FROM THE OFFSEASON NOTEBOOK

WHAT COULD HAVE BEEN

Big Blue Nation will always wonder where the 2019-20 season would have ended had the season not come to an abrupt end due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Wildcats enjoyed an excellent season in year No. 11 in the John Calipari era. UK posted a 25-6 record and won its sixth Southeastern Conference regular-season championship under Calipari and first since 2017.

More importantly, Kentucky was playing its best basketball down the stretch. Following a two-game skid in Las Vegas, the Wildcats reeled off victories in 17 of their next 20 games with impressive wins over Louisville, Texas Tech, LSU and Auburn.

Perhaps the biggest boost of momentum was the final game of the regular season. Facing all sorts of adversity -- coming off a devastating loss to Tennessee, playing without starting point guard Ashton Hagans and with SEC Player of the Year Immanuel Quickley on the bench with five fouls -- UK rallied from an 18-point deficit to win. The win was the second-biggest comeback of the Calipari era and the largest on the road. It appeared to be the perfect springboard into the postseason as UK eyed a favorable seed for the NCAA Tournament.

Unfortunately the postseason never happened. The SEC Tournament and NCAA Tournament were canceled before the Wildcats ever took the floor, abruptly ending what was shaping up to be a magical season.

Kentucky finished the season No. 8 in the Associated Press Top 25 and No. 7 in the USA Today Coaches Poll. UK was No. 21 in the NCAA Evaluation Tool with a 9-3 record vs. quadrant one and quadrant two teams.

The Wildcats also stepped up in their biggest games and toughest environments. Not only was UK 4-2 vs. AP Top 25 teams at the time of the game, Kentucky was 8-2 in true road games. The Wildcats were in every game in 2019-20, something few other teams can say. UK lost its six games by a combined 32 points, an average margin of 5.3 points. Of Kentucky's six losses, five were to teams in the top two quadrants.

Quickley and junior Nick Richards emerged as two of the best individual stories of the 2019-20 season. The former emerged from a role player as a freshman to one of the nation's best scorers, starting the season on the bench but ending it as the SEC Player of the Year and an All-American candidate. Richards went from an inconsistent reserve to one of the best big men in the country en route to All-SEC First Team honors.

"I felt this was a vibe that my best teams have had," Calipari said. "Things that happened down the end of the stretch, fate intervenes sometimes. Sometimes good, sometimes bad. How do you respond to it? This team and individuals on the team responded so positively that it was crazy. Our energy, our vibe, their togetherness. I looked at my staff and said, 'Guys, we could be winning this whole thing.' "

MAJOR ROSTER OVERHAUL IN STORE AFTER NBA DRAFT DECISIONS

With an unmatched ability to prepare and produce players for the NBA Draft, Kentucky is used to major roster overhauls on an annual basis. But the one the Wildcats are facing in 2020-21 may be their most challenging yet.

UK will bid farewell to nine players, five starters and eight of the top nine scorers from the 2019-20 roster. Nick Richards, Immanuel Quickley, Ashton Hagans, EJ Montgomery and Tyrese Maxey all declared for the NBA Draft, which has been pushed back to Nov. 18 because of the COVID-19 pandemic. Nate Sestina's college eligibility expired, Johnny Juzang transferred, Ben Jordan returned to baseball full time and Kahlil Whitney departed for a professional career midseason.

That leaves the Wildcats with just one scholarship player who played in 2019-20: Keion Brooks Jr., who averaged 4.5 points and 3.2 rebounds in 31 games, including six starts.

UK will be tasked with replacing 94% of its scoring from last season -- most of the Calipari era -- 92.4% of its minutes, 91.3% of its rebounds, 98.6% of its assists, 92.0% of its steals and 91.5% of its blocks.

Dontaie Allen, a highly touted signee in the 2019 class, is also back but redshirted last season as he recovered from a knee injury from high school. Zan Payne is fully recovered from a high school knee injury that prevented him from playing his first two seasons.

According to a recent NCAA survey, UK's three scholarship returners is among the nation's least amount of returning experience.

Walk-ons Brennan Canada and Riley Welch will also return.

The good news: Help is on the way ...

