STRATEGIC PLANNING & BALANCED SCORECARD INITIATIVE

Staff Contact: Jean Moreno, Executive Officer Strategic Initiatives and Special Projects

Purpose and Policy Guidance

This is a request for City Council to review draft value, mission, and vision statements for the city's Strategic Planning and Balanced Scorecard initiative, to make any recommended changes, and to provide consensus direction on final statements to be used as the basis for continued development of the Balanced Scorecard.

Background

This is the third Council study session regarding the Strategic Planning & Balanced Scorecard Initiative designed to guide the process for the development of a city-wide strategic plan. To assist in this process, the city engaged the services of Advanced Strategy Center to conduct five virtual stakeholder feedback sessions with key stakeholder groups including employees, business leaders, non-profit/education leaders, and boards and commissions. There were a total of 82 participants that provided thoughts and opinions on a variety of topics to help identify areas in which Glendale is doing well and areas that could be improved. These transcripts were provided to the City Council to assist them in their work on the development of value, mission, and vision statements; an executive summary of the stakeholder sessions is attached. Next, Advanced Strategy Center conducted an in-person facilitated session with the City Council which focused on the full development of the value, mission, and vision statements.

Analysis

Staff utilized the transcript from the Council session (attached) to further refine the key statements adding structure and uniformity. The attached Values, Mission, and Vision report provides specific details and staff analysis related to each of the statement areas as well as statistical information regarding the stakeholder feedback sessions. Based on City Council and stakeholder input, the following value, mission, and vision statements are presented for Council discussion and consideration:

Simple Value Statements (see report for detailed description of each):

- We are guided by integrity in all that we do.
- We are committed to excellence through operational and financial stewardship.
- We empower our employees to be innovative.
- We are community driven.
- We are a learning organization.

Mission: We improve the lives of the people we serve every day.

Vision: We are the community of choice for residents, businesses, and employees.

Previous Related Council Action

On October 31, 2016 the City Council held a Special Workshop where they participated in a facilitated discussion to identify core concepts and ideas that would be used to create the city's value, mission, and vision statements.

On September 9, 2016 the City Council held a Special Workshop where staff presented an informational overview of strategic planning, why it is important for our community and organization, and an introduction to the Balanced Scorecard management system.

Community Benefit/Public Involvement

The development of a comprehensive and focused strategy for municipal service delivery is critical for the development of a high performance organization that has a shared purpose, operates with autonomy and accountability, sets and achieves performance measures and targets, has empowered and engaged employees that work collaboratively, and uses data and evidence for decision making. All of these things add value to service delivery and have the ability to create a positive impact for the community. It provides the opportunity for the city to be specific and deliberate in the allocation of resources and ultimately, improves overall quality of life for our citizens.

In an effort to inform the initial steps of the process, the city engaged key stakeholder groups including employees, business leaders, boards and commissions, and the non-profit community to provide their insights into what the city is doing well and where improvement is needed in order to guide the full development of the strategic plan.

Strategic Planning & Balanced Scorecard Initiative

Values, Mission, Vision

Executive Summary

In an effort to inform the development of a city-wide strategic plan, the city engaged the services of Advanced Strategy Center to conduct five stakeholder feedback sessions with key stakeholder groups including employees, business leaders, non-profit/education leaders, and boards and commissions. There were a total of 82 participants in five sessions which provided thoughts and opinions on a variety of topics to help identify areas in which Glendale is doing well and areas where we could improve.

Advanced Strategy Center also conducted an in-person facilitated session with the City Council on October 31, 2016 that was specific to the development of core organizational values, and mission and vision statements. The transcripts from this session serve as the basis for the following recommendations for Council consideration.

Proposed Statements

Values

- We are guided by integrity in all that we do.
- We are committed to excellence through operational and financial stewardship.
- We empower our employees to be innovative.
- We are community driven.
- We are a learning organization.

Mission

We improve the lives of the people we serve every day.

Vision

We are the community of choice for residents, businesses, and employees.

Stakeholder Feedback Results

82 participants

5 sessions

60% have lived/worked in Glendale 11+ years

81% found value in the facilitated sessions

The Advanced Strategy Lab system scored 9 out of 10 in terms of supporting the feedback process

70% reported the positive aspects of Glendale either balance or outweigh the negative aspects

71% reported that they believe Glendale can be positioned as a premier community in the region in the next 3-5 years with the right leadership & planning

Values

Objective

To create values or value statements that:

- Identify 4-6 core values that will guide organizational behavior towards the fulfillment of the organizational mission and vision statements.
- Can be described in terms of the behaviors or activities that are demonstrated when the values are applied.
- That are applicable to everyone within the organization.

Staff Analysis

The spreadsheet shown in Appendix A lists the core values exactly as they are in the transcript and includes the comprehensive rating analysis of each of the assessments that were conducted:

- Is the value a good candidate for consideration?
- How important is it to the future of Glendale?
- Can it be applied by employees?
- Does it serve the community?
- Is it enduring and applicable?

Council identified a total of seven potential values, five of which had a weighted average of greater than 60% from the assessment questions. The following variation for Council consideration uses the core language from the facilitated session together with Council commentary that was gathered during the process, and incorporates the identified themes from all seven topic areas while consolidating into five core values. In order to do this, the key concepts from the lowest ranking values were incorporated into other areas.

To create context for each of the value statements, a significant focus is placed on the structure. Each of the statements are designed to start with a “we” proclamation. This is intended to create emphasis on the collective ownership of each of these values throughout the entire organization and a focus on the key concept. They are each phrased in the present tense so everyone knows these are the things we are expected to do actively every day in our work and are not something that we “plan” to do in the future. Finally, each statement describes the ideal state and behaviors that can be expected when modeling the value and concludes with an explanation of why we do this and how it is expected to make a difference for our community.

Variation for Consideration

WE ARE GUIDED BY INTEGRITY IN ALL THAT WE DO.¹

Throughout our organization there is an unquestionable level of integrity, ethics, transparency, and honesty guiding our communications and interactions. We are fair, principled, accountable, and inclusive in all that we do. The example is set by City Council, City Management, and every staff member. We do this to create trust within the organization and throughout the community.

WE ARE COMMITTED TO EXCELLENCE THROUGH OPERATIONAL AND FINANCIAL STEWARDSHIP.²

Our approach to excellence begins with a positive “can-do” attitude. We are committed to delivering high quality services to our diverse community at an affordable cost, with demonstrated value, in an expeditious manner. We design our services with our stakeholder’s needs in mind. We provide opportunities to gather feedback on our services in an inclusive way and look for merit in every idea. We do this to ensure we are good stewards of taxpayer dollars, to create organizational and community pride in the services we provide, and to provide added value for our community.

WE EMPOWER OUR EMPLOYEES TO BE INNOVATIVE.

We are an organization that constantly examines how we can get better and welcomes creative ideas and new thinking. We value efficiency, technology, and agility and we have the courage to try new approaches. We do this to create a flexible organization that can respond quickly to change, to create value by providing more cost-effective services, and to provide a means for employee ownership in the services we provide.

WE ARE COMMUNITY DRIVEN.³

All people who live, work, do business in, and visit Glendale are our priority. We value community engagement and we constantly seek feedback to assess the varying needs of our community. We welcome everyone and value the richness of skills, background, and experience that a diverse community provides. We do this to honor our heritage, to create openness, and to ensure we are delivering the services that are most valued and needed in our community.

WE ARE A LEARNING ORGANIZATION.

We know that our ability to develop and deliver the highest quality services and to achieve operational excellence for our stakeholders is dependent upon having a highly trained and developed workforce and elected representation. In order to attract and retain the most qualified people to serve our community, we constantly invest in developing skills and cultivating leaders. We do this to ensure that we are constantly getting better in everything we do and to create lifelong learners because we know that our elected officials and employees will contribute to the community not only through their service to Glendale, but also in many other facets outside of the job.

