A UK WIN WOULD ...

- Be its 15th in the last 17 games
- Keep the Cats no worse than one game back of the SEC lead
- Mark John Calipari's 300th win at UK. He would be the fourth-fastest coach in NCAA Division I history to reach 300 wins at a single school
- Be the 10th in a row in the series with Ole Miss
- Improve UK's record to 107-13 overall and 29-10 when the game is played in Oxford
- Mark the eighth true road victory of the season
- Be UK's 11 straight vs. an AP unranked foe

NEED TO KNOW

Kentucky is 995-281 (.780) all-time in SEC play. Only two other teams have won more than 700 league games

UK trails Tennessee and LSU by a game for first place in the SEC race. The Wildcats have clinched no worse than the No. 3 seed in the SEC Tournament

Reid Travis is day-to-day with a right knee sprain. He has missed the last three games after suffering the injury Feb. 19 at Ole Miss

Kentucky has won 14 of its last 16 games, limiting opponents to 38.4-percent shooting and 61.2 points per game in those games

This will mark Kentucky's second appearance at the Pavilion at Ole Miss

UK is 48--12 under John Calipari following a loss

John Calipari is just one win shy of 300 wins at Kentucky

Media Information

CREDENTIAL REQUESTS

Requests for single-game credentials should be made as far in advance as possible and no later than five days prior to game day online at sportssystem.com/Kentucky.

CREDENTIAL CRITERIA

The University of Kentucky's decision to issue credentials to a media outlet for the purposes of covering a UK basketball home or away event is determined by a variety of factors. They include the following:

- Amount of coverage given to Kentucky throughout the season
- Intention/ability to cover all 22 sports at Kentucky
- Distribution/size of publication: free, subscription, sale on newsstands, website traffic, etc.
- Radio or TV station program format and size of audience
- Length of existence of the publication, amount of original copy generated, number of full-time employees of the publication and the journalistic experience of the reporter(s)
- Attendance at Kentucky media sessions, including Olympic sport opportunities
- Space availability
- Professionalism, which includes but is not limited to conduct at games, press conferences, practices, on social media, etc.

The University of Kentucky has the right to revoke credentials under its own discretion.

INTERVIEW POLICIES-GENERAL

All interviews with University of Kentucky basketball players or staff members must be arranged through the Communications and public relations office. Media should never contact a player or coach directly.

The Wildcat Coal Lodge, dormitories, team locker rooms and other team quarters are private team areas. Media members are not permitted in these areas unless accompanied by appropriate university personnel.

PRACTICE/PRESS CONFERENCES

Other than announced exceptions, UK basketball practices are closed to the media. UK will accept requests to attend practice. All requests must be made by 10 a.m. the day before the practice. In cases in which practices are open to the media, no cell phones are allowed in the practice facility.

Player interviews are conducted prior to practices the day before a game and will be available to all UK media in the Joe Craft Center lower-level lobby. UK will accept requests for player interviews, but they must be submitted 24 hours prior to the scheduled availability.

Coach John Calipari or an assistant coach will meet with members of the media immediately following player interviews in the lower level lobby of the Joe Craft Center.

Gameday shoot-arounds are closed to the media.

TELEPHONE PLAYER INTERVIEWS

Telephone interviews are available to the media on a call-back basis. Individual player and coach telephone numbers will not be given to members of the media.

Players are instructed not to conduct interviews when contacted directly by telephone. The communications and public relations office will arrange for telephone interviews at a time most convenient for the student-athlete.

Other special requests are handled on a case-by-case basis.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Following each game, there is a cooling-off period, during which time the players shower and dress. Approximately 10 minutes after the game ends, Coach Calipari conducts his postgame press conference while a player is taken to the UK Sports Network.

Following Coach Calipari's press conference and the cooling-off period, selected UK players are brought to the media interview room.

Tennessee Gets Even with Kentucky in Rematch

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. – PJ Washington scored 13 points and grabbed three rebounds, but fourth-ranked Kentucky lost at No. 7 Tennessee 71-52 on Saturday inside Thompson-Boling Arena.

No other Kentucky player scored in double figures in Saturday's game. Nick Richards had eight points, seven rebounds and three blocks, while Immanuel Quickley also had eight points. Keldon Johnson had seven points and seven boards for the Cats, who saw their four-game winning streak snapped with Saturday's loss.

Kentucky (24-5, 13-3 Southeastern Conference) struggled from the field for most of the game. The Cats hit just 14 of 44 (31.8 percent) overall and only 5 of 19 (26.3 percent) from behind the arc. UK did hit 19 of its 29 free throw attempts in the game.

Tennessee (26-3, 14-2) had only five turnovers on Saturday, while forcing Kentucky into 17 miscues. The Vols scored 18 points off UK turnovers, while the Cats scored eight points off the Vols' miscues. Tennessee also had a 28-10 advantage in points in the paint.

Kentucky won the rebounding battle 39-36 and outscored Tennessee 13-11 in second-chance points. The Cats also held a 13-9 edge in bench points.

UK got off to a quick start, taking a 6-0 lead early in the game. Tennessee answered by scoring the next nine points to lead by three. After the Vols took an 11-7 lead, the Cats scored five in a row to lead 12-11. After Tennessee led 13-12, Kentucky grabbed a 14-13 advantage on a Tyler Herro basket. But that would be Kentucky's last lead of the game.

Tennessee would assemble a 9-0 run to take a 28-18 lead with 4:03 to play in the half. The Vols would lead by as many as 14 before settling for a 37-24 advantage at the break. Kentucky hit just 6 of 26 (23.1 percent) in the first half, including just 2 of 9 (22.2 percent) from behind the arc. Washington, who was limited due to foul trouble, led UK with six points in the first 20 minutes.

When Washington, UK's leading scorer this season, went out with two fouls at the 8:23 mark, UK was outscored 18-6 under halftime. The Wildcats went 9:32 of game time in the first half without a field goal under Jemarl Baker Jr. knocked down a 3 with 51 seconds left in the half.

Early in the second half, the Vols went on a 10-3 run to take their biggest lead of the game, 47-27, with 16:17 to play. The Cats would not go away quietly, scoring the next seven points to cut the lead to 47-34 with 14:27 remaining. That would be as close as Kentucky would get for the remainder of the game.

The Vols earned a split of the regular season series with the Cats, who had won in Lexington 86-69 on Feb. 16. Tennessee got 27 points from Jordan Bone and 24 from Grant Williams in Saturday's game.

- UK fell behind by a game in the SEC standings behind Tennessee and LSU with the loss
- The Wildcats still lead their most played series 155-72
- UK still leads the series in Knoxville 54-52 but Tennessee has won four straight there, the Wildcats' longest losing streak on the road to Tennessee since dropping seven straight in Knoxville from 1979 to 1985
- Kentucky is now 12-9 vs. Tennessee when both teams are ranked in the Associated Press Top 25 at the time of the matchup
- UK's road winning streak was stopped at six games. It was the longest road winning streak since the magical 2014-15 season
- Kentucky is now 5-3 vs. AP Top 25 opponents this season and 3-2 vs. top-10 foes
- UK's 52 points were its lowest in a game since netting just 48 in a loss to Vanderbilt on March 15, 2013, in the SEC Tournament
- The Wildcats' 31.5-percent shooting was a season low, and its 14 made field goals tied for the lowest of the Calipari era (also made just 14 vs. South Carolina on March 1, 2014)
- After dominating the Volunteers 36-20 in points in the paint in the first matchup, UK scored just 10 in the rematch
- It was just the third time in 23 games Kentucky lost when winning the rebounding battle (39-36)
- Washington has scored in double figures in 13 of the last 14 games

Cats Trail by a Game in SEC Race with Two to Go

Kentucky's loss at Tennessee on Saturday was a costly one but not an insurmountable one. With just two games to go, UK trails both LSU and Tennessee by a game.

UK still has hopes of capturing a 49th Southeastern Conference regular-season championship and sixth under John Calipari, but the Cats will need some things to go their way. Here are the scenarios for Kentucky to capture at least a share of the SEC championship:

- UK wins both games and Tennessee and LSU lose both games. The Wildcats would win the title outright
- UK wins both games and both Tennessee and LSU each lose at least one game
- UK wins one of its next two games and both Tennessee and LSU lose both games

As far as SEC Tournament seeding is concerned, the outlook for the No. 1 seed is bleak but not impossible at this point. At the very least, LSU has to lose both of its games for the Wildcats to get the No. 1 seed because LSU owns all tiebreakers over UK at this point.

Even if LSU were to lose both games and UK were to win both, it still wouldn't guarantee Kentucky the top seed. In the scenario that UK and Tennessee tie atop the SEC standings, they would split the head-to-head tiebreaker. The next tiebreaker is won-lost record vs. the next-highest seed and proceeding until the tie is broken. If Kentucky and Tennessee tied at No. 1, the scenarios are still plentiful at this point because UK and UT both went 0-1 vs. LSU and the No. 4 seed is very much up in the air right now.

UK will end the season with a trip to Ole Miss and at home vs. Florida, both of who are playing for an NCAA Tournament at-large berth. LSU goes to Florida and then hosts Vanderbilt. Tennessee hosts Mississippi State and then ends its season at Auburn.

At the very least, Kentucky has clinched no worse than the No. 3 seed and the double bye. Kentucky has never played earlier than the quarterfinals of the SEC Tournament in all 10 seasons under Calipari.

Calipari Moves into Second Place on UK's All-Time Wins List

A 66-58 win on the road at Missouri may have seemed like business as usual for the Wildcats, but it served as a major coaching milestone for head coach John Calipari. The win signified No. 297 as UK's head coach, which tied him with Joe B. Hall for the second most by a Kentucky head coach. He moved past Hall last week with an 80-53 win over Auburn.

Now, only Adolph Rupp owns more victories as UK's head coach than Calipari.

Having coached 368 games to date with the Wildcats, he would become the fourth fastest coach to 300 wins at one program in NCAA history with a win vs. Ole Miss. Bill Self at Kansas won his 300th game in the fastest time span of 358 games. Claire Bee did it in 359 games at Long Island and Rupp achieved win No. 300 in just 366 career games.

Bounce Back

The Wildcats don't lose very often during the John Calipari era, but when they do, they almost always bounce back. UK improved to 48-12 under Calipari following its loss to LSU with a win over Tennessee at home.

The Wildcats have only lost back-to-back games 12 times during the Calipari era with three of those losses having come during a four-game losing streak from Feb. 3-14, 2018. That was the first four-game losing streak under Calipari.

Previously, the last time UK lost four games in a row was in February 2009, when the Wildcats dropped four straight games to end the regular season. It's the first time Calipari had lost four straight since the end of the 2004-05 season at Memphis.

Travis Day-to-Day With Right Knee Sprain

Forward Reid Travis was expected to miss at least two weeks after spraining his right knee vs. Missouri on Feb. 19. He's now listed as day-to-day.