UK SIGNING CLASS RANKED CONSENSUS NO. 1

If it's not an annual certainty at this point, it's at least become a yearly expectation for John Calipari to reel in a top-ranked recruiting class every season. He's only done it in every year at Kentucky.

This year's group is no exception.

The six-man signing class includes guards Devin Askew, Brandon Boston Jr., Terrence Clarke and Cam'Ron Fletcher and forwards Isaiah Jackson and Lance Ware. The Wildcats also added three high-impact transfers (more on them to follow) and walk-on guard Kareem Watkins but they are not included in the official signing class rankings.

As for those rankings, UK finished atop them all. ESPN, 247Sports and Rivals each tabbed the Wildcats' haul the No. 1 class in their final team rankings. The Recruiting Services Consensus Index, which tallies major recruiting rankings and plugs them into a formula to calculate a consensus ranking, also ranked it the top class in the country.

With two players rated consensus top-10, five-star prospects and all six of the scholarship signees tabbed four- or five-star players, UK formed its 12th straight top-three signing class under Calipari. Of those 12 classes, eight have been tabbed No. 1 in the final rankings by at least one of the three major recruiting services, the best mark of any team and coach.

Boston, a consensus five-star prospect, is ranked the highest in UK's class. The 6-foot-7 guard out of Norcross, Georgia, is tabbed as high as No. 5 in the Rivals rankings. Boston is UK's highest rated signee since Skal Labissière in 2015 (No. 1 in Rivals, No. 2 in ESPN and 247Sports).

Clarke, a 6-7 guard, is just behind Boston in the rankings. The Boston native is also a consensus five star and is ranked as high as No. 8 by Rivals.

Also picking up five-star ratings by at least one of the three major services were Askew, who earned the elite status from ESPN, and Jackson, who earned the distinction from Rivals

Fletcher and forward Ware were consensus four-star prospects.

UK ADDS THREE TRANSFERS

Kentucky's reinforcements won't just be freshmen; the Wildcats have added three high-impact transfers.

UK added Wake Forest forward Olivier Sarr, Creighton guard Davion Mintz and Rhode Island forward Jacob Toppin. Mintz will have immediate eligibility as a graduate transfer and waivers for Sarr and Toppin for immediate eligibility were both granted by the NCAA.

Sarr, at 7-feet, 255 pounds, enjoyed a breakthrough season in 2019-20 at Wake Forest, averaging 13.7 points, 9.0 rebounds and 1.2 blocks per game. He shot 52.7% from the floor, made the All-Atlantic Coast Conference Third Team and was the runner-up for the 2020 ACC Most Improved Player award.

Sarr is widely regarded as one of the nation's top transfers. He totaled 664 points, 496 rebounds and 81 blocks with 31 starts in three seasons at Wake Forest. He considered entering the NBA Draft before the coaching change in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Sarr should provide UK with an elite rim protector with considerable size and good athleticism.

A native of Bordeaux, France, Sarr blossomed in his third season with the Demon Deacons. He led the team with 11 double-doubles and 33 blocks, scored in double figures in 23 games and was a two-time ACC Player of the Week. Sarr was particularly good late in conference play, finishing on a six-game double-figure scoring run with three double-doubles.

A 6-3 guard out of Creighton, Mintz played in 97 games with 79 starts for the Bluejays. He is expected to add valuable leadership, experience and depth, having totaled more than 100 assists in each of his last two active seasons -- 259 total in his three-year career -- with a 35.0% mark from behind the 3-point line.

Mintz redshirted in 2019-20 after battling an ankle injury in the preseason and then re-aggravating it in practice upon his return, but he started all but one game in the previous two seasons. He started all 35 games for Creighton in 2018-19, averaging 9.7 points, 3.0 assists and 3.0 rebounds in 28.8 minutes per game. Mintz was regarded as the Bluejays' best defender and ranked second on the team with 40 steals.

In his junior season, Mintz scored in double figures in 16 games with a career high of 21 points vs. No. 21 Marquette. He also played all 45 minutes vs. No. 14 Villanova and totaled 19 points, eight rebounds and four assists. He was expected to be a key part of the 2019-20 Creighton squad that went 24-7 and won a share of the Big East title. As a sophomore, Mintz led the Big East and ranked 15th nationally with a 2.83 assist-to-turnover ratio. In 10 games vs. ranked opponents in 2017-18, he totaled 38 assists with just 10 turnovers.