³ Includes key concepts from “A heritage/commitment to inclusiveness and belonging”.

Mission Statement

Objective

To create a mission statement that is:

- Everlasting
- Inspiring
- Memorable
- Applicable
- Describes what we will do no matter what and for whom (why do we exist)
- “To (do/be) WHAT for WHOM”

Council Session Details

Top Statement

“We make someone’s life better every day.”

Council Commentary

Comments and suggested enhancements:

- Be less vague...how do we make lives better?
- We make the lives of Glendale residents and visitors better every day.
- We make someone’s life better every day with integrity, respect, and service.
- Delete “someone’s” (there was discussion about keeping this to make it more individual/personal).
- We make someone’s life better every day by providing the highest quality service at the best possible price.

Staff Analysis

- Need to define “someone” – who are we serving? Residents, visitors, businesses, partners, employees – all are stakeholders and people we serve.
- Need to keep it short and memorable.
- We can define “better” and “how” through vision and value statements.
- Prefer a present tense statement vs. a future tense statement because it implies immediate action.

Variation for Council Consideration:

“We improve the lives of the people we serve every day.”

- Defines who is taking action – “We” implies everyone in the organization.
- Defines why we exist – to “improve lives”.
- Defines who we do this for – “the people we serve” which is holistic in nature – residents, customers, businesses, visitors, etc.
- Defines a clear expectation – we do this “every day”.

Vision Statement

Objective

To create a vision statement that is:

- Time specific and creates a sense of urgency
- Memorable and emotionally compelling or inspiring
- Applicable or relatable to all lines of business internally, residents, business community/stakeholders
- Strategic and achievable
- Addresses concepts such as:
 - What is the ideal picture of the organization's future?
 - How will successful attainment impact residents, customers, stakeholders?
 - How will we define success, what will it feel, look, and sound like?
 - How will it be measured?
- "To (do/be) WHAT by WHEN."

No. Idea

1. The city needs to realize the importance of a stable financial outlook. Citizens want to know the city leaders are treating their tax dollars as their own, with integrity, purpose and transparency. Services shall be available to all communities no community shall receive more than the other. Employees must feel part of a positive organization.
2. Financially-mega strong city creates a community that can then focus attention on and be able to meet the needs of residents and business leaders. This will draw attention from Valley-wide and Nationwide partners and will strengthen further investment in Glendale.
3. A truly safe environment/low crime rate and a reputation for finest quality of life
4. 21st century Glendale is acknowledged as the premier location for job creation incentivized by its reputation as one of the safest in the valley offering an enhanced live, work and play environment for its residents.
5. Economic development opportunity throughout the city, for start-ups, small businesses, and major employers/retailers, with a transportation and infrastructure system that supports them and connects them to the entire metropolitan area, and beyond.
6. Glendale has achieved financial stability through development of good paying jobs. This, along with a focus on public safety has attracted business relocation and expansion. The creation of public private partnerships in has resulted in an incredible number of very successful start up businesses in Glendale.

Strategic Planning & Balanced Scorecard Initiative

7. Glendale is financially stable and is a high demand destination for business and a variety of residential life styles. The long term financial success of its projects

Repeated Themes

- Financial strength and stability
- Compelling economic development environment and public-private partnerships
- A safe community
- Quality amenities, services, transportation, and infrastructure that meet the diverse needs of our community

Consultant Compilation of Ideas

Glendale 2020 is the gateway for the West Valley. We are financially strong, we are a one-community mindset, we are a safe and well run city. We are a net attractor of new business large and small in the markets/industries that matter for the future. We are also a net attractor of residents/families who are aligned with our values and seek the balance of quality of life and career opportunities. We have become the model for the new American community.

Staff Analysis

- Needs to be a SMART Goal: Specific, measurable, attainable, relevant/meaningful, and time bound.
- Need to keep the statement itself short, memorable, meaningful, and goal-oriented.
- Needs to be something that transcends all lines of business and all stakeholder groups (residents, visitors, businesses, partners, employees).
- “New American community” could mean different things to different people.

Variation for Council Consideration

Glendale 2022:

“We are the community of choice for residents, businesses, and employees.”

This statement consolidates the consultant compilation of ideas in terms of being a net attractor of residents and businesses. In order to become a community of choice, we inherently need to be “financially strong”, have a “one-community mindset”, and be a “safe and well run city.” This statement complements the proposed core value and mission statements; would provide strategic direction for the organization; is broad enough to be applicable to every line of business and every person we serve; would provide the ability to address all of the vision themes identified by Council; and, is constructed as a SMART goal.

- Specific – to be the community of choice
- Measureable – can easily establish appropriate measures and create trend analysis
- Attainable – with the right strategic focus this can definitely be accomplished
- Relevant – this is a meaningful measure that can be applied to all stakeholders
- Time-bound – specifies that this will be done before the end of the fifth fiscal year

CITY OF GLENDALE
STRATEGIC PLANNING STAKEHOLDER INPUT SESSIONS
FACILITATED BY THE ADVANCED STRATEGY CENTER

CONDUCTED OCTOBER 20-21, 2016 AND DECEMBER 13, 2016
SUMMARY REPORT AND FINDINGS

Stakeholder Session Agenda and Format

The Advanced Strategy Center (ASC) in Scottsdale, Arizona, was pleased to be asked by the City of Glendale to facilitate a set of five stakeholder feedback sessions on October 20-21, 2016 and December 13, 2016. The sessions were conducted using our Advanced Strategy Lab approach which enabled participants to connect via a web URL and concurrent voice call on a facilitated session for simultaneous and anonymous responses to a set of key questions about Glendale today and some of the strategic issues it is facing for the future. There were 5 sessions conducted with a total of 82 participants as follows:

- City of Glendale employees (34 participants)
- Resident members of Glendale boards and commissions (15 participants)
- Glendale business leaders (24 participants, 2 sessions)
- Glendale nonprofit leaders (9 participants)

Each session was 90 minutes in duration with the first hour being a common section of questions about Glendale today, and feedback on reputation, services, safety, community inclusion and the values that should guide the future for the city. Each session also had a unique section of questions relating specifically to the stakeholder segment. The sessions were facilitated by Advanced Strategy Center representatives Douglas Griffen and Carl Lundblad using a session guide that had been developed with the assistance of the City of Glendale planning team. Although each stakeholder session also had a set of specific questions for their sector/background, this document will focus on the key results from the common sections.

Our agenda for the common section of the sessions was as follows:

- Opening comments and welcome by Jean Moreno from the City of Glendale;
- Context and overview of the Advanced Strategy Lab OnLine platform by facilitator Douglas Griffen;
- A 'warm-up' question on what makes Glendale 'Glendale' (what describes us);
- Identification of the positive aspects of Glendale today with a categorization and assessment of the key themes;

- Identification of the concerning aspects of Glendale today with a categorization and assessment of the key themes;
- An overall assessment of Glendale today and whether the positives outweigh the negatives or the negatives outweigh the positives;
- Feedback on Glendale as a regional city and where Glendale compares favorably with other cities in the region and where Glendale compares unfavorably;
- Feedback on the quality of the service delivery from Glendale and identification of any service gaps that exist;
- Feedback on the issues of safety and inclusion in the community;
- Identification of the values that should guide Glendale in the future; and,
- A final feedback survey on the session process to capture participant demographics for our analysis and any open comments the participants had regarding the process.

1.0 What Makes Glendale “Glendale”

Our first ideation question, after the introductory comments and review of the Advanced Strategy Lab OnLine platform, was a warm-up question on what describes/differentiates Glendale:

Question: As a warm-up for our session, what do you feel are the most distinguishing aspects of Glendale as a city and a community? What is it that makes Glendale 'Glendale'?

