A WIN WOULD ...

- Be UK's 12th consecutive home victory
- Mark the first league win of the season
- Put Calipari within 11 wins of Joe B. Hall's Kentucky win total
- The Cats would improve to 47-12 in "bounce back" games under Calipari, including 3-0 this season
- Improve UK's record to 10-4 against the Aggies and 6-2 in the series when the game is played in Lexington
- Get things back on track

NEED TO KNOW

Kentucky was picked to win the SEC regular-season title by the media

Kentucky is 982-279 (.779) all-time in SEC play. Only two other teams have won more than 700 league games

PJ Washington and Reid Travis were both selected to the preseason All-SEC teams by the media and coaches

Tyler Herro won a number of awards last week, including USBWA Wayman Tisdale National Freshman of the Week and SEC Freshman of the Week, after scoring a career-high 24 points at Louisville

John Calipari has won a combined 30 regular-season and tournament league titles as a head coach and trails only Mark Few (32) among active coaches. Only Few and Adolph Rupp (41) have more all time

Ashton Hagans has totaled career highs in points in each of the last two games

Media Information

CREDENTIAL REQUESTS

Requests for single-game credentials should be made as far in advance as possible and no later than five days prior to game day online at sportssystems.com/Kentucky.

CREDENTIAL CRITERIA

The University of Kentucky's decision to issue credentials to a media outlet for the purposes of covering a UK basketball home or away event is determined by a variety of factors. They include the following:

- Amount of coverage given to Kentucky throughout the season
- Intention/ability to cover all 22 sports at Kentucky
- Distribution/size of publication: free, subscription, sale on newsstands, website traffic, etc.
- Radio or TV station program format and size of audience
- Length of existence of the publication, amount of original copy generated, number of full-time employees of the publication and the journalistic experience of the reporter(s)
- Attendance at Kentucky media sessions, including Olympic sport opportunities
- Space availability
- Professionalism, which includes but is not limited to conduct at games, press conferences, practices, on social media, etc.

The University of Kentucky has the right to revoke credentials under its own discretion.

INTERVIEW POLICIES-GENERAL

All interviews with University of Kentucky basketball players or staff members must be arranged through the Communications and public relations office. Media should never contact a player or coach directly.

The Wildcat Coal Lodge, dormitories, team locker rooms and other team quarters are private team areas. Media members are not permitted in these areas unless accompanied by appropriate university personnel.

PRACTICE/PRESS CONFERENCES

Other than announced exceptions, UK basketball practices are closed to the media. UK will accept requests to attend practice. All requests must be made by 10 a.m. the day before the practice. In cases in which practices are open to the media, no cell phones are allowed in the practice facility.

Player interviews are conducted prior to practices the day before a game and will be available to all UK media in the Joe Craft Center lower-level lobby. UK will accept requests for player interviews, but they must be submitted 24 hours prior to the scheduled availability.

Coach John Calipari or an assistant coach will meet with members of the media immediately following player interviews in the lower level lobby of the Joe Craft Center.

Gameday shoot-arounds are closed to the media.

TELEPHONE PLAYER INTERVIEWS

Telephone interviews are available to the media on a call-back basis. Individual player and coach telephone numbers will not be given to members of the media.

Players are instructed not to conduct interviews when contacted directly by telephone. The communications and public relations office will arrange for telephone interviews at a time most convenient for the student-athlete.

Other special requests are handled on a case-by-case basis.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Following each game, there is a cooling-off period, during which time the players shower and dress. Approximately 10 minutes after the game ends, Coach Calipari conducts his postgame press conference while a player is taken to the UK Sports Network.

Following Coach Calipari's press conference and the cooling-off period, selected UK players are brought to the media interview room.

Late Rally Falls Short as Kentucky Falls at Alabama

No. 13/14 Kentucky rallied from a double-digit, second-half deficit to get within a point late in the game, but the comeback came up just short as the Wildcats lost to Alabama 77-75 on Saturday afternoon in Coleman Coliseum.

Alabama (10-3, 1-0 SEC) led 54-53 with 10:46 to go in the game. That's when the Crimson Tide assembled an 18-8 run that would seemingly put the game out of reach. By the time the run was over, Alabama led 72-61 with just 3:11 to play.

Kentucky (10-3, 0-1) would not go away quietly. The Wildcats went on a 10-2 run to cut the lead to 74-71 with 30 seconds remaining. After Alabama got a pair of free throws from Dazon Ingram with 22 seconds left, Kentucky scored four straight points, on a layup by Ashton Hagans and a dunk by PJ Washington, cutting the Tide lead to 76-75 with five seconds left.

Alabama inbounded the ball, and John Petty was fouled by Tyler Herro. Petty connected on the second of two free throws to give the Tide a two-point lead.

Kentucky had one last chance, but Herro's 3-pointer from the top of the key at the buzzer missed, and the Tide claimed the victory.

The Wildcats got a balanced scoring effort in the game, with five players in double figures. Washington led the Cats with 15 points and seven rebounds, while Keldon Johnson had 13 points and also added seven boards. Hagans, Herro and Reid Travis each had 12 points for Kentucky. Hagans led Kentucky with six assists and three steals, while Travis had six rebounds.

Three-point shooting was a key factor in the outcome. Kentucky connected on five of its 18 (27.8 percent) shots from behind the arc, while Alabama hit 10 of its 23 (43.5 percent) 3-point attempts. Alabama also won the rebounding battle, 40-32, in a game that had nine ties and 10 lead changes.

Kentucky fell behind by five early in the game, 11-6, but the Wildcats mounted a 7-2 run to tie the game at 13 apiece. Alabama would lead 19-16 when Kentucky went on another run, this one an 11-3 stretch, taking a 27-22 lead with 9:38 remaining in the first half.

Alabama would use an 8-0 run to take a 32-29 lead with 4:17 to go in the first half. From there, the teams battled back and forth until Kentucky scored four of the half's final six points to lead 40-38 at halftime.

The Crimson Tide opened the second half on an 8-0 run to lead 46-40. Kentucky would battle back to lead 47-46 before Alabama scored four in a row. The Wildcats then scored the next four points to lead 51-50 with 13:32 to go. That would be Kentucky's final lead of the game.

Alabama's Tevin Mack led all scorers with 20 points in the first half, and 22 in the game. Kira Lewis, Jr. had 12 points, while Donta Hall added 11 points and 10 rebounds.

- In the 150th meeting between the two schools, UK's series lead is still 112-38 over Alabama
- The Wildcats' win streak over Alabama was snapped at 10 games
- UK is now 8-2 in SEC openers under John Calipari
- Kentucky scored 20 points off 17 Alabama turnovers
- UK blocked just one shot, a season low. The Wildcats had tallied four or more blocks in the previous 12 games
- The Wildcats gave up seven Alabama dunks, all to Donta Hall (four) and Herbert Jones (three)
- Kentucky surrendered 10 3-pointers, the fifth time this season they've allowed 10 or more treys
- Hagans notched a career high in points for the second game in a row. His six assists fell just one short of his career high
- It was Calipari's first loss to Alabama head coach Avery Johnson. Calipari's record is now 7-1 vs. Johnson

Kentucky has the unquestionable reputation as the league's gold standard. Since the SEC's inception in 1932-33, the Wildcats have been the most dominant team in the league, recording a 982-279 mark (.779) in regular-season conference play. Only two other teams have won more than 700 regular-season SEC games (Alabama and Tennessee), and no other team has a better winning percentage.

- Kentucky has averaged 11.6 wins and only 3.3 losses per season in 85 seasons in the SEC
- UK has won 48 SEC titles and 31 SEC Tournament championships
- The Wildcats have won 16 of the last 26 SEC Tournament titles
- Kentucky has won at least a share of five of the last nine SEC regular-season championships under head coach John Calipari
- UK has played in the championship game of the SEC Tournament in eight of Calipari's nine seasons, winning the tournament six times, including each of the last four
- The SEC won the Big 12/SEC Challenge for the first time with a 6-4 margin in 2018
- Eight teams made the 2018 NCAA Tournament field, the second most of any league in the country and a new conference record. The league went 8-8
- Four teams from the SEC rank in the top 25 of both major polls
- Ten SEC schools rank in the top 75 and four are in the top 25 of the NCAA's Jan. 6 NET rankings

Kentucky Picked to Win 49th SEC Title

With a mix of seasoned veterans and another crop of talented newcomers, Kentucky will once again be the hunted. Of course that's the same mantra every season, but a select panel of media confirmed the standard for 2018-19 when it voted the Wildcats to win their sixth regular-season title under 10th-year head coach John Calipari.

Should Kentucky achieve the feat, it would mark the program's 49th overall regular-season title.

It's the 14th time since the 1998-99 season the Wildcats are the overall preseason favorite. Calipari has directed his teams to regular-season SEC crowns in 2010, 2012, 2015, 2016 and 2017. Kentucky has claimed the SEC Tournament title in each of the last four seasons and six in all, winning in 2010, 2011, 2015, 2016, 2017 and 2018.