Travis sprained his knee midway through the second half vs. Mizzou when a teammate attempting to rebound a ball inadvertently fell into Travis' right knee. Travis stayed in the game for two possessions before walking gingerly under his own power off the court and into the locker room.

He began physical therapy last week and ditched precautionary crutches after just a couple days.

The graduate transfer from Stanford has been one of the key components to Kentucky's 24-5 start, which includes a 5-3 record vs. Associated Press Top 25 teams and has positioned the Wildcats for a potential top seed in the NCAA Tournament.

Travis is averaging 11.3 points and 6.9 rebounds for the Wildcats while shooting 51.6 percent from the floor and 73.0 percent at the free-throw line. He's started 23 of 25 games he's played, scored in double figures in 14 of them, and posted four games with 20 or more points. He's also recorded two double-doubles.

His presence was missed in the rematch with Tennessee. After defeating the Volunteers by 17 with Travis in the lineup -- John Calipari called him the "difference maker" in the win -- UK struggled mightily in the second game vs. UT, losing by 19 points.

Wildcats Eye a Top Seed

When the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee released its top 16 seeds for the NCAA Tournament bracket unveil on Feb. 9, Kentucky was tabbed the top overall No. 2 seed.

UK was ranked the No. 5 overall team and a No. 2 seed alongside Michigan, North Carolina and Michigan State, in that order. The No. 1 seeds, in order of rank, were Duke, Tennessee, Virginia and Gonzaga.

Kentucky definitely has a shot at a No. 1 seed with a strong profile to this point and more opportunities ahead. The Feb. 16 victory over a projected one seed, Tennessee, certainly had to help, and many major projections now have the Wildcats on the top seed line.

UK checks in at No. 5 in the March 2 NET rankings with a 9-4 record vs. quadrant one teams, including four of those victories away from home.

UK's Second Game at the Pavilion at Ole Miss

Kentucky's trip to Oxford, Mississippi, will mark just the second trip to the Pavilion at Ole Miss, which opened in 2016-17.

It was a memorable first trip for Kentucky. Isaiah Briscoe posted just the third triple-double in program history with 19 points, 11 assists and 10 rebounds, Malik Monk scored 34 points and Bam Adebayo recorded 25 points. UK won that game 99-76.

The Wildcats have won nine straight in the series and three consecutive games in Oxford.

Big-Game Cal, Cats

John Calipari's teams aren't just good against the best teams in the country, they're great. Not only does Kentucky have a 57-29 record (.663) vs. Associated Press Top 25 teams, UK is 6-4 when both teams are ranked in the AP top five under Calipari following the Feb. 16 win over top-ranked Tennessee.

All-time, Calipari is 12-8 when both teams are ranked in the AP top five. When both teams are ranked in the AP Top 25, Calipari's all-time record is 80-52, including a 49-25 mark at Kentucky. When both are ranked in the top 10 he has a 26-17 record, including 15-10 at UK.

Dating back to last season's Southeastern Conference Tournament championship game, the Wildcats have won six of their last nine matchups when both opponents are ranked.

In terms of this season alone, Kentucky has answered the bell of big-time showdowns after an early season lesson vs. Duke. UK is 5-3 vs. AP top 25 teams this season, including three victories over top-10 foes.

When Kentucky beat then-No. 1 Tennessee on Feb. 19, it marked UK's first win vs. the AP No. 1 team since toppling Ohio State in the 2011 NCAA Tournament. All-time it was the Wildcats' eighth victory for the No. 1 team in 23 tries and its second largest margin of victory.

Calipari improved to 5-4 vs. the No. 1 team in his career with the win vs. Tennessee, including 2-2 at Kentucky. According to the SEC Network, there have been 87 coaches who have faced the No. 1 team in the country at least seven times but Calipari is the only coach with a winning record.

Three players in particular have stepped up in the top-25 matchups. Below are their averages in UK's eight games vs. AP Top 25 opponents:

- Keldon Johnson - 16.3 points per game, 5.1 rebounds per game, .523 field-goal percentage, .455 3-point FG pct.
- PJ Washington - 16.1 ppg, 6.9 rpg, .529 FG pct.
- Reid Travis (seven games) -14.6 ppg, 8.9 rpg, .534 FG pct.

Washington Emerging as National Award Candidate

PJ Washington was always capable of being one of the best players in college basketball, and there were signs of it through the first year and a half of his career.

But it was those glimpses -- take, for instance, a career-high 29-point, 12-rebound, four-block, four-assist game vs. Seton Hall in December, or a near triple-double (11 points, 10 rebounds and a career-high eight assists) vs. North Carolina in the CBS Sports Classic -- that had John Calipari wanting more from his sophomore forward.

"I think when he plays at a different pace, a different level of intensity, a different level of bouncing and alertness, I'm telling you, he's as good as anybody in the country," Calipari said following Washington's performance vs. Kansas. "He is. When he doesn't, he's OK. He's just OK. So that becomes, what do you want? And then when you play that way ... that's when you become special."

Washington has decided he wants to be special.

He's emerged as a leading candidate for national award consideration, including Southeastern Conference Player of the Year and All-America status,

CATS IN THE NBA

At the beginning of the 2018-19 season, 31 former Wildcats were on an opening-day roster, more than any other school in the country. The following listing is as of the NBA All-Star break.

Name	Team
Bam Adebayo	Miami Heat
Eric Bledsoe	Milwaukee Bucks
Devin Booker	Phoenix Suns
Isaiah Briscoe	Orlando Magic
Willie Cauley-Stein	Sacramento Kings

especially with the way he's played the last month.

Over the last 12 games he's averaging 19.3 points, 7.3 rebounds, 1.6 assists and 1.1 steals per game. He's shooting 53.6 percent from the floor and 47.5 percent from long range, making 19 3s.

The two-time SEC Player of the Week has scored 20 or more points in eight of those 12 games and posted three straight double-doubles vs. Kansas, at Vanderbilt and at Florida to become the first Wildcat with three straight double-doubles since Julius Randle did it four times in March 2014. He has a team-high seven double-doubles overall.

The 6-foot-8 forward is UK's leading scorer (14.9 points per game) and rebounder (7.7 rebounds per game). His scoring average goes up to 16.4 in Southeastern Conference games. He's averaging 16.1 points in Kentucky's eight games vs. Associated Press Top 25 opponents.

A year after hitting just five 3s in 37 games at a 23.8-percent rate, he's already drained 30 this season in 28 games and is making them at a 43.5-percent clip. He's 21 of 43 (48.8 percent) over his last 14 games.

Through games on March 2, he was one of just four players nationally standing 6-8 or taller averaging at least 14.5 points per game, shooting at least 50 percent from the field, at least 40 percent from 3-point range and with at least 30 made 3-pointers.

Said Auburn head coach Bruce Pearl after Washington torched the Tigers for 24 points and a career-high five 3-pointers in the game in Rupp Arena: "He's a national player of the year candidate without question."

On Feb. 19 he was named the Oscar Robertson National Player of the Week by the U.S. Basketball Writers Association after leading UK to a win over then-top-ranked Tennessee. He became UK's first winner of award since Kevin Knox won it Jan. 31, 2018, and the fifth Wildcat overall since its inception in 2009-10, joining Knox, Malik Monk (2016-17), Julius Randle (2013-14) and Doron Lamb (2010-11).

Washington is on the midseason watch list for the Citizen Naismith Trophy, awarded to the national player of the year by the Atlanta Tipoff Club, and he's one of 10 finalists for the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame's Karl Malone Award, which goes to the nation's top power forward.

Super Herro

In terms of productivity, PJ Washington has been Kentucky's best overall player this season, but Tyler Herro may be UK's most important.

The pro: UK is 15-0 this season when Herro scores 15 or more points. The Wildcats are 9-5 when he doesn't. In Kentucky's 24 wins he's averaging 14.6 points, 48.8-percent shooting and 41.4 percent from 3-point range. In the five losses, those numbers dip to 10.8 points per game, 31.7-percent shooting and 17.9 percent from behind the arc.

In other words, as Herro goes, so likely do the Wildcats.

Herro has proven to be much more than just a shooter, as many labeled him to be when he got to Kentucky. He's bucked those notions by becoming a lethal scorer from anywhere on the floor (second on the team in scoring), a much-improved defender (29 steals) and an underrated rebounder (4.4 boards per game).

Overall, Herro is averaging 13.9 points per game with a team-best 51 3-pointers and a team-high 93.4-percent free-throw clip. He has made 54 of his last 55 foul shots.

Herro has been one of Kentucky's best scorers this season, leading the team in double-figure scoring games with 23 games, but he's been especially good on the road.

The freshman guard is averaging 15.0 points on 48.5 percent from the field with 16 3-pointers in Kentucky's nine true road games. Take away the uncharacteristic off day at Tennessee last weekend and his numbers balloon to a team-best 16.1 points on 52.3-percent shooting and 43.2 percent from behind the arc.

"I just like hitting big shots against people who don't like us," Herro said after going for 20 points with some big-time makes late in the game at Auburn.

Other key road performances include 15 second-half points on 5-of-7 shooting in the road win at Auburn, including the game-winning free throws, a key 3-pointer at Mississippi State to halt a furious comeback, and 18 points at Missouri.

Herro has scored at least 12 points in eight of the nine away games and is the only freshman in the country averaging at least 15.0 points on the road while shooting at least 48 percent from the field, 38 percent from 3-point range and 90 percent from the free-throw line.

Herro's breakthrough performance came in the form of a career-high 24-point effort on the road at Louisville, which marked the second-most points ever by a UK freshman against its archrival. He was named the Bluegrass Sports Commission's MVP of the game and then went on to win the USBWA Wayman Tisdale's National Freshman of the Week honor. NCAA.com named him its national player of the week, and he took home SEC Freshman of the Week accolades.

As good as Herro has been on the road, you could argue he had no bigger performance this season than the one he had in a 15-point comeback effort last week against Arkansas at home. He poured in a career-high 29 points highlighted by a career-high five 3-pointers. He didn't miss a shot in the second half and went 6 of 6 from the charity stripe.

NOTES

Hold Them to 55 Points, 40 Percent

Defense has always been a recipe for success for the Wildcats under John Calipari. The special ingredient: 55 points. UK is a perfect 72-0 under Calipari when holding the opponent to 55 points or fewer, including 8-0 this season. The Wildcats are 168-7 (.960) under Calipari when limiting the opponent to 63 points or less. Kentucky's 61-59 loss to Tennessee in 2017-18 snapped a 60-game winning streak when holding the opponent to 63 or less.

Kentucky has also fared well when it keeps its opponents to less than a 40-percent field-goal clip from the floor. UK is 178-15 (.922) against opponents under Calipari when its field-goal percentage is 40 percent or lower, including 14-0 this season.

This UK team has started to contribute to those stingy defensive numbers (see next section) ...

Defense Making the Difference

After some early-season struggles on the defensive end, this Kentucky team has found the look of John Calipari's past teams: stingy, physical and dominant.