Toppin, a 6-8 forward, is the brother of Dayton's Obi Toppin, the consensus national player of the year in 2019-20. Like his brother Obi, who averaged 20.0 points, 7.5 rebounds and 2.2 assists per game as a redshirt sophomore, Jacob possesses a high upside with good size and great athleticism.

Originally from Brooklyn, New York, Toppin became an immediate contributor for a Rhode Island team that went 21-9 on the season and finished 13-5 in the Atlantic 10. He scored in double figures five times in his freshman season, highlighted by 12 points and eight rebounds vs. Richmond, a potential at-large NCAA Tournament team this past season, and 12 points in 11 minutes vs. Saint Joseph's. He also performed well vs. his future SEC foes Alabama and LSU, scoring 11 points and 10, respectively, in nonconference play.

Toppin showed an ability to stretch the floor with 13 3-pointers, including three vs.

Alabama. He shot 42.6% from the floor.

Combining the seven-man freshman class with the three transfers, UK will welcome 10 new players to the roster this year, among the most in college basketball.

STAFF CHANGES: FLINT, LUCAS JOIN BENCH; BARBEE MOVES TO NEW POSITION AFTER PAYNE DEPARTURE

Kentucky's bench will look significantly different this season with the additions of Bruiser Flint and Jai Lucas and the departure of Kenny Payne.

Payne, UK's longtime associate head coach and assistant since 2010-11, accepted an assistant coaching position with the New York Knicks in August on Tom Thibodeau's staff. He joins former UK players Julius Randle and Kevin Knox in New York.

The departure of Payne offered Calipari the opportunity to alter some responsibilities and create a new position.

Tony Barbee has moved to a new position, the associate to the head coach, where he will play a central part in helping Calipari run the program. Barbee, who played a key role in Kentucky's game management and Xs and Os as an assistant, will take on increased responsibility in game planning, scouting opponents, and helping Calipari formulate the team's approach in practices and in games.

In terms of additions, Calipari first brought in Flint, a former Calipari assistant with more than 30 years of coaching experience, to fill Payne's assistant void and hired Lucas, a Texas assistant coach, to be an assistant coach/recruiting coordinator.

Joel Justus will remain in the other assistant role and longtime Calipari right-hand man John Robic will remain a special assistant to the head coach with basketball operations duties.

With a blue-collar background and an infectious personality, Flint is well known in the college basketball fraternity for his success in both recruiting and developing players. His honest, engaging approach has been the consistent variable behind 20 successful seasons as a Division I head coach at Drexel (2001-02 to 2015-16) and UMass (1996-97 to 2000-01), plus several prominent assistant coaching stops, including seven seasons at UMass under Calipari. He served the last three seasons as an assistant at Indiana.

Flint won 331 games as a head coach during his 20 seasons at the helm at UMass and Drexel. Four times he was named Colonial Athletic Association Coach of the Year (2002, 2004, 2009 and 2012) and National Association of Basketball Coaches District Coach of the Year (1998, 2007, 2009 and 2012).

Flint was a member of Calipari's staff at UMass from 1989 through the 1995-96 season, helping build a national program in Amherst, Massachusetts, after 11 straight losing seasons. With Calipari and Flint on staff, the Minutemen made five NCAA Tournament appearances, including the 1996 Final Four run, to go along with five Atlantic 10 regular-season and five A-10 Tournament titles.

Lucas is a former McDonald's High School All American and now a highly respected coach. As an assistant, Lucas has been tasked with taking a lead role in Kentucky's recruiting efforts while filling the traditional on-court roles of an assistant, including helping with game and practice preparation and playing a key role in player development through practice and individual workouts. Additionally, as recruiting coordinator, he manages official and unofficial visits and is responsible for the recruiting strategy for the program.

Lucas spent the previous eight seasons at his alma mater on the University of Texas' coaching staff. A native of Houston, Lucas began his career as a special assistant of the basketball program under Rick Barnes for two seasons. Upon Shaka Smart's hiring, Lucas moved into the director of basketball operations role before being elevated to an assistant coach for the 2016-17 season. He is known in basketball circles for his high-level player development and a penchant for formulating strong relationships.

