at times.

"The issue becomes I have a responsibility to teach these kids how to play pick-and-roll defense, how to stay in front of people, man-to-man," Calipari said early in the season. "I mean, from here on there is no more zone. I mean, they're going to have to learn. But I also have a responsibility to win, so I'll play as much as I have to, to win a game. ... Whatever this team needs, I'm going to have to do."

Tall Order Facing These Cats

John Calipari has said before that you can teach shooting, defense and effort, among other things, but you can't teach height and you can't teach length. This group of Wildcats has both.

The average wingspan of this Kentucky team is just over 6-foot-9. Take out walk-ons Jonny David and Dillon Pulliam and the average wingspan of the scholarship players increases to more than 6-10.

Seven players on the roster have a wingspan of 7 feet or more, making this a potentially devastating shot-blocking team.

Just in terms of pure height, the Wildcats average better than 6-6 in height. According to kenpom.com, UK's average playing height of 78.9 inches is the fourth tallest in the country. Syracuse, San Jose State, and Duke are the only teams taller than the Cats. The Orange lead the country at 80.1.

No Fly Zone Behind the 3-Point Line

With all that Kentucky length, especially when the Wildcats go to the 2-3 zone, it's been difficult for opponents to get a clear look from behind the 3-point line.

Kentucky is holding opponents to just 29.6 percent from behind the arc, easily first in the Southeastern Conference and third overall in the country, through games on March 3.

Historically it ranks as the second-best mark in school history, behind only the historic 2014-15 team's 27.1-percent record. As a matter of fact, since the 3-point line was adopted during for the 1986-87 season, only the 2014-15 team held its opponents to less than 30 percent from long range.

Time to Start Some New Streaks

A few notable streaks ended for the Wildcats with back-to-back losses to South Carolina and Florida.

With the loss to Florida, Kentucky's 16-game home winning streak came to an end, as did its 30-game streak vs. Southeastern Conference foes at home and its 57-game winning streak vs. unranked opponents in Rupp Arena. The 30-game winning streak vs. conference foes was the fourth-longest such streak in school history and the longest of the John Calipari era.

Back-to-back losses removed Kentucky from both major polls, ending a streak of 68 consecutive appearances. UK returned to the polls following wins over Mississippi State and at No. 7/7 West Virginia on Jan. 29, before dropping out again on Feb. 12.

The 68-week streak began with the preseason poll prior to the 2014-15 season in which UK was ranked No. 1 for the entire season. Calipari's previous long streak included 61 consecutive polls, beginning with the preseason poll prior to the 2009-10 season and ending with the fourth poll during the 2012-13 season.

The Wildcats returned to the AP poll on Feb. 26 after three straight wins over teams receiving votes, before falling back out after dropping their regular-season finale at Florida.

SEC Opponents Forcing Cats to Grind it Out

With a team this long and this athletic, it's in the Wildcats' best interests to get out and run and try to get baskets in transition. However, as Kentucky made its way into regular-season conference play, its Southeastern Conference brethren have realized as much and have done their best to slow the Wildcats down.

In conference regular-season play, UK averaged just 6.1 fast-break points per game and only four times scored 10 or more in transition, although it should be noted the Wildcats did it three straight games prior to not scoring any transition points in the regular-season finale to Florida. That's a stark contrast to the nonconference season (which includes the West Virginia game in the middle of conference play), where the Wildcats averaged 12.6 fast-break points and eclipsed double digits in 11 of 13 games. Clearly, SEC opponents are trying to make the Wildcats beat them in the half court.

In victories, Kentucky averages 9.4 points in transition and 16.9 off turnovers. In losses, it's just 7.3 on the break and 13.4 off turnovers.

One may point to UK's pace of play when searching for explanations to UK's offensive struggles during league play. Kentucky's average length of possession is 16.7 seconds, according to KenPom.com, which ranks 94th in the country as of games played on March 9. Surprisingly, that is the third-fastest time of possession in the Calipari era, trailing only the 2016-17 (15.3) and 2009-10 (16.2) teams. In fact, Calipari's teams over his nine years at Kentucky average 17.2 seconds per possession.

Always Efficient

According to Ken Pomeroy's calculations on kenpom.com, UK's teams under John Calipari have consistently ranked among the most efficient teams in the country per possession.

Scoring Droughts

A common occurrence for the Wildcats during their four-game skid from Feb. 3-14 was five-minute scoring droughts without a field goal. Kentucky had one drought in each of the those four games that essentially cost the Wildcats a win. The first three in that stretch were droughts that put UK in too deep of a hole to climb out of. The last, at Auburn, closed out the game and allowed the Tigers to pull away.

Kentucky has had 12 such games in which the team has failed to score a field goal at least once over a five-minute stretch. The Wildcats are 5-7 in such games with wins over Utah Valley, Troy, Georgia, Texas A&M and at No. 7/7 West Virginia. In addition to the four-game losing streak, UK also suffered droughts at Tennessee and in back-to-back games against Florida and over the final six minutes at South Carolina.

No surprise, during Kentucky's bounce-back four-game winning streak there were no such scoring droughts.

Kentucky has the unquestionable reputation as the league's gold standard. Since the SEC's inception in 1932-33, the Wildcats have been the most dominant team in the league, recording a 982-278 mark (.779) in regular-season conference play. Only two other teams have won more than 700 regular-season SEC games (Alabama and Tennessee), and no other team has a better winning percentage.

- UK has averaged 11.6 wins and only 3.3 losses per season in 85 seasons in the SEC
- Kentucky has won 48 SEC titles and 30 SEC Tournament championships
- The Wildcats have won 15 of the last 25 SEC Tournament titles
- UK has won at least a share of five of the last nine SEC regular-season championships under head coach John Calipari
- Kentucky has played in the championship game of the SEC Tournament in seven of Calipari's eight seasons following its 2017 title
- The SEC was 11-5 in NCAA Tournament games in 2017 with three teams in the Elite Eight
- Nine SEC schools have recruiting classes that ranked in the top 40 of ESPN's 2017 national rankings. A quarter of all ESPN's top 100 players signed with SEC schools
- Three SEC teams are ranked in the Associated Press Top 25 and three more are receiving votes, a testament to the league's strength this season
- An NCAA-best six SEC teams are in the top 40 of the NCAA's RPI through games on March 8, and 12 rank in the top 100
- The SEC won the Big 12/SEC Challenge for the first time with a 6-4 margin in 2018

The Rebound Went to Jarred

Jarred Vanderbilt has been on the roster all season, but his presence in the lineup has felt like a midseason addition with the freshman forward returning from a left foot injury. The injury kept him out of the first 17 games of the season.