UK's field-goal defense, 3-point defense, steals per game and – the most important defensive statistic -- points allowed per game have all shown significant improvement over the last 15 games, which has included wins over four Associated Press Top 25 opponents, key road victories and against league foes at or near the top of the SEC standings.

Prior to Mississippi State (43.4 percent) and LSU (42.9), UK held seven of eight opponents to less than 40-percent shooting -- which is almost always a recipe for success for Calipari's teams (see above note). The five straight games was the longest such streak of opponents being limited to 40 percent or less since the 2017-18 team concluded the season on a stretch of six such games.

The Wildcats have held 10 of their last 15 opponents to less than 40 percent.

Seven of eight opponents (prior to MSU, LSU and UT) had also been limited to 63 points or less, as have the last two foes. The Wildcats delivered Mississippi State (in Rupp), Georgia, Vanderbilt (in Rupp), South Carolina and Auburn (in Rupp) their season-low point totals at the time. That included limiting two straight opponents to 50 points or less (47 to Vanderbilt and 49 to Georgia), the first time that's happened since Feb. 14, 2015 vs. South Carolina (43) and Feb. 17, 2015 against Tennessee (48). Prior to the game at Mississippi State, UK had held five straight opponents to 63 or fewer, the first time that's happened since the 2014-15 team held eight straight teams to 63 or less from Jan. 13-Feb. 7, 2015.

Against Kansas, the Wildcats held the Jayhawks to just 20 points in the paint, their lowest total in two seasons, according to ESPN Stats & Info. Kentucky limited Vanderbilt to 17 second-half points in the teams' first meeting and then limited the Commodores to just 15 first-half points on Jan. 29 in Nashville. It was the fewest first-half points the Cats allowed since UCLA scored seven in the first 20 minutes on Dec. 20, 2014.

UK's defensive numbers over the last 15 games serves as a snapshot of the defensive turnaround:

	Record	Opp. FG%	Opp. 3FG%	Opp. PPG
First 13 games	10-3	42.6	38.4	70.0
Last 15 games	14-2	38.4	32.8	61.2

Kentucky Battle Tested Thanks to Difficult Schedule

Kentucky's schedule, as it is every year under John Calipari, is one of the best in the country.

As of March 3, UK's schedule ranks as the 14th toughest in the NCAA's NET rankings with 13 games vs. quadrant one teams. As the Associated Press Top 25 stands right now, Kentucky's 2018-19 schedule features 11 games vs. opponents either ranked in the AP Top 25 or receiving votes.

The good news is UK has played some of its best basketball against its best competition, boasting a 9-4 record vs. quadrant one teams and a 5-3 mark vs. teams that were ranked in the AP Top 25 at the time of the game.

That includes the victory over top-ranked Tennessee on Feb. 16 and a three-game buzzsaw vs. then-No. 14/12 Auburn on the road, then-No. 22/22 Mississippi State and then-No. 9/10 Kansas at home in January that the Wildcats went 3-0 against. It marked the first time since the 2015 NCAA Tournament UK faced three consecutive foes ranked inside the AP Top 25 and the first time in the regular season since the final three games of the 2005-06 regular season.

In the nonconference portion of the schedule, Kentucky faced the likes of Duke (Nov. 6) in Indianapolis in the State Farm Champions Classic, Seton Hall (Dec. 8) in Madison Square Garden in the Citi Hoops Classic, Utah (Dec. 15) in Rupp Arena, North Carolina (Dec. 22) in Chicago in the CBS Sports Classic and concluded December with a road game at Louisville (Dec. 29).

Five of UK's nonconference opponents played in the NCAA Tournament last season. According to a survey among NCAA schools, that's tied for the third most in the country.

And that's just the nonconference slate. The SEC features eight teams in the NCAA Tournament a season ago and UK plays three of those teams twice. The league appears to be every bit as good as last season with three teams ranked in the top 10 of the AP Top 25 this week and two other teams receiving votes. In mid-January, six teams were in the AP Top 25 for the first time since Jan. 21, 2003.

S-E-C-I S-E-C-I S-E-C-I

Kentucky has the unquestionable reputation as the league's gold standard. Since the SEC's inception in 1932-33, the Wildcats have been the most dominant team in the league, recording a 995-281 mark (.780) in regular-season conference play. Only two other teams have won more than 700 regular-season SEC games (Alabama and Tennessee), and no other team has a better winning percentage.

- Kentucky has averaged 11.6 wins and only 3.3 losses per season in 85 seasons in the SEC
- UK has won 48 SEC titles and 31 SEC Tournament championships
- The Wildcats have won 16 of the last 26 SEC Tournament titles
- Kentucky has won at least a share of five of the last nine SEC regular-season championships under head coach John Calipari
- UK has played in the championship game of the SEC Tournament in eight of Calipari's nine seasons, winning the tournament six times, including each of the last four
- Eight teams made the 2018 NCAA Tournament field, the second most of any league in the country and a new conference record. The league went 8-8
- Three teams from the SEC rank in the top 10 of the March 4 Associated Press Top 25 with another two teams receiving votes. In mid-January, the SEC had six teams in the AP Top 25, the most since the league had six on Jan. 21, 2003

And the Award Goes to ... Kentucky

As John Calipari's team has dominated the Southeastern Conference during his tenure, so too have his players.

A UK player has been named one of the weekly winners a league-leading nine times with PJ Washington winning SEC Player of the Week twice. Keldon Johnson has won Freshman of the Week three times while Tyler Herro and Ashton Hagans have each won it twice.

Kentucky has won more weekly SEC honors (98) than any other school during the Calipari era, including 78 SEC Freshman of the Week honors and 20 SEC Player of the Week awards.

When Washington won SEC Player of the Week two weeks ago, he became the first Wildcat to win the award twice in one season since Tyler Ulis won it two times during his 2015-16 SEC Player of the Year season. Washington is the fourth player in the Calipari era to win it multiple times in a season, joining Ulis, Julius Randle (2013-14) and Anthony Davis (2011-12).

Hagans Puts Defense First

Ultimately the game of basketball is about who can score the most points, but if John Calipari was to write down some of the most important things that affect a basketball game, scoring would not be near the top of the list.

No player has had a bigger impact than Ashton Hagans doing the "other" things, especially defensively. Embracing his role as a defensive stopper, he has underscored the notion that there are other ways to affect the game than just scoring the ball.

Consider this: He's averaging 7.5 points on the season, but he's been one of the most important players in Kentucky's defensive domination in the second half of the season. Take, for example, the North Carolina win. Hagans scored seven points, but his fingerprints were all over the outcome, especially on the defensive end, where he tied a school record with eight steals (previously set by Wayne Turner on Nov. 24, 1997, vs. George Washington and Rajon Rondo on Feb. 19, 2005, vs. Mississippi State).

UNC head coach and Hall of Famer Roy Williams said it best: "Ashton Hagans is 2 for 6, seven points, and I thought in some ways he was more dominating in the game than anybody."

Hagans' 1.9 steals per game is ranked third in the Southeastern Conference and seventh nationally among all freshmen.

Prior to a two-steal night against Mississippi State at home, Hagans had corralled at least three steals in seven straight games. He's the only player in school history with such a streak (since steals became an official NCAA statistic in 1985-86). According to STATS, he was the first major-conference freshman with three or more steals in seven or more straight games since Wake Forest's Chris Paul did it 10 straight games in the 2003-04 season.

He has some catching up to do but Hagans has at least entered himself in the conversation for one of the best seasons in program history for steals. Rajon Rondo owns the record with 87 steals in 2004-05. Hagans has 55 to this point, which is already the third most for a freshman in school history.

His defensive effort has not gone unnoticed. He's one of 10 semifinalists for the Naismith National Defensive Player of the Year, as awarded by the Atlanta Tipoff Club. He's one of just three freshmen and one of two SEC players among the semifinalists.

And it's worth noting that as Hagans' defensive stock has been on the rise, his offensive numbers have followed. He's scored seven or more points in 15 of the last 23 games, including back-to-back-to-back career-high scoring days vs. Louisville (11), Alabama (12) and Texas A&M (18), followed by a 15-point effort vs. Vanderbilt. Hagans then topped it with a career-high 23-point effort in his homecoming on the road at Georgia.

In addition to his scoring output, he's also dished out three or more assists in 21 of the last 23 games and became the first UK player since Tyler Ulis in 2015-16 to register four straight games with six or more assists in games against No. 14/12 Auburn, No. 22/22 Mississippi State, No. 9/10 Kansas and at Vanderbilt. Ulis had a stretch of eight straight games with six or more assists.

Travis a Finalist for Senior CLASS Award

Reid Travis is one of 10 finalists for the Senior CLASS Award. Honoring student-athletes who excel both on and off the court, the candidates must be classified as an NCAA Division I senior and have notable achievements in four areas of excellence in community, classroom, character and competition to be eligible for the award.

An acronym for Celebrating Loyalty and Achievement for Staying in School, the Senior CLASS Award focuses on the total student-athlete and encourages students to use their platform in athletics to make a positive impact as leaders in their communities.

Travis is on the official ballot for a nationwide vote from fans, coaches and media. The winner will be announced during the 2019 NCAA Men's Final Four in Minneapolis in April.

Travis graduated from Stanford University in June with a degree in science, technology and society before transferring to Kentucky as a graduate student this summer. He is enrolled in UK's master's program in health promotion with an emphasis in sport leadership. Travis is intrigued by career aspirations in technology entrepreneurship after his time in Silicon Valley.

While at Stanford, he served the Ronald McDonald house once a month, interacting with families and serving dinner. The Cardinal became close with one particular patient, Ty from Lake Tahoe, and the squad adopted him as a member of their team. Ty spent time at practices and games while getting treatment at Stanford. Additionally, Travis has been a mainstay as a volunteer alongside his mom, Jacqueline, at their hometown church in Minneapolis. He's assisted her with setups and the organization of various meals and mass preparation.

While at Kentucky, he helps oversee the execution of UK's God's Pantry initiative as a part of his "Good Deeds" project. He is a part of the organization of stuffing bagged lunches and deliveries to local elementary schools. The entire team participated in Samaritan's Feet in the Bahamas and worked with the Salvation Army at Thanksgiving.

On the court, he is a two-time First Team All-Pac 12 selection. He was named to the National Association of Basketball Coaches All-District First Team and the U.S. Basketball Writers Association All-District team a season ago. Travis capped his career with the Cardinal having become one of just three players in program history to amass at least 1,400 career points and 700 rebounds in fewer than 100 games played. He ranked third in the Pac-12 in both scoring (19.5 points per game) and rebounding (8.7 rebounds per game) while scoring in double-figures in all but one game.

This season, Travis is averaging 11.3 points and 6.9 rebounds per game for the 22-4 Wildcats. He's connecting on 51.6 percent of his field goals and 73.0 percent of his free throws. He's blocked 20 shots, already the most he's had in a single season during his career.

Travis has been at his best against the best. He's averaging 14.6 points and a team-best 8.9 rebounds in seven games he was available for vs. Associated Press Top 25 opponents.