Each school selected media members that cover their team and additional media from across the nation were selected by the conference office to comprise the voting panel. Points were compiled on a 14-13-12-11-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis. Each media member also voted for two All-SEC teams.

Travis, Washington Tabbed Preseason All-SEC

In a league as talented as it's ever been, Reid Travis and PJ Washington were tabbed preseason All-Southeastern Conference picks by both the league's coaches and the league's media.

Travis and Washington were both picked to the first team by the league's coaches. Travis was tabbed a first-team selection by the media while Washington was picked for the second team. Both players, along with Keldon Johnson, received at least one vote for the preseason pick for SEC Player of the Year by the media.

Kentucky has featured at least one player on the coaches' final All-SEC First Team since the 2006-07 season.

Bounce Back

The Wildcats don't lose very often during the John Calipari era, but when they do, they almost always bounce back. UK improved to 46-12 under Calipari following its loss to Seton Hall with a win over Utah.

The Wildcats have only lost back-to-back games 12 times during the Calipari era with three of those losses having come during a four-game losing streak from Feb. 3-14, 2018. That was the first four-game losing streak under Calipari.

Previously, the last time UK lost four games in a row was in February 2009, when the Wildcats dropped four straight games to end the regular season. It's the first time Calipari had lost four straight since the end of the 2004-05 season at Memphis.

Camp Cal Wrapping Up

Class has remained in session for the Wildcats even over the academic holiday break.

No, the players are not in school during this time of the season for the winter break but learning and development is at its peak during what John Calipari likes to call "Camp Cal."

During this time period, when there are no restrictions on practice hours and the Wildcats are free of any academic responsibilities, the Wildcats often practice two times a day and sometimes even three if one includes a workout session with strength and conditioning coach Rob Harris. With no responsibilities outside practice, Calipari likes the team to be together focusing on basketball for much of the break as possible.

In between practices, Calipari will sometimes have the players over to his house to eat and rest. In the evenings, the team will go out together to eat almost every night. The team will basically eat, sleep and drink basketball during this time of the season, and it's often when Calipari's teams improve the most.

The proof is in the numbers. As successful as Calipari's teams have been in the nonconference portion of their schedule, it's the conference season where his teams really take off. UK has won five regular-season Southeastern Conference titles in nine seasons under Calipari and another six SEC Tournament championships.

This season has been no different. Kentucky's best two wins of the season, vs. North Carolina and at Louisville, both took place during Camp Cal.

Camp Cal will come to a close this week with the start of the spring semester on Wednesday.

Football Success Spells Basketball Glory?

The Kentucky football team enjoyed a historic season in 2018. The Wildcats accomplished all sorts of firsts, set school records and competed for a conference championship until late in the season. UK ultimately finished with 10 wins for the first time since 1977, punctuated by a victory over Penn State in the VRBO Citrus Bowl.

So what in the world does that have to do with Kentucky basketball?

Well, if you're into historical omens, past football success has coincidentally served as a precursor to the ultimate college basketball accomplishment. In the previous two fall seasons that UK football won at least 10 games, in the fall of 1950 and the fall of 1977, Kentucky basketball followed with a national championship in the spring of 1951 and the spring of 1978.

Can the basketball Wildcats make it three for three?

Johnson the Catalyst?

Arguably the most dangerous component of this Kentucky team -- and perhaps one of the main reasons UK started the season No. 2 in both major polls, the sixth time under John Calipari that the Wildcats have been ranked in the top three in both polls -- is UK's depth and number of options to attack opponents. Just about any player can go for 20 or more points on any given night.

Take, for instance, PJ Washington, who already has two games of 25 or more points. Then there's Reid Travis, who has scored more than 1,600 career points. Or Tyler Herro, who can catch fire and throw up a big number in the blink of an eye.

But to this point, the most consistent scorer has been Keldon Johnson.

That Johnson leads UK in scoring at 16.3 points per game isn't a surprise; but it's been his consistency and his efficiency that has started to turn heads.

When one considers that freshmen are typically plagued by bouts of inconsistency as they learn good shot selection and how hard it is to compete on a nightly basis at the college level, Johnson seems to be humming right along with all but one game in double figures. His lone game with single-digit scoring: nine points.

Johnson has scored 20 or more in four games this season, but more importantly, he's experiencing success without shooting a ton of balls or doing so at an inefficient rate. He's making 52.7 percent of his shots, he's averaging 5.5 free-throw attempts per game and he's arguably become Kentucky's most consistent 3-point shooter with a 42.6-percent clip.

The ability to make the 3-ball in recent weeks has elevated Johnson's game to another level. After making just six of his first 19 attempts over the first eight games, he has made 14 3-pointers over the last five games.

As of Jan. 5, Johnson is the only freshman in the country averaging at least 15 points per game, shooting at least 50 percent from the field, at least 40 percent from 3-point range and made at least 15 3s.

Calipari, who earlier in the season wondered who would step up and be the "catalyst" of this team, may have found him.

Hagans' Defense-First Mentality Paying Dividends

Ultimately the game of basketball is about who can score the most points, but if John Calipari was to write down some of the most important things that affect a basketball game, scoring would not be near the top of the list.

No player has had a bigger impact than Ashton Hagans doing the "other" things, especially defensively. Embracing his role as a defensive stopper, he has underscored the notion that there are other ways to affect the game than just scoring the ball.

Consider this: He's averaging just 5.0 points on the season, but he's been one

NOTES

CATS IN THE NBA

At the beginning of the 2018-19 season, 31 former Wildcats were on an opening-day roster, more than any other school in the country. The following listing is as of opening day.

of the most important players in Kentucky's improved play. Take, for example, the North Carolina win. Hagans scored seven points, but his fingerprints were all over the outcome, especially on the defensive end, where he tied a school record with eight steals (previously set by Wayne Turner on Nov. 24, 1997, vs. George Washington and Rajon Rondo on Feb. 19, 2005, vs. Mississippi State).

UNC head coach and Hall of Famer Roy Williams said it best: "Ashton Hagans is 2 for 6, seven points, and I thought in some ways he was more dominating in the game than anybody."

In some ways, it was reminiscent of Anthony Davis' 2012 national championship game performance. In that game, Davis made just 1 of 10 shots but was the most dominant player on the floor because of what he did defensively. He blocked six shots, came up with three steals and grabbed 16 rebounds en route to Final Four Most Outstanding Player honors.

Hagans' 1.85 steals per game is not only ranked third in the Southeastern Conference, he's ranked second nationally among all freshman in steals per game among freshmen who are averaging 25.0 minutes or less per game.

And it's worth nothing that as Hagans' defensive stock has been on the rise, his offensive numbers have started to follow. He's scored seven or more points in five of the last seven games, including back-to-back career-high scoring days vs. Louisville (11) and Alabama (12), and dished out three or more assists in all seven. His minutes have gone up and he's appeared to have taken over lead point guard responsibilities.

Good or Great? Washington Shows Ability to be 'as Good as any Player'

PJ Washington has shown the ability to be a very good college player. He's also shown the ability to be an elite, first-round NBA Draft type of player. It's that difference -- from good to great -- that has John Calipari wanting more from his sophomore forward.

The latest three displays of dominance from Washington were a pair of neutral-site performances and one on the road against good competition. In New York vs. Seton Hall, Washington scored a career-high 29 points to go along with 12 rebounds, a career-high-tying four blocks and four assists. Washington ignited the Wildcats early, was Kentucky's go-to player late in the game with 16 of the Wildcats' final 33 points in regulation and overtime, and was clutch at the free-throw line, making a career-best 12 of 13 from the charity stripe.

Then vs. No. 9/10 North Carolina, Washington put his full arsenal of skills on display with a memorable all-around performance. He posted 11 points, 10 rebounds and a career-high eight assists, just missing out on the fourth triple-double in school history. He settled for his team-leading fourth double-double of the season in just 11 games.

At Louisville, Washington displayed another all-around performance. He had five points, eight boards, three assists, a steal and another career-high-tying four blocks in 34 minutes of play.

Earlier this season, Washington had a dominant three-game stretch vs. North Dakota, VMI and Wintrhop in which he averaged 21.0 points, 12.0 rebounds and 2.7 assists. Included in that stretch was a 25-point game that featured a career-best four 3-pointers, back-to-back double-doubles and a career-high 18-rebound game against VMI.

All told, Washington is averaging 12.8 points on the season and a team-best 8.3 rebounds while shooting 51.4 percent from the floor. He's also posting 2.2 assists and 1.2 blocks per game.

Here's the catch: If Washington can display dominating performances like he did vs. UNC, Seton Hall, North Dakota, VMI and Winthrop, he should be doing it every game, his coach believes.

"That's who he should be the whole game," Calipari said following the Seton Hall performance. "That's who you are. Why aren't you getting 35 and 20? ... If that's who you are and you're making free throws and you're doing the things that you're doing, you're as good as any player in the country. Be that guy every night."