Vanderbilt made his debut at South Carolina after suffering the injury in late September. He's made an immediate impact on the team by leading the Wildcats in rebounding with 7.9 boards per game despite averaging just 17.0 minutes since returning. He's grabbed 10 or more boards five times in just 14 games, including 11 rebounds in 11 minutes in the comeback win at No. 7/7 West Virginia. He snagged a season-high 15 boards in the win over Missouri. Overall he's averaging a rebound once every 2.16 minutes of play (more on that below).

Calipari pointed to Vanderbilt's play as the difference-maker in a win over Alabama to help snap a four-game losing streak. Vanderbilt, according to Calipari is a "beast." The energy-playmaking forward provided a career-high 11 points and a game-high nine rebounds in the win. He followed it up with the same stat line in the road win at Arkansas and then turned in his first career double-double with 11 points and 15 boards against Missouri.

Upon his return, head coach John Calipari raved about his presence in practice and mentioned that he didn't remember how physical Vanderbilt being. Equipped with elite ball-handling skills, especially for someone listed as a 6-foot-9 forward, Vanderbilt has the ability to play "point forward" -- and was needed to against South Carolina.

Although the initial plan was to ease him into games to get him caught up in the offense and because of a lack of conditioning, Vanderbilt was forced to run the point in his career debut vs. South Carolina when the Wildcats' backcourt (already absent Quade Green because of a back injury) got into foul trouble.

Vanderbilt suffered an injury in practice earlier this week and did not play vs. Georgia. He is day-to-day for the rest of the Southeastern Conference Tournament.

But back to his rebounding. At this point, his ratio of rebounds per minutes played is the best single-season ratio in school history (minimum 100 minutes played, with minutes statistics available since the 1962-63 season).

Player (season)	Minutes	Rebounds	Ratio*
Jarred Vanderbilt (2017-18)	238	110	2.16
DeMarcus Cousins (2009-10)	893	375	2.38
Dan Issel (1967-68)	836	328	2.55
Jim Andrews (1970-71)	306	120	2.55
John Adams (1962-63)	239	91	2.63
Jim Andrews (1972-73)	936	348	2.69
Mark Soderberg (1970-71)	129	47	2.74
Dan Issel (1968-69)	1063	381	2.79
Dan Issel (1969-70)	1044	369	2.83
Rick Robey (1974-75)	616	214	2.88
Tom Payne (1970-71)	816	283	2.88

Role Reversals Benefitting Washington, Green

Most players would be lying if they said they didn't like to start, but perhaps PJ Washington and Quade Green have benefited from their new roles off the bench. In recent games, since coming out of the starting lineup, the two freshmen have seen their numbers go up.

In the last seven games, six of them off the bench, Washington is averaging 13.6 points and 6.3 rebounds. Before that stretch he was averaging 9.8 points and 5.2 rebounds.

Green, on the other hand, took a little bit longer to find his role as a sparkplug, but some of that could be attributed to a back injury that initially knocked him out of the lineup altogether (while Green was out for three games, Shai Gilgeous-Alexander started at point and hasn't looked back since). Green is averaging 10.8 points over his last six games, above his season average, and has hit two or more 3-pointers in five of six games, seven of the last nine and nine of the last 12.

And though they're coming off the bench now, their minutes have not suffered. Green has played 20 or more minutes in 13 straight games off the bench and Washington played 20 or more in his six games out of the startling lineup before returning to the first five vs. Georgia in the SEC Tournament.

Cats Deliver the Knockout Punch

UK is 229-5 (.979) in the John Calipari era when leading by at least 10 points at any time in the contest.

When Kentucky failed to put away South Carolina on Jan. 16 after leading by as many as 14 points in the second half, it was the first time the Wildcats let a double-digit lead wind up in a loss since losing two such games in the 2015-16 campaign.

Kentucky also blew two double-digit leads during the 2012-13 season. Four of the five losses have been to conference opponents.

Perhaps most impressive of all is that 70.1 percent of games Calipari has coached in at Kentucky have produced 10-point leads at some point during the game for UK. The Wildcats have led by 10 points or more in a whopping 84.5 percent of Calipari's 271 career wins at Kentucky.

NOTES

Three is Better Than Two

Kentucky and UNLV went back and forth all season long last year for the claim of having the longest active streak of consecutive games with a made 3-pointer. Fittingly, both schools reached a historic milestone -- 1,000 straight games -- within a few hours of each other.

UK just beat out the Runnin' Rebels by mere hours, becoming the first school ever to hit a 3-pointer in 1,000 straight games with a trey at Alabama on Feb. 11, 2017. Malik Monk, UK's leader in 3-point field goals last season, got the Wildcats to 1,000 straight games with a 3-pointer from the right wing with 15:26 to go in the first half. UNLV would match it later in the day.

Kentucky passed UNLV for the nation's longest active streak of consecutive games with a made 3-pointer in its final game of 2015-16. UK has now knocked down at least one 3-pointer in 1,045 consecutive games. UNLV has hit one in 1,040 straight, through games on March 9.

The Cats' last game without a made 3-pointer came against Seton Hall on Nov. 26, 1988 a "three-point" loss in the Great Alaska Shootout. The streak began on Nov. 28, 1998, in an 89-71 win vs. California. The Wildcats' record during the 1,045-game streak is 805-240.

Cats Not Counting on the Long Ball -- Until Late

There's an old expression in basketball that's been around since the 3-point line came into existence: Live by the 3, die by the 3. With as little as Kentucky has shot it from behind the arc this season, UK has done neither this season. Kentucky is currently taking the fewest number of 3-point shots in the John Calipari era.

As of games played on March 9, Kentucky is attempting a 3-point shot on just 25.7 percent of its total field-goal attempts, the lowest of the Calipari era. As a matter of fact, that's ranked 344th out of 351 teams in the country, according to KenPom.com.

UK's program record low for percentage of 3-point attempts is 13.7 percent in 1987-88, just the second year of existence for the 3-point shot. Only one other team (1988-89) had a rate less than 20 percent at 16.9 percent.

Kentucky's current rate is the lowest since Kentucky attempted a 3-pointer on 27.2 percent of its attempts during the 1995-96 season. That same team holds the program record for the best 3-point field-goal percent with a 39.7 rate.

Not only does UK shoot fewer 3-pointers than just about anyone else, the Wildcats rely on it less than any other team. Kentucky relies on just 20.4 percent of its points from 3-pointers, ranked 346th out of 351 teams, according to KenPom.com.

Having said all that, Kentucky filled it up from behind the arc during its four-game winning streak to end the month of February. The Wildcats made eight or more 3-pointers in each of the final three games of that stretch and shot it with a 47.3 percent from 3 during that time frame.

