NOTING THE PALADINS

PALADIN POINTERS...Furman tipped off the 2023-24 season in successful fashion under new head coach Pierre Curtis, earning a 71-61 triumph over UNC Asheville on Nov. 7. Curtis, who was named the Paladins' mentor on June 9, is the eighth head coach in the program's 49-year history. He assumed his new role following 10 seasons as an assistant and associate head coach under Jackie Carson, who accepted an associate commissioner's position with the Atlantic Coast Conference. Kentucky represents the second Southeastern Conference foe on Furman's schedule this year, following the Paladins' Dec. 3 contest at Georgia (85-55 loss). The Paladins and Wildcats have met only once in basketball, that being a 74-35 win posted by Kentucky in Lexington during the 2008-09 season. Kentucky and Furman share one common foe this year in USC Upstate, which the Wildcats defeated, 82-54, at home on Nov. 11. The Paladins dropped a 61-58 road verdict to the Spartans on Dec. 9. Furman is coming off an impressive 73-47 win over Elon on Thursday, a contest that saw the Paladins erase an early 13-4 deficit with 23-0 first half run to take control. Jada Session powered Furman's attack with a career high 21 points, which she combined with eight rebounds to lead the way. Session's previous career high had been 20 points registered against Georgia Tech on Nov. 11 in Atlanta. Niveya Henley followed with 14 points, and Kate Johnson rounded out the double figure effort with 12 points. The Paladins drained 10-of-22 3-pointers against the Phoenix — the second highest number of made 3PPFGs this season. Furman, which posted a 45-30 rebounding advantage against Elon, ranks 15th nationally in rebounding margin (+12.8). Jada Session leads the Paladins on the glass with a SoCon leading 9.3 rpg average. Furman tops the SoCon in scoring (73.2 ppg) and boasts a balanced attack with five double figure scorers, led by Session (15.1 ppg). Redshirt sophomore guard Jaelyn Acker, who missed the first nine games of the season due to injury, tallied 10 points in her season debut against Bob Jones (124-44 win) on Dec. 6 and tallied nine points (3x3 3PPFGs) in Thursday's triumph over Elon. Acker earned SoCon All-Freshman Team honors a year ago after averaging 11.4 ppg and shooting .311 from 3-point range in 30g (all starts). The 2023-24 season has marked a successful return to action for Paladin guards Tate Walters and Niveya Henley, who missed the 2022-23 season due to injuries. Walters, a redshirt junior who suffered a torn Achilles tendon two weeks prior to the start of the 2022-23 campaign, scored a game high 21 points in 34 minutes of action against UNC Asheville (71-61 win) in her return debut. She is currently averaging 11.5 ppg in seven games (DNP vs. Georgia Tech). A preseason All-SoCon selection, the former Buford (Ga.) High standout averaged 12.9 ppg, shot 37.7 percent from 3-point range, and registered 137 assists during the 2021-22 season. Henley, meanwhile, scored 18 points and claimed eight rebounds in 29 minutes against UNC Asheville in her first game back. A redshirt sophomore, she was sidelined with knee injury a year ago. She was named to the SoCon All-Freshman Team for the 2021-22 season. Junior forward Kate Johnson has stepped up her game in a big way this year, upping her scoring (1.9 ppg) and rebounding averages (1.6 rpg) last season to her current 10.6 ppg and 6.6 rpg clip, scoring in double figures in nine of Furman's 12 games. The Canton, Ga., product registered only 4.9 minutes per game in 2022-23 but is now averaging 27.2 minutes per contest. Her mother, Elizabeth Noethling '98, is a Furman women's basketball alum who averaged 8.6 ppg and 5.9 rpg in 113 games with the Paladins. While Furman has welcomed the return of Tate Walters, Niveya Henley, and Jaelyn Acker, the Paladins have two players currently on the shelf: sophomore guard Ella Riggs and graduate transfer Nia Johnson. Riggs saw action in 18 games in 2022-23 and tallied at a 5.2 ppg clip that featured 14-of-31 shooting (.452) from 3-point range. Johnson joined the Paladins this summer as a graduate transfer from the University of New Mexico. Furman inked three recruits in the early signing period: They include guard Samaria Taylor from Knoxville, Tenn./Fulton High School; Clare Coyle, a forward from Jacksonville, Fla./Bishop Kenny High School; and forward Chantelle Stuart from Ontario, Canada/Crestwood Prep.