Travis a Candidate for Senior CLASS Award

Reid Travis is one of 30 candidates for the Senior CLASS Award the organization announced. Honoring student-athletes who excel both on and off the court, the candidates must be classified as an NCAA Division I senior and have notable achievements in four areas of excellence in community, classroom, character and competition to be eligible for the award.

An acronym for Celebrating Loyalty and Achievement for Staying in School, the Senior CLASS Award focuses on the total student-athlete and encourages students to use their platform in athletics to make a positive impact as leaders in their communities.

Ten finalists will be named in February and placed on the official ballot for a nationwide vote from fans, coaches and media. The winner will be announced during the 2019 NCAA Men's Final Four in Minneapolis in April.

Travis graduated from Stanford University in June with a degree in science, technology and society before transferring to Kentucky as a graduate student this summer. He is enrolled in UK's master's program in health promotion with an emphasis in sport leadership. Travis is intrigued by career aspirations in technology entrepreneurship after his time in Silicon Valley.

While at Stanford, he served the Ronald McDonald house once a month, interacting with families and serving dinner. The Cardinal became close with one particular patient, Ty from Lake Tahoe, and the squad adopted him as a member of their team.

Ty spent time at practices and games while getting treatment at Stanford. Additionally, Travis has been a mainstay as a volunteer alongside his mom, Jacqueline, at their hometown church in Minneapolis. He's assisted her with setups and the organization of various meals and mass preparation.

While at Kentucky, he helps oversee the execution of UK's God's Pantry initiative as a part of his "Good Deeds" project. He is a part of the organization of stuffing bagged lunches and deliveries to local elementary schools. The entire team participated in Samaritan's Feet in the Bahamas and worked with the Salvation Army at Thanksgiving.

On the court, he is a two-time first-team All-Pac 12 selection. He was named to the National Association of Basketball Coaches All-District First Team and the U.S. Basketball Writers Association All-District team a season ago. Travis capped his career with the Cardinal having become one of just three players in program history to amass at least 1,400 career points and 700 rebounds in fewer than 100 games played. He ranked third in the Pac-12 in both scoring (19.5 points per game) and rebounding (8.7 rebounds per game) while scoring in double-figures in all but one game.

This season, Travis is averaging 14.4 points and 6.2 rebounds per game for the 10-3 Wildcats. Both of those totals rank second on the team. He's connecting on 54.9 percent of his field goals and 70.7 percent of his free throws. Just 13 games into his career with UK, he's blocked 10 shots, already the most he's had in a single season during his career.

Cats Trying to Shore up 3-Point Defense Woes

John Calipari-coached teams are typically among the best in the country at defending the 3-point shot.

Dating back to 2008-09 (the first season the NCAA has 3-point field-goal percentage defense statistics readily available), Calipari's last 10 teams (including his 2008-09 Memphis squad) have ranked in the top 100 in all but one season in 3-point field-goal percentage defense. Three of those have ranked in the top 10 and not a single team allowed opponents to shoot better than 32.6 percent from behind the arc.

As a matter of fact, if one factors in Calipari's teams at UK, Memphis and UMass, only two teams have ever allowed the opposition to shoot better than 35.0 percent for a season and 14 of his prior 26 teams limited the opposition to 32.0 percent or less.

It's been a different story this season.

Punctuated by VMI's historic 3-point display In the middle of November, a performance that included 19 3-pointers -- the most ever by a Kentucky opponent -- and 10 by Bubba Parham, opponents are making 38.4 percent of their long-range shots against UK and making 8.5 3-point field goals per game. Kentucky's 3-point field-goal percentage defense ranks 331st in the country (through games on Jan. 5).

Winthrop followed the historic VMI performance with 13-pointers of its own, and after a three-game improvement vs. Tennessee State, Monmouth and UNC Greensboro, Seton Hall hit 11. Five Kentucky opponents have hit 10 or more 3-pointers this season.

In other words, it doesn't just seem like Kentucky's foes are making more perimeter shots than they normally do; they are.

There is no question Kentucky needs to make some improvements on the perimeter, but perhaps there are other factors involved as well.

First, it's still fairly early in the season. Thirteen games isn't a large sample size, and if history tells us anything, the numbers will return to the median. If no other Calipari team has allowed opponents to shoot better than 32.6 percent from behind the arc, chances are Kentucky's current 3-point field-goal percentage defense will continue to get better.

The other could be the opponents. Up until Monmouth, Kentucky's opponents were all 3-point-shooting-happy teams.

At the time, five of the first six opponents UK faced ranked in the top 80 in 3-point field goal percentage and three ranked in the top 20 in 3-point field goals made per game. Sometimes a good offense just beats a good defense, and though Calipari would be the first to tell you the defense needs to get significantly better, part of the early-season perimeter struggles on defense could just be buzzard's luck in scheduling good 3-point shooting teams.

Cats Not Counting on the Long Ball

While Kentucky has struggled to defend the 3, it hasn't relied on it offensively even though John Calipari think this could be hist best 3-point shooting team at Kentucky.

UK is generating just 22.9 percent of its points from 3-pointers, ranked 337th in the country, according to KenPom.com (through games on Jan. 1). In recent weeks, Calipari has called this more of a post-up team, and the numbers show it, as UK is taking just 17.8 3-point attempts per game.

But, it should be noted that while the numbers are low compared to the rest of the country, they're about the norm for Calipari's past Kentucky teams. There's an old expression in basketball that you live by the 3 or die by the 3, but UK has generally done neither under Calipari.

In fact, the Wildcats' 3-point field-goal attempt percentage of 30.6 percent is about average for Calipari's previous Kentucky teams, as is the make percentage of .353 (see numbers below).

Calipari would like to see his teams take between 20 to 24 3-point attempts per game. Although the season average falls below that, the Wildcats have taken more attempts in recent games. After taking 20 or more 3-point shots in just one of the first eight games, UK has taken 20 or more in four of the last five games, including a season-high 26 vs. North Carolina.

UK has made 32 3-pointers over its last four games.

Cats Cleaning the Glass

Although this Kentucky team isn't quite as long in the frontcourt as some of John Calipari's more recent teams, it has rebounded the ball in dominating fashion this season.

UK has corralled 159 offensive rebounds on the season and snared 18 or more offensive rebounds against Southern Illinois, North Dakota and VMI. The Cats have hauled in double-digit offensive rebounds in nine of 13 games.

That rate has propelled the Wildcats to eighth in KenPom.com's rankings for offensive rebounding percentage at 38.4 percent (through games on Jan. 5). The dominance on the offensive glass has enabled the Wildcats to average 12.4 second-chance points per game.

Prior to the Utah game, Kentucky had outrebounded its last eight opponents by a combined 138 rebounds, an average of plus-17.3 per game. It was the best eight-game stretch under Calipari. For the season, UK is plus-133. The 10.2 per game rebounding margin ranks eighth in the country (through games on Jan. 5).

After an off rebounding night vs. Utah, Kentucky returned to its season dominance by outrebounding North Carolina, which entered the Dec. 22 game as best offensive rebounding team in the country, by 10. UK limited the Tar Heels to just five offensive boards.

Three Wildcats are averaging 5.6 rebounds or more per game, but sophomore PJ Washington has led the way with 8.3 boards per game. He's grabbed seven or more rebounds in 10 of the last 11 games, including double-figure outings in back-to-back games vs. VMI and Winthrop.

Washington grabbed a career-high 18 boards in the win over VMI with seven offensive boards and 11 on the defensive end.

The remarkable thing is Washington's 18-rebound game isn't even the best of the season. Against Southern Illinois, Nick Richards gobbled up a career-high 19 rebounds -- exactly what SIU totaled as a team -- to help lift Kentucky to a plus-29 margin on the boards. According to Big Blue History, a comprehensive fan website, it's the first time in school history a UK player has recorded as many rebounds as the opponent.

Richards had nine boards on the offensive end vs. SIU -- tied for the most in the Calipari era -- and 10 on the defensive end. The 19 total boards were the most by a Wildcat since Michael Kidd-Gilchrist had 19 in a win over Louisville on Dec. 31, 2011.

The two games by Washington and Richards marked the first time since the 2011-12 season that two different Wildcats have hauled in 18 or more in the same season. Kidd-Gilchrist (19 vs. Louisville) and Anthony Davis (18 vs. Chattanooga on Dec. 17, 2011) were the last tandem to turn the trick.

This team has the makings to be Calipari's best rebounding team at Kentucky. The 2013-14 team, led by 10.4 boards a game from freshman Julius Randle, ranked second in the country with a plus-9.4 rebound margin. The 2009-10 team had the best per-game average of 41.7, just above this season's 39.3 mark.

Taking Advantage of Free Points

Kentucky has been increasingly impressive on the boards, but offensively one of its strengths has been its success at the free-throw line. UK is earning 23.3 percent of its points at the charity stripe and connecting at a 74.9-percent rate. Kentucky's free-throw rate is ranked 18th in the country, according to KenPom.com (through games on Jan. 5), while its make percentage is 42nd in the nation.

