CARDS SET FOR SHOWDOWN WITH NATIONALLY RANKED KENTUCKY

Winners in four of their first five games to start the season, Lamar University travels to Lexington, Ky., with a 4-1 (.800) record. The Cardinals are coming off consecutive wins over Mount St. Mary's and Utah Valley, and will step on the court at historic Rupp Arena looking for their first three-game win streak of the season. For LU to get its third straight win, the Cardinals will have to do it against their first nationally ranked opponent of the season – Kentucky. The premier program in men's basketball, the Wildcats enter the week with a 3-1 (.750) overall record and a No. 9 national ranking. The Wildcats have already recorded a win over then-No. 1 Michigan State to open the season and are coming off an eight-point victory over Utah Valley less than a week ago. Kentucky will host Mount St. Mary's Friday before facing the Cardinals. The game against the Wildcats will tip off at 6 p.m. (5 p.m. Beaumont time) from Rupp Arena. The game will be televised on the SEC Network.

LU VS. THE WILDCATS

The Cardinals are 0-3 all-time against Kentucky, with the last meeting coming during the 2011-12 season. All three previous meetings have been played in Rupp Arena with the first meeting coming during the 1986-87 season.

DEFENDING THE NEST

LU has made the Montagne Center one of the toughest venues for opponents to play over the course of its 30-plus year history. The Cards are 342-163 (.677) all-time in the Montagne Center. LU recorded a program-best 15 home wins in the 1987-88 season and is 3-0 at home this season.

LU IN NOVEMBER

The Cardinals have played above .500 basketball in the season's opening month throughout program history. LU is 89-81 (.524) all-time in the month of November – including a 60-14 (.811) mark at home.

ON THIS DATE IN HISTORY

The Cardinals have struggled to a 3-7 (.300) mark on the 24th day of November.

QUICK START

Big Red's 4-1 (.800) start to the 2019-20 season equals the start LU posted in 2017-18. That season, the Cardinals open the year with an 8-1 (.889) overall record.

LIVING UP TO THE HYPE

Senior T.J. Atwood was named preseason All-Southland Conference prior to the start of the season and early on the Beaumont native is living up to the preseason hype. Atwood opened the season with 18 points on 8-of-11 (.727) shooting and followed that up with a career-high 25-point outing against Arlington Baptist. Atwood currently leads the team, and is ranked fourth in the Southland, averaging 18.0 points per game. He is also currently third in the Southland in field goal percentage (.591).

DOUBLE-DOUBLE

Junior Avery Sullivan recorded his second career double-double Thursday in the victory at Utah Valley. Sullivan led the Cardinals with 17 points and 14 rebounds. He also blocked three shots and dished out two assists while shooting 64 percent from the field and converting 75 percent of his free throws. His 17 points tied a career high and the 14 rebounds set a new career high for the Pflugerville native. Sullivan's double-double marks the second time this season that the youthful Cardinals have recorded the feat.

DEFENSE DOESN'T REST

The Cardinals enter the week as one of the Southland Conference's top defensive teams through the first five games of the year. LU currently leads the Southland in scoring defense (59.2), field-goal percent defense (.360), rebounds (40.6), steals (12.20) and is second in the SLC in turnover margin (6.80).

THE CARDINAL RULE

LU has been one of the Southland's more dominant teams. The Cards have won 53 percent of their SLC games and has the most NCAA tournament appearances of any current league school (6), and their five NIT berths are also tops in the league. LU has had 80 players earn All-Southland honors, including 32 first-team selections. Six players have been named SLC Newcomer of the Year, four MVP picks and a freshman of the year selection. Five former Cardinals have also been named SLC tournament MVP.

LAMAR UNIVERSITY BASKETBALL GAME NOTES

TIC PRICE

Head Coach

256-203 (.558)/15th Season

89-81 (.524)/Sixth Season at LU

Tic Price was named the head coach of the Lamar University men's basketball team on March 18, 2014, just 10 days after the 2013-14 season concluded. Prior to that, he served as interim head coach for the team's final five games. Since being named head coach, Price has systematically transformed the culture of the Cardinals' basketball program.

An NCAA Division I coach with 37 years' experience, including three as an assistant at LU, Price became the 11th head coach of a Cardinals' program that had won only six games in the previous two seasons combined prior to his arrival. Among his 37 seasons, Price has won more than 200 games and helped coach 13 different squads to the NCAA Championships, NIT or Collegen Insider.com tournament as either an assistant or head coach.