Here's a look at UK's percentages of 3-point attempts and 3-point field-goal percentages in the Calipari era:

Year	Pct. of FG Atts. from 3	3-Point FG Pct.	Pct. of Points from 3s
2009-10:	.313	.331 (lowest)	.230
2010-11:	.324 (highest)	.397 (highest)	.296 (highest)
2011-12:	.265	.378	.218
2012-13:	.293	.346	.230
2013-14:	.276	.332	.204
2014-15:	.271	.349	.271
2015-16:	.310	.366	.256
2016-17:	.316	.353	.248
2017-18:	.257 (lowest)	.347	.204 (lowest)

Big-Game Cal, Cats

John Calipari's teams aren't just good against the best teams in the country, they're great. Not only does Kentucky have a 51-26 record (.662) vs. Associated Press Top 25 teams, UK is 5-3 when both teams are ranked in the AP top five under Calipari.

All-time, Calipari is 11-7 when both teams are ranked in the AP top five. When both teams are ranked in the AP Top 25, Calipari's all-time record is 75-49, including a 44-21 mark at Kentucky. When both are ranked in the top 10 he has a 24-15 record, including 13-8 at UK.

Taking Care of Business

Kentucky's 51-26 record vs. opponents ranked in the Associated Press Top 25 in John Calipari's tenure is impressive, but the Wildcats' ability to beat all-comers can't be overlooked. Under Calipari, UK is 220-37 vs. unranked competition, an .856 winning percentage.

UK has five losses to unranked opponents this season. It's the first time UK has had multiple losses to unranked teams since the 2015-16 season.

Hold Them to 55 Points and 40 Percent from the Field

Defense has always been a recipe for success for the Wildcats under John Calipari. The special ingredient: 55 points. UK is a perfect 64-0 under Calipari when holding the opponent to 55 points or fewer. The Wildcats are 151-6 under Calipari when limiting the opponent to 63 points or less. Kentucky's 61-59 loss to Tennessee on Feb. 6 snapped a 40-game winning streak when holding the opponent to 63 or less.

Kentucky has also fared well when it keeps its opponents to a 40-percent clip or lower from the floor. UK is 165-14 against opponents under Calipari when its field-goal percentage is 40 percent or lower. UK is 13-4 in such games this season and held five straight opponents to less than 40 percent from Jan. 13-27. That was the longest such streak for the Wildcats since UK had six such games from Feb. 6, 2016 to Feb. 23, 2016.

Next Man Up

The Wildcats dealt with a plenty of injuries in 2017-18.

- Jarred Vanderbilt missed the first 17 games of the season with a left foot injury he sustained during the preseason. He suffered a left leg injury Tuesday in practice and missed the Southeastern Conference Tournament opener. He is day-to-day
- Quade Green missed three games (Vanderbilt, Texas A&M and South Carolina) with a back strain
- Tai Wynyard hasn't played since Dec. 31 because of a back injury and is expected to miss the rest of the season due to the injury. He was also suspended from team activities recently due to a violation of team rules until further notice
- Jemarl Baker underwent left knee surgery on Oct. 27. He has started to workout recently

Best in the Bluegrass

Kentucky has been dominant against teams in the state under John Calipari. UK is 16-2 against in-state foes with Calipari at the helm.

The mark also includes an 9-2 mark vs. Louisville. Two of the victories over the Cardinals came in postseason play. UK had its four-game winning streak snapped in 2016-17 but has won all five meetings played in Rupp Arena, including a 29-point blowout this season, the third-biggest margin of victory in the history of the series. Louisville's two wins have come by a combined six points.

Here's a list of the meetings between the state's two premier programs since Cal took over at UK:

- Jan. 2, 2010 - UK won 71-62 at Rupp Arena
- Dec. 31, 2010 - UK won 78-63 at KFC YUM! Center
- Dec. 31, 2011 - UK won 69-62 at Rupp Arena
- March 31, 2012 - UK won 69-61 at the Superdome (NCAA Final Four in New Orleans)
- Dec. 29, 2012 - Louisville won 80-77 at KFC YUM! Center
- Dec. 28, 2013 - UK won 73-66 at Rupp Arena
- March 28, 2014 - UK won 74-69 at Lucas Oil Stadium (NCAA Sweet 16 in Indianapolis)
- Dec. 27, 2014 - UK won 58-50 at KFC YUM! Center
- Dec. 26, 2015 - UK won 75-73 at Rupp Arena
- Dec. 21, 2016 - Louisville won 73-70 at KFC YUM! Center
- Dec. 29, 2017 - UK won 90-61 at Rupp Arena

Recruit and Reload

With everything the Wildcats lost last season to the professional ranks and graduation, UK reloaded with a historic recruiting class.

The Recruiting Services Consensus Index, which tallies major recruiting rankings and plugs them into a formula to calculate a consensus ranking, not only rated UK's 2017 class the best of the season -- it measures this group as the best ever.

With 582 points in its recruiting calculations, this 2017 Kentucky group beat out another Wildcat class -- the 2013 haul -- to claim the title as the best recruiting class ever. That 2013 group had 557 points and consisted of Julius Randle, Andrew Harrison, Aaron Harrison, Dakari Johnson, James Young, Marcus Lee and Derek Willis. The RSCI rankings began in 1998.

The 2017 class consists of Kevin Knox (No. 10), Jarred Vanderbilt (No. 13), PJ Washington (No. 14), Nick Richards (No. 18), Quade Green (No. 23), Shai Gilgeous-Alexander (No. 30), Hamidou Diallo (No. 46) and Jemarl Baker (No. 72).

The RSCI includes individual player rankings from all of the major recruiting services, which this season featured Rivals, Scout, 247Sports and longtime recruiting analyst Van Coleman. The RSCI formula uses each of those services' rankings (only the top 100) players to assign a point value to each recruit. Using the point totals for all the five major services, it then adds the totals for all players in a class for the team's final score.

If all five RSCI sources had counted Diallo with the 2017 class, the Wildcats' score would have been closer to 630, according to the site.

UK has ranked No. 1 in the RSCI in seven of Calipari's nine classes at Kentucky.

UK Starts Season in Top Five

Despite losing nearly 93 percent of its scoring and almost 77 percent of its rebounding from a season ago, Kentucky began the season in the top five of both major polls. The Wildcats were No. 4 in the USA Today Coaches Poll and No. 5 in the Associated Press Top 25 to start the year.

It's the ninth consecutive season under head coach John Calipari that Kentucky began the season ranked among the top 25 teams in the country in both polls. As a matter of fact, the Wildcats have been ranked in the preseason top five in both polls in eight of Calipari's nine seasons, including seven straight.

International Cats

The Wildcats were well represented in international basketball this summer.