While this was a simple warm-up question it yielded some very interesting top-of-mind themes:

- ✓ A home-town/small-town feel;
- ✓ Sports and entertainment venues;
- ✓ The sense of a connected community;
- ✓ Its own identity but still the proximity to the overall valley/region;
- ✓ Family friendly, history, and heritage;
- ✓ Long term relationship and impact of Luke AFB;
- ✓ A sense of a safe community;
- ✓ Glendale Glitters, traditions that are important;
- ✓ The big player in the West Valley.

KEY FINDING: This is a community-oriented response and provides a general sense about the city. People like living here; it's friendly and connected and has a genuine sense of history and tradition. The community has the best of two worlds – exciting entertainment venues while maintaining a “small town feel”.

2.0 Glendale Today—The Positive Aspects

Our next activity was a feedback exercise to identify the positive aspects of Glendale:

Question: Thinking now about the Glendale community overall, what do you feel are the most POSITIVE ASPECTS about the city? What do you like most about Glendale as a place to live/work and spend time?

For this topic, we conducted open brainstorming on the question followed by a summarization process and a prioritization process. The following is the summary of the positive aspects:

Rating Criteria: Importance of the Aspect to You Personally (1-10)

Rank	Idea	High	Low	Avg. Resp.
1.	Active Chamber and impact to the business community	10	5	9.5	15/15
2.	Active Mayor and Council, accessible	10	1	9.1	15/15
3.	Strong focus on public safety	10	2	8.5	76/77
4.	Good schools/education system	10	3	8.3	41/43
5.	A family friendly community	10	1	8.1	75/77
6.	Strong business environment	10	3	8.0	76/77
7.	Variety of entertainment venues	10	1	7.9	77/77
8.	Good neighborhoods	10	1	7.9	75/77
9.	Easy to get around/navigate	10	2	7.8	43/43
10.	Potential for growth and development	10	1	7.8	77/77
11.	Strong level of community involvement	10	1	7.7	75/77
12.	Affordability	10	1	7.7	75/77
13.	Positive impact of Luke AFB	10	2	7.7	75/77
14.	Housing and businesses in good proximity to each other	10	2	7.6	41/43
15.	Good access to parks/recreation	10	2	7.5	41/43
16.	Developing strong tourism drivers/destinations	10	1	7.5	30/30
17.	Westgate corridor	10	1	7.2	77/77
18.	Our own city, but close to the greater Phoenix metro area	10	1	7.1	41/43
19.	Friendly feel of downtown	10	1	7.1	77/77

20.	A range of stadiums and sports venues	10	1	7.1	77/77
21.	A blend of new/old	10	1	7.1	30/30
22.	Overall small town feel	10	1	6.4	77/77
23.	Glendale Glitters	10	1	6.4	75/77
24.	Strong history/heritage	10	1	6.1	76/77

KEY FINDING: Community factors really matter and Glendale scores well here—public safety, schools, family friendly, affordability and neighborhoods. Add entertainment, parks and recreation and a good business environment and you have a strong base. Business leaders value the Chamber and the accessibility to the Glendale City Leaders. There is also a sense of opportunity for the future that can be seen here and in other areas, but a concern—shown in the next section--on whether Glendale can capitalize on that opportunity.

3.0 Glendale Today—The Concerning Aspects

In our next topic we focused on the concerning aspects of Glendale today:

Question: Still thinking about the Glendale community overall, what do you feel are the most CONCERNING ASPECTS about the city? What do you like least about Glendale as a place to live/work and spend time?

Similar to the previous topic we conducted open brainstorming on the question followed by a summarization process and a prioritization process. The following is the summary of the concerning aspects:

Rating Criteria: How Concerning to You Personally (1-10)

Rank	Idea	High	Low	Avg. Resp.
1.	Concerns on financial management/long term viability	10	2	8.0	43/43
2.	Concern about increasing crime levels	10	1	7.9	76/77
3.	The City having a one sided view at times in dealing with business owners/development (we are right...)	10	3	7.8	16/16
4.	Unclear about Glendale's future direction as a community/city	10	1	7.7	77/77
5.	Perception emerging that Glendale is difficult to work with	10	1	7.7	43/43
6.	Not enough high paying professional jobs	10	3	7.6	41/43
7.	Some areas of city look worn and tired	10	2	7.4	76/77
8.	Lack of stability in key leadership positions at city level	10	1	7.4	43/43
9.	Recent history of poor relations with business/civic partners	10	1	7.4	76/77
10.	Potential loss of the Coyotes (affects our economy and our image)	10	1	7.3	16/16
11.	Some divisiveness in city government structure	10	1	7.1	76/77
12.	Lack of an inter-modal transportation system	10	1	7.0	42/43
13.	Too much influence by special interests in key decisions/issues	10	1	7.0	23/24
14.	Lack of robust downtown development	10	1	6.9	75/77

15.	The degree of homelessness	10	1	6.9	76/77
16.	Lack of adequate business/employment opportunities for high school/college graduates	10	1	6.8	75/77
17.	Increasing drug use	10	1	6.8	38/43
18.	Level of negative press	10	1	6.5	77/77
19.	Lack of affordable housing for lower income families	10	1	6.3	24/24
20.	Whether our schools are fully inclusive/open	10	1	5.5	23/24
21.	Many people see the West Valley/Glendale as 'way out there' and isolated geographically from Metro Phoenix	10	1	5.4	23/24
22.	Unclear why some special events are taken off the calendar	10	1	5.1	29/31
23.	Lack of community diversity	10	1	5.0	74/77
24.	Not clear there is a central point in the city	10	1	4.4	72/77

KEY FINDING: It is important to look carefully at concerns as they not only give insight into potential deficiencies; but, they also have the ability to guide opportunities for improvement. Participants identified social issues that nearly every growing city faces—drug use, homelessness, increasing crime, lack of enough high-paying jobs. But also leadership and reputational issues that are more unique to the city: financial management issues, lack of stability in key city positions, negative press, divisiveness and a perception that ‘Glendale is difficult to work with’. Couple all of this with lack of a clear long term direction and it creates a sense of uncertainty for the community and the organization.

4.0 Assessing Glendale Today: The Positives vs. the Negatives

Our next exercise was to ask our participants to reflect on their overall feedback about Glendale today and identify the ONE MOST POSITIVE ASPECT as well as the ONE MOST CONCERNING ASPECT but to provide more context about why those aspects were so important to them personally. Then, we asked participants to indicate whether the positives outweigh the negatives or vice versa:

Sample positive verbatim statements:

- “Community involvement. I like that the citizens of Glendale are so passionate. I like that the festivals are always packed. Glendale folks get involved and take advantage of what's available to them to enjoy and participate in.”
- “The variety and quality of entertainment venues - Westgate, Downtown, etc. They have the potential for building Glendale into a world-class city with a great reputation, which boosts the citizens, organizations and businesses.”
- “I run a business in Glendale so for me, it is about the area as a whole: things to do and the perception of the city is extremely important to me... Everyone needs to feel proud about the city they work/ live in.”

Sample concerning verbatim statements:

- “The extremely high crime per population our city has along with the slums south Glendale is becoming. That compared with startling housing costs in the north the city is driving out middle class unless they want to live in extreme crime riddled neighborhoods.”
- “Lack of direction--if we don't know where we are heading or know where we are, how do we know what our priorities are, what changes need to be made?”
- “I am concerned about the negative national/state press that we have received and the perception that we are difficult to work with could negatively effect the opportunities to bring business to the city.”

Question: Reflecting on the overall input about Glendale TODAY, do the POSITIVES (what you like) outweigh the NEGATIVES (what you don't) for Glendale as an overall city/community?

No.	Items	Times Selected
1.	The positive somewhat outweigh the negatives	21 (26%)
2.	The positives and negatives balance each other out	18 (23%)
3.	The positives far outweigh the negatives	17 (21%)
4.	The negatives somewhat outweigh the positives	16 (20%)
5.	The negatives far outweigh the positives	6 (7%)

KEY FINDING: This is a widely mixed response. On one hand you could say that 50% of the participants feel that the positives either somewhat outweigh the negatives or far outweigh the negatives. On the other hand, you could say that 50% of the participants either feel that the positives/negatives balance out or the negatives somewhat or far outweigh the positives. What's clear is this: there are a lot of people in the middle and a strong and positive strategic direction could have real impact on the perception of Glendale.

