SEASON IN REVIEW

Kentucky finished the season with a 30-7 record -- the fifth 30-win season under John Calipari -- and with another appearance in the Elite Eight, the seventh in Calipari's 10 seasons at UK

UK has appeared in the NCAA Tournament 58 times, the most all-time

The Wildcats own the most wins (30), Final Four appearances (four), Elite Eight appearances (seven) and Sweet 16 appearances (eight) since Calipari took over in 2009-10

With a 3-1 march through the NCAA Tournament this season, UK now owns a 129-52 all-time record in NCAA Tournament action, with its .713 winning percentage the fourth best in NCAA history. UK is 31-8 (.795) under the direction of Calipari

With 31 tournament wins as UK's head coach, Calipari moved past Adolph Rupp (30) for the most NCAA Tournament wins in school history during the 2019 NCAA Tournament run

PJ Washington raked in the awards this season, headlined by NCAA Consensus All-America Third Team honors, All-SEC First Team selection and making the John R. Wooden Award National Ballot

Keldon Johnson was tabbed SEC Freshman of the Year by the league's coaches, Tyler Herro won SEC Newcomer of the Year from the Associated Press and Ashton Hagans was tabbed SEC Co-Defensive Player of the Year by the league

Five underclassmen have declared for the 2019 NBA Draft. Washington, Herro and Johnson have announced they will forgo their remaining eligibility and remain in the draft. EJ Montgomery and Nick Richards are "testing the waters" and have the option to return

UK has added six newcomers to the 2019-20 roster to this point with five highly touted freshman and a graduate transfer. The spring signing period ends May 15

Media Information

CREDENTIAL REQUESTS

Requests for single-game credentials should be made as far in advance as possible and no later than five days prior to game day online at sportssystem.com/Kentucky.

CREDENTIAL CRITERIA

The University of Kentucky's decision to issue credentials to a media outlet for the purposes of covering a UK basketball home or away event is determined by a variety of factors. They include the following:

- Amount of coverage given to Kentucky throughout the season
- Intention/ability to cover all 22 sports at Kentucky
- Distribution/size of publication: free, subscription, sale on newsstands, website traffic, etc.
- Radio or TV station program format and size of audience
- Length of existence of the publication, amount of original copy generated, number of full-time employees of the publication and the journalistic experience of the reporter(s)
- Attendance at Kentucky media sessions, including Olympic sport opportunities
- Space availability
- Professionalism, which includes but is not limited to conduct at games, press conferences, practices, on social media, etc.

The University of Kentucky has the right to revoke credentials under its own discretion.

INTERVIEW POLICIES-GENERAL

All interviews with University of Kentucky basketball players or staff members must be arranged through the Communications and public relations office. Media should never contact a player or coach directly.

The Wildcat Coal Lodge, dormitories, team locker rooms and other team quarters are private team areas. Media members are not permitted in these areas unless accompanied by appropriate university personnel.

PRACTICE/PRESS CONFERENCES

Other than announced exceptions, UK basketball practices are closed to the media. UK will accept requests to attend practice. All requests must be made by 10 a.m. the day before the practice. In cases in which practices are open to the media, no cell phones are allowed in the practice facility.

Player interviews are conducted prior to practices the day before a game and will be available to all UK media in the Joe Craft Center lower-level lobby. UK will accept requests for player interviews, but they must be submitted 24 hours prior to the scheduled availability.

Coach John Calipari or an assistant coach will meet with members of the media immediately following player interviews in the lower level lobby of the Joe Craft Center.

Gameday shoot-arounds are closed to the media.

TELEPHONE PLAYER INTERVIEWS

Telephone interviews are available to the media on a call-back basis. Individual player and coach telephone numbers will not be given to members of the media.

Players are instructed not to conduct interviews when contacted directly by telephone. The communications and public relations office will arrange for telephone interviews at a time most convenient for the student-athlete.

Other special requests are handled on a case-by-case basis.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Following each game, there is a cooling-off period, during which time the players shower and dress. Approximately 10 minutes after the game ends, Coach Calipari conducts his postgame press conference while a player is taken to the UK Sports Network.

Following Coach Calipari's press conference and the cooling-off period, selected UK players are brought to the media interview room.

Kentucky Makes Another Elite Eight Appearance

Kentucky made its nation-leading 58th all-time appearance and sixth straight in the NCAA Tournament in 2019 (59 on-court appearances as the 1988 appearance was vacated) and its 34th Elite Eight since 1951 (the first year when teams had to win one game to advance to the regional finals). The 34 Elite Eight berths are more than any other school.

The Wildcats, the No. 2 seed in the Midwest, earned their way to the regional finals by defeating Abilene Christian 79-44 and Wofford 62-56 in Jacksonville, Florida, before earning a 62-58 win over Houston in Kansas City, Missouri. UK lost in overtime to Auburn to end the season.

UK has advanced to the Elite Eight in seven of Calipari's 10 seasons. No other school has as many Elite Eight appearances as the Wildcats since Calipari took the reins. Calipari is 6-6 all-time in Elite Eight games, including 4-3 as UK's coach.

Kentucky owns a 129-52 record all-time in NCAA action, with its .713 winning percentage the fourth best in NCAA history. UK is 31-8 (.795) in NCAA Tournament games under the direction of Calipari. Calipari is 56-19 (.747) as a head coach in NCAA Tournament games. With 31 tournament wins as UK's head coach, he moved past Adolph Rupp (30) for most NCAA Tournament wins in program history during the 2019 run.

Since Calipari took over the reins at UK, the Wildcats lead the country in:

- NCAA Tournament wins (31)
- Final Four appearances (four)
- Elite Eight appearances (seven)
- Sweet 16 appearances (eight)

Five Underclassmen Declare for NBA Draft; Two Eligible to Return

Five Kentucky underclassmen -- Tyler Herro, Keldon Johnson, EJ Montgomery, Nick Richards and PJ Washington -- declared for the 2019 NBA Draft. Of the five, Herro, Johnson and Washington announced they will stay in the draft and forgo their remaining collegiate eligibility. Montgomery and Richards are testing the waters and could return to UK depending on the feedback they receive during the draft evaluation process.

Under new NCAA rules, players can sign with an NCAA-certified agent, receive feedback and still return to school. Players have until May 29 (10 days after the NBA Draft Combine) to make a final decision as to whether they wish to remain in the draft or return to school.

The five players accounted for 58.7 percent of UK's minutes in 2018-19, 65.4 percent of the scoring, 64.6 percent of the rebounding, 47.1 percent of the assists, 83.0 percent of the blocks and 53.2 percent of the steals.

Should all five stay in the NBA Draft, it would tie for the second-most underclassmen Kentucky has had eligible for one draft. The 2014-15 Wildcats had seven underclassmen enter the draft, six of who were drafted and all seven of whom have played in an NBA game. Last year, five underclassmen were in the draft pool with four earning selection and all five appearing on an NBA roster in 2018-19.

The 2019 NBA Draft will be held June 20 at the Barclays Center in Brooklyn, New York. The NBA Draft Combine is slated for May 15-19 in Chicago, although it hasn't been determined who will participate in it yet.

Since Calipari joined the UK program for the 2009-10 season, UK has produced 35 NBA Draft picks over nine seasons, nearly twice as many as the next-closest school (Duke). Included in the 35 are 26 first-rounders, three No. 1 overall picks and 19 lottery selections.

Of the 25 players at UK who have declared for the NBA Draft after their freshman seasons, 23 have been first-round draft picks. All 25 have played a game in the NBA.

Other Roster Moves

Kentucky will lose two players, graduate student Reid Travis and senior walk-on Jonny David, as they've exhausted their collegiate eligibility. Redshirt freshman Jemarl Baker Jr. announced in April he will transfer from UK and has put his name in the NCAA transfer portal.

Travis played an important role at UK in his lone season in Lexington. The Stanford transfer averaged 11.2 points, 7.2 rebounds (second most on the team) and blocked 23 shots (more than his entire undergraduate career combined). He added valuable experience, leadership and a steady post presence and stepped up when the Wildcats needed him the most. He averaged 12.9 points and a team-best 8.7 rebounds in the 11 games he played in vs. Associated Press Top 25 opponents and 32.2 minutes per game, 11.0 points and 8.3 rebounds in UK's six postseason games after returning from a right knee sprain. He'll continue to pursue his graduate degree in sport leadership as he prepares for his professional basketball career. More information on Travis' season at UK is below.

David appeared in 34 career games at Kentucky and scored seven points. He made his lone start -- a memorable one -- on Senior Day this season. He's expected to receive his degree in kinesiology in May.

Baker appeared in 28 games during his redshirt freshman season with 64 points, 15 rebounds, 12 assists and 13 3-pointers. Known more for his ability to spread the floor with his outside shot, he earned his way on to the court this season and became a key reserve because of his ability to defend. The Menifee, California product made a solid impact in 2018-19 after missing the 2017-18 season with a knee injury. He missed the first eight games of the season but made his debut vs. Seton Hall and appeared in every game but one from that point forward.

Help is on the Way with Highly Decorated Additions

Although Kentucky will have to endure significant roster losses from the 2018-19 team -- nothing the Wildcats aren't used to with their annual success in the NBA Draft -- help is on the way with another highly regarded signing class.

Kentucky will welcome one of the nation's top-ranked recruiting classes yet again. Although the signing period is not over yet and the Wildcats could still add additional players, UK currently has six newcomers in the fold (five high school signees and a graduate transfer).

Graduate transfer Nate Sestina and incoming freshmen Dontaie Allen, Keion Brooks, Brennan Canada (walk-on), Tyrese Maxey and Kahlil Whitney will all be eligible to play for Kentucky starting with the 2019-20 season. Allen, Brooks, Maxey and Whitney are among the top 100 players in the class of 2019.

In every season in the Calipari era, the Wildcats have signed a top-three recruiting class according to the Recruiting Services Consensus Index, which tallies major recruiting rankings and plugs them into a formula to calculate a consensus ranking. The 2019 team rankings have not been finalized yet.

