HEAD COACH MARK GUILBEAU

The Virginia women's tennis team has enjoyed the most successful era in school history since the arrival of head coach Mark Guilbeau in the summer of 2005. Guilbeau, who has posted a 148-87 in nine seasons at UVa, begins his 10th season in Charlottesville after a record-breaking season in 2014. The Cavaliers captured their first-ever ACC regular-season and championship titles and first NCAA quarterfinal appearance en route to a school-record 24 victories last season. In addition, Danielle Collins became the first NCAA women's singles champion in school history. Under Guilbeau's guidance, the Cavaliers have reached the NCAA Tournament eight times and cracked the top five in the ITA team rankings.

The Cavaliers made their fifth consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance and earned their third consecutive NCAA Round of 16 berth in 2012-13. Virginia went 19-10 overall, including a school-best 9-2 in the ACC. The Cavaliers recorded their first win over a top-ranked opponent in school history, defeating No. 1 North Carolina, 4-3, in Chapel Hill. Virginia's Julia Elbaba was named ITA National Rookie of the Year, ITA Atlantic Region Rookie of the Year and ACC Freshman of the Year. Guilbeau also earned his second ITA Atlantic Region Coach of the Year honor. In addition, Elbaba earned UVa's second All-American honor after becoming UVa's first seeded player (No. 9-16) in school history at the NCAA Singles Championship. Stephanie Nauta and Li Xi also participated in the NCAA Doubles Championship. Virginia was ranked as high as No. 11 and finished the year ranked No. 15.

In 2011-12, the Cavaliers matched a pair of records set a year earlier, tying the school record with 20 wins and reaching the round of 16 of the NCAA Tournament. The team was ranked a school-record No. 6 nationally during the season and the team had two NCAA Singles Championship participants for the second consecutive year.

The 2010-11 season was a milestone one for Virginia. The Cavaliers won a school record 20 matches, including a school-record seven ACC wins. Virginia reached the NCAA Round of 16 for the first time school history and was ranked in the top 10 nationally for the first time. The Cavaliers upset No. 3 Baylor in the first round of ITA National Team Indoors to reach the quarterfinals. The team also set school records with two NCAA singles and two NCAA doubles selections, including Lindsey Hardenbergh, who reached the round of 16 in singles to become UVa's first All-American. Guilbeau was honored as ITA Atlantic Region Coach of the Year for the first time.

When Guilbeau arrived at Virginia, the program was coming off a six-win season, the worst in 15 years. He changed the culture of the program and success quickly followed. The 2005-06 Cavaliers went 14-10 and finished the year ranked No. 23. It was the first year-end top 25 ranking for the program since 1993. The year was highlighted by several benchmark wins. The first came when Virginia topped No. 19 TCU 4-3 for the team's first top-20 win in three years. A week later, a 5-2 win over No. 10 Duke marked the first victory over a top-10 opponent in school history. A win at No. 17 Wake Forest followed, but the biggest win of the season came in final home match of the year. The Cavaliers upset No. 6 Miami, the eventual NCAA runner-up. Virginia ended the season with a 6-5 ACC record, setting a new record for conference wins in a year and Guilbeau was rewarded with ACC Coach of the Year accolades. The Cavaliers received their first bid to the NCAA Tournament in three years and advanced to the second round with a 4-3 win over Alabama in the opening round.

"The 2005-06 season should be one of the most positive steps for this program," Guilbeau said. "That season was a level of success that this program hasn't had in a while, maybe ever, especially in terms of big wins and some of the individual accomplishments. It should be the most positive thing that has happened to this point, and should be one of the reasons why we continue to move in a good direction."

In Guilbeau's second season in Charlottesville, the 2006-07 Cavaliers went 12-12 and reached the second round of the NCAA Tournament for the second straight season. It marked the first time in school history that Virginia had won an NCAA Tournament match in consecutive years.

In his third season, the Cavaliers finished with a 10-13 record, including a win over No. 15 Florida State.

In 2008-09, Virginia went 14-10 and reached the second round of the NCAA Tournament for the third time in four years, falling to eventual NCAA champion Duke.

In 2009-10, the Cavaliers ended the year ranked No. 25 nationally, finishing with a 15-10 record. The program hosted an NCAA Regional for the first time as the Cavaliers reached the second round of the NCAA Tournament for the fourth time in five years under Guilbeau.