John Calipari called him the "difference maker" in the win vs. top-ranked Tennessee on Feb. 16.

"You can say what you want, but he was a beast against another beast," Calipari said of Travis' physicality. "Like, it negated that (from Tennessee). You're not going to dominate us."

Travis' impact was obvious in the rematch with Tennessee. After beating the Volunteers by 17 with Travis, the Wildcats lost to UT by 19 without him.

Keep a Watchful Eye on These Cats

Stocked full of some of the nation's top talent, a handful of Wildcats are on a number of national watch lists.

- Ashton Hagans - Naismith National Defensive Player of the Year semifinalist
- Tyler Herro - Jerry West Award preseason (Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame's best shooting guard)
- Keldon Johnson - John R. Wooden Award preseason and mid-season (Los Angeles Athletic Club National Player of the Year), Citizen Naismith Trophy preseason (Atlanta Tipoff Club NPOY), Julius Erving Award preseason and midseason (HOF's best small forward)
- Nick Richards - Kareem Abdul-Jabbar Award preseason (HOF's best center)
- PJ Washington - National Association of Basketball Coaches Division I Player of the Year, John R. Wooden Award, Citizen Naismith Trophy preseason and midseason, Karl Malone Award preseason and midseason (HOF's best power forward)
- Reid Travis - Lute Olson Award, NABC Division I Player of the Year, John R. Wooden Award preseason, Citizen Naismith Trophy preseason, Karl Malone Award (HOF's best power forward), Senior CLASS Award

Johnson Relishes Big Stage

If you've watched Kentucky in some of its biggest games of the season, chances are you've noticed Keldon Johnson making a major impact.

Whether it's scoring the ball, making a timely 3 or lifting the Wildcats with his emotion, he's usually at the center of the big stage.

Johnson is averaging a team-best 16.3 points per game on

NOTES

52.3-percent shooting and 45.5 percent from behind the arc, in addition to 5.1 rebounds per game, in UK's eight matchups with Associated Press Top 25 foes. That includes a 19-point outing in the win over top-ranked Tennessee on Feb. 16.

He's what they call a "gamer."

But Johnson's ability to step up when needed doesn't just pertain to matchups vs. AP Top 25 opponents. Take, for instance, the first half of the season. As Kentucky searched for an identity, Johnson was UK's most consistent scorer.

He scored in double figures in 13 of the Wildcats' first 14 games, including four games of 20 or more points during that stretch.

Johnson's scoring average (13.4) has gone down since as PJ Washington and Tyler Herro have emerged, but Johnson is still making a significant impact, if for nothing else because of his efficiency.

He's making 46.3 percent from a guard position and he's become one of Kentucky's most consistent 3-point shooters with a 38.1-percent clip. Johnson is second on the team with 37 3-pointers, and UK is 5-0 this season when he makes at least three 3-pointers in a game.

Johnson is also averaging 5.8 rebounds per game, including a monster day on the boards when -- again -- Kentucky needed him most. Without forward Reid Travis down low (sprained right knee), Johnson stepped up his game on the glass with a career-high 17 boards, the most by a Wildcat in a Southeastern Conference game under John Calipari against Auburn.

Cats Cleaning the Glass

Although this Kentucky team isn't quite as long in the frontcourt as some of John Calipari's more recent teams, it has rebounded the ball in dominating fashion this season and the proof is in the numbers.

Kentucky is third in the nation in rebounding margin with a plus-9.5 margin and has outrebounded its opponents in 23 of 29 games. UK is 20-3 in those games.

UK has corralled 345 offensive rebounds on the season compared to just 272 for its opponents. The Cats have hauled in double-digit offensive rebounds in 18 of 29 games.

That rate has propelled the Wildcats to fifth in KenPom.com's rankings for offensive rebounding percentage at 37.3 percent (through games on March 2). The advantage on the offensive glass has enabled the Wildcats to average 11.7 second-chance points per game.

Prior to the Utah game, Kentucky had outrebounded eight consecutive opponents by a combined 138 rebounds, an average of plus-17.3 per game. It was the best eight-game stretch under Calipari.

Three Wildcats are averaging 5.8 rebounds or more per game, but sophomore PJ Washington has led the way with 7.7 boards per game. He's grabbed seven or more rebounds in 18 games with seven double-figure games (all resulting in double-doubles).

Washington grabbed a career-high 18 boards in the win over VMI with seven offensive boards and 11 on the defensive end.

The remarkable thing is Washington's 18-rebound game isn't even the best of the season. Against Southern Illinois, Nick Richards gobbled up a career-high 19 rebounds -- exactly what SIU totaled as a team -- to help lift Kentucky to a plus-29 margin on the boards. According to Big Blue History, a comprehensive fan website, it's the first time in school history a UK player has recorded as many rebounds as the opponent.

Richards had nine boards on the offensive end vs. SIU -- tied for the most in the Calipari era -- and 10 on the defensive end. The 19 total boards were the most by a Wildcat since Michael Kidd-Gilchrist had 19 in a win over Louisville on Dec. 31, 2011.

When Keldon Johnson grabbed 17 rebounds vs. Auburn at home, Kentucky became just the second team in college basketball this season to have three different players grab at least 17 rebounds in a game this season, according to STATS. It's happened just five times since the 1996-97 season.

Johnson's 17 rebounds were the most by a Wildcat in a Southeastern Conference game in the Calipari era.

Cats Not Counting on the Long Ball

While Kentucky has struggled to defend the 3, it hasn't relied on it offensively even though John Calipari thinks this team has the chance to be the best 3-point shooting team he's coached at Kentucky.

UK is generating just 24.3 percent of its points from 3-pointers, ranked 335th in the country, according to KenPom.com (through games on March 2). Although Calipari believes this is one of his best 3-point shooting teams, he's also called this more of a post-up team, and the numbers show it, as UK is taking just 17.4 3-point attempts per game.

But, it should be noted that while the numbers are low compared to the rest of the country, they're about the norm for Calipari's past Kentucky teams. There's an old expression in basketball that you live by the 3 or die by the 3, but UK has generally done neither under Calipari.

In fact, the Wildcats' 3-point field-goal attempt percentage of 30.9 percent is about average for Calipari's previous Kentucky teams, as is the make percentage of .358 (see numbers below).

Calipari would like to see his teams take between 20 to 24 3-point attempts per game, which UK has done seven times this season.

Year	Pct. of Attempts that were 3s	3-Point FG Pct.
2009-10:	.313	.331 (lowest)

UK's 3-Point Defense Returning to the Norm

John Calipari-coached teams are typically among the best in the country at defending the 3-point shot.

Dating back to 2008-09 (the first season the NCAA has 3-point field-goal percentage defense statistics readily available), Calipari's last 10 teams (including his 2008-09 Memphis squad) have ranked in the top 100 in all but one season in 3-point field-goal percentage defense. Three of those have ranked in the top 10 and not a single team allowed opponents to shoot better than 32.6 percent from behind the arc.

As a matter of fact, if one factors in Calipari's teams at UK, Memphis and UMass, only two teams have ever allowed the opposition to shoot better than 35.0 percent for a season and 14 of his prior 26 teams limited the opposition to 32.0 percent or less.

It was a different story for the early part of the season.

Punctuated by VMI's historic 3-point display in the middle of November, a performance that included 19 3-pointers -- the most ever by a Kentucky opponent -- and 10 by Bubba Parham, opponents were lighting up UK from deep in the nonconference season.

Winthrop followed the historic VMI performance with 13-pointers of its own, and after a three-game improvement vs. Tennessee State, Monmouth and UNC Greensboro, Seton Hall hit 11. Seven Kentucky opponents have hit 10 or more 3-pointers this season.

However, the Wildcats have made major improvements. UK's 3-point field-goal percentage defense is down to 35.3 percent, and although Kentucky's opponents are still averaging 7.9 3-point makes a game, it's far better than where the number was hovering in December.

The improvements have come in Southeastern Conference play, where opponents are making just 33.1 percent from behind the arc.

Although seven Kentucky opponents have hit 10 or more 3-pointers vs. UK this season, it's only happened three times in the last 20 games after happening four times in the first nine.

Taking Advantage of Free Points

One of Kentucky's strengths this season has been its success at the free-throw line. UK is earning 23.0 percent of its points at the charity stripe and connecting at a 74.1-percent rate. Kentucky's free-throw rate is ranked 11th in the country, according to KenPom.com (through games on March 2), while its make percentage is 55th in the nation.

Five players are shooting 72.2 percent or better, led by freshman Tyler Herro's 93.4 percent (Herro has made 54 of his last 55 shots).

Kentucky's strong performance at the line isn't relegated to its success rate of makes, but also the frequency in which the Cats are getting to the line and the number of makes per game. Through 29 games, Kentucky is traveling to the line an average of 23.9 times a game. The Wildcats are making an average of 17.7 a game. The opposition is averaging 10.5 makes on an average of 15.2 trips a game.

John Calipari's best free-throw shooting team at Kentucky shot 72.6 percent in 2014-15. The 2013-14 squad averaged the most trips (28.7) and makes (19.5) per game under Calipari's tutelage. UK's current free-throw percentage of .741 would be the highest since the 2008-09 team shot at a 77.3-percent clip.

Cats Deliver the Knockout Punch

UK is 256-5 (.981) in the John Calipari era when leading by at least 10 points at any time in the contest.

2018-19 Lineup Comparison

A breakdown of Kentucky's most used lineups, including a breakdown of each lineup's +/- statistics:

Most Frequent Lineups	Total Minutes	Points For	Points Against	+/-	+/- per 40 min.

Johnson, Herro, Washington, Quickley, Montgomery	24:23	61	40	+21	+34.45

When Kentucky failed to put away South Carolina in 2017-18 after leading by as many as 14 points in the second half, it was the first time the Wildcats let a double-digit lead wind up in a loss since losing two such games in the 2015-16 campaign.

UK also gave away two double-digit leads during the 2012-13 season. Four of the five losses have been to conference opponents.

Perhaps most impressive of all is that 70.0 percent of games Calipari has coached in at Kentucky have produced 10-point leads at some point during the game for UK. The Wildcats have led by 10 points or more in a whopping 85.6 percent of Calipari's 299 career wins at Kentucky.

Taking Care of Business

Kentucky's 57-29 record vs. opponents ranked in the Associated Press Top 25 in John Calipari's tenure is impressive, but the Wildcats' ability to beat all-comers can't be overlooked. Under Calipari, UK is 242-40 vs. unranked competition, an .858 winning percentage.

Always Efficient

According to Ken Pomeroy's calculations on kenpom.com, UK's teams under John Calipari have consistently ranked among the most efficient teams in the country per possession.

Year	Offense (Rank)	Defense (Rank)	Overall
2019	117.5 (15)	90.2 (8)	8th
2018	115.8 (24)	95.4 (22)	17th

Comeback Cats

Kentucky produced its biggest comeback of the season and its largest since a 17-point come-from-behind effort at West Virginia a season ago in a 15-point comeback against Arkansas last week.