Also of note, DeWayne Peevy, UK's former deputy director of athletics who also served as the basketball administrator, was named director of athletics at DePaul in August. A longtime confidant of Calipari's, Peevy was in charge of Kentucky's schedule. Kevin Sergent, associate athletic director of compliance, is the new basketball administrator. Sergent and Robic will now oversee scheduling.

2020-21 SEASON TO BEGIN NOV. 25

With the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, the NCAA Division I Council approved moving the first contest date in Division I men's basketball to Nov. 25 for the 2020-21 season.

No exhibition games or closed scrimmages will be allowed before that date. Moving the start date back from Nov. 10 is intended to have contests begin when at least three-quarters of Division I schools will have concluded their fall terms or moved remaining instruction and exams online, creating a more controlled and less populated campus environment that may reduce the risk of COVID-19 that can occur between student-athletes and the broader student body population, the Division I Men's and Women's Oversight Committees said.

The maximum number of contests was reduced by four, given that the season will start 15 days later than originally scheduled. In men's basketball, teams can schedule 24 regular-season games and participate in one multiple-team event that includes up to three games; 25 regular-season games and participate in one multiple-team event that includes up to two games; or 25 regular-season games if a team does not participate in a multiple-team event.

With the adjustment in the playing calendar, Kentucky is in the middle of revising and restructuring its 2020-21 schedule. The full schedule is expected to be released soon but games vs. UCLA (CBS Sports Classic in Cleveland) on Dec. 19 and Texas (SEC/Big 12 Challenge at Rupp Arena) on Jan. 30 have been confirmed. Kentucky is hopeful to honor many of its previous nonconference games that were already announced.

The SEC has announced that this season's league slate will be comprised of 20 play dates that would accommodate an 18-game schedule with two open dates. Ten SEC schools -- one of them being UK -- will fill one of those open dates with the SEC/Big 12 Challenge. The SEC has established Dec. 29 and 30 as the new start dates for the conference schedule.

With the league scheduling framework set and the maximum number of games set, UK will have nine nonconference games -- if it plays in a multi-team event that includes three teams -- to work with. That includes the SEC/Big 12 Challenge.

Wherever the nonconference slate ends up, the Wildcats know they will have a difficult SEC slate again this season. The league has earned 15 berths in the last two NCAA Tournaments, the conference's best two-year stretch. The SEC was slated for another impressive haul last season until the COVID-19 pandemic canceled the postseason.

Although dates have not been finalized yet, UK will play its permanent home-and-away opponents of Florida, Tennessee and Vanderbilt twice, plus host and visit both Auburn and Georgia.

Kentucky's league home schedule will include the five aforementioned teams as well as Alabama, Mississippi State, Missouri and Ole Miss. UK's road matchups will come against Arkansas, LSU, South Carolina and Texas A&M, in addition to Auburn, Georgia and the three permanent home-and-home opponents.

UK Athletics continues to work with university, SEC and state officials to determine capacity and attendance protocols for home games at Rupp Arena. As soon as those plans are developed and finalized, men's basketball season ticket holders will receive additional information about potential ticket options for the 2020-21 season, in lieu of their traditional season ticket renewal invoice.

Programs can begin preseason practice on Oct. 14 and will have 42 days to conduct a maximum of 30 practices. During this time, players can work out up to 20 hours per week, four hours per day, and must have one day off per week. This model is generally consistent with the normal preseason practice period but permits additional flexibility for all teams to begin full practice on Oct. 14, regardless of when their first scheduled game occurs.

NCAA Division I Council members also approved a transition practice period between current out-of-season activities and preseason practice. This transition period is designed to provide additional time for players to prepare for the upcoming season based on the mental and physical challenges basketball players are facing as a result of the pandemic. The transition period will occur Sept. 21-Oct. 13, and teams may participate in strength and conditioning activities, sport-related meetings and skill instruction for up to 12 hours a week, with an eight-hour limit on skill instruction. Players must have two days off per week during the transition period.

LA FAMILIA DOMINATES NBA PLAYOFFS, AKA THE KENTUCKY BUBBLE

Kentucky's collegiate success and the NBA's infusion of young and talented superstars have been synonymous for the last decade.