Hamidou Diallo, PJ Washington, Tai Wynyard and John Calipari all were part of the 2017 FIBA World Cup in Cairo. Sacha Killeya-Jones and Brad Calipari also traveled abroad this summer to play basketball.

Diallo and Washington, coached by John Calipari, captured a bronze medal for Team USA, while Wynyard was the star for the New Zealand Junior Tall Blacks.

Washington led Team USA in scoring at 12.9 points per game and added 5.1 rebounds and 2.2 assists. Diallo contributed 10.9 points, 3.9 rebounds, 2.3 assists and 1.1 steals per game. Wynyard led the Junior Tall Blacks in scoring at 14.3 points per game and rebounding with 9.3 boards per outing.

Kevin Knox made the final 16 cuts for Team USA before the roster was trimmed to 12, but he pulled his name from contention after suffering a minor hamstring injury. Shai Gilgeous-Alexander declined an invite to join the Canadian national team for its training camp.

Meanwhile, Killeya-Jones attended Great Britain's national training camp in August to compete for a spot on Great Britain's FIBA EuroBasket 2017 team, while Brad Calipari went on an international basketball trip with Global Sports Academy to Croatia. He averaged 14.3 points, 6.5 assists and 3.3 rebounds in four games.

Calipari Inks Three for 2018 During Fall Signing Period

In what's become somewhat of a fall tradition in college basketball and a celebration of riches in the Big Blue Nation, the Kentucky men's basketball team has begun building one of the strongest recruiting classes in the country, signing three of the nation's top players during the early fall signing period. Highly rated prospects Tyler Herro, Keldon Johnson and Immanuel Quickley have all inked national letters of intent with UK.

All three players are consensus four- or five-star prospects and all are ranked in the top 50 by the major national recruiting services. Although it's still early in the recruiting process with a number of dominoes still to fall, national analysts once again believe UK's class will be one of the top hauls for 2018.

In every season in the John Calipari era, the Wildcats have signed a top-three recruiting class according to the Recruiting Services Consensus Index, which tallies major recruiting rankings and plugs them into a formula to calculate a consensus ranking.

- Tyler Herro - At 6-foot-5, Herro has length, and now listed at 195 pounds by 247Sports, he's quickly adding muscle to his frame. The shooting guard out of Whitnall High School in Greenfield, Wisconsin, averaged 23.9 points and shot 39 percent from 3-point range in his junior season in high school. The top-ranked player out of Wisconsin, Herro is considered one of the top shooting guards in the 2018 class. A consensus four-star recruit, Herro is ranked as high as No. 27 in ESPN's rankings, No. 38 by Rivals and No. 40 by 247Sports. Herro was one of 54 players selected for the USA Basketball Junior National Team minicamp in October. He also averaged 14.8 points, 5.9 rebounds and 3.1 assists per game on the Nike circuit this past summer, shooting 36 percent from 3-point range
- Keldon Johnson - A 6-6 shooting guard out of Oak Hill Academy in Mouth of Wilson, Virginia, Johnson is a consensus five-star player and one of the best in the class of 2018. A native of South Hill, Virginia, he previously played for Huntington Prep in Huntington, West Virginia, before transferring to Oak Hill for the 2017-18 season. Johnson is ranked as high as the No. 7 overall prospect by ESPN, including third at his position. 247Sports ranks him as the nation's No. 11 overall player, while Rivals has him at No. 18. He led his Boo Williams (Va.) AAU team to the semifinals of the Peach Jam after averaging 20.7 points, 8.5 rebounds and 3.1 assists during the Nike regular season. Johnson took home MVP honors at the NBPA Top 100 Camp in June. Like Herro, Johnson was one of 54 players selected for the USA Basketball Junior National Team minicamp in October
- Immanuel Quickley - A 6-4 guard out of the John Carroll School in Bel Air, Maryland, Quickley is a consensus five-star prospect. Considered a consensus top-three player at his position, he's ranked as high as No. 10 by Rivals, No. 12 by ESPN and No. 13 by 247Sports. In his junior season at John Carroll, Quickley averaged 23.7 points and 7.2 assists. He scored 30 or more in five games, 20 or more in 14 games and finished with eight double-doubles. He also averaged 25.7 points, 4.7 rebounds and shot 42.1 percent from 3-point range in the Adidas Summer Championships in July. Quickley was a member of the 2017 USA Men's U19 World Cup Team that competed in Cairo. Playing under Calipari, Quickley averaged 6.7 points and 2.4 assists in 18.3 minutes per game. He was named the Baltimore Sun Metro Player of the Year in 2016

Johnson, Quickley Selected for McDonald's All American Game

The Kentucky men's basketball team's 2018 recruiting class will be well represented during the 2018 McDonald's All American Game in March with the selections of Keldon Johnson and Immanuel Quickley.

Joining an elite list that features some of the greatest players to play for Kentucky, incoming Wildcats Johnson and Quickley were selected to participate in the 41st annual McDonald's All American Game on March 28 in Philips Arena in Atlanta. The game will tip off at 7 p.m. ET and air on ESPN.

With the selections of Johnson and Quickley, UK has signed 32 players during the John Calipari era who have been named to the prestigious high school event, more than any other school in the country during that time period. Multiple players from each signing class have been tabbed McDonald's All Americans during the Calipari era, including five in the 2013 and 2017 classes.

Kentucky has signed 64 McDonald's All Americans since the team began in 1977, including current Wildcats Sacha Killeya-Jones (2016), Quade Green, (2017), Kevin Knox (2017), Nick Richards (2017), Jarred Vanderbilt (2017) and PJ Washington (2017).

- Johnson is a semifinalist for the Naismith National Boys' High School Player of the Year. He's one of 10 player eligible for the award, which will be announced March 8
- Johnson was named to the Naismith Trophy High School All-American Second Team, while Quickley was an honorable-mention selection

UK Tops Nation with 27 Players on NBA Opening-Day Rosters

Kentucky's unprecedented success with helping players reach the NBA has surpassed a new level of extreme. At the start of the 2017-18 NBA season, a whopping 27 players on NBA opening-day rosters played and finished their college basketball careers at the University of Kentucky, the nation's most prolific NBA player-producing program in the country. UK's 27 players are once again far and away the most of any college basketball program. Duke was second with 20 former players and North Carolina and Kansas each have 16 on opening-day rosters.

Of the 489 players in the NBA to start the 2017-18 season, more than 5.5 percent played and finished their college basketball careers at UK. Seven NBA teams feature multiple Wildcats.

All told, UK's 27 players represented on 15 of the league's 30 teams. Of the 27 Wildcats on an opening-day NBA roster, head coach John Calipari has coached 25 of them. With Tyreke Evans (Memphis Grizzlies) and Derrick Rose (Cleveland Cavaliers), who played for Calipari at Memphis, Calipari has coached 27 players on 2017-18 opening-day rosters, the most of any coach.