Prior to arriving at Virginia, Guilbeau established himself as one of the country's top collegiate tennis coaches while building the program at Kentucky. All nine of his teams at Kentucky made the NCAA Tournament, including reaching at least the round of 16 in each of his last four seasons. He took over the Wildcat program in 1997 that was coming off two straight losing seasons and consecutive 10th-place finishes in the Southeastern Conference, and took the program to new heights over the next nine years. His Kentucky teams went 154-89, as he coached nine All-Americans, 11 All-SEC honorees, 10 NCAA singles and eight NCAA doubles participants.

In 2006, Guilbeau led Kentucky to the best season in school history. The Wildcats had a 26-6 record, setting a school record for wins in a season. Kentucky was ranked a school-record No. 2 nationally, reached the quarterfinals of the NCAA Tournament and the reached the finals of the ITA National Team Indoor Championships. Kentucky won its first SEC regular-season title as Guilbeau was named ITA National, Southeast Region and SEC Coach of the Year.

In each of his final four seasons in Lexington, Guilbeau's Kentucky teams won an NCAA regional and finished the season ranked in the top 16 nationally. In 2004, he took a team of eight newcomers, including seven freshmen to the round of 16 of the NCAA Tournament before falling to eventual NCAA champion Stanford. Also, Aibika Kalsarieva became the first Kentucky player to reach the quarterfinals of the NCAA Singles Championship that season.

The 2003 team went 23-8 and finished second in the SEC as Guilbeau earned SEC Coach of the Year honors. That season, the Wildcat duo of Amy Trefethen and Sarah Witten became the first doubles team in school history to reach the NCAA Doubles Championship final.

In 2002, the Wildcats won an NCAA Regional for the first time in school history and had a doubles team reach the NCAA Doubles semifinals.

It took little time for Guilbeau to make his mark at Kentucky. In just his third season in Lexington in 1999, he led the program to a No. 18 national ranking and a fourth-place finish in the SEC, the team's highest finish in five years. From that point, Guilbeau had established Kentucky as a perennial top-25 team and one of the top teams in the SEC.

"I was very fortunate to begin my head coaching career at Kentucky and in the SEC," Guilbeau said. "It was an extremely challenging process, especially with the commitment and accountability that was placed on bringing the program to the elite level in collegiate tennis. Along with many great team and individual accomplishments, I am very proud to say that every goal established for our program at Kentucky was met. There were many challenges - all of which were approached with the greatest desire, thought, intensity and work ethic. None of the accomplishments would have been possible without the support of many wonderful people in Lexington; a great athletic administration; several very strong and committed assistant coaches; and most importantly, so many outstanding players and dedicated young ladies. The energy that was produced from working with such driven groups of players made it a pleasure to be a coach at Kentucky."

Prior to taking over the program at Kentucky, Guilbeau found success as an assistant coach at Georgia for five seasons. While in Athens, the Bulldogs won the 1994 NCAA Championship, the 1994 and 1995 ITA National Team Indoor Championships and finished ranked in the top-five nationally each season. He helped coach eight All-Americans, four national tournament doubles champions and one NCAA singles champion during his time at Georgia. While at Georgia, he was also the Head Tennis Professional at Jennings Mill Country Club in Athens.

"The years I spent in Athens were very valuable to me as a coach and a teacher," said Guilbeau. "The experience I gained at Georgia has helped me greatly in my coaching role. The people at Georgia and Jennings Mill Country Club were extremely kind and supportive. I am very fortunate to have had such a great opportunity."

Guilbeau feels day-to-day instruction and workouts are a very inspiring and rewarding part of the job. While he believes strongly in spending time improving each player's weak areas, at least 50 percent of court time is spent focusing on strengths and weapons, while additional time is devoted to physical conditioning and strength development.

"An emphasis I have for each athlete is that she will develop a confident style of play centered around her individual strengths, and that she will reach the highest fitness level of her life," Guilbeau said. The idea of giving 100 percent every day is the heart of Guilbeau's coaching philosophy. He firmly believes both progress and enjoyment come from that type of work ethic.

"Success must be earned and it does not come from luck," Guilbeau said. "You have to work hard and take care of all the details."

Not only does Guilbeau demand a great deal from his team; he demands a lot of himself as well. In addition to his collegiate coaching experience, Guilbeau has attended the 1992 Australian Open as a coach and worked with players on the USTA Satellite and WTA Tours.

