2012 KENTUCKY WOMEN'S TENNIS

Head Coach

CARLOS DRADA

Carlos Drada is in his seventh year with the UK women's tennis program.

A former standout for the UK men's team, Drada helped build the program as an assistant before taking over the reins in 2006. In his first two seasons, he led the Wildcats to a pair of NCAA Tournament berths as well as two 19-win seasons.

The last two seasons served as rebuilding years for the program but Drada is looking to use them as a launch pad for success in the coming season. The return of junior Jessica Stiles, along with five sophomores and the addition of five talented players is exactly what Drada needs to bring the program back to prominence.

In 2009, Drada led the Wildcats to a 9-0 mark to start the season, including the program's second win over Florida in school history. The Wildcats defeated six teams ranked in the top-50 overall, including upsets of No. 14 Clemson and No. 17 Alabama. By season's end UK had earned its 19th NCAA Tournament bid while finishing with a No. 25 ranking.

In 2008, Drada took a team of three sophomores, three freshmen and only one junior to a top-25 finish. The squad overcame adversity and injury during the season to finish 16-10 and the program's 12th consecutive NCAA tournament appearance.

In 2007, Drada guided another youthful squad that played three freshmen and two sophomores to a 19-8 overall record, one win shy of the program's third 20-win season in five years. He coached seniors Kim Coventry and Joelle Schwenk to ITA Doubles All-America honors, the ninth and 10th athletes in school history to earn All-America distinctions.

Drada's first squad, in 2005, posted a 19-10 overall record and made its fifth consecutive appearance in the Sweet 16 round at the NCAA Championships. Kentucky also made a run to the title match of the SEC Tournament for the second consecutive year.

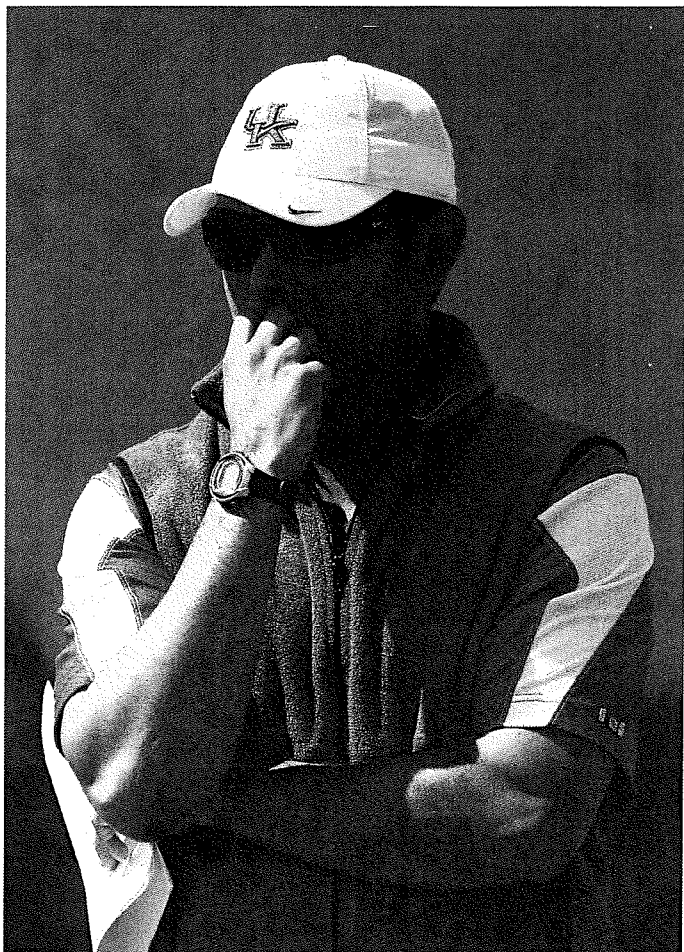

Drada coached Coventry, then a junior, into the NCAA Singles Championships as well as the NCAA Doubles Championships with partner Carolina Escamilla. Coventry was one of just three SEC Players to appear in both the singles and doubles draws while finishing the year ranked 50th nationally. It wasn't just Coventry earning accolades as Drada guided each of UK's top six singles players to All-SEC honors, led by Schwenk, who earned first-team honors.

In his short stint, Drada has also shown himself to be a dynamic recruiter, hauling in the nation's fourth-ranked recruiting class in 2007. Each freshman of the 2008 squad was named a five-star recruit by TennisRecruiting.net.