In the John Calipari era, 38 players have been selected in the NBA Draft, more than any other school. Included in the recent run are 29 first-round picks, three No. 1 overall selections (Anthony Davis, Karl-Anthony Towns and John Wall) and 21 lottery selections. A staggering 29 players from Kentucky were on NBA opening-day rosters (including two-way and inactive lists).

As it turns out, the NBA domination could get even stronger. Much stronger.

Former Kentucky players were one of the central storylines of an unforgettable and unique postseason setup at the ESPN Wide World of Sports at Walt Disney World in Orlando, Florida. Whether it was four players currently vying for an NBA championship in the NBA Finals, record-setting scoring performances, early 20-something-year-olds quickly becoming stars or Wildcats making game-winning plays, UK players had their fingerprints all over the NBA Playoffs.

The postseason began with 13 Wildcats on rosters for the NBA Playoffs, the most of any school in the country. But that was only the beginning of the story.

Jamal Murray ascended to superstar status with mind-blowing scoring performance after mind-blowing scoring performance. He led the Denver Nuggets to back-to-back series wins and into the Western Conference finals after starting in a 3-1 hole, making all types of history in the process. Among the most noteworthy, he scored 142 points in a three-game stretch. According to the Elias Sports Bureau, only two other players have scored more points over a three-game span in the NBA Playoffs: Jerry West (1965) and Michael Jordan (1988).

Then there was Bam Adebayo's unforgettable block in game one of the Eastern Conference finals. Already being hailed as one of the game's best big men after a breakthrough season and a do-it-all run through the NBA Playoffs, Adebayo came up with one of the best blocks in postseason history when he stuffed Jayson Tatum at the rim in the final seconds of the first game of the series, which Adebayo's Miami Heat would go on to win.

Just a couple of nights later, Anthony Davis would add to the Kentucky highlight reel by checking off one of the few remaining things he had yet to do his career: a game-winning shot in the postseason. With the Nuggets giving the Los Angeles Lakers everything they could handle, Davis -- a 6-foot-10 forward -- popped out to the 3-point line and drilled the shot at the buzzer to give the Lakers a 2-0 series lead. They would ultimately advance.

And then there was Tyler Herro, who captivated NBA fans with an unwavering confidence seen in few rookies. He hit clutch shot after clutch shot during the postseason run, highlighted by a 37-point night vs. the Boston Celtics in the Eastern Conference finals. According to StatMuse, he became the youngest player in NBA history to drop 30 points in a playoff game off the bench.

When Adebayo would later go on to score 30 points in that series, UK became the first school with four former players to score 30 or more points in the conference finals. And before the NBA Finals had even started, Kentucky alumni had already scored more points in this NBA Playoffs run than any other school in NBA postseason history.

The NBA Playoffs culminated with Davis and Rondo's Lakers defeating the Heat's Adebayo and Herro 4-2 in the NBA Finals. In winning his first NBA championship, Davis became just the eighth player all-time to win an NCAA title, an NBA ring and an Olympic gold medal. It was Rondo's second NBA championship.

On top of the four players in the NBA Finals, which was tied for the most of any school in NBA history, the Lakers are also coached by Frank Vogel, a former manager and video coordinator at UK, and Pat Riley, a UK Athletics Hall of Famer and All-American, leads the Heat as team president. Riley is one of only two people to win an NBA title as a player, as a coach and as an executive.

FORMER UK PLAYERS RAKE IN NBA AWARDS

In addition to all the aforementioned NBA postseason success, the former Kentucky stars also raked in several season awards recently.

Anthony Davis was named to the All-NBA First Team for the fourth time in his career, plus he made the NBA All-Defensive First Team, his fourth overall NBA All-Defensive Team selection.

Joining Davis on one of the NBA All-Defensive squads were Bam Adebayo and Eric Bledsoe. They earned second-team status.

PJ Washington and Tyler Herro both made the NBA All-Rookie Second Team.

Voting for the awards was based on the NBA season prior to the NBA restart. Otherwise, former UK players may have collected a few more honors.