A native of Lafayette, La., Guilbeau played collegiate tennis at Spring Hill College in Mobile, Ala. He finished his undergraduate degree at Southwestern Louisiana in 1988. He served as a graduate teaching instructor at Southwestern Louisiana and Georgia before receiving his master's degree in health promotion and behavior from Georgia in 1992.

Guilbeau has run 10 marathons and has a personal best of 2:40:00. Guilbeau completed the 2004 Boston Marathon and helped raise more than $50,000 for the American Cancer Society by playing a doubles tennis marathon in 1991. Along with three others, Guilbeau set a Guinness Book World Record by playing doubles for 125 consecutive hours.

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH TROY PORCO

Troy Porco enters his 10th season at Virginia. Over the past eight seasons, he and head coach Mark Guilbeau have teamed to take the Cavalier program to new heights.

After seven years as an assistant coach with the Cavaliers, Porco was elevated to Associate Head Coach in 2012.

Virginia reached new heights in 2013-14, claiming its first ACC regular-season and championship titles and advancing to the quarterfinals of the NCAA Tournament. The Cavaliers won a school-record 24 matches and Danielle Collins won the first NCAA women's singles championship in school history. In addition, the Cavaliers earned a school-best four All-America honors. For his efforts, Porco was named the ITA National Assistant Coach of the Year.

The Cavaliers made their fifth consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance and earned their third consecutive NCAA Round of 16 berth in 2012-13. Virginia went 19-10 overall, including a school-best 9-2 in the ACC. The Cavaliers recorded their first win over a top-ranked opponent in school history, defeating No. 1 North Carolina, 4-3, in Chapel Hill. Virginia's Julia Elbaba was named ITA National Rookie of the Year, ITA Atlantic Region Rookie of the Year and ACC Freshman of the Year. In addition, Elbaba earned UVA's second All-American honor after becoming UVA's first seeded player (No. 9-16) in school history at the NCAA Singles Championship. Stephanie Nauta and Li Xi also participated in the NCAA Doubles Championship. Virginia was ranked as high as No. 11 and finished the year ranked No. 15.

In 2011-12, the Cavaliers matched a pair of records set a year earlier, tying the school with 20 wins and reaching the round of 16 of the NCAA Tournament. The team was ranked a school record No. 6 nationally during the season and the team had two NCAA Singles Championship participants for the second consecutive year.

The 2010-11 season was a milestone one for Virginia. The Cavaliers won a school record 20 matches, including a school-record seven ACC wins. Virginia reached the NCAA Round of 16 for the first time school history and was ranked a school-record No. 8 nationally. The Cavaliers upset No. 3 Baylor in the first round of ITA National Team Indoors to reach the quarterfinals. The team also set school records with two NCAA singles and two NCAA doubles selections, including Lindsey Hardenbergh, who reached the round of 16 in singles to become UVA's first All-American.

In Porco's first season at Virginia, the Cavaliers went 14-10 and finished the year ranked No. 23. It was the first year-end top 25 ranking for the program since 1993. The year was highlighted by several benchmark wins. The first came when Virginia topped No. 19 TCU 4-3 for the team's first top-20 win in three years. A week later, a 5-2 win over No. 10 Duke marked the first victory over a top-10 opponent in school history. A win at No. 17 Wake Forest followed, but the biggest win of the season came in final home match of the year. The Cavaliers upset No. 6 Miami, the eventual NCAA runner-up. Virginia ended the season with a 6-5 ACC record, setting a new record for conference wins in a year. The Cavaliers received their first bid to the NCAA Tournament in three years and advanced to the second round with a 4-3 win over Alabama in the opening round.

In 2007-08, the Cavaliers went 12-12 and reached the second round of the NCAA Tournament. It marked the first time in school history the program had won an NCAA Tournament match in consecutive years. In his third season at Virginia, the Cavaliers finished with a 10-13 record, including a win over No. 15 Florida State.

In 2008-09, Virginia went 14-10 and reached the second round of the NCAA Tournament for the third time in four years, falling to eventual NCAA champion Duke.

In 2009-10, the Cavaliers ended the year ranked No. 25 nationally, finishing with a 15-10 record. The program hosted an NCAA Regional for the first time as the Cavaliers reached the second round of the NCAA Tournament for the fourth time in the last five years.

