SELENSKI, VITTESE RETURN TO HOOS

• Because of their commitment to the United States National Team in preparation for the Pan American Games and the London Olympic Games, Selenski and Vittese redshirted the 2011 season.

• They return for their final year of eligibility in 2012.

• Both Selenski and Vittese were part of the gold-medal-winning US squad at the Pan American Games, held Oct. 19-29, 2011 in Guadalajara City, Mexico. The American team's 4-2 upset over world No. 1 Argentina earned the team a spot in the 12-team Olympic field.

• Selenski and Vittese each scored a goal in the Pan Am Games gold medal match

• Both players saw significant action in all six of the United States Olympic contests

• Selenski had two assists and scored a goal in the final game against Belgium

• Selenski and Vittese have been members of the U.S. National team for two years, earning their first international caps in the summer of 2010.

• Selenski and Vittese were both selected as first-team All-Americans as juniors in 2010, when Virginia went 18-4 and advanced to the NCAA semifinals for the second straight year.

RECORD BOOK WATCH

• The Cavaliers are nine wins away from the 500th victory in program history

• Head coach Michele Madison is seven wins shy of her 300th career victory

• Paige Selenski enters the season with 171 career points. She need two points to tie for second on the Cavalier career point list (173, Cindy Carzo, 1976-79) and 59 points to tie Meredith Thorpe (1995-98) as the all-time points leader at 230

• Selenski starts the season in third place on the career goals list with 73. She need 11 to move into a tie for second (84, Cindy Carzo, 1976-79) and is 28 goals behind the career leader, Meredith Thorpe (101, 1995-98).

• Selenski starts the season in tenth place on the career assist list with 25

• Junior Elly Buckley is poised to enter the career top-ten lists in three categories. She has 92 career points (four shy of tying for tenth -96, Lorraine Vizzuso, 1997-2000), 36 career goals (two shy of tying for tenth - 38, Lorraine Vizzuso, 1997-2000), and 20 assists (five shy of tying Paige Selenski with 25)

VETERAN SQUAD RETURNS

• Virginia returns 9 starters from the 2011 season. The 18 returning letter winners accounted for 98 percent of the team's goals last season, 96 percent of the team's points, and all but five of the team's saves.

• Michelle Vittese and Paige Selenski combined to score 31 goals during their last season with the Cavaliers (2010).

• The team features three All-Americans: Selenski (a three-time honoree), Vittese (two-time honoree) and Buckley (two-time honoree).

• Buckley is the team's leading returning scorer, having netted 17 goals with a team-best 9 assists last season.

• Sophomore goalkeeper Jenny Johnstone started 18 games last season, earning co-ACC Player of the Week honors during the final week of the regular season and a preseason All-ACC nod this year.

HOLDEN NAMED TO USA U-19 ROSTER

• Freshman Rebecca Holden was selected to the United States Under-19 Junior National Team.

• Selections to the U-19 Junior National Team were made following Junior National Camp held at the University of Massachusetts, Amherst in July. The four-day training camp allowed 100 athletes the opportunity to showcase their skills in front of selectors for a spot on the U.S. Junior National Squads

• Two dozen athletes were named to the U-19 squad. These athletes will report to a training camp in January 2013 at the Olympic Training Center in Chula Vista, Calif. Following the training camp, select athletes will be announced to a travel squad that will tour internationally in the spring of 2013.

ON THE SIDELINE

• Head coach Michele Madison enters her seventh season at the helm of the Virginia program and her 23rd overall season as a head coach.

• Michael Boal returns for his second season as the associate head coach.

• Assistant coach Annie Zinkavich joins the staff after spending the last six seasons as an assistant at her alma mater, Penn State. The former Nittany Lion goalie is in charge of mentoring the Cavalier keepers as well as serving as the recruiting coordinator.

HEAD COACH MICHELE MADISON

Head coach Michele Madison returns for her seventh season at the helm of the Cavalier field hockey program. She has led UVa to the NCAA Tournament five of her six seasons in Charlottesville, including national semifinals appearances in 2009 and 2010.

Two of Madison's All-Americans at Virginia, Paige Selenski and Michelle Vittese, helped the U.S. National Team to its first gold medal at the Pan American Games in October 2011 and both saw significant playing time at the 2012 London

Olympics.

The Cavaliers returned to the NCAA semifinals in 2010 after beating Michigan State (3-2 in overtime) and Princeton (4-2) to join Maryland, North Carolina and Ohio State in the national semifinals. Virginia finished the season ranked No. 3 by the National Field Hockey Coaches Association.