Seven players are shooting 70.7 percent or better, led by freshman Immanuel Quickley's 85.7 percent.

Kentucky's strong performance at the line isn't relegated to its success rate of makes, but also the frequency in which the Cats are getting to the line and the number of makes per game. Through 13 games, Kentucky is traveling to the line an average of 25.7 times a game. The Wildcats are making an average of 19.2 a game. The opposition is averaging 10.8 makes on an average of 15.6 trips a game.

John Calipari's best free-throw shooting team at Kentucky shot 72.6 percent in 2014-15. The 2013-14 squad averaged the most trips (28.7) and makes (19.5) per game under Calipari's tutelage.

Big-Game Cal, Cats

John Calipari's teams aren't just good against the best teams in the country, they're great. Not only does Kentucky have a 53-27 record (.663) vs. Associated Press Top 25 teams, UK is 5-4 when both teams are ranked in the AP top five under Calipari.

All-time, Calipari is 11-8 when both teams are ranked in the AP top five. When both teams are ranked in the AP Top 25, Calipari's all-time record is 76-50, including a 45-23 mark at Kentucky. When both are ranked in the top 10 he has a 24-16 record, including 13-9 at UK.

Taking Care of Business

Kentucky's 53-27 record vs. opponents ranked in the Associated Press Top 25 in John Calipari's tenure is impressive, but the Wildcats' ability to beat all-comers can't be overlooked. Under Calipari, UK is 232-40 vs. unranked competition, an .853 winning percentage.

National Domination

It took 117 seasons of basketball to do, but Kentucky has finally pulled off the rare and impressive feat of having defeated a team from all 50 states in the country.

North Dakota was the lone state from which the Wildcats had never played an opponent (nor, obviously, beaten one). UK finally had the opportunity in November and took care of business with a 96-58 win.

North Dakota is one of five states UK has played only once, the other four being Delaware, New Mexico, South Dakota and Vermont.

Tennessee -- not Kentucky -- is the state that UK has played more games, won more contests and dropped more matchups against than any other state because of Southeastern Conference rivals Tennessee and Vanderbilt.

Cats Deliver the Knockout Punch

UK is 243-5 (.980) in the John Calipari era when leading by at least 10 points at any time in the contest.

When Kentucky failed to put away South Carolina in 2017-18 after leading by as many as 14 points in the second half, it was the first time the Wildcats let a double-digit lead wind up in a loss since losing two such games in the 2015-16 campaign.

UK also blew two double-digit leads during the 2012-13 season. Four of the five losses have been to conference opponents.

Perhaps most impressive of all is that 70.5 percent of games Calipari has coached in at Kentucky have produced 10-point leads at some point during the game for UK. The Wildcats have led by 10 points or more in a whopping 85.3 percent of Calipari's 285 career wins at Kentucky.

Always Efficient

According to Ken Pomeroy's calculations on kenpom.com, UK's teams under John Calipari have consistently ranked among the most efficient teams in the country per possession.

Year	Offense (Rank)	Defense (Rank)	Overall
2019	115.5 (15)	93.9 (27)	12th

Hold Them to 55 Points, 40 Percent

Defense has always been a recipe for success for the Wildcats under John Calipari. The special ingredient: 55 points. UK is a perfect 65-0 under Calipari when holding the opponent to 55 points or fewer. The Wildcats are 159-7 (.958) under Calipari when limiting the opponent to 63 points or less. Kentucky's 61-59 loss to Tennessee in 2017-18 snapped a 60-game winning streak when holding the opponent to 63 or less.

Kentucky has also fared well when it keeps its opponents to less than a 40-percent field-goal clip from the floor. UK is 168-15 (.918) against opponents under Calipari when its field-goal percentage is 40 percent or lower.

Calipari Plans to Redshirt for 2018-19

Junior Brad Calipari plans to redshirt for the 2018-19 season. If he doesn't play this season, he will have two seasons of eligibility remaining. He will continue to practice and travel with the team.

The two-time Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll member is on track to graduate in three years with a degree in communication. After that he plans to pursue graduate school.

Calipari has played in 27 career games in his first two seasons as a Wildcat and has recorded 11 points and five rebounds. He played in five of UK's six exhibition games in the preseason, totaling three points, three rebounds and two assists in 40 minutes. He played eight minutes vs. Transylvania but did not appear in the final tune-up against Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

NOTES

Best in the Bluegrass

Kentucky has been dominant against teams in the state under John Calipari. With Saturday's win over Louisville, Kentucky is 17-2 against in-state foes with Calipari at the helm.

The mark also includes a 10-2 mark vs. Louisville. Two of the victories over the Cardinals came in postseason play. UK had its four-game winning streak snapped in 2016-17 but has won all five meetings played in Rupp Arena, including a 29-point blowout in 2017-18, the third-biggest margin of victory in the history of the series. Louisville's two wins have come by a combined six points.

Here's a list of the meetings between the state's two premier programs since Calipari took over at UK:

- Jan. 2, 2010 - UK won 71-62 at Rupp Arena
- Dec. 31, 2010 - UK won 78-63 at the KFC Yum! Center
- Dec. 31, 2011 - UK won 69-62 at Rupp Arena
- March 31, 2012 - UK won 69-61 at the Superdome (NCAA Final Four in New Orleans)
- Dec. 29, 2012 - Louisville won 80-77 at the KFC Yum! Center
- Dec. 28, 2013 - UK won 73-66 at Rupp Arena
- March 28, 2014 - UK won 74-69 at Lucas Oil Stadium (NCAA Sweet 16 in Indianapolis)
- Dec. 27, 2014 - UK won 58-50 at the KFC Yum! Center
- Dec. 26, 2015 - UK won 75-73 at Rupp Arena
- Dec. 21, 2016 - Louisville won 73-70 at the KFC Yum! Center
- Dec. 29, 2017 - UK won 90-61 at Rupp Arena
- Dec. 29, 2018 - UK won 71-58 at the KFC Yum! Center

Keep a Watchful Eye on These Cats

Stocked full of some of the nation's top talent, a handful of Wildcats are on a number of national preseason watch lists:

- Tyler Herro - Jerry West Award (Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame's best shooting guard)
- Keldon Johnson - John R. Wooden Award (Los Angeles Athletic Club National Player of the Year), Citizen Naismith Trophy (Atlanta Tipoff Club NPOY), Julius Erving Award (HOF's best small forward)
- Nick Richards - Kareem Abdul-Jabbar Award (HOF's best center)
- PJ Washington - National Association of Basketball Coaches Division I Player of the Year, John R. Wooden Award, Citizen Naismith Trophy, Karl Malone Award (HOF's best power forward)
- Reid Travis - NABC Division I Player of the Year, John R. Wooden Award, Citizen Naismith Trophy, Karl Malone Award (HOF's best power forward), Senior CLASS Award

And the Award Goes to ... Kentucky!

As John Calipari's team has dominated the Southeastern Conference during his tenure, so have his players.

Kentucky has won more weekly SEC honors (93) than any other school during the Calipari era, including 75 SEC Freshman of the Week honors and 18 SEC Player of the Week awards.

UK has won four SEC Freshman of the Week awards already this season. Keldon Johnson has won it twice, while Ashton Hagans and Tyler Herro have each collected honors as well.

Baker Making up for Lost Time

Redshirt freshman guard Jemarl Baker Jr. made his much-anticipated debut vs. Seton Hall in New York. After redshirting last season and missing the first eight games of the 2018-19 season, Baker made his Kentucky debut late in the second half vs. the Pirates.

Baker did not record any statistics other than a minute of action, but it was an important minute for a player who has waited a long time to get on a college court in game action. He made his home debut against Utah and then really entered the regular rotation in a high-profile game with 15 key minutes -- a career high -- vs. No. 9/10 North Carolina.

Although he failed to score in the win vs. the Tar Heels, he showed his scoring ability in the late action vs. Utah and with a first-half 3-pointer at Louisville. Encouraged by John Calipari to shoot when he has the opportunity, Baker drilled a pair of 3-pointers on two attempts in just two minutes vs. the Utes for his first collegiate points.

The sharpshooting guard out of Menifee, California, missed all of last season after undergoing knee surgery. He returned to full action over the summer but was withheld from game action, including the Bahamas, because of a few instances of swelling.

He averaged 17.1 points, 4.1 assists and 3.5 rebounds as a senior at Eleanor Roosevelt High School.

Kentucky Signs Allen, Maxey

The first two dominoes of what expects to be another stellar Kentucky recuiting class fell this week with the official commitments of highly coveted prospects Tyrese Maxey and Dontaie Allen.

Both signed national letters of intent during the fall signing period and will be eligible to play for Kentucky starting with the 2019-20 season.