5.0 Glendale and its Reputation

We next asked participants to step back and reflect on the overall region (cities in both the East and West Valley) to determine where Glendale compares favorably and where unfavorably:

Question: Think about other cities in the West Valley (i.e., Goodyear, Peoria, Surprise, Buckeye, etc.) as well as in the East Valley (Mesa, Tempe, Chandler, Gilbert, etc.). All of these are cities in the broader 'Valley Region' outside of Phoenix but still with a level of proximity and access to Phoenix itself. We are interested in how you feel GLENDALE compares to other cities in the region:

Summary of where Glendale compares favorably:

- ✓ High visibility sports and entertainment district (stadium, arena, Westgate, Tanger, Casino);
- ✓ Festivals and event programming, adds variety to entertainment options;
- ✓ Unique history/heritage, maintaining its small town feel;
- ✓ Level of community focus and citizen involvement;
- ✓ Effective planning for future growth and development;
- ✓ Strong presence of higher education institutions;
- ✓ Luke Air Force Base, economic impact and point of pride;
- ✓ National exposure/name recognition due to stadium venue.

Summary of where Glendale compares unfavorably:

- ✓ Negative media attention;
- ✓ Unhealthy politics, divisiveness, management instability;
- ✓ Difficult to work with, lacking strong partnerships;
- ✓ Lacking vision, progressiveness, innovation, stuck in the past;
- ✓ Streets, congestion, lacking in public transit;
- ✓ Blighted neighborhoods, crime, cleanliness, run down;
- ✓ Failure to go after tech industry, slow development of vacant land, workforce attraction;
- ✓ Lacking contemporary activities, vibrancy, and services.

The key question then is what could Glendale do over the next 3-5 years to address areas needing improvement or create strategic change.

Question: What do you think Glendale should do over the next 3-5 years that would add value to ensuring that Glendale is viewed as one of the premier communities in the Region? Please be as specific as you can:

This is an excellent level of input as it points to many potential strategic objectives. The following are some sample responses that indicate some of the potential focus areas:

- “Focus on the development of public transportation opportunities, improve the appearance of city buildings, get rid of blighted areas/properties, focus on revitalization.”
- “Expand on services to our Residents. Build better parks, facilities, relationships, partnerships, etc. Ensure we keep our promise on improving the quality of life for citizens.”
- “Clean up downtown Glendale. Add in new restaurants that are popular and "hip"... Much like downtown Phoenix with eclectic, fun restaurants with good food and drinks to offer visitors a place to visit and employees the opportunity to meet for lunch or dinner after work.”
- “Glendale could be its own press - change the view of what others think of us by projecting our positives and, without being defensive, tone down the negatives. In other words, get a good PR team!”
- “Glendale is a leader in the west valley. Act as a leader rather than superior. Attract higher paying jobs and work on rebuilding relationships.”
- “Need a clear vision of what the city plans to do in the future. A communication campaign for the city by the city council would be helpful.”

One of the most important questions we asked was whether Glendale could become the premier community in the region:

Question: As you think about Glendale today and the idea of Glendale being known as a premier community in the region over the next 3-5 years, is that something, with the right leadership/planning, that is realistic for us?

No.	Items	Times Selected
1.	Yes	55 (71%)
2.	Not sure yet	18 (23%)
3.	No	4 (5%)

KEY FINDING: Building a community for the future is not easy, but Glendale has a good foundation of positive things to build on and a community of invested stakeholders. Responses overwhelmingly indicated that the sports and entertainment district, attention to downtown with festivals and historic preservation, and community engagement are what sets Glendale apart from other communities in the region. Of those where Glendale does not fare favorably, a majority are related to perception and communication which can be easily addressed through a strong public relations strategy; and, the balance could easily be addressed through actionable strategic objectives across all lines of business citywide. There was a very high level of optimism that, with the right planning and leadership, Glendale can progress to a more positive future.

6.0 Assessment of the City Services

We moved to a new topic being the feedback on city services and asked about the services that are most valued and the gaps that exist.

Summary of city services that are most valued:

- ✓ Public safety (fire, police, emergency responders);
- ✓ Level of community outreach and engagement;
- ✓ Parks and libraries;
- ✓ Trash pickup;
- ✓ Special events and festivals;
- ✓ Code enforcement;
- ✓ General maintenance of city infrastructure.

Summary of where gaps exist in city services:

- ✓ More walkable development areas;
- ✓ More transparency across the board;
- ✓ Increased hours for libraries and youth recreation programs;
- ✓ Focus on employee wellness;
- ✓ Increase investment in public transportation;
- ✓ Improve online services overall;
- ✓ More community policing, bike patrols;
- ✓ Business incubators and start-up support.

We also asked participants to rate the over quality of customer service support:

Rank	Idea	High	Low	Avg.
1.	Overall, how would you rate Glendale today in terms of providing high quality customer service based on your specific stakeholder perspective (either providing or receiving that service)? Use a scale of 1-10 where a '1' means a very low quality of customer service and a '10' means a very high quality level of customer service:	10	2	6.7

KEY FINDING: The city is well regarded for traditional services (police, fire, library, etc.). However, economic cutbacks have impacted the quality perception and there is a sense of opportunity to be more progressive in the services that can be provided. In terms of rating the quality of customer service, the 6.7 rating indicates that there is room for improvement.

7.0 Safety & Inclusion in Glendale

This could be a session by itself as people (everywhere) have different definitions of what makes them “feel safe” and what it means to be ‘inclusive’; but, we know that these are very important topics of discussion across the nation and will be an integral part of the dialogue related to overall community development.

Summary of behaviors or activities that make people feel safe:

- ✓ Clean and well-lit streets;
- ✓ Absence of graffiti and loitering;
- ✓ Well-kept neighborhoods;
- ✓ Actively engaged neighbors;
- ✓ Visibility of public safety personnel in the community

Overall, do you feel safe in Glendale?

No.	Items	Times Selected
1.	Yes	56 (74%)
2.	Not sure	13 (17%)
3.	No	6 (8%)

Summary of behaviors and activities that inclusive communities or organizations portray:

- ✓ Transparency;
- ✓ Open dialogue with everyone;
- ✓ A welcoming environment;
- ✓ Respect for everyone’s opinions;
- ✓ Intentional outreach;
- ✓ Multi-dimensional view of diversity;
- ✓ Tolerance relative to political and religious views;
- ✓ Broad access to leaders;
- ✓ Genuine compassion.

Overall, do you feel that Glendale is an inclusive community?

No.	Items	Times Selected
1.	No	26 (34%)
2.	Not sure	26 (34%)
3.	Yes	23 (30%)

KEY FINDING: These are both very important findings for consideration, albeit a small sample size. A majority of respondents (74%) indicated that they feel safe in Glendale. Of that respondent category, many cited active neighborhoods and good community policing as factors in feeling safe. Of those that responded 'not sure' or 'no', they cited increases in neighborhood blight and a need to create a pride of ownership in neighborhoods as factors.

On the question of whether Glendale is perceived as an inclusive community, 34% specifically stated that they do not feel that Glendale is an inclusive community and there were a significant number of respondents (34%) that were not sure (which likely means 'at times'). Factors cited in the 'no' or 'not sure' responses indicated that a lack of services for underprivileged youth and poorer parts of the community and lack of collaborative effort both internally and externally, as factors. The question that will need to be discussed is why inclusivity matters for Glendale and what does it mean. It will be very important for Glendale to be clear what it means by inclusivity at the city organization level as well as the community level moving forward.

