The Core Four

Kentucky's annual "graduation day" -- the NBA Draft -- once again resulted in big roster losses for the Wildcats, but Kentucky will return a solid core of four players who played important parts during UK's 2018-19 successful season.

Junior Nick Richards and sophomores Ashton Hagans, Immanuel Quickley and EJ Montgomery elected to return to UK for the 2019-20 season, providing UK head coach John Calipari with valuable experience to go alongside another talented recruiting class.

The Wildcats will return 36.8 percent of their minutes and 27.2 percent of their points from last season with the quartet of Hagans, Quickley, Montgomery and Richards. Combined, the four made 50 starts last season.

Hagans headlines the returners after sharing Southeastern Conference Defensive Player of the Year honors last season. The CollegeInsider.com Kyle Macy Freshman All-America Team and CollegeInsider.com Lefty Drisell Defensive All-America Team selection totaled 61 steals in 2018-19, tied for the third most by a UK freshman in program history. He also averaged 7.7 points and 4.3 assists per game.

Quickley showed as much improvement last season as any player on the roster and evolved into a consistent shot-maker by conference play. He made 30 3-pointers and shot 82.8 percent from the free-throw line.

Montgomery displayed his versatility and ability in 37 appearances and 10 starts. His best game was an 11-point, 13-rebound effort vs. South Carolina.

Richards has appeared in 74 games with 40 starts over the last two seasons. He's blocked 80 shots -- including a team-best 47 in 2018-19 -- over that time with 286 rebounds.

UK will also welcome back guard/forward Zan Payne, who redshirted last season as he recovered from a knee injury.

As for the young talent ...

Another Highly-Ranked Signing Class for Cal, Kentucky

If it's not an annual certainty at this point, it's at least become a yearly expectation for John Calipari to reel in a top-ranked recruiting class every season. He's only done it in every year at Kentucky.

This year's group is no exception.

The six-man class includes guards Tyrese Maxey, Johnny Juzang and Dontae Allen and forwards Keion Brooks Jr., Kahlil Whitney and walk-on Brennan Canada.

Officially the class is ranked No. 2 in the country by the Recruiting Services Consensus Index -- making Calipari 11 for 11 when it comes to top-three ranked recruiting classes -- but even the No. 2 ranking might not do this class justice.

Talent aside -- and this one has plenty of it -- this collection of prospects could be one of Calipari's best because of its versatility. Calipari checked just about every box in putting this class together.

There are shooters. There are playmakers. There is athleticism and toughness. Yes, there is a nice mix of guards and forwards, but this class is once again made up of "position-less" players, giving the Wildcats a number of options to attack teams.

And it doesn't even officially include newcomer Nate Sestina, an All-Patriot League selection (more on him below).

Of the six incoming freshmen, all five scholarship players are consensus five- or four-star prospects, three played in the Jordan Brand Classic and two in the McDonald's All American Game (Juzang was not eligible as a late reclassification).

UK Adds Bucknell Graduate Transfer Nate Sestina

After a successful season with Stanford graduate transfer Reid Travis, who played a key role in Kentucky advancing to the Elite Eight, UK has added a graduate transfer for a second straight season.

Nate Sestina, a forward from Bucknell, will join the Wildcats for the 2019-20 season. Although he's a different player on the court than Travis, he's expected to bring a similar blend of talent and experience.

The All-Patriot Second Team selection transferred to UK to pursue a master's degree. Under NCAA graduate transfer rules, Sestina is immediately eligible to play for the Wildcats after graduating with his undergraduate degree in geography from Bucknell.

The 6-foot-9, 234-pound forward emerged last season as a versatile big man for Bucknell who can impact the game both inside the paint and on the perimeter. In his first season as a starter, Sestina averaged 15.8 points per game, a team-high 8.5 rebounds and 1.1 blocks.

Sestina shot 53.6 percent from the floor but did his damage from all over the floor. He made 41 3-pointers in his senior season at a 38.0 percent clip.

Sestina ranked sixth in the Patriot League in scoring and second in rebounding. He scored in double figures in 27 of 31 games this season and posted 11 double-doubles. He scored 20 or more points in 10 games last season, including his final two games that led to Patriot League All-Tournament Team honors.