Maxey is a consensus top-10 player and a five-star prospect. Allen was a fast-riser in the recruiting rankings this summer and is a four-star prospect.

In every season in the Calipari era, the Wildcats have signed a top-three recruiting class according to the Recruiting Services Consensus Index, which tallies major recruiting rankings and plugs them into a formula to calculate a consensus ranking.

UK can only comment on prospective student-athletes who have signed official paperwork to play at Kentucky.

- Allen - At 6-foot-6, 200 pounds, Allen is a wing player by definition because of his ability to play both the guard and forward positions. His ability to shoot and handle the ball bodes well for where the game is trending towards, but he'll also pose matchup problems for smaller defenders because of his athleticism and size. He dominated the Kentucky high school scene during his junior season, averaging 31.8 points and 11.4 rebounds for Pendleton. He shot 59.1 percent from the floor and 39.6 percent from 3-point range. He's ranked as high as No. 54 by Rivals. He's the first player from the state of Kentucky to sign a national letter of intent with UK since Dominque Hawkins and Derek Willis, who were both part of the class of 2013 (current freshman Zan Payne joined the team as a walk-on in the spring and did not sign an NLI)
- Maxey - A combo guard out of Garland, Texas, Maxey is a gifted scorer. He averaged 22.5 points, 7.0 rebounds, 3.1 assists and 2.3 steals per game last season while leading South Garland High School to the state semifinals. He was one of the leading scorers on the Nike summer circuit this past season. At 6-foot-4, 185 pounds, Maxey can play both guard positions because of his ability to put the ball in the basket, but he projects as a lead guard at the next level. Maxey is ranked as high as No. 7 overall by ESPN and No. 9 by Rivals. 247 Sports tabs him as the 10th-best overall player in his class. Perhaps his crowning prep achievement to this point was leading USA Basketball to a gold medal at the 2018 FIBA Americas Championship. With Maxey's contributions, Team USA posted a 6-0 record in St. Catharines, Canada. Maxey averaged 8.8 points and 2.0 rebounds during the run

Forever Young

When PJ Washington, Quade Green (who has now transferred) and Nick Richards, three key pieces on the 2017-18 Southeastern Conference Tournament championship team, decided to return for their sophomore seasons, it marked a big boost in returning talent.

The trio accounted for 2,224 minutes, 905 points, 434 rebounds, 157 assists and 64 blocks a season ago. They combined for 80 starts in 2017-18. That's a lot by the John Calipari era standard.

As a matter of fact, throw in the returning reserves Brad Calipari and Jonny David and UK returned its highest percentage of minutes (33.1 percent), points (32.0 percent) and rebounds (30.6) since the 2014-15 team that went 38-1 and advanced to the Final Four. And that's not even factoring in a graduate transfer (Reid Travis) with more than 100 career starts.

But, to call this team experienced would be inaccurate -- at least according to Ken Pomeroy's experience rankings.

A year after checking in with the least amount of experience in the history of the KenPom.com rankings, UK is near the bottom once again.

Through the first 13 games of the season, Kentucky ranks 350 out of 353 teams in terms of experience with an average age of 0.68 years. It's the second-least experienced Power 5 team in the country, according to KenPom.

And according to one NCAA survey, UK is one of just 16 schools with one or fewer scholarship players that are seniors or graduate transfers. That same survey revealed that Kentucky is tied nationally for the second-most players who are sophomores or younger on scholarship.

Having said all that, it does rank as one of Calipar's most experienced teams at Kentucky, and that's important. Every team but one in the Calipari era has made the NCAA Tournament, but Calipari's best teams have always combined young talent with a few returning pieces.

The 2009-10 squad with John Wall and DeMarcus Cousins had veteran Patrick Patterson.

NOTES

The 2010-11 Final Four team had DeAndre Liggins and Josh Harrellson. The 2011-12 national championship team boasted three key returners in Terrence Jones, Doron Lamb and Darius Miller. The 2013-14 national runner-up squad featured Alex Poythress and Willie Cauley-Stein. And then the 2014-15 team that nearly ran the table had both Poythress and Cauley-Stein back again in addition to Andrew and Aaron Harrison and Dakari Johnson.

Kentucky's Schedule as Good as it Gets

Kentucky's schedule is always among the toughest in the country but this season's might be the best of the John Caliapri era.

UK faced the likes of Duke (Nov. 6) in Indianapolis in the State Farm Champions Classic, Seton Hall (Dec. 8) in Madison Square Garden in the Citi Hoops Classic, Utah (Dec. 15) in Rupp Arena, North Carolina (Dec. 22) in Chicago in the CBS Sports Classic and concluded December with a road game at Louisville (Dec. 29). UK will also face Kansas (Jan. 26) in Rupp Arena as a part of the SEC/Big 12 Challenge.

And that's just the nonconference slate.

The Southeastern Conference featured eight teams in the NCAA Tournament a season ago. UK will play three of those teams twice.

The Wildcats will face 16 teams that played in the postseason in 2018, including 12 in the NCAA Tournament. UK's competition combined to go 526-356 (.596) last season.

Thirteen teams finished the 2017-18 season with an RPI in the top 50 and seven ended the season in one of the major two polls.

Kentucky's nonconference schedule will see the Wildcats play in premier venues such as the United Center in Chicago (vs. UNC), Bankers Life Fieldhouse in Indianapolis (vs. Duke) and Madison Square Garden in New York (vs. Seton Hall), plus a difficult road game at Louisville.

Five of UK's nonconference opponents played in the NCAA Tournament last season. According to a survey among NCAA schools, that's tied for the third most in the country.

Seven Kentucky opponents entered the 2018-19 season ranked in the Associated Press Top 25, including four top-10 opponents in Kansas (1), Duke (4), Tennessee (6) and North Carolina (8). Four more teams sit just outside the top 25 and received votes.

UK Leads Nation with 31 Players on NBA Rosters

Every year the numbers gets bigger and wilder, but the bottom line remains the same: No school can match the Kentucky men's basketball team's ability to develop players and put them in the NBA.

A whopping 31 players on NBA opening-day rosters (including two-way, inactive and suspension lists) played and finished their college basketball careers at the University of Kentucky, the nation's most prolific NBA player-producing program in the country. UK's 31 players were once again the most of any college basketball program, beating the next-closest school (Duke with 25) by six players.

Of the 31 players in the NBA to start the 2018-19 season, 6.3 percent played and finished their college basketball careers at UK. There are actually fewer teams without a Wildcat (11) than there are NBA teams featuring Wildcats (19).

Kentucky's NBA dominance was best represented in Sacramento, Denver, New Orleans and Oklahoma City, where a combined 13 Wildcats now play at the highest level of the game. Former UK stars Willie Cauley-Stein, De'Aaron Fox, Wenyen Gabriel and Skal Labissiere call Sacramento their home; Trey Lyles, Jamal Murray and Jarred Vanderbilt play for Denver; Anthony Davis, Darius Miller and Julius Randle are in New Orleans; and Hamidou Diallo, Nerlens Noel and Patrick Patterson suit up for OKC.

Three other franchises – the Milwaukee Bucks (Eric Bledsoe, Jodie Meeks) the Charlotte Hornets (Michael Kidd-Gilchrist, Malik Monk) and the New York Knicks (Enes Kanter, Kevin Knox) – opened the season with at least two Wildcats apiece.

Of the 31 Wildcats on an opening-day NBA roster, head coach John Calipari has coached 29 of them. With Tyreke Evans (Indianapolis Pacers) and Derrick Rose (Minnesota Timberwolves), who played for Calipari at Memphis, Calipari has coached 31 players on 2018-19 opening-day rosters.

Using figures compiled by basketball-reference.com and spotrac.com, Calipari-coached players only (which includes Rose and Evans but not Meeks or Rondo) have amassed nearly $1.9 billion in career NBA contracts ($1.87 billion). In the nine seasons Calipari has been the head coach at Kentucky, his players have totaled more than $1.5 billion in NBA contracts.

In just the 2018-19 season alone, UK players are slated to make almost $190 million. Calipari-coached players only (which includes Rose and Evans but not Meeks or Rondo) will make nearly $195 million.