The Wildcats also have a handful of players on the doorstep of the league in the NBA G-League, including Aaron Harrison, Mychal Mulder, Marquis Teague and Derek Willis and, and several others playing professionally internationally.

Kentucky has experienced unprecedented success at putting players in the NBA under Calipari. In the eight seasons of the Calipari era, 31 players have been selected in the NBA Draft, more than any other school. Included in the recent run are 24 first-round picks, three No. 1 overall selections (Anthony Davis, Karl-Anthony Towns and John Wall), seven top-five picks and 17 lottery selections.

Using figures compiled by basketball-reference.com and spotrac.com, Calipari-coached players only (which includes Rose and Evans but not Jodie Meeks or Rajon Rondo) have amassed nearly $1.5 billion in career NBA contracts ($1.455 billion). In the eight seasons Calipari has been the head coach at Kentucky, his players have totaled more than $1.09 billion in NBA contracts.

In just the 2017-18 season alone, UK players are slated to make more than $178 million. Calipari-coached players only (which includes Rose and Evans but not Meeks or Rondo) will make more than $177 million.

UK's growing NBA contingent is already off to a fast start to the 2017-18 season:

- According to Basketball Reference, Davis is the only player since 1983-84 to post 95-plus points and 50-plus rebounds in the first three games of a season
- DeMarcus Cousins returned to Sacramento, his former team, for the first time by recording 41 points, 23 rebounds and six assists. It was the first time a player scored at least 40 points, grabbed at least 20 rebounds and dished out at least five assists since Chris Webber did it on Jan. 5, 2001. According to NBA.com/stats, he was the first player with at least 40 points, at least 20 rebounds and at least six assists on 50-percent shooting since Bob McAdoo did it on Jan. 15, 1976
- Malik Monk became the first Charlotte rookie to score 25 or more points in a game since Michael Kidd-Gilchrist in December of 2012 when he netted 25 on Nov. 1
- Towns recorded his 122th double-double of his career in his 175th career game. According to Timberwolves public relations, in the past 35 years, only Shaquille O'Neal, Tim Duncan and David Robinson have recorded more double-doubles in their first 175 games
- James Young, then playing in the NBA G-League, recorded back-to-back 40-point games in November
- Cousins (Oct. 30), Towns (Nov. 20) and Davis (Nov. 27) have all won NBA Player of the Week
- Cousins became the first player this season to record 500 points and 250 rebounds
- On Nov. 28, Towns recorded his 27th career game with at least 20 points and 15 rebounds. According to ESPN Stats & Info, only Davis has more since 2015-16
- Booker scored 46 points in a win over The Philadelphia 76ers on Dec. 4 for his 10th 30-point game of the season. Only LeBron James reached 10 30-point games faster than Booker in 2017-18

Cats Impress at NBA All-Star Weekend

Another banner NBA All-Star weekend ended with two solid performances by Karl-Anthony Towns and Anthony Davis in the 2018 NBA All-Star Game. Towns (2015) was one of the top performers in the game with 17 points and 10 rebounds – the only player on Team Stephen with a double-double – while Davis (2012) followed up his 2017 MVP performance with 12 points in 17 minutes.

Towns went 7 for 11 from the floor and led Team Stephen at halftime with 13 points. Davis, making his third career start and donning injured teammate and former UK men's basketball player's DeMarcus Cousins' uniform, went 6 of 9 from the field.

Davis' Team LeBron squad came back for a 148-145 win over Towns' Team Stephen at the Staples Center in Los Angeles. LeBron James, with 29 points, 10 rebounds and eight assists, won MVP honors. Team LeBron was coached by 1978 national champion and current head coach of the Toronto Raptors Dwane Casey.

Cousins (2010) and John Wall (2010) were also selected to the game – Cousins as a starter – but the Wildcats were unable to play due to injuries after their all-star selections.

With the four selections, Kentucky joined UCLA as the only program to have four former players picked in a single NBA All-Star game in the event's history. UCLA achieved the feat in 1983 with Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Marques Johnson, Kiki Vandeweghe and Jamaal Wilkes on that year's roster.

Jamal Murray (2016) and De'Aaron Fox (2017) tipped off NBA All-Star weekend for the Wildcats in the Mtn Dew Kickstart Rising Stars Challenge on Friday. Murray, the 2017 MVP, posted 21 points, seven assists and six rebounds while Fox represented the Sacramento Kings with four points and two assists. Murray also participated in Saturday's Skills Challenge.

On Saturday night, Devin Booker (2015) won the JBL Three-Point Contest with a record score of 28 in the championship round. He defeated the Golden State Warriors' Klay Thompson, considered one of the NBA's best 3-point shooters and winner of the 2016 competition.

Booker became the first player from Kentucky to win the JBL Three-Point Contest. Wall and Kenny Walker (1983-86) won the Slam Dunk contests in 2014 and 1989, respectively. Towns won the Skills Challenge in 2016.

In the actual All-Star games, the Wildcats have fared just as well. Davis won the Most Valuable Player award at last year's NBA All-Star Game after Murray took home MVP honors in the Rising Stars Challenge. Adrian "Odie" Smith (1957-58) also won the MVP award in the 1966 game.

Former stars Terrence Jones (2011-12) and Aaron Harrison (2014-15) were selected to represent the G-League All-Stars in the NBA G League International Challenge and performed well against the Mexican National Team on Sunday. Harrison scored a team-high-tying 13 points with three 3-pointers and Jones recorded eight points and six rebounds.

It wasn't in Los Angeles at the NBA All-Star Game, but former UK men's basketball player Isaiah Briscoe (2016-17) put on a show in the Estonia/Latvia All-Star Game overseas. Briscoe, who averaged 10.9 points, 5.4 rebounds and 3.7 assists in two seasons with the Wildcats, scored 50 points in the all-star game. He's averaging 17.7 points, 4.0 assists and 3.5 rebounds for Kalev-Cramo after helping the Wildcats to the Elite Eight last season.

Success Rate

The Wildcats received an NCAA award in the spring of 2017 for placing in the top 10 percent of all men's basketball teams in the country in the NCAA's annual Academic Progress Rate. UK scored a perfect 1,000.

It's the third straight year the men's basketball team received the award and the fourth time since 2009.

The APR provides a real-time look at a team's academic success by the progress of each student-athlete on scholarship. The APR measures academic eligibility, retention and graduation. The scores are a four-year composite, covering the 2012-13 through 2015-16 school years.

Every Division I sports team across the nation calculates its APR each academic year, similar to a report card. Scholarship student-athletes each semester earn one point for remaining eligible and one point for staying in school or graduating.