In all, UK has trailed by double figures and rallied for wins in five games this season. Kentucky came back from double-digit deficits in back-to-back games against Texas A&M and Vanderbilt earlier this season, trailed by 10 to Kansas, and 11 at Florida. The five wins from double-digit deficits are the most in a single season since the 2016-17 squad also rallied for five wins after trailing by double figures. It's the third time under John Calipari a team has rallied for five wins. The 2013-14 "Cardiac Cats" also achieved five comeback wins.

The common denominators among all five games: slow starts. UK fell behind 10-0 to Texas A&M, Vanderbilt 16-4 in the first of two meetings, Kansas earned an early 10-point edge in the opening half and Florida utilized a 40-percent shooting clip from long range to build a halftime lead and an 11-point edge early in the second half. The Wildcats turned the ball over 12 times in the opening half against the Razorbacks, faced an 11-point deficit at the break and saw the disadvantage swell to 15 early in the second half.

Against Texas A&M, Kentucky led by 12 at halftime, and after allowing Vanderbilt to score 22 points in the first 8:34 of the team's first meeting, the Wildcats' defense limited the Commodores to just 25 points over the final 31:26 of game time.

Kentucky trailed by 10, 16-6, with 9:45 to play in the opening half against Kansas. UK cut the deficit to three at halftime before pulling away with a 71-63 win. The Gators held an 11-point lead with 13 minutes to play before PJ Washington sparked a 14-0 run over a five-minute span to help Kentucky eventually pull away for a nine-point lead.

Arkansas led by its largest margin with just over 18 minutes to go in the second half. Tyler Herro's perfect second half from the floor aided an 18-3 spurt and the Wildcats eventually earned a four-point win over the Hogs.

National Domination

It took 117 seasons of basketball to do, but Kentucky has finally pulled off the rare and impressive feat of having defeated a team from all 50 states in the country.

North Dakota was the lone state from which the Wildcats had never played an opponent (nor, obviously, beaten one). UK finally had the opportunity in November and took care of business with a 96-58 win.

North Dakota is one of five states UK has played only once, the other four being Delaware, New Mexico, South Dakota and Vermont.

Tennessee -- not Kentucky -- is the state that UK has played more games, won more contests and dropped more matchups against than any other state because of Southeastern Conference rivals Tennessee and Vanderbilt.

Forever Young

When PJ Washington, Quade Green (who has now transferred) and Nick Richards, three key pieces on the 2017-18 Southeastern Conference Tournament championship team, decided to return for their sophomore seasons, it marked a big boost in returning talent.

The trio accounted for 2,224 minutes, 905 points, 434 rebounds, 157 assists and 64 blocks a season ago. They combined for 80 starts in 2017-18. That's a lot by the John Calipari era standard.

As a matter of fact, throw in the returning reserves Brad Calipari and Jonny David and UK returned its highest percentage of minutes (33.1 percent), points (32.0 percent) and rebounds (30.6) since the 2014-15 team that went 38-1 and advanced to the Final Four. And that's not even factoring in a graduate transfer (Reid Travis) with more than 100 career starts.

But, to call this team experienced would be inaccurate -- at least according to Ken Pomeroy's experience rankings. A year after checking in with the least amount of experience in the history of the KenPom.com rankings, UK is near the bottom once again.

Through 29 games of the season, Kentucky ranks 351 out of 353 teams in terms of experience with an average age of 0.61 years. It's the least experienced Power 5 team in the country, according to KenPom.

And according to one NCAA survey, UK is one of just 16 schools with one or fewer scholarship players that are seniors or graduate transfers. That same survey revealed that Kentucky is tied nationally for the second-most players who are sophomores or younger on scholarship. Furthermore, Kentucky's roster is made up of 58 percent of its players who are redshirt freshman or younger. Only South Dakota (62 percent) and Wyoming (69 percent) have more youth according to a February survey.

Having said all that, it does rank as one of Calipari's most experienced teams at Kentucky, and that's important. Every team but one in the Calipari era has made the NCAA Tournament, but Calipari's best teams have always combined young talent with a few returning pieces.

The 2009-10 squad with John Wall and DeMarcus Cousins had veteran Patrick Patterson. The 2010-11 Final Four team had DeAndre Liggins and Josh Harrellson. The 2011-12 national championship team boasted three key returners in Terrence Jones, Doron Lamb and Darius Miller. The 2013-14 national runner-up squad featured Alex Poynthress and Willie Cauley-Stein. And then the 2014-15 team that nearly ran the table had both Poynthress and Cauley-Stein back again in addition to Andrew and Aaron Harrison and Dakari Johnson.

Kentucky Picked to Win 49th SEC Title

With a mix of seasoned veterans and another crop of talented newcomers, Kentucky will once again be the hunted. Of course that's the same mantra every season, but a select panel of media confirmed the standard for 2018-19 when it voted the Wildcats to win their sixth regular-season title under 10th-year head coach John Calipari.

Should Kentucky achieve the feat, it would mark the program's 49th overall regular-season title.

It's the 14th time since the 1998-99 season the Wildcats are the overall preseason favorite. Calipari has directed his teams to regular-season SEC crowns in 2010, 2012, 2015, 2016 and 2017. Kentucky has claimed the SEC Tournament title in each of the last four seasons and six in all, winning in 2010, 2011, 2015, 2016, 2017 and 2018.

Each school selected media members that cover their team and additional media from across the nation were selected by the conference office to comprise the voting panel. Points were compiled on a 14-13-12-11-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis. Each media member also voted for two All-SEC teams.

Travis, Washington Tabbed Preseason All-SEC

In a league as talented as it's ever been, Reid Travis and PJ Washington were tabbed preseason All-Southeastern Conference picks by both the league's coaches and the league's media.

Travis and Washington were both picked to the first team by the league's coaches. Travis was tabbed a first-team selection by the media while Washington was picked for the second team. Both players, along with Keldon Johnson, received at least one vote for the preseason pick for SEC Player of the Year by the media.

Kentucky has featured at least one player on the coaches' final All-SEC First Team since the 2006-07 season.

Calipari Redshirting for 2018-19

Junior Brad Calipari plans to redshirt for the 2018-19 season. If he doesn't play this season, he will have two seasons of eligibility remaining. He will continue to practice and travel with the team.

The two-time Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll member is on track to graduate in three years with a degree in communication. After that he plans to pursue graduate school.

Calipari has played in 27 career games in his first two seasons as a Wildcat and has recorded 11 points and five rebounds. He played in five of UK's six exhibition games in the preseason, totaling three points, three rebounds and two assists in 40 minutes. He played eight minutes vs. Transylvania but did not appear in the final tune-up against Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

Best in the Bluegrass

Kentucky has been dominant against teams in the state under John Calipari. Kentucky is 17-2 against in-state foes with Calipari at the helm.

The mark also includes a 10-2 mark vs. Louisville. Two of the victories over the Cardinals came in postseason play. UK had its four-game winning streak snapped in 2016-17 but has won all five meetings played in Rupp Arena, including a 29-point blowout in 2017-18, the third-biggest margin of victory in the history of the series. Louisville's two wins have come by a combined six points.

Here's a list of the meetings between the state's two premier programs since Calipari took over at UK:

- Jan. 2, 2010 - UK won 71-62 at Rupp Arena
- Dec. 31, 2010 - UK won 78-63 at the KFC Yum! Center
- Dec. 31, 2011 - UK won 69-62 at Rupp Arena
- March 31, 2012 - UK won 69-61 at the Superdome (NCAA Final Four in New Orleans)
- Dec. 29, 2012 - Louisville won 80-77 at the KFC Yum! Center
- Dec. 28, 2013 - UK won 73-66 at Rupp Arena
- March 28, 2014 - UK won 74-69 at Lucas Oil Stadium (NCAA Sweet 16 in Indianapolis)
- Dec. 27, 2014 - UK won 58-50 at the KFC Yum! Center
- Dec. 26, 2015 - UK won 75-73 at Rupp Arena
- Dec. 21, 2016 - Louisville won 73-70 at the KFC Yum! Center
- Dec. 29, 2017 - UK won 90-61 at Rupp Arena
- Dec. 29, 2018 - UK won 71-58 at the KFC Yum! Center

NOTES

Kentucky Signs Allen, Maxey

The first two dominoes of what expects to be another stellar Kentucky recruiting class fell this week with the official commitments of highly coveted prospects Tyrese Maxey and Don-taie Allen.

Both signed national letters of intent during the fall signing period and will be eligible to play for Kentucky starting with the 2019-20 season.

Maxey is a consensus top-10 player and a five-star prospect. Allen was a fast-riser in the recruiting rankings this summer and is a four-star prospect.

In every season in the Calipari era, the Wildcats have signed a top-three recruiting class according to the Recruiting Services Consensus Index, which tallies major recruiting rankings and plugs them into a formula to calculate a consensus ranking.

UK can only comment on prospective student-athletes who have signed official paperwork to play at Kentucky.

- Allen - At 6-foot-6, 200 pounds, Allen is a wing player by definition because of his ability to play both the guard and forward positions. His ability to shoot and handle the ball bodes well for where the game is trending towards, but he'll also pose matchup problems for smaller defenders because of his athleticism and size. He dominated the Kentucky high school scene during his junior season, averaging 31.8 points and 11.4 rebounds for Pendleton. He shot 59.1 percent from the floor and 39.6 percent from 3-point range. He's ranked as high as No. 54 by Rivals. He's the first player from the state of Kentucky to sign a national letter of intent with UK since Dominique Hawkins and Derek Willis, who were both part of the class of 2013 (current freshman Zan Payne joined the team as a walk-on in the spring and did not sign an NLI)
- Maxey - A combo guard out of Garland, Texas, Maxey is a gifted scorer. He averaged 22.5 points, 7.0 rebounds, 3.1 assists and 2.3 steals per game last season while leading South Garland High School to the state semifinals. He was one of the leading scorers on the Nike summer circuit this past season. At 6-foot-4, 185 pounds, Maxey can play both guard positions because of his ability to put the ball in the basket, but he projects as a lead guard at the next level. Maxey is ranked as high as No. 7 overall by ESPN and No. 9 by Rivals. 247 Sports tabs him as the 10th-best overall player in his class. Perhaps his crowning prep achievement to this point was leading USA Basketball to a gold medal at the 2018 FIBA Americas Championship. With Maxey's contributions, Team USA posted a 6-0 record in St. Catharines, Canada. Maxey averaged 8.8 points and 2.0 rebounds during the run

Maxey Chosen for All-Star Games

Kentucky signee Tyrese Maxey will continue the long-standing tradition of representing the Wildcats during the all-star circuits best games. He will appear in the McDonald's All American Game on March 27 in Atlanta and the Nike Hoop Summit Game on April 12 in Portland, Oregon.