UK can only comment on prospective student-athletes who have signed official paperwork to play at Kentucky.

UK Played One of Nation's Best Schedules

Kentucky's schedule, as it is every season under John Calipari, was one of the best in the country in 2018-19.

UK finished the season with the fifth-toughest schedule in the NCAA's final NET rankings with 20 games vs. quadrant one teams. Kentucky's 2018-19 schedule featured 16 games vs. opponents ranked or receiving votes in the final Associated Press Top 25.

The Wildcats answered the challenge by playing some of their best basketball against their best competition, boasting a 14-6 record vs. quadrant one teams and a 7-5 mark vs. teams that were ranked in the AP Top 25 at the time of the game.

That included the victory over top-ranked Tennessee on Feb. 16 and a three-game buzzsaw vs. then-No. 14/12 Auburn on the road, then-No. 22/22 Mississippi State and then-No. 9/10 Kansas at home in January that the Wildcats went 3-0 against. It marked the first time since the 2015 NCAA Tournament UK faced three consecutive foes ranked inside the AP Top 25 and the first time in the regular season since the final three games of the 2005-06 regular season.

In the nonconference portion of the schedule, Kentucky faced the likes of Duke (Nov. 6) in Indianapolis in the State Farm Champions Classic, Seton Hall (Dec. 8) in Madison Square Garden in the Citi Hoops Classic, Utah (Dec. 15) in Rupp Arena, North Carolina (Dec. 22) in Chicago in the CBS Sports Classic and concluded December with a road game at Louisville (Dec. 29). Four of UK's nonconference opponents made this season's NCAA Tournament field.

And that's just the nonconference slate. The SEC had seven teams in the NCAA Tournament and UK played three of those teams at least twice and two of them three times. Four SEC teams ranked in the final regular-season AP Top 25 poll, including three in the top 10. In mid-January, six teams were in the AP Top 25 for the first time since Jan. 21, 2003.

Three of Kentucky's four NCAA Tournament opponents were ranked in the AP Top 25.

Hold Them to 55 Points, 40 Percent

Defense has always been a recipe for success for the Wildcats under John Calipari. The special ingredient: 55 points. UK is a perfect 74-0 under Calipari when holding the opponent to 55 points or fewer, including 10-0 this season. The Wildcats are 173-7 (.961) under Calipari when limiting the opponent to 63 points or less. Kentucky's 61-59 loss to Tennessee in 2017-18 snapped a 60-game winning streak when holding the opponent to 63 or less.

Kentucky has also fared well when it keeps its opponents to 40 percent or less from the floor. UK is 187-16 (.921) against opponents under Calipari when its field-goal percentage is 40 percent or lower, including 18-1 this season (Auburn shot 40.0 percent in the final game to hand the Wildcats their lone loss).

This UK team contributed considerably to those stingy defensive numbers (see next section) ...

Defense Set Kentucky Apart

After some early-season struggles on the defensive end, especially on the perimeter, this Kentucky team found the look of John Calipari's past teams: stingy, physical and dominant.

The Wildcats' defense turned it up a notch during a 10-game winning streak in conference play. UK's field-goal defense, 3-point defense, steals per game and – the most important defensive statistic -- points allowed per game all showed significant improvement during that run, which included wins over three Associated Press Top 25 opponents, key road victories and against league foes at or near the top of the SEC standings.

Kentucky held seven of 10 opponents to less than 40-percent shooting during the stretch, which is almost always a recipe for success for Calipari's teams (see above note). Over the final five games, UK put together the longest such streak of limiting opponents to 40 percent or less since the 2017-18 team concluded the season on a stretch of six such games.

Seven of those 10 opponents were also limited to 63 points or less. The Wildcats delivered Mississippi State (in Rupp), Georgia, Vanderbilt (in Rupp), South Carolina and Auburn (in Rupp) their season-low point totals at the time. That included holding two straight opponents to 50 points or less (47 to Vanderbilt and 49 to Georgia), the first time that's happened since Feb. 14, 2015 vs. South Carolina (43) and Feb. 17, 2015 against Tennessee (48). Prior to the game at Mississippi State, UK had held five straight opponents to 63 or fewer, the first time that's happened since the 2014-15 team held eight straight teams to 63 or less from Jan. 13-Feb. 7, 2015.

Against Kansas, the Wildcats held the Jayhawks to just 20 points in the paint, their lowest total in two seasons, according to ESPN Stats & Info. Kentucky limited Vanderbilt to 17 second-half points in the teams' first meeting and then limited the Commodores to just 15 first-half points on Jan. 29 in Nashville. It was the fewest first-half points the Cats allowed since UCLA scored seven in the first 20 minutes on Dec. 20, 2014.

The Wildcats turned it up a notch again in NCAA Tournament play. UK held Abilene Christian to just 44 points in the first round, including just 13 in the opening half. It was the lowest point total Kentucky had allowed in any half in NCAA Tournament history and the lowest in any game since UCLA managed seven points in the first half in December of 2014. Abilene Christian shot 32.1 percent from the field and 21.7 percent from 3-point range.

UK was just as good against a high-powered Wofford team that came into the game with the second-most 3-pointers in the country and the NCAA's all-time 3-point leader in Fletcher Magee. The Wildcats put the clamps on the Terriers by limiting Wofford to 8 of 27 from behind the arc and Magee to 0 for 12 from 3. Wofford's 56 points were its second fewest of the season.

Houston entered the Sweet 16 matchup with the Cats averaging 75.8 points per game and a 44.7 field-goal percentage. Kentucky limited the Cougars to 58 points -- tied for its second-lowest total of the season -- and a 39.6 field-goal percentage.

Combined, UK's first three NCAA Tournament opponents averaged just 52.7 points and 36.4-percent shooting. The 100 combined points over the first two games was the fewest Kentucky had allowed in its opening two games during the shot-clock era.

UK's defensive numbers serves as a snapshot of the defensive importance to success:

	Record	Opp. FG%	Opp. 3FG%	Opp. PPG
First 13 games	10-3	42.6	38.4	70.0
Winning streak	10-0	37.9	32.1	58.9
Final 8 reg. season	6-2	40.0	31.9	65.4
Postseason	4-2	37.8	32.6	62.0

Big-Game Cal, Cats

John Calipari's teams aren't just good against the best teams in the country, they're great. Not only does Kentucky have a 59-31 record (.656) vs. Associated Press Top 25 teams under Calipari, UK is 6-4 when both teams are ranked in the AP top five under Calipari.

All-time, Calipari is 12-8 when both teams are ranked in the AP top five. When both teams are ranked in the AP Top 25, Calipari's all-time record is 82-54, including a 51-27 mark at Kentucky. When both are ranked in the top 10 he has a 26-18 record, including 15-11 at UK.

In terms of this season alone, Kentucky answered the bell of big-time showdowns after an early season lesson vs. Duke. UK was 7-5 vs. AP Top 25 teams, including three victories over top-10 foes.

When Kentucky beat then-No. 1 Tennessee on Feb. 19, it marked UK's first win vs. the AP No. 1 team since toppling Ohio State in the 2011 NCAA Tournament. All-time it was the Wildcats' eighth victory for the No. 1 team in 23 tries and its second largest margin of victory.

Calipari improved to 5-4 vs. the No. 1 team in his career with the win vs. Tennessee, including 2-2 at Kentucky. According to the SEC Network, there have been 87 coaches who have faced the No. 1 team in the country at least seven times but Calipari is the only coach with a winning record.

Three players in particular stepped up in the top-25 matchups:

- PJ Washington (11 games) - 17.2 points per game, 6.8 rebounds per game, .548 field-goal percentage
- Keldon Johnson - 14.6 ppg, 5.7 rpg, .489 FG pct, .400 3-point FG pct.
- Reid Travis (11 games) - 12.9 ppg, 8.7 rpg, .543 FG pct.

Kentucky Led League in End-of-Season Awards

Capping a strong regular season that ended with a 26-5 record and No. 4 national ranking, four Kentucky men's basketball players were honored by the Southeastern Conference with the league's end-of-the-season awards. Sophomore PJ Washington and freshmen Keldon Johnson, Tyler Herro and Ashton Hagans earned All-SEC awards, headlined by Washington making the All-SEC First Team (coaches and Associated Press), Johnson winning SEC Freshman of the Year (coaches), Herro earning SEC Newcomer of the Year (AP) and Hagans shared Defensive Player of the Year honors (coaches).

The Wildcats littered the All-SEC teams with eight coaches honors and 10 total between the coaches and AP, more than any other school:

- Washington -- All-SEC First Team (coaches/AP)
- Johnson -- Freshman of the Year (coaches), All-SEC Second Team (coaches), All-Freshman Team (coaches)

• Herro – Newcomer of the Year (AP) All-SEC Second Team (coaches), All-Freshman Team (coaches)

• Hagans – Co-Defensive Player of the Year (coaches), All-Defensive Team (coaches)

All 14 conference head coaches voted on the league's All-SEC squads. Ties were not broken. A media member that covered each school made up the voting for the AP's All-SEC awards.

Johnson became the 10th Wildcat to win SEC Freshman of the Year and the ninth player in 10 seasons under John Calipari. Herro is the eighth winner – all under Calipari – to win Newcomer of the Year.

With three Wildcats on the coaches' All-SEC teams, Calipari has now coached 26 players who have earned All-SEC accolades. At least one player has been named to the All-SEC Freshman Team in each of Calipari's 10 seasons, including 26 total, and in nine of the 10 seasons multiple players have been tabbed to the squad.

Hagans, in sharing the Defensive Player of the Year award with Waters, becomes the first Wildcat to win the league's top defensive honors since Tyler Ulis in 2016 and the sixth overall. He's also the first on the All-Defensive Team since Ulis.

Off the court, Jonny David was named to the SEC Community Service Team for his exemplary servant leadership. He's spent countless hours in the community, working with such organizations as the Special Olympics, God's Pantry, Samaritan's Feet, the Salvation Army and the American Red Cross.