In recent years Porco has also been the coach of the women's USTA Summer Collegiate Team. The squad, comprised of recent All-Americans, is an elite training program for top American collegiate players. Porco led the group as they competed in USTA Pro Circuit events.

Prior to arriving at Virginia, Porco was the head coach at Auburn from 1998 to 2005 and led the Tigers to the NCAA Tournament in 2002. That season, he was honored as the SEC Coach of the Year and the ITA Southeast Region Coach of the Year. His team's at Auburn were traditionally one of the best academically at the school as he coached 34 Academic All-SEC selections. While at Auburn, Porco coached 14 nationally-ranked players, 25 regionally-ranked players and one ITA South Region Rookie of the Year.

Prior to taking over the program at Auburn, Porco was an assistant women's tennis coach at Miami for five seasons. While at Miami, the Hurricanes won four Big East titles and appeared in three NCAA championships. From 1991-92, Porco was the head coach of the women's tennis program at his alma mater, Florida International, and had a 21-15 record in two seasons.

"I know that his ethic, professionalism and love for coaching collegiate tennis creates great energy for our program and those are characteristics shared wholeheartedly by me," Guilbeau said. "I know we are now in a position to offer every prospective and current women's tennis student-athlete the best environment and training necessary to reach their highest level of success."

Porco was an accomplished player prior to his coaching career. He was twice named Most Valuable Player while playing collegiate tennis at Florida International while serving as team captain his senior season. Prior to Florida International, he was consistently ranked among the top-25 juniors in Florida.

He has also traveled the women's professional circuit with Mary Jo Fernandez (ranked as high as No. 4 in the world) as her hitting partner.

Porco is married to the former Chrissy Harris. The two were married in 1993 and have two children, Caroline (19) and Connor (17). They reside in Charlottesville.

SUPPORT STAFF

HEATHER DOWNS

ACADEMIC COORDINATOR

Heather Downs joined the University of Virginia Academic Affairs staff in 2013. Downs serves as an academic coordinator for the men's lacrosse, rowing, women's tennis and softball programs.

As an academic coordinator, Downs conducts regular mentoring sessions with student-athletes, monitors eligibility and progress toward degree, and assists in areas such as course selection, major declaration, and career planning.

Downs comes to UVA with a rich background in student affairs management experience. She worked in the Office of Student Life at the University of California for two years, serving as the interim assistant director her final 10 months. She managed the development and implementation of campus leadership programs, oversaw a staff of professional leadership programmers and supervised peer advising teams.

She previously worked in student support services at Northern Colorado as the facilitator of academic advising, specifically with high-risk students.

Downs has worked extensively in career development with students to assist them with their objectives following their undergraduate studies.

Downs graduated from Florida in 1999 with a degree in environmental engineering. She received her master's degree in student affairs in higher education from Colorado State in 2002.

CHELSEA WILLIAMSON

GRADUATE ASSISTANT ATHLETIC TRAINER

Chelsea Williamson is in her first season as a graduate assistant athletic trainer with the Virginia women's tennis program.

The Sacramento, Calif., native earned a bachelor of science degree in athletic training from San Diego State in 2014. In addition to her two years working with the Aztec athletic programs, she assisted with the sport programs at Southwestern College in Chula Vista, Calif.

Prior to San Diego State, Williamson spent two years at Santa Rosa Junior College where she played basketball and worked in the athletic training room. She earned a pair of associate degrees with honors in physical education and kinesiology.

EVERETT GATHRON

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING COACH

Everett Gathron joined Virginia in August 2010 as an assistant strength & conditioning coach. His responsibilities include program design and implementation for the men's lacrosse, wrestling, rowing and women's tennis programs. He also assists with the UVA football program.

Before joining the UVA staff, Gathron served as the director of strength & conditioning for Texas Pan-American from 2009-2010. While with the Broncs, Gathron was responsible for the design and utilization of all varsity athletics' strength & conditioning programs. Prior to his appointment at UTPA, Gathron held the position of assistant strength & conditioning coach at SMU.

Gathron earned his bachelor degree in health promotion and fitness from Otterbein College in Westerville, Ohio. He then earned his master's degree in recreation and sport sciences from Ohio University, while he served as a graduate assistant strength & conditioning coach for the Bobcats.

As a competitive weightlifter, Gathron has qualified for and competed in various USA Weightlifting events.

A native of Colbert, Okla., Gathron and his wife, Heather, currently reside in Waynesboro.