He is the third graduate transfer under Calipari, joining Travis from last season and Julius Mays in 2012-13.

Other Roster Moves: Welch Added as Walk-On; Calipari, Baker Transfer

Kentucky has added transfer Riley Welch as a walk-on. Welch, a 6-foot guard from Colorado, has enrolled at Kentucky and will be a junior for the 2019-20 season. He will be immediately eligible.

Welch suited up for UC Irvine in 2017-18 and played last season at College of the Desert in Palm Desert, California. He saw action in 27 games as a true freshman at UC Irvine and scored 14 points. Last season, at College of the Desert, Welch appeared in 27 games. He averaged 8.2 points for the Roadrunners in addition to 5.0 assists, 3.5 rebounds and 31 made shots from behind the arc.

Welch will help with depth after guards Brad Calipari and Jemarl Baker Jr. transferred over the summer.

Calipari, the son of head coach John Calipari, graduated in three seasons from UK and will be immediately eligible at Detroit Mercy as a graduate transfer.

Baker, who spent two seasons at UK, one as a redshirt, transferred to Arizona.

Calipari was a member of the team for three seasons. He appeared in 27 games in two seasons before redshirting in 2018-19.

Baker appeared in 28 games during his redshirt freshman season with 64 points, 15 rebounds, 12 assists and 13 3-pointers. Known more for his ability to spread the floor with his outside shot, he earned his way onto the court and became a key reserve because of his ability to defend.

The Menifee, California, product made a solid impact in 2018-19 after missing the 2017-18 season with a knee injury. He missed the first eight games of the season but made his debut vs. Seton Hall and appeared in every game but one from that point forward.

2019-20 Schedule Offers Challenges, Opportunities

Kentucky's scheduling philosophy under John Calipari has been the same every season: prepare his team for postseason play by both playing some of the nation's best while gradually building the confidence of his annually young teams.

The 2019-20 slate appears to be no different.

The nonconference schedule features the likes of the defending national runners-up, Texas Tech, the annual rivalry game with Louisville in Rupp Arena, a visit to Las Vegas to play Ohio State in the CBS Sports Classic and Utah, a home game with Georgia Tech, and a titanic season opener vs. Michigan State in the State Farm Champions Classic in New York.

Seven of UK's 13 nonconference opponents in the upcoming season made a postseason tournament in 2019, five of which made the NCAA Tournament.

Six teams finished the 2018-19 season with an NCAA Evaluation Tool ranking in the top 100 and four ended the season receiving votes in one of the two major polls. All told, Kentucky's current 2019-20 nonconference opponents combined for a record of 253-188 in 2018-19, a .574 winning percentage.

That nonconference schedule will give way to one of the toughest league schedules in the country. Although dates have not been finalized yet, UK will play its permanent home-and-away opponents of Florida, Tennessee and Vanderbilt twice, plus host and visit both Auburn and Georgia.

Kentucky's league home schedule will include the five aforementioned teams as well as Alabama, Mississippi State, Missouri and Ole Miss. UK's road matchups will come against Arkansas, LSU, South Carolina and Texas A&M, in addition to Auburn, Georgia and the three permanent home-and-home opponents.

The nonconference and league schedule combined reveals that 15 of the 26 opponents UK will face played in the postseason in 2018-19, including 11 in the NCAA Tournament, five in the Sweet 16 and three in the Final Four. Six teams are in ESPN.com's way-too-early top-25 rankings.

Calipari, Kentucky Agree to New Long-Term Contract

John Calipari, who owns more wins, more NCAA Tournament wins, more Final Four appearances, more Elite Eight berths and more Sweet 16 showings than any other coach since his arrival at UK, signed a new long-term contract with the school in June that will offer him the opportunity to end his career in Lexington.

The new deal, with total guaranteed compensation – which includes base salary and media/endorsement payments – is valued at $86 million over the lifetime of the contract. With a base salary of $400,000 per season from the university, Calipari will make $8 million in total compensation over the next two seasons with increases starting in 2021-22 ($8.5 million per year for four seasons) and 2025-26 ($9 million per year for four seasons).