UK has received a perfect 1,000 mark in each of the last four single-year APR rates. The NCAA cut score to compete in the 2016-17 postseason is a 930 four-year APR. Teams scoring below 930 can face consequences intended to direct additional focus on academics. Those penalties can include practice restrictions and playing-season reductions.

UK to Tip Off 2018-19 Season as a Part of Champions Classic

Already one of the premier events of the college basketball season, the annual State Farm Champions Classic's spotlight is about to get even brighter with the announcement Wednesday that the event will tip off the 2018-19 season.

The event, which features Kentucky, Duke, Kansas and Michigan State, will move up a week next season to Nov. 6, coinciding with the new start of the college basketball season.

The 2018 Champions Classic, which will continue to be a neutral-site doubleheader, will feature UK vs. Duke and Michigan State vs. Kansas. Indianapolis' Bankers Life Fieldhouse will serve as the backdrop for the 2018 games, with the 2019 Champions Classic returning to Madison Square Garden in New York.

The Champions Classic will be in its eighth season in 2018 with Kentucky and Duke leading the way with 4-3 records. Kansas and Michigan State are 3-4 in the series.

Since the Champions Classic began in 2011, all four teams have reached the NCAA Final Four at least once, with Kentucky and Duke winning national titles, in 2012 and 2015, respectively. Over the last 14 games of the Classic, there have been 13 top-25 matchups, including two games featuring No. 1 vs. No. 2 (according to the AP Top 25).

UK has played Duke in the Champions Classic two times. The Blue Devils defeated the Wildcats 75-68 in 2012 in Atlanta but Kentucky beat Duke 74-63 in 2015 in Chicago.

Wall Inducted into UK Athletics Hall of Fame

John Wall was inducted into the UK Athletics Hall of Fame as a member of the 2017 class in September.

Wall was the first national player of the year in program history as winner of the Adolph Rupp Trophy. He was named 2010 USBWA National Freshman of the Year, a Consensus First Team All-American, 2010 SEC Player of the Year by Associated Press and SEC Coaches, SEC Freshman of the Year by the AP, First Team All-SEC and SEC Tournament MVP.

Wall led UK to a No. 1 national ranking, SEC regular-season championship and the SEC Tournament championship. He set the single-season assists record with 241 assists (broken in 2016 by Tyler Ulis) and averaged 16.6 points and 6.5 assists. He was the first No. 1 overall NBA Draft pick in UK history. A four-time NBA All-Star through his first seven seasons, he has averaged double-figure scoring every season. Wall was tabbed to the All-NBA Third Team in 2017. He is the Washington franchise career leader in assists and steals.

Cats Rock at Rupp

The Wildcats are 577-68 (.895) in Rupp Arena. Among the most notable marks of dominance in the nation's toughest venue to play include:

- A school record 54-game winning streak to begin the John Calipari era
- The Wildcats are 309-42 (.880) in regular-season SEC games in the building
- Kentucky set a new program home record of 19 wins in 2014-15
- The Wildcats have gone undefeated at home in five of John Calipari's nine seasons
- Overall, UK has posted a perfect mark in 13 of Rupp Arena's 42 seasons

Cal Owns Longest Win Streaks in Rupp

With UK's 2011-12 season-opening victory over Marist, UK head coach John Calipari recorded his 34th consecutive win in Rupp Arena as UK's head coach. It broke former UK head coach Rick Pitino's longest streak of 33 games in the venue.

The winning streak reached as long as 54 games. Calipari didn't suffer his first loss in Rupp Arena until losing to Baylor in his fourth season. The 54-game run, however, was his longest career winning streak. He also had the second-longest streak in the arena as the Cats won 42 straight from March 4, 2014 to Nov. 25, 2016.

Pack the House

Kentucky has led the nation in average home attendance in 20 of the last 23 seasons including 2017-18. That number includes a Rupp Arena record of 24,110 in John Calipari's first season (2009-10) as head coach.

- Kentucky averaged 21,875 fans during the 2017-18 season
- UK has averaged 23,000 or more fans in seven of Calipari's nine seasons
- The Wildcats led the nation in average attendance in 2017-18

The Top-Ranked Team at Home

Kentucky has lost just three times at home as the Associated Press top-ranked team in the history of the program and just twice in Rupp Arena. Prior to the loss to UCLA by three on Dec. 3, 2016, the other two losses came by just one point.

The Wildcats are 53-2 all-time as the AP No. 1 team in Rupp Arena since its opening in 1976. The first loss was to Auburn, 53-52, on Jan. 9, 1988.

Calipari to Receive NABC Metropolitan Award at Final Four

Already a Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Famer, Kentucky men's basketball head coach John Calipari will join another distinguished list when he's awarded the National Association of Basketball Coaches' Metropolitan Award at the Final Four in April.

Calipari has been selected as the 2018 recipient of the storied award and will join basketball legends John Wooden, Dean Smith and Phog Allen, among others, as winners of the award. Kentucky greats Adolph Rupp and C.M. Newton have won the award as well, in 1966 and 1995, respectively.

The award will be presented to Calipari at the annual NABC Guardians of the Game Awards Show on April 1 at 7:30 p.m. ET at the Lila Cockrell Theater in the Henry B. Gonzalez Convention Center in San Antonio, site of the 2018 Final Four.

Another Milestone Reached: 700 Victories

With Kentucky's win over UIC on Nov. 26, 2017, John Calipari became just the 39th coach to reach 700 on-court wins, regardless of classification. Only 27 coaches have done it with at least 10 seasons at the Division I level.

Calipari became the fourth-fastest coach to 700 on-court wins ever. Only Adolph Rupp (836 games), Jerry Tarkanian (876 games) and Roy Williams (879 games) did it faster.

Moving Up the Kentucky Career Wins List

With a 78-65 victory vs. Mississippi State on Jan. 23, John Calipari notched his 264th career win at Kentucky, moving him past Tubby Smith, who finished his UK career with a 263-83 mark. Calipari trails only the legendary Adolph Rupp (876 wins) and Joe B. Hall (297) for most wins at Kentucky. Calipari currently has 271 wins at Kentucky.

Although he's still climbing the charts, he's doing it faster than anyone else in school history. With a thrilling 75-73 victory over rival Louisville on Dec. 26, 2015, John Calipari captured his 200th career win at Kentucky faster than any coach in UK history -- and nearly faster than anyone has ever done it at any school.

Calipari reached the 200-win plateau in his 240th career game at Kentucky. Rick Pitino, previously the fastest to 200 wins at UK prior to Calipari, didn't capture his 200th Wildcat win until his 249th game. Rupp reached 200 during his 250th game.