Joining an elite list that features some of the greatest players to play for Kentucky, Maxey will suit up for the west team in the 42nd edition of the McDonald's All American Game. Tipoff is set for 7 p.m. ET and it will air live on ESPN2.

With Maxey's selection, UK has signed 34 players during the John Calipari era who have been named to the prestigious high school event, more than any other school in the country during that time period. Kentucky can only publicize recruits who have signed letters of intent with the University of Kentucky. Multiple players from each of Calipari's signing classes have been tabbed McDonald's All Americans, including five each in 2013 and 2017.

Kentucky has signed 66 McDonald's All Americans since the team began in 1977, including current Wildcats Keldon Johnson (2018), EJ Montgomery (2018), Immanuel Quickley (2018), Nick Richards (2017) and PJ Washington (2017). Graduate transfer Reid Travis was also a McDonald's All American in 2014, although he did not sign with UK out of high school.

In the Nike Hoop Summit, Maxey will represent Team USA. Since Calipari's arrival, 29 total players have been selected for the Nike Hoop Summit.

UK Led Nation with 31 Players on NBA Opening-Day Rosters

Every year the numbers gets bigger and wilder, but the bottom line remains the same: No school can match the Kentucky men's basketball team's ability to develop players and put them in the NBA.

A whopping 31 players on NBA opening-day rosters (including two-way, inactive and suspension lists) played and finished their college basketball careers at the University of Kentucky, the nation's most prolific NBA player-producing program in the country. UK's 31 players were once again the most of any college basketball program, beating the next-closest school (Duke with 25) by six players.

Of the 31 players in the NBA to start the 2018-19 season, 6.3 percent played and finished their college basketball careers at UK. There are actually fewer teams without a Wildcat (11) than there are NBA teams featuring Wildcats (19).

John Calipari coached 29 of the 31 Wildcats that were on an opening-day NBA rosters. With Tyreke Evans (Indianapolis Pacers) and Derrick Rose (Minnesota Timberwolves), who played for Calipari at Memphis, Calipari has coached 31 players on 2018-19 opening-day rosters.

Using figures compiled by basketball-reference.com and spotrac.com, Calipari-coached players only (which includes Rose and Evans but not Meeks or Rondo) have amassed nearly $1.9 billion in career NBA contracts ($1.87 billion). In the nine seasons Calipari has been the head coach at Kentucky, his players have totaled more than $1.5 billion in NBA contracts.

In just the 2018-19 season alone, UK players are slated to make almost $190 million. Calipari-coached players only (which includes Rose and Evans but not Meeks or Rondo) will make nearly $195 million.

Among the most noteworthy performances of the season so far:

- De'Aaron Fox not only posted his first career triple-double on Nov. 1, he became the youngest player in league history to record 30 or more points, 15 or more assists, and 10 or more rebounds in a game. He joined LeBron James as the only players in NBA history to record 30-point triple-doubles before their 21st birthday
- Devin Booker hit the game-winning shot at the buzzer vs. the Memphis Grizzlies on Nov. 4
- Enes Kanter became the first Knick since 1970-71 to record 20 points and 20 rebounds off the bench with his 23-point, 24-rebound effort vs. the Bulls on Nov. 5
- Jamal Murray just missed out on becoming the eighth former Calipari player to score 50 or more points in a game with a career-high 48 points vs. the Celtics on Nov. 5
- Julius Randle recorded a triple-double vs. the San Antonio Spurs on Nov. 19. In the process, he became just the fourth player in NBA history to record a triple-double in 25 minutes or less
- Anthony Davis reached 10,000 points on Nov. 21, becoming the eighth-youngest player to do so
- Kanter recorded his fourth career 20-20 game as a Knick on Nov. 25. He's one of eight players to have done it four times with the Knicks
- Kevin Knox scored 26 points off the bench on Dec. 1 to become the youngest player in franchise history to score 20 or more points
- On Dec. 9, Knox joined LeBron James as just the second player in NBA history with at least 25 points and 15 rebounds as a teenager. He also became just the second Knicks rookie over the last 35 years with 25 points and 15 rebounds in a game
- Davis tallied his 15th career 40-point, 15-rebound effort on Dec. 10. Only Shaquille O'Neal (19) has more over the last 35 years in the NBA
- On Dec. 16, John Wall became the second player in Washington's history to have multiple career games with 40 or more points and 10 or more assists
- On Jan. 3, Knox was named the Eastern Conference Rookie of the Month for his play during the month of December. He led the conference's rookies in scoring (17.1 ppg), 3-pointers (33), was second in rebounding (6.0 rpg) and led all rookies in minutes (34.9 mpg). He's the sixth different former UK player to win a Rookie of the Month honor
- Murray scored 34 of his 36 points in the second half on Jan. 3 in a win over the Kings. It was the most points scored in a half by a Nuggets player since Carmelo Anthony had 36 in the second half vs. Minnesota on Dec. 10, 2008
- On Jan. 8, Noel charted his 20th consecutive game with at least one block, marking the longest such streak in the NBA this season
- Karl-Anthony Towns posted monster numbers on Jan. 12 vs. the Pelicans, recording 27 points, a career-high 27 rebounds and four blocks. According to the Timberwolves, he's one of just five players in NBA history to post those numbers or better
- Davis recorded his 10th 45-point, 15-rebound game on Jan. 14. He's the only player since at least 1983 to have 10 or more, according to Basketball Reference
- Knox became the sixth-youngest player in NBA history to score 30 or more points in a game on Jan. 14. Booker is among those top six
- DeMarcus Cousins made his much-anticipated return from an achilles tear a year earlier with 14 points, six rebounds and three assists in 15 minutes on Jan. 18
- With 27 points against the Blazers on Jan. 24, Booker became the fifth-youngest player to register 5,000 career points. Only LeBron James, Kevin Durant, Carmelo Anthony and Dwight Howard did it faster
- On Feb. 4, Fox recorded his fifth 20-5-5 game of the season. According to Basketball Reference, since 1983 only two Kings players (Lionel Simmons, Tyreke Evans) have had more in one of their first two NBA seasons
- Hamidou Diallo became the third Wildcat in school history (Kenny Walker in 1989 and John Wall in 2014) to win the NBA Slam Dunk Contest on Feb. 16
- Towns missed two games on Feb. 22 and 23 after suffering a concussion in a car crash. He had started the first 303 career games of his career, the most consecutive games starting with his team's first game of his rookie season since the NBA began keeping track of starters in 1970-71

Diallo Wins NBA Slam Dunk Contest

Kentucky was well represented at NBA All-Star festivities in Charlotte with seven Wildcats -- Anthony Davis, Karl-Anthony Towns, Devin Booker, De'Aaron Fox, Kevin Knox, Shai Gilgeous-Alexander and Hamidou Diallo -- all participating in the various competitions. Diallo headlined weekend for the NBA Cats by winning the NBA Slam Dunk Contest.

Davis (New Orleans Pelicans) and Towns (Minnesota Timberwolves), as NBA Western Conference All-Star reserves, were a part of the 178-164 Team LeBron victory. Towns scored 11 points in 11 minutes but Davis, coming off an injury recently, was limited to four minutes.

Davis made his sixth consecutive appearance and Towns appeared in the game for the second straight year. Davis' six appearances are the most of any Wildcat in program history. For the second straight year, Kentucky led the league with former players in the NBA's annual game featuring its top players. UK had four selections a season ago and tied Texas (Kevin Durant, LaMarcus Aldridge) with two in 2019.

Diallo became the third UK player to take home top honors in the Dunk Contest with a victory on Saturday night. Kenny "Sky" Walker claimed the crown in 1989 and John Wall captured the title in 2014. Diallo displayed a flash of showmanship on what became his most talked-about dunk of the night. He called Hall of Famer and the original "Superman"

Shaquille O'Neal out of the crowd to take part in his flush. Diallo cleared the 7-footer and then stuck his elbow in the rim in a nod to former Dunk Contest winner Vince Carter. He then snatched open his jersey to reveal a Superman shirt underneath. The dunk earned a perfect 50 rating from the judges.

The Queens, New York, native was not the only Wildcat in action on Saturday. Booker (2015) participated in the Mtn Dew 3-Point Contest and Fox (2017) was part of the field in the Taco Bells Skills Challenge.

Kevin Knox (2018), Shai Gilgeous-Alexander (2018) and Fox got the weekend started on Friday in the Mtn Dew Ice Rising Stars Game. Each former Wildcat put up solid numbers in the game featuring the league's top first and second-year players. Fox was one of five starters for Team USA and had a game-high 16 assists and five steals. Knox scored 11 points as USA won 161-144. Gilgeous-Alexander boasted 15 points, six assists, five boards and a trio of steals for Team World.

Football Success Spells Basketball Glory?

The Kentucky football team enjoyed a historic season in 2018. The Wildcats accomplished all sorts of firsts, set school records and competed for a conference championship until late in the season. UK ultimately finished with 10 wins for the first time since 1977, punctuated by a victory over Penn State in the VRBO Citrus Bowl.

So what in the world does that have to do with Kentucky basketball?

Well, if you're into historical omens, past football success has coincidentally served as a precursor to the ultimate college basketball accomplishment. In the previous two fall seasons that UK football won at least 10 games, in the fall of 1950 and the fall of 1977, Kentucky basketball followed with a national championship in the spring of 1951 and the spring of 1978.

Can the basketball Wildcats make it three for three?

All Eyes on Kentucky

From Kentucky's rabid fan base to arguably the largest media contingent following a team in the country, the spotlight on UK is both bigger and brighter than any other team in college basketball.

Recent television numbers released underscored that notion.

Through mid-February, Kentucky was featured in four of the top seven most-watched games of the 2018-19 season. UK appears in the top five more than any other school. All three of the games featured at least 2.7 million viewers.

Kentucky has also been featured on ESPN College GameDay twice this season (when Kansas came to town Jan. 26 and Feb. 16 vs. Tennessee). It marked just the second time in College GameDay history that the popular ESPN preview show originated at a school twice in a single season (North Carolina in 2017).

When GameDay visited Memorial Coliseum for the Feb. 16 visit, UK tied North Carolina and Duke for the most GameDay appearances with 18.

Davis Inducted into UK Athletics Hall of Fame

Anthony Davis was inducted into the UK Athletics Hall of Fame as a member of the 2017 class in September.

Davis led UK to the 2012 national championship with one of the most dominating seasons by a freshman in college basketball history. A winner of virtually every major national award, Davis was tabbed, among others: National Player of the Year, NCAA Final Four Most Outstanding Player, NCAA Consensus First Team All-American, National Freshman of the Year, Southeastern Conference Player of the Year, SEC Defensive Player of the Year and SEC Freshman of the Year.

The 2011-12 Wildcat guided UK to a 38-2 record and an SEC regular-season championship while shattering the single-season school record for blocks in a season with 186, which ranks as the fourth in NCAA history.

Davis was selected No. 1 overall in the 2012 NBA Draft and is now in his seventh season in the league. He's a five-time NBA All-Star, a three-time All-NBA First Team member, the 2017 NBA All-Star MVP and a 2012 Olympic gold medalist.