Among the most noteworthy performances of the season so far:

- Fox not only posted his first career triple-double on Nov. 1, he became the youngest player in league history to record 30 or more points, 15 or more assists, and 10 or rebounds in a game. He joined LeBron James as the only players in NBA history to record 30-point triple-doubles before their 21st birthday
- Devin Booker hit the game-winning shot at the buzzer vs. the Memphis Grizzlies on Nov. 4
- Kanter became the first Knick since 1970-71 to record 20 points and 20 rebounds off the bench with his 23-point, 24-rebound effort vs. the Bulls on Nov. 5
- Murray just missed out on becoming the eighth former Calipari player to score 50 or more points in a game with a career-high 48 points vs. the Celtics on Nov. 5
- Randle recorded a triple-double vs. the San Antonio Spurs on Nov. 19. In the process, he became just the fourth player in NBA history to record a triple-double in 25 minutes or less
- Davis reached 10,000 points on Nov. 21, becoming the eighth-youngest player to reach the milestone
- Kanter recorded his fourth career 20-20 game as a Knick on Nov. 25. He's one of eight players to have done it four times with the Knicks
- Knox scored 26 points off the bench on Dec. 1 to become the youngest player in franchise history to score 20 or more points
- On Dec. 9, Knox joined LeBron James as just the second player in NBA history with at least 25 points and 15 rebounds as a teenager. He also became just the second Knicks rookie over the last 35 years with 25 points and 15 rebounds in a game
- Davis tallied his 15th career 40-point, 15-rebound effort on Dec. 10. Only Shaquille O'Neal (19) has more over the last 35 years in the NBA
- On Dec. 16, John Wall became the second player in Washington's history to have multiple career games with 40 or more points and 10 or more assists
- On Dec. 28, Davis scored 48 points and had 17 rebounds, marking his ninth career game with 45-plus points and 15-plus boards. It's the most of any player since the ABA-NBA merger. Shaquille O'Neal is second with seven such games. Davis has amassed 48-plus points and 17-plus boards four times in his career. Since 2004, the entire NBA has combined to amass those numbers just once
- On Jan. 3, Knox was named the Eastern Conference Rookie of the Month for his play during the month of December. He led the conference's rookies in scoring (17.1 ppg), 3-pointers (33), was second in rebounding (6.0 rpg) and led all rookies in minutes (34.9 mpg). He's the sixth different former UK player to win a Rookie of the Month honor.
- On Jan. 3, Murray scored 34 of his 36 points in the second half in a win over the Kings. It was the most points scored in a half by a Nuggets player since Carmelo Anthony had 36 in the second half vs. Minnesota on Dec. 10, 2008.

Four Drafted in 2018; Five Make NBA Rosters

Kentucky's aforementioned presence in the NBA was bolstered by yet another strong NBA Draft. Four players -- Hamidou Diallo (45th), Shai Gilgeous-Alexander (11th), Kevin Knox (ninth) and Jarred Vanderbilt (41st) were all selected in the 2018 NBA Draft.

Wenyen Gabriel went undrafted but proved himself worthy of a chance with a team with a great summer of workouts and NBA Summer League showing. Ultimately the Sacramento Kings signed him to a two-way deal.

In nine seasons with John Calipari at the helm, Kentucky has churned out three No. 1 selections, 26 first-rounders, 19 lottery picks and 35 total players in the NBA Draft. The 35 draft picks are nearly twice as many as the next school (Duke). With another surge of first-round picks, Kentucky has more first-round selections (36) than any other school in the NBA lottery era (since 1985).

Davis Inducted into UK Athletics Hall of Fame

Anthony Davis was inducted into the UK Athletics Hall of Fame as a member of the 2017 class in September.

Davis led UK to the 2012 national championship with one of the most dominating seasons by a freshman in college basketball history. A winner of virtually every major national award, Davis was tabbed, among others: National Player of the Year, NCAA Final Four Most Outstanding Player, NCAA Consensus First Team All-American, National Freshman of the Year, Southeastern Conference Player of the Year, SEC Defensive Player of the Year and SEC Freshman of the Year.

The 2011-12 Wildcat guided UK to a 38-2 record and an SEC regular-season championship while shattering the single-season school record for blocks in a season with 186, which ranks as the fourth in NCAA history.

Davis was selected No. 1 overall in the 2012 NBA Draft and is now in his seventh season in the league. He's a five-time NBA All-Star, a three-time All-NBA First Team member, the 2017 NBA All-Star MVP and a 2012 Olympic gold medalist.

Success Rate

The Wildcats received an NCAA award in the spring of 2018 for placing in the top 10 percent of all men's basketball teams in the country in the NCAA's annual Academic Progress Rate. UK scored a perfect 1,000.

It's the fourth straight year the men's basketball team received the award and the fifth time since 2009.

The APR provides a real-time look at a team's academic success by the progress of each student-athlete on scholarship. The APR measures academic eligibility, retention and graduation. The scores are a four-year composite, covering the 2013-14 through 2016-17 school years.

Every Division I sports team across the nation calculates its APR each academic year, similar to a report card. Scholarship student-athletes each semester earn one point for remaining eligible and one point for staying in school or graduating.

UK has received a perfect 1,000 mark in each of the last five single-year APR rates.

The NCAA cut score to compete in the 2017-18 postseason is a 930 four-year APR. Teams scoring below 930 can face consequences intended to direct additional focus on academics. Those penalties can include practice restrictions and playing-season reductions.

Kentucky to Remain in Champions Classic through 2022

The State Farm Champions Classic, perhaps the signature annual event of the college basketball regular season, will continue through 2022 with Kentucky a part of it.

The Champions Classic, a neutral-site doubleheader featuring UK, Duke, Kansas and Michigan State, has added three more years to the current series, which was played in Indianapolis this season and New York next year. The additional three years will bring the event back to Chicago in 2020, New York in 2021 and Indianapolis in 2022.

UK, which played Duke this season at Bankers Life Fieldhouse in Indianapolis to tip off the season, will get Michigan State in 2019, Kansas in 2020, Duke in 2021 and Michigan State in 2022.

The event has been one of the most-watched collegiate events since its inception in 2011 with millions of fans tuning in every year. The series, which pits four programs that have a combined 18 national championships, 56 Final Four appearances and four Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame coaches, has been tightly bunched. Duke leads the pack with a 5-3 record, UK and Kansas are tied at 4-4, and Michigan State trails wtih a 3-5 mark.

Kentucky is also still a part of the CBS Sports Classic, which is currently under contract through 2019. UK will play North Carolina on Dec. 22 in Chicago as a part of that series and Ohio State on Dec. 21, 2019, in Las Vegas.

Green Transfers from Kentucky

Sophomore guard Quade Green has decided to transfer from the University of Kentucky.

Green notified Kentucky of his decision last week and will have the ability to transfer to any school without any restrictions, per NCAA rules.

"I have loved my time at Kentucky and love Coach Cal and the staff," Green said. "This was a difficult decision and one I didn't take lightly. However, after talking with my family and the coaching staff, I just felt like it was best that I explore other opportunities for my athletic and academic future. I have enjoyed my time at Kentucky and I'll never forget the Big Blue Nation for its love and its support."

Green appeared in 43 games for the Wildcats over parts of two seasons, averaging 9.0 points and 2.6 assists per game. He was third on the 2017-18 team as a freshman with 41 3-pointers and had made 11 of 26 this season (42.3 percent).

The Philadelphia native started 13 of 34 games in 2017-18 and was averaging 17.8 minutes per game this season. He played a key role on the 2018 Southeastern Conference Tournament championship team, topping double figures 17 times, including six of his final 11 games played. He had three or more assists in 17 games last season. Green hit the game-winning layup in a comeback victory vs. Vanderbilt.

"I met with Quade yesterday and we talked through a lot of different things," UK men's basketball head coach John Calipari said. "The thing that struck me most is what a great kid Quade is. He felt like he was in a position that he couldn't overcome and he had the maturity to come in and sit down and talk through it with me.

"Quade has my full support with this decision. We haven't had many kids leave, but when we do, we always support them and, in just about every case, stay in touch with each other. I hope that will be the case with Quade."

Green scored in double figures in four games this season, including a season-high 17 points with three 3-pointers vs. VMI. He made a career-high four 3-pointers vs. Monmouth and dished out three or more assists in five games this season.

Cats Rock at Rupp

The Wildcats are 585-68 (.896) in Rupp Arena. Among the most notable marks of dominance as the nation's toughest venue to play include:

- A school record 54-game winning streak to begin the John Calipari era
- The Wildcats are 309-42 (.880) in regular-season SEC games in the building
- Kentucky set a new program home record of 19 wins in 2014-15
- The Wildcats have gone undefeated at home in five of John Calipari's nine complete seasons
- Overall, UK has posted a perfect mark in 13 of Rupp Arena's 42 seasons

Cal Owns Longest Win Streaks in Rupp

With UK's 2011-12 season-opening victory over Marist, UK head coach John Calipari recorded his 34th consecutive win in Rupp Arena as UK's head coach. It broke former UK head coach Rick Pitino's longest streak of 33 games in the venue.

The winning streak reached as long as 54 games. Calipari didn't suffer his first loss in Rupp Arena until losing to Baylor in his fourth season. The 54-game run, however, was his longest career winning streak. He also had the second-longest streak in the arena as the Cats won 42 straight from March 4, 2014 to Nov. 25, 2016.

Pack the House

Kentucky has led the nation in average home attendance in 20 of the last 23 seasons. That number includes a Rupp Arena record of 24,110 in John Calipari's first season (2009-10) as head coach.