UK Also Dominated Regular-Season SEC Honors

As John Calipari's teams have dominated the Southeastern Conference during his tenure, so too have his players.

A UK player was named one of the weekly winners a league-leading 10 times this season with PJ Washington winning SEC Player of the Week twice. Keldon Johnson and Tyler Herro each won Freshman of the Week three times while Ashton Hagans won it twice.

Kentucky has won more weekly SEC honors (10) than any other school during the Calipari era, including 80 SEC Freshman of the Week honors and 20 SEC Player of the Week awards.

When Washington won SEC Player of the Week for the second time, he became the first Wildcat to win the award twice in one season since Tyler Ulis won it two times during his 2015-16 SEC Player of the Year season. Washington is the fourth player in the Calipari era to win it multiple times in a season, joining Ulis, Julius Randle (2013-14) and Anthony Davis (2011-12).

Washington Named All-American

PJ Washington's successful mission to return to school this season to be one of the best players in college basketball was underscored by earning NCAA Consensus All-America Third Team honors.

Washington is the first Wildcat to earn NCAA All-America distinction since Malik Monk was a consensus second-team choice in 2017.

The sophomore forward was named a third-team All-America selection by all four of the NCAA-recognized All-America teams: the Sporting News, the U.S. Basketball Writers Association, the National Association of Basketball Coaches and the Associated Press.

Washington is the 11th player under John Calipari to earn All-America honors by one of the four major organizations and the ninth with NCAA consensus honors. He's the 39th different

Wildcat in program history to tally consensus All-America status.

Washington Leaves Lasting Legacy at UK

When PJ Washington decided to return to Kentucky a year ago, he cited a desire to become a more complete player and help the Wildcats compete for a championship.

Although the Wildcats fell a game short of their first Final Four since 2015, Washington fulfilled the goals he set out for in his sophomore season as he emerged as one of the best players in college basketball in helping Kentucky become a national title contender.

In his second and final season at UK (he entered the NBA Draft and will remain in it), he transformed from a talented freshman who flashed signs of potential to a consistent, dominant player by season's end.

Washington's sophomore season began to take off with a career-high 29-point, 12-rebound, four-block, four-assist game vs. Seton Hall in December. He followed that up with a near triple-double (11 points, 10 rebounds and a career-high eight assists) vs. North Carolina in the CBS Sports Classic.

"I think when he plays at a different pace, a different level of intensity, a different level of bouncing and alertness, I'm telling you, he's as good as anybody in the country," John Calipari said following Washington's 20-point, 13-rebound game performance vs. Kansas. "He is. When he doesn't, he's OK. He's just OK. So that becomes, what do you want? And then when you play that way ... that's when you become special."

Calipari's assessment became prophetic, and the challenge proved fruitful for Washington as he delivered on a nightly basis during the second half of the season.

Over a 10-game stretch from Jan. 22 to Feb. 23, he averaged 21.0 points and 7.9 rebounds while shooting 55.7 percent and 52.8 percent from long range with 19 made 3-pointers (including a career-high five vs. Auburn). The two-time SEC Player of the Week scored 20 or more points in eight of those 10 games and posted three straight double-doubles vs. Kansas, at Van derbilt and at Florida to become the first Wildcat with three straight double-doubles since Julius Randle did it four times in March 2014.

Washington produced career highs in every major statistical category in 2018-19, including leading UK in scoring (15.2 points per game), rebounding (7.5 rpg) and double-doubles (nine). He scored in double figures in 19 of his final 20 games and 25 overall.

Perhaps his defining legacy will be his play to end his career. He suffered a sprained left foot in the second half of the Southeastern Conference Tournament semifinals and did not play in UK's opening weekend of the NCAA Tournament, but he returned to lead the Wildcats to their seventh Elite Eight appearance in 10 seasons under Calipari the following week.

Washington played 26 minutes and scored 16 points against Houston in the Sweet 16. He then gutted out 37 minutes and charted his ninth double-double of the season in an overtime loss to Auburn in the Elite Eight. Washington had 28 points, one shy of his career high, 13 boards, three assists, two blocks and two steals. He was named to the Midwest Regional All-Tournament Team for his efforts.

For the season, Washington shot 52.2 percent from the floor and 42.3 percent from 3-point range. A year after hitting just five 3s in 37 games at a 23.8-percent rate, he drained 33 this season. He was one of just four players nationally standing 6-foot-8 or taller this season to average at least 14.5 points per game, shoot at least 50 percent from the field, make at least 40 percent from 3-point range and sink at least 30 made 3-pointers.

Perhaps the truest indicator of Washington's worth was his impressive play vs. Kentucky's best competition. In the 11 games he played vs. Associated Press Top 25 teams, Washington averaged a team-high 17.2 points, 6.8 rebounds and shot 54.8 percent.

Washington was well-recognized for his accomplishments. He was tabbed a third-team All-America selection by the four NCAA-recognized All-America teams (Sporting News, U.S. Basketball Writers Association, National Association of Basketball Coaches and the AP), in addition to All-America honors from USA Today (Second Team), Sports Illustrated (Third Team) and the Basketball Times (Third Team), among others.

He was also tabbed an All-SEC First Team pick, was one of five finalists for the Karl Malone Award, presented by the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame to the top power forward in college basketball, appeared on the John R. Wooden Award national ballot, and was a Citizen Naismith Trophy semifinalist.

Travis, UK Benefit from Graduate Transfer

John Calipari has made it known he won't just take any graduate transfer. Among his stipulations in taking one, the move must benefit both the student-athlete and UK. He said he's not going to take a kid if he doesn't believe he's going to make a major impact.

Reid Travis, who transferred from Stanford after receiving his undergraduate degree in science, technology and society, certainly made a huge impression with the Wildcats.

The two-time First Team All-Pac 12 selection provided UK with valuable leadership, experience and, of course, production in his one season in Lexington. He averaged 11.2 points and 7.2 rebounds per game for the 30-7 Wildcats and recorded three double-doubles. Travis connected on 53.7 percent of his field goals and 73.2 percent of his free throws. He also blocked 23 shots, more than he combined for in his previous four seasons at Stanford.

Travis was at his best against the best. He averaged 12.9 points and a team-best 8.7 rebounds in the 11 games he played in vs. Associated Press Top 25 opponents.

Although his numbers were down from his previous seasons at Stanford, that was merely a product of the depth and talent of this UK roster. Travis came to Kentucky to become a more versatile player and play in the NCAA Tournament for the first time in his career, and he was able to achieve both this season.

Travis' value was best illustrated in the closing stretch of 2018-19. After missing five games with a sprained right knee, Travis came back better than ever. Over the last six games -- all in the post-season -- he averaged 32.2 minutes per game, 11.0 points and 8.3 rebounds. That included a gritty 44 minutes vs. Auburn in the Elite Eight just a month after he sprained his knee. He shot 64.1 percent and 75.0 percent from the free-throw line during that span.

Included in that all-important stretch were the two NCAA Tournament-opening games when PJ Washington was sidelined with a sprained left foot. Drawing more attention and responsibility without Washington, Travis reminded everyone he's still capable of carrying a leading load with 18 points, nine rebounds and an assist in 26 minutes vs. Abilene Christian. He was 8 of 10 from the field and corralled four offensive rebounds. Travis really shouldered a lot of weight in the close win over Wofford with 14 points and 11 rebounds for his third double-double of the season. He played 37 minutes vs. the Terriers.

Travis' impact was obvious in the three matchups vs. Tennessee. After beating the Volunteers by 17 with Travis -- a game Calipari called Travis the "difference maker" because of his ability to neutralize UT's physical game -- the Wildcats lost to the Volunteers by 19 without him in the second regular-season game. In the SEC Tournament semifinals, UK was leading by three when Travis fouled out with 2:32 left in the game. UT went on to win by four.

Travis' ability on the floor and his leadership off it was recognized by being one of 10 finalists for the Senior CLASS Award. Honoring student-athletes who excel both on and off the court, the candidates had to be NCAA Division I seniors with notable achievements in four areas of excellence in community, classroom, character and competition to be eligible for the award.

Super Herro

In terms of productivity, PJ Washington was Kentucky's best overall player this season, but Tyler Herro may have been UK's most important.

The proof: UK was 19-0 this season when Herro scored 15 or more points. The Wildcats were 11-7 when he didn't. In Kentucky's 30 wins he averaged a team-high 14.9 points, 49.5-percent shooting and 39.7 percent from 3-point range. In the seven losses, those numbers dipped to 10.1 points per game, 32.5-percent shooting and 21.1 percent from behind the arc.

In other words, as Herro went this season, so likely did the Wildcats.

Herro proved to be much more than just a shooter, as many labeled him to be when he got to Kentucky. He bucked those notions by becoming a lethal scorer from anywhere on the floor (second on the team in scoring), a much-improved defender (40 steals), an underrated rebounder (4.5 boards per game) and one of the nation's best at the free-throw line (93.5 percent).

Herro ended the season by making 70 of his last 72 foul shots, propelling him to one of the best seasons in NCAA history. With a 93.5-percent rate and a minimum of 50 attempts, he not only set the single-season school record for free-throw percentage, he also set the Southeastern Conference mark (with players between 50 and 100 attempts). He also made 98.2 percent of his foul shots during SEC play, a league record. Only four players in NCAA Division I history since 1996-97 have made 92 percent or more of their foul shots in league play. His mark is also the best among all major conference players since 1996-97, according to STATS.

Overall, Herro averaged 14.2 points per game with a team-best 60 3-pointers and a team-high 29 games in double figures. On the road he was even better.

The freshman guard averaged 15.5 points on 50.5 percent from the field with 18 3-pointers in Kentucky's 10 true road games this season. Take away the uncharacteristic off day at Tennessee and his numbers ballooned to a team-best 16.6 points on 54.1-percent shooting and 43.9 percent from behind the arc.