8.0 The Values that Matter

The concept a values driven organization is powerful and is generally an integral part of organizational development initiatives. In order to gain stakeholder feedback on participants were asked for general input on the most important values that should guide the city, its employees and its workplace culture. Some are traditional while others have a certain level of nuance. Responses were not ranked; this exercise was intended to get a general sense of the key themes as shown below which can be considered as a reference set from the stakeholder perspective:

Integrity:	Trust, honesty, ethics, fairness, reliability, compassion
Communication:	Transparency, community dialogue, respectful, open, approachable
Inclusiveness:	Diversity, equality, justice, tolerance, acceptance
Collaboration:	Teamwork, dedication, engagement at all levels
Employees:	Learning, education, training, rewards/incentives, work-life balance, health, valued asset
Leadership:	Fiscal responsibility, respect, compassion, accountability, courage, allow mistakes, humility
Service:	Commitment to excellence, citizens first, go above and beyond
Innovation:	Be open to change, visionary,

KEY FINDING: Every organization has a set of values whether written or unwritten. The question is whether there is a culture and a level of leadership that demonstrates and reinforces constructive values. Defining the values that everyone is expected to abide by is the first step towards developing the culture around the kind of organization Glendale wants to be; but, more importantly, defining the expected behaviors that the 4-6 key values should promote. Once in place, there needs to be a strong commitment at all levels to stick with the values.

9.0 Leadership Feedback and Open Comments

Next participants were asked to reflect on specific feedback for city leadership about shaping the future of Glendale:

Question: As you think about the future of Glendale, say the next 3-5 years, what is the ONE MESSAGE that you have for leadership of Glendale (City Manager/Mayor/Council...) about how to shape that future and what it needs to look like? Please be as specific and persuasive as you can:

These were very powerful statements about the future and the passion for Glendale. Examples of the statements are as follows:

- ✓ “Think about the needs of the residents of the city, the fact that you must promote business in order to improve the economic climate, and by doing this you will resolve a number of issues downstream as tax revenues increase, and job opportunities improve for the residents.”
- ✓ “Remember the past, value the talent of your employees and the citizens, listen, remember you are new to the area understand you might not know all yet.”
- ✓ “Plan for necessary services for the future growth, transportation, business retention and attraction, attract the strongest professionals to manage the city departments and attract the best candidates to hold office.”
- ✓ “Glendale MUST become progressive for its citizens and future business owners. The world is changing and we need to recognize it. Community Events, Community Programs, Alternative Outlooks are a few things we can do.”
- ✓ “Promote unity and communicate a unified message so everyone in the city, region and state understands the direction we are going and will support the direction. Involve businesses, organizations, city employees, schools, etc. In creating the vision for the future.”
- ✓ “Become financially stable. Complete the task of re-negotiating, settling or buying out the old contracts that have been so harmful.”
- ✓ “Create a specific long-term vision for the city. It is so hard to move forward on anything without that vision. Decide if you want light rail. Decide what to do with the sports and entertainment venues. Decide what kind of businesses you want to attract. And then go for it!”

KEY FINDING: The statements were very forward looking, a sense that there is a significant opportunity ahead for the city to capitalize on. A general theme here is to be realistic with the issues but focus on a positive future.

10.0 Value of Stakeholder Forums

Finally, to ascertain the value of the facilitated sessions and the interactive web-based platform, we asked participants to tell us how they felt about the use of the Advanced Strategy Lab. Some of the feedback included:

- ✓ Appreciation of the opportunity to express thoughts/opinions
- ✓ Value in seeing other responses in real time
- ✓ Ability to provide candid remarks and be honest
- ✓ Good variety of focus areas addressed
- ✓ Seeking stakeholder input is a step in the right direction
- ✓ Minimized potential for miscommunication because of direct input

Rank	Idea	High	Low	Avg.
1.	What was the value of the Advanced Strategy Lab system in supporting today's session? (1-10 scale, 1 being of no value, 10 being of significant value)	10	5	9.0

FINAL COMMENTS: Participants genuinely care about Glendale and want it to emerge as an outstanding community, a safe environment, a strong economic environment, a values-driven community, an inclusive and welcoming community and a regional leader. They also think that this is an achievable future but will require clear and consistent leadership and the ability to stay the course and deliver results.

11.0 Stakeholder Participants

Special thanks to all of the stakeholders for taking the time out to provide valuable insights which will continue to be a very important part of the strategic planning process.

Context on Our Values Development for Glendale

Instructions: We are going to move now into the set of activities to define and assess a specific set of values for Glendale moving forward. The following points should be helpful to frame our work on the values:

Ideas Results

No. Idea

1. Start with a fresh look. There may be values that in been in place before for the organization and they may have had good impact and we'll see them again. At the same time, this is a different organization and community now and we want to consider whether there are new values that may be important for the future in terms of attracting and retaining jobs, businesses, workforce, and talented employees.
2. There are a wide range of values that may come to mind--our interest here is to develop significant value THEMES that might combine some similar values or important aspects but create a compelling/overarching values area.
3. Research and leadership experience in other organizations has suggested that the number of key value themes should be in the range of 4-6. When you have too many values it suggests you are trying to be all things to all people. A clear set of compelling value themes should be memorable and impactful so they guide us every day.
4. Our values should be defined and communicated so they can guide our employees and leaders in the workplace AS WELL AS guiding our interactions with the greater Glendale community. They should be inward facing as well as community facing. They should be applicable to every employee and community interaction.
5. Our values should also be enduring; they should stand the test of time. Our interest here is to develop a set of core values that become part of the 'fabric' and culture of the City of Glendale. Our strategies may change, our systems may change, and our leadership may change. Our constant will be the values that guide us today and into the future.
6. Values drive behavior, behavior drives culture, and culture drives performance.

Identification of Core Values for the City of Glendale

Instructions: With that context in mind, let's get to work. What do you feel are the most important values/themes that should guide the City of Glendale, its employees, its workplace, its leaders and its interaction with the community? (multiple responses)

Ideas Results

No. Idea

1. Integrity -- honesty consistently applied
2. Trust
3. Respect
4. Quality of Life
5. Vision
6. Respect
7. Honesty in all its dealings
8. Investment in employees
9. Trust in our staff
10. Respect of others in the organization
11. Welcome everybody to Glendale
12. Compassion
13. Lead by example

S1 Survey: The Behaviors We Would Expect to See

Instructions: Please respond to the following survey questions. There will be an instruction at the end of the survey on how to submit your responses.

Questionnaire Results
7 responses

Values, as they become part of the culture of an organization, should be visible and influence behaviors on an everyday basis. Looking at each of our values below, how would you RECOGNIZE them in the City of Glendale workplace? What would our employees and leaders be doing in terms of their actions and behaviors that would suggest that the value is in place? Is there any LANGUAGE you would suggest we change or edit?

1. GUIDED BY INTEGRITY: a sense throughout our organization that there is an unquestionable level of integrity, ethics and honesty guiding our communications and interactions. Creates a sense of trust within the organization and to the community in the work that we do. At the end of the day, it implies fairness and transparency in all we do.

No. Idea

1. By compliments or complaints from citizens
2. Working full shifts, leaving on time not early, finishing the job, owning your job versus delegating duties to others.
3. Would rather that we are committed to fairness and transparency in all we do.
4. Behavior: planning department moves more quickly in granting approval, especially for small, citizen-driven projects. If Code cannot act, offer information on alternative resources.
Wordsmithing: Throughout our organization we rely upon an unquestionable level of integrity, ethics and honesty guide all of our actions. Trust within the organization and community is driven by fairness, transparency and accountability.
5. Rather than a sense throughout, should read, the example is being set by the organizations leaders... Council members must be ambassadors to the city they must speak well of the organization.
6. The customers of the city (citizens and business community and key players), say the city of Glendale delivers on what they promise.
7. "Transparency" should be part of the first sentence, not like an afterthought. Ethics training, discussions, and review on regular basis. Customize to each department and their specific ethical challenges.