- Kentucky averaged 21,875 fans during the 2017-18 season
- UK has averaged 23,000 or more fans in seven of Calipari's nine complete seasons
- The Wildcats led the nation in average attendance in 2017-18

The Top-Ranked Team at Home

Kentucky has lost just three times at home as the Associated Press top-ranked team in the history of the program and just twice in Rupp Arena. Prior to the loss to UCLA by three on Dec. 3, 2016, the other two losses came by just one point.

The Wildcats are 53-2 all-time as the AP No. 1 team in Rupp Arena since its opening in 1976. The first loss was to Auburn, 53-52, on Jan. 9, 1988.

Coach Cal in Rupp Arena

It's been downright difficult to beat the Wildcats in Rupp Arena during the John Calipari era. UK is 158-8 (.952) in Rupp Arena under Calipari.

- UK is 17-4 (.810) vs. ranked opponents in Rupp in the Calipari era
- The Wildcats are 141-4 (.972) vs. unranked teams in Rupp under Cal
- UK is 85-3 (.966) at home vs. nonconference foes under Calipari
- Calipari notched his 100th career win in Rupp Arena as UK's coach with the Wildcats' 110-75 rout of Auburn on Feb. 21, 2014. It took Calipari just 104 games to reach the century mark at home, the fastest of any UK coach

Cal Passes Hall for Rupp Record

With a 101-70 victory over Cleveland State on Nov. 23, 2016, John Calipari passed former UK head coach Joe B. Hall for wins in Rupp Arena history.

Calipari currently has 158 victories inside the historic venue. Hall won 122.

A Decorated Decade

Entering year No. 10 at Kentucky, John Calipari's time in Lexington has been every bit as successful -- and more -- as fans could have hoped when he agreed to become the head coach at UK back in the spring of 2009.

By just about every measure, he's been the most successful coach in college basketball during his time at Kentucky as he gets ready to put the first decade behind him. Among schools who have been to at least two Elite Eights and a Final Four since 2009-10, Calipari ranks:

- Second in wins (285)
- First in NCAA Tournament wins (28)
- Fourth in NCAA titles (one)
- First in Final Four appearances (four)
- First in Elite Eight appearances (six)
- First in Sweet 16 appearances (seven)
- Third in regular-season conference titles (five)
- Second in league tournament titles (six)

700 Victories and Counting

With Kentucky's win over UIC on Nov. 26, 2017, John Calipari reached the 700 on-court win plateau. He is one of just 41 coaches, regardless of NCAA level of classification, to reach that barrier. Only 29 coaches have done it with at least 10 seasons at the Division I level.

Calipari became the fourth-fastest coach to 700 on-court wins ever. Only Adolph Rupp (836 games), Jerry Tarkanian (876 games) and Roy Williams (879 games) did it faster.

Moving Up the Kentucky Career Wins List

With a 78-65 victory vs. Mississippi State on Jan. 23, 2018, John Calipari notched his 264th career win at Kentucky, moving him past Tubby Smith, who finished his UK career with a 263-83 mark. Calipari trails only the legendary Adolph Rupp (876 wins) and Joe B. Hall (297) for most wins at Kentucky. Calipari currently has 285 wins at Kentucky.

Although he's still climbing the charts, he's doing it faster than anyone else in school history. With a thrilling 75-73 victory over rival Louisville on Dec. 26, 2015, John Calipari captured his 200th career win at Kentucky faster than any coach in UK history -- and nearly faster than anyone has ever done it at any school.

Calipari reached the 200-win plateau in his 240th career game at Kentucky. Rick Pitino, previously the fastest to 200 wins at UK prior to Calipari, didn't capture his 200th Wildcat win until his 249th game. Rupp reached 200 during his 250th game.

Not only did Calipari reach the 200-win mark in record pace at Kentucky, he also nearly set the all-time Division I mark. With the win over U of L, he became the second-fastest Division I men's basketball coach to reach 200 victories at a single school, behind only LIU-Brooklyn's Clair Bee, who achieved the feat in 231 games.

Calipari is only the fifth UK coach to reach the 200-win plateau. He's currently the only coach in NCAA history with at least 189 victories at three different schools.

Calipari reached his 250th career win at Kentucky with a 73-63 comeback victory vs. Utah Valley for the 2017-18 season opener. Calipari reached 250 wins at UK faster than any UK coach. It took Rupp 312 games to reach 250 wins, whereas it took Calipari just 303.

Calipari Third on UK Games Coached List

With a win over UNC Greensboro on Dec. 1, 10th-year head coach John Calipari passed Tubby Smith for third in UK's lineage of coaching tenures in program history. Smith's 10-year career with the Wildcats ended with his 346th game. Calipari and UK's win over UNCG marked the 347th career game he's been at the helm.

Hall of Famer Adolph Rupp is obviously first with a 42-year tenure spanning 1,066 career games and 876 wins. Joe B. Hall ranks second with 397 career games and 297 wins. With a win over Louisville, Calipari now sits 12 wins shy of becoming the program's second all-time winningest coach and 45 games from becoming the second-longest tenured head coach.

The Dec. 22 game vs. North Carolina was Calipari's 350th career game at Kentucky. Through 350 games, Calipari's record at UK was 284-66, just one game off the pace of Rupp through his first 350 games.

First-Ballot Hall of Famer

Kentucky men's basketball coach John Calipari joined basketball's fraternity of legends in September 2015 after being elected to the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame on the first ballot.

Calipari joined an elite group of basketball players and coaches in the Naismith Hall of Fame, considered to be one of the ultimate honors in the sport. The Class of 2015 included Calipari, Dick Bevetta, Wildcat Louie Dampier, Lindsay Gaze, Tom Heinsohn, John Isaacs, Spencer Haywood, Lisa Leslie, Dikembe Mutombo, George Raveling and JoJo White.

Calipari in Elite Company with Conference Championships

Kentucky men's basketball coach John Calipari added another first to his Hall of Fame career in 2017.

When Kentucky clinched at least a share of the 2017 Southeastern Conference championship by beating Vanderbilt on Feb. 28, 2017, he made history as a head coach. Calipari became the first NCAA Division I coach to lead three different programs (UMass, Memphis, Kentucky) to five on-court regular-season league titles five different times. He won the Atlantic 10 at the helm of UMass in 1992, 93, 94, 95 and 96. Memphis claimed the Conference USA crown in 2004, 06, 07, 08 and 09. Kentucky has captured the SEC five times in 2010, 12, 15, 16 and 17.

Perhaps more impressive is that Calipari has 30 combined regular-season and tournament championships after the 2018 SEC Tournament title. That trails only Mark Few of Gonzaga (32 titles) among all active coaches. All-time, Calipari trails only the great Adolph Rupp (41) and Few.

Calipari Unrivaled in Conference

John Calipari has won 15 league regular-season championships (including the 2010, 2012, 2015, 2016 and 2017 SEC championships) seven more than the next-closest coach in the SEC (Bruce Pearl has eight conference titles). With a 2018 SEC Tournament championship -- Calipari's fourth straight and sixth at UK -- he owns 15 conference tournament titles, 11 more than his closest competitors (Ben Howland and Kermit Davis).

He's tallied a 329-102 (.763) all-time record within conference play as a head coach and owns a 121-36 (.771) record since joining the SEC.

Although he's been publicly outspoken against conference tournaments -- only because he doesn't favor playing three or more games on consecutive days to win the tournament -- his teams have gotten up for them. Calipari's teams at UMass, Memphis and Kentucky have been to 19 conference championship games in his 26-year career, winning a remarkable 15 of them.

There's No Place Like Home

Since the 2000-01 season, John Calipari-coached teams have posted a 311-27 (.920) record at home. At UK, Coach Cal is 158-8 (.952) in Rupp Arena.

In five of Calipari's nine complete seasons at Kentucky, the Wildcats have posted an undefeated record at home, including a school-record 19-0 mark during the 2014-15 season.

ON PACE WITH THE BARON OF THE BLUEGRASS

- Legendary coach Adolph Rupp won 876 career games while he was the coach of UK. He also led Kentucky to five NCAA titles during his 41-year tenure.
- John Calipari is just behind pace with Rupp to begin his career at UK in total victories. Calipari (.810) is slightly behind Rupp (.822) in total UK career winning percentage.

Calipari owns both of UK's longest winning streaks in the arena. He began his career at UK with a 54-game winning streak at Rupp Arena. It was the longest winning streak since the arena opened in 1976. With a win over Georgia on Feb. 9, 2016, he secured the second-longest streak in the storied building at 34 games (which ended at 42).

Life Away From Home Isn't So Bad Either

As good as John Calipari's team's have been at home, they're pretty good in hostile environments on the road. Dating back to the 2005-06 season, Calipari has recorded a 93-44 (.679) record on the road. At neutral-site venues, Kentucky is 73-18 (.802) all-time under Calipari.

Calipari at No. 1

John Calipari is one of just two coaches (Frank McGuire) to lead three programs to a No. 1 ranking. Calipari has led six of his 10 UK teams to the ranking and seven of his last 12 teams to the No. 1 ranking (he's done it nine times overall).