Other key road performances included 15 second-half points on 5-of-7 shooting in the road win at Auburn, including the game-winning free throws, a key 3-pointer at Mississippi State to halt a furious comeback, 18 points at Missouri, and 20 points at Ole Miss including two late game-clinching free throws.

Herro's breakthrough performance came in the form of a career-high 24-point effort on the road at Louisville, which marked the second-most points ever by a UK freshman against its archrival. He was named the Bluegrass Sports Commission's MVP of the game and then went on to win the USBWA Wayman Tisdale National Freshman of the Week honor. NCAA.com named him its national player of the week, and he took home SEC Freshman of the Week accolades.

Herro scored at least 12 points in nine of the 10 away games and was one of four players nationally and the only freshman in the country to average at least 15.0 points on the road while shooting at least 50 percent from the field, at least 35 percent from 3-point range and at least 90 percent from the free-throw line.

As good as he was on the road, one could argue he had no bigger overall performance this season than the one he had in a 15-point comeback effort against Arkansas at home. He poured in a career-high 29 points highlighted by a career-high five 3-pointers. He didn't miss a shot in the second half and went 6 of 6 from the charity stripe.

Against Wofford, it was Herro's defense that made the difference. Guarding Wofford's Fletcher Magee for most of the game, Herro held the NCAA's career leader in 3-point field goals made to 0 of 12 from behind the arc.

Herro hit another "big" shot for the ages with a game-clinching 3-pointer with 25 seconds to play to down Houston in the Sweet 16. He then sunk two free throws to make it a two-possession game with 13 ticks to play. He made the NCAA Midwest Regional All-Tournament Team thanks to the clutch performance.

The Associated Press named Herro its SEC Newcomer of the Year while the league's coaches tabbed Herro to its All-SEC Freshman Team and All-SEC Second Team.

The three-time SEC Freshman of the Week was also named to the Collegelinsider.com Kyle Macy Freshman All-America Team and the Basketball Times All-Freshman First Team.

He entered his name into the 2019 NBA Draft and will forgo his remaining eligibility at Kentucky.

Johnson Relishes Big Stage

If you watched Kentucky in some of its biggest games of the season, chances are you noticed Keldon Johnson making a major impact.

Whether it was scoring the ball, making a timely 3 or lifting the Wildcats with his emotion, he was usually at the center of the big stage.

Johnson averaged 14.6 points per game on 48.9-percent shooting and 40.0 percent from behind the arc, in addition to 5.7 rebounds per game, in UK's 12 matchups with Associated Press Top 25 foes. That included a 19-point outing in the win over top-ranked Tennessee on Feb. 16.

He's what they call a "gamer."

But Johnson's ability to step up when needed didn't just pertain to matchups vs. AP Top 25 opponents. Take, for instance, the first half of the season. As Kentucky searched for an identity, Johnson was UK's most consistent scorer. He scored in double figures in 12 of the Wildcats' first 13 games, including four games of 20 or more points during that stretch.

Johnson's finished the season averaging 13.5 points per game. He shot 46.1 percent and was one of Kentucky's most consistent 3-point shooters with a 38.1-percent clip. Johnson was second on the team with 45 3-pointers, and UK was 6-0 this season when he makes at least three 3-pointers in a game.

Johnson also averaged 5.9 rebounds per game, including a monster day on the boards when -- again -- Kentucky needed him most. Without forward Reid Travis down low (sprained right knee), Johnson stepped up his game on the glass with a career-high 17 boards, the most by a Wildcat in a Southeastern Conference game under John Calipari against Auburn.

It came as no surprise then that Johnson won SEC Freshman of the Year, as selected by the league's coaches, becoming the ninth player in 10 seasons with Calipari at the helm to win the honor. He was named SEC Freshman of the Week a league-high-trying three times this season and also made the Basketball Times All-Freshman First Team.

One of his signature "big" moments came in the form of a 22-point, seven-rebound effort as UK wrapped up regular-season road action at Ole Miss. With Travis out for the fourth game and Washington limited in the first half due to foul trouble, it was Johnson who carried the Cats. He had 14 first-half points and five boards as UK kept the game within reach with its star sophomore on the bench for 13 minutes in the opening stanza. He also posted 15 points and six boards vs. Tennessee in the Southeastern Conference Tournament semifinals.

In one of his final shining moments, Johnson led the Wildcats with 25 points and sunk three 3-pointers in the opening NCAA Tournament game. UK was without Washington but Johnson answered the bell once again. He also contributed six boards in the win.

Hagans Put Defense First

Ultimately the game of basketball is about who can score the most points, but if John Calipari was to write down some of the most important things that affect a basketball game, scoring would not be near the top of the list.

No player had a bigger impact than Ashton Hagans doing the "other" things this season, especially defensively. Embracing his role as a defensive stopper, he emphasized the notion that there are other ways to affect the game than just scoring the ball -- a big reason why he made the Athletic's All-Glue Team.

Consider this: He averaged 7.7 points on the season, but he was one of the most important players in Kentucky's defensive surge. Take, for example, the North Carolina win. Hagans scored seven points, but his fingerprints were all over the outcome, especially on the defensive end, where he tied a school record with eight steals (previously set by Wayne Turner on Nov. 24, 1997, vs. George Washington and Rajon Rondo on Feb. 19, 2005, vs. Mississippi State).

UNC head coach and Hall of Famer Roy Williams said it best: "Ashton Hagans is 2 for 6, seven points, and I thought in some ways he was more dominating in the game than anybody."

Hagans' 1.6 steals per game ranked eighth in the Southeastern Conference and his 61 steals this season tied Shai Gilgeous-Alexander for the third most ever by a Kentucky freshman.

Prior to a two-steal night against Mississippi State at home, Hagans had corralled at least three steals in seven straight games. He's the only player in school history with such a streak

(since steals became an official NCAA statistic in 1985-86). According to STATS, he was the first major-conference freshman with three or more steals in seven or more straight games since Wake Forest's Chris Paul did it 10 straight games in the 2003-04 season.

His defensive effort did not go unnoticed. He was one of 10 semifinalists for the Naismith National Defensive Player of the Year, as awarded by the Atlanta Tipoff Club, made the Collegelinsider.com Lefty Driesell Defensive All-America Team and the Collegelinsider.com Kyle Macy Freshman All-America Team.

And it's worth noting that as Hagans' defensive stock went on the rise, his offensive numbers followed. He scored seven or more points in 20 of the last 31 games, including back-to-back-to-back career-high scoring days vs. Louisville (11), Alabama (12) and Texas A&M (18), followed by a 15-point effort vs. Vanderbilt. Hagans then topped it with a career-high 23-point effort in his homecoming on the road at Georgia. He scored in double figures in seven of the last 12 games.

In addition to his scoring output, he led the Cats with 4.3 assists per game, which ranked seventh in the SEC. His 160 tied for the fifth most in a single season by a UK freshman in program history.

Against Tennessee in the SEC Tournament semifinals, he dished out a career-high 12 assists, which also ranked as the most ever in a tournament game in program history.

Cats Cleaned the Glass

Although this Kentucky team wasn't quite as strong in the frontcourt as some of John Calipari's more recent teams, it rebounded the ball in dominating fashion this season.

UK finished the season ranked fourth in the nation in rebounding margin with a plus-9.4 mark and outrebounded its opponents in 30 of 37 games. UK was 25-5 in those games.

Kentucky averaged 11.6 offensive rebounds per game and hauled in double-digit offensive rebounds in 25 of 37 games.

That rate propelled the Wildcats to eighth in KenPom.com's rankings for offensive rebounding percentage at 36.8 percent. The advantage on the offensive glass enabled the Wildcats to average 11.6 second-chance points per game.

Prior to the Utah game, Kentucky had outrebounded eight consecutive opponents by a combined 138 rebounds, an average of plus-17.3 per game. It was the best eight-game stretch under Calipari.

Three Wildcats averaged 5.9 rebounds or more per game and two were at 7.2 or better. Sophomore PJ Washington led the way with 7.5 boards per game. He grabbed seven or more rebounds in 20 of the 35 games he played in with nine double-figure games (all resulting in double-doubles).

Washington grabbed a career-high 18 boards in the win over VMI with seven offensive boards and 11 on the defensive end. The remarkable thing is Washington's 18-rebound game isn't even the best of the season.

Against Southern Illinois, Nick Richards gobbled up a career-high 19 rebounds -- exactly what SIU totaled as a team -- to help lift Kentucky to a plus-29 margin on the boards. According to Big Blue History, a comprehensive fan website, it's the first time in school history a UK player has recorded as many rebounds as the opponent.

Richards had nine boards on the offensive end vs. SIU -- tied for the most in the Calipari era -- and 10 on the defensive end. The 19 total boards were the most by a Wildcat since Michael Kidd-Gilchrist had 19 in a win over Louisville on Dec. 31, 2011.

When Keldon Johnson grabbed 17 rebounds vs. Auburn at home, Kentucky became just the second team in college basketball this season to have three different players grab at least 17 rebounds in a game this season, according to STATS. It's happened just five times since the 1996-97 season.

Johnson's 17 rebounds were the most by a Wildcat in a Southeastern Conference game in the Calipari era.

Cats Didn't Count on the Long Ball

Although John Calipari called this year's team one of his best 3-point shooting teams he's coached at Kentucky, the Wildcats didn't rely on the perimeter shot.

UK generated just 23.0 percent of its points from 3-pointers, ranked 342nd in the country, according to KenPom.com. UK took just 16.4 3-point attempts per game.

While the numbers are low compared to the rest of the country in today's perimeter-oriented game, they're about the norm for Calipari's past Kentucky teams. There's an old expression in basketball that you live by the 3 or die by the 3, but UK has generally done neither under Calipari.

In fact, the Wildcats' 3-point field-goal attempt percentage of 29.6 percent was about average for Calipari's previous Kentucky teams, as was the make percentage of .354 (see numbers below).

Calipari likes to see his teams take between 20 to 24 3-point attempts per game, which UK did eight times this season.