Not only did Calipari reach the 200-win mark in record pace at Kentucky, he also nearly set the all-time Division I mark. With the win over U of L, he became the second-fastest Division I men's basketball coach to reach 200 victories at a single school, behind only LIU-Brooklyn's Clair Bee, who achieved the feat in 231 games.

Calipari is one of just 11 head coaches in Division I men's basketball history with at least 200 victories at two different schools and just the fifth coach at Kentucky to reach the 200-win plateau. He's currently the only coach in NCAA history with at least 189 victories at three different schools.

Calipari reached his 250th career win at Kentucky with a 73-63 come-from-behind victory vs. Utah Valley for the 2017-18 season opener. Calipari reached 250 wins at UK faster than any other Wildcat coach. It took Rupp 312 games to reach 250 wins, whereas it took Calipari just 303.

First-Ballot Hall of Famer

Kentucky men's basketball coach John Calipari joined basketball's fraternity of legends in September 2015 after being elected to the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame on the first ballot.

Calipari joined an elite group of basketball players and coaches in the Naismith Hall of Fame, considered to be one of the ultimate honors in the sport. The Class of 2015 included Calipari, Dick Bevetta, Wildcat Louie Dampier, Lindsay Gaze, Tom Heinsohn, John Isaacs, Spencer Haywood, Lisa Leslie, Dikembe Mutombo, George Raveling and JoJo White.

Calipari in Elite Company with Conference Championships

Kentucky men's basketball coach John Calipari added another first to his Hall of Fame career in 2017.

When Kentucky clinched at least a share of the 2017 Southeastern Conference championship by beating Vanderbilt on Feb. 28, 2017, he made history as a head coach. Calipari is the first NCAA Division I coach to lead three different programs (UMass, Memphis, Kentucky) to five on-court regular-season league titles five different times. He won the Atlantic 10 at the helm of UMass in 1992, 93, 94, 95 and 96. Memphis claimed the Conference USA crown in 2004, 06, 07, 08 and 09. Kentucky has captured the SEC five times in 2010, 12, 15, 16 and 17.

Perhaps more impressive is that Calipari has 29 combined regular-season and tournament championships. That trails only Mark Few of Gonzaga (32 titles) among all active coaches. All-time, Calipari trails only the great Adolph Rupp (41), Few and Dean Smith (30).

There's No Place Like Home

Since the 2000-01 season, John Calipari-coached teams have posted a 303-27 (.918) record at home. At UK, Coach Cal is 150-8 (.949) in Rupp Arena.

In five of Calipari's eight full seasons at Kentucky, the Wildcats have posted an undefeated record at home, including a school-record 19-0 mark during the 2014-15 season.

Calipari owns both of UK's longest winning streaks in the arena. He began his career at UK with a 54-game winning streak at Rupp Arena. It was the longest winning streak since the arena opened in 1976. With a win over Georgia on Feb. 9, 2016, he secured the second-longest streak in the storied building at 34 games (which ended at 42).

Coach	Streak (Yrs)
1. John Calipari	54 (2010-13)
2. John Calipari	42 (2014-17)
3. Rick Pitino	33 (1992-94)
4. Joe B. Hall	30 (1981-82)
5. Rick Pitino	27 (1995-97)

Life Away From Home Isn't So Bad Either

As good as John Calipari's team's have been at home, they're pretty good in hostile environments on the road. Dating back to the 2005-06 season, Calipari has recorded an 92-43 (.681) record on the road.

At neutral-site venues, Kentucky is 68-16 all-time under Calipari.

Calipari at No. 1

John Calipari is one of just two coaches (Frank McGuire) to lead three programs to a No. 1 ranking. With UK's No. 1 ranking in 2016-17, Calipari has guided six of his last eight and seven of his last 10 teams to the No. 1 ranking (and the ninth time he's done it overall).

AHEAD OF THE BARON OF THE BLUEGRASS

• Legendary coach Adolph Rupp won 876 career games while he was the coach of UK. He also led Kentucky to five NCAA titles during his 41-year tenure.

• John Calipari is ahead of the pace set by the legend as far as victories to begin his career at UK. Calipari (.811) is slightly behind Rupp (.822) in total UK career winning percentage.

When Coach Cal's teams have been at the top, they've been difficult to knock off:

- Calipari is 110-12 (.902) as the top-ranked Associated Press Top 25 coach in the country
- He's 69-7 (.908) when his team is at the top of the AP Top 25 as UK's head coach
- Calipari tallied a 32-4 mark at UMass when the Minutemen were No. 1 and he was 9-1 at Memphis when he had the Tigers at the pinnacle of the rankings
- Through games on March 3, Calipari (110) trails only Duke's Mike Krzyzewski (205) in active coaches with victories at No. 1
- Calipari has coached 122 career games as a No. 1 team, the fourth most in NCAA history, trailing Krzyzewski (235), John Wooden (228) and Adolph Rupp (131)
- Among coaches who have owned a No. 1 ranking in at least 119 games, Calipari's winning percentage of .902 trails only Wooden (.952) and is ahead of active coach Krzyzewski (.872)

Calipari Unrivaled in Conference

John Calipari has won 15 league regular-season championships (including the 2010, 2012, 2015, 2016 and 2017 SEC championships) seven more than the next-closest coach in the SEC (Bruce Pearl has eight conference titles). With a 2017 SEC Tournament championship -- Calipari's third straight and fifth at UK -- he owns 14 conference tournament titles, nine more than his closest competitor (Ben Howland).

He's tallied a 329-101 (.765) all-time record within conference play as a head coach and owns a 121-35 (.776) record since joining the SEC.

30 is the new 20: Calipari Secures Another 20-Win Season

With an 87-66 win over Missouri on Feb. 24, John Calipari achieved another feat in his decorated coaching career. With his 20th victory in 2018, he secured his 24th consecutive 20-win season. He leads all active coaches with that streak, ahead of Mike Krzyzewski (22) and Bill Self (20) who both also claimed a 20-win season this year.

With a first-round win over Northern Kentucky in the 2017 NCAA Tournament, Calipari and the Cats clinched a 30-win season for the fourth time in his eight seasons as head coach. Calipari has 10 seasons with 30 or more on-court wins. Only Krzyzewski (13) and Roy Williams (11) have more 30-win seasons as an active head coach. Calipari is the first coach in NCAA Division I history to record five straight on-court 30-win seasons, notching 30 wins in consecutive seasons from 2005-06 to 2009-10.

The Success Rate

John Calipari has graduated 100 percent of the players (17 of 17) who have been eligible to receive their diploma by the end of their senior years and exhausted their athletic eligibility. Of that group, Patrick Patterson, Jarrod Polson and Alex Poythress completed their degrees in three years. Redshirt junior Dillon Pulliam is slated to graduate in May of 2018.