The latest awards are further proof that John Calipari's players are not only reaching the next level, they are succeeding when they do. His players have garnered 22 All-Star selections. Derrick Rose (from Memphis) was named league MVP in 2011. Five of his players have been tabbed All-NBA (Rose, John Wall, DeMarcus Cousins, Davis and Karl-Anthony Towns), three have been named NBA Rookie of the Year (Rose, Tyreke Evans and Towns), and 14 players from Calipari's first 10 teams at Kentucky have made the NBA All-Rookie teams.

UK has produced more All-NBA players, more NBA All-Rookie and more NBA All-Defensive players than any other school in the Calipari era.

WILDCATS SLATE TO PARTICIPATE IN 2020 NBA DRAFT COMBINE

With Kentucky players dominating the 2020 NBA Playoffs, the Wildcats will also be expected to be the story at the looming 2020 NBA Draft. It came as little surprise when five former Kentucky players -- Ashton Hagans, Tyrese Maxey, Immanuel Quickley Nick Richards and Kahlil Whitney -- were invited to participate in the 2020 NBA Draft Combine in a uniquely reformatted version due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Kentucky leads all schools with four players set to participate in Hagans, Quickley, Richards and Whitney. Maxey, regarded as a lottery-level selection, similar to in-person NBA Draft Combine options, opted out of participating in this year's process.

The 2020 NBA Draft is set for Nov. 18 and will air on ESPN. The date is subject to change as circumstances warrant.

The NBA Draft Combine will be conducted both in NBA team markets and virtually, taking place in phases beginning in October through early to mid-November. The reimagined opportunity will provide players and the league to go through interviews, individual on-court programs consisting of strength and agility testing, anthropometric measurements, shooting drills and a "Pro Day" video, all conducted in October at NBA team facilities nearest to the player's home or interim residence. Medical testing and examinations will be performed by NBA-affiliated physicians in the same market.

BROOKS SELECTED FOR NABC PLAYER DEVELOPMENT COALITION

Keion Brooks Jr. was one of 11 Division I men's basketball student-athletes selected to serve on the newly-formed National Association of Basketball Coaches Player Development Coalition. The group is a diverse collection of players who are tasked with providing valuable perspective and feedback on college basketball-related issues.

In addition to creating a vehicle for student-athletes to address current issues, the Player Development Coalition will also provide members with numerous professional and personal development experiences. The coalition will meet quarterly and have regular opportunities to address the NABC Board of Directors and NCAA committees.

"The importance of the coalition is to make sure the players' voices are heard because the players are what make the NCAA go," Brooks said. "I also believe it's important to educate players beyond basketball, with social justice issues and how to carry yourself as a professional."

Members of the initial Player Development Coalition are North Carolina's Armando Bacot, Colorado's Evan Battey, Brooks, Harvard's Kale Catchings, Villanova's Collin Gillespie, Gonzaga's Corey Kispert, Michigan State's Joshua Langford, Duke's Wendell Moore Jr., TCU's RJ Nembhard, Syracuse's Bourama Sidibe and High Point's John-Michael Wright.

MERCER, TURNER HEADED INTO UK ATHLETICS HALL OF FAME

Kentucky basketball greats Ron Mercer (1996-97) and Wayne Turner (1996-99) are two of six former UK stars in the 2020 Hall of Fame class.

The UK Athletics Hall of Fame was started in 2005 to recognize and honor persons whose participation and achievements enriched and strengthened the University's athletics program. The charter class included 88 individuals who had previously had their jersey retired by UK.

There is a five-year waiting period after leaving UK to be eligible for inclusion into the Hall of Fame. A committee consisting of Hall of Famers, media members, campus representatives and current coaches and administrators elects new inductees each year.

This year's honorees will be inducted during a Hall of Fame Weekend at a date to be determined.

Mercer was a member of the 1996 national championship team as well as the 1997 national runner-up team. He was an NCAA Consensus All-America First Team member in 1997 and a two-time NCAA Tournament All-Final Four Team selection.

After making the SEC All-Freshman Team in 1996, he was one of the top players in college basketball in 1997. In that season, he was named the NCAA Tournament West Regional Most Outstanding Player, SEC Player of the Year by both the league's coaches and the Associated Press, and the 1997 SEC Tournament MVP. He scored 725 points in his sophomore season, at the time the fifth most in a season in program history.

