

Brooke Jackson

UX designer

817-879-2493
kbrookejackson@gmail.com
www.kbrookejackson.design
linkedin.com/kbrookejackson

Objective

UX designer delivering high-quality products, services, and meaningful experiences driven by user research in a collaborative environment.

Summary

Passionate UX designer responsible for bringing UX methods and user-centered design to software development at the University of North Texas System. Currently aligning users' needs and behaviors with business goals to deliver impactful solutions for students.

Skills

Sketch App
Invision
Adobe Illustrator
Zeplin
HTML/CSS
User experience design
UI design
User research
Wireframing
Task flows
Prototyping
Visual design
Interaction design

Experience

Student UI/UX Designer, UNT System

October 2017-Present | Denton, TX

Leading the design of a new web application on the organization's first agile development team. Working closely with developers and product owner to ensure timely and quality product delivery. Presenting solutions and working with stakeholders.

Experience Design Intern, projekt202

May 2018-August 2018 | Addison, TX

Contributed to ongoing consulting projects and produced client-facing deliverables as an intern. Worked on design system, user interfaces, and continuously assisted with research engagement. Conducted research and designed a minimal viable product for an internal project.

Education

BA, Professional and Technical Communication

University of North Texas | 2016-2019

Courses in Interaction Design

Interaction Design Foundation | 2017

Awards

UX Design Student of the Year, 2018-2019

Department of Technical Communication, UNT

Student Ambassador, 2018-2019

Department of Technical Communication, UNT

President's List, 2017-2019

University of North Texas