2. QUALITY SERVICES/OPERATIONAL EXCELLENCE: We are guided by the delivery of high quality services to our community at an affordable cost with clear impact. Excellence guides how we design our services and how we deliver our intended results. This creates a sense of organizational pride/community value. Implies a positive attitude -- we start with yes.

No. Idea

1. Meeting or exceeding citizen expectations
2. Having/demonstrating a can-do attitude and we-will-do attitude, team effort.
3. We need to promote a culture of facilitators.
4. Our goal is facilitation of citizen needs and flexibility of staff to accomplish them.
5. Remove implies. Facilitate not regulate should be the theme. Leaders should advocate for high level services for the city as a whole regardless of the demographics.
6. Economic development within the city continues to grow and expand its impact regionally. The city attracts high quality jobs and industry because of the quality of service provided. Residents give high marks to city services they receive.
7. Change "we start with yes" to "we look for merit in every idea". Annually survey our citizens and "customers" on how we are doing. Track progress. Provide anonymous feedback opportunities at every point of interaction, every day. Strive to have every department certified for excellence by outside agency.

3. A HERITAGE OF INCLUSIVENESS AND BELONGING: Glendale is built on being a welcoming community to any who want to be here. It creates commitment by our community and a richness of skills and background. We value the viewpoints of everyone and we create an open/transparent environment.

No. Idea

2. Serving all customers/residents no matter what office, no matter what problem, and regardless of the difficulty level
3. Commitment to promoting diversity and the things that make Glendale unique.
4. Nothing to offer for this question
5. The city needs to be the leader when we talk about inclusiveness. We must set the example. Saying that we are inclusive is not enough.
6. The city does not receive complaints from individuals or groups that indicate there is an ongoing problem
7. Change "transparent" to "and welcoming". Establish Diversity Commission and support their activities. Adopt a non-discrimination ordinance. Support local organizations in acknowledging and promoting our diversity.

4. INNOVATION MATTERS: We are an organization that constantly looks at how to do things better and welcomes creative ideas and new thinking. This creates a flexible organization and an ability to try new things and quickly respond to changes.

No. Idea

1. Seeing positive changes
2. While innovation is important, frequently innovation is ahead of its time and doesn't necessary create efficiency.
3. We are an organization that values efficiencies created by new thinking. New methods technologies creates cost saving agility.
4. Innovation is a must language in the organization if it is not, then we are leaving ideas that could have a positive impact on our citizens. We can serve better by investing in our technology. Status quo leads to low customer service
5. Glendale becomes a hub of where things are happening. Costs for providing services drop as a result of innovation.
6. Search for new, good ideas from outside the valley. Utilize Governing Magazine, Ash Center for Excellence, nonprofit awards, etc.

5. A BIAS FOR ACTION: While we will always take time to review and consider input, we will be an organization that makes decisions fairly but quickly and moves forward with our actions.

No. Idea

1. History shows in some cases, moving too fast is not always the best. Ignoring an issue and hoping it goes away is the worst.
2. Depending on the issue rushing decisions may be damaging to the city, on the other hand decisions that need to be nudged for a positive purpose could also be damaging. The city needs a balance approach
3. Move into Bullet #2 by adding, timely responsiveness to citizens
4. Residents, key players, and the business community play, work and live in Glendale because it is saves time, money and effort. Employees are able to make decisions quickly which results in positive feedback from the community overall.
5. Delete "while". Add "thoroughly" before "review". Change "but" to "and". Track projects and ideas.

6. A CONSTANT INVESTMENT IN DEVELOPMENT AND LEARNING: Our ability to develop and deliver the highest quality services is dependent upon the best trained/developed workforce. We will constantly invest in the skills and processes needed to deliver what is needed. We are committed to the principle of lifelong learning for our elected officials/employees/community.

No. Idea

1. While investment is important, there needs to be assurances that investment in the employee is returned to the city and citizens.
2. Our employees come with a great deal of experience when hired however there must be an investment in their education to better serve the community and the organization. In this ever changing world it is a must that we continue learning and training this include elected officials

3. No comment
4. Our employees understand how to effectively carry out their job duties. Residents and the business community increase their involvement in Glendale because we show we get things done. Employees are recognized for education excellence.

1. Multiple district meetings are important among all council
2. Be open to reaching out to community for feedback/ideas.
3. This shall be a must for the city we have communities that have and are aging. Checking the needs of the community on a regular basis will develop a buy in from all stake holders. If the city does not recognize the needs of their citizens who will?
4. As providers of service to our community we value community engagement.
5. The city is constantly requesting for input through surveys, public meetings, and advisory committees.
6. Annually survey our citizens and "customers" on how we are doing. Track progress. Provide anonymous feedback opportunities at every point of interaction, every day.

ZONING ORDINANCE TEXT AMENDMENT (ZTA) ZTA16-02 (City Council Input on Expanding Locations Where Chickens May be Kept)

Staff Contact and Presenter: Sam McAllen, Director, Development Services

Staff Presenter: Jon M. Froke, AICP, Planning Director

Purpose and Policy Guidance

In response to a Council Item of Special Interest, staff presented information to City Council at their January 19, 2016 Workshop regarding the keeping and raising of chickens in residential neighborhoods. At that Workshop, staff clarified that chickens are currently allowed to be kept in Glendale neighborhoods with Agricultural (A-1), Rural Residential (RR-90; RR-45) and Suburban Residential (SR-30; SR-17; SR-12) zoning. During that Workshop, City Council provided staff with direction to initiate a Zoning Text Amendment (ZTA) process to consider allowing chickens in additional residential zoning districts. Since that Workshop, staff initiated the ZTA process, conducted a citizen participation process meeting (August 2016) and brought information to the Planning Commission on two occasions (September and December 2016) to introduce the ZTA, seek the Planning Commission's input and keep them strategically involved in the ZTA process.

Staff is preparing to write the ZTA language and needs City Council input and direction regarding specific details and components that will be included in the ZTA. The information provided by City Council at today's Workshop will be integrated into ZTA language that will support expanding locations where chickens can be kept and raised in Glendale.

Staff is seeking City Council input and direction regarding specific details that will be included in a ZTA that will expand where chickens may be kept in Glendale.

Background

In response to a Council Item of Special Interest regarding the keeping and raising of chickens, staff provided City Council with a report and presentation on January 19, 2016 that identified where chickens could currently be kept in Glendale and shared information about how other local cities have allowed chickens in their communities. Staff was given direction to initiate a ZTA process that would increase the locations where chickens could be kept and raised in Glendale. During that Workshop, City Council also discussed the need to 1) establish a reasonable number of chickens that can be kept on properties, 2) clarified that only hens (no roosters) would be permitted in the expanded areas, 3) discussed that chickens must be confined in fences or cages, 4) confirmed their intention that a new Zoning Text Amendment would not override current HOA rules, and 5) confirmed that the city's current nuisance codes for animal noise and odor would apply to properties where the keeping and raising of chickens would be permitted.

On August 17, 2016, the Planning Division hosted a citizen participation meeting to introduce the ZTA concept to the public. Approximately 85 persons attended the meeting. Speaker cards were provided at the meeting as a means of gathering public input. A total of 56 speaker cards were returned with 12 indicating support for expanding areas where chickens could be kept and the remaining cards indicated opposition to the proposed ZTA or supporting current locations where chickens may be kept.

On September 1, 2016, the concept of ZTA16-02 was introduced to the Planning Commission at their Workshop meeting. The Planning Commission formally initiated ZTA16-02: Zoning Text Amendment (ZTA) - ZTA16-02 - Chickens. During the Workshop, Commissioners were informed that City Council would like to create a ZTA that accomplishes the following:

- Expands the areas where chickens would be permitted in Glendale;
- Only allows hens (no roosters) to be kept in the expanded areas;
- Requires that hens be contained in either fences or cages;
- Does not override existing HOA rules; and
- Existing city codes related to animal noise and odor would apply.