Mercer is a member of Kentucky's 1,000-point club (1,013). He declared for the 1997 NBA Draft after his sophomore season and was drafted sixth overall by the Boston Celtics. He played eight seasons in the NBA.

Turner was a member of the 1996 and 1998 national championship teams as well as the 1997 national runner-up team. He finished his career as UK's and the NCAA's all-time games played leader with 151 games (now ranks second), UK's all-time steals leader with 238, and a member of UK's 1,000-point club (1,170).

During his career, Turner helped the Wildcats to two SEC regular-season championships and three SEC Tournament titles.

Turner was named to the 1997 NCAA Tournament All-West Regional Team, the 1998 NCAA Tournament All-South Region Most Outstanding Player and the 1998 SEC Tournament MVP. He was also selected for the All-SEC Third Team and the SEC All-Tournament Team in 1999.

He played one season in the NBA.

CATS WIN NCAA ACADEMIC AWARD FOR APR SCORE SIXTH STRAIGHT YEAR

The Wildcats received an NCAA award for placing in the top 10% of all men's basketball teams in the country in the NCAA's annual Academic Progress Rate. UK scored a 994 out of a 1,000.

It's the sixth straight year the men's basketball team has received the award and the seventh time since 2009.

The APR provides a real-time look at a team's academic success by the progress of each student-athlete on scholarship. The APR measures academic eligibility, retention and graduation. The scores are a four-year composite, covering the 2015-16 through 2018-19

Every Division I sports team across the nation calculates its APR each academic year, similar to a report card. Scholarship student-athletes each semester earn one point for remaining eligible and one point for staying in school or graduating.

UK has received a perfect 1,000 mark in six of the last seven single-year APR rates. The NCAA cut score to compete in the 2020-21 postseason is a 930 four-year APR. Teams scoring below 930 can face consequences intended to direct additional focus on academics. Those penalties can include practice restrictions and playing-season reductions.

FOUR WILDCATS MAKE SEC ACADEMIC HONOR ROLL

Four players -- Keion Brooks Jr. (First Year), Tyrese Maxey (First Year), Zan Payne (Winter) and Nate Sestina (First Year) -- made the Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll.

Any student-athlete who participates in a SEC championship sport or a student-athlete who participates in a sport listed on his/her institution's NCAA Sports Sponsorship Form is eligible for nomination to the Winter Academic Honor Roll. To make the SEC Academic Honor Roll, a student-athlete must have a grade-point average of 3.00 or above for either the preceding academic year (two semesters or three quarters) or have a cumulative grade point average of 3.00 or above at the nominating institution.

The 2019-20 First-Year Academic Honor Roll is based on grades from the 2019 summer and fall terms, along with the 2020 spring term. A student-athlete must have a 3.0 grade-point average for the entire year to earn a place on the honor roll.

UK has earned 71 SEC Academic Honor Roll distinctions in John Calipari's nine seasons. The Wildcats received 45 all-time prior to his arrival.

RUPP RENOVATIONS CONTINUING

Originally announced when UK agreed to a new lease in December 2016 and formalized the agreement last year, upper-level chair-back seating and new club areas were installed to Rupp Arena last season with construction ongoing for club areas.

Two clubs for season ticket holders are on schedule to open for this season with a third scheduled to open in 2021-22. Fans in these new clubs will be able to enjoy first-class amenities before, during and after games. These new clubs are crucial to providing the funds necessary for both the new lease agreement and the ongoing renovation of Rupp Arena.

Club membership does not include a ticketed seat and club members may have seats throughout Rupp Arena. Season ticket holders may purchase club memberships to accompany their season ticket package. Club membership pricing and amenities will be announced as soon as details are finalized, and sales will begin shortly thereafter. Memberships will initially be offered to season ticket holders based on K Fund priority ranking.

This latest phase of Rupp renovations comes on the heels of the addition of a new center-hung scoreboard, ribbon boards, new sound system and lighting that have created a more dynamic game experience in Rupp.

The chair-back seating that was installed last season was undertaken in response to years of feedback from fans asking for more comfortable seating in the upper level. The seating was installed in sections 211-217 and 228-234.

After the seat renovations, Rupp Arena now seats 20,500.