The only incentive included in Calipari's new contract remains the performance of the men's basketball team in the Academic Progress Rate, a metric created by the NCAA to measure academic eligibility, retention and graduation. The bonus will remain unchanged at $50,000 from the previous contract for meeting the threshold of 975. The men's basketball team has earned an NCAA award in five straight seasons for finishing among the top 10% of Division I men's basketball schools.

Calipari's new contract will no longer include a retention bonus. Beginning with the sixth contract year of the agreed upon terms, Calipari has the option to step down as the head coach and become special assistant to the athletics director/university representative. He would receive $950,000 in annual compensation for the position.

Compensation for all head coaches is funded self-sufficiently and entirely by UK Athletics, with no additional funds coming from the university or any foundation.

Calipari is entering his 11th season at Kentucky. With a 305-71 record at UK, he trails only the Baron of the Bluegrass, Adolph Rupp, in total wins as the head coach of the Wildcats. His winning percentage of .811 at Kentucky is only fractions behind Rupp's pace through his first 376 games at UK, and he surpassed Rupp during the Wildcats' 2019 Elite Eight run for most NCAA Tournament victories (31) as Kentucky's head coach. When he reached the 300-win mark at UK last season, he became the fourth-fastest coach to 300 wins at one program in NCAA history.

The Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Famer (first ballot) had led Kentucky to a national championship and four Final Fours (2011, '12, '14 and '15) in a five-season span, just the third coach (John Wooden and Mike Krzyzewski) in the history of college basketball to accomplish such a feat.

Another Successful NBA Draft for UK

In what has been dubbed "graduation night" by head coach John Calipari, three more Kentucky men's basketball players had their names called and walked across the Barclays Center stage in the annual ceremony most fans know as the NBA Draft. PJ Washington (No. 12, Charlotte Hornets), Tyler Herro (No. 13, Miami Heat) and Keldon Johnson (No. 29, San Antonio Spurs) were the three players selected during the 2019 NBA Draft on Thursday.

In 10 seasons with Calipari at the helm, Kentucky has churned out three No. 1 selections, 29 first-rounders, 21 lottery picks and 38 total players in the NBA Draft. The 38 draft picks are 14 more than the next closest school (Duke). With another surge of first-round picks, Kentucky has more first-round selections (40) than any other school in the NBA lottery era (since 1985).

The Wildcats have had more top-10 picks, more lottery selections and more first-round picks in the Calipari era than any other team in the country. For the fifth time in 10 seasons under Calipari, UK has churned out at least three first-round selections. The Wildcats had five in the opening round in 2010 (John Wall, DeMarcus Cousins, Patrick Patterson, Eric Bledsoe, Daniel Orton), four in 2012 (Anthony Davis, Michael Kidd-Gilchrist, Terrence Jones, Marquis Teague) and in 2015 (Karl-Anthony Towns, Willie Cauley-Stein, Trey Lyles, Devin Booker) and three in 2017 (De'Aaron Fox, Malik Monk, Bam Adebayo) and in 2019 (Washington, Herro, Johnson).

It was the 10th consecutive NBA Draft that Kentucky was represented by multiple players in the first round of the draft. UK is the only program since the draft went to two rounds in 1989 to have multiple players selected in the first round in 10 straight years. Calipari is the only coach to have multiple players selected in 12 consecutive NBA Drafts, dating back to his time at Memphis. UK has had multiple lottery selections in seven of 10 drafts under Calipari and has featured a player in the lottery in all 10 drafts under Calipari, which no other school can claim.

The Wildcats' three total picks tied Duke, North Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia for the most selections in the 2019 NBA Draft.

Although graduate transfer Reid Travis went undrafted, he signed a deal to play with Medi Bayreuth in Germany.

Herro and Johnson were among the top-performing rookies in the NBA Summer League. Herro averaged 19.8 points and 4.5 rebounds per game while Johnson posted a 9.3 scoring average. Washington did not play for precautionary reasons.

Staton Named New Athletic Trainer

Geoffrey Staton, who has experience at the college, professional and international levels, was hired as the head athletic trainer for the Kentucky men's basketball team this summer.

Staton takes over for Chris Simmons, who served in the role since 2009-10 and returned to Memphis as the head athletic trainer.