When Coach Cal's teams have been at the top, they've been difficult to knock off:

- Calipari is 110-12 (.902) as the top-ranked Associated Press Top 25 coach in the country
- He's 69-7 (.908) when his team is at the top of the AP Top 25 as UK's head coach
- Calipari tallied a 32-4 mark at UMass when the Minutemen were No. 1 and he was 9-1 at Memphis when he had the Tigers at the pinnacle of the rankings
- Calipari (110) trails only Duke's Mike Krzyzewski (209) in active coaches with victories at No. 1
- Calipari has coached 122 career games as a No. 1 team, the fourth most in NCAA history, trailing Krzyzewski (240), John Wooden (228) and Adolph Rupp (131)
- Among coaches who have owned a No. 1 ranking in at least 119 games, Calipari's winning percentage of .902 trails only Wooden (.952) and is ahead of active coach Krzyzewski (.871)

30 is the new 20: Calipari Secures Another 20-Win Season

With an 87-66 win over Missouri on Feb. 24, 2018, John Calipari achieved another feat in his decorated coaching career. With his 20th victory in 2018, he secured his 24th consecutive on-court 20-win season. He leads all active coaches with that streak, ahead of Mike Krzyzewski (22) and Bill Self (20) who both also claimed a 20-win season in 2017-18.

With a first-round win over Northern Kentucky in the 2017 NCAA Tournament, Calipari and the Cats clinched a 30-win season for the fourth time as UK's head coach. Calipari has 10 seasons with 30 or more on-court wins. Only Krzyzewski (14) and Roy Williams (12) have more 30-win seasons as an active head coach. Calipari is the first coach in NCAA Division I history to record five straight on-court 30-win seasons, notching 30 wins in consecutive seasons from 2005-06 to 2009-10.

The Success Rate

John Calipari has graduated 100 percent of the players (18 of 18) who have been eligible to receive their diploma by the end of their senior years and exhausted their athletic eligibility. Of that group, Patrick Patterson, Jarrod Polson and Alex Poythress completed their degrees in three years. Jonny David and Brad Calipari are on track to graduate in May of 2019.

In the NCAA's Academic Progress Rate, which measures eligibility, retention and graduation, UK has posted a single-year Academic Progress Rate of 977 or higher in every season under Calipari, including a perfect 1,000 in the last five single-year reports. Kentucky's four-year composite score in the most recent report, which was released in May of 2018, was a 1,000, earning the team an NCAA academic award for the fourth year in a row for finishing in the top 10 percent of Division I men's basketball programs.

Under Calipari, the Wildcats routinely post a 3.0 grade-point average or better.

Dream Maker

As someone who prides himself on helping young men reach their dreams, Coach Cal has helped 46 players earn selection in the NBA Draft during his college coaching career, including 35 over his first nine seasons at Kentucky, which is more than any other coach.

- Four No. 1 overall selections (Derrick Rose, John Wall, Anthony Davis and Karl-Anthony Towns) during the nine drafts from 2008 to 2016. No other coach has more than two No. 1 picks
- In 2010, five of his UK players were selected in the first round for the first time in NBA history
- His six players in the 2012 and 2015 NBA drafts are the most in the two-round era
- Churned out 35 NBA Draft picks, 26 first-rounders, three No. 1 overall selections, seven top-five picks and 19 lottery picks at Kentucky
- Of the 54 players who have finished their college careers at Kentucky under Calipari, 35 have been selected in the NBA Draft (64.8 percent)
- Of the 21 players at UK who have declared for the NBA Draft after their freshman seasons, all 23 of 25 have been first-round picks. He is 27 for 29 in that regard when including his players from Memphis
- Dating back to the 2008 draft, 40 players under Coach Cal have been taken in the NBA Draft, including 28 first-rounders
- Only coach to produce the top two picks in the same draft (2012 - Anthony Davis and Michael Kidd-Gilchrist)
- Produced a top-10 pick in 11 straight drafts since 2008, the only school to do so during that time period

Developing Talent

John Calipari hasn't just signed the best talent in the country while he's been at Kentucky; he's been the best at developing that talent and getting it ready for the next level.

Of the 30 top-25 Rivals.com players Kentucky has signed and have completed their college eligibility at UK, 26 were drafted and 21 were selected in the first round. But that's only half the story. Calipari's players don't just make it to the pros; they're better prepared than anyone else. The proof is in the numbers.

Over the course of his career, Calipari's nearly 50 NBA pros have nearly $1.9 billion in NBA contracts alone, which doesn't include endorsement deals and overseas contracts. Of his UK players in the NBA, they've earned nearly $1.5 billion in guaranteed contracts.

Double-Digit Win Streaks

Kentucky's 38-game winning streak in 2014-15 was historic, but it wasn't completely out of the norm for John Calipari. With Kentucky's 14-game winning streak at the end of the 2016-17 season, Calipari has 18 streaks in his career where his teams have won 10 or more consecutive games during the season.

They've won 15 or more straight games nine times, 20 or more six times, 25 or more five times, and 30 or more one time.

UK's 14-game winning streak before its season-ending loss last season was its longest since the 38-game winning streak in 2014-15.

Calipari Knows Defense

Although the 2018-19 Wildcats are off to a slow defensive start, defense has always been a staple of John Calipari-coached teams. Dating back to complete NCAA records beginning in 2001-02, Calipari's teams have been among national leaders in several critical defensive categories.

Recruiting Trail

The Wildcats have signed more top-25 players under John Calipari's leadership than any other school. Nearly a quarter of all Rivals' top-10 prospects nationally over the past 10 classes have signed with Coach Cal and the Cats.

COACH CALIPARI

A "players-first" coach with a penchant for helping people reach their dreams, John Calipari, a Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Famer, has guided six teams to the Final Four, led one to a national championship and helped 46 players get selected in the NBA Draft during his 26-year college coaching career.

Calipari guided Kentucky to its eighth national championship and his first national title in 2012. In becoming only the second coach in NCAA history to lead three different schools to the Final Four, he has racked up more than 700 on-court victories, 19 NCAA Tournament appearances, six Final Fours and numerous national coach of the year honors.

In 2015, Coach Cal led college basketball's first ever 38-0 team, and became one of just three coaches to make four Final Fours in a five-year span. At the end of the season, Calipari became the 96th coach to join the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

While building a program out of obscurity at Massachusetts, laying the foundation at Memphis and restoring luster at the sport's greatest program at Kentucky, he has totaled the second-most wins in NCAA history in the first 20 years of a college coaching career.

Quite honestly, though, Calipari's on-court success overshadows a much more significant picture.

In his goal to lead a players-first program, he has helped 46 players realize their dreams and guided them to NBA Draft selections, including a record five first-round draft picks in 2010. Two years later, six Wildcats heard their names called at the 2012 draft, the most in the two-round draft era. UK, with Calipari's help, would tie those six picks again in 2015, including a record-tying four lottery selections. His four No. 1 overall picks are twice as many as any other coach, and he's had 35 players drafted during his first nine years at Kentucky, including 26 first-round picks.

Calipari's players have entered the league NBA-ready. His players have garnered 18 All-Star selections, with Anthony Davis winning the game's MVP honor in 2017. Rose was named MVP in 2011, five players have been tabbed All-NBA, three have been named NBA Rookie of the Year, and 11 players from Calipari's first nine teams at Kentucky have made the NBA All-Rookie teams.

Much like he did at UMass, where his players graduated at nearly 80 percent, Calipari has stressed academics. Fifteen of his last 18 seniors at Memphis earned their bachelor's degrees, and all 17 players at UK who were eligible to graduate by the end of their senior years walked away with a diploma in hand, including three players who earned their degree in just three years. Another Wildcat, Dillon Pulliam, is set to graduate in May of 2018. Calipari's teams routinely have posted a combined team grade-point averages of 3.0 or better.

His foundation, The Calipari Foundation, has raised millions of dollars to help the lives of those in need in the Commonwealth and across the country. In 2010, he used a telethon to raise more than $1 million for victims of the devastating earthquake in Haiti. He organized another one in 2012 for victims of Superstorm Sandy and another one in 2017 for victims of Hurricane Harvey.

In 2013, Calipari developed the idea of hosting an annual alumni weekend around his basketball fantasy experience with the intent to raise money for charity. After generating $350,000 for selected organizations and charities during the inaugural game, the weekend (the game and the fantasy experience) has generated more than $1 million for charity every year since, including in 2014 without the funds from an alumni game and 2016 with a celebrity softball game in place of the traditional basketball game.

In 2017, Coach Cal was named the head coach of the 2017 USA Basketball Men's U19 World Cup Team, which finished third at the 2017 FIBA U19 World Cup in Cairo.

Author of five books, including the New York Times Best Seller "Players First: Coaching from the Inside Out," Calipari is a master of communication and maximizing talent. He lives by the motto that "it's never a matter of how far you have fallen, but instead it's about how high you bounce back."