Virginia made its third trip to the NCAA semifinals in 2009 under Madison, defeating Richmond and Michigan State (in overtime) en route to a final four berth. The Cavaliers also advanced to the championship game of the ACC Tournament, playing for the conference title on their home field. The team set records for wins (20) and games played (24) in a season.

Madison, a member of the NCAA National Field Hockey Committee, is in her 24th overall season as a collegiate head coach. She is the only person to take three different Division I programs (Temple, Michigan State and Virginia) to the NCAA Tournament and her teams have consistently been ranked in the top-10 at various times of the past decade. In addition to her experience in the college ranks, Madison also is the only active Division I head coach to be a part of two United States Olympic staffs, having assisted the 1988 Olympic Team in Seoul and served as the head goalkeeper coach with the 1996 squad in Atlanta.

UVa's Paige Selenski and Michelle Vittese were both named to the United States National Team in the summer of 2010 and earned their first international caps in matches with the English and Irish national teams that summer. They continue to represent Team USA, have since competed at multiple Four Nations tournaments, the Champions Challenge and the Pan American Games.

Selenski and Vittese were each named first-team All-Americans by the NFHCA in 2010 and teammate Elly Buckley was a third-team honoree, marking the second consecutive year three Cavaliers earned the distinction of All-American. Additionally, Virginia placed seven student-athletes on the all-region team, including a school record four first-team members (Buckley, Selenski, Vittese and Rachel Jennings). Buckley was also selected to the national all-rookie team, named by womensfieldhockey.com, becoming the sixth Virginia named to the squad under Madison.

In 2009, three Cavaliers were named NFHCA All-Americans, including Selenski (first team), Inga Stockel (second team) and Vittese (third team) Selenski, a two-time Honda Award semifinalist, joined Stockel and Vittese on the All-ACC team. For the second straight year, Virginia put five members on the all-region squad and Charlotte van den Broek was honored as part of the national all-rookie team.

During the 2008 campaign, Virginia returned to the quarterfinals of the NCAA Tournament and freshman Paige Selenski made program history, becoming the first Cavalier to be named the National Rookie of the Year. UVa finished the season with a No. 12 ranking, had two All-Americans and All-ACC selections in senior Inge Kaars Sijpesteijn and Selenski, and had five team members picking up all-region honors, with freshmen Michelle Vittese and Floor Vogels as well as junior Traci Ragukas joining Kaars Sijpesteijn and Selenski. Virginia also continued to put at least one member on the national all-rookie team for the third time in program history. Selenski and Vittese, who both represented the United States at the Junior World Cup in Boston, were named to the squad.

In 2007, Madison helped lead Virginia to its second straight NCAA Tournament appearance. UVa was ranked eighth in the nation to start the year, and Ragukas and Kaars Sijpesteijn were both named to the NFHCA second-team all-region squad. Kaars Sijpesteijn additionally received All-America and All-ACC honors for the second consecutive season. Also for the second straight year, Virginia had a member selected to the National All-Rookie squad in first-year Shelly Edmonds.

In her first year in Charlottesville, Madison orchestrated Virginia's return to the top-10 and was named the 2006 National Coach of the Year by womensfieldhockey.com. That year, Virginia rose to as high as No. 4 in the nation and advanced to the quarterfinals of the NCAA Tournament before ending the season with a 14-8 record against the nation's fifth-toughest schedule. Madison coached Kaars Sijpesteijn to first-team All-America honors, Virginia's first first-team All-American since 1998. She also mentored Ragukas to National Rookie Team recognition, the first such honor for a Cavalier in school history.

The former head coach at Michigan State from 1993-2005, Madison led the Spartans to their first-ever No. 1 ranking. Michigan State advanced to the NCAA Tournament four times, including two NCAA semifinal berths (2002, 2004) and two quarterfinal appearances (2001, 2003) during her tenure in East Lansing. Madison, named the 2001 Big Ten Coach of the Year, also guided the Spartans to back-to-back conference titles in 2001 and 2002. During the 2002 season, she picked up another coaching honor, being tabbed the West Region Coach of the Year. Madison left Michigan State as the school's all-time leader in victories.

The Philadelphia native spent four seasons as the head coach at Temple prior to her appointment at Michigan State. At Temple, she took the team to national championship contention in just her second year at the helm. During Madison's tenure, the Owls compiled a 53-27-6 record and appeared in three NCAA Tournaments, twice advancing to the quarterfinals. Temple also won the A-10 Conference Tournament Championship in 1991.

Madison additionally served a two-year (1989-90) stint as the assistant coach for the Owl women's lacrosse team that advanced to the NCAA Semifinals both seasons. During her stay in Philadelphia, Madison coached 12 All-Americans, 21 all-region selections, three Academic All-Americans, two National Team members and one Honda Broderick award winner.