KENTUCKY BASKETBALL HEAD COACH

JOHN CALIPARI

A “players-first” coach with a penchant for helping people reach their dreams, John Calipari, a Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Famer, has guided six teams to the Final Four, led one to a national championship and helped 49 players earn selection in the NBA Draft during his 28-year college coaching career.

Calipari guided Kentucky to its eighth national championship and his first national title in 2012. In becoming only the second coach in NCAA history to lead three different schools to the Final Four, he has racked up nearly 800 on-court victories, 20 NCAA Tournament on-court appearances, six Final Fours and numerous national coach of the year honors.

From UMass to Memphis and now Kentucky, Calipari’s career has been successful throughout, but his most recent run in Lexington has been the best stretch of his career. During Calipari’s first 11 seasons at UK, he’s led all coaches in NCAA Tournament wins (31), Final Fours (four), Elite Eights (seven) and Sweet 16s (eight). He’s in the top three in total wins (330) in that time span.

In 2015, Coach Cal led college basketball’s first ever 38-0 team, and became one of just three coaches to make four Final Fours in a five-year span. At the end of the season, Calipari became the 96th coach to join the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

While building a program out of obscurity at Massachusetts, laying the foundation at Memphis and restoring luster at the sport’s greatest program at Kentucky, he totaled the second-most wins in NCAA history in the first 20 years of a college coaching career.

Quite honestly, though, Calipari’s on-court success overshadows a much more significant picture.

In his goal to lead a players-first program, he has helped more than 50 young men realize their dreams and reach the NBA level with 49 players earning NBA Draft selections, including a record five first-round draft picks in 2010. Two years later, six Wildcats heard their names called at the 2012 draft, the most in the two-round draft era. UK, with Calipari’s help, would tie those six picks again in 2015, including a record-tying four lottery selections. His four No. 1 overall picks are more than any other coach, and he’s had 38 players drafted during his first 10 drafts at Kentucky, including 29 first-round picks.

Calipari’s players have entered the league NBA-ready. His players have garnered 23 All-Star selections, with Anthony Davis winning the game’s MVP honor in 2017. Derrick Rose was named MVP in 2011. Five of his players have been tabbed, three have been named NBA Rookie of the Year and 14 players from Calipari’s first 10 teams at Kentucky made the NBA All-Rookie teams. UK has produced more All-NBA players, more NBA All-Rookie and more NBA All-Defensive players than any other school in the Calipari era.

Much like he did at UMass, where his players graduated at nearly 80%, Calipari has stressed academics. Fifteen of his last 18 seniors at Memphis earned their bachelor’s degrees, and all 18 players at UK who were eligible to graduate by the end of their senior years walked away with a diploma in hand, including four players who earned their degree in just three years. Calipari’s teams routinely have posted a combined team grade-point average of 3.0 or better.

Calipari has raised millions of dollars to help the lives of those in need in the Commonwealth and beyond. He has had a particular passion to assist those impacted by natural disasters. For instance, in 2010, he used a telethon to raise more than $1 million for victims of the devastating earthquake in Haiti. He followed that up with telethons in 2012, raising $1 million for victims of Superstorm Sandy, and in 2017, for victims of Hurricane Harvey. He also recently teamed up with the John McLendon Minority Scholarship Foundation to launch the McLendon Minority Leadership Initiative, a coach-driven initiative that will provide minorities a jump-start to their careers through practical experiences, opportunities to build their network and instilling the values of John McLendon.

Calipari launched his foundation in 2012, and since then the foundation has worked with several key partners and donated more than $1.5 million, a figure that does not include matching funds that have been contributed from individuals and corporations. In 2013, Calipari initiated hosting an annual alumni weekend around his basketball fantasy experience with the intent to raise money for charity. After generating $350,000 for selected organizations and charities during the inaugural game, the weekend has generated millions of dollars for charity since its inception.

In 2017, Coach Cal was named the head coach of the 2017 USA Basketball Men’s U19 World Cup Team, which finished third at the 2017 FIBA U19 World Cup in Cairo.

Author of five books, including the New York Times Best Seller “Players First: Coaching from the Inside Out,” Calipari is a master of communication and maximizing talent. He lives by the motto that “it’s never a matter of how far you have fallen, but instead it’s about how high you bounce back.”