Taking Advantage of Free Points

One of Kentucky's strengths this season was its success at the free-throw line. UK earned 22.6 percent of its points at the charity stripe and connected at a 73.9-percent rate. Kentucky's free-throw rate ranked 14th in the country, while its make percentage was rated 68th in the nation.

The 73.9 percent was the best mark of the John Calipari era and the highest since the 2008-09 team shot at a 77.3-percent clip.

Six players made 70.5 percent or better, led by freshman Tyler Herro's 93.5 percent (Herro made 70 of his last 72 foul shots), a school and Southeastern Conference record (with players with at least 50 free-throw attempts).

Kentucky's strong performance at the line wasn't relegated to its success rate of makes, but also the frequency in which the Cats got to the line and the number of makes per game. Kentucky went to the line an average of 23.2 times a game, making an average of 17.2. The opposition averaged 10.9 makes on an average of 15.5 trips a game.

Unfortunately, the Wildcats' poorest performance of the season came in the season-finale loss when UK went 12 for 21 (57.1 percent) at the line.

Cats Deliver the Knockout Punch

UK is 260-6 (.977) in the John Calipari era when leading by at least 10 points at any time in the contest.

When Kentucky couldn't put away Auburn in the 2019 Elite Eight after leading by as many as 11 points in the first half, it was the first time the Wildcats let a double-digit lead wind up in a loss since losing a 14-point lead to South Carolina in 2017-18.

Five of the six losses have been to conference opponents.

Perhaps most impressive of all is that 70.7 percent of games Calipari has coached in at Kentucky have produced 10-point leads at some point during the game for UK. The Wildcats have led by 10 points or more in a whopping 85.2 percent of Calipari's 305 career wins at Kentucky.

Always Efficient

According to Ken Pomeroy's calculations on kenpom.com, UK's teams under John Calipari have been consistently ranked among the most efficient teams in the country per possession.

Taking Care of Business

Kentucky's 59-31 record vs. opponents ranked in the Associated Press Top 25 in John Calipari's tenure is impressive, but the Wildcats' ability to beat all-comers can't be overlooked. Under Calipari, UK is 246-40 vs. unranked competition, an .860 winning percentage.

Kentucky has the unquestionable reputation as the league's gold standard. Since the SEC's inception in 1932-33, the Wildcats have been the most dominant team in the league, recording a 997-281 mark (.780) in regular-season conference play. Only two other teams have won more than 700 regular-season SEC games (Alabama and Tennessee), and no other team has a better winning percentage.

- Kentucky has averaged 11.6 wins and only 3.3 losses per season in 86 seasons in the SEC
- UK has won 48 SEC titles and 31 SEC Tournament championships
- The Wildcats have won 16 of the last 28 SEC Tournament titles
- Kentucky has won at least a share of five of the last 10 SEC regular-season championships under head coach John Calipari
- UK has played in the championship game of the SEC Tournament in eight of Calipari's 10 seasons, winning the tournament six times
- Seven teams made the 2019 NCAA Tournament field, tied for the second most of any league in the country

- The SEC had two teams in the Elite Eight, one in the Final Four and went 12-7 in NCAA Tournament games in 2019

- Four teams from the SEC made the final regular-season Associated Press Top 25 with three in the top 12 and another team receiving votes. In mid-January, the SEC had six teams in the AP Top 25, the most since the league had six on Jan. 21, 2003

Bounce Back

The Wildcats don't lose very often during the John Calipari era, but when they do, they almost always bounce back. UK is 50-12 under Calipari following a loss (record does not count end-of-season losses).

The Wildcats have only lost back-to-back games 12 times during the Calipari era with three of those losses having come during a four-game losing streak from Feb. 3-14, 2018. That was the first four-game losing streak under Calipari.

Previously, the last time UK lost four games in a row was in February 2009, when the Wildcats dropped four straight games to end the regular season. It was the first time Calipari had lost four straight since the end of the 2004-05 season at Memphis.

Comeback Cats

Kentucky produced its biggest comeback of the season and its largest since a 17-point come-from-behind effort at West Virginia a season ago in a 15-point comeback against Arkansas to end February.

In all, UK trailed by double figures and rallied for wins in five games this season. Kentucky came back from double-digit deficits in back-to-back games against Texas A&M and Vanderbilt, trailed by 10 to Kansas, and 11 at Florida. The five wins from double-digit deficits are the most in a single season since the 2016-17 squad also rallied for five wins after trailing by double figures. It's the third time under John Calipari a team has rallied for five wins. The 2013-14 "Cardiac Cats" also achieved five comeback wins.

The common denominators among all five games: slow starts. UK fell behind 10-0 to Texas A&M, Vanderbilt 16-4 in the first of two meetings, Kansas earned an early 10-point edge in the opening half, and Florida utilized a 40-percent shooting clip from long range to build a halftime lead and an 11-point edge early in the second half. The Wildcats turned the ball over 12 times in the opening half against the Razorbacks, faced an 11-point deficit at the break and saw the disadvantage swell to 15 early in the second half.

Against Texas A&M, Kentucky led by 12 at halftime, and after allowing Vanderbilt to score 22 points in the first 8:34 of the team's first meeting, the Wildcats' defense limited the Commodores to just 25 points over the final 31:26 of game time.

Kentucky trailed by 10, 16-6, with 9:45 to play in the opening half against Kansas. UK cut the deficit to three at halftime before pulling away with a 71-63 win. The Gators held an 11-point lead with 13 minutes to play before PJ Washington sparked a 14-0 run over a five-minute span to help Kentucky eventually pull away for a nine-point lead.

Arkansas led by its largest margin with just over 18 minutes to go in the second half. Tyler Herro's perfect second half from the floor aided an 18-3 spurt and the Wildcats eventually earned a four-point win over the Hogs.

National Domination

It took 117 seasons of basketball to do, but Kentucky completed the rare and impressive feat of defeating a team from all 50 states in the country in 2018-19.

North Dakota was the lone state from which the Wildcats had never played an opponent (nor, obviously, beaten one). UK finally had the opportunity in November and took care of business with a 96-58 win.

North Dakota is one of five states UK has played only once, the other four being Delaware, New Mexico, South Dakota and Vermont.

Tennessee -- not Kentucky -- is the state that UK has played more games, won more contests and dropped more matchups against than any other state because of Southeastern Conference rivals Tennessee and Vanderbilt.

Forever Young

When PJ Washington, Quade Green (who transferred) and Nick Richards, three key pieces of the 2017-18 Southeastern Conference Tournament championship team, decided to return for their sophomore seasons, it marked a big boost in returning talent.

The trio accounted for 2,224 minutes, 905 points, 434 rebounds, 157 assists and 64 blocks a season ago. They combined for 80 starts in 2017-18. That's a lot by the John Calipari era standard.

As a matter of fact, throw in the returning reserves Brad Calipari and Jonny David and UK this season returned its highest percentage of minutes (33.1 percent), points (32.0 percent) and rebounds (30.6) since the 2014-15 team that went 38-1 and advanced to the Final Four. And that's not even factoring in a graduate transfer, Reid Travis, who joined UK with more than 100 career starts.

But, to call this past team experienced would be inaccurate -- at least according to Ken Pomeroy's experience rankings. A year after checking in with the least amount of experience in the history of the KenPom.com rankings, UK was near the bottom for the season once again.

Kentucky finished the season ranked 351st out of 353 teams in terms of experience with an average age of 0.59 years. UK was considered the least experienced Power 5 team in the country, according to KenPom.

And according to one NCAA survey, UK was one of just 16 schools with one or fewer scholarship players that were seniors or graduate transfers. That same survey revealed that Kentucky was tied nationally for the second-most players who were sophomores or younger on scholarship. Furthermore, Kentucky's roster was made up of 58 percent of its players who were redshirt freshman or younger. Only South Dakota (62 percent) and Wyoming (69 percent) had more youth according to a February survey.

Calipari, Payne Redshirted for 2018-19

Junior Brad Calipari and freshman Zan Payne redshirted for the 2018-19 season. Calipari will have two seasons of eligibility remaining and Payne will have four.

Calipari, a three-time Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll member, is on track to graduate in three years with a degree in communication. After that he plans to pursue graduate school.

Calipari has played in 27 career games in his first two seasons as a Wildcat and has recorded 11 points and five rebounds. He played in five of UK's six exhibition games in the preseason, totaling three points, three rebounds and two assists in 40 minutes. He played eight minutes vs. Transylvania but did not appear in the final tune-up against Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

Payne sat out this season as he recovered from a knee injury he suffered during his senior season of high school. He scored 1,287 career points and grabbed 934 career rebounds at Lexington Catholic High School, where he was a three-year starter. He averaged 19.3 points and 8.7 rebounds as a senior.

Best in the Bluegrass

Kentucky has been dominant against teams in the state under John Calipari. Kentucky is 17-2 against in-state foes with Calipari at the helm.

The mark also includes a 10-2 mark vs. Louisville. Two of the victories over the Cardinals came in postseason play. UK had its four-game winning streak snapped in 2016-17 but has won all five meetings played in Rupp Arena, including a 29-point blowout in 2017-18, the third-biggest margin of victory in the history of the series. Louisville's two wins have come by a combined six points.

Here's a list of the meetings between the state's two premier programs since Calipari took over at UK:

- Jan. 2, 2010 - UK won 71-62 at Rupp Arena
- Dec. 31, 2010 - UK won 78-63 at the KFC Yum! Center
- Dec. 31, 2011 - UK won 69-62 at Rupp Arena
- March 31, 2012 - UK won 69-61 at the Superdome (NCAA Final Four in New Orleans)
- Dec. 29, 2012 - Louisville won 80-77 at the KFC Yum! Center
- Dec. 28, 2013 - UK won 73-66 at Rupp Arena
- March 28, 2014 - UK won 74-69 at Lucas Oil Stadium (NCAA Sweet 16 in Indianapolis)
- Dec. 27, 2014 - UK won 58-50 at the KFC Yum! Center
- Dec. 26, 2015 - UK won 75-73 at Rupp Arena
- Dec. 21, 2016 - Louisville won 73-70 at the KFC Yum! Center
- Dec. 29, 2017 - UK won 90-61 at Rupp Arena
- Dec. 29, 2018 - UK won 71-58 at the KFC Yum! Center

UK Continues to Set the NBA Standard

Every year the numbers gets bigger and wilder, but the bottom line remains the same: No school can match the Kentucky men's basketball team's ability to develop players and put them in the NBA.