Even more impressive than the teams Price has led to the postseason (which includes two LU squads) is the transformation LU has undergone since his hiring. In addition to just six wins in two seasons prior to his arrival, Price took over a program that was not eligible for the Southland Conference tournament due to APR during his first season. Just five years later, the Cardinals have recorded three consecutive 19-win seasons, advanced to two Collegen Insider.com Tournaments, produced two all-district selections, three first-team All-Southland Conference selections and entering the year Price has graduated all his of players who have reached senior status. In addition to those numbers, over the previous three seasons the Cardinals have made a name for themselves by recording big wins on the road. During the 2016-17 season, the Cardinals traveled to Corvallis, Ore, and defeated Oregon State. The following season LU added road wins over Tulsa, Coastal Carolina and UTEP. This past season, the Cardinals traveled to Houston and defeated Rice.

Price was originally hired on an interim basis to get LU through the final five games of the 2013-14 season. Less than two weeks after the end of that year, Price was tasked with the responsibility of rebuilding a once great program.

Price's impact on LU was immediate. After just six wins in two years, LU more than doubled its overall and conference win total from the previous two seasons by posting a 15-15 (.500) overall mark and going 9-9 (.500) in SLC play (2014-15). The .500 mark was recognized as the 11th-best single-season turnaround in the country.

Price's players have also reaped the benefits of his guidance. Eight players have been named to the All-Southland teams, including three first-team selections. He has also coached one SLC Newcomer of the Year, Tyran de Lattibeaudiere (2015).

Price's leadership was never more evident than in the 2018-19 season. The Cardinals graduated six seniors from the year before, and start the year with eight new players. After a 1-4 start to league play that saw LU at the bottom of the conference standings, the Cardinals rebounded to win nine-straight games – and 11 of 12 – heading into the second round of the Southland Conference tournament. The Cardinals late season charge ended with LU tied for third in the SLC standings – the program's highest finish since their 2011-12 season.

The Cardinals won nine of their last 10 games to record 20 wins for the first time since 2012. It also marked the first time since the 1982-83 through 1984-85 seasons that LU has won at least 19 games in three-straight years.

Despite having completed just his fifth season, Price is already the fourth all-time winningest coach in program history behind only Jack Martin, Pat Foster and Billy Tubbs.

Price's head coaching career began in 1994 at New Orleans and includes stints at Memphis and McNeese. During his time at UNO, the Privateers won 20 games each season, and advanced to the 1996 NCAA Championships and the 1997 NIT.

Following his time in New Orleans, Price was hired as the head coach at Memphis where he spent two seasons. Price posted a 30-27 (.526) record at Memphis, leading the team to the second round of the 1998 NIT.

Price has a full understanding of the Southland, after spending six seasons, including five as head coach, at McNeese. He was named associate head coach prior to the 2000-01 season where he helped the Cowboys produce the nation's largest turnaround going 22-9 (.710), winning a conference title and advancing to the NIT. The following season, Price was named head coach where he led the Cowboys to a 20-win season, an SLC regular-season title and a berth in the 2002 NCAA Championships. The Cowboys won 74 games during Price's five seasons in Lake Charles.

During his time as head coach, Price has won 10 different coaching honors including Southland Conference Coach of the Year, Sun Belt Conference Coach of the Year, Louisiana Sports Writers Association Collegiate Coach of the Year and NABC District 8 Coach of the Year. Additionally, he has mentored more than a dozen players who went on to successful professional careers with both the NBA and USA Basketball, including Chauncey Billups, Earl Boykin, Bimbo Coles, Austin Croshere, Andre Miller, Brad Miller, Brevin Knight, Wesley Person and Paul Pierce.

Price's coaching career began in 1980 as an assistant at Roanoke College. Following his four seasons at Roanoke, Price took an assistant position at Tennessee-Chattanooga before taking a similar position at Virginia Tech. Price has also made coaching stops at Old Dominion and Auburn.

A native of Danville, Va., Price played collegiately at Virginia Commonwealth and Virginia Tech. He received his bachelor's degree in education from Virginia Tech in 1979. He is married to the former Jamie Lynn Simms, and the couple has two children - son, Ryan, who played for his father at McNeese and daughter, Chanel, and a granddaughter.