Success Rate

The Wildcats received an NCAA award in the spring of 2018 for placing in the top 10 percent of all men's basketball teams in the country in the NCAA's annual Academic Progress Rate. UK scored a perfect 1,000. It's the fourth straight year the men's basketball team received the award and the fifth time since 2009.

The APR provides a real-time look at a team's academic success by the progress of each student-athlete on scholarship. The APR measures academic eligibility, retention and graduation. The scores are a four-year composite, covering the 2013-14 through 2016-17 school years.

Every Division I sports team across the nation calculates its APR each academic year, similar to a report card. Scholarship student-athletes each semester earn one point for remaining eligible and one point for staying in school or graduating.

UK has received a perfect 1,000 mark in each of the last five single-year

APR rates.

The NCAA cut score to compete in the 2017-18 postseason is a 930 four-year APR. Teams scoring below 930 can face consequences intended to direct additional focus on academics. Those penalties can include practice restrictions and playing-season reductions.

UK to Remain in Champions Classic through '22

The State Farm Champions Classic, perhaps the signature annual event of the college basketball regular season, will continue through 2022 with Kentucky a part of it.

The Champions Classic, a neutral-site doubleheader featuring UK, Duke, Kansas and Michigan State, has added three more years to the current series, which was played in Indianapolis this season and New York next year. The additional three years will bring the event back to Chicago in 2020, New York in 2021 and Indianapolis in 2022.

UK, which played Duke this season at Bankers Life Fieldhouse in Indianapolis to tip off the season, will get Michigan State in 2019, Kansas in 2020, Duke in 2021 and Michigan State in 2022.

The event has been one of the most-watched collegiate events since its inception in 2011 with millions of fans tuning in every year. The series, which pits four programs that have a combined 18 national championships, 56 Final Four appearances and four Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame coaches, has been tightly bunched. Duke leads the pack with a 5-3 record, UK and Kansas are tied at 4-4, and Michigan State trails with a 3-5 mark.

Kentucky is also still a part of the CBS Sports Classic, which is currently under contract through 2019. UK will play North Carolina on Dec. 22 in Chicago as a part of that series and Ohio State on Dec. 21, 2019, in Las Vegas.

Green Transfers from Kentucky

Sophomore guard Quade Green decided in December to transfer from the University of Kentucky. He will play at Washington next season.

"I have loved my time at Kentucky and love Coach Cal and the staff," Green said. "This was a difficult decision and one I didn't take lightly. However, after talking with my family and the coaching staff, I just felt like it was best that I explore other opportunities for my athletic and academic future. I have enjoyed my time at Kentucky and I'll never forget the Big Blue Nation for its love and its support."

Green appeared in 43 games for the Wildcats over parts of two seasons, averaging 9.0 points and 2.6 assists per game. He was third on the 2017-18 team as a freshman with 41 3-pointers and had made 11 of 26 this season (42.3 percent).

The Philadelphia native started 13 of 34 games in 2017-18 and was averaging 17.8 minutes per game this season. He played a key role on the 2018 Southeastern Conference Tournament championship team, topping double figures 17 times, including six of his final 11 games played. He had three or more assists in 17 games last season. Green hit the game-winning layup in a comeback victory vs. Vanderbilt.

"I met with Quade yesterday and we talked through a lot of different things," UK men's basketball head coach John Calipari said. "The thing that struck me most is what a great kid Quade is. He felt like he was in a position that he couldn't overcome and he had the maturity to come in and sit down and talk through it with me."

"Quade has my full support with this decision. We haven't had many kids leave, but when we do, we always support them and, in just about every case, stay in touch with each other. I hope that will be the case with Quade."

Green scored in double figures in four games this season, including a season-high 17 points with three 3-pointers vs. VMI. He made a career-high four 3-pointers vs. Monmouth and dished out three or more assists in five games this season.

Cats Rock at Rupp

The Wildcats are 593-69 (.896) in Rupp Arena. Among the most notable marks of dominance as the nation's toughest venue to play include:

- A school record 54-game winning streak to begin the John Calipari era
- The Wildcats are 316-43 (.880) in regular-season SEC games in the building
- Kentucky set a new program home record of 19 wins in 2014-15
- The Wildcats have gone undefeated at home in five of John Calipari's 10 seasons
- Overall, UK has posted a perfect mark in 13 of Rupp Arena's 42 seasons

Cal Owns Longest Win Streaks in Rupp

With UK's 2011-12 season-opening victory over Marist, UK head coach John Calipari recorded his 34th consecutive win in Rupp Arena as UK's head coach. It broke former UK head coach Rick Pitino's longest streak of 33 games in the venue.

The winning streak reached as long as 54 games. Calipari didn't suffer his first loss in Rupp Arena until losing to Baylor in his fourth season. The 54-game run, however, was his longest career winning streak. He also had the second-longest streak in the arena as the Cats won 42 straight from March 4, 2014 to Nov. 25, 2016.

Pack the House

Kentucky has led the nation in average home attendance in 20 of the last 23 seasons. That number includes a Rupp Arena record of 24,110 in John Calipari's first season (2009-10) as head coach.

- Kentucky averaged 21,875 fans during the 2017-18 season
- UK has averaged 23,000 or more fans in seven of Calipari's nine complete seasons
- The Wildcats led the nation in average attendance in 2017-18

The Top-Ranked Team at Home

Kentucky has lost just three times at home as the Associated Press top-ranked team in the history of the program and just twice in Rupp Arena. Prior to the loss to UCLA by three on Dec. 3, 2016, the other two losses came by just one point.

The Wildcats are 53-2 all-time as the AP No. 1 team in Rupp Arena since its opening in 1976. The first loss was to Auburn, 53-52, on Jan. 9, 1988.

Coach Cal in Rupp Arena

It's been downright difficult to beat the Wildcats in Rupp Arena during the John Calipari era. UK is 166-9 (.949) in Rupp Arena under Calipari.

- UK is 20-5 (.800) vs. ranked opponents in Rupp in the Calipari era
- The Wildcats are 146-4 (.973) vs. unranked teams in Rupp under Cal
- UK is 86-3 (.966) at home vs. nonconference foes under Calipari
- Calipari notched his 100th career win in Rupp Arena as UK's coach with the Wildcats' 110-75 rout of Auburn on Feb. 21, 2014. It took Calipari just 104 games to reach the century mark at home, the fastest of any UK coach

Cal Passes Hall for Rupp Record

With a 101-70 victory over Cleveland State on Nov. 23, 2016, John Calipari passed former UK head coach Joe B. Hall for wins in Rupp Arena history.

Calipari currently has 166 victories inside the historic venue. Hall won 122.

Moving Up the Kentucky Career Wins List

With an 80-53 victory vs. Auburn on Feb. 23, 2019, John Calipari moved past Joe B. Hall for the second most wins in program history. Calipari trails only the legendary Adolph Rupp (876 wins) for the most wins at Kentucky and is just one win shy of 300.

Although he's still climbing the charts, he's doing it nearly as fast as anyone else in school history. With a thrilling 75-73 victory over rival Louisville on Dec. 26, 2015, John Calipari captured his 200th career win at Kentucky faster than any coach in UK history -- and nearly faster than anyone has ever done it at any school.

Calipari reached the 200-win plateau in his 240th career game at Kentucky. Rick Pitino, previously the fastest to 200 wins at UK prior to Calipari, didn't capture his 200th Wildcat win until his 249th game. Rupp reached 200 during his 250th game.

Not only did Calipari reach the 200-win mark in record pace at Kentucky, he also nearly set the all-time Division I mark. With the win over U of L, he became the second-fastest Division I men's basketball coach to reach 200 victories at a single school, behind only LIU-Brooklyn's Clair Bee, who achieved the feat in 231 games.

When Calipari tied Hall with his 297th win at Missouri on Feb. 19, 2019, the did so 32 games faster than Hall and just two games slower than Rupp.

If Kentucky beats Ole Miss on Tuesday, Calipari would become the fourth-fastest coach to 300 wins at one program in NCAA history.

Calipari passed Tubby Smith on Dec. 1, 2019, for the third-most coached games at UK. Smith's 10-year career with the Wildcats ended with his 346th game. Calipari and UK's win over UNC Greensboro on Dec. 1 marked the 347th career game he's been at the helm.

Rupp is obviously first in games coached with a 42-year tenure spanning 1,066 career games.

First-Ballot Hall of Famer

Kentucky men's basketball coach John Calipari joined basketball's fraternity of legends in September 2015 after being elected to the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame on the first ballot.

Calipari joined an elite group of basketball players and coaches in the Naismith Hall of Fame, considered to be one of the ultimate honors in the sport. The Class of 2015 included Calipari, Dick Bevetta, Wildcat Louie Dampier, Lindsay Gaze, Tom Heinsohn, John Isaacs, Spencer Hayward, Lisa Leslie, Dikembe Mutombo, George Raveling and JoJo White.

A Decorated Decade

Entering year No. 10 at Kentucky, John Calipari's time in Lexington has been every bit as successful -- and more -- as fans could have hoped when he agreed to become the head coach at UK back in the spring of 2009.

By just about every measure, he's been the most successful coach in college basketball during his time at Kentucky as he gets ready to put the first decade behind him. Among schools who have been to at least two Elite Eights and a Final Four since 2009-10, Calipari ranks:

- Second in wins (299)
- First in NCAA Tournament wins (28)
- Fourth in NCAA titles (one)
- First in Final Four appearances (four)
- First in Elite Eight appearances (six)
- First in Sweet 16 appearances (seven)
- Third in regular-season conference titles (five)
- Second in league tournament titles (six)

700 Victories and Counting

With Kentucky's win over UIC on Nov. 26, 2017, John Calipari reached the 700 on-court win plateau. He is one of just 41 coaches, regardless of NCAA level of classification, to reach that barrier. Only 29 coaches have done it with at least 10 seasons at the Division I level.

Calipari became the fourth-fastest coach to 700 on-court wins ever. Only Adolph Rupp (836 games), Jerry Taskanjan (876 games) and Roy Williams (879 games) did it faster.

Calipari is currently the only coach in NCAA history with at least 189 victories at three different schools

Calipari in Elite Company with Conference Championships

Kentucky men's basketball coach John Calipari added another first to his Hall of Fame career in 2017.

When Kentucky clinched at least a share of the 2017 Southeastern Conference championship by beating Vanderbilt on Feb. 28, 2017, he made history as a head coach. Calipari became the first NCAA Division I coach to lead three different programs (UMass, Memphis, Kentucky) to five on-court regular-season league titles five different times. He won the Atlantic 10 at the helm of UMass in 1992, 93, 94, 95 and 96. Memphis claimed the Conference USA crown in 2004, 06, 07, 08 and 09. Kentucky has captured the SEC five times in 2010, 12, 15, 16 and 17.