As the head athletic trainer, Staton, in conjunction with Kentucky's medical staff, will manage the daily healthcare of the Kentucky men's basketball team and operation of the training room. This will include daily injury and illness management, evaluations, treatments, rehabilitation protocols, corrective exercises, recovery strategies, referrals, and post-operative care.

Staton will work closely with the coaches and UK men's basketball strength and conditioning coach Robert Harris to provide the best plan for players to maximize their health and athletic performance, in addition to coverage for all workouts, practices, shoot-arounds and games.

Staton is no stranger to Kentucky or Calipari. He received his master's degree in athletic training from UK in 2010. Staton also worked with Calipari as the head athletic trainer during the FIBA U19 World Cup in Cairo in the summer of 2017. Calipari was the head coach of that team that won the bronze medal.

Staton most recently worked with Devin Booker and the Phoenix Suns for a season as an assistant athletic trainer. He was charged with assisting with the day-to-day duties of the training room and injury/illness management of NBA roster and assigned G League players, sharing bench and locker room responsibilities for each home and away game, and assisting with post-practice and postgame treatment and recovery efforts.

Barnhart Named Chair of NCAA DI Men's Basketball Committee for 2020-21

One of the most influential leaders in college athletics, Mitch Barnhart will soon step into one of his most high-profile roles yet. The Kentucky athletics director has been named the chair of the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee for the 2020-21 season.

Barnhart – selected by Sports Business Journal as Athletic Director of the Year earlier this year – will serve as vice chair this season, working with committee chair Kevin White – who is the Vice President and Director of Athletics at Duke University. Barnhart will serve his fourth year in a five-year term this season on the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee, which is responsible for selecting, seeding and bracketing teams for the NCAA Tournament, along with administration of the NCAA's highest-profile event.

Barnhart is the third director of athletics from the University of Kentucky to serve as chair of the men's basketball committee, joining Bernie Shively and C.M. Newton.

Cousins Headed into UK Athletics Hall of Fame in Mid-September

DeMarcus Cousins (2010) will join John Calipari greets Anthony Davis and John Wall in the UK Athletics Hall of Fame, Sept. 13-14.

Cousins is one of six former UK stars in the 2019 Hall of Fame class.

The UK Athletics Hall of Fame was started in 2005 to recognize and honor persons whose participation and achievements enriched and strengthened the University's athletics program. The charter class included 88 individuals who had previously had their jersey retired by UK.

There is a five-year waiting period after leaving UK to be eligible for inclusion into the Hall of Fame. A committee consisting of Hall of Famers, media members, campus representatives and current coaches and administrators elects new inductees each year.

Cousins was key member of Calipari's first team at Kentucky. Alongside Wall, UK went 35-3, won the Southeastern Conference regular-season and tournament titles -- the Wildcats' first since 2005 -- and came within a game of the Elite Eight.

Individually, Cousins raked in awards and honors. He was tabbed an NCAA Consensus Second Team All-American, including first-team nod from the Associated Press. He was named the 2010 SEC Freshman of the Year by the league's coaches, an All-SEC First Team (AP and coaches) member and made the SEC All-Freshman Team.

Cousins averaged 15.1 points and 9.9 rebounds during his memorable freshman campaign and finished the season with the eighth-most rebounds in a single season in UK history with 375.

He was Selected fifth overall in the 2010 NBA Draft and has been named to the NBA All-Star Game four times during his nine-year NBA career. He was also voted to the All-NBA Second Team in 2015 and 2016 and has averaged double figures in every NBA season, including 20-plus points in five years.

Three Wildcats Win NBA Championship

Kentucky's massive NBA presence was felt at every level in the Toronto Raptors organization during Toronto's championship run in 2019.

Former UK players Jodie Meeks (2007-09) and Jamaal Magloire (1997-2000) and former UK manager Chad Sanders (2007-10) were a part of the Raptors' incredible run this season.

Meeks was a key player off the bench throughout the season and saw action in the championship series. Magloire is a part of Toronto's front office, and Sanders is the general manager of Toronto's G League team.

The championship for Meeks marks the first time an NBA player who played for the Wildcats has won an NBA title since Rajon Rondo did it in 2008 for the Boston Celtics.