On June 9, 2023, Pierre Curtis was named Furman's new women's head basketball coach by Jason Donnelly, Vice President for Intercollegiate Athletics.

Curtis, a 10-year member of the Paladin women's basketball program, served as an assistant coach over his first six years before being elevated to associate head coach in 2019.

He is the eighth head coach in program history that spans 49 seasons.

"We are excited to have Pierre Curtis lead our women's basketball program," said Donnelly. "Over the past decade, coach Curtis has played a critical role in the growth of our program and in the successes of our student-athletes, on the court and off. He has earned the respect of our team, our coaches, and our administration through his leadership, commitment to athletic and academic excellence, his ability to recruit and then develop players, and his shared values with Furman Athletics. We look forward to supporting coach Curtis as we build upon the strong foundation that has been established and elevate our women's basketball program to even greater heights."

"I want thank Jason Donnelly and President Davis for trusting me with this great opportunity," Curtis said. "I am also very grateful to Jackie Carson for all she has done for me and Furman University. To have my first head coaching job be at a place where I have such affinity and connection to is a dream come true. I can't wait to begin working with our team and building towards our goals of winning a conference championship and having NCAA tournament success".

In February he was among 21 assistant coaches selected to participate in the inaugural class of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA) Next Generation Institute, a new high-level education program for experienced assistant coaches who aspire to become head coaches at the NCAA Division I, II and III levels.

During his decade at Furman, Curtis has been involved in all aspects of the program, most notably as recruiting coordinator. There he has played a key role in signing and helping develop 19 All-Southern Conference performers, including at least one selection every year. The consistency has also been reflected in the 11 SoCon All-Freshman Team selections earned by Paladins during Curtis' tenure, as Furman has placed a representative on the squad every year over his span on staff.

The most heralded player Curtis recruited and helped develop was consensus SoCon Player of the Year forward Tierra Hodges, who paced the league in scoring and rebounding while keying the Paladins to 20 wins during the 2021-22 campaign. Others signed to Furman and/or developed on the court with Curtis' help include two-time All-SoCon forward Brittany Hodges, two-time all-league forward Holli Wilkins, three-time all-conference guard and all-time assist leader Whitney Bunn, and career 3-point field goal shooting leader Le'Jzae Davidson.

Furman has made five post-season tournament appearances with Curtis on staff, including two trips to the WNIT, and also played in a pair of SoCon Tournament championship games.

A 2010 graduate of James Madison University where he starred as a player for the Dukes, Curtis coached women's basketball at Harrisonburg (Va.) High School for two seasons prior to coming to Furman, helping direct his squad to a pair of region playoff appearances.

He played professionally in Germany during the 2010-11 season before beginning his coaching career. He also racked up extensive summer camp experience with numerous colleges and worked with the prestigious Boo Williams AAU organization.

A Chicago, Ill., native who spent many of his teenage years in Denver, Colo., he was a two-year starter at Denver East High School, where he keyed his squad to a state championship and No. 12 national ranking his junior year. He earned all-state and Denver Player of the Year honors as a senior before enrolling at Charis Prep School in Goldsboro, N.C., where he averaged 22.0 points and 8.0 rebounds while pacing his squad to a No. 14 national ranking.

Curtis signed with James Madison and went on to register 1,237 points and complete his career as the Dukes' all-time leader in starts, assists, and steals.

Holder of a bachelor's degree in sports management from JMU, he has a daughter, Sydney.