In the NCAA's Academic Progress Rate, which measures eligibility, retention and graduation, UK has posted a single-year Academic Progress Rate of 977 or higher in every season under Calipari, including a perfect 1,000 in the last four single-year reports. Kentucky's four-year composite score in the most recent report, which was released in May, was a 1,000, earning the team an NCAA academic award for the third year in a row for finishing in the top 10 percent of Division I men's basketball programs.

Under Calipari, the Wildcats routinely post a 3.0 grade-point average or better.

Dream Maker

As someone who prides himself on helping young men reach their dreams, Coach Cal has helped 42 players get selected in the NBA Draft during his college coaching career, including 31 over his first eight seasons at Kentucky, which is more than any other coach.

- Four No. 1 overall selections (Derrick Rose, John Wall, Anthony Davis and Karl-Anthony Towns) during the nine drafts from 2008 to 2016. No other coach has more than two No. 1 picks

- In 2010, five of his UK players were selected in the first round for the first time in NBA history
- His six players in the 2012 and 2015 NBA drafts are the most in the two-round era
- Churned out 31 NBA Draft picks, 24 first-rounders, three No. 1 overall selections, seven top-five picks and 17 lottery picks at Kentucky
- Of the 49 players who have finished their college careers at Kentucky under Calipari, 31 have been selected in the NBA Draft (63.3 percent)
- Of the 21 players at UK who have declared for the NBA Draft after their freshman seasons, all 21 have been first-round picks. He is 25 for 25 in that regard when including his players from Memphis
- Dating back to the 2008 draft, 36 players under Coach Cal have been taken in the NBA Draft, including 26 first-rounders
- Only coach to produce the top two picks in the same draft (2012 - Anthony Davis and Michael Kidd-Gilchrist)
- Produced a top-10 pick in 10 straight drafts since 2008. No other school has had a first-rounder in each of the last nine drafts

Developing Talent

John Calipari hasn't just signed the best talent in the country while he's been at Kentucky; he's been the best at developing that talent and getting it ready for the next level.

Of the 27 top-25 Rivals.com players Kentucky has signed and have completed their college eligibility, 24 were drafted and 21 were selected in the first round. Those draft numbers don't include Wenyen Gabriel, Sacha Killeya-Jones, transfers or the 2017 class, all of whom are still in school.

But that's only half the story. Calipari's players don't just make it to the pros; they're better prepared than anyone else. The proof is in the numbers.

Over the course of his career, Calipari's more than 45 NBA pros have nearly $1.5 billion in NBA contracts alone, which doesn't include endorsement deals and overseas contracts. Of his UK players in the NBA, they've earned more than $1 billion in guaranteed contracts.

Double-Digit Win Streaks

Kentucky's 38-game winning streak in 2014-15 was historic, but it wasn't completely out of the norm for John Calipari. With UK's 14-game winning streak at the end of the 2016-17 season, Calipari has 18 streaks in his career where his teams have won 10 or more consecutive games during the season.

They've won 15 or more straight games nine times, 20 or more six times, 25 or more five times, and 30 or more one time.

Kentucky 14-game winning streak before its season-ending loss last season was its longest since the 38-game winning streak in 2014-15.

Calipari Knows Defense

John Calipari's 2014-15 Kentucky Wildcat team was heralded as one of the best defensive teams ever. However, defense has always been a staple of Calipari-coached teams. Dating back to complete NCAA records beginning in 2001-02, Calipari's teams have been among national leaders in several critical defensive categories.

COACH CALIPARI

A “players-first” coach with a penchant for helping people reach their dreams, John Calipari, a Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Famer, has guided six teams to the Final Four, led one to a national championship and helped 42 players get selected in the NBA Draft during his 26-year college coaching career.

Calipari guided Kentucky to its eighth national championship and his first national title in 2012. In becoming only the second coach in NCAA history to lead three different schools to the Final Four, he has racked up more than 700 on-court victories, 18 NCAA Tournament appearances, six Final Fours and numerous national coach of the year honors.

In 2015, Coach Cal led college basketball’s first ever 38-0 team, and became one of just three coaches to make four Final Fours in a five-year span. At the end of the season, Calipari became the 96th coach to join the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

While building a program out of obscurity at Massachusetts, laying the foundation at Memphis and restoring luster at the sport’s greatest program at Kentucky, he has totaled the second-most wins in NCAA history in the first 20 years of a college coaching career.

Quite honestly, though, Calipari’s on-court success overshadows a much more significant picture.

In his goal to lead a players-first program, he has helped 42 players realize their dreams and guided them to NBA Draft selections, including a record five first-round draft picks in 2010. Two years later, six Wildcats heard their names called at the 2012 draft, the most in the two-round draft era. UK, with Calipari’s help, would tie those six picks again in 2015, including a record-tying four lottery selections. His four No. 1 overall picks are twice as many as any other coach, and he’s had 31 players drafted during his first eight years at Kentucky, including 24 first-round picks.

Calipari’s players have entered the league NBA-ready. He’s coached an MVP, four All-NBA players, three Rookie of the Year winners, five NBA All-Stars, an All-Star Game MVP and 11 players from Calipari’s first seven teams at Kentucky have made the NBA All-Rookie teams.

Much like he did at UMass, where his players graduated at nearly 80 percent, Calipari has stressed academics. Fifteen of his last 18 seniors at Memphis earned their bachelor’s degrees, and all 17 players at UK who were eligible to graduate by the end of their senior years walked away with a diploma in hand, including three players who earned their degree in just three years. Another Wildcat, Dillon Pulliam, is set to graduate in May of 2018. Calipari’s teams routinely have posted a combined team grade-point averages of 3.0 or better.

His foundation, The Calipari Foundation, has raised millions of dollars to help the lives of those in need in the Commonwealth and across the country. In 2010, he used a telethon to raise more than $1 million for victims of the devastating earthquake in Haiti. He organized another one in 2012 for victims of Superstorm Sandy and another one in 2017 for victims of Hurricane Harvey.

In 2013, Calipari developed the idea of hosting an annual alumni weekend around his basketball fantasy experience with the intent to raise money for charity. After generating $350,000 for selected organizations and charities during the inaugural game, the weekend (the game and the fantasy experience) has generated more than $1 million for charity every year since, including in 2014 without the funds from an alumni game and 2016 with a celebrity softball game in place of the traditional basketball game.

In 2017, Coach Cal was named the head coach of the 2017 USA Basketball Men’s U19 World Cup Team, which finished third at the 2017 FIBA U19 World Cup in Cairo.

Author of five books, including the New York Times Best Seller “Players First: Coaching from the Inside Out,” Calipari is a master of communication and maximizing talent. He lives by the motto that “it’s never a matter of how far you have fallen, but instead it’s about how high you bounce back.”