Former Greats Earn NBA Honors

Former Kentucky men's basketball stars Eric Bledsoe (2010) and Shai Gilgeous-Alexander (2018) were among the honorees for the 2018-19 NBA awards unveiling in May.

Bledsoe was named to the NBA All-Defensive First Team while Gilgeous-Alexander made the NBA All-Rookie Second Team.

Bledsoe became the third Kentucky player under John Calipari to win NBA All-Defensive honors. Anthony Davis was named to the first team in 2018 and the second team in 2015 and 2017. John Wall made the second team in 2015. It marks the first such honor for the Milwaukee Bucks' starting point guard.

Gilgeous-Alexander was the sixth-leading vote getter on the All-Rookie ballot after leading the Los Angeles Clippers to the postseason with a brilliant first-year campaign. The 11th overall pick of the 2018 NBA Draft is the 11th Wildcat in the Calipari era to earn NBA All-Rookie honors.

Cats Win NCAA Academic Award for APR Score Fifth Straight year

The Wildcats received an NCAA award for placing in the top 10% of all men's basketball teams in the country in the NCAA's annual Academic Progress Rate. UK scored a perfect 1,000.

It's the fifth straight year the men's basketball team has received the award and the sixth time since 2009.

The APR provides a real-time look at a team's academic success by the progress of each student-athlete on scholarship. The APR measures academic eligibility, retention and graduation. The scores are a four-year composite, covering the 2014-15 through 2017-18 school years.

Every Division I sports team across the nation calculates its APR each academic year, similar to a report card. Scholarship student-athletes each semester earn one point for remaining eligible and one point for staying in school or graduating.

UK has received a perfect 1,000 mark in each of the last six single-year APR rates. The NCAA cut score to compete in the 2019-20 postseason is a 930 four-year APR. Teams scoring below 930 can face consequences intended to direct additional focus on academics. Those penalties can include practice restrictions and playing-season reductions.

Six Wildcats Make SEC Academic Honor Roll

Six Kentucky men's basketball players -- Brad Calipari (Winter), Jonny David (Winter), Tyler Herro (First Year), Keldon Johnson (First Year), Zan Payne (First Year) and Reid Travis (First Year) -- made the Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll.

Any student-athlete who participates in a SEC championship sport or a student-athlete who participates in a sport listed on his/her institution's NCAA Sports Sponsorship Form is eligible for nomination to the Winter Academic Honor Roll. To make the SEC Academic Honor Roll, a student-athlete must have a grade-point average of 3.00 or above for either the preceding academic year (two semesters or three quarters) or have a cumulative grade point average of 3.00 or above at the nominating institution.

The 2018-19 First-Year Academic Honor Roll is based on grades from the 2018 summer and fall terms, along with the 2019 spring term. A student-athlete must have a 3.0 grade-point average for the entire year to earn a place on the honor roll.

UK has earned 67 SEC Academic Honor Roll distinctions in John Calipari's nine seasons. The Wildcats received 45 all-time prior to his arrival.

Rupp Renovations to Feature Chair-Back Seating in Upper Arena

Originally announced when UK agreed to a new lease in December 2016 and formalized the agreement earlier this year, upper-level chair-back seating and new club areas are coming to Rupp Arena this season.

This next phase of Rupp renovations comes on the heels of the addition of a new center-hung scoreboard, ribbon boards, new sound system and lighting that have created a more dynamic game experience in Rupp.

Chair-back seating in the upper-level sideline will be installed in sections 211-217 and 228-234 through a project that will be completed for the 2019-20 season. This project was undertaken in response to years of feedback from fans asking for more comfortable seating in the upper level. Construction began after the 2018-19 season. A new seat selection process for all upper-level season ticket holders was completed this summer.

In addition to new chair-back seating in the upper level, the renovation will bring new club areas to Rupp Arena for the first time. Fans in these new clubs will be able to enjoy first-class amenities before, during and after games. These new clubs are crucial to providing the funds necessary for both the new lease agreement and the ongoing renovation of Rupp Arena.