Prior to her position at Temple, Madison served as an assistant coach at Iowa for seven seasons (1982-89). During that span, the Hawkeyes advanced to the Final Four four times and captured their only NCAA championship title in 1986.

A former member of the U.S. Field Hockey Board of Directors and the United States Field Hockey Foundation, Madison has been integrally involved in the U.S. Field Hockey community. In addition to her stint with the 1988 and 1996 Olympic Teams, she was an assistant coach at the 1994 World Cup in which the United States won the bronze, their highest finish in history.

She also served as a notational analyst for the 1998 World Cup in Utrecht for England. Madison, who spent two and a half years on the coaching staff for the U.S. National Team, served as head coach on the 2003 U.S. Under-20 team, after coaching at the prestigious "A" camp for the U.S. Junior National Team trials. In the spring of 2002, Madison assisted the U.S. National Team at the Champions Challenge in South Africa. In the summer of 2005, Madison was named to the USFHA Board of Directors and was part of the advisory committee that made the decision to hire Terry Walsh, the Technical Director of High Performance for USA Field Hockey.

Madison has also coached the Midwest Cyclones of the United Airlines Field Hockey League, leading the team to runner-up finishes in the championship game in 2000 and 2001.

Madison is a 1982 physical education graduate of Rutgers University, where she played field hockey and lacrosse. She earned her master's degree in athletic administration from Iowa in 1984. Madison was inducted into the Gloucester County (N.J.) Hall of Fame in 1993 and the Williamstown (N.J.) High School Hall of Fame in 1992.

COACHING STAFF

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH

MICHAEL BOAL

Michael Boal is in his second season as the associate head coach at Virginia.

Boal, a native of Sunderland, England, comes to UVa after one season as an assistant coach at James Madison, where he spearheaded recruiting efforts and coached the goalkeepers.

Prior to his stint at JMU, Boal served as the assistant director of hockey at Durham University in the United Kingdom. There he assisted Gavin Featherstone, a renowned double Olympic and World Cup head coach for the USA and South Africa field hockey teams.

At Durham, Boal was responsible for the coaching and development of both men's and women's performance groups, recruiting across Europe, match preparation, video analysis and conducting coaching and evaluation sessions for all 16 intramural college teams. Boal helped lead Durham's men's and women's first teams to a ranking inside the top-10 of U.K. universities when they became National North Conference Champions and Northern Division One champions in 2010.

Before his stay at Durham, Boal coached at the Olton & West Warwick's Hockey Club for four years and was involved in all aspects of the management of the ladies first and second teams, including daily planning and conducting of practice and physical training. He coached the women's first team in the prominent English National Premier League at the age of 20, making Boal the youngest ever to coach a women's team in the English National Premier League.

At Olton & West Warwick's, Boal also coached players with National and International Representative Honors, including two 2008 Olympians for Great Britain. He developed three representatives for the Junior World Cup and two under-18 Internationals.

Boal graduated with honors from the University of Birmingham in the United Kingdom in June 2009 with an impressive range of experience and accomplishments. He earned his bachelor's degree in sports management and was an ambassador for the university. Boal made four British University Finals Appearances as player and coach and was part of their 2006-07 National League winning side.

ASSISTANT COACH

ANNIE ZINKAVICH

Annie Zinkavich is in her first season with the Cavalier field hockey program after joining the staff in February 2012.

At Virginia, Zinkavich coaches the goalkeepers and spearheads all recruiting efforts. She also is in charge of alumni outreach efforts.

Zinkavich arrived in Charlottesville after spending the past six seasons as an assistant coach at her alma mater, Penn State. With the Nittany Lions, she worked primarily with the goalkeepers and assisted in the day-to-day operations of the program.

tions of the program.

Zinkavich helped Penn State to five NCAA Tournament appearances and coached the Nittany Lions in the 2007 national championship game. During her time there, she also mentored the goalkeepers to three first team All-Big Ten and four All-America honors. Penn State won the Big Ten regular season title in 2009 and claimed the tournament championship in 2011.

Prior to her return to Penn State, Zinkavich spent two years at Bucknell where she served as a graduate assistant coach. Under her guidance, senior goalkeeper Liz Jordan was named the Patriot League's goalkeeper of the year.

Zinkavich, a goalkeeper, played four seasons at Penn State (2000-03) where she was a three-time NFHCA All-Midwest regional selection and helped the Nittany Lions to the national title game in 2002. She was also selected to the senior all-star game in 2003.

Zinkavich received her bachelor's degree in psychology from Penn State in 2004. A native of Kingston, Pa., she was inducted into the Wyoming Seminary Hall of Fame in 2011.