Commissioners asked staff questions including the following:

- What is a reasonable number of chickens?
- How do the ten largest cities in Arizona regulate chickens?
- What were the numbers of Code Compliance complaints concerning chickens?
- Will the proposed ZTA address only chickens?

On December 1, 2016, at the Planning Commission's Workshop, the Planning Commission received staff responses to the questions they previously asked and provided staff with input regarding considerations that should be taken into account as the text of ZTA16-02 is drafted. During the Workshop, Commission Members did not take any formal action to reach consensus, rather they identified lot/yard size, distance from a neighbor's yard, and the quantity of chickens to be allowed as key issues. Additionally, they identified the following concerns that need to be addressed or clarified as the ZTA moves forward:

- A maximum quantity of chickens should be established. A Commission Member identified establishing a maximum number of chickens, such as five (5) or six (6), would make the process simple. Another idea was the development of a formula that would allow a lesser number of chickens to be kept a smaller properties and would increase (i.e. one additional chicken would be permitted for every 1,000 square feet) up to an established maximum number of chickens on larger properties;
- Chickens should not be classified as pets;
- Chickens should only be permitted in backyards;
- Coop placement should follow house structure guidelines;
- Chickens should not be permitted in apartments or townhomes;
- Consider including neighbors in the process if chickens are permitted in residential districts;
- Fencing should be required (exterior yard fencing would be appropriate);
- Allow chickens to be kept in any area of the backyard (i.e. dog run locations are not regulated);
- The allowance of chickens at additional properties should be anchored by allowing chickens in occupied residential dwellings vs. allowing them only by zoning district; this would allow chickens to be kept in properties with M-1 zoning that are being used as a residence.

During the Workshop staff answered Commissioners' questions about how chicken noise complaints are addressed and if other animals (ducks and geese) were to be included in the ZTA. Commission members also expressed concern for older chickens and what happens to them when they pass the egg bearing stage of their life.

Analysis

Zoning Ordinances are unique to each municipality and are drafted, adopted and enforced according to each municipality's guidelines and community standards. The City of Glendale currently allows the keeping and raising of chickens in Glendale neighborhoods with Agricultural (A-1), Rural Residential (RR-90; RR-45) and Suburban Residential (SR-30; SR-17; SR-12) zoning. Glendale City Council provided staff with direction to initiate a ZTA process to expand the areas where chickens can be kept; the process has been initiated.

Staff is seeking City Council input and direction on key components of proposed ZTA language to make sure the ZTA reflects City Council's desired direction and clearly establishes Glendale's community standards regarding keeping chickens.

The following policy questions and options for consideration are being provided to City Council as starting points to advance today's discussion with regard to identifying properties where chickens may be kept, determining the maximum number of chickens that can be kept at these properties, identifying locations on properties where chickens may be kept, and confirming other criteria that should be considered as ZTA language is drafted.

Policy Question #1) Where should the keeping of chickens be allowed within Glendale?

Options for consideration:

- Expand the keeping and raising of chickens to include all occupied properties in single family zoning districts (R1-10, R1-8, R1-7, R1-6 and R1-4);
- Expand the keeping and raising of chickens to include all occupied properties in multi-family zoning districts;
- Expand the keeping and raising of chickens based upon a properties lot size (i.e. 4,000 sq. feet and greater);
- Expand the keeping and raising of chickens based upon the residential use of a property (i.e. a property may be zoned M-1 but may be being used as a residential dwelling);
- Do not expand where chickens may be kept; and
- Any other options identified by City Council will be discussed.

Policy Question #2) What is the maximum number of chickens that will be permitted on any one property where the keeping of chickens is expanded through the ZTA?

Options for consideration:

- Establish a reasonable number of chickens based upon the size of a property (i.e. up to 4 chickens on properties 4,000 sq. ft. in size and expand the allowance of one (1) additional chicken for every additional 1,000 sq. ft. of property);
- Establish a uniform maximum number of chickens (i.e. six (6)) allowed on all properties impacted by the ZTA;
- Establish the maximum number of chickens allowed based upon the occupancy of a property;
- Do not establish a maximum allowable number of chickens; and

- Any other options identified by City Council will be discussed.

Policy Question #3) Should the ZTA include a stipulation that clarifies how and where chickens can be kept on a property?

Options for consideration:

- Require that chickens be contained by either fences, coops, cages or structures;
- Prohibit the keeping of chickens in a front yard;
- Don't require limitations as to where chickens may be kept on a property (i.e. we do not limit dog run placement);
- Restrict placement of a chicken fence, coop, cage or structure within 25 feet of a structure on a neighboring property;
- Require obtaining permission from neighboring property owners/occupants if chickens are to be kept within 25 feet of a structure on the neighboring property;
- Do not establish a limitation on how and where chickens are kept, rather require that they be contained on the property where their owner resides; and
- Any other options identified by City Council will be discussed.

Staff would also like to confirm that City Councils intentions related to the proposed ZTA language:

- Confirm the ZTA only applies to chickens (no other animals).
- Confirm that chickens are not being considered as pets.
- Confirm only hens (no roosters) would be permitted.
- Confirm that the new ZTA language will not supersede existing HOA rules related to chickens.
- Confirm that properties that are permitted to have chickens must comply with the current city code (Chapter 25, Article II, Section 25-24(f) (g) (h)) related to animal noise odor and waste removal.

The information provided by City Council today will be integrated into ZTA language that will increase the locations where chickens can be kept and raised in Glendale. After ZTA language has been drafted, a citizen participation meeting will be held to gather the community input on the drafted ZTA language. The ZTA will then be brought to a Planning Commission hearing where the Planning Commission will take public comments on the ZTA and will make a formal recommendation to the City Council. The results of the Planning Commission will be brought to the City Council for their consideration at a City Council Voting Meeting.

Previous Related Council Action

On June 23, 1993 Glendale City Council passed and adopted Ordinance #1772 establishing the city's most recent Zoning Ordinance.

On January 19, 2016 Glendale City Council directed staff to initiate a Zoning Text Amendment process that would consider allowing chickens in Glendale's residentially zoned districts.

Community Benefit/Public Involvement

On August 17, 2016, the Planning Division hosted a citizen participation meeting to introduce the ZTA concept to the public. Approximately 85 persons attended the meeting.

The ZTA process for changing the Zoning Ordinance involves multiple public input opportunities. After the ZTA language has been drafted it will be shared with the community at another citizen participation meeting where the public will have an opportunity to provide feedback. The ZTA will then be brought before the Planning Commission and then to the City Council. Some Glendale residents have contacted the city through a variety of channels and expressed their position on proposed ZTA16-02. That information will be provided to the Planning Commission and City Council as the ZTA is brought forward at future Planning Commission and City Council hearings.

At the January 19, 2016 Council Workshop a councilmember identified a Council Item of Special Interest asking about the potential of allowing chickens in residential neighborhoods. Currently, the A-1, RR-90, RR-45, SR-30, SR-17 and SR-12 zoning districts allow chickens. If the ZTA is approved, chickens would also be allowed in the R1-10, R1-8, R1-6 and R1-4 zoning districts.

The City of Glendale is seeking your thoughts on this topic. Before we proceed with the ZTA we are looking for your input. Thank you.

RE: Proposed Zoning Text Amendment to Permit Chickens In All Single-Family
Residential Zoning Districts (ZTA 16-02)

I am opposed to any changes in Glendale's zoning ordinance to allow chickens to be raised and kept in all single-family zoned areas of the city, including R1-10, R1-9, R1-6 and R1-4 (residential lots ranging from 10,000 square feet to as small as 4,000 square feet). The current ordinance allows chickens to be raised in areas zoned agricultural, rural agricultural and suburban residential SR-30, SR-17 and SR-12 (larger lots). These areas are better suited for the raising of farm animals such as chickens. To allow backyard chickens in all residential areas is a very bad idea as chickens can:

- 1) Attract birds of prey and coyotes.
- 2) Attract pigeons who tend to roost on neighboring rooftops. In addition to the nasty mess they make, pigeons carry numerous diseases, including Listeria Monocytogenes, one of the most virulent foodborne pathogens. 20 to 50% of infections in high-risk individuals may be fatal.
(Source: University of Nebraska-Lincoln, Bird Control Seminar Proceedings)
- 3) Chicken droppings can attract rats and a lot of flies!
- 4) Their clucking, and mere presence, can cause dogs to bark incessantly. The noise can be a very real nuisance to shift-workers, people who work from home and households with infants or small children.
- 5) If not handled properly, Salmonella, a food-borne disease, can be transmitted to humans by touching chickens and gathering eggs.
(Source: <http://www.cdc.gov/features/salmonella/poultry/>)
- 6) Crows and chickens may negatively affect a homeowner's ability to sell their home in a timely fashion and for a fair market price.