A whopping 31 players on NBA opening-day rosters (including two-way, inactive and suspension lists) played and finished their college basketball careers at the University of Kentucky, the nation's most prolific NBA player-producing program in the country. UK's 31 players were once again the most of any college basketball program, beating the next-closest school (Duke with 25) by six players.

Two additional players, Isaac Humphries and Terrence Jones, made a roster later in the season, plus 1978 UK national champion Dwane Casey coaches the Detroit Pistons.

There were actually fewer teams that didn't have a Wildcat (eight) appear on a roster this season than there are NBA teams featuring Wildcats (22).

John Calipari coached 31 of the 33 Wildcats that played in 2018-19. With Tyreke Evans and Derrick Rose, who played for Calipari at Memphis, Calipari coached 35 players on a 2018-19 NBA roster.

Using figures compiled by basketball-reference.com and spotrac.com, Calipari-coached players only (which includes Rose and Evans but not Meeks or Rondo) have amassed nearly $1.9 billion in career NBA contracts. In the 10 seasons Calipari has been the head coach at Kentucky, his players have totaled more than $1.5 billion in NBA contracts.

In just the 2018-19 season alone, UK players were slated to make almost $190 million. Calipari-coached players only (which includes Rose and Evans but not Meeks or Rondo) were expected to make nearly $195 million.

Of the 33 Wildcats who played in the NBA this season, 12 made the NBA Playoffs (13 factoring in Casey).

The Wildcats were well represented at NBA All-Star weekend again this season. Anthony Davis and Karl-Anthony Towns were selected as All-Star reserves and Hamidou Diallo became the third Wildcat all-time (Kenny "Sky" Walker and John Wall) to win the Slam Dunk Contest. Devin Booker competed in the 3-Point Contest, and De'Aaron Fox, Shai Gilgeous-Alexander and Kevin Knox all played in the Mtn Dew Ice Rising Stars Game.

Among the most noteworthy performances of the season:

- Fox not only posted his first career triple-double on Nov. 1, he became the youngest player in league history to record 30 or more points, 15 or more assists, and 10 or more rebounds in a game. He joined LeBron James as the only players in NBA history to record 30-point triple-doubles before their 21st birthday
- Enes Kanter became the first Knick since 1970-71 to record 20 points and 20 rebounds off the bench with his 23-point, 24-rebound effort vs. the Bulls on Nov. 5

- Jamal Murray just missed out on becoming the eighth former Calipari player to score 50 or more points in a game with a career-high 48 points vs. the Celtics on Nov. 5
- Julius Randle recorded a triple-double vs. the San Antonio Spurs on Nov. 19. In the process, he became just the fourth player in NBA history to record a triple-double in 25 minutes or less
- Davis reached 10,000 points on Nov. 21, becoming the eighth-youngest player to do so
- Kanter recorded his fourth career 20-20 game as a Knick on Nov. 25. He's one of eight players to have done it four times with the Knicks
- Knox scored 26 points off the bench on Dec. 1 to become the youngest player in franchise history to score 20 or more points
- On Dec. 9, Knox joined LeBron James as just the second player in NBA history with at least 25 points and 15 rebounds as a teenager. He also became just the second Knicks rookie over the last 35 years with 25 points and 15 rebounds in a game
- Davis tallied his 15th career 40-point, 15-rebound effort on Dec. 10. Only Shaquille O'Neal (19) has more over the last 35 years in the NBA
- On Dec. 16, John Wall became the second player in Washington's history to have multiple career games with 40 or more points and 10 or more assists
- On Jan. 3, Knox was named the Eastern Conference Rookie of the Month for his play during the month of December. He led the conference's rookies in scoring (17.1 ppg) 3-pointers (33), was second in rebounding (6.0 rpg) and led all rookies in minutes (34.9 mpg). He's the sixth different former UK player to win a Rookie of the Month honor
- Murray scored 34 of his 36 points in the second half on Jan. 3 in a win over the Kings. It was the most points scored in a half by a Nuggets player since Carmelo Anthony had 36 in the second half vs. Minnesota on Dec. 10, 2008
- On Jan. 8, Noel charted his 20th consecutive game with at least one block, marking the longest such streak in the NBA this season
- Towns posted monster numbers on Jan. 12 vs. the Pelicans, recording 27 points, a career-high 27 rebounds and four blocks. According to the Timberwolves, he's one of just five players in NBA history to post those numbers or better
- Davis recorded his 10th 45-point, 15-rebound game on Jan. 14. He's the only player since at least 1983 to have 10 or more, according to Basketball Reference
- Knox became the sixth-youngest player in NBA history to score 30 or more points in a game on Jan. 14. Booker is among those top six
- DeMarcus Cousins made his much-anticipated return from an achilles tear a year earlier with 14 points, six rebounds and three assists in 15 minutes on Jan. 18
- With 27 points against the Blazers on Jan. 24, Booker became the fifth-youngest player to register 5,000 career points. Only LeBron James, Kevin Durant, Carmelo Anthony and Dwight Howard did it faster
- Towns missed two games on Feb. 22 and 23 after suffering a concussion in a car crash. He had started the first 303 career games of his career, the most consecutive games starting with his team's first game of his rookie season since the NBA began keeping track of starters in 1970-71
- On March 2, Eric Bledsoe agreed to a four-year, 70-million dollar contract extension with the Milwaukee Bucks
- Over a five-game span, Towns scored 182 points from Feb. 25 to March 5. It's the most points scored over a five-game stretch in Wolves' team history. He moved into fifth place on Minnesota's all-time scoring list in the span
- On March 8, Booker became the youngest player in league history to make 500 3-pointers, according to the Suns
- Randle scored a career-high 45 points to go along with 11 rebounds, six assists and three blocks vs. Portland on March 15
- Towns became the fifth-youngest player in league history to score 7,000 career points on March 21
- Booker, who scored 70 points in a game two seasons ago, netted 59 on March 25 to become the fourth-youngest player with multiple 50-point games before his 23rd birthday
- On March 27, Booker became the youngest player in NBA history to score 50 or more points in consecutive games when he netted 50 against Washington

All Eyes on Kentucky

Kentucky was featured on ESPN College GameDay twice this season, when Kansas came to town Jan. 26 and Feb. 16 vs. Tennessee. It marked just the second time in College GameDay history that the popular ESPN preview show originated at a school twice in a single season (North Carolina in 2017).

When GameDay visited Memorial Coliseum for the Feb. 16 visit, UK tied North Carolina and Duke for the most GameDay appearances with 18.

Cousins Inducted into UK Athletics Hall of Fame

DeMarcus Cousins will be inducted into the UK Athletics Hall of Fame as a member of the 2019 class in September.

Cousins was one of the key players on the 2009-10 Kentucky team that went to the Elite Eight in John Calipari's first season at UK. Cousins was named an NCAA Consensus Second Team All-American, including first-team recognition from the Associated Press, the 2010 Southeastern Conference Freshman of the Year by the league's coaches, and an All-SEC First Team (AP and coaches) selection.

NOTES

While at UK, Cousins led the Wildcats to a No. 1 national ranking, an SEC regular-season championship and an SEC Tournament championship. He averaged 15.1 points and 9.9 rebounds and concluded freshman season with eighth-most rebounds in a single season in UK history with 375.

Following his one season in Lexington, Cousins was selected by the Sacramento Kings with the fifth overall pick in the 2010 NBA Draft. He's since gone on to a highly successful NBA career. He's a four-time NBA All-Star, was named to All-NBA Second Team in 2015 and 2016, and averaged double figures in all of his nine seasons in the league, including 20-plus points in five of them.

Success Rate

The Wildcats received an NCAA award in the spring of 2019 for placing in the top 10 percent of all men's basketball teams in the country in the NCAA's annual Academic Progress Rate. UK scored a perfect 1,000. It's the fifth straight year the men's basketball team received the award and the sixth time since 2009.

The APR provides a real-time look at a team's academic success by the progress of each student-athlete on scholarship. The APR measures academic eligibility, retention and graduation. The scores are a four-year composite, covering the 2014-15 through 2017-18 school years.

Every Division I sports team across the nation calculates its APR each academic year, similar to a report card. Scholarship student-athletes each semester earn one point for remaining eligible and one point for staying in school or graduating.

UK has received a perfect 1,000 mark in each of the last six single-year APR rates.

The NCAA cut score to compete in the 2019-20 postseason is a 930 four-year APR. Teams scoring below 930 can face consequences intended to direct additional focus on academics. Those penalties can include practice restrictions and playing-season reductions.

UK to Remain in Champions Classic through '22

The State Farm Champions Classic, perhaps the signature annual event of the college basketball regular season, will continue through 2022 with Kentucky a part of it.

The Champions Classic, a neutral-site doubleheader featuring UK, Duke, Kansas and Michigan State, has added three more years to the current series, which was played in Indianapolis this season and New York next year. The additional three years will bring the event back to Chicago in 2020, New York in 2021 and Indianapolis in 2022.

UK, which played Duke this season at Bankers Life Fieldhouse in Indianapolis to tip off the season, will get Michigan State in 2019, Kansas in 2020, Duke in 2021 and Michigan State in 2022.

The event has been one of the most-watched collegiate events since its inception in 2011 with millions of fans tuning in every year. The series, which pits four programs that have a combined 18 national championships, 56 Final Four appearances and four Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame coaches, has been tightly bunched. Duke leads the pack with a 5-3 record, UK and Kansas are tied at 4-4, and Michigan State trails with a 3-5 mark.