Perhaps more impressive is that Calipari has 30 combined regular-season and tournament championships after the 2018 SEC Tournament title. That trails only Mark Few of Gonzaga (33 titles with the West Coast Conference regular-season title in 2019) among all active coaches. All-time, Calipari trails only the great Adolph Rupp (41) and Few.

Calipari Unrivaled in Conference

John Calipari has won 15 league regular-season championships (including the 2010, 2012, 2015, 2016 and 2017 SEC championships) seven more than the next-closest coach in the SEC (Bruce Pearl has eight conference titles). With a 2018 SEC Tournament championship -- Calipari's fourth straight and sixth at UK -- he owns 15 conference tournament titles, 11 more than his closest competitors (Ben Howland and Kermit Davis).

He's tallied a 342-104 (.767) all-time record within conference play as a head coach and owns a 134-38 (.779) record since joining the SEC.

Although he's been publicly outspoken against conference tournaments -- only because he doesn't favor playing three or more games on consecutive days to win the tournament -- his teams have gotten up for them. Calipari's teams at UMass, Memphis and Kentucky have been to 19 conference championship games in his 26-year career, winning a remarkable 15 of them.

30 is the new 20: Calipari Secures Another 20-Win Season

With a 71-67 win over Mississippi State on Feb. 9, 2019, John Calipari achieved another feat in his decorated coaching career. With his 20th victory in 2019, he secured his 25th consecutive on-court 20-win season. He leads all active coaches with that streak, ahead of Mike Krzyzewski (23) and Bill Self (21).

With a first-round win over Northern Kentucky in the 2017 NCAA Tournament, Calipari and the Cats clinched a 30-win season for the fourth time as UK's head coach. Calipari has 10 seasons with 30 or more on-court wins. Only Krzyzewski (14) and Roy Williams (12) have more 30-win seasons as an active head coach. Calipari is the first coach in NCAA Division I history to record five straight on-court 30-win seasons, notching 30 wins in consecutive seasons from 2005-06 to 2009-10.

ON PACE WITH THE BARON OF THE BLUEGRASS

- Legendary coach Adolph Rupp won 876 career games while he was the coach of UK. He also led Kentucky to five NCAA titles during his 41-year tenure.
- John Calipari is just behind pace with Rupp to begin his career at UK in total victories. Calipari (.813) is slightly behind Rupp (.822) in total UK career winning percentage.

Coach	Games	Record	Next Game (369th Game)
Adolph Rupp	368	302-66	def. Michigan State 86-36 (Jan. 27, 1947)
John Calipari	5-1	299-69	March 5 at Ole Miss
Joe B. Hall	368	280-88	lost to SMU 56-54 (Dec. 4, 1984)

COACH CALIPARI

In the NCAA's Academic Progress Rate, which measures eligibility, retention and graduation, UK has posted a single-year Academic Progress Rate of 977 or higher in every season under Calipari, including a perfect 1,000 in the last five single-year reports. Kentucky's four-year composite score in the most recent report, which was released in May of 2018, was a 1,000, earning the team an NCAA academic award for the fourth year in a row for finishing in the top 10 percent of Division I men's basketball programs.

Under Calipari, the Wildcats routinely post a 3.0 grade-point average or better.

Dream Maker

As someone who prides himself on helping young men reach their dreams, Coach Cal has helped 46 players earn selection in the NBA Draft during his college coaching career, including 35 over his first nine seasons at Kentucky, which is more than any other coach.

- Four No. 1 overall selections (Derrick Rose, John Wall, Anthony Davis and Karl-Anthony Towns) during the nine drafts from 2008 to 2016. No other coach has more than two No. 1 picks
- In 2010, five of his UK players were selected in the first round for the first time in NBA history
- His six players in the 2012 and 2015 NBA drafts are the most in the two-round era
- Churned out 35 NBA Draft picks, 26 first-rounders, three No. 1 overall selections, seven top-five picks and 19 lottery picks at Kentucky
- Of the 54 players who have finished their college careers at Kentucky under Calipari, 35 have been selected in the NBA Draft (64.8 percent)
- Of the 21 players at UK who have declared for the NBA Draft after their freshman seasons, all 23 of 25 have been first-round picks. He is 27 for 29 in that regard when including his players from Memphis
- Dating back to the 2008 draft, 40 players under Coach Cal have been taken in the NBA Draft, including 28 first-rounders
- Only coach to produce the top two picks in the same draft (2012 - Anthony Davis and Michael Kidd-Gilchrist)
- Produced a top-10 pick in 11 straight drafts since 2008, the only school to do so during that time period

Developing Talent

John Calipari hasn't just signed the best talent in the country while he's been at Kentucky; he's been the best at developing that talent and getting it ready for the next level.

Of the 30 top-25 Rivals.com players Kentucky has signed and have completed their college eligibility at UK, 26 were drafted and 21 were selected in the first round. But that's only half the story. Calipari's players don't just make it to the pros; they're better prepared than anyone else. The proof is in the numbers.

Over the course of his career, Calipari's nearly 50 NBA pros have nearly $1.9 billion in NBA contracts alone, which doesn't include endorsement deals and overseas contracts. Of his UK players in the NBA, they've earned nearly $1.5 billion in guaranteed contracts.

Double-Digit Win Streaks

Kentucky's 10-game winning streak this season -- its longest since winning 14 consecutive games near the end of the 2016-17 season -- was not abnormal for John Calipari-coached teams. Calipari's teams have posted 19 streaks of 10 or more wins at Kentucky, Memphis and UMass, including seven at UK.

They've won have won 15 or more straight games nine times, 20 or more six times, 25 or more five times, and 30 or more one time. Of course, the most famous streak was the 38-0 start during the 2014-15 season.

Calipari Knows Defense

Although the 2018-19 Wildcats are off to a slow defensive start, defense has always been a staple of John Calipari-coached teams. Dating back to complete NCAA records beginning in 2001-02, Calipari's teams have been among national leaders in several critical defensive categories.

COACH CALIPARI

A “players-first” coach with a penchant for helping people reach their dreams, John Calipari, a Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Famer, has guided six teams to the Final Four, led one to a national championship and helped 46 players get selected in the NBA Draft during his 26-year college coaching career.

Calipari guided Kentucky to its eighth national championship and his first national title in 2012. In becoming only the second coach in NCAA history to lead three different schools to the Final Four, he has racked up more than 700 on-court victories, 19 NCAA Tournament appearances, six Final Fours and numerous national coach of the year honors.

In 2015, Coach Cal led college basketball’s first ever 38-0 team, and became one of just three coaches to make four Final Fours in a five-year span. At the end of the season, Calipari became the 96th coach to join the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

While building a program out of obscurity at Massachusetts, laying the foundation at Memphis and restoring luster at the sport’s greatest program at Kentucky, he has totaled the second-most wins in NCAA history in the first 20 years of a college coaching career.

Quite honestly, though, Calipari’s on-court success overshadows a much more significant picture.

In his goal to lead a players-first program, he has helped 46 players realize their dreams and guided them to NBA Draft selections, including a record five first-round draft picks in 2010. Two years later, six Wildcats heard their names called at the 2012 draft, the most in the two-round draft era. UK, with Calipari’s help, would tie those six picks again in 2015, including a record-tying four lottery selections. His four No. 1 overall picks are twice as many as any other coach, and he’s had 35 players drafted during his first nine years at Kentucky, including 26 first-round picks.

Calipari’s players have entered the league NBA-ready. His players have garnered 18 All-Star selections, with Anthony Davis winning the game’s MVP honor in 2017. Rose was named MVP in 2011, five players have been tabbed All-NBA, three have been named NBA Rookie of the Year, and 11 players from Calipari’s first nine teams at Kentucky have made the NBA All-Rookie teams.

Much like he did at UMass, where his players graduated at nearly 80 percent, Calipari has stressed academics. Fifteen of his last 18 seniors at Memphis earned their bachelor’s degrees, and all 17 players at UK who were eligible to graduate by the end of their senior years walked away with a diploma in hand, including three players who earned their degree in just three years. Another Wildcat, Dillon Pulliam, is set to graduate in May of 2018. Calipari’s teams routinely have posted a combined team grade-point averages of 3.0 or better.

His foundation, The Calipari Foundation, has raised millions of dollars to help the lives of those in need in the Commonwealth and across the country. In 2010, he used a telethon to raise more than $1 million for victims of the devastating earthquake in Haiti. He organized another one in 2012 for victims of Superstorm Sandy and another one in 2017 for victims of Hurricane Harvey.

In 2013, Calipari developed the idea of hosting an annual alumni weekend around his basketball fantasy experience with the intent to raise money for charity. After generating $350,000 for selected organizations and charities during the inaugural game, the weekend (the game and the fantasy experience) has generated more than $1 million for charity every year since, including in 2014 without the funds from an alumni game and 2016 with a celebrity softball game in place of the traditional basketball game.

In 2017, Coach Cal was named the head coach of the 2017 USA Basketball Men’s U19 World Cup Team, which finished third at the 2017 FIBA U19 World Cup in Cairo.

Author of five books, including the New York Times Best Seller “Players First: Coaching from the Inside Out,” Calipari is a master of communication and maximizing talent. He lives by the motto that “it’s never a matter of how far you have fallen, but instead it’s about how high you bounce back.”

- Pronunciation: HAY-gens
- Naismith National Defensive Player of the Year Semifinalist
- Two-time SEC Freshman of the Week winner
- Made six 3-pointers over the last four games. He had made five in the prior 25 games
- Leads UK with 55 steals, which is already in the top five among all freshmen in school history
 - First player in school history with at least three steals in seven straight, a run that ended Jan. 22 vs. Mississippi State
 - Steals streak was the longest by a major-conference freshman since Chris Paul had a stretch of 10 straight games with three or more steals in 2003-04
- Leads team with 126 total assists, including three or more in 21 of the last 23
 - Dished a career high nine dimes in each of UK's two games vs. Mississippi State
 - UK is 6-0 when Hagans has seven or more assists
- Set all sorts of career highs in his return to Georgia, including points (23), rebounds (five), field goals (19) and minutes (35)
- Scored in double figures in five in a row between Dec. 29-Jan. 15, averaging 15.8 points per game
- Tied Rajon Rondo and Wayne Turner's school record with eight steals against North Carolina
- Forewent his final year of high school eligibility and enrolled at UK a year early
- Won both the Gatorade Honor Player of the Year and the Mr. Georgia Basketball honor as a junior
 - Averaged 20.2 points, 10.7 assists, 7.6 assists, 3.6 steals while leading Newton to 7A state semifinals
- Rated No. 12 overall player by Rivals and No. 13 by 247 Sports. ESPN ranked him No. 20 overall

Birthday: July 8
Parents: Monica Wheeler and Marvin Hagans
Major: Undeclared/exploratory studies in agriculture

Off the court he likes to ...
 Chill with teammates, play NBA2K, watch highlights, go out to eat and sleep

Did you know ...
 He won a football little league state championship as a kid and is a cousin to former NFL player Ronnie Brown