The propose changes can create a nightmare for residents, HOA management companies and the City's Code Compliance staff. The City's current ordinances governing the raising of chickens are appropriate for our city. I chose to live in a neighborhood setting and not on a farm. Please do not force this change on the majority of citizens who don't want backyard chickens.

RE: Proposed Zoning Text Amendment to Permit Chickens in All Single-Family
Residential Zoning Districts (ZTA 16-02)

I am opposed to any changes in Glendale's zoning ordinance to allow chickens to be raised and kept in all single-family zoned areas of the city, including R1-10, R1-8, R1-6 and R1-4 (residential lots ranging from 10,000 square feet to as small as 4,000 square feet). The current ordinance allows chickens to be raised in areas zoned agricultural, rural agricultural and suburban residential SR-30, SR-17 and SR-12 (larger lots). These areas are better suited for the raising of farm animals such as chickens. To allow backyard chickens in all residential areas is a very bad idea as chickens can:

- 1) Attract birds of prey and coyotes.
- 2) Attract pigeons who tend to roost on neighboring rooftops. In addition to the nasty mess they make, pigeons carry numerous diseases, including Listeria Monocytogenes, one of the most virulent foodborne pathogens. 20 to 30% of infections in high-risk individuals may be fatal.
(Source: University of Nebraska-Lincoln, Bird Control Seminar Proceedings)
- 3) Chicken droppings can attract rats and a lot of flies!
- 4) Their clucking, and mere presence, can cause dogs to bark incessantly. The noise can be a very real nuisance to shift-workers, people who work from home and households with infants or small children.
- 5) If not handled properly, Salmonella, a food-borne disease, can be transmitted to humans by touching chickens and gathering eggs.

RE: Proposed Zoning Text Amendment to Permit Chickens in All Single-Family
Residential Zoning Districts (ZTA 16-02)

I am opposed to any changes in Glendale's zoning ordinance to allow chickens to be raised and kept in all single-family zoned areas of the city, including R1-10, R1-8, R1-6 and R1-4 (residential lots ranging from 10,000 square feet to as small as 4,000 square feet). The current ordinance allows chickens to be raised in areas zoned agricultural, rural agricultural and suburban residential SR-30, SR-17 and SR-12 (larger lots). These areas are better suited for the raising of farm animals such as chickens. To allow backyard chickens in all residential areas is a very bad idea as chickens can:

- 1) Attract birds of prey and coyotes.
- 2) Attract pigeons who tend to roost on neighboring rooftops. In addition to the nasty mess they make, pigeons carry numerous diseases, including Listeria Monocytogenes, one of the most virulent foodborne pathogens. 20 to 30% of infections in high-risk individuals may be fatal.

RE: Proposed Zoning Text Amendment to Permit Chickens in All Single-Family
Residential Zoning Districts (ZTA 16-02)

I am opposed to any changes in Glendale's zoning ordinance to allow chickens to be raised and kept in all single-family zoned areas of the city, including R1-10, R1-8, R1-6 and R1-4 (residential lots ranging from 10,000 square feet to as small as 4,000 square feet). The current ordinance allows chickens to be raised in areas zoned agricultural, rural agricultural and suburban residential SR-30, SR-17 and SR-12 (larger lots). These areas are better suited for the raising of farm animals such as chickens. To allow backyard chickens in all residential areas is a very bad idea as chickens can:

- 1) Attract birds of prey and coyotes.
- 2) Attract pigeons who tend to roost on neighboring rooftops. In addition to the nasty mess they make, pigeons carry numerous diseases, including Listeria Monocytogenes, one of the most virulent foodborne pathogens. 20 to 30% of infections in high-risk individuals may be fatal.

Legislation Description

File #: 17-024, Version: 1

COUNCIL ITEM OF SPECIAL INTEREST: REQUEST TO ASSESS POSSIBLE INSTALLATION OF A PERMANENT FLAG POLE IN THUNDERBIRD CONSERVATION PARK

Staff Contact and Presenter: Erik Strunk, Director, Public Facilities, Recreation and Special Events

Purpose and Policy Guidance

This item is follow up to a Council Item of Special Interest (CIOSI) by Mayor Weiers related to the possible installation of a permanent flag pole in the Thunderbird Conservation Park (TCP).

Background

At the December 6, 2016 City Council Workshop Meeting, the Mayor requested staff analysis of how to go about installing a permanent flag in the TCP and possibly working with the Chamber and veterans on the issue. In subsequent discussion, the Mayor indicated preference for the possible installation of a new 20-25' flag pole (with an aircraft warning light on top), with solar lighting, to specifically fly the United States Flag without restriction (24 hours per day, 365 days per year). All required funding, design, necessary construction equipment and ongoing maintenance would be provided and coordinated by non-city personnel, with City oversight.

Analysis

This request would involve initial input from the Parks and Recreation Division, the City Attorney's Office, Engineering Division, the Building Safety Division, the Planning and Zoning Division, the patrons of TCP, residents and other interested parties (e.g. - the Glendale Chamber of Commerce - Veteran's Affairs Sub-Committee, regional conservation organizations, etc.) and the Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission.

If Council does provide staff direction to move forward, it is envisioned this CIOSI will consist of the following policy development phases:

- Phase I of this initiative will consist of a follow-up workshop discussion to provide an overview and receive Council direction of the key elements that need to be further researched and assembled. Examples of these elements include:
 - a) A legal review of the U.S. Flag Code and the City's current "Dark Sky Ordinance" to ensure there are no policy issues that would restrict such use of the TCP for this initiative.
 - b) A comprehensive review of the TCP Master Plan document to determine if there are any potential conflicts with initiative and its designation as a conservation park.

- c) A review of any initial construction concerns and/or building techniques regarding planning and zoning, engineering and/or building safety and ongoing maintenance (this would include any structural criteria related to the proposed flag pole and the use of solar lighting technology).
- d) The design and creation of an input process to determine public sentiment as related to the proposed initiative. This would include a public outreach initiative to partner with area residents, business, patrons and all other stakeholders as related to the TCP.

- e) A comparative analysis of policies/guidelines used by other local/national jurisdictions as related to similar conservation parks.

- f) Development of a cost estimate for planning, design, construction and ongoing maintenance, per existing city levels of service. This would include staff time to administer the partnership agreement, verification of half-mast displays as required by state/federal mandate, etc.

Approximately 30-40 staff hours would be required for Phase I and it would be completed within four weeks.

- Phase II would consist of a public input phase during the March/April 2017 time frame. This would also include formal review and recommendation by the Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission. The item would then be returned to Council for formal review and direction in late April/May 2017. It is estimated that Phase II would take approximately 40-50 staff hours.

- Phase III would consist of a final review by the City Council. Should the direction be to move forward with the project, it will then be necessary to draft a formal resolution and agreement with a local community group to design, construct and maintain the new flag pole. The preparation of these documents would take approximately 5-10 hours. This would be completed by June 2017.

It is estimated this CIOSI should be completed in approximately six months and would amount to approximately 90-100 staff hours.

Community/Public Benefit

This would be determined as part of the CIOSI.

Budget and Financial Impacts

This would be determined as part of the CIOSI.