Kentucky is also still a part of the CBS Sports Classic, which is currently under contract through 2019. UK will play North Carolina on Dec. 22 in Chicago as a part of that series and Ohio State on Dec. 21, 2019, in Las Vegas.

Cats Rock at Rupp

The Wildcats are 594-69 (.896) in Rupp Arena. Among the most notable marks of dominance as the nation's toughest venue to play include:

- A school record 54-game winning streak to begin the John Calipari era
- The Wildcats are 321-41 (.887) in regular-season SEC games in the building
- Kentucky set a new program home record of 19 wins in 2014-15
- The Wildcats have gone undefeated at home in five of John Calipari's 10 seasons
- Overall, UK has posted a perfect mark in 13 of Rupp Arena's 42 seasons

Cal Owns Longest Win Streaks in Rupp

With UK's 2011-12 season-opening victory over Marist, UK head coach John Calipari recorded his 34th consecutive win in Rupp Arena as UK's head coach. It broke former UK head coach Rick Pitino's longest streak of 33 games in the venue.

The winning streak reached as long as 54 games. Calipari didn't suffer his first loss in Rupp Arena until losing to Baylor in his fourth season. The 54-game run, however, was his longest career winning streak. He also had the second-longest streak in the arena as the Cats won 42 straight from March 4, 2014 to Nov. 25, 2016.

Pack the House

Kentucky has led the nation in average home attendance in 20 of the last 24 seasons. That number includes a Rupp Arena record of 24,110 in John Calipari's first season (2009-10) as head coach.

- Kentucky averaged 21,695 fans during the 2018-19 season
- UK has averaged 23,000 or more fans in seven of Calipari's 10 complete seasons
- The Wildcats led the nation in average attendance in 2017-18

The Top-Ranked Team at Home

Kentucky has lost just three times at home as the Associated Press top-ranked team in the history of the program and just twice in Rupp Arena. Prior to the loss to UCLA by three on Dec. 3, 2016, the other two losses came by just one point.

The Wildcats are 54-2 all-time as the AP No. 1 team in Rupp Arena since its opening in 1976. The first loss was to Auburn, 53-52, on Jan. 9, 1988.

Coch Cal in Rupp Arena

It's been downright difficult to beat the Wildcats in Rupp Arena during the John Calipari era. UK is 167-9 (.949) in Rupp Arena under Calipari.

- UK is 20-5 (.800) vs. ranked opponents in Rupp in the Calipari era
- The Wildcats are 147-4 (.974) vs. unranked teams in Rupp under Cal
- UK is 86-3 (.966) at home vs. nonconference foes under Calipari
- Calipari notched his 100th career win in Rupp Arena as UK's coach with the Wildcats' 110-75 rout of Auburn on Feb. 21, 2014. It took Calipari just 104 games to reach the century mark at home, the fastest of any UK coach

Cal Passes Hall for Rupp Record

With a 101-70 victory over Cleveland State on Nov. 23, 2016, John Calipari passed former UK head coach Joe B. Hall for wins in Rupp Arena history.

Calipari currently has 167 victories inside the historic venue. Hall won 122.

Calipari in the NCAA Tournament

John Calipari coached in his 20th NCAA Tournament in 2019 and owns a 31-8 record (.795) in tournament games at Kentucky. He owns more NCAA Tournament wins as UK's head coach than any other coach in program history. Adolph Rupp had 30 during his tenure. He is 56-19 (.747) all-time as a head coach in NCAA Tournament games.

Calipari-coached teams appeared in four of five Final Fours from 2011 to 2015, the first time that happened since Duke went to five straight Final Fours (1988, 89, 90, 91, 92). Calipari leads the country with five Final Four appearances since 2008. He has advanced teams to six Final Fours in his on-court career, which is tied for the sixth most by a coach all-time. Only three coaches all-time have appeared in four of five Final Fours (Calipari, Mike Krzyzewski and John Wooden).

UK made its seventh Elite Eight appearance in 10 seasons under Calipari in 2018-19. No other team in the country has more appearances in the Elite Eight during that time span. UK is 4-3 in the Elite Eight under Calipari. Calipari has advanced to the Elite Eight in 12 of his 20 NCAA Tournament appearances. He is 6-6 in Elite Eight games in his career.

Of Calipari's 18 eliminations in the NCAA Tournament, he has only lost twice to double-digit seeds. He's never lost to a team seeded lower than 10th.

According to STATS, Calipari had won 37 straight NCAA Tournament games when leading at halftime prior to the loss to Auburn, tied with John Wooden for the most ever by a coach.

Moving Up the Kentucky Career Wins List

With an 80-53 victory vs. Auburn on Feb. 23, 2019, John Calipari moved past Joe B. Hall for the second-most wins in program history. Calipari trails only the legendary Adolph Rupp (876 wins) for the most wins at Kentucky and earned win No. 300 at Ole Miss on March 5.

When Calipari tied Hall with his 297th win at Missouri on Feb. 19, 2019, the did so 32 games faster than Hall and just two games slower than Rupp.

Although he's still climbing the charts, he's doing it nearly as fast as anyone else in school history. With the win over Ole Miss, Calipari became the fourth-fastest coach to 300 wins at one program in NCAA history. Only Bill Self (358 games at Kansas), Claire Bee (359 games at Long Island) and Rupp (366 at UK) got there faster.

Calipari passed Tubby Smith on Dec. 1, 2019, for the third-most coached games at UK. Smith's 10-year career with the Wildcats ended with his 346th game. Calipari and UK's win over UNC Greensboro on Dec. 1 marked the 347th career game he's been at the helm.

Rupp is obviously first in games coached with a 42-year tenure spanning 1,066 career games.

First-Ballot Hall of Famer

Kentucky men's basketball coach John Calipari joined basketball's fraternity of legends in September 2015 after being elected to the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame on the first ballot.

Calipari joined an elite group of basketball players and coaches in the Naismith Hall of Fame, considered to be one of the ultimate honors in the sport. The Class of 2015 included Calipari, Dick Bevetta, Wildcat Louie Dampier, Lindsay Gaze, Tom Heinsohn, John Isaacs, Spencer Haywood, Lisa Leslie, Dikembe Mutombo, George Raveling and Jojo White.

A Decorated Decade

Through 10 years at Kentucky, John Calipari's time in Lexington has been every bit as successful -- and more -- as fans could have hoped when he agreed to become the head coach at UK back in the spring of 2009.

By just about every measure, he's been the most successful coach in college basketball during the last decade. Among schools who have been to at least two Elite Eights and a Final Four since 2009-10, Calipari ranks:

- First in wins (305)
- First in NCAA Tournament wins (31)
- Fourth in NCAA titles (one)
- First in Final Four appearances (four)
- First in Elite Eight appearances (seven)
- First in Sweet 16 appearances (eight)
- Third in regular-season conference titles (five)
- Second in league tournament titles (six)

700 Victories and Counting

With Kentucky's win over UIC on Nov. 26, 2017, John Calipari reached 700 on-court wins. At the time he was one of just 41 coaches, regardless of NCAA level of classification, to reach that barrier. Only 29 coaches have done it with at least 10 seasons at the Division I level.

Calipari became the fourth-fastest coach to 700 on-court wins ever. Only Adolph Rupp (836 games), Jerry Tarkanian (876 games) and Roy Williams (879 games) did it faster.

Calipari is currently the only coach in NCAA history with at least 189 victories at three different schools.

Calipari Unrivaled in Conference

John Calipari has won 15 league regular-season championships (including five Southeastern Conference titles) seven more than the next-closest coach in the SEC (Bruce Pearl has eight). Calipari has won six SEC Tournament championships in 10 seasons at Kentucky and owns 15 conference tournament titles in his career, 11 more than his closest competitors (Ben Howland and Kermit Davis).

He's tallied a 344-104 (.768) all-time record within conference play as a head coach and owns a 136-38 (.782) record since joining the SEC. His 136 total wins are the second most among Division I coaches since 1996-97 over their first 10 seasons with a program, while his winning percentage ranks third. Only Adolph Rupp (.833) had a better winning percentage through his first 10 seasons in league play in Kentucky's history.

Although he's been publicly outspoken against conference tournaments -- only because he doesn't favor playing three or more games on consecutive days to win the tournament -- his teams have gotten up for them. Calipari's teams at UMass, Memphis and Kentucky have been to 19 conference championship games in his 27-year career, winning a remarkable 15 of them. Calipari is 57-12 (.826) all-time in conference tournaments, including 23-4 (.852) at UK.

Calipari in Elite Company with Conference Championships

Kentucky men's basketball coach John Calipari added another first to his Hall of Fame career in 2017.

When Kentucky clinched at least a share of the 2017 Southeastern Conference championship by beating Vanderbilt on Feb. 28, 2017, he made history as a head coach. Calipari became the first NCAA Division I coach to lead three different programs (UMass, Memphis, Kentucky) to five on-court regular-season league titles five different times. He won the Atlantic 10 at the helm of UMass in 1992, 93, 94, 95 and 96. Memphis claimed the Conference USA crown in 2004, 06, 07, 08 and 09. Kentucky has captured the SEC five times in 2010, 12, 15, 16 and 17.

Perhaps more impressive is that Calipari has 30 combined regular-season and tournament championships after the 2018 SEC Tournament title. That trails only Mark Few of Gonzaga (33 titles with the West Coast Conference regular-season title in 2019) among all active coaches. All-time, Calipari trails only the great Adolph Rupp (41) and Few.

ON PACE WITH THE BARON OF THE BLUEGRASS

- Legendary coach Adolph Rupp won 876 career games while he was the coach of UK. He also led Kentucky to five NCAA titles during his 41-year tenure.
- John Calipari is just behind pace with Rupp to begin his career at UK in total victories. Calipari (.811) is slightly behind Rupp (.822) in total UK career winning percentage.