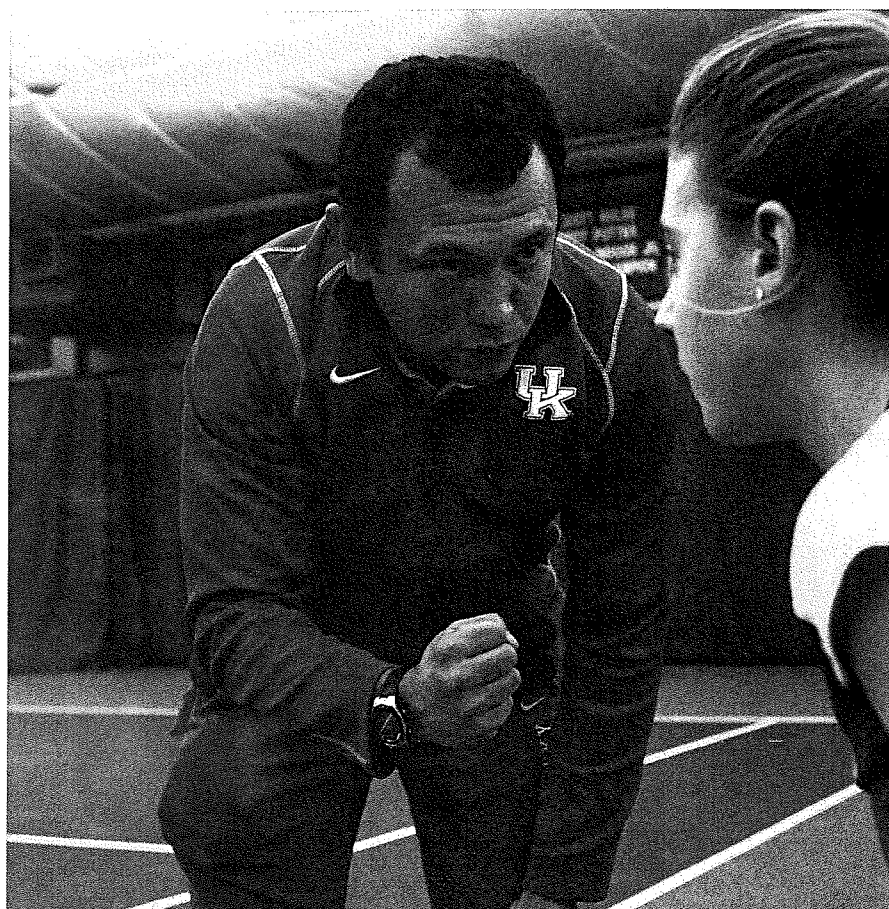

The success as a head coach is no surprise as Drada was tabbed the 2005 ITA National Assistant Coach of the Year in his final season as an assistant coach to former head man Mark Guilbeau. That year, Kentucky enjoyed its finest season in school history, winning the SEC Championship for the first time while advancing to the NCAA quarterfinals. The Wildcats were also the National Indoor Championships runner-up. The 2005 squad won a school-record 26 matches.

The year capped a great four-year run for Drada as an assistant coach. After taking over in 2002, he helped UK to three straight round of 16 appearances before the quarterfinal run in 2005. Prior to that season, the Wildcats had advanced that far in only eight seasons. Since his involvement with the program, the team has finished in the country's top-20 five out of seven seasons.

A native of Cali, Colombia, Drada, joined UK's staff following a highly successful career that culminated with a runner-up finish at the 2000 NCAA Singles Championships. Drada also brings a wealth of experience that comes from playing for an elite tennis program that competed in the SEC and the NCAA Championships, allowing him to better relate to student-athletes about what it takes to compete at such a high level.

As a member of the Kentucky men's tennis team, Drada compiled a record of 91-56 in singles competition. He was named All-American in 2000 after making an improbable run to the NCAA singles title match before falling to Stanford's Alex Kim. The unseeded Drada blazed through the competition defeating both the No. 1 seed Jeff Morrison of Florida, who was the defending national singles champion, and No. 3 seed Shuon Madden during his run. It marked the second time Drada had beaten the nation's No. 1 player, accomplishing the same feat in his junior year. That year he defeated top-ranked James Blake of Harvard.

Drada, 35, made Lexington his permanent home in 2000 after graduating with a degree in finance/marketing. He accepted a job with Merrill-Lynch as a financial consultant, where he worked for a year, before returning to the sport he loves to begin his coaching career.

Assistant Coach

KEVIN CALHOUN

Kevin Calhoun returns for his second year with the University of Kentucky's women's tennis team.

In his first year as assistant coach, Calhoun transitioned seamlessly. His prior experience as a head coach allowed him to step in with knowledge to share. For past 10 years, Calhoun has served as the men's and women's tennis head coach at Georgetown College, in Georgetown, Ky., where he also spent his collegiate playing career. As a Tiger, he was named a four-time All-Conference player and has one of the top records in program history.

With the Tigers, Calhoun racked up an overall record of 210-215; the women's team owned an 119-97 tally while the men's side held a 91-118 record during his tenure. Calhoun's women's teams reached the Mid-South Conference (NAIA) Tournament finals every year since his arrival. For the past eight seasons, Calhoun has coached the women's side to qualifying berths in the Region XI Tournament. He has led three teams to the NAIA Women's National Tournament (2001, 2002, 2008) and two individuals to the ITA Small College National Tournament in 2005.