Two clubs available to season ticket holders will open for the upcoming season, with another to follow in 2020-21. Club membership does not include a ticketed seat and club members may have seats throughout Rupp Arena. Season ticket holders may purchase club memberships to accompany their season ticket package. Club membership pricing and amenities will be announced as soon as details are finalized, and sales will begin shortly thereafter. Memberships will initially be offered to season ticket holders based on K Fund priority ranking.

After renovations, Rupp Arena will seat approximately 20,500. The top priority is ensuring that all current season ticket holders will maintain seats in the newly renovated Rupp Arena and UK fully anticipates being able to do so.

Kentucky Basketball Head Coach

John Calipari

A “players-first” coach with a penchant for helping people reach their dreams, John Calipari, a Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Famer, has guided six teams to the Final Four, led one to a national championship and helped 49 players earn selection in the NBA Draft during his 27-year college coaching career.

Calipari guided Kentucky to its eighth national championship and his first national title in 2012. In becoming only the second coach in NCAA history to lead three different schools to the Final Four, he has racked up more than 700 on-court victories, 20 NCAA Tournament on-court appearances, six Final Fours and numerous national coach of the year honors.

From UMass to Memphis and now Kentucky, Calipari’s career has been successful throughout, but his most recent run in Lexington has been the best stretch of his career. During Calipari’s 10 seasons at UK, he leads all coaches in total wins (305), NCAA Tournament wins (31), Final Fours (four), Elite Eights (seven) and Sweet 16s (eight).

In 2015, Coach Cal led college basketball’s first ever 38-0 team, and became one of just three coaches to make four Final Fours in a five-year span. At the end of the season, Calipari became the 96th coach to join the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

While building a program out of obscurity at Massachusetts, laying the foundation at Memphis and restoring luster at the sport’s greatest program at Kentucky, he totaled the second-most wins in NCAA history in the first 20 years of a college coaching career.

Quite honestly, though, Calipari’s on-court success overshadows a much more significant picture.

In his goal to lead a players-first program, he has helped more than 50 young men realize their dreams and reach the NBA level with 49 players earning NBA Draft selections, including a record five first-round draft picks in 2010. Two years later, six Wildcats heard their names called at the 2012 draft, the most in the two-round draft era. UK, with Calipari’s help, would tie those six picks again in 2015, including a record-tying four lottery selections. His four No. 1 overall picks are more than any other coach, and he’s had 38 players drafted during his first 10 years at Kentucky, including 29 first-round picks.

Calipari’s players have entered the league NBA-ready. His players have garnered 20 All-Star selections, with Anthony Davis winning the game’s MVP honor in 2017. Rose was named MVP in 2011. Five of his players have been tabbed All-NBA, three have been named NBA Rookie of the Year, and 12 players from Calipari’s first nine teams at Kentucky have made the NBA All-Rookie teams.

Much like he did at UMass, where his players graduated at nearly 80 percent, Calipari has stressed academics. Fifteen of his last 18 seniors at Memphis earned their bachelor’s degrees, and all 18 players at UK who were eligible to graduate by the end of their senior years walked away with a diploma in hand, including four players who earned their degree in just three years. Calipari’s teams routinely have posted a combined team grade-point averages of 3.0 or better.

His foundation, The Calipari Foundation, has raised millions of dollars to help the lives of those in need in the Commonwealth and across the country. In 2010, he used a telethon to raise more than $1 million for victims of the devastating earthquake in Haiti. He organized another one in 2012 for victims of Superstorm Sandy and another one in 2017 for victims of Hurricane Harvey.

In 2013, Calipari developed the idea of hosting an annual alumni weekend around his basketball fantasy experience with the intent to raise money for charity. After generating $350,000 for selected organizations and charities during the inaugural game, the weekend (the game and the fantasy experience) has generated more than $1 million for charity every year since, including in 2014 without the funds from an alumni game and 2016 with a celebrity softball game in place of the traditional basketball game.

In 2017, Coach Cal was named the head coach of the 2017 USA Basketball Men’s U19 World Cup Team, which finished third at the 2017 FIBA U19 World Cup in Cairo.

Author of five books, including the New York Times Best Seller “Players First: Coaching from the Inside Out,” Calipari is a master of communication and maximizing talent. He lives by the motto that “it’s never a matter of how far you have fallen, but instead it’s about how high you bounce back.”