30 is the new 20

With a 71-67 win over Mississippi State on Feb. 9, 2019, John Calipari achieved another feat in his decorated coaching career. With his 20th victory in 2019, he secured his 25th consecutive on-court 20-win season. He leads all active coaches with that streak, ahead of Mike Krzyzewski (23) and Bill Self (21).

With a Sweet 16 win over Houston in the 2019 NCAA Tournament, Calipari and the Cats clinched a 30-win season for the fifth time as UK's head coach. Calipari has 11 seasons with 30 or more on-court wins. Only Krzyzewski (15) and Roy Williams (12) have more 30-win seasons as an active head coach. Calipari is the first coach in NCAA Division I history to record five straight on-court 30-win seasons, notching 30 wins in consecutive seasons from 2005-06 to 2009-10.

There's No Place Like Home

Since his 1991-92 season at UMass, John Calipari-coached teams have posted a 377-31 (.924) record at home. At UK, Coach Cal is 167-9 (.949) in Rupp Arena.

In five of Calipari's 10 seasons at Kentucky, the Wildcats have posted an undefeated record at home, including a school-record 19-0 mark during the 2014-15 season.

Calipari owns both of UK's longest winning streaks in the arena. He began his career at UK with a 54-game winning streak at Rupp Arena. It was the longest winning streak since the arena opened in 1976. With a win over Georgia on Feb. 9, 2016, he secured the second-longest streak in the storied building at 34 games (which ended at 42).

Coach	Streak (Yrs)
1. John Calipari	54 (2010-13)
2. John Calipari	42 (2014-17)

4. Joe B. Hall	30 (1981-82)
5. Rick Pitino	27 (1995-97)

Life Away From Home Isn't So Bad Either

As good as John Calipari's team's have been at home, they're pretty good in hostile environments on the road. Dating back to the 2005-06 season, Calipari has recorded a 100-45 (.690) record on the road. At neutral-site venues, Kentucky is 77-21 (.786) all-time under Calipari.

Calipari at No. 1

John Calipari is one of just two coaches (Frank McGuire) to lead three programs to a No. 1 ranking. Calipari has led six of his 10 UK teams to the ranking and seven of his last 12 teams to the No. 1 ranking (he's done it nine times overall).

When Coach Cal's teams have been at the top, they've been difficult to knock off:

- Calipari is 110-12 (.902) as the top-ranked Associated Press Top 25 coach in the country
- He's 69-7 (.908) when his team is at the top of the AP Top 25 as UK's head coach
- Calipari tallied a 32-4 mark at UMass at No. 1 and he was 9-1 at Memphis when he had the Tigers at the pinnacle of the rankings
- He (110) trails only Duke's Mike Krzyzewski (216) in active coaches with victories at No. 1
- Calipari has coached 122 career games as a No. 1 team, the fourth most in NCAA history, trailing Krzyzewski (250), John Wooden (228) and Adolph Rupp (131)
- Among coaches who have owned a No. 1 ranking in at least 119 games, Calipari's winning percentage of .902 trails only Wooden (.952) and is ahead of active coach Krzyzewski (.865) entering NCAA Tournament regional play
- Calipari is 5-4 vs. the top-ranked team in the land, including 2-2 at Kentucky

COACH CALIPARI

The Success Rate

John Calipari has graduated 100 percent of the players (18 of 18) who have been eligible to receive their diploma by the end of their senior years and exhausted their athletic eligibility. Of that group, Patrick Patterson, Jarrod Polson and Alex Poythress completed their degrees in three years. Jonny David and Brad Calipari are on track to graduate in May of 2019.

In the NCAA's Academic Progress Rate, which measures eligibility, retention and graduation, UK has posted a single-year Academic Progress Rate of 977 or higher in every season under Calipari, including a perfect 1,000 in the last five single-year reports. Kentucky's four-year composite score in the most recent report, which was released in May of 2018, was a 1,000, earning the team an NCAA academic award for the fourth year in a row for finishing in the top 10 percent of Division I men's basketball programs.

Under Calipari, the Wildcats routinely post a 3.0 grade-point average or better.

Dream Maker

As someone who prides himself on helping young men reach their dreams, Coach Cal has helped 46 players earn selection in the NBA Draft during his college coaching career, including 35 over his first nine seasons at Kentucky, which is more than any other coach.

- Four No. 1 overall selections (Derrick Rose, John Wall, Anthony Davis and Karl-Anthony Towns) during the nine drafts from 2008 to 2016. No other coach has more than two No. 1 picks
- In 2010, five of his UK players were selected in the first round for the first time in NBA history
- His six players in the 2012 and 2015 NBA drafts are the most in the two-round era
- Churned out 35 NBA Draft picks, 26 first-rounders, three No. 1 overall selections, seven top-five picks and 19 lottery picks at Kentucky
- Of the 55 players who have finished their college careers at Kentucky under Calipari, 35 have been selected in the NBA Draft (prior to the end of 2018-19), a 63.6-percent success rate. Another five of those made the NBA, and the majority of the rest were walk-ons
- Of the 25 players at UK who have declared for the NBA Draft after their freshman seasons, 23 have been first-round picks. All 25 have played a game in the NBA. He is 27 for 29 in that regard when including his players from Memphis
- Dating back to the 2008 draft, 40 players under Coach Cal have been taken in the NBA Draft, including 28 first-rounders
- Only coach to produce the top two picks in the same draft (2012 - Anthony Davis and Michael Kidd-Gilchrist)
- Produced a top-10 pick in 11 straight drafts since 2008, the only school to do so during that time period

Developing Talent

John Calipari hasn't just signed the best talent in the country while he's been at Kentucky; he's been the best at developing that talent and getting it ready for the next level.

Of the 32 top-25 Rivals.com players Kentucky has signed and have completed their college eligibility at UK (and prior to the 2019 NBA Draft), 28 were drafted and 22 were selected in the first round. But that's only half the story. Calipari's players don't just make it to the pros; they're better prepared than anyone else. The proof is in the numbers.

Over the course of his career, Calipari's nearly 50 NBA pros have nearly $1.9 billion in NBA contracts alone, which doesn't include endorsement deals and overseas contracts. Of his UK players in the NBA, they've earned nearly $1.5 billion in guaranteed contracts.

Double-Digit Win Streaks

Kentucky's 10-game winning streak this season -- its longest since winning 14 consecutive games near the end of the 2016-17 season -- was not abnormal for John Calipari-coached teams. Calipari's teams have posted 19 streaks of 10 or more wins at Kentucky, Memphis and UMass, including seven at UK.

They've won have won 15 or more straight games nine times, 20 or more six times, 25 or more five times, and 30 or more one time. Of course, the most famous streak was the 38-0 start during the 2014-15 season.

COACH CALIPARI

A “players-first” coach with a penchant for helping people reach their dreams, John Calipari, a Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Famer, has guided six teams to the Final Four, led one to a national championship and helped 46 players get selected in the NBA Draft during his 27-year college coaching career.

Calipari guided Kentucky to its eighth national championship and his first national title in 2012. In becoming only the second coach in NCAA history to lead three different schools to the Final Four, he has racked up more than 700 on-court victories, 20 NCAA Tournament appearances, six Final Fours and numerous national coach of the year honors.

In 2015, Coach Cal led college basketball’s first ever 38-0 team, and became one of just three coaches to make four Final Fours in a five-year span. At the end of the season, Calipari became the 96th coach to join the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

While building a program out of obscurity at Massachusetts, laying the foundation at Memphis and restoring luster at the sport’s greatest program at Kentucky, he has totaled the second-most wins in NCAA history in the first 20 years of a college coaching career.

Quite honestly, though, Calipari’s on-court success overshadows a much more significant picture.

In his goal to lead a players-first program, he has helped 46 players realize their dreams and guided them to NBA Draft selections, including a record five first-round draft picks in 2010. Two years later, six Wildcats heard their names called at the 2012 draft, the most in the two-round draft era. UK, with Calipari’s help, would tie those six picks again in 2015, including a record-tying four lottery selections. His four No. 1 overall picks are twice as many as any other coach, and he’s had 35 players drafted during his first nine years at Kentucky, including 26 first-round picks.

Calipari’s players have entered the league NBA-ready. His players have garnered 18 All-Star selections, with Anthony Davis winning the game’s MVP honor in 2017. Rose was named MVP in 2011, five players have been tabbed All-NBA, three have been named NBA Rookie of the Year, and 11 players from Calipari’s first nine teams at Kentucky have made the NBA All-Rookie teams.

Much like he did at UMass, where his players graduated at nearly 80 percent, Calipari has stressed academics. Fifteen of his last 18 seniors at Memphis earned their bachelor’s degrees, and all 17 players at UK who were eligible to graduate by the end of their senior years walked away with a diploma in hand, including three players who earned their degree in just three years. Two other Wildcats, Jonny David and Brad Calipari, are set to graduate in May of 2019. Calipari’s teams routinely have posted a combined team grade-point averages of 3.0 or better.

His foundation, The Calipari Foundation, has raised millions of dollars to help the lives of those in need in the Commonwealth and across the country. In 2010, he used a telethon to raise more than $1 million for victims of the devastating earthquake in Haiti. He organized another one in 2012 for victims of Superstorm Sandy and another one in 2017 for victims of Hurricane Harvey.

In 2013, Calipari developed the idea of hosting an annual alumni weekend around his basketball fantasy experience with the intent to raise money for charity. After generating $350,000 for selected organizations and charities during the inaugural game, the weekend (the game and the fantasy experience) has generated more than $1 million for charity every year since, including in 2014 without the funds from an alumni game and 2016 with a celebrity softball game in place of the traditional basketball game.

In 2017, Coach Cal was named the head coach of the 2017 USA Basketball Men’s U19 World Cup Team, which finished third at the 2017 FIBA U19 World Cup in Cairo.

Author of five books, including the New York Times Best Seller “Players First: Coaching from the Inside Out,” Calipari is a master of communication and maximizing talent. He lives by the motto that “it’s never a matter of how far you have fallen, but instead it’s about how high you bounce back.”