Calhoun led the men's team to four consecutive Mid-South Conference Tournament finals (2006-2009) and won the tournament in 2001 and 2004. Under Calhoun, the Tigers qualified for the Region XI men's tournament four times.

This past year, Calhoun was named the ITA East Regional NAIA Women's Coach of the Year. Calhoun has been honored as the Mid-South Conference Women's Tennis Coach of the Year in 2001 and 2004 and was awarded the men's award in 2007. Also in 2007, he was recognized as the Kentucky Coach of the Year by the USTA.

While at Georgetown, Calhoun took great pride in his teams' accomplishments both in the classroom and on the court. During the Calhoun era the Tigers have celebrated eight NAIA All-Americans and nine Academic All-Americans. His teams are three-time recipients of the NAIA Scholar Team Award.

Calhoun has reached top levels in tennis officiating as well as coaching. As a line judge for the ATP, WTA and USTA, he has been a part of such tournaments as Wimbledon, the US Open, Davis Cup and Fed Cup.

Calhoun is son to Mike and Sharon Calhoun. Mike serves as the director of alumni relations at his alma mater, Georgetown College, and previously worked as head men's basketball coach at Eastern Kentucky University. In 1998, Calhoun earned his bachelor's degree in psychology from Georgetown. Kevin is husband to the former Alison Witt, also a Tiger graduate, and father to 3-year-old Hannah.

2012 Season Preview

Cats Look to Focus on Teamwork

The University of Kentucky women's tennis team is putting 'team' first this year. Five newcomers join the Wildcats to add to an already young team, making collaboration essential to the success of the 2012 season. The team graduated three seniors, including last year's star, Megan Broderick, so experience is at a low. However, the team is definitely not lacking in talent.

Leading the pack in the rankings are two veterans in junior Jessica Stiles, and sophomore Khristina Blajkevitch. As a doubles team, the duo is ranked 34th in the nation. Both players will call on their experience from last year to guide them into the 2012 season. Stiles, who transferred from Duke University after her freshman year, and made an immediate impact upon joining the team for the 2011 season. She demonstrated her consistency and persistence as she held the number two position in singles for, all but two matches. Even more impressive, she found the most success at her position with an 11-11 record on the season. Blajkevitch also found her place, occupying the number-one spot for doubles and the number-three spot in singles for the Wildcats.

The team also returns sophomores Caitlin McGraw, Misha Testerman, Marni Venter and CeCe Witten. All four players tested out their skills in multiple singles and doubles slots, allowing them to enter the current season with a firm understanding of their roles. Although the four players, along with Blajkevitch and Stiles, only have one year of SEC play under their belt, their knowledge will be vital for the newcomers.

The fresh faces on the team include Lauren Doll, Stephanie Fox, Edmée Morin-Kougoucheff, Lyndsey Pickett and Grace Trimble. Seventh-year head coach, Carlos Drada, has emphasized that he holds just as high of expectations for the newcomers as he does for the returning players. He said, "In order to have the results that I we are capable of, we depend on every player. We will only succeed if each player gives maximum effort through the season." He has made it clear that teamwork is the emphasis for the season.

The Wildcats will need to rise as a team as they face a difficult schedule as always for 2012. The team kicks off the season with a trip to Honolulu to take on Kansas, Washington State and Hawaii in the Hawaii Invitational. Upon return, the team will host nine matches in a row, including three double headers, all against strong opponents. After, the team will travel for two matches before they open SEC play where they will take on their most impressive opponents of the season. "We are fortunate to have a challenging schedule every year," said Drada, "The fact that we play in the toughest conference in the nation gives us the opportunity to play the best teams in the nation. I am looking forward to seeing our players' performance this semester." The Wildcats will certainly be tested, but look forward to gaining the experience that the young squad needs.

With teamwork in the forefront, the Wildcats are on pace for a successful season.

SEC CHAMPIONSHIP FORMATS

1980-81 and 1984-1989

The SEC Champion was determined by the accumulation of points in an individual flighted tournament.

1982 and 1983

The SEC experimented with the team dual match format in women's tennis for the conference tournament. The winner of the tournament was crowned SEC champion. However, after a two-year trial, the SEC went back to a points system in an individual flighted tournament to determine the SEC champion.

1990-98

The SEC Champion was determined by a total aggregate points accumulated at the conclusion of the conference tournament: one full point is awarded for each regular-season conference win, one-half point for wins in the first two rounds of the conference tournament, one-half point for receiving a first-round bye in the conference tournament and one full point for a win in the conference tournament semifinals and finals.

1999

The same points as the previous nine years system was in place with a couple of changes: one full point for first-round bye in the conference tournament and one full point for a win in any round of the conference tournament.

2000-present

The SEC tennis champions is the team with the best winning percentage in conference regular-season dual matches (11 matches). In 2000 and 2001, the league did not use divisions, switching to the divisional format prior to the 2002 season.